Citizens to Decide Fate Tax Evaluation Hike for Proposed Center

Tid Bits

By HVO

PLEASE DO have a safe Fourth of July Holiday! We've grown accustomed to your face!

PERSONS INTERESTED in attending a planning session for a county 100th Anniversary Celebration for next year are invited to contact this newspaper. The planning meeting will be held Thursday, July 13, with details to be announced.

RAIN NICE, but more needed says the Cooperative Extension Dept. of A&M for Eastland County. "Cotton is fruiting and growing well with some fleahopper and boll weevil damage. Grain Sorghums maturing rapidly. Midge damage is heavy in some fields. Peanuts are 75 to 90 per cent planted. Hay making active."

ALCOHOLICS: "Today the best field for religious and social workers is in the A.A. organization. There are 16 million alcoholics in this country. Alcoholism is an addiction, like heroin, cocaine, L.S.D., Barbituates and others, a great deal is being done to treat these, but little is done to treat alcoholics. If we could get these addicts off the highways, the death toll would fall 40 to 50 per cent. Statistics reveal that 50 per cent of the deaths on the highways are caused by drunken drivers." These are the words of Dr. R. C. Ferguson. And a good reminder here at the holiday weekend, we'd guess.

BEAUTIFUL IS the article by Geraldine Satterwhite this week in the Abilene Reporter-News about the needlepoint tapestry at the First Baptist Church on N. Seaman in honor of the late Edward Ivory Jr. Mrs. A. e. ethridge Jr. was the designer of the project and Mrs. Grady Pipkin aided in the work.

Apollo 13 1/2 Blast Off

Ever wonder what goes in making a top rodeo act? For some people it's spending countless hours training an animal. For Jack Linn, clown and bullfighter from Fredonia, Kansas; it was two years of spare time collecting, restoring and assembling a 1926 Model "T" Ford. It had been a childhood dream of Jack's to own a bucking Ford. Finally his dreams came true when he purchased one in 1962. After rebuilding it, Linn was offered a price he couldn't resist. "However, after it was gone I missed it like one of the family," says Linn.

Immediately he started gathering parts and building another. "It took a long time, but I wanted it to be done right," quotes Linn. "That's the reason 90 percent of all moving parts are new." Parts came from seven different states and as far away as Argentina. "I feel it was worth waiting for," says Linn, "after all, no space ship is built over night!" You will have a chance to see Jack Linn and his Apollo 13 1/2 attempt to blast off for the moon at this year's 10th Annual Jaycee Rodeo July 6 - 7 - 8.

Open House Set

The public is cordially invited to attend a formal open house Sunday at the All New Sabine Terrace Apartments in Eastland, located at 600 W. Sadosa St., according to Manager Mrs. Dorothy Livingston.

Flowers, favors, refreshments, music, fun and good time is offered at the open house, set to begin at 1 p.m., Sunday, July 2.

You are cordially invited to inspect the newly remodeled office facility of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in the Eastland County Courthouse on Sunday afternoon, July 2, 1972 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Eastland Builder L. D. Wyatt and Texas Electric Service Co. will jointly host an open house Sunday, July 2, at Mr. Wyatt's new Total Electric Home located at 308 N. Daugherty St.

Hours are from 1 to 6 p.m. and the public is cordially invited to attend.

The 1,570 square foot home is equipped with electric central heating and cooling, an electric range, dishwasher, waste disposer, garbage compactor, electric water heater, electric bathroom heating, electric washer and dryer, modern lighting, and Full Housepower wiring.

RUMMAGE SALE

A rummage sale will be held, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, July 6th, 7th, and 8th, in the rear of the Conner Building, facing Lamar, and north of Sledge Meat Market, sponsored by the Eastland High School Cheerleaders. A nyone wishing to contribute clothes or articles, please call 629-1077 between 8 and 5 and 629-1446 after 5.

Eastland voters will decide whether a $171,000 combination civic center-library will be built here, in an election to be called soon.

Mayor Durel Reid's Special Committee (made up of representatives from each of the service, social clubs and organizations) met with the City Commission in a called meeting at City Hall Friday morning, to request the commission to call a bond election to build the center.

Commissioners generally expressed reluctance to call such an election, giving as their reasons, the city's limited financial ability and existing and anticipated projects for which the city has and will have money needs.

After a 90minute discussion between the Committee members and the Commission, a compromise proposal came on a motion from Commission Jay Staggs who moved that the matter be taken directly to the voters without obligatein city funds per se.

When the architect and a financing agent first made the proposal to the commission, it was suggested by the financier that the city could handle the interest for two or three years by diverting a monthly $1,000 payment which the city is presently making toward the purchase of a dozer- tractor for use at the new sanitary land fill. (The tractor is to be paid for in September of 1973.)

The finance expert further suggested that it would be necessary in 1975 (and perhaps before) to go through a thorough tax evaluation program in order to bring in more revenue, from which principal and interest paymnts could be made. (The 20-year general obligation bonds would require approximately $10,500 a year to service for two or three years, and then go to some $15,000 a year, for a total in excess of $300,000.)

The motion Friday specified that the election would be based on the re-evaluation basis, with no other city funds obligated for the center.

The city presently has a low valuation structure but is charging the maximum tax rate, so no increase in rate is possible, but the values could be brought into line to raise additional revenue, it was pointed out.

Mayor Reid presided and first asked Commissioner Staggs if he had any questions of the committee. (All commissioners were present.)

Staggs asked what groups were represented and the number of members in each. The report from the members ran like this: Zeta Pi, 13; Thursday Afternoon Club, 33; Music Study Club, 36; Civic League and Garden Club, 175; Zi Alpha Zeta, 9; Jaycees, 26; Chamber of Commerce (no figure given); Club House Board; Las Leales, 20; and Lions Club. Rotary wasn't officially represented.

Commissioner Dale Bakker, though saying that he wasn't against such a center, wondered how far away the construction and obligation might be, proposing that perhaps such an undertaking might be two or three years premature.

Kendricks Announce New Religious, Western Museum For County

Pictured is an artists drawing of the future home of the Dior Museum to begin construction at a very near date at the Kendrick Amphitheater. The building, which will be 550 ft. in length, will house both a western and religious museum with a center section being used as a lobby; eventually to be enlarged to serve both the Diorama and a 2,000 seat indoor auditorium. Productions may then be presented year around.

By Diorama, we mean that the museum will be set up in scenes by the use of manikins and costumes with the backgrounds being as near the exact facsimile as is possible. Both the western and the religious sections will be set in the Diorama style. This museum has been in the planning for several years by the Kendrick family and anyone attending will truthfully leave saying that it was the most unique, most realistic, and the most heart touching display ever to be seen.

It is hoped that most of the museum will be completed by June 1973, for the summer tourists, and we feel we can pull thousands of people to see the Diorama during the summer, and with the co-operation of the neighboring towns this number should be increased many-fold.

Everyone in this area knows that the Easter Pageant is now nationally known and at the past production the register showed people attending from 26 states and from over 100 cities and towns in the state of Texas. For five consecutive years Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Perkins, both ordained ministers from Dallas, attended the presentation and following the last production commented by saying, "This Pageant reaches more people in one night than other organizations reach in 10 years." Some two or three weeks after their return to Dallas, Mom and Pop Kendrick received a phone call from the Perkins asking them to visit in their home the following weekend which was done. At the end of a very enjoyable stay with the Perkins, Mom and Pop were called into a room and presented with a check in the amount of $5,000 which they said they wished to be used for the growth of the Easter pageant grounds.

Other donations of various amounts from $5.00 through $1700.00 have been sent to the Kendrick family for the further growth of the pageant and grounds, which has been placed in a building fund to begin the construction of this building. The next production in the amphitheater will be at 9:00 p.m. Tuesday, July 4, 1972 in the form of a WILD WEST SPECTACULAR with cowboys, indians, wagons, horses, fights, and lots of music; to relieve the early days of the settlers of the country.

A gigantic fireworks display, costing several hundred dollars, will be presented as the grand finale of the production. Continued Inside Screwworms continue their increase in Eastland County. Five cases have now been confirmed while more suspected specimens are being mailed to the lab each day.

Webworms seem to be more numerous than usual this year. They generally feed by eating leaves in concentrated area. They build "web-tent" in crotches of limbs. The webworms feed on almost all plants, but seem to prefer pecan trees.

One treatment is to cut out the branches holding the webs and burn them. Insecticides that may be used on ornamentals are Carbaryl (sevin), Chlordane, Malathion and Soxaphene.

Insecticides that are recommended for webworms in pecans are Thiodan, or Toxaphene.

Certain farmers in Eastland County will be receiving in early July an acreage and production questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin. Some 22,000 questionnaires are being mailed statewide.

This information will be the basis for determining harvested acreage and production of early harvested crops for the state and each county.

Reports are needed from all farmers so that each of the 254 counties in the state will be well represented.

Accurate estimates are of great importance to farmers in planning production and marketings and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture.

The Texas Legislature has provided a program of estimates for each county. Texas covers such a wide area that state totals alone don't provide adequate information on our most basic industry - agriculture. This is a cooperative effort of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture's Statistical Reporting Service and the Tx. Dept. of Agriculture.

If farmers in Eastland County are not already familiar with the new safety standards required by the new Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA) of 1970, they should become acquainted with the act as soon as possible.

The OSHA has special implications to the farmer who employs anyone at any time outside of his own family. In this case the farmer must display a 10 by 16 inch safety poster from the U.S. Department of Labor and must comply with four standards that apply to agriculture.

These four standards cover (1) temporary labor camps, (2) storage and handling of anhydrous ammonia, (3) pulpwood logging, and (4) slow-moving vehicle emblem.

The new law also requires farmers to have available for inspection and keep a "Log of Occupational Injuries and Illnesses" even though none have occurred.

Both the record form and safety poster are in the Department of Labor booklet, "Recordkeeping Requirements."

Each farmer in the county should have received a copy of the booklet. If it has been lost or misplaced, another free copy is available from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration Regional Office, Room 730-C, Mayflower Building, 411 North Akard Street, Dallas, Tx. 75201.

The new act requires all farmers employing people outside their immediate family to maintain accurate records of work-related illnesses and injuries and to report deaths within 48 hours to the regional OSHA office. Employers are also required to be able to supply an annual summary of occupational injuries and illnesses upon request from the Labor Department.

The OSHA provides for mandatory penalties of up to $1,000 for each serious violation and for optional penalties of up to $1,000 for each non-serious violation. Records must be maintained for at least five years following the end of the calendary year to which they relate.

The little girl had been given $20 for her birthday so she should open her first savings account. Filling out the bank application, the youngster came to the line asking the name of her previous bank.

In big, bold letters, she printed, "PIGGY."

Political candidates are well enough informed on the questions of the day - it's the answers that stump them.

A good recipe for pickling okra is select small whole okra pods, wash and trim leaving stems. Pack okra into hot jars. To each pint add 1 clove garlic and 1/2 tsp. salt. Bring to boil vinegar and cover okra with boiling hot vinegar leaving 1/2 inch headspace. Close jars and process in boiling water bath 20 minutes. Let jars stand several weeks, and chill opening several days before serving.

Growing Pains at Necessity ... in 1920

"The investor is the man who rests during old age, but the man who depends on labor alone, works all his life."

These were the words of Premier Petroleum Co. some 52 years ago as they advertised for investors for the development of the Necessity Oil Field. "We are now drilling for a Necessity Gusher in the richest pool in Texas," their brochure of 1920 said.

FOR SALE - 1969 Blue & White Yamaha 350. Street scrambler. New overhaul & gears with less than 300 miles. A very clean bike. See at 500 Foch St. in Eastland. Call 629-2214. T-60

Eastland's Dave Fambrough, who lived in the Necessity area and knows the development well, recently found among his keepsakes the original copy of the company's inducement brochure, and the data therein reads like an investor's dream.

"The reliable Necessity Field is a big money maker for every company that drills a well. For a distance of over two miles every well drilled is a big one. From the 3,250 McCauley well on the east to the 7,500 barrel Beyer well on the west, the wells are all big and we are at the junction point between the great pools."

The brochure is crammed with maps, charts, testimonies, and press clippings regarding the gigantic oil boom. It reads like a page from history.

"STEPHENS COUNTY OPERATORS SAY THE PREMIER LEASE IS A CINCH:

"Because of its unrivaled location with reference to giant production. We have waited patiently for this lease to come into the charmed circle of proven ground. The great profits resulting from our patient waiting belong to the Premier Company and to you if you become a stockholder. The drill is on its way to earning dividends. We advise you to buy this stock, as we have done. Buy all you can. It is the best Industrial Investment we have ever known. Our lease is the best we have ever drilled. We believe we are certain to get a gusher.

"In Eastland County, we have 60 acres, located in the northwest part of the county near the famous Hilburn Well, which came in about three months ago producing 600 barrels per day and has since increased its flow to 1,100 barrels.

"We also have 6,000 acres in Red River County, Texas, under contract. Unless developments warrant we will not execute this contract, but it now looks favorable.

"Remember, we will not issue or sell all our capital stock unless we drill more than the two wells we promise to drill in Stephens and Eastland Counties. Of course, other wells will be drilled from future production.

OUR PLANS

"The Premier Petroleum Company has an authorized capital of $400,000.00 under a declaration of trust, but steps towards incorporating are under way and within a short time the company will be incorporated. The value of the present holdings of the company exceeds $245,000.00 and the leases would readily sell for this amount. The issued stock has today a book value (actual assets) of $12.50 per share. To properly finance this company - that it may develop its properties, we find it necessary to sell $150,000.00 worth of the company's stock for the benefit of its treasury. These shares are sold at par and as ground-floor - full - participating shares.

NECESSITY WELL NOW DRILLING

"The contract for this well calls for $67,500 cash. This sum does not include flow and storage tanks. This well is drilling on big well ground and the tanks will cost $7,500.00. The pipe line companies are ready to take the oil, but the flush production of these giants is so great that unless storage is provided, waste will occur, and with oil selling at present prices a little waste is a big loss. It is the present plan to drill two wells. One in Stephens and one in Eastland county, and we believe the stock now being offered will provide ample funds for this purpose.

NOW DRILLING PREMIER NO. 1

"Join us in this undertaking on the same basis we are working on - help us to finance this well and share in its earnings on the same price for our stock we are asking you to pay - and your dollars buy the same interest in the property our dollars bought.

"We will not issue all our capital stock unless we drill more than two wells. We estimate that the present offering will provide ample funds for two wells as we expect to sell considerable stock above par value as our well gets deeper.

PREMIER PETROLEUM COMPANY'S WELL NO. 1, NOW DRILLING

"Please note the location of this well on the map and consider the trend of development from the Caddo Pool in the northeast corner, also the town of Necessity (the cluster of wells itself half mile east of our well). Also note the development from the northwest to Necessity. It required only the completion of the great Beyer well by the Gulf Production Company to connect these two great fields and establish a chain of gushers from Breckenridge by way of Necessity to Caddo, with the great natural producers located close to us. The Beyer well is finished as a 7,500 barrel well. It places us, beyond all argument, in this great producer class. We are right for a big well and it should be a free natural producer.

MAJOR W.M. WOOD, Superintendent of Production, resident in Texas for 20 years and knows Texas and the oil business.

Major Wood was formerly with Col. Goethals on the Panama Canal, as disbursing officer for the U.S. Government. He was also connected with the $75,000,000 construction of ammunition plants in Nitro, West Virginia. For some time past he has been at Eastland in the Ranger field and will have charge of the drilling operations of this company.

"NO DRY HOLES IN NECESSITY DISTRICT

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Franklin

Harton, Franklin Vows Read Friday, June 9

Karla Kay Harton became the bride of Barry Maurice Franklin in vows recited at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening on Friday, June ninth, Nineteen hundred-seventy two, at First Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney B. Harton, 700 Cherry St. and Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Franklin, 824 Blackwell Rd. in Ranger.

Fifteen-branch semicircle white wrought iron candelabrae and tall baskets holding yellow chrysanthemums, gladioli and greenery formed the background where Mr. Hollis Windham of San Antonio read the double ring ceremony. Satin bows reserved family pews.

Becky Speer, pianist, played the Love Theme from "Romeo and Juliet."

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of peau de soie and lace, her own design and creation. The lace covered bodice above empire waistline featured a portrait neckline and long lantern sleeves. The Shadalon chiffon skirt overlay was gathered at waistline. Lace encircled waistline, neckline, cuffs and hemline. Her veil of illusion fell to carpet length from a lace headdress and was edged with matching lace.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white shredded carnations and yellow sweetheart roses edged with lace and short satin streamers. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Darla Franklin, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor; bridesmaid was Jerree Jane Bullock of Midland, cousin of the bride. Their carpet length empire gowns of yellow waterfall crepe were designed with short puffed sleeves, rounded neckline and yellow satin tie belts. Headdresses were matching bows. They carried nosegays of yellow shredded carnations.

Robin Gunn of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, wore a frock of yellow crepe with yellow floral headdress. She carried a white lace basket filled with yellow petals.

Mike Poyner of Midkiff, cousin of the bridegroom, was bestman; Bradley Hodges of Ranger was groomsman. Gary Harton, brother of the bride and Terry Gunn of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, lighted candles; Mike Noth and Dwaine Brown seated guests.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a two-piece yellow suit with matching scarf and white accessories; the bridegroom's mother was attired in a pastel blue dress and white accessories. Corsages were white gardenias.

Reception followed in Fellowship Hall of the Church. Cynthia Camacho presided at the guest registry.

The bride's table was laid with a white cloth in a quilted design with pleated skirting and centered with a white candelabra holding yellow tapers. Ornate separators spaced the three-tiered cake which was embellished with white and yellow confection roses and crowned with a miniature bridal couple. The cake was served with fruit punch and butter mints with Mrs. Jerry Speer and Mrs. J. B. Craig presiding at the table.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad Cavern, Ruidoso and White Sands, N.M. the bride wore a tangerine and gray striped dress, white accessories and corsage of yellow flowers.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Ranger High School and a 1972 graduate of Ranger Junior College where she completed a nine-month business course. She was a member of Ranger High School Band, winner of the Beta Club Award and was on the Dean's List at Ranger Junior College.

The bridegroom is a 1968 graduate of Ranger High School; a 1970 graduate of Ranger Junior College and is a senior student at Tarleton State College where he will be a December graduate.

The couple is at home in Stephenville.

'Tune' Tires First To Save Time For Summer Fun

Motorists' chances of truly enjoying the lyrical "lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer" are a lot better if they bone up on warm weather tire care.

These maintenance and safety tips to drivers preparing for summer vacation trips or, traditionally, just more time on the open road:

-- Make sure you have enough tread on your tires to last on long trips. If you're near the minimum safe tread depth of 1/16 inch in two or more grooves you may want to make replacements before you take off for isolated areas.

-- If you buy any new tires remember the law requires the seller to register them if they were made after May 22, 1971. In the unlikely event a recall is necessary because of possible safety defects the manufacturer will notify you directly.

-- Check for proper inflation when tires are "cold", before starting out. Follow the car manufacturer's recommendations in your owner's manual, or posted in the glove compartment or affixed to a door pillar. Add up to four pounds of air per tire for long periods of highway driving at high speeds, but never exceed the maximum pounds per square inch (example: 32 p.s.i. max.) marked on the sidewalls.

-- Use your own air pressure gauge if possible. Studies have shown station air towers are often inaccurate up to plus or minus four pounds per square inch.

-- Vacation trips often mean heavy loads. Make sure the weight is distributed as evenly as possible, including weight in any towed vehicle. Check your owner's manual or a tire dealer for the maximum load limits of your tires.

-- Driving on snow tires for any prolonged period in warm weather is poor economy. Abnormally high heat buildup in these thicker tires can wear down the tread faster than in regular tires. It may also cause sudden disablement.

-- When the rain comes, beware of skidding on "summer ice". Water mixes with oil and gas films already on the road to form a slick surface. The risk of losing control is five to ten times more likely on wet pavement.

-- Check front end alignment frequently, especially if you notice uneven tread wear or "pulling" to one side while driving. Back roads or a few solid bumps on any surface can throw alignment out, even if it was recently adjusted.

-- Check for debris such as stones and glass embedded in the tread and in the grooves before starting out.

-- Rotate your tires according to the recommendations in the owner's manual. If you notice abnormal tread wear or seem to be getting a bad ride, this is a good time to have your tires balanced.

-- Let experts check your tires for proper inflation, cuts or other damage. You'll like the folks at

THE HAMBURGER. As American as July 4th and apple pie. It can be dressed up to suit any occasion or taste, such as the pizza burger shown on the left featuring tomato sauce, mozzarella cheese and frankfurter slices.

'burger

Regardless of its foreign origin - and the hamburger is supposed to have originated in Hamburg, Germany, in 1891 - there is no question but what it has become as American as the Fourth of July and apple pie. There are so many variations; perhaps not including those you make yourself, that complete books have been written on the subject.

No matter how you serve your hamburgers, it's important to realize that their finished goodness depends on the beginning, the base from which you build. In other words the bun itself, because no matter what the filling, it misses being a mouth-watering delight if the bun is not all that a good bun should be - fresh, flavorful and high quality.

Many youngsters, cranky in their eating habits, prefer their hamburger with just a meat patty and perhaps a little mustard or catsup, but for those teenagers and adults who are venturesome, there are myriad ways to "build" a hamburger and with some, the more we put in, the better it gets. They might enjoy only a few additions such as lettuce and tomatoes with mayonnaise or relish or they might go all the way with a slice of cheese, chopped onion or a nice large slice of onion, catsup, lettuce and tomato and dill pickle slices. The result is a concoction so large one wonders how the mouth might get around it, but one that's tasteful and practically a meal in itself.

Here's a combination you may not have tried:

CHEESEBURGER TOWERS
2 pounds ground beef
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
salt and pepper
6 slices process American cheese
6 hamburger buns, split and toasted
Combine meat, onion and seasonings; shape into 12 patties a little less than 1/2 inch thick Cook in lightly greased skillet about six minutes, turning once - broil if you prefer. With cookie cutter, cut a 2 inch round from center of each cheese slice. Place half the meat patties on toasted buns; add cheese slice filling the hole in the cheese with catsup, mustard or barbecue or hamburger relish. Top with remaining meat patties and cheese rounds.

Or try a Smoky

Cheeseburger: Prepare six meat patties and while they cook, combine one 5 ounce jar smoky cheese spread, 1 tablespoon relish and 2 teaspoons prepared mustard; spread on top half of 6 split hamburger buns. Broil 1 to 2 minutes or till cheese bubbles and buns toast. Put buns together with a meat patty in each.

Have you ever considered the versatility of the hamburger bun for other purposes? Split and toasted, it makes a great base for creamed foods or Sloppy Joes to be eaten with knife and fork. Because of the shape, what better for a fried egg and ham sandwich? With weiners, clip at one inch intervals almost through so they will curl up as they cook and they are just right for a bun, with a center which can be filled with sauerkraut for a great taste combination or baked beans with a topping of hot dog relish.

And for individual pizzas, they're perfect. Try this variation:

PIZZA BURGERS

1 pound ground beef
1 1/2 cups chopped onions
1 six ounce can tomato paste
1 teaspoon crushed oregano
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
6 hamburger buns, split, toasted and buttered onion rings or sliced Mozzarella cheese, optional

Cook beef and onions in skillet until beef loses its red color and onions are transparent. Add tomato paste and seasonings. Bring to boil; simmer for 15 minutes. Spoon mixture over bun halves. If desired, slip an onion ring or cheese slice on each bun.

Or make a frankfurter pizza; spreading the toasted bun halves with tomato sauce, adding a touch of oregano, a round of Mozzarella cheese and top with sliced franks which fit the bun halves so well. Run under the broiler until cheese melts and franks brown slightly.

No matter how you serve them, a supply of good hamburger buns fresh from your favorite grocer for planned or unexpected uses can make up into lots of good eating with your own creativity the designer and producer.

Texas Department of Public Safety Information for the Press.

AUSTIN+ + Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today issued the following statement:

"In view of the report that the U. S. Supreme Court has outlawed capital punishment, I feel like I should restate the position which I expressed on this subject just last week.

"I said then and I again say now, that we must have appropriate punishment which will serve as a deterrent to crime. If there is to be no death penalty then there must be a viable alternative - one which will permanently remove from society those individuals who are desparately dangerous to it. "If this ruling is to be final, it would be my hope that the various states will act quickly to provide such an alternative."

A question frequently asked by new home shoppers is: "What does it take to make a house a Gold Medallion Home?"

For the uninitiated, the Gold Medallion Home Award is an electric industry certification program which assures home buyers that a home displaying the medallion emblem is electrically equipped to provide a lifetime of comfortable, carefree living.

THE EMBLEM is proof that everything in the home or apartment operates electrically, including the heating system. It provides for better-than-average insulation to insure comfort and economy of operation for heating and cooling.

Forced ventilation is another requirement to expel damaging moisture generated in every home from cooking, bathing and dishwashing chores.

It also certifies that the home's electric wiring will provide full voltage; that provision has been made for ample lighting; that the kitchen contains modern flameless electric cooking equipment; and that at least three additional labor-saving major appliances are installed.

THE GOLD Medallion emblem is registered in the U.S. Patent Office as a certification mark of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association, and is awarded only by the local electric utility on the basis of approved Medallion Home Program electrical standards. Copies of the standards are available from Texas Electric Service Co.

36 boys and girls have registered at the Eastland Public Library's Summer Reading Program, according to Mrs. C. C. Collins, acting Library Chairman of the Thursday Afternoon Club.

The youngsters are reading for a State Certificate issued by the Texas State Library on completion of 12 books read. 34 new books totaling over $100.00 have recently been added to the children's shelves. 8 new sport books from Judge Cecil Collins are being read and much appreciated by the Little Leaguers.

Recent Memorials presented to the Library: "I Play to Win" - Steinmark in memory of Wally Pierce given by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Boney and Mr. and Mrs. O. H. ## Publisher Speaks

BY ROYCE BROWN

There is a lot to know about what a hapless American is. It could be worse. It was in the 30's. The depression of the 30's had brought us to the point, as this write-up by Jack Crust, handed to us this week shows:

The old house with the side room, the barn, the sheds and the cow pens are long gone from the old home place. I found an old snuff bottle or two and some red rock from the top of the chimney about where I think the house was. The hill over to the east was closer than I remember. I hollered a couple of times and it echoed back just like it did when I was a country boy during the great depression of the early thirties.

They were hard years, but many of the memories are happy ones. Memories of things like snow ice cream, the smell of shoe polish and lye soap on Sunday morning, town boys spending the night and sleeping on beds in the yard, smoking cedar bark, doing without nice things and not knowing the difference.

About all the real excitement we had in those days was when a cat fell in the cistern or a candle fly got in the lamp globe.

We had 18 cats and daddy milked four old half jersey cows to feed them. I never saw any white buffalo, but the hawks and storks ate most of our chickens and in 1931 about all we lived on was okra, rotten ended watermelons, cottonball rabbits and elabber.

Mama wore tennis shoes and underwear made out of flour sacks. Once she was crawling through a barbed wire fence and tore her underpants right where it said "Light Crust Flour."

If there was any underarm deodorant on the market we didn't know about it. And we had no air conditioners. If we got galled we would slap a hand full of starch where it would do the most good and forget it.

fell a rich man from a poor man was that the rich man had two cars standing on blocks instead of one.

The outdoor rest rooms we had were not very relaxing or comfortable and not places for deep thinking or long range planning. Usually I was too busy trying to beat a wasp or centipede to death with a Sears Roebuck catalog while fighting a cold updraft or 120 degree heat.

On winter nights we huddled around a red hot wood heater, roasting in the front and freezing in the rear. Daddy read Zane Grey books to us by a coal oil lamp. I can remember the day was out of money for gifts on Christmas Eve. He went out in the yard, fired the shot gun and came back in the house and told us Santa Claus had committed suicide.

The chickens roosted in a circle around the top rim of our drinking water barrel and my job every night before going to bed was to go out and turn them all around to where they were facing in.

Yes, I remember the depression.

I can't forget the bad things. Like people not having any new clothes very often, like some people not having enough food or enough medical care; or enough money to hold things together.

But I remember good things, too. Like people coming over to visit on the porch at night without our wondering what they wanted. Like a stranger stopping on the road to help you fix a flat. Like people just pulling together.

The great depression as bad as it was, had a little good in it. I'm glad I was here then and I'm glad I'm here now. I just hope I don't catch the itch again.

Important News About the News Media for Advertisers and Agencies

Today as never before, Americans need information—about events, about people, about products. Read how they use the news media to meet this need.

In March, 1971, Opinion Research Corporation was commissioned to find out how Americans gather the information they need to conduct their daily lives.

Here, from a nationwide sample of 2,023 men and women age 18 and over, are some of the key findings of that research.

1. When people want to find out about news they are very much interested in, they rely on the newspaper more than any other medium.

Opinion Research Corporation asked: "Suppose there is some news you are very much interested in. Where would you be most likely to find out all there is about it?" Here's how people answered:

Clearly, newspapers are America's prime medium for news. Only television comes close, and as we shall see, television does not come close among your best customers.

2. The newspapers' lead over television is greatest among the people advertisers want to reach most.

Asked the same question about news, people who had attended college named newspapers over television by a substantial 54% to 33% margin. Those with incomes of $10,000 or more gave newspapers a 55% to 40% advantage over television. Thus:

The high-spending 30-49 age group chose newspapers over television by 56% to 45%. Even among the 18-29 age group, supposedly "the television generation," newspapers were named as the news source for 46% of the sample compared to 40% for television.

In fact, television led only among those with less than a high school education (53% to 43%), those with incomes under $5,000 (53% to 43%) and those age 50 or over (51% to 48%).

Your best customers, then, rely very heavily on newspapers for their news. But that's not all. Read on.

3. When people are ready to buy, they turn to newspapers for the facts they need by more than 3 to 1 over any other news medium.

Opinion Research Corporation asked: "When you are ready to buy something, where are you most likely to find the kind of advertising that gives you the facts you want to know?"

Here's how people answered:

Obviously, when people actually start shopping for something in your product category, your advertisement had better be in the newspaper.

4. The most desirable prospects prefer newspapers over television even more strongly as a source of advertising information.

Among those with at least some college, newspapers outscored television by 27% to 4%.

People with incomes of $10,000 or more named newspapers over television by 30% to 6%.

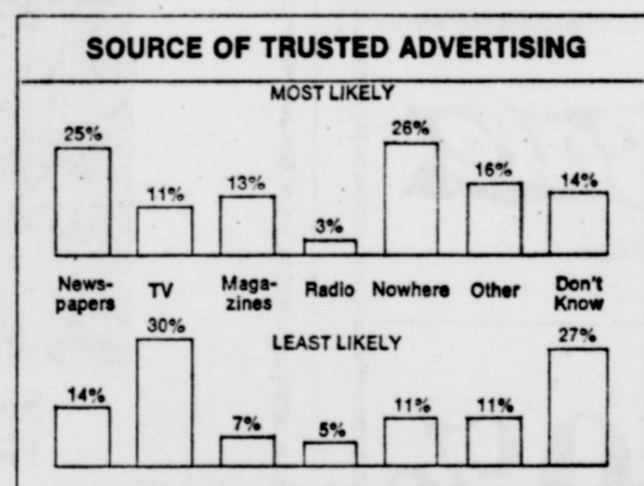

Among young adults (ages 18-29), newspapers led television by 28% to 6%.

Even among television's "best customers" (low-income, low education, age 50 and over), newspapers had a better than 2½ to 1 advantage.

No question about it. The more desirable the customer, the more likely he or she is to be looking for your advertisement—literally looking for it—in the newspaper.

5. People trust advertising in newspapers far more than in any other medium.

Opinion Research Corporation asked: "Where are you personally most likely to find advertising that can be trusted? And where are you least likely to?" Here's how people answered:

Trust in advertising is concentrated in newspapers, while distrust is even more strikingly concentrated on television. With today's growing need for believability, advertisers who use newspapers to carry their messages are getting an important advantage over television.

6. Key demographic groups trust newspaper advertising overwhelmingly compared to television advertising.

Once again, the better-educated, higher-income, more youthful groups give newspapers the widest margin over television.

|                    | Most likely to find advertising that can be trusted |    | Least likely to find advertising that can be trusted |     |
|--------------------|---|----|--|-----|
|                    | Newspapers  | TV | Newspapers   | TV  |
| Any college:       | 20%   | 5% | 15%  | 42% |

| Age 18-29:         | 21%   | 7% | 17%  | 38% |

These more sophisticated groups are far more suspicious of television, far more likely to believe what they see in a newspaper advertisement.

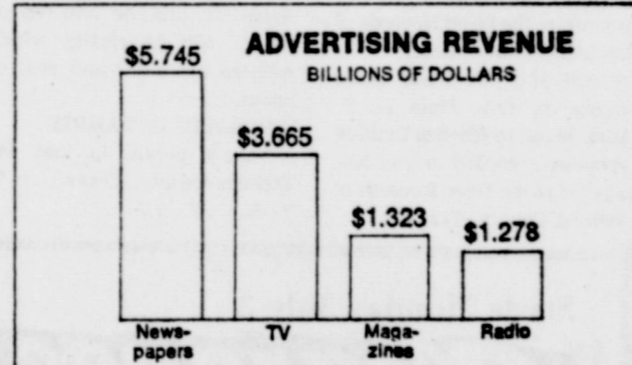

To summarize: Americans rely on the newspaper as their most complete, most trustworthy source of information, whether it is news or advertising. And the better the education and income level, the more this is true.

The findings of the Opinion Research Corporation are strongly confirmed by other equally unbiased statistical data.

Simmons '70, for example, reports that 78 out of every 100 adult Americans read at least one newspaper on the average weekday, far more than are exposed to any other news medium. Simmons also confirms the newspaper's leadership among "best customer" groups, too: daily readership is 87% among college graduates, 84% among those earning $10,000 or more, 86% among under-25 married couples.

While television ratings have dropped over the past five years, the newspaper business has never been healthier. In 1970, circulation increased to a record daily average of 62,107,527.

Advertising revenue is growing still faster. In fact, newspaper advertising revenue has consistently outpaced even the massive growth of the Gross National Product since 1945. In 1970, advertisers spent $5,745,000,000 on newspaper advertising, $3,665,000,000 on television, $1,323,000,000 in magazines, and $1,278,000,000 on radio. To put it another way, advertisers spent almost as much in newspapers, as in TV, magazines and radio combined.

Further, preliminary figures show that for the first 8 months of 1971 newspaper advertising revenues increased 6.6% overall, with national advertising up an impressive 12.7%.

As an advertising or marketing man, you might want to take an especially hard look at that last figure. Even national advertisers, wedded so long to the computerized cost per thousand efficiencies of television, are once again realizing that their customers are flesh-and-blood people rather than mere numbers. And that—as the Opinion Research Corporation study shows—the way people use the mass media is at least as important to an advertiser as simple exposure to advertising messages alone.

Retailers, whose advertising must produce traceable results in a day or two, have never forgotten this stern fact. They cannot hide behind exposure figures: they must have sales. That is why department stores quite wisely spend an overwhelming 80% of their advertising budgets in newspapers.

If you are not taking advantage of the newspaper's unique place in your customers' lives and overwhelmingly strong position as the Number One medium for news information and advertising information, let us show you how newspaper advertising can help you.

I Remember ...

By Dick O'Brien

When I scan the list of hospital patients in the TELEGRAM, I notice there are people from almost every community in the county represented. Names familiar to me from earliest childhood. It sets me to wondering how life has treated these old friends, and I breathe a prayer for all who still live and upon descendants of these families. For instance, would anybody know about the descendants of the following families: Russels, Capers, McDaniels, Davids, Rogers, Tankersleys, Underwoods, Suttons, Spradlings, Echols, Pritchards, Moates, Cranfills, Summets, Kimballs, Halls, Bryants, Burlesons, Gleasons, Martins, or Asebrooks?

This is not a complete list but

Commissioner W. Q. Verner likewise stated that he thought it would be good for the city to have a center and definitely needed a library, but brought up the question of maintenance. "You can't let every Tom, Dick, and Harry run a place like this," he said.

It was pointed out by Mayor Reid that it would be governed by a rotating board, and that developments are such that the Chamber of Commerce might be in a position of seeking new quarters, and perhaps it could be possible to have the Chamber secretary serve as receptionist and appointment taker, should the chamber office be located in the new center. (Such an arrangement is used in Graham, where a successful operation is reported, he said.)

Pro posed site for the new center is the area immediately south of the sidewalk on the west side of Eastland High School Hill, across the street East from the new gym.

Mrs. Cecil Collings reported on the Graham operation, stating that it was nearing a pay-out point, and that the chamber of commerce there secured an existing building from the American Legion, and raised $100,000 to refurbish it. The facility is used constantly, she said.

When Commissioner Staggs outlined some of the expenses for, and others that are anticipated, Mrs. James Horton asked why these facts were not brought out at the Committee's earlier planning sessions. "We'd been led to believe that there wouldn't be any problem in the city's handling the financing for the center." Mr. Staggs reported that he had not been invited to any of the planning meetings. (The commission expert at the last city commission meeting on June 19.)

Mrs. Durel Reid compared the approach of going into such a program to that of marriage. "If you just sit and worry about whether or not you're going to have eight children, you might never take the leap to get married, and therefore miss the companionship."

Mrs. Austin McCloud said that a city must have a dream and a plan, or cease to grow.

Mrs. Bill Leslie told of a community center, though smaller, in Scurry County which is used constantly.

Mrs. Joe Francis spoke of the desperate need for safer library facilities and expressed the concern that should the present 15,000 volume library be lost by fire, it would take a lot of money to replace it.

Mrs. Reid countered by stating that "Now is the time to act, not wait until we have to react from some tragedy."

Chamber of Commerce President Marcus O'Dell affirmed that the chamber may indeed be looking for new offices, and went on to say that the chamber has a positive, progressive outlook, and is in favor of all manner of improvement.

Charles Marshall ("just speaking for myself") said that he believed that the project should be undertaken. He was especially interested in the new library facilities.

Others present were Beverly Nicholson, Margarie Van Hoose, Cliff Wilson, Mrs. Richard Wilhelm, Mrs. James Fullen, Mrs. Dan Childress, Greg Sidellio, De Gordon, and former mayor James Reid.

Following the lengthy discussion, Commissioner

Staggs made his restricted motion and it was seconded by Commissioner Dale Bakker. Mayor Reid asked for a vote.

Commissioner H.V. O'Brien at this point stated that he would like to make a few comments before voting. He expressed admiration for cooperative efforts of the people of Eastland, stating that as long as the people work together as they were doing in the city hall room that day, anything would be possible.

Stating that he wouldn't want to deprive any club member of needed facilities and services, he said that he wouldn't want to see the city tumbled into a back-break indebtedness again.

Recalling that he had always been for anything that helped Eastland, he suggested that there probably wasn't a person in the room who wasn't agreed that the town needs a new library and an adequate meeting center, but went on to express reluctance to the present plan because there had been no mention ever made of the possibility of trimming "any frills" off the $171,000 figure. "It appears that we're having the Deluxe Cadillac model offered us, and I wonder if it isn't a little ambitious for us," he said.

"Graham has been mentioned quite a bit, and it's a good town. But I don't live in Graham," he said. "I live in Eastland, and we don't have the industry or the payrolls although I think we have a greater potential for the future, but we must be concerned with the here and now."

Sunday, July 2, 1972

"Further," he went on, "I question the morality of our entering such a program as long as there are citizens within our city limits who do not have the basic city services, such as adequate sewerage."

In defending the city's work, he stated the some at the meeting had said that the city is standing still and is on dead center, but he pointed out that several projects are underway and that several others are being planned. He reported that the Soil Conservation Service District Officer had reported that the City Park Master Plan will be ready in about 20 days, and that material is being assembled by that SCS official on other methods of financing for such things as sewer line extension, paving, and that other avenues of financing for a civic center are possible.

The vote carried. The action by the commission kept roads open for other existing and anticipated projects needed in Eastland, it was pointed out.

Complete details of costs and effects of the proposed bond election will be distributed as they become available, prior to the election.

The meeting was adjourned.
