He was president of the Desdemona schools for 12 years, was manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company for 13 years, was employed with Texas Electric Service Company for 10 years and operated a Ford automobile agency there for 18 years. When asked about his grandchildren, he answered, like a typical grandfather, "I probably could tell you more about them than my own children". Grandchildren are Mike Miller, Tim January, Darrell Smith, Sherry Lynn January, Terry Smith and Richard Rushing January.

Mr. and Mrs. Rushing are active members of the First Baptist Church. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, KP Lodge, Lions Club, a member of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce and its Eastland New Car Dealers Association.

Lifelong RS Resident Dies; Rites Thursday

Milton Slayden, pastor of the Rising Star First Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in the Rising Star Cemetery.

Mr. Burkhead died at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday, August 19 in the Rising Star Hospital where he had been a patient 10 days. Born March 19, 1881 in Rising Star, he married Clara Jacobs there December 12, 1912. He was a retired stock farmer and had formerly operated a cafe there. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Juanita Clark of Lovington, N. M.; two sisters, Mrs. Maud Mauk and Mrs. Mabel Falls, both of Irving; and four grandchildren.

Physicals 'Must' For Junior High Football Boys

All Junior High School prospective football players for next season are urged to make an appointment with their family doctor for their physical examination as soon as possible, as this must be done before the first day of school, which will be September 1, according to an announcement by Coach Kenneth Norris.

University Interscholastic League physician's and parent's certificates for athletes are at the local doctor's offices.

The University Interscholastic League rules require this certificate for competition to be completed and filed with the school before a student may take part in athletics.

First-place Ward team members were not present on picture-taking night.

JP Wells Dalton Attends Meeting
Eastland Justice of the Peace Wells Dalton attended an FBI-sponsored law enforcement workshop in Abilene on civil rights and "The Fleeing Felon" at Lytle Shores clubhouse. The conference, one of several being held across North Texas, was attended by policemen, sheriff's officers, members of the Department of Public Safety and other lawmen.

Good Progress Reported After Mavs' First Week

The Eastland High School football team has been hard at work this past week with drills and scrimmage for the 1964 season. According to head coach Millard Glass the young team has desire and ability to go toward the goal of victory. Coach Glass reported that there are about forty boys out, with hopes of two more.

Coach Glass has been well pleased with the entire backfield. Jerry McCullough and Mickey Sargent have been doing a great running job the past week and will be likable starters for the season, the coach says.

Because of the lack of weight and experience, the line seems to be the weakest part of the Maverick squad.

Line hopefuls for this year include Charles Moon, a first year tryout, Fred Keith, a freshman, and Bill Boles, a junior.

Coach Glass reports that several boys have been proving they really want to play ball and these include, James Fullen, James Whitehead, Jay Daniels, and Bill Bass.

Glass commented that Comanche has lost several good players and are not real big, but are improving.

One fortunate thing that Coach Glass reports is the fact that there have been no injuries except for minor cuts and bruises. He hopes this continues for the sake of the team.

Coach Glass commented that he has some great Senior leaders which consist of Wayne Waldon, Garry Rollins, Gaylon Griffin, and Norman Rhodes, all of which are returning lettermen. Walden, Griffin and Rollins have been elected captains.

The offense for this year has been changed to an I-T which was made famous by Southern Cal. This offense has great possibilities because of the 36 different formations which can be run from it.

Because of the number of boys who have come out for football, Coach Glass has scheduled nine B team games on Saturday mornings. The reason for this is so every boy who does not play on Friday will get some experience from playing on Saturday. The Saturday morning games also benefit those who want to be out of town on Saturday nights or Sundays.

Several freshmen boys have come out, they include Bill Bass, Fred Keith, Jay Daniels, Boyd Porter, Alfonso Geato, Tommy Herrea, Ronnie Chick, Wade Thomas, Steve Lund, Bob Day, Rusty Herridge, Tony Lowrance, Larry Terrell, Wyn Boen, Philip Hunt and Rickey Manke.

Coach Glass says that he hopes all the Eastland people will back the Mavericks this season. He concluded by saying that he has enjoyed this week of practice and working with the boys more than ever before because of the cooperation.

High School Trio Injured in Crash

Three Eastland High School football players were injured in a two car accident Friday morning.

Gene Wilson, driver of a 1951 Chevrolet, was being held for observation at the Eastland Memorial Hospital, while the driver of a 1954 Ford, Tony Lisenbee was treated and released. Bill Bass, a passenger in the Wilson's car, was also treated and released.

The scene of the accident was at the intersection of Valley and South Connelley streets.

According to the investigating officer, R. D. Arnold, the cars were total losses.

Emergency Feed Assistance Request Okayed by State; Being Considered by USDA

The state disaster committee has passed on to Washington Eastland County's repeated request that it be designated a disaster area because of the drought for emergency feed assistance, it has been reported.

The county disaster committee re-filed the request immediately after having been denied the designation on the first request recently.

Both Eastland and Callahan counties have been referred to the Department of Agriculture for consideration under the special program, it is reported. At the time of the first request, the state committee told local officials that the program has not been approved for any Texas counties, and so apparently these two counties believed to be the hardest hit by the continued dry weather, are the only Texas counties under consideration.

However, several New Mexico counties are being considered by USDA, it is reported.

Official word will probably come from Washington as to the approval or disapproval.

This county participated in an emergency feed program winter, providing certain feed stuffs, delivered to ranchers and stockmen to use as feed because of the lack of grassland.

A program in which landowners are being permitted to graze soil-banked land in the county is now underway and is providing some needed relief, it is said. This program will run through October.

Grain sorghums and a limited amount of corn was made available last winter and the sorghums are expected again, if the request is approved.

BREAD of Life

Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.—Phil. 1:20.

The way is often cold and drear,
The burden hard to bear;
Still I press on that Christ may be;
In all things magnified in me.

The Fair, New York City Plus Liz and Burton To Boot

(ED. NOTE: This is the second article describing the Robertson's recent trip to the World's Fair)

BY MR. AND MRS. B. W. ROBERTSON

An authentic Danish Smorgasbord was enjoyed in the colorful Danish Garden Restaurant which was located near the Solar Fountain on the Avenue of Africa.

After dinner we were free to sample the evening excitement at the Fair or in the City. We joined two couples from San Antonio and visited the Empire State Building at 1 a.m. As the Empire State Building is 102 stories, it requires three elevators to reach the observation tower. The view was astounding, and there is no doubt that it is the only accessible one of its kind in the world.

From this vantage point we located the Fair Grounds, Times Square, the RCA, the Chrysler, The Woolworth Buildings and the new Pan-am Building which is literally built on air above the New York Central Railroad tracks leading into New York's famed railroad station. The Hudson and the East River were plainly visible from opposite sides of the Tower. By the time we reached the lower floor, we were so exhilarated that we strolled the 20 blocks to the Savoy Plaza, enjoying the night life.

On Friday morning, August 7, after a leisurely breakfast, we departed by motor coach for the pier, where we boarded the Circle Line Yacht for a three hour cruise which sailed completely around Manhattan Island. This proved to be one of the most delightful ways to see this fabulous city. Almost everybody knows something about New York City, but the fact that the City is almost entirely situated on islands is little known. Manhattan commonly called "New York", is only one of five boroughs which comprise the City, four of which, including Manhattan, are islands or are part of an island.

Local Pool To Close Today

The Eastland City Park swimming pool will be closed for the season, Sunday, August 23, (today) according to Lewis Tiner, city manager.

An average of approximately 75 persons per day made use of the pool since it opened the first week in June. Attendance at the pool showed an increase over last year, possibly because of so much dry, hot weather, Mr. Tiner said.

A learn-to-swim program was held at the pool in June and was sponsored by the City of Eastland and the American Red Cross.

Tarantulas have a very delicate sense of touch.

THE FAIR ...

First, heading south on the Hudson River which separates Manhattan from the State of New Jersey, the boat approached the Statue of Liberty. The copper of the statue has turned to a chalky pale green due to the oxidation of the salt air on the metal. The view of Manhattan shoreline was a majestic sight! The boat then rounded the tip of Manhattan Island, left the bay and sailed north on the East River, passing the boroughs of Brooklyn and Queens, both located on the western end of Long Island. The trip continued along Harlem River, skirting the Bronx, the only borough on the mainland. Through the Harlem Canal, the boat returned to the historic Hudson, sailing south on the final lap of our cruise, covering 35 miles around Manhattan Island. George Washington Bridge, which connects Manhattan with New Jersey, was the last of many bridges that we sailed beneath; a little red lighthouse under the bridge was saved by storms of sentiment so that today it stands as a beloved landmark under the great gray bridge.

That afternoon was one of leisure except for a brief shopping tour of Macy's and Saks, 34th Street. (We shopped wisely in order that we might visit Fifth Avenue on the final day of our excursion, Saturday, which to our chagrin was the Jewish Sabbath and no stores were open). Nevertheless, we taxied to the Hotel, and quickly dressed for dinner at Mamma Leone's, a colorful Italian Restaurant of unexcelled cuisine. Busy little waiters served eight or ten courses in true Italian style.

A leisurely stroll from Mamma's led us to the 46th Street Theatre where we enjoyed the Pulitzer Prize hit, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." There we had reserved orchestra seats res erve orch seats for the delightful musical satire. As we left the theatre, there were huge throngs of people standing on the sidewalks behind barricades; we immediately learned that they were waiting for Richard Burton and Liz Taylor to emerge from the theatre across the street where Richard was playing in "Hamlet." Our theatre crowd pushed out into the middle of the street, and the police pushed us back on the crowded curb. We waited one hour, and then the lights were completely extinguished on that street. The mob surged forward as the limousine drew near to pick up the celebrities. (It was remarkable that there were no injuries; we saw one man pinned across the hood of an automobile.) As time drew nearer for the appearance, four policemen mounted on huge black stallions, paced back and forth to try to deter the enthusiasm of the crowd. In almost utter darkness, Richard and Liz darted from the stage door entrance and hastily entered the waiting limousine. B. W. (who was standing on a trash barrel) saw Richard wave to the throngs; unfortunately, neither of us could glimpse Liz.

See that a brand new sign has been erected above Thurman Electric Co. in the 200 block of S. Seaman. Don't forget: season football ticket options can be picked up at the school office. If you don't think football season is near, ask Mr. Joe Stephens, the printing man. He's been covered up in football programs. The local rain gauge showed 30 of an inch Friday morning. Miss June Sharp, bookkeeper for the Telegram, reports from California that her trip out there included the hair-raising experience of a drive through a flash flood in Arizona.

BALPH BROTHERS (Continued from page One) earlier accounts, continued to plead their innocence — and the case against them was dropped. Earlier reports had it either that they plead guilty and paid $16.50 fines or that such fines were suspended. Late in the week the two and their attractive woman advance agent were still in Eastland trying to get some kind of permit to continue their eastward trip on the left side of the road, facing on-coming traffic. But the cart, a bicycle-tired hospital bed, is so large that if they push it on the left side, they won't be able to see on-coming traffic above it, according to them. It is equipped with rear-view mirrors and they can see behind them when traveling "with" the traffic, they say. An interpretation has it that they are pedestrians because the "device" they have with them is not self-propelled. There are at least two factors, about which the Balph Brothers knew nothing, but which affected their sojourn in Eastland County. One of the factors is that they were "almost" given the royal treatment and the other is that an incident happened here some time ago obviously to their treatment here. Telephone buzzed Monday first word of the case was whether the should meet, the duo as part of the view of the police. There was also the Chamber of Commerce naming the case of the week" and the grand treatment as part of the current project also. Neither of these materialized and men came to town. The incident took several months of them was that also walking on side of the road, front of a speed and had one leg in his body. ## Two 'Tom Sawyers' Attempt 'Travels of Charlie' On Bikes

By KAREN TAYLOR

With muscles, effort, will power and a pair of wheels, two young Yankees showed up in Eastland Monday to do their wash and see the sites. The improbable situation came about when two boys from Maryland bicycled in, midway through a cross-the-pation bike trip. Johnny Cardinal, 18, and Bill Brandenburg, 17, both of Oxon Hill, Maryland left home on two English racer bikes July 15th, and 19 days later pedaled into Eastland. Nine days from now they plan to meet Johnny's parents in San Bernadino, Calif.

The ride will be by automobile.

The duo decided shortly after their spring graduation from Oxon Hill High School, Md., to spend the summer biking across the United States. Their parents first thought they were crazy, but finally decided it might be work. Johnny's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cardinal of Oxon Hill agreed to meet the two boys in San Bernadino on a leg of their vacation trip. Bill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Brandenburg, also of Oxon Hill, agreed.

The boys bought two English racer bikes, 10-speed Raleighs, and left Oxon Hill July 15th with a month to pedal across the United States to California. They took several pairs of bermuda shorts, tee shirts, one pair of Levis, a pan and knife and fork, sleeping bags and water canteens, all of which they carried in Brooks Bags on their bicycles. But the main thing they packed away was a bundle of energy and plenty of determination. They have averaged 100 miles a day so far and the best traveling they have done was 120 miles one day.

The weather has grown increasingly hotter, and they plan to start sleeping during the day and biking at night in the cooler air. Average temperature in Maryland was 90 degrees, and they've run into plenty of weather much hotter than that so far, and are looking for worse in West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

The two boys, wiry, slender and with calves that are growing increasingly muscled during the trip, have run into very little trouble on their trip. The gear cable in Bill's bike has broken twice, but he watched it repaired the first time and was able to do it himself the second time — one example of the couple's ingenuity.

They ran into six days of steady rain in the eastern United States, but just kept right on pedaling. One boy said a day of rain right now might not be so bad after all the hot weather they have biked through. Eastland Countians would probably heartily agree.

They've had more good luck than bad, and found that people most everywhere are kind, warm-hearted, generous and understanding. A man in Columbia S. C. took them home with him fed them and gave them a bed to sleep in.

"A bed to sleep in might not sound like much to you" Bill said "but when you've grown accustomed to the ground it's really something."

A Roberta Ga. policeman directed them to a motel owner who gave them an air-conditioned room with television hot shower (which they more than appreciated) and breakfast before sending them on their way with a "few odds and ends to take with us."

A Mississippi man gave them breakfast on the house if they promised to send him a post card.

Coming South from their homes in the North the two boys found Southern hospitality very apparent as evidenced by the examples above. They say that their accents probably sound as strange to Southerners as ours do to them. But it's all part of the experience and they're enjoying every minute of it.

There are disadvantages all right. They both admitted to being a little homesick and they have a strange sensation of being "tired of but constantly moving." "It's kind of depressing having to stop in towns where there's no place for us" Bill said. Johnny admitted that the

To Sydney By 2 Routes

Alice Springs, Northern Territory
 By JOSEPH PERKINS

One of the pleasant memories of our stay in Melbourne was a trip to the botanical gardens, where we had tea under a Chinese Hawthorne tree. We found in the gardens that what we in the U. S. grow as shrubs are grown as tall trees there. Whenever we are in British territory we find the finest parks and gardens.

At Melbourne, Emily and I took different routes for a week, she on a seven days escorted bus tour through the snowy mountains to Canberra, the nation's capital, then to Sydney where we meet again for nine days prior to our sailing for San Francisco.

I left Melbourne in the early morning on the 'Golden Boomerang', a super Viscount of the Australian National Airways for Alice Springs, via Adelaide, the coastal city in South Australia, where the plane put down for half an hour.

Central Australia is one great desert. In fact, it occupies forty four per cent of the entire continent. The day was sunny and from a height of eighteen thousand feet the land below was most interesting to observe at three hundred miles per hour.

The distance from Adelaide to Alice Springs is over nine hundred miles and I watched the entire distance and did not see a single habitation! I did see the transcontinental highway connecting Adelaide with the northern part of Darwin and twice I saw trucks that appeared to be crawling along.

The land surface is far from level, and the reddish brown landscape is streaked with narrow dark sandstone ridges. Between these ridges there were dry watercourses along both sides of which were fringes of low trees.

This desert country averages to get ten inches of rain a year but in the last six years the rainfall has averaged only four inches. The desert is unusually dry and the many saline lakes are dry or partly dry, with salt glittering in the sun. There is no vegetation at these lakes.

Shortly after noon I arrived at the Alice Springs airport and soon was in the modern motel style hotel, a pleasant place with a central court where the popular swimming pool is shaded by great gum trees. This is my third day here and there is a constant coming and going of tourists because Alice Springs, in the center of Australia, is a great resort town and there is much to see in the surrounding country, including Avers Rock, Palm Valley, Glen Helen Gorge, and the Mac Donnell Ranges nearby.

Alice Springs is a town of about five thousand people plus the never ending flow of tourists who come by air, bus, private car or train.

Two trains a week arrive from Adelaide. Besides being a tourist center, Alice Springs is the distribution center for a vast area. Being the capital city of northern territory it is the administrative center for the many aborigine settlements which in general correspond to our Indian reservations. Also it is the headquarters of the Royal Flying Doctor Service, which gives medical aid to the sparse population at cattle stations over thousands of miles of territory.

Last night the train from Adelaide arrived, three hours late. It was a sixteen car train, mostly freight, but with several passenger coaches, first and second class sleeper and a lounge car for first class passengers as fine as any I have ever seen on any rail road. The first 157 miles from Adelaide is on a five foot three inch gauge track. The next 280 miles is a standard four foot eight inch, and the last 504 miles is on 3 foot 6 inch gauge. The 930 mile run takes thirty four hours and passengers have to change trains twice enroute.

At 8:15 this morning I watched the bus leave on its three day run north to Darwin 954 miles away over a paved highway. I carried fifteen passengers and pulled a trailer truck loaded with tons of mail. There are two overnight stops on this run.

I will say more about this interesting area in my next letter.

Here are several ways to put a bit of magic into muffins.

For surprise muffins, fill muffin cup one-third full of batter, drop in 1/2 teaspoon jelly and one-third more batter. From the outside it looks like any other muffin, but when broken open — it's already jellied.

Peanut butter muffins will delight the younger set — and use another food that is in abundant supply. Simply cut one-third cup peanut butter into 2 cups of muffin mix.

Cheese muffins have 1/2 cup grated cheese added to 2 cups of the mix. And you can have cinnamon star muffins by sprinkling the top with a mixture of cinnamon and sugar before baking.

If you've got wasps around your house or yard, you've got trouble.

Although these insects kill many destructive garden insects — as well as houseflies — they pack a terrific sting. Their very presence near your home calls for actions.

You can kill wasps by applying an insecticide spray or dust to their nests. Some suggestions are chlordane, dieldrin or DDT. These are available as concentrates and powders for mixing with water to form a spray or as dusts and oil solutions ready for use. Follow the instructions on the label for mixing and applying. Follow them exactly — for safety and effectiveness. Spray or dust at night when the wasps are less active and most of them are in their nests. Wasps that build their nests in the ground can be killed by pouring several spoonfuls of chloroform into the hole and plugging it.

REMEMBER! Most insecticides are toxic — keep them away from children, pets, food, water, and cooking utensils. Do not breathe spray mist or dust... wash all exposed skin areas after using... change clothing if you spill insecticide on it. Use chloroform only out of doors and avoid inhaling the fumes.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I will not be responsible for any debts other than made by me. I am not married and never have been. I am innocent of the accusation against me. P.F.C. Lonnie Joe Basham, U.S.M.C.

PUBLIC NOTICE

In as much as two property owners are threatening me except myself, who go across their land with the law, I am asking all who have loved ones in the cemetery on my land and all that have bought land from me to come to my house and sign a petition to have the county commissioners court to open a road on section lines that goes across the property in question. Everyone interested in seeing justice done, may also sign.

It's Almost Unbelievable —

... but statisticians tell us that we Americans go more places in our cars and trucks nowadays than ever before, with an increase of 30 million vehicles since 1954. Every extra mile is a hazard and the chance for another accident. So far 1964 promises to be the Big Daddy of them all! Since the driving public determines the insurance rates it must pay, higher rates are inevitable. Better begin revising your budget now to include the high cost of driving in modern '64.
