Record Distant Flight

Heavy American Bombers Blast German Centers

By ROBERT N. STURDEVANT

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—A mighty American force of British-based heavy bombers made a record distance flight into eastern Germany and Poland today for smashing attacks on the fugitive German fleet's base at Gdynia, the submarine yards at Danzig, and a large Focke-Wulf components factory at Anklam in Pomerania.

An undisclosed number of enemy fighter planes were shot down in the flight which involved a round trip of at least 1,600 miles. To reach the former Free City of Danzig the bombers had to strike over the world's most heavily defended territory. A returning pilot said he ran into "the damnest fighter opposition" he had encountered in 10 missions.

Explosives dropped by the U.S. bombers fell approximately 450 miles from the active front line in Russia, offering direct support to the Soviet army on the eastern front.

Danzig is approximately 800 miles from London and the former Polish port of Gdynia is 12 miles northwest of Danzig. Anklam is 90 miles north of Berlin. The attack refuted the Germans' claim that their inner industrial empire is safe from aerial attacks.

Effectively splitting the German fighter defenses as the force roared toward its multiple objectives, the big bombers dropped heavy loads on harbor installations and docks at Gdynia, which American army headquarters said now is used extensively by the German navy, and also on submarine slips and the ship-building yards at Danzig, which is actively engaged in the construction of U-boats.

The third objective for the precision blow, the Arado Flugzeugwerke at Anklam, formerly was the chief manufacturing plant for the standard training aircraft for the German air force but now is engaged in turning out vital parts for German fighters. The formations attacking Gdynia and Danzig encountered little enemy opposition over those targets, one group completing its bombing run and returning as far as the North sea before meeting a small group of Messerschmitt 110s which were beaten off in short order, returning crewmen reported.

But on the Anklam attack the crew reported the formations had rip-roaring air battles with all types of German fighters, estimated to number between 100 and 200, and many of them equipped with four rocket guns—two under each wing.

With the long flight to Poland effectively accomplished there arose the possibility that daylight raids on Berlin soon might occupy the Eighth air force since the German capital is considerably closer to Britain than the targets hit today.

A classic remark by returning crewmen, most of whom were aware that the raid took them within fairly close range of the battling Russian armies, came from Lt. Joe W. Kane of Lynbrook, L. I., N. Y., who said with his tongue in his cheek, "I was surprised that the Russian fighter support didn't show up."

Kane, who is one of the famous "boomerang boys," was in the group hitting targets in Poland and explained his remark this way:

"We usually have fighter support. We went so far I thought Russian fighters might be at Danzig to support us. We looked for them, but they weren't there."

Describing the fighter opposition on the Anklam attack Colonel Burns said the Germans picked them up over Denmark and stayed all the way until the Americans had started their bombing run.

It was a long tiresome haul for the groups that went to Danzig and Gdynia. The crews had stocked up on peanut butter and jelly sandwiches which they ate on the way back.

One jubilant Liberator flier from the group that hit the Danzig submarine yards declared that the "Germans might as well learn they can't move their industry out of our reach."

The former Free City had been raided twice by the RAF and three times by the Russians. The RAF first hit the city in November, 1940, and several quarters of Lancasters raided the submarine yards in July, 1942.

Germans Wiped From Caucasus By Red Charges

Moscow Announces 20,000 Killed And 3,000 Prisoners

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, Sunday, Oct. 10 (AP)—Charging Soviet divisions have wiped the Germans from the Caucasus, killing 20,000 troops and capturing 3,000 prisoners, Moscow announced today, while in the north—the Red army dashed to within 62 miles of the Latvian border.

The beaches of the former Nazi Kuban bridgehead were covered with sprawling German dead and great stocks of abandoned material, the Russians said, and Premier Marshal Stalin hinted triumphantly that the Crimea, Russia's "Florida," a few miles across the Kerch Strait, soon would be invaded.

The Russians killed thousands more Germans and captured or destroyed more German guns and supplies in the great battle to extend their three bridgeheads across the Dnieper river where Soviet spearheads were declared to have gained additional ground north and south of Kiev and near Kremenchug.

In the White Russian battle, the fourth major war theater in Russia, the town of Liozno, 25 miles southeast of Vitebsk, fell to three Soviet columns which forced the Meshna river to take the railway town.

The Moscow communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, announced the capture of 24 towns and hamlets in the drive toward Latvia from Nevel as German counterattacks were beaten back with heavy losses.

But a Moscow report broadcast by the London radio said the Red army was now 12.5 miles west of Nevel, and only 62 miles from the Latvian border and 38 miles from the main railway which supplies the German army on the Leningrad front.

Stalin in an order of the day to Col. Gen. Ivan Petrov said the Caucasus victory came "as the result of prolonged and bitter fighting" which "completed the destruction of the Taman forces of the enemy and completely cleared the Taman peninsula of enemy invaders."

Ordering an extended salute of 20 artillery salvos by Moscow guns to mark this milestone in Russian success, Stalin hinted in these words that the Crimea, just a few miles across the Kerch Strait from the now-cleared Taman peninsula, would soon feel the weight of Russian assault.

The Russians already are threatening the peninsula from the north by their middle Dnieper bridgeheads and by fighting along the Sevastopol-Melitopol-Zaporozhje railway.

The Moscow communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said that incomplete data showed 7,073 railway cars, 83 locomotives, 540 heavy mortars, 52 tanks, 337 guns, 229 machine guns, 184 stores of military supplies captured in the last Caucasus battle.

The Germans said all troops and supplies had been safely withdrawn at night under the cover of artificial fog and claimed they had killed 335,000 Russians in the fighting.

The elimination of the Germans from the Kuban river bridgehead in the Caucasus ended the last German threat to Soviet oil reserves—and now the Crimean peninsula with its Black sea naval base of Sevastopol is laid open for a Soviet attack from the east.

Fifth Patrols Smash Across Voltorno

Nazis Choose River As Location For First Defensive

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Oct. 9 (AP)—American Fifth army patrols have smashed across the Voltorno river, where the nazis have chosen to fight the first round in the battle for Rome, and clashed in hit-and-run engagements with German troops reinforced by an entire new division, headquarters announced today.

The Cairo radio said in a broadcast recorded in London late Saturday that Allied forces had crossed the Voltorno "on a broad front." The Germans were retreating to positions along the Garigliano river, some 15 to 20 miles north of the Voltorno and 80 to 85 miles from Rome, the broadcast added.

Caserta, strategic rail and highway center 16 miles north of Naples, fell to the Fifth army as the last enemy resistance on the south side of the Voltorno and Calore rivers was wiped out.

Belman Morin, Associated Press correspondent with the Fifth army, said in a dispatch from the front that Allied troops had reached the Voltorno "along its whole length from the mountains to the sea"—a distance of approximately 30 airline miles.

The American Fifth army in the west and the British Eighth army in the east both advanced two to three miles in spite of heavy rains which caused floods in some areas.

Although the bad weather continued, bomber and fighter squadrons of the Northwest African air forces kept up their hammering of enemy supply lines on both sides of the Italian mainland and teamed with Middle East air units to smash at Nazi air fields in Greece, Crete and the Dodecanese.

While Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces were in complete control of the south bank of the Voltorno, an officer at headquarters emphasized that reports from the battle area indicated that no major body of the Fifth army had yet crossed the river.

The patrols which fought their way across the stream ran into brisk small arms and light artillery fire.

The new German division hurried into the battle was the Third armored grenadiers, once regarded as a crack combat unit.

(The Paris radio declared that the Allies now have 20 divisions in action in Italy, including fresh reinforcements for the Fifth army.)

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel presumably is organizing his defenses for northern Italy.

This second line, which undoubtedly will be much tougher to crack than the Voltorno-Termini line, may be based on the natural barrier of a mountain range.

Hurricane Hits Mexican Coast

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 9 (AP)—A hurricane with 100-mile an hour winds struck the Pacific coast port of Mazatlan this morning, but first reports said nothing of loss of life. Pan-American Airways reported today.

The only communication with the stricken port was by a short-wave radio on a Pan-American plane that the Mazatlan airport. The government was using this for special messages. Telephone and telegraph lines were down and all regular communication broken.

Up to 8 p. m. (EWT) there were no reports of personal injuries or loss of life. The residential portion of the city is inland on rising ground so the population should have been able to seek refuge from the high water which accompanied the winds.

Pan-American said part of its airport was flooded but that it would try to send a special plane with medicines, equipment and government relief workers to the city tomorrow.

Reports from Guadalajara, the nearest large city 250 miles south, were that many houses had been unroofed and the business section of the city flooded. They said it would be two weeks before the city's power plant can be put into service again.

Among the 21 passengers mentioned in Mazatlan after the Clipper landed and was storm-bounded was Walt Disney, creator of Mickey Mouse, who was enroute to Mexico City.

Allied Airmen Get The Best Of Heavy Blows In Pacific

By C. YATES McDANIEL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sunday, Oct. 10 (AP)—Allied airmen had the better of an exchange of moderately heavy blows in the Southwest Pacific during the past 48 hours while around Australian troops fanned out in the Ramou valley of New Guinea to consolidate newly gained positions on a march toward Madang.

Adm. William F. Halsey's South Pacific command reported no additional Japanese attempts to withdraw from the central Solomons since an enemy navy task was defeated by American warships the night of Oct. 6 off Vella Lavella while bound for evacuation of troops from that island.

Neither was there any report of expected American landings on Kolombangara but South Pacific reports indicated some survivors of the repeatedly bombed enemy troops there had escaped by small craft during the past fortnight.

(A Japanese imperial headquarters communique said the evacuation of both Kolombangara and Vella Lavella has been completed.)

Belated reports from the South Pacific described a heavy raid a few hours prior to the navy battle by American Liberators and Lightnings on the Japanese air base of Kahili on Bougainville.

Ranging over the Equator north of New Ireland, a Liberator Friday morning spotted a convoy of three transports, escorted by destroyers, moving north.

The big bomber attacked through an intense barrage and scored damaging hits on a 10,000 ton transport.

The badly battered enemy air force returned to the attack in both New Guinea and the Solomons.

Friday, 11 Japanese medium bombers with 18 Zeros, raided Allied positions around Finschhafen, the New Guinea air base on the Huon peninsula captured recently by Australians. The new raiders failed to cause any damage.

Over Vella Lavella in the Solomons Friday, patrolling Corsairs of the United States navy broke up a formation of 15 Zeros, downing one enemy fighter in a brief battle.

On New Guinea, where Australians have reached a point 45 miles southwest of their objective of Madang, today's communique said "our forces continued the advance and now are entering the foothills of the Uria river valley."

CC Directors To Convene Monday

Chamber of commerce directors are to convene Monday noon in one of the most important sessions of the year.

At the session, a basic draft by the post-war planning committee will be read and discussed. Action, however, may be delayed for a couple of weeks so that suggestions may be sought from the public as well as the chamber membership.

Stanton Man To Be Brotherhood Speaker

The Rev. Charles Tarrance Stanton, will be speaker at the First Baptist Brotherhood meeting Monday evening. Horace Reagan, attendance chairman, announced Saturday.

He is pastor of the Baptist church at Stanton and recently filled the pulpit of the First Baptist church here. The Stanton church will furnish special music for the program.

Butter Market To Be Left Open For Civilians

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Military and other government purchasing agencies have arranged to get out and stay out of the butter market until next March to permit the entire production to move into civilian consumption channels.

This action, said War Food Administration officials who disclosed it today, should help relieve shortages which have developed in some areas, particularly those far distant from major producing areas, by making from ten to 30 per cent more butter available for civilians than the average consumed by them during the past seven months.

They make no prediction, however, as to possible changes in the ration point value for butter, which now is 16 points a pound compared with 8 points last summer.

The notice of the government decision to remain out of the market until production begins to increase next spring has been sent to congressmen who have inquired about recent butter shortages and the sharp advance in the ration value.

Stocks now held by the government total about 200,000,000 pounds.

State Guard Is On Maneuvers

Members of the local unit (company E, 34th battalion) of the Texas State Guard left Saturday evening to participate in weekend maneuvers of the 34th and 1st battalions west of Odessa.

More than 200 Guardsmen were due to participate in the bi-battalion maneuvers which will simulate battle conditions with utilization of planes and motorized equipment. Officers from the Midland Army Flying School will be umpires.

Two members of the state adjutant general's staff will have charge of the practice, and Maj. Joe Byron, Odessa, will command the 34th while Maj. Ben Meek, Kermit, will command the 1st.

One company is to be designated as the enemy and have planes and cars at its disposal. Flour sack bombs will be used and each Guardsman will be equipped with five flour hand grenades.

Members of units from Big Spring, Midland, Monahans, Grandfalls, Wink, Kermit, Odessa, Crane, McCamey, Andrews and Brownfield were expected to participate. Commanding the Big Spring unit was Capt. Hudson L. Bohannon, assisted by 1st Lieut. Dale Thompson and 2nd Lieut. Joe Pond.

Depends On Biblical Law Governor Uses Militia To Dethrone Political Enemy

POINT-A-LA-HACHE, La., Oct. 9 (AP)—Governor Sam Jones, invoking martial law, dethroned his bitter political enemy, District Attorney Leander H. Perez, at the Plaquemines parish courthouse here today and set up a temporary military rule under the command of the state guard, Brig. Gen. Thomas Porter.

Jones issued a proclamation of martial law effective at 12:01 a. m. and with the use of about 600 state troopers removed Dr. Ben R. Slater from the sheriff's office

Documents Indicate State Dept. On Toes Before War

By JAMES D. WHITE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The state department, whose critics have accused it of lacking policy, submitted a mass of papers tonight to show it was on its toes in the years before the war, and tried hard to head it off.

Its evidence is in the form of 274 official speeches, messages and memoranda which provide a background for the white book, "Peace and War, United States Foreign Policy, 1931-41." This book was published in January.

These selected documents set forth that the department was forewarned of the inherent dangers of political systems rising in Germany, Japan and Italy, and that this government sought to promote peace and world order and to meet the world-wide dangers resulting from axis aggression.

The white book has since sold about 100,000 copies in this country, and some 30,000 copies in the official British edition—the first American document so treated by the British government.

Edmund Smith Writes Parents

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith had word Saturday directly from their son, Sgt. Edmund Smith, who is a prisoner of war in Rumania.

Sgt. Smith, who was taken prisoner following the bombing of the Ploesti, Rumania oil field and refining center, wrote that he was all right except for minor hand wounds.

He wrote his mother that he was "well and safe, and I am in a Rumanian hospital with minor wounds on my hands." He added that he was getting good treatment and that the Rumanians had been "swell." One of his buddies wrote the letter because he could not yet use his hands. "Hope to be home one of these days," penned Edmund cheerily.

The card was sent through International Red Cross and was written three days before the government notified his parents he was missing in action. Subsequently, notification came that he had been taken prisoner. Sgt. Smith's wife is residing here with his parents.

PENSION CHANGE

CORSICANA, Oct. 9 (AP)—A change in distribution of old age assistance was indicated today by John Winters, newly appointed executive director of the state welfare department, who said "we are revising our policies in an attempt to get old age assistance to those who need it worst."

and placed there his own appointee, Walter J. Blaize.

The move was carried out with such strength and precision that armed resistance to Blaize which had existed in the parish for four months was swept aside and the guard was not forced to fire a shot.

The governor's proclamation declared that martial law was invoked "to suppress insurrection and rebellion against law and order" in Plaquemines parish and to install Blaize in office department phrases it, "the slow march of the United States from an attitude of illusory aloofness toward world-wide forces endangering America to a position in the forefront of the United Nations that are making common cause against an attempt at world conquest unparalleled alike in boldness of conception and in brutality of operation."

The full story of "the fateful decade" can not become known for about fifteen years, as it is customary procedure to wait that long to publish state department papers in full. The 274 documents represent only a fraction of the thousands of diplomatic papers sifted to provide the evidence for the book's thesis.

There is cited a statement made by Secretary of State Hull on November 2, 1933, to the German ambassador, Hans Luther, that "a general war during the next two to ten years seemed more probable than peace."

Hull made this statement after word from American emissaries in Japan and Germany as to what was brewing in those countries.

Ambassador Joseph C. Grew in Tokyo had said in a message on August 13, 1933 that the Japanese military machine "has been built for war, feels prepared for war and would welcome war. It has never yet been beaten and possesses unlimited self confidence. I am not an alarmist but I believe that we should have our eyes open to all possible future contingencies."

Meanwhile in June George E. Messersmith, consul general at Berlin, had reported: "I think the department must be exceedingly careful in its dealings with Germany as long as the present government is in power as it has no spokesmen who can really be depended upon, and those who hold the highest positions are capable of actions which really outlive them from ordinary intercourse. x x x"

War Drive Slated For Next Week Gives Quota Of $17,900 For County

In another week, the last major fund drive of 1943 will be underway with an objective of $17,900 for Howard county. It has been set for Oct. 18.

It is the National War Fund campaign, a composite of five major groups of welfare and relief organizations all connected with the war program. Chief among them is the USO, which is docketed for little less than half of the total of $125,000,000 goal set for the national campaign.

United Seaman's Service, which provides educational, spiritual and centers for merchant sailors carrying munitions and men through U-boat lanes to our forces overseas; War Prisoners Aid, which provides educational spiritual and recreational service in prison camps; United Nations relief for unoccupied areas with Russia and united China down for the largest parts; aid for certain occupied countries such as Greece, Poland, Yugoslavia, France, Belgium, Netherlands, Norway, Luxembourg; aid for refugees.

"This is 17 drives in one," asserted Pat Kenney, chairman of the National War Fund drive for Howard county. "We have a big goal to reach, but we also will be giving to many necessary and humanitarian causes."

"It's going to be a challenge to every person in the county to do his part. If everybody does, we will have no difficulty in reaching the amount. Last year we raised budget of $4,000 plus for USO alone. This year we are and keep him from being interfered with "while lawfully performing" his duties.

The state guard convoy required approximately five hours to negotiate the 40 miles from New Orleans to this little river town by winding levee road.

It was held up twice by obstacles, first near the home of Perez at Braithwaite where a barricade of three trucks had to be moved from the road and then one mile outside of Point-a-La-Hache where a pile of oyster shells was fired with oil on the road. A clash with parish special deputies was narrowly averted at the Braithwaite barricade where 73 deputies were massed but the deputies retreated and scattered without giving fight.

When the convoy reached the courthouse Perez and his deputies had departed.

Dr. Slater protested his civil rights were violated by the outer. "I will be a lot more comfortable with the military guard," Blaize said.

Slater, on the way out, declared: "I don't think we will be able to resort to the civil law in this case. I think from now on we will have to depend on the Ten Commandments."

The contest over the sheriff's office has been in progress between Jones and Perez since the death of Sheriff L. D. Dauterive June 1.

Perez held out for an election to name the successor but Jones acted to enforce his appointment after the state supreme court had upheld it.

Military Talent Shines In Irving Berlin's "This Is The Army"

Charlie Chaplin's 'Gold Rush' Featured At The State Theatre

"The Gold Rush," a re-issue of the soul and heart in the midst of a mob that is chasing only one thing—gold. He is supported in the film, which he wrote and directed himself, by Mack Swain, Georgia Hale, Tom Murray, Henry Bergman and Malcolm Waite. Chaplin composed the musical score and it was directed by Max Terr.

With that genius which is peculiarly his own, and against the background of the old Klondike gold rush days of Chaplinesque conception, the greatest screen comedian depicts with subtly tender and delicate masterstrokes the struggle of man's eternal hunt for happiness, his heartbreak and tears and his laughter and joy.

Charlie, of course, wears the derby, the cane, the baggy trousers, the funny mustache and the genteel cutaway. He waddles instead of walks, he is easily bewildered but he is so easily aroused when the bully is trying to put one over on any little fellow anywhere.

Chaplin portrays a hard-luck sordough who chases rainbows

Trouble—Plenty of trouble ahead for Charlie Chaplin when Big Jim, played by Mack Swain, blames the Little fellow for their misfortunes in "The Gold Rush," one of Chaplin's most brilliant comedies. As a re-issue, it is featured at the State theatre today and Monday.

Famed Film In Technicolor Is Offered At Ritz

Uncle Sam proved himself the all-time big-time talent scout in the annals of show business when Irving Berlin's "This Is The Army" opened on Broadway, July 4, 1942. He brushed his fingers over Army camps from coast to coast and came up with a fat fistful of 350 boys accomplished in every phase of show business. They put on a show that played to sold "Standing Room Only" for three months and filled theatres every time in an ensuing tour of twelve more-cities. The boys in the box-office shoveled in more than two million dollars and shoveled it right over to Army Emergency Relief.

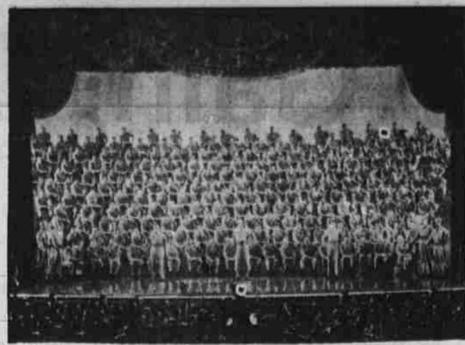

Now Irving Berlin's "This Is The Army" holds over at the Ritz for a regular run today and Monday, following Friday night's premiere for Army Emergency Relief. It is a gorgeous Technicolor film produced by Warner Bros. The Warner Bros. Studio paid a quarter of a million dollars to Army Emergency Relief for the privilege of transferring the show to the screen on a non-profit basis. Jack L. Warner and Hal B. Wallis as producers, Michael Curtiz as director and script-writers Casey Robinson and Captain Claude Binyon contributed their services to the picture without pay and the proceeds are earmarked "Army Emergency Relief."

The big musical show came into being when your Uncle Sammy remembered a fellow named Irving Berlin who worked for him as a Sergeant in the last war. Nephew Irving—or Sergeant Berlin—was a fellow who always simmered with songs and energy and had cooked up the idea of staging a soldier-show at Camp Upton. He called it "Yip, Yip, Yaphank" and Yaphank (where Camp Upton is located) yipped its delight. So did Broadway, when the show moved there for a highly successful run that made a pile of money for Army Relief.

Uncle Sam told Irving to do it again, this time with manpower drawn from Army camps all over the country. That led Berlin to title his new show "This Is The Army." The men were gathered into Camp Upton and soon were rehearsing the skits and songs that Berlin wrote.

And big show it was! Throughout its three months run in New York, the Broadway Theatre sprouted pigtails that reached around its side streets. They were the queues of people waiting to buy tickets. The ensuing tour of twelve more cities was a continuing echo of New York's tumultuous acclaim.

The movie version is an even bigger show, for Warner Bros. added a lavish cast of Hollywood stars, including George Murphy, Joan Leslie, Lieutenant Ronald Reagan, George Tobias, Alan Hale, Charles Butterworth and Kate Smith. The vaudeville-revue form of the stage show had to be given a plot-structure for screen purposes. The warm, simple story concerns a young dancer (George Murphy) and his buddies of the first World war who put on the "Yip, Yip, Yaphank" show, and the children of these old timers in Part Of The Army—This great all-military chorus contributes some of the soul-stirring music to be heard in "This Is The Army," the film adaptation of Irving Berlin's phenomenal stage play, which is continuing a run at the Ritz theatre today and Monday. "This Is The Army" brought cheers from a crowd attending an Army Emergency Relief premiere Friday night. It was at advanced prices for that benefit, now shows at the usual tariff.

The radio-lent Frances Langford and Gertrude Niesen to sing some of the Berlin songs of '17 and a new one for '43. Kate Smith made the 3,000-mile trip from New York to Hollywood at her own expense to sing Berlin's "God Bless America" for the picture.

The studio procured permission from the war department to add heavyweight champion Sergeant Joe Louis for story purposes, and to head the production number, "What the Well Dressed Man in Harlem Will Wear."

The songs which Irving Berlin wrote for the show and are now played, sung, hummed and whistled all over the world are in the picture. They include "This Is The Army, Mr. Jones," "With My Head in the Clouds," "I'm Getting Tired So I Can Sleep," "Mandy" and the famed soldier lament of World War I, "Oh, How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning" (sung by Irving Berlin, himself).

Tough Guy—A newcomer the role of the mug from the wrong side of town—but with a right side to his heart—is Don Barry, who stars in the Queen's offering for today and Monday, "West Side Kid." Dale Evans and Henry Hull also are in this gangster drama.

Parking Meters Get 20 Millionth Nickel

PORTLAND, Ore. — Portland recently collected its 20 millionth nickel from the city's parking meters. It brought the total collection for five years up to $1,000,000.

Contrary to predictions that gasoline-rationing would reduce the city's income from parking meters, the amount has increased steadily. In 1940, the average amount collected from each of the city's

GOLD FANS IN DEMAND

MEDFORD, Ore., U. P. — The demand for gold pan is as heavy during these war times as it was during the depth of the depression—and no wonder. McDonald Bros., operators of a store at Ruch, report that the pans are doing triple duty: Use in panning for gold, bread-mixing and wash basins. Drastic Changes Loom From War Report To Senate

Read Area Is Designated As A New Field

Howard and adjacent counties passed through another week of oil exploration almost completely devoid of excitement.

About the only development out of ordinary was the granting of a new field status by the railroad commission to the Cosden No. 1 Willard Read in eastern Howard county. This was the first such designation given under new regulations in West Texas and it meant that the well got a 60-barrel daily allowable. The first five wells completed within a half mile of that will draw similar allowables.

Cosden's No. 2 Read, which was cleaning out at 2,630 feet following a 1,120-quart shot from 2,732-2,837, will qualify as one of the tests, for it also is in section 48-30-1n, T & P, along with the No. 1 well. Ray Oil Co. is drilling its No. 5 Read in section 37, and it and one other offset will qualify. Cosden likely will stake a location for the other well.

J. B. Hawley, Jr. No. 1 J. W. Cook, western Howard wildcat which is 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 3-34-1n, T & P, was drilling past 3,500, which was 3,400 below contract depth. There was talk of testing light shows, one of which occurred at 3,190.

In northwestern Mitchell county Mel Richards ran pipe to 3,840 feet and drilled ahead to 3,930 on his No. 1 Erwin without shows. Location is in section 1-25, H &

TC, and the test is a deepening of an abandoned Sinclair exploration. Farther to the east, the Coffield & Guthrie and Cosden No. 1 Solomon, section 71-97, H & TC, drilled at 3,922 feet with 2,500 feet of water, thought to be coming from the bottom of the hole.

The picture was no more encouraging in the Vincent area. Coffield & Guthrie and Cosden No. 2 Pauline Allen, section 37-20, LaVaca, was still fishing. Coffield & Guthrie No. 1 Guy Guffey, a direct east offset to the discovery well, had milled tools and was reported resuming drilling at 3,637 feet. Magnolia No. 1 Willis Winters, in the northeast corner of section 6-25, H & TC, had drilled plug Friday at 3,993 feet and should have a decision soon. Coffield & Guthrie No. 1 Etta M. Conrad, section 79-20, LaVaca, in southeastern Borden county, had drilled to 4,249 feet with a show of oil at 4,184 feet. At the bottom, however, it was in dolomite.

Even Military Strategy May Be Effected

Senators Who Made Trip To Battlefields Have Alarming Views

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The off-the-record report of the war the senate received this week from five of its members has started the ball rolling on what may be far-reaching changes in this nation's dealings with its Allies and the peoples of reconquered lands.

Even military strategy, may feel the weight of legislative pressure as a result of the net critical summary of the war's conduct given

Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—The stock market today stepped out of a definitely downward week with most leaders adding modest recoveries to the comeback which got under way in the preceding session.

The Associated Press 60-stock average advanced 2 of a point to 49.9 but on the week showed a net recession of 1.1 points, widest drop for any week since the latter part of July. Transfers of 225,970 shares were the fourth smallest for the year to date and compared with 271,840 last Saturday.

Million Inhabitants Of Naples Beg On Streets For Food, Water

By HAL BOYLE

WITH THE AMERICAN FIFTH ARMY IN NAPLES, Oct. 1, (delayed) (AP)—Naples is a city with its hand out.

It is a beggar city of almost a million people without water and without food, except scraps, for a week. They have been thirsty so long they have forgotten they are hungry too.

The city is perhaps the largest that has been completely and scientifically paralyzed in the days when the Neapolitans were enemies—allied bombers wreaked havoc on the dock and warehouse areas, covering the harbor with the battered hulks of Axis naval and cargo vessels.

When Italy capitulated, the Germans laid their plans to bring Naples to its knees, exacting vengeance from the men, women and children there to save their own wounded vanity.

With bomb and shell they systematically destroyed all remaining communication systems, blew up power feeder plants and smashed what remained of the water supply system. There were no lights.

Civil war broke out when they tried to draft 30,000 young Italians for forced labor in north Italy and the Reich. For seven days machinegun and rifle fire swept the streets and the noise of exploding grenades echoed all day as the Germans moved about in squads seeking the Italians. The Germans dare not travel alone.

The inhabitants—panic-stricken at the firing—ventured out only when unbearable thirst forced them to hunt broken water mains or dip into stinking sewers. Often they were caught in the cross fire in street battles. Sometimes nervous Nazis took no chances and mowed them down without warning. Bodies lay in the streets for hours. For days the wounded lay in their blood. Some died.

Still the Germans could not shoot or stab the people into submission. The guerrilla bands grew in size and daring.

The British and Americans marched into a city festering with filth. They waded through narrow streets ankle deep in dirty papers and rotten orange peeling from which all the juice had been sucked.

They passed lines where women screamed, pulled each other's hair and fought with tooth and nail for a few drops of water dripping from a broken pump. Only in the center of the city had the wide streets been swept clean in a semblance of order.

The reception these scared, dirty, thirsty, violently emotional people gave the Allied soldiers would melt the heart of Midas. To them the Allied occupation meant salvation and life, no less. The people wept at Ferryville, Tunis and Bizerte in North Africa. They cried at Palermo, Catania and Messina in Sicily, but not with the tired tears shed by these exhausted Neapolitans transported

Water Ambulances Serve Beachheads

LONDON, U. P.—The existence of a water ambulance that has taken British and American Army hospital facilities right up to the beachheads can now be revealed.

Used for the first time in the Sicily landings—and no doubt also used in the invasion of Italy—flat-bottomed and powerfully-engineered craft have saved the lives of many Allied wounded.

Resembling a small assault boat, the ambulance has racks for as many as half a dozen stretchers, and room for several ambulatory casualties. When loaded, the ambulance is dragged back into deep water by hauling on the kedgie anchor and by engine power.

In hospital ships the ambulances are slung in davits, ready to serve as lifeboats. Electric winches lower them swiftly and smoothly over the side. British merchant navy men, run the Royal Army Medical Corps act as stretcher bearers.

FOUND 'CITY' WILDERNESS

WALDOBORO, Me., U. P.—Germany apparently had a Goebels as far back as 1748. This town was settled in that year by Germans, who immigrated to this place with the promise and expectation of finding a prosperous city. Instead, they found nothing but wilderness.

their colleagues by Senators Russell (D-Ga.), Chandler (D-Ky), Mead (D-NY), Lodge (R-Mass) and Brewster (R-Me).

The effect of their serialized version of a 40,000-mile trip to the world's battlefields, delivered in two closed-door sessions, seems likely to be translated into these early results:

1. Strengthened opposition to any declaration of foreign policy that makes specific commitments in advance of a statement of postwar intentions by Britain and Russia.

2. Revision of lend-lease operations to prevent other countries (notably Britain) from obtaining credit for furnishing supplies which originate in the United States. Along with this is promised a check on the charge-backs made by other nations as reverse lend-lease.

3. Increased demand by congress that other countries share fully in relief and rehabilitation and that American agencies not promise postwar benefits that the United States may have difficulty delivering.

4. A developing contention that this country must maintain military bases far from this continent for its future security, as well as have military and commercial access to airports we are building everywhere.

Even military leaders cannot disregard wholly the general dissatisfaction with which the five viewed the slow progress of the war in the Pacific. This does not mean, of course, that the high command will adopt the strategy suggested by Chandler of fighting a holding war against the Germans while we turn the full power of our offensive on the Japanese.

Administration leaders are sorry that the trip ever was made because it spells trouble for them and they feel it is likely to have a bad reaction on relations with our allies.

Many anti-administration members, however, think the critical vein taken by the men who saw behind-the-lines operations everywhere except Russia is going to furnish them with dynamite to blast some agencies for which they have been gunning a long time.

In between these viewpoints, a large bloc of senators think the trip was worthwhile for the information obtained from it.

This group, in general, hopes revelations that the British apparently intend to hold on to what they have all over the world and regain what they have lost won't cause the senate to erect barriers against international post war collaboration.

College Miss Reveals—
It Doesn't Take 'Fish' Long To Catch On

By BETTY BOB DILTZ
LUBBOCK, Oct. 9. — Life of a college co-ed is really in the 'groove' and the young miss does the swinging.
As soon as the "horror" (registration) is over things begin to click, but fast. Next comes get acquainted parties, rush dates, dancing, etc. Sometimes in-between all the rush we unpack, fix our rooms, get acquainted with our roommate and other such esentials which might prove necessary before the year is over.

No, sir! It doesn't take us "fish" long to learn our way around a college campus or to know who's who on same. From talks we had prior to entering the College of Knowledge we thought the first year was practically a blank with all freshmen going around in a daze—but now we know the "Silme" do get around and find their classes all right.
College classes, activities, and such cram the day full for all college students. An average day of these college "kids" begins at 7 a. m. and doesn't close 'til the "wee small hours of morn."
There is just one item we can't find time for in between mad dashes to class, "drop in" for cokes, bull sessions in dorm rooms and other moments which make up college life—when do students study?

Notes

MARY WHALEY
Parents, without half trying, can be as deflating as a sharp pin in an inflated balloon where their children are concerned, and bless 'em, they never suspect what they do.

For instance, there is daughter who towers a good half head a boy's height as if it were bolts on her nose. But mother dear, who is so proud of her long, tall duckling, reaches up to pat her daughter's shoulder and says, "Have you met my little girl?"
Then there is Pop who eyes his young son with pride. "Sonny" is just a few days away with experimenting with a razor and has already sampled several cigarettes while out with the gang. He's got nothing much at all under control, his legs, arms, or his voice. The manly tones that come forth from time to time are marred by the break and slightly soprano touch. "Life is painful anyway but more so when Pop suddenly asserts his authority and makes "Son" go to his room for punishment.

As daughter goes out the door secure in the knowledge she is to be the sophisticated queen of the ball, Mother invariably sticks her head out the door to call, "Sister, you better wear your heavy coat, dear, that wrap isn't enough."
Poor parents, if they ever knew these things hurt young pride, they've forgotten along the road of being an adult. And children must bear and forbear these pin pricks, all designed to make them feel their age.

Milk and Meat Producers are being shackled by protein feed shortage....

—the situation is critical
—valuable dairy herds are being sold as beef cattle
—a milk famine is threatened
—Beef cattle now going out unfinished, may result in meat shortage next year.

By working together—sharing with the other fellow—all will profit in the end . . . the food supply will be ample for all. Babies, invalids and others will not be deprived of essential food.

This is an appeal to Cotton Farmers for help!

Milk producers and feeders must have protein feed (cottonseed meal) in order to maintain production. Already herds of dairy cattle and unfinished beef cattle are being sold because they can't get feed and have to pay prices for low protein per cent feed which causes them to operate at a loss. Every day more are forced nearer giving up. That means less and less milk and meat needed for babies, growing children, hospitals, sick people, convalescents as well as men in service and every member of the family. We can ill afford to go without these vitally important foods.

Many of you farmers were caught short unsuspectingly last year and are taking no chances this year by demanding your full eight sacks of meal for every ton of seed you sell. Many of you honestly won't need that much meal over the year. Milk producers in particular need it desperately NOW!

Our aggregate supply should be as great or greater than last year. The local oil mill has not contracted out-of-county accounts as in normal years and only certificated meal is going out of the county.

You can help, Mr. Farmer, because you have the key to the situation, simply by sharing your cottonseed meal. You know how much you reasonably must have during the year. You know what you can spare. We appeal to you to SHARE IT NOW. When you sell your seed, won't you PLEASE DESIGNATE AS MUCH OF YOUR CERTIFICATE MEAL AS YOU CAN FOR SALE TO MILK AND MEAT PRODUCERS? Gins and the cotton oil mill will see that it goes where it ought to go to produce the most food immediately.

Yes sir, Mr. Farmer, this is your baby, too. If milk producers and feeders are to continue to operate they must have this extra meal; otherwise milk cows will be sold to other areas for meat. Feeder pens will be emptied and the protein feed market these two classes have created, will wither away. Everybody will be hurt. Won't you help?

Share Your Meal . . . Keep Milk and Meat Production Coming!

This appeal for help is being made by local producers as well as others who appreciate the urgency of this need. It is the patriotic duty of all who can, to help relieve the situation in every possible way.

Engineers Say .50 Caliber Is Finest Of Kind

Weights 65 Pounds And Can Fire 850 Shots Per Minute

DAYTON, O., Oct. 9 (AP)—Armament engineers at Wright Field today described the .50 caliber machine gun on American fighting planes as "the finest arm of its kind in the world."

Army Air Force material command technicians credited multiple high firing rate cannon and machine gun installations with bringing "increasing superiority in the air."

"The .50 caliber gun," said one armament expert, "is capable of firing at the rate of 850 shots per minute and weighs approximately 65 pounds. The projectile, leaving the muzzle at a speed of over 3,000 feet per second, is capable of penetrating any and all parts of an airplane, including the engine."

In one test, armament laboratory officers disclosed, the .50 caliber gun was fired at an obsolete bomber fuselage and the shell penetrated the bomber's skin, smashed through some ammunition boxes, a longeron, three-fourth of an inch of hard pine and then through armor plate 7-16 of an inch thick.

The gun is small enough to fit easily into all modern fighter and bombing planes, one expert asserted, adding:

"The over-all size and weight of the complete round, notwithstanding the tremendous striking power of the bullet, is small enough that quantities in excess of 1,000 rounds per gun are carried in some planes."

Mrs. Leonard M. Oerline and son left for Phoenix, Ariz. Thursday for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Oerline and family. Mrs. Oerline, the former Wanda Horn, has been making her home here with her mother, since S-Sgt. Oerline has been overseas with the armed forces.

The Leaning Tower of Pisa is approximately 16 1/2 feet off center.

V-12 Service Exams To Be Held Nov. 9

High school youths will be given a second qualifying test on November 9th for admission to the Army Specialized Training program or the Navy College program, V-12, when examinations will be held at the Big Spring high school.

The first tests were held in April when some 36 students took the examinations and several qualified.

Any student interested and eligible should notify J. A. Coffey, high school principal, who with Pat Murphey will conduct the tests here. Students who did not qualify on the first test and are still eligible must take the November 9th test if they wish to be considered again.

Applicants must be high school or preparatory school graduates or seniors who will be graduated by mid-term or a student in an accredited college. They must have attained their 17th birthday but not their 20th birthday by March 1, 1944. Applications for army training only may be made by the student who has attained his 20th but not his 22nd birthday by March 1, 1944.

Students must be morally and physically qualified, unmarried, and a citizen of the United States.

On the day of the test, the students must indicate their preference for the army or navy program. Taking the test does not constitute enlistment in either branch and a student having taken the test is not obligated to enter the program if accepted.

However, no candidate who expresses a preference for the army will be considered by the navy or vice-versa and should therefore consider the eligibility requirements for each program. No instructions have been issued to local selective service boards to defer students on the grounds that they may be chosen in the programs.

The program is designed to provide technicians and specialists for the army who will study at government expense at colleges and universities. The navy program is to provide officers for the navy, marine and coast guard.

Coffey explained that there would probably not be over 17 or 18 youths here who could qualify for the examinations since there are very few of age, who are not now in college of some branch of the service. However, he said that they had ordered 25 test papers to be available for those who qualify.

TAKES TEST AFTER 45 YEARS — AUGUSTA, Me., U. P. — After 45 year's practice, during which he cut the hair of such notables as Mark Hanna and John D. Rockefeller, Richard Laffin finally got around to taking his state barber's examination. Formerly a barber in small communities, he had to take the test to get a license in a town of 1,000 or more population.

Army Relief Nets $1,111 At Ritz Show

Theatre goers viewing Irving Berlin's "This Is The Army" at the Ritz theatre Friday night contributed exactly $1,111 as Big Spring's share in the Army Emergency Relief Fund.

After federal taxes were deducted, this net figure was announced by Ritz manager, J. Y. Robb Saturday. The main auditorium of the Ritz was practically filled for the special premiere showing, made possible by contribution of production from Warner Brothers and house expenses by the Ritz.

The crowd found high enjoyment in the Technicolor musical which follows closely the Berlin stage original—a series of finely done musical and fun sketches presented by men of the armed forces. Appearing also in the film are such screen and radio entertainers as Kate Smith, George Murphy, Ronald Reagan, Alan Hale, Charles Butterworth, Frances Langford and Joan Leslie. Michael Curtiz directed, and put together a sequence of numbers that contains firm theatrical impact. There's not a letdown in the whole show.

Republicans Use Tax Program For Attack On Adm.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—House Republicans used the administration's battered $10,500,000,000 tax program today as a springboard for renewed attack on government spending.

"We are not going to let them strangle the public with new taxes without any effort to cut down expenses within the government," declared House Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass.).

"We're going to insist on more government economy," Martin said. "That seems to be a thing they're trying to overlook entirely."

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the house appropriations committee, observed, however, that new taxes are inescapable as the only means of financing the government's huge war-time budget.

Martin made no estimate of the amount of savings which Republicans would demand, but Rep. Taber (R-NY) argued the government could whittle $4,658,000,000 off its expenditures.

The ways and means committee will hear tax proposals from private organizations next week as it takes up the job of getting some sort of a tax bill in shape before the end of the year.

Farmers Respond To Questionnaires

Farmers were responding Saturday in increasing numbers to a questionnaire sent by County Agent O. P. Griffin concerning the desirability of a freezer locker plant.

Griffin had asked how many would put up a year's rental in advance to assure erection of a plant. Up to Saturday 110 had answered in the affirmative, and the agent felt that a large number of others would reply similarly in a few days. He said 180 would be required.

New USO Head Has Arrived

Howard Bell, who has been named USO director to succeed Ross Clarke, resigned, arrived here late Friday.

He had been taken ill while visiting his parents at Rochester, Tex., north of Abilene, and was delayed from assuming his new duties the latter part of September as planned. Clarke assured USO officials that he would remain until Oct. 15 until the new director could arrive on the field.

Bell said Saturday he planned to spend the week checking with Clarke concerning operation and program details so that he could be familiar with the set-up. The regional USO director is due in during the week.

Reared at Rochester, he attended McMurry College in Abilene and was in the teaching profession for a number of years until he entered the grocery business. Subsequently, Bell was district personnel officer for the National Youth Administration at Marshall.

Following his training in New York for USO work, he was assigned to Bay City for a six-week period before being ordered to Big Spring. He has one son, six, who will join him soon.

Clarke has been in St. Louis during the week to confer with Red Cross officials. He planned to sit in on the army and navy YMCA parley enroute home.

War Drive

going to have to intensify our giving by four times. Clearly, this cannot be a 'dollar-a-head' drive."

Already Kenney is rounding out his organization. While it is taking shape rapidly in the city, the rural section is far ahead. For the first time in any county-wide campaign, the rural forces have been marshalled before the urban group.

This organizational achievement was credited to Walker Bailey, rural chairman, by Kenney. Chairmen for the various communities were announced as: Coahoma, Norman Reed; Forsan, Dan Yarbro; Ross City, Harry Miller; Chalk, M. J. Bransfield; the West, G. F. Painter and A. L. Grant; Lees, Pat Patterson; Midway, Bill Sandridge and H. F. Malone; Knott-Garner, Mrs. Grady Dorsey; Gay Hill, L. L. Underwood and Tom Spencer.

Center Point, Glenn Cantrell; Vealmoor, Bob Creswell and Carl McKee; Moore, Mrs. W. H. Ward; Cauble, Denver Yates; Hartwells, W. I. Broadus; Lomax, Everett Lomax and Arthur Stallings; El-boy, Bob Asbury; Fairview, Mrs. C. W. Langley; Morris, Lloyd Brannon and N. W. Smith; R-Bar, Morgan Coats and R. E. The Week fires at the height of our observance of the week.

Howard county faces another big job starting Monday (Oct. 18) in meeting a $17,500 National War Fund quota. This includes USO (about half to this cause), seaman's relief, United Nations relief, occupied countries and refugees relief. There are 17 agencies included in the war fund budget. To meet this everybody will have to give considerably more than last year. It won't be too hard unless too many people dodge their responsibility and let others carry their load.

Press reports say that figures show that for every two women hired for war jobs now, one leaves her work. It didn't take a war to establish that a woman changes her mind, did it?

The Monday meeting of the chamber of commerce directors will be an important session for post-war planning is to be talked. Big Spring might as well make up its mind now if it wants to be a thriving city after the war or just another town which missed the best.

It's a shame that hundreds did not avail themselves of the safety clinic here last week. Had more seen the demonstrations given by G. M. Kintz, it might have been a long, long time before we suffered loss from explosions. Had employers heard and heeded other talks, it would have been money in their pockets.

Hathcock Hdw. Changes Hands

He announced plans to restock the store with general hardware, appliance and gift merchandise. Stanley is no stranger here, for he travelled this territory for Clowes & Cowan Co., mill and plumbing supplies. His wife and family will join him here soon. Hathcock, a pioneer merchant, has operated the business for a number of years.

Fifth Army

line more than 30 miles wide and 6,000 feet high stretching from the Ligurian Sea to the Adriatic.

Three days of heavy fighting on the Adriatic front subsided somewhat after Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army forces knocked out half of 30 German tanks which attempted to break the British hold on Termoli.

(A Paris broadcast said that a "considerable American naval force" had bombarded German positions in the vicinity of Vasto, 15 miles north of Termoli, and that violent fighting was in progress in the Termoli sector.)

Allied medium bombers and fighters supporting the Eighth army along the Adriatic destroyed 20 enemy motor vehicles and damaged a bridge at Palata, 12 miles west of Termoli, yesterday. RAF bombers struck at road junctions and bridges at Isernia and Formia, northeast and north of Naples, last night.

Heavy and medium bombers of the Northwest African air force battered enemy airdromes at Elevisis, near Athens in Greece, and Heraklion in Crete yesterday after Liberators had pounded the air field at Kastell in Crete and Maritza in Rhodes the previous day.

The RAF also hit Heraklion Thursday and Calato in Rhodes last night, losing one plane in these and other attacks.

The raids on Crete and Rhodes were the first to be made on these German-held islands by Northwest African air force units.

American Mitchells and Lightnings based in Italy carried out yesterday's raid on Elevisis, destroying many enemy planes parked on the air field. Twenty enemy fighters got into the air to challenge the attackers. The bombers downed three of them and the fighters accounted for two others.

Provisional officers elected to serve until Oct. 25, when the second meeting of the club is held, were: T. W. Farris, president; Lloyd Burkhardt, vice president; and Rev. Messersmith reiterated: "... Hitler and his associates really and sincerely want peace for the moment, but only to have a chance to get ready to use force if it is found finally essential. They are preparing their way so carefully that there is not in my mind any question but that the German people will be with them when they want to use force and when they feel that they have the necessary means to carry through their objects."

As early as May 15, 1933, Secretary Hull had proposed to the senate foreign relations committee legislation which would authorize American cooperation in an arms embargo against aggressor nations, the record shows.

From the fall of 1934, Ambassador Breckenridge Long reported from Rome on the danger of Italian aggression in Ethiopia.

After Munich, Hull advocated acquiring stockpiles of strategic materials in case of an emergency.

American diplomatic efforts to keep Italy out of the war and later to prevent the French fleet from falling into German hands are also recounted.

The record shows that early in 1941 Under-Secretary of State Sumner Welles informed the Soviet ambassador in Washington of reports that Hitler was planning to attack the Soviet Union.

The painful negotiations with Japan are lengthily documented for 1941.

Beginning with a warning from Ambassador Gre in Tokyo in January, 1941, that Japan might strike suddenly and with every possible element of surprise, the records drag their slow way through months of conferences in Washington and numerous messages back and forth between the two governments.

The tragic climax on December 7, 1941, when Japanese Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura and special envoy Saburo Kurosu handed Secretary Hull Japan's memorandum that the Japanese government considered it impossible to reach an agreement through further negotiation—one hour after Japanese planes had attacked Pearl Harbor.

WINNER—L. (L.) George C. Roberts (above), bandmaster of the U. S. Maritime Service training station at Santa Catalina Island, Calif., won a $2,000 war bond prize in a war bond essay contest sponsored by General Electric Co.

Service Club Is Organized By Coahomans

COAHOMA, Oct. 9—Out of a sense of need for some organization to handle community affairs has arisen the Coahoma Service Club.

The unit came into being at a meeting of 14 men Thursday evening at the Methodist church when it was agreed that there was a definite need for organization of a club.

Provisional officers elected to serve until Oct. 25, when the second meeting of the club is held, were: T. W. Farris, president; Lloyd Burkhardt, vice president; and Rev. Noel Bryant, secretary-treasurer. These offices, together with four directors chosen by the club, will constitute the ways-and-means committee.

Jimmie Irwin and the Rev. O. D. Carpenter will be on the arrangements committee for the next meeting which will be served by the home economics department of the high school. The Rev. C. F.

Owens, R. L. Stamps and Sam Cook were appointed as an entertainment committee. Besides officers and committeemen A. K. Turner, Lloyd Burkhardt, R. Farris, Smith Cochran, Boone Cramer, E. V. Mitchell and C. H. DeVaney were named to sell tickets for the event.

District OPA Plans Thursday Hearing

More than 50 boys and men turned out Friday for the October district Boy Scout camp in the city park extension.

Highlight of the program was a commando raid, which started Friday evening and was finished Saturday morning. Scouts also got in archery and cooking practice, and each of the six troops represented qualified for a camping excellence banner.

Represented were troops 1, 3, 4, 5, 9 and 14. Leaders present included Garrett Patton, Arnold Seydler, Cecil Nabors, Ike Low, W. R. Puckett, Mr. Gignac, Eira Phillips of Big Spring and O. B. Bryan and Ira Williams of Stanton. Friday evening visitors included Elmer Dunham and W. L. Porterfield.

Here 'n There

Mr. and Mrs. M. Weaver are spending the weekend in Vernon where they are visiting their son, Aviation Cadet R. H. Weaver. Cadet Weaver is receiving his pilot's training.

James C. McNeill, son of Mrs. D. C. Pyle, has been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant, according to word received from Camp Wolters where he is senior instructor in the cooks and bakers school in the 51st training battalion. He has been at Camp Wolters for more than nine months, having received his commission at Fort Benning, Ga. Before entering the army Lieut. McNeill was employed at the Darby bakery.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Evans received a letter from their son, Robert Evans, telling of his promotion to chief motor machinist's mate. Evans has been in foreign service since May and the ship on which he served was in the invasion of Sicily and Italy. According to Evans, the air protection was so good that the Germans were not able to do a great deal of damage in either campaign.

C. B. Hult, 900 San Antonio, was living in hard luck Saturday. He had been pulling his watch out of the corner of a shirt pocket, which he kept buttoned. But the button was gone and probably when he jerked out the watch, three $20 bills came out, too. Unless some honest person found the money, that was a $60 button... that wasn't there.

W. R. Banks, Jr., who was honor man for group III Boilermakers school in San Diego, recently spent several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Banks, Sr. Because of his standing, he was promoted to fireman first class. Before enlisting eight months ago he was employed by Coaden Refinery. Banks is a 1941 Big Spring high graduate.

Lieut. and Mrs. Jonathan P. Lancaster, formerly of Hyannis, Mass., are spending the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pickle.

The big winner Saturday in a spirited crap game was the city. Police rounded up 12 negroes for gaming and jailed the lot.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Pickle and children, Joan and Don, of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rix and daughters, Carol and Cookie, are visiting relatives here today.

Farm Labor Looms Better Saturday

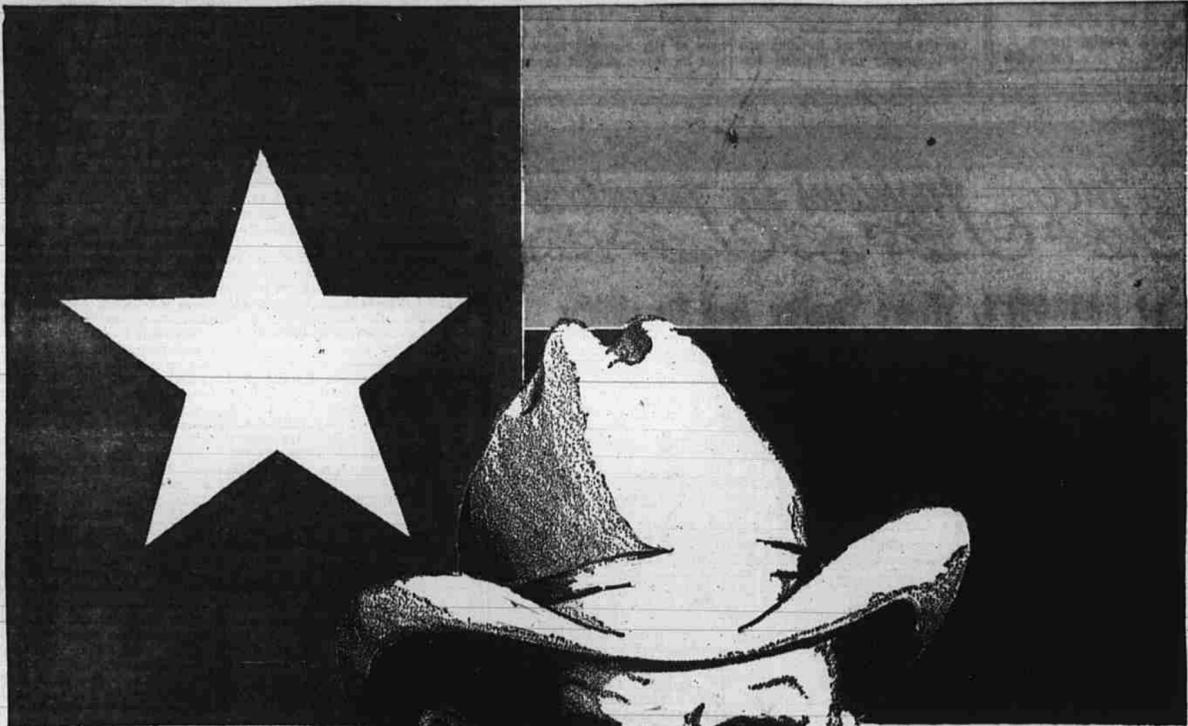

The farm labor situation was looking up Saturday with a sharp decline in the number of requests for laborers, while placements continued up.

Only 62 additional workers were sought through County Agent O. P. Griffin during the week. At the same time he placed 388. He estimated that 360 non-farm adults and children from Howard county were in the fields as well as 1,750 migrant laborers.

He said 200 additional cotton pickers were needed but that the current number could clean out the crop in 30 days except that there are so many large crews that the vast number of small farms in the county may suffer for labor.

The cash farm income from major products last year was more than $16,176,830,000.

Howard Is One Of State's Largest Bureau Counties

Howard county is one of the ten largest farm bureau counties in the state with 317 members, the group attending the Farm Bureau district 6 meeting at the Settles hotel Friday was informed.

The morning session was devoted to a talk by J. Walter Hammond, president of the federation. During the afternoon several speakers stressed the need for farmers to organize through the bureau in order to do their job more effectively.

Howard H. Goss, field superintendent for the State Soil Conservation board spoke on the necessity for farm organization and explained the setup under the soil conservation work is carried on in Texas.

Also on the afternoon program was C. B. Ray, organization and cooperative marketing specialist of Texas A. & M. Extension service, who told of various types of services which the county farm bureaus can perform for members.

Ray was followed by C. C. Randle, chairman of the state membership committee of Texas Farm Bureau, who explained the value of organization and suggested plans where counties could increase membership.

Randle in his talk condemned unequal freight rates and tariffs which he said had "kept the south in bondage since the Civil War."

Other speakers were O. P. Griffin, county agent; A. J. Bishop, county farm bureau president; Rheba Merle Boyles, county home demonstration agent, and Elva Lou Johnson of the USES.

Plans were discussed to send a Howard county delegate to the national convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Chicago on December 6-9 and to send several delegates to the state convention in Dallas, Nov. 16-17. The county will be entitled to five delegates on a membership basis.

Members attended from Scurry, Howard and Sterling counties.

Oct. 15 Last Day To Mail Packages For Service Men

Postmaster Nat Shick reminded Saturday that Friday, October 15th is the last day to mail Christmas packages to men in the army overseas, and Nov. 1st is the deadline for packages going to navy men overseas.

The postmaster reported that the response of Howard countians in mailing their packages early had been exceptionally good and from the number of gifts being sent, it would appear that no Howard county boy is going to be forgotten this Christmas.

The post office received such an abundance of mail that it was forced to get out extra racks, just as must be done during the December mailing rush, to take care of all the packages.

However, Shick urged that those with men in the army overseas not wait until the last day of the week to mail their packages. Any not yet mailed should be brought in the first part of the week.

He also urged that the size and weight limitations be remembered since the post office has no alternative but to turn down packages more than 36 inches in length and girth and weighing over five pounds.

Congress May Let The Immigration Gate Up For China

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Chinese republic is 32 years old tomorrow and congress seems ready to help celebrate the anniversary—although a little belatedly—by brushing off the welcome mat to greet 105 Chinese immigrants yearly.

The date is the anniversary of the day when Sun Yat-sen, began the revolution which overthrew the ancient Manchu dynasty and established the Chinese republic.

House leaders say they are eager to honor the milestone by knocking down the 61-year-old bars against Chinese immigration. This would permit 105 Chinese to enter the country yearly under immigration quotas and make Chinese eligible for citizenship.

A bill to this end is on the house calendar and may come up next week after the house votes on the pending soldiers' dependency bill. If passed, it still must win senate approval to become effective.

Limited Service Men Making Good In Basic Training

ATLANTA, Oct. 8, (AP)—Soldiers with little hope of ever facing the enemy have been given the chance they begged for—to "go out and shoot" anyway.

And they are making good as marksmen despite such handicaps as having only one eye, Lieut. Col. Stuart Lewis, chief of the fourth service command's unit training branch, announced as results of the first shooting tests given many soldiers were reported.

These men originally were accepted into the army for limited service. Until recently, Lewis explained, they have been too busy at their clerical, store-keeping and other administrative jobs to spare the time for the sort of training given combat troops.

They largely comprise the station complements regularly assigned to the various army posts and now are required to undergo the four-week's basic training mapped out for all officers and men.

The schedule, of course, includes marching, but is "tempered" for non-combatant personnel, Lewis added, only to the extent that flat feet and other physical defects demand.

Deats To Speak On VFW Program

Dr. C. W. Deats will speak Monday at 7:15 p. m. over KBST on the VFW ten point program for veteran welfare in handling post-war problems.

In answer to President Roosevelt's proposal for a six point veteran welfare program, the VFW intends to submit to congress its program for which it asks consideration.

The talk by Dr. Deats is the 35th in a series of "Speak up for Democracy" programs being broadcast here under auspices of Ray E. Fuller Post 2013.

According to Dr. Deats, the post war veteran welfare proposals advocated by the president include certain objectives which are already covered in legislation which was passed during the last session of congress.

The balance of the program is splendidly conceived but does no go far enough on anticipating the responsibilities which must be faced when approximately eleven million persons serving in the Armed forces are demobilized," said Dr. Deats.

Texas Turns Back Sooners In Thriller; Rice Swamped 33-0

Heavy Scoring Comes Within Two Minutes

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Oct. 9 (AP)—The wildest two minutes in Texas-Oklahoma football history produced a 63-yard pass play, thirteen points and a bushel of thrills for 18,500 fans today as Texas came from behind to beat the Sooners, 13-7.

It was Bobby Coy Lee, spindle-shanked Texas fullback, who got in the deciding punch to bring Texas its fourth straight triumph in the 43-year-old gridiron classic.

Oklahoma had just scored a touchdown and Bob Brumley had kicked the extra point to put the Sooners ahead. The clock showed less than a minute to go in the second period when the Longhorns took the kick-off and Lee came skipping back to the Texas 37-yard line.

The tow-headed, 160-pound fullback faded deep down the sidelines sprinted Ralph Ellsworth, a Texas trackman recruited in the manpower emergency to fill in the Texas backfield. Thirty yards from the Oklahoma goal line Ellsworth turned and took the throw. In came two Oklahoma backs. They both grabbed at the flying Longhorn. They got their arms around him but skidded off. Ellsworth ran like a scared rabbit straight for the goal posts.

Texas scored early in the first period on a great 37-yard run by Ralph Park, chunky tailback. Lee missed the goal but Texas led 6-0. Back came Oklahoma to roll to the Longhorn one-yard line just as the period ended. Derald Lebow headed the surge with his passing. But on the five-yard line the going got rough. Lebow made two at tackle and Brumley hit the same place twice but made only one yard each time. Brumley's next plunge met a mass of Longhorns and the ball went over.

But the Sooners kept hammering away. Finally Lee got off a short punt that carried only to the Longhorn 18. A penalty and an eight-yard run by Lebow carried to the Texas five and Lebow crunched over left tackle for a touchdown. Brumley added the point.

Then followed the pass play from Lee to Ellsworth that won the game. Texas kept Oklahoma bottled up most of the last half and only in the final minutes did the Sooners get a dangerous march under way.

Veteran Players Of Arkansas A & M Down Porkers 19 To 7

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 9 (AP)—Some familiar faces, most of which appeared in the University of Arkansas' starting lineup a year ago, and a sprinkling of veterans from other colleges, returned to Razorback stadium in the roll of naval-marine trainees from Arkansas A. and M. of Monticello today and overpowered the young Razorbacks, 19 to 12.

Paced by Charles Steed, line-smashing fullback from Arkansas Tech, and halfback Wayne Marshall, a former Razorback star, the experienced Bollweevils unleashed

Ohio State Holds Great Lakes To A 13-6 Victory

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Oct. 9 (AP)—Ohio State's audacious youngsters earned the reputation as one of the country's finest civilian football teams today by losing to the vaunted Great Lakes Bluejackets only 13-6 before a capacity crowd of 22,000 recruits at the naval training station's Ross Field stadium.

The sailors, chased all over the lot by the speedy Buckeyes during a scoreless first half, finally counted a touchdown in the third quarter as Steve Lach, formerly of Duke and the Chicago Cardinals, cruised 28 yards, and tallied again in the final period on a 45-yard gallop by Dewey Proctor, ex-Furman star.

On the second play of the final period, Gene Slough, a third string back, passed to Jack Dugger in the end zone for Ohio State's only score. John Stungis, a sub quarterback, took a divot on his try for the extra point.

Pitt Puts T To Work, Defeats W. Va. 20-0

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9 (AP)—Pitt's football team clicked with Clark Shaugnessy's popular "T" formation today to whip West Virginia, 20 to 0, for its first victory of the season. The Panthers counted twice in the last quarter on well executed plays after the Mountaineers had threatened to turn the game with a series of drives in the third. A crowd of 12,000 saw the game today.

a pulverizing ground onslaught which netted 299 yards. Steed, setting the pace with two touchdowns, brought blood after less than two minutes of play. Following the interception of an Arkansas forward pass, Steed powered over left tackle and sprinted 39 yards to cross the goal line standing up. Wilson Matthews, Arkansas' 1942 quarterback, added the point by placement.

The Porkers rallied to pull to within a point of A. and M. in the second quarter. Leon Fense, Arkansas' roving tackle, intercepted a shot from Jimmy Daniels on the A. and M. 27 and sold out for a touchdown. Jim Young's attempt for point by placement was partially blocked and wide.

Late in the second frame, Steed landed again for the marine trainees. Two plunges over left tackle, each for four yards, brought a six-pointer, after Steed had put the Bollweevils in scoring position on a 29-yard jaunt around his left end. Matthews' placement was wild.

A. and M. led the game late in the third quarter. Arkansas turned in its most unimpressive scoring threat, moving down to the Bollweevils' one-yard marker on passes from Ben Jones and Ewell Thompson to End Alton Baldwin. A 19-yarder, Jones to Baldwin, was ruled complete on the one as officials spotted interference on the part of A. and M.'s secondary.

The Weevils stiffened and set the Razorbacks back to the 12, where they took over on downs.

Steed cut off left tackle for 19 yards and a first down on A. and M.'s 31. On the next play Marshall, following deft downfield blocking, flashed through to the 50-yard line, fought off three Razorbacks and dashed the rest of the way to the goal unmolested. Matthews again failed to convert.

Cornell Tramples Princeton, 30-0

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 9 (AP)—Scoring three of their four touchdowns on long runs, Cornell's football team bounced back from last week's overwhelming defeat to whip Princeton, 30-0, before a crowd of 12,000 today. Howard Bloss ran 28 and 56 yards for two of the scores and Bill Maceyko made two more, one on a 69-yard run.

Defeat Worst For The Owls In 27 Years

HOUSTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Underrated Tulane smashed slow-moving Rice Institute into its worst defeat of their 37-year rivalry today, scoring in every period for an upset 33-0 intersectional victory.

That perfect combination of fast backs operating behind a hard-hitting line gave the Green Wave from New Orleans more than enough stuff to overrun the floundering Owls.

Statistics of the game told the story: Tulane's 18 first downs to Rice's five; 262 yards gained to Rice's net 23.

Among the many backs who shone for the Louisianians was a half-pint named James Shiver, 158 pounds, a Valdosta, Ga., boy who played freshman football for Auburn. He scored the first touchdown and was on hand for much of the later scoring.

Shiver started things rolling for Tulane by returning a 50-yard kick through most of the field to Rice's 16. He passed to Kenneth Tazotti on the two. Joe Renfro flopped to Shiver, who was over the goal waiting for the touchdown pass. Bill Jones, Tulane's steady star, made the kick.

In the second a lateral from Jones to Renfro got another touchdown for the Greenies and Jones again kicked true.

Next came Rice's only threat of the day, a threat halted at the three-yard line by a line under the dogged leadership of Buddy Gatewood, who was an all-Southwest conference center for Baylor university last year. Three passes, with Buck Sheffield pitching, put the ball there, but four tries at the line crumbled.

Late in the third Tulane struck again, Gatewood taking a Rice pass and running about 15 yards for another score. Leonard Finley missed the kick.

The fourth produced two more for the Wave, which was running around and through the game but giddy Owls like kids around a maypole. Alex Athas teamed with Shiver to power and pass the ball from midfield to a score. Shiver missed the kick, but it didn't matter.

Athas, Ed Pechon, Shiver and Bill Jones got rolling again, and from midfield another touchdown was achieved in about 10 plays. Shiver scored the touchdown and kicked the point. Soon the gun, mercifully for Rice, ended the game.

Dove Season Closes On 12th

Season for dove will close on Tuesday, October 12th, but the doves will scarcely notice the difference, so light a season it has been.

Hunters who formerly bagged their quota of dove each year were hindered this year by lack of shells. Unless they had some left over from last year, they were unable to do much shooting.

No license for dove hunting is needed if residents hunt only in Howard county, but licenses, time, and opportunity made little difference this year. Lack of ammunition, the only obstacle, proved enough of a hindrance to make dove hunting practically nonexistent.

Penn, Army, Purdue, USC Keep Up With Notre Dame

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Notre Dame continued its unblemished march along the unbeaten football trail today and with one of the best of all Irish eleven went Pennsylvania, Army, Navy, Purdue and Southern California in a nationwide program that saw a thinning of the undefeated ranks.

With Creighton Miller scoring two of the five Notre Dame touchdowns to match the performance of his father, Harry (Red) Miller, in the Irish's only other victory over Michigan in 11 games, the boys from South Bend romped to a 35-12 triumph.

In chalking up its third straight success, with Angelo Bertelli and Jim Mello joining Miller in taking the Wolverines apart, Notre Dame ran its points for the year to 131 as against 26 scored by Pittsburgh, Georgia Tech and Michigan. The defeat was Michigan's first after three one-sided triumphs.

Army, which tangles with Notre Dame in New York Nov. 6, kept its goal line unblemished by polishing up Temple 51 to 0. The Cadets now have counted 121 points while holding three opponents scoreless. The Army scored by almost every play in the books even to having the ball purposely downed on the one-inch line in the last quarter so as to try for a field goal.

Navy's power-laden squad scored a pair of touchdowns in the second period against Duke and then hung on for a 14 to 13 triumph before 56,000 spectators in Baltimore's stadium.

Purdue also remained in the unbeaten class with a 19-0 margin over Camp Grant while Southern California again showed it is the class of the west coast colleges by turning back the power-laden St. Mary's Pre-Flight eleven, 13 to 0.

Tulane handed Rice its worst defeat in a 27-year old rivalry, winning 33-0 while Texas defeated Oklahoma 13 to 7 in the outstanding southwest game. The big shots in the south were Georgia Tech with a 37-7 licking of North Carolina Pre-Flight; North Carolina, which beat Jacksonville Naval ATTC 23-0; V.M.I. with a 12-7 win over Clemson and Richmond, which turned back Virginia 16-7.

Navy Barely Nudges Duke; Score 14-13

BALTIMORE STADIUM, Oct. 9 (AP)—In a bitterly contested, rough and tumble battle Navy's Middies barely managed to drop Duke's Blue Devils from the undefeated class tonight, 14 to 13, as Bob Gantt, an expert place kicker, missed the tying point with two minutes left to play after the Durham eleven had rallied to push over a final touchdown.

All season long the great Blue Devil end, who has missed play because of a broken hand, had kicked extra points like a sharpshooter, his first conversion tonight making it 18 to 20 this year.

Then, with time running out and obviously neither of the tired teams able to score again, he substituted. Fifty-six thousand fans sat spellbound as the ball went back, the Navy line surged forward and Gantt booted. The ball sailed to the left of the uprights, and there went the ball game.

Wisconsin Upset By Fast Illinois Team

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 9 (AP)—A speedy, alert Illinois football team upset and outlasted a favored Wisconsin eleven 25 to 7 here today in a Western conference game before 17,000 fans. Coach Ray Eliot's fighting Illini, after a slow first period, scored twice in the second and third quarters. Wisconsin's counter came late in the final period.

Yanks Decide To Throw In A Southpaw

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Two southpaws, Max Lanier and Marius Russo, were named today to the pitching assignments for the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees tomorrow when the world series is resumed at Sportsman's Park.

Russo's selection by Manager Joe McCarthy surprised many of the observers who expect to be in the crowd of 34,000 at the fourth installment of baseball's annual classic and it surprised Manager Billy Southworth of the Cardinals, too.

Before the two teams worked out on the series scene today Southworth said he doubted very much that the Yankees would pitch a lefthander. Essentially the Cardinals are a righthanded hitting ball club and Russo has been bothered for two years by a sore arm which reduced his record this season to five victories and ten defeats.

But after Russo was named, Southworth declared, "That's okay with us. We don't care whom they pitch." He said there would be no change whatever in the St. Louis batting order, which includes three lefthanded batters, Stan Musial, Harry Walker and Ray Sanders.

McCarthy, reticent as ever, gave no explanation of his reason for choosing Russo, but it appeared that Spud Chandler needed another day of rest.

Russo, despite his record, has convinced McCarthy he has recovered from his arm ailment, which was caused by a sinus condition.

There was no similar question about the Cardinals opening with Lanier tomorrow, but some doubts about his effectiveness came up when word got around that the stocky southpaw was suffering from a cold.

However, Lanier said he left fine and was ready to go. At the park today Southworth turned his squad through an intensive workout which included everything in baseball.

After the Cardinals held a lengthy meeting in their clubhouse, the Yankees whipped through a routine hitting and field drill, dressed and returned to their hotel without any more ado than would occur at a spring training workout.

Irish Show Might Of Other Years In Beating Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Oct. 9 (AP)—Roaring to the heights reached by any of Notre Dame's greatest teams, the fighting Irish today battered Michigan's touted Wolverines, 35-12, for their worst defeat in six years before a record crowd of 86,000 at the vast Michigan stadium.

History was dramatically repeated as Creighton Miller streaked to two of five Irish touchdowns.

By JAKE DOUGLASS
Hello, bowling fans! Well, after a couple of years lay off, again we try our luck at writing news and views of bowling in Big Spring, and what with rationing of everything you can think of, we in the bowling fraternity will have to do our bowling at home instead of taking in all of the tournaments as we have done in the past.

To start the league off, that is the Classic League, we were surprised to note the size of the scores. The grand total of even fair games this last week was confined to the number two. Pete Howze and Mel Richards were successful in the initial matches of the season with 204 and 201 respectively. You would be surprised at the number of 120's and 137's that were fired. (Including yours truly). As for the team results, these were just about as expected because the first week was rolled from a scratch basis. Lester's raked Lee Hanson's, Safeway clipped the crew from Quartermasters, and the strong Enlisted Men's squad threw their block busters into the Headquarter Five. All three matches were decided three games to zero for their opponents.

Two other squads are to bowl their game sometime before Thursday, these will probably be a team from Ordinance and another group of 'clives' under the colors of Texas Electric Service Co.

Very soon there is to be a "Scratch", "Dog Eat Dog" league formed and will probably do their keeling on Monday night. This league will be made up of four teams of four players to each team. This "cutthroat" league should be very pretty to watch. We expect to see some really hot scoring, as some of the newcomers in Big Spring have already listed their names as participants. In checking the records, we find a few of these men have their name on several nationally known tournament result sheets and we are looking forward to these Monday night sessions with a great deal of interest. Any one else interested see Slick Wheeler before next Monday.

In the Classic League for next Tuesday, we find Headquarters vs. Ordinance, E. Men vs. Texas Electric, Lester's vs. Safeway, and Hanson's vs. Quartermaster.

Record Entry List For Senior Tourney
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 9 (AP)—Already assured of a record field of 112 entries, the seventh annual senior championship tournament of the Texas Golf association begins Tuesday at the San Antonio country club with the 18-hole qualifying round. Match play begins Wednesday. The title round is set for Saturday. All members of clubs belonging to the Texas Golf association who have passed their 49th year are eligible for the tourney.

R. H. Nix of Dallas will be trying to make it three straight after winning the title in 1941 and 1942. Favored along with Nix will be M. L. (Hap) Massingill of San Antonio, Clyde Cunningham of Houston, 1942 runner-up; Dr. S. D. Harris, Dallas, 1940 runner-up. Missing this year will be George Rotan of Houston, only two-time winner besides Nix. Rotan died in April.

to match the performance of his father, the immortal Harry (Red) Miller, in Notre Dame's only other win over Michigan in 11 games. That was 34 years ago in 1909 when the fighting Irish last invaded Ann Arbor.

Frank Leahy's "T" formation, sparked by Angelo Bertelli, Miller and stabbing Jim Mello, slashed the Wolverines to ribbons with the Irish scoring in all but an error-shortened fourth period. The closing quarter went seven minutes by agreement of the coaches after the time clock went awry in a 23-minute third quarter.

The Irish tallied once in the opening period and twice each in the second and third quarters, with Bertelli converting after all five scores to extend his place-kicking record to 14 out of 15.

Michigan's first touchdown came in the second period, the handwork of Big Bill Daley, who was a gallant figure even in the Wolverines' rout. The second Michigan score came on the last play of the game, a 13-yard pass from Elroy Hirsch to Capt. Paul White. Tackle Mervin Pregulman, with a previous record of 12 conversions in 13 tries, missed both point attempts.

Bertelli, the Irish sling-shot, made good on five of eight passes, covering 70 yards for a touchdown and another 31 yards to set up another score.

Nineteen officers had been entered late Saturday in the officers golf tournament of the Big Spring Bombardier school.

Play will be today under the direction of Lieut. Joe Salvo, director of physical training and tournament manager. Arrangements are in charge of Major Harry F. Wheeler and Lieut. John J. Auerbach, while Lieut. Al Escalante is handicapper, scorekeeper and judge.

In addition to the regular golf tournament, there will be a coincidental putting tourney. Handicaps in every case must be announced prior to play, which starts promptly at 9 a. m. Entered are these officers: Col. R. W. Warren, Maj. J. P. Rayzor, Capt. J. L. Duke and Lieuts. J. E. O'Bryan, H. Robertson, E. A. Fredrickson, C. E. Sparks, J. P. Cardon, J. W. Millsap, R. E. Nation, D. E. Camp, D. H. Appleton, R. E. Armstrong, J. S. Jackson, D. J. Cunningham, T. F. Valdespino, V. C. Burnett, R. C. Garrett and J. W. Merchant.

Every Odessan Aids In Trampling Steers 46-0

ODESSA, Oct. 9 (Sp) — The Bronchos of Odessa high school used every 100-pounder on the team in an unexpected 46-0 win over the Big Spring Steers here Friday evening, scoring once in the first, three times in the second, twice in the third and again in the final canto.

Just how much yardage Odessa piled up ran almost into astrological figures, for on touchdown drives and plays along the total yardage was 291.

Big Spring had barely stopped a couple of bumps against the line in the first when Bates spun through center and streaked 47 yards for a score. Barefoot Clark, who kicked four goals during the evening, hoofed the extra point.

Rocked hard by this development, the Steers held on and then capitalized on an Odessa fumble to carry to the Bronco seven-yard strips where Odessa held for downs. Presently, Odessa had taken over on its own 40-yard stripe where Reynolds rifled a flat zone pass to Cook, who sprinted down the side 60 yards to score. That lick broke the old Bovine's back.

With bewildering speed and ease, Odessa carried 39 yards in four plays with Bates going over. A few plays later Bates worked the spinner again and stepped through a cavernous hole that put him off to a start on a 55 yard jaunt which was hardly eventful, thanks to potent downfield blocking by Bronco backs.

The Steers came back out apparently settled by the half, but it wasn't long until the Horse medicine was working again. The Bronco got possession of the ball on the Big Spring 29. Steadily, the Odessa boys hammered it to the five yard line where it looked momentarily like the Steers would make a goal-line stand. Reynolds fixed that, rushing through a gaping hole to score standing up.

Quickly, Keely turned one of Barron's desperation passes into another Bronco touchdown, facing back from his guard position, intercepting the heave and dashing untouched to tally. Odessa powered it 46 yards with

Cook going over for the only fourth-quarter score. However, Odessa had a generous sprinkling of its reserves in by that time and some of the snap had gone out of the bull-whip offense. Nevertheless, Big Spring was so beaten down by that time that the Steers scarcely could go against the lightweights.

Throughout the game the Broncos moved with confidence, stalling every conceivable type of play the Steers could muster. Barron was rushed badly most of the time on his passing, and even when he wasn't, his receivers were covered perfectly. Odessa blocked two Steer punts and partially blocked another.

Long-Shot Entry Of Whitney Wins Champagne Stakes

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Lieut. Col. C. V. Whitney's Pukka Gin, a $16.40 for $2 shot, scrambled the puzzle of the nation's top two-year olds still further today when it won the 73rd running of the Champagne Stakes at Belmont Park.

A crowd of 34,209, tops for the meeting, saw the Whitney entry win by a length from Mrs. Dodge Sloane's long shot, Pressure, in defeating a field that included John Marsch's Occupy, Warren Wright's Pensive and other title aspirants. Pensive finished third, five lengths back of Pressure, while Occupy, the futurity specialist, was eased up last of the dozen starters. The time was 1:32 1-8.

Midland 0 2 0 .000

District 3-AA may not be far enough along in titular play to make accurate prophecies yet, but the favored San Angelo Bobcats and Sweetwater Mustangs had better keep an eye on the rampaging Odessa Bronchos.

The Odessans currently are at the top of the ladder, thanks to two games played, and both of them thumping victories. The Bronchos took Big Spring into camp Friday night by the overwhelming count of 46-0, just a week after they had blasted Lamesa 33-0.

Meanwhile, the Mustangs were starting off their league play with a resounding 33-18 triumph over Midland, which previously had been beaten by San Angelo.

Those were the only two league games of the week. On the inter-district fronts, the Angeloans were still looking impressive by blanking Plainview, 25-0; and Lamesa was getting trounced again, this time by Lubbock to the tune of 52-0.

Ablene had a non-conference game Saturday night with Brownwood.

Forsan Edged By Courtney In Six-Man Play

COURTNEY, Oct. 9—Forsan's Buffaloes, already pawing the dust for a title dash in district No. 6 six-man football league, were brought up in short order by the accurate kicking of Snodgrass here Friday afternoon, 20-18.

Although Forsan had the edge statistically, Courtney's Graham matched Harley Grant of Forsan with three touchdowns. Those extra points made the difference. Forsan had seven first downs to four for Courtney.

It was the first defeat for Forsan and the first win for Courtney. Starting for Forsan were Painter and Peacock, ends; Millikin, center; McDonald, Grant and Porter, backs. Patterson and Heard subbed. For Courtney, Cross and Clements were on end, Devenport at center, and Snodgrass, Strand and Graham in the backfield. Ledbetter, Crow, Hale, Bickley, Shoemaker and Alcorn substituted.

Next Friday Water Valley comes to Forsan in a game that will either put Forsan back in the running or ruin the Buffaloes chance. Garden City comes to Courtney and Sterling City will be idle.

TEN-PIN TALES
By JAKE DOUGLASS
Hello, bowling fans! Well, after a couple of years lay off, again we try our luck at writing news and views of bowling in Big Spring, and what with rationing of everything you can think of, we in the bowling fraternity will have to do our bowling at home instead of taking in all of the tournaments as we have done in the past.

To start the league off, that is the Classic League, we were surprised to note the size of the scores. The grand total of even fair games this last week was confined to the number two. Pete Howze and Mel Richards were successful in the initial matches of the season with 204 and 201 respectively. You would be surprised at the number of 120's and 137's that were fired. (Including yours truly). As for the team results, these were just about as expected because the first week was rolled from a scratch basis. Lester's raked Lee Hanson's, Safeway clipped the crew from Quartermasters, and the strong Enlisted Men's squad threw their block busters into the Headquarter Five. All three matches were decided three games to zero for their opponents.

Two other squads are to bowl their game sometime before Thursday, these will probably be a team from Ordinance and another group of 'clives' under the colors of Texas Electric Service Co.

Very soon there is to be a "Scratch", "Dog Eat Dog" league formed and will probably do their keeling on Monday night. This league will be made up of four teams of four players to each team. This "cutthroat" league should be very pretty to watch. We expect to see some really hot scoring, as some of the newcomers in Big Spring have already listed their names as participants. In checking the records, we find a few of these men have their name on several nationally known tournament result sheets and we are looking forward to these Monday night sessions with a great deal of interest. Any one else interested see Slick Wheeler before next Monday.

In the Classic League for next Tuesday, we find Headquarters vs. Ordinance, E. Men vs. Texas Electric, Lester's vs. Safeway, and Hanson's vs. Quartermaster.

Record Entry List For Senior Tourney
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 9 (AP)—Already assured of a record field of 112 entries, the seventh annual senior championship tournament of the Texas Golf association begins Tuesday at the San Antonio country club with the 18-hole qualifying round. Match play begins Wednesday. The title round is set for Saturday. All members of clubs belonging to the Texas Golf association who have passed their 49th year are eligible for the tourney.

R. H. Nix of Dallas will be trying to make it three straight after winning the title in 1941 and 1942. Favored along with Nix will be M. L. (Hap) Massingill of San Antonio, Clyde Cunningham of Houston, 1942 runner-up; Dr. S. D. Harris, Dallas, 1940 runner-up. Missing this year will be George Rotan of Houston, only two-time winner besides Nix. Rotan died in April.

Entered are these officers: Col. R. W. Warren, Maj. J. P. Rayzor, Capt. J. L. Duke and Lieuts. J. E. O'Bryan, H. Robertson, E. A. Fredrickson, C. E. Sparks, J. P. Cardon, J. W. Millsap, R. E. Nation, D. E. Camp, D. H. Appleton, R. E. Armstrong, J. S. Jackson, D. J. Cunningham, T. F. Valdespino, V. C. Burnett, R. C. Garrett and J. W. Merchant.

Problem: The girls little realized there's a right and wrong way of making a bed until they began their home nursing course this fall. Like rookies their first day in camp, the girls are taught to make beds properly, and before the semester is over, they will be able to change linens with a patient lying in bed. Pictured above are Josephine Carr (left), Jean Cannon (center), and Mrs. J. E. Pritchett, R.N., instructor. (Kelsey Photo).

No, this isn't a major operation, but merely a demonstration of the proper methods of bathing an infant. One of the major studies emphasized in the high school course is mother and infant care. Trying her hand at bathing the 'make believe' baby is Louise Ann Bennett, student, with the instructor, Mrs. D. A. Rockie, R.N. (Kelsey Photo).

Study: Even though the largest part of class periods are devoted to demonstrations and experiments, classes receive instruction from text books which are published by the American Red Cross. Students pictured above are representative of the 180 girls who are enrolled for the course. Instructors in uniform are Mrs. J. E. Pritchett, (left), and Mrs. D. A. Rockie, (right). (Kelsey Photo).

PROCLAMATION

TO THE CITIZENS OF BIG SPRING, TEXAS:

I hereby proclaim the week of October 10-16, 1943 National Business Women's Week, and urge our citizens to cooperate with the Business and Professional Women's Club of Big Spring in its local observance.

Woodmen Circle Has Meet At WOW Hall

The Woodmen Circle met at the WOW hall Friday for a regular semi-monthly business session presided over by Mrs. Altha Porter, president.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Carnike, Mrs. Ethel Clifton, Mrs. Ethel Eul, Mrs. Mable Hall, Mrs. Mattie Wren and Mrs. Anna Petefish.

MODERN ETIQUETTE

Q. What's the low down on a situation like this: I'm eating my meal, and along comes a woman acquaintance who also came into the place to eat. It's crowded, I invite her to sit down. Now, it gets too expensive for a poor working man to pick up her check when she's making as much or more than I. Does the man stand the pressure?

Yours for Relief

A. Now it has become less customary than it used to be for a gentleman to offer to pay for a lady's meal, especially when they meet by chance. On the other hand, if a lady you have met by chance insists on paying for her meal, it would be awkward for you to protest, and bad taste to press the point.

Mrs. Marvin Hull Honored At Party In Steward Home

Mrs. J. B. Steward and Mrs. H. L. Bohannon were co-hostess for a shower given in the Steward home Thursday afternoon honoring Mrs. Marvin Hull.

B. & P. W. Theme Is Commended By Thomas E. Dewey

Thomas E. Dewey, governor of New York, sent the following message to the National Federation characterizing National Business Women's Week as a happy and timely observance.

"May I offer my congratulations to the members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., and my very best wishes for the success of National Business Women's Week this year. Your theme, "Living on the Home Front" is both happy and timely, "That problem—"Living on the Home Front"—must fall largely and properly upon the shoulders of women. In this free Republic of ours women have always shouldered a large share of the burden and shouldered it with intelligence. In these war years their tasks must be necessarily ever greater.

"The intelligence, industry and patriotism of women have been an invaluable contribution to the efforts of the nation. When victory comes, and may that be soon, it will have been won not by the men but by the men and women of America."

Mrs. Austin Burch will leave Monday for Camp Davis, N. C., to join her husband who is attending officers' candidate school.

Everybody's getting busy

... Insulating

Installing storm windows and doors . . .

... Weatherstripping

The result is . . . a wave of "winter-conditioning" of homes which is bound to cut down the use of fuel and save money.

Many are having their homes insulated, installing storm windows and doors, weatherstripping against the coming vigors of winter.

Through reduction of heat losses you save money year after year. Look into these possibilities for your own home — today! See your contractor or dealer at once, and get set for winter.

Local building supply firms (or lumber yards) can supply you with material to insulate your home and help you SAVE HEAT. If you see your lumber dealer NOW you can make this improvement in your home before winter comes.

Oil Makes Up Our Gravest Problem

As an educative force three years of war can do more for a people than a hundred years of peace, delightful as peace is, terrible as war is, it strips away pretense, illusions, delusions and fancy thoughts. It makes us get right down on our bellies and think as we never thought before.

subject by its actions, official Washington doesn't realize it either. It hasn't actually doomed the oil industry to an early demise, certainly it hasn't done anything lately to save it from perdition. For as sure as God made little green apples, Washington's policy, or lack of policy, with respect to the production of oil has done more in the last few months to bring about the early decline and fall of this great industry than the factor of war itself.

Yes, indeed, the old prodigal days when Texas oil was a drug on the market are gone beyond recall. From here on out it will be the other way around—and how!

That the answer doesn't consist in letting outside capital drain away our oil resources—at its own price—and empty our earth's bowels of the precious fluid. We are quite sure we can't continue to let other states siphon off our oil and gas, to be processed and sold at whopping profits, without paying tribute to the state of Texas in the form of adequate taxes. We, as a state, have spent our heritage in riotous living, and it is time to call a halt.

Washington Daybook—

FD's Swing To The Right

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—Whatever else may be said about the appointment of Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., as Undersecretary of State (and much may be said, none of it bad) Washington political observers saw it as just one more step in the President's long swing to the right and another bit of settling the Democratic administration house in order before the 1944 elections.

Lehman to the President's personal staff, presumably for a stop-gap period, until he can be given possibly a world relief job; the naming of James F. Byrnes as war mobilization chief; Fred M. Vinson, as economic stabilizer, and Marvin Jones as war food administrator, are all part of the same tapestry.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds — Slapped Into Films

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—William Eythe is the only actor I know who got his ears slapped down, literally, as a prelude to crashing the movies. And he had already had them slapped down plenty, in the usual way, back in the days when he lived in Greenwich Village with a group of young intellectuals whose talk exalted the theater and its art and—"anybody who even mentioned the movies," he recalls, "got stared at. He was beyond the pale."

tion center at New York's Radio City where Bill once was a page boy. This was after he finished at Carnegie Tech, specializing in stage design but having acted in college plays, and had gone to New York to crash the theater.

Capital Comment — O'Daniel At Home As Chairman Of Senate

By GEORGE STIMPSON
Herald Staff Correspondent
Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, and Representative Charles M. LaFollette, of Indiana, are distantly related: their great grandfathers, who were French Huguenot descent, were brothers; both have the middle name Marston.

In the Wake of MURDER

Chapter 12
Jane felt like she had been drenched in ice water, but the moment passed. She saw Brad's hand seek his coat pocket.

In spite of that capitalistic background, if there is any delicacy of relationships with Russia, as has been hinted, Stettinius should be one of their first choices for a man in the State department to deal with.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

His break came in Oscar Serlin's production of "The Moon Is Down." In the play his Lieutenant Tonder is supposed to lapse into hysteria, and a German officer cuffs him on each cheek to snap him out of it. When the play tried out in Baltimore, the other actor misjudged his slap and the blow punctured Bill's left eardrum.

James M. North, editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, is one of the members of OWI's newspaper advisory committee which thinks the American people are now being adequately informed about the war.

The National Park Service has resumed its mule-drawn barge trips every Sunday on the lower stretch of the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

Mrs. Black stated flatly. "It isn't safe for you to gallivant around all over the country." Jane laughed. "Don't be silly, Aunt Ella," she remonstrated. "I haven't been alone in my 'gallivanting', as you call it. Brad's been with me."

Regardless of that, however, observers here see as most significant the fact that Stettinius is one more of the President's moves to gouge out the political sore spots and plug them with conservatives.

Folks Present $60 Pursue To Mailman
BELMONT, Mass. — Grateful families along his mail route pitched in to present letter-carrier Daniel H. Atwater with a purse of $60 when he was transferred to a new district.

Manpower Chief Paul McNutt now classes Dallas and Texas as areas in which there is now an acute labor shortage.

Jesse Jones thinks the good news from Europe does not mean that the war is nearing an end, "for there is much too going ahead. We have hardly set foot in Europe, and every step of the way to Berlin will be won at great cost.

Jane slipped out of her coat. She took Brad's overcoat and hat and hung them with the others on the halltree. "Shall I make some tea?" she asked sociably feeling the need of it herself. "There are cookies, too."

WEED-BURNER ISN'T NEW
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., U. P. — All this hullabaloo about a new method of killing weeds by fire rolled on wheels is old stuff to Charles H. Williams. He says that he invented a gadget 31 years ago that would burn weeds and leave crops. And Williams says he used the machine effectively in his 1943 Victory garden.

House Committee Checks Agencies On Paper Usage

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—A house sub-committee, checking into dwindling supplies of newsprint, asked the government's own agencies tonight: Why do you need so much paper for official reports, magazines and other publications?

Chairman Boren (D-Okla.) said the committee had sent letters to the heads of several departments asking them to justify their paper consumption. The action has prompted some reduction in paper use already, he said.

drink and listening. They rehashed it all, each of them telling things she had not heard before. Then they were talking about the crowd. People from far and near, they said. Yes, Jane thought, remembering the blonde woman. She wondered if Ed Black had seen her.

Brad poured himself a cup of tea finally and the talk strayed into more pleasant channels.

"Brad," Jane said after a bit, "Aunt Ella is insisting that I go home with her. I have refused at least a dozen times. What do you suggest, I tell her now? No—or no?" She laughed, trying to make Aunt Ella forget her fears.

"You're going, so don't argue about it, Janey." He was dead serious. "You should have gone before this."

The girl groaned. "Brad!" she scolded. "And I thought I could count on you!"

He grinned wryly. "Maybe that's why I want you to go," he said simply. "So you'll be safe."

The Black country home was a good ten miles from Centralia. Jane liked the drive in the winter time, for the cold enhanced rather than marred the beauty of the pine trees that crowded the road. They drove slowly now, windows rolled down so that the freshness of the pine-scented air would not be lost.

"I love it out here," Jane snuggled lower into the collar of her coat. "Perfect."

"Glad you came?"

Uncle Ed hadn't been talking much. Jane glanced at the cigar tip, glowing red in the darkness. "Uh-huh," she murmured.

Then they were home, in the big comfortable old house where she had spent so many happy days, and Aunt Ella was showing her to her room.

"I hope you sleep well, dear," Mrs. Black said after they had finished unpacking her suitcases. Jane smiled. She would, she always did out here, with the distant hum of the sawmill for her lullaby. The mill was whirling away now, turning out government orders. There was something comforting in the sound. Security and peace and promise of great things that lulled the fears of the last few days into diminishing molehills instead of the mountains they had been. Snapping out the light, Jane undressed in the darkness and crawled into bed. But not to sleep. She lay there, the night noises soothing her raw nerves.

Outside, the world was bathed in cold December moonlight. The pine trees reached for the stars, their branches black against the thinner darkness of the night. Beautiful, Jane thought. No artist could match that. Artists had tried—how many thousands of times?—but always something was lacking.

Jane smiled at her own thoughts. Uncle Ed would laugh at them if he knew. He held no truck with such idealistic ideas. They were so much poppycock in his world of front-page deadlines and printer's ink.

She turned over so she couldn't see the pine trees that marched almost to the house. Without them to watch, she might sleep. But they were still there, giant sentinels that guarded the world. Jane had no idea what aroused her or how long she had slept. She sat bolt upright in bed. Someone was crying, softly as though fearing discovery. Had she heard something else, too, or was she just so upset that the tiny sound had caused her to stir?

The sobbing went on. Reaching for her flannel bathrobe, Jane slid out of bed and tiptoed to the door.

Aunt Ella! Alarmed, Jane hurried down the hall. The door of her uncle's room was closed. Surely he, too, had heard.

"Aunt Ella?" Jane tapped on her door. "What is it?"

The crying ceased. "Go away, Jane. Go back to bed."

Jane opened the door. Her aunt was sitting on the side of the bed, a handkerchief pressed to her eyes.

"Please, dear, can I do something?"

The older woman shook her head. She flounced into bed and turned her face to the wall.

"Go back to bed," she ordered sharply.

Cotton Harvest One-Third Of Being Complete

Harvest of the 1943 cotton crop neared the 7,000 mark Friday as ginners estimated that around one-third of the yield was now gathered.

Estimates varied from two to three weeks on how much longer it would take pickers to gather the bulk of the crop if given fair weather. At any rate, it looked as if October would see most of the cotton baled and stored.

Approximated 2,000 bales were processed during the past week and so much of it went into the loan that some ginners withdrew entirely from the market. Prices ranged around 19 cents with some lower and one offering up as high as 21.04.

Recent rains, however, pulled grade down to middling, but as the sun came out, grade was looking up and staple was pulling 7-8 and 29-32. Seed prices were still at $54 according to government quotations.

Friday afternoon Big Spring gins had handled 3,371 bales, which should make the county show just a little short of 7,000. However, the rate of ginning over the county had been stepped up to 350 to 400 bales a day.
