hands on whether a bond issue should be considered, if all other fund-raising possibilities are exhausted. About half indicated that the bond issue should be considered, subject to a vote.

Wade Freeman asked how the bonds would be retired and it was explained that it would have to be a tax situation because there wouldn't be enough revenue from such a community center to retire the debt.

Mayor Reid said that he didn't intend to dissolve his committee and that he believes we can do this thing ourselves.

The mayor went on to discuss some other topics of capital improvement. He cited the 1966 Master Plan bought by the city which recommended several areas. Little publicity was given to the report because costs were so high. Several of the areas in the plan have been resolved: the city approved $2,000 toward a new sewer plant; a master plan is being mapped for the City Park; and the Jaycees built the City a first-rate airport.

PAVING

The mayor went on to discuss a massive paving program to curb gutter and pave every street in the city limits. This would have to be handled in an assessment program, he guessed, but the off-setting increase in property values would make such an extensive project worth while.

CHARTER CHANGES?

On changing the city charter: "We can't," he said, because the population has dropped too low, and the only way the city had annex is for residents to ask to be annexed and approved by the city.

SEWERAGE EXTENSION

He went on to suggest that a badly-needed project is providing sewerage service to every citizen, particularly in the north part of town where septic tanks are now being used. "It wouldn't be a gigantic undertaking," he said, "maybe a lift station and could be handled for some $20,000." He spoke in favor of extending city services through annexation westward along US 80, and southward on State 6, to the major Int. 20 interchanges to get that property within the city limits, to attract businesses to those new areas. Mrs. Boles said these firms won't consider building at such sites unless they can be within the city limits.

Mayor Reid said that a referendum election would be needed to find out how voters feel on each point offered.

BASSETT INTERCHANGE

Mrs. Boles further pointed out that failure to have an access ramp onto and off of Bassett St. was a serious mistake. It was generally agreed that efforts would be made to have the oversite corrected. Eastland has two interchanges and needs three. The Bassett St. interchange appears to most to be a natural.

Mrs. Gene Johnson, getting back to the civic center, recommended a new building, and discussion followed on the desirability of new over old construction, after which Ben Hamner suggested that it's just not wise to try to fix up old buildings.

Mr. Perkins spoke in favor of the old hospital site for a civic center and keeping the library in the women's club.

OLD SCHOOL SITE

Mrs. Horton guessed the Douglas school site would be ideal - possibly for a center and the library.

The matter of federal funds came up and it was generally agreed that these should be sought provided there weren't "ham-stringing" provisions attached. Funds are generally considered available for new construction only.

METRO-DIALING

Rev. Morris asked about metro-dialing and was told that citizens can probably expect this within six months, probably with a 35 cent rate increase.

Announcements will be made later on follow up dates and a period of several months, has resulted in the compilation of a list of names of LHS students, both boys and girls, who have tried or are using marijuana. Authorities commented: "the list is lengthy."

The infiltration of drugs into Lamesa High School was inevitable when basic school policies on dress, hair, behavior and other criteria of discipline necessary to sound schooling, met with such opposition from some parents that the rules and policies were relaxed by a split vote of school board members.

The relaxation of discipline allowed the fulfillment of a desire on the part of many to look like the opposite sex, to have an additional disregard for authority, modesty in dress, and to feel free to go to school as they desired - not what the school system desired. It is not surprising that we have reaped what was sown.

Several years ago the Senior leadership at Lamesa High School was challenged to put a system was looked at at the meeting. In the years to come the state is preparing a localized bookkeeping system that not only Eastland but all schools in Texas whether small or large will eventually have to go to.

A letter of resignation from Head Coach Shirley Frazier was read.

The board agreed to accept his resignation with reluctance but with best wishes.

The meeting was adjourned.

Play To Be Presented

The Junior class of Eastland High School would like to present "Finders Creepers" by Donald Payton and published by Hever Publishing Company. The play will be presented Friday, February 18th at 8:00 p.m. in the Eastland High School auditorium.

The play will be a mystery comedy and everyone is urged to attend. The tickets may be purchased at the door or from any member of the junior class. Prices are: Adults, $1.00 and students, 75 cents.

other plans and development. A citizen asked about the conditions of the county jail and was told that he'd need to talk to the county commissioners court on that.

Saul Pullman asked when the new sewer plant would be completed and it was explained that there have been site problems and the engineer has been out, having had surgery recently, but that steps should be taken soon.

halt to a serious and dangerous hazing problem that had grown into unreasonable proportions. The seniors of that era responded with all the love and concern that intelligent senior leadership must have for a school - and the problem was stopped. It has never arisen since. It was one of the most gratifying accomplishments ever for our high school youth.

Senior leadership at Lamesa High faces its most critical challenge ever this week. It can choose to turn its head, scoff at the tragedy of drug use it has allowed to permeate its student body and go on unresponsive to its responsibility as school leaders.

Or, it can accomplish what a group of seniors did several years ago by becoming responsible. The problem can be stopped, but only when seniors realize their position of leadership - and only when parents realize that God granted them a child to love and care for, and guide and discipline. Discipline has many forms - they all mean one thing: A parent cares and loves.

The hundreds of students at Lamesa High School who have a sense of responsibility, law enforcement authorities, and the entire citizenry of the community should stand ready to help those whose names are on the "list" to halt the habit before it's too late. The consequences of continued use are frightening.

For every boy and girl whose name is on the list, there are parents, who permitted the problem to exist - and perhaps unknowingly encouraged it with an indolent attitude toward some semblance of discipline in the home, or even a desire for the schools themselves to have authority to exercise such discipline.

A lot of parents have some soul-searching to do this week!

been pretty nice about that. But providing a convenient slot for permit holders (and others as details are worked out) would seem a mighty good idea.

those 29 parking tickets he's received in the last five months. Mr. Harris, a 27-year-old DA, has put up appearance bond and appears legally clean.

Nevertheless, there is something at least mildly disturbing about Mr. Harris's efforts, as reported in the newspapers, to rationalize or explain away violations not only of parking meter regulations but also of those having to do with fire hydrants, safety zones and bus stops.

Mr. Harris seems to excuse himself on the ground that he was tied up with county business - that he did not always have time to run out and put another nickel in the meter or move his car to another spot.

Very well. Thousands of people who work every day in downtown Fort Worth have exactly the same sort of problem. Their business is important, too - to themselves and to the community. But if they all took it upon themselves to use "important business" as an excuse to deposit their cars in fire and bus zones, we should soon have a pretty mess indeed.

Former Supreme Court

Associate Justice Tom C. Clark once told a Fort Worth audience that he held the law in such respect that on one occasion, after beginning a car trip covering only a few blocks, he turned back home to get his driver's license when he realized he had started off without it.

Mr. Justice Clark's point is quite simple - and quite important: Those entrusted with the administration of justice must never imagine the law as something which yields to personal convenience.

"I am not seeking a selected vote, but wish to be representative for all the people of the 54th district. I do not believe that there are any second class citizens in Texas."

Mr. Hetzel's most recent citation was a scroll from Headquarters Fifth Corps, APO New York 09075, and signed by Lt. Gen. G.R. Mather, which reads:

"This scroll of appreciation is awarded to Elmer V. (Jack) Hetzel for his untiring effort and services to the religious program throughout the V Corps Area. Through his unselfish dedication and his desire to be of service beyond those heavy commitments laid upon him by his denomination, he has greatly assisted the chaplains of V Corps in the performance of their mission. The Reverend Hetzel's contributions to the religious programs within V Corps Area, particularly during a period of a shortage of military chaplains, cannot be properly measured. He has truly, in the words of St. Paul, 'Fought the good fight and kept the faith'."

Music Club Hears Parade of American Music

Music Study Club of Eastland met Wednesday, February 2, at 3:30 p.m. in the Woman's Club for their annual Parade of American Music presenting Eastland Junior Musicians in a program of American music: Contemporary and Folk with Mrs. Donald L. Kinnaird, Sr. as leader.

Being Guest Day, guests and members were registered upon entering and shown to the Dream Tea Table done in Valentine Motif; a snowy white linen and lace cloth with a deep red carnation arrangement of flowers flanked by tall candles lighted and matching napkins. Mrs. Perkins served the Sweetheart Punch from a crystal bowl filled with the delicious punch with a large molded ice heart floating in it.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. C.L. Bigby, Eugene F. Williams, Mrs. E.G. Rice, Miss van Hoose.

Gives Discussion

The Rotary Club met Monday in the High School Auditorium with meeting called to order by president Saul Pullman.

President Pullman discussed the committee meeting on the new civic project and gave a report to the club on this. Pullman said that several areas were touched upon but the general feeling was that a new structure would be the answer.

Pullman also gave a report on Sledges dining room and the possibility of meeting there next Monday. He was going to check on this and let the members know by telephone before Monday as to the meeting place next Monday.

Mrs. Kinnaird read the quotation for the program - "The rise of America to first place in the world of music imposed upon us the mission of demonstrating the power of music in the shaping of a better world"

GIRL SCOUT Cookies

It's more than just a green dress, says Lona Millican, Darla Fay Elliott, Carla Elliott, Hjordist Dunn, and Linda Bakker. The Girl Scout uniform is a symbol of a way of life for over two million girls and adults. Their goal is to develop resourceful, happy citizens, willing to share their abilities and so to contribute to their community, and their country. Show your appreciation of this fine organization by purchasing a box of official Girl Scout cookies. Be glad when that happy "Girl in Green" calls at your door and know that you are getting full value for your money, too, because the cookies are delicious! Buy several boxes today! Photo by H.D. Alsup

Thursday is the opening day for the Annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale in Eastland. The girls will be knocking at your door after school. Each Girl Scout who sells 24 boxes of cookies will receive a Cookie Patch to be worn on her patch jacket. Those selling 48 boxes of cookies will earn a $5 campership to go toward the cost of attending Girl Scout Camp this summer. Troops, which meet their troop quota of selling 24 boxes per member will receive a Troop Award. The Eastland Girl Scouts are asked to sell at least 1,536 boxes of cookies this year. The local Scouts have gone over their quota in past and officials here are hoping to do so again this year. The Girl Scouts say: "All who have purchased cookies in the past know what fresh and delicious cookies the Scouts are offering, and we urge you to continue to support the local Girl Scouts." County String Quartette Gives Valentine Program The Eastland County String Quartet presented the musical portion of a Valentine program of the Thursday Afternoon Club of Eastland on Feb. 3, at the Woman's Club Building. Nancy Frost of Eastland, Violin; Winnifred Hitson of Cisco, Viola; Mildred Pickrell of Ranger, Violin; and Nettie Wilson of Eastland, Cello; were accompanied by pianist Durel Reid in "I'll See You Again", "Tea for Two", "Memory Lane", "Love Come Back to Me" and "Love Nest". This beautiful music provided the setting for the poem "I Gave My Heart Away" presented by Mrs. Iral Inzer.

Robert Page, Director of Choral Activities at Temple University in Philadelphia, will act as Conductor for the 1972 All State Choir.

Photo by H.D. Alsup throughout the United States and was conductor of MENC All Eastern Chorus in February, 1967.

Since 1956, Mr. Page has enjoyed a long and close association with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra and has appeared as guest conductor. A graduate of Abilene Christian College, Mr. Page received his Master of Music degree from Indiana University and has completed advance work for a PhD at New York University. He began his teaching career in 1948 at Odessa High School and, in 1950, taught one year at Odessa College before joining the faculty at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales. He remained at ENMU until joining the faculty at Temple University in 1956.

The Temple University Choirs, under Mr. Page's direction has recorded extensively on Columbia and RCA Victor labels with the Philadelphia Orchestra. They were featured on the best selling "The Glorious Sound of Christmas" and "A Christmas Festival". Beethoven's Symphony No. 9 was performed at the United Nations by the Temple University Choirs with the Philadelphia Orchestra. In 1962 during opening week of Lincoln Center, the Choirs and Orchestra performed Ravel's "Daphnis and Chloe". The Choirs' recording of Orff's "Catulli Carmina" with Mr. Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra received the Grammy Award in 1967. They were invited to participate in the American premiere of Penderick's "Utrenja" which was subsequently recorded in 1970.

In addition to the massed Temple University Choirs, Mr. Page also directs the Temple University Concert Choir, a select group of 60 - 70 voices, which appears through the East Coast and specializes in unusual repertoire. Many selections in the repertoire have had world premieres as well as Philadelphia and New York premieres with the group.

The free world premiere of Shostakovich's Symphony No. 13 was presented by the Mendelssohn Club of Philadelphia, an oratorio society of which Mr. Page is conductor. The work, recorded with the Philadelphia Orchestra for RCA, won the "Prix Mondial del Montreux" for 1970.

As a singer, Mr. Page has sung leading roles in more than 30 operas, light operas and musical comedies.

Mr. Page has a number of published choral compositions and arrangements to his credit.
