Marvin Gilliland, operator of the Gilliland Household Repair, displays some of the upholstery materials on which he is offering special discounts this month. Chairs in the foreground have been reupholstered in the Gilliland shop. There are more than 500 samples of material to choose from.

Gilliland Offers Fabric Bargains

Some exceptional bargains are being offered by Gilliland's Household Repair, located in western Big Spring at 121 Utah Road. Marvin Gilliland, operator of the furniture repair and renovation service, has announced two avenues whereby customers can effect substantial savings in upholstery work.

First, some upholstery material suppliers are giving Gilliland discounts of 10 to 50 per cent on some of the goods they furnish. Gilliland is passing this saving on to his customers.

In addition, the furniture repairman has announced that he will give a 15 per cent discount on any upholstery material purchased as a cash transaction during August.

Gilliland Household Repair has more than 500 samples of materials from which customers may choose in planning to have old furniture upholstered anew.

The concern has three highly-skilled upholstery workers to install the fabrics on any type of furniture. They are adept at repairing and refinishing furniture of all kinds.

Gilliland also has announced an installment plan for payment for work his concern does. Customers may have $50 to $500 worth of repair or renovation work performed with from four to 24 months in which to pay. No down payment is required.

Gilliland said he will trade for used furniture in connection with work performed on other items.

Another convenient feature of Gilliland's service is the pick up and delivery of furniture which is being refinished or given new upholstery. He will estimate the cost of any project in advance, with no obligation involved.

In addition to furniture work, Gilliland handles floor coverings and affords expert cabinet work. Inquiries concerning any of the services may be directed to Gilliland through telephone No. 3-2338.

Big NAA Ford Tractor Features Economy, Power

The powerful new 1934 NAA Ford tractor, which is now on display at Big Spring tractor company, is proving of tremendous interest to local farmers.

It is bigger, longer and heavier than last year's model and has more than ample power for the great majority of farming jobs.

Economy is an outstanding feature of the new tractor. Lloyd Wasson, company manager, explains that the big bore, low friction engine saves fuel, oil and upkeep expense. The tractor has the valve-in-head engine, and it also has live power lift.

It is Wasson's opinion that the Ford tractor is tops among those on the market today. He points out that it has considerably more horse power than the older models.

The 1934 model has more cooling capacity and larger fuel capacity. It also has a free flowing oil filter. Transmission and rear-end gears have 2 1/2-ton capacity, as compared with the 1 1/2-ton capacity on older models.

The new NAA Ford tractor can be viewed at Big Spring Tractor during all business hours. The company is located on the Lamesa Highway, and phone number is 4-6071.

Lloyd Wasson heads up the company staff, and Arthur L. Wasson is not connected with the firm as it was erroneously reported.

The Fordson Major Diesel tractor which starts on diesel is also in stock at the company. It can be viewed at the store, and demonstrations will be offered.

The Dearborn line of farm equipment has been greatly improved. As an example, the company now has new flexible mower blades in stock. These blades will not break when they come into contact with solid obstructions.

The complete line of implements includes everything for harvesting and dirt moving.

Grafas To Develop Residential Area

Office and warehouse facilities of the old Lovers' Lane Road. It is here that the Grafas are now crushing rock to be used in concrete sand, concrete gravel, highway mix and asphaltic mix.

Right now West Texas Sand and Gravel Company has six major highway jobs under way. This is in addition to the regular city work. All of these jobs should be completed within 90 days, it is estimated.

The company is furnishing ready mix concrete for bridges on 4th Street and for the curbing and gutter to be installed. Topping is being furnished for the W. O. Pelphrey Company for Highway 80 improvement in Martin and Midland County. And topping material is being provided Ernest Loyd for moved.

The ready-mix concrete plant will be modernized, Grafas said, and will be housed in a building to be located on 11th Place.

Most of the company facilities will be moved to the new plant about a mile east of Big Spring on State Highway 1212 in Martin County.

The other three major highway projects are in Glasscock County and Howard County, for both Highways 80 and 87. These three jobs are being done by Cagle Brothers, and West Texas is furnishing materials.

Grafas pointed out that moving of the company buildings in the Monticello Addition would have been completed some time ago if this season had not been so busy.

Since Jan. 1 — seven months — some 65,000 yards of material have been sold for various projects in this area. West Texas Sand and Gravel furnished material for Zachary Company paving in the city and for air base work.

The homes which are to be constructed in the Monticello Addition will range between $9,000 and $12,000. They will be sold immediately on completion of construction.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Mr. Hornbill toils well for his wife.

A certain bird thinks he knows a great deal about what is good for his mate. He is a hornbill and takes excellent care of her during the period when eggs are being hatched.

Birds differ in nesting customs. In some cases the males and females take turns hatching the eggs. In other cases the female does all the work. It is rare for the male to do more than half of the warming of the eggs.

Mr. Hornbill does plenty of work, but his toil comes largely before-hand. He fixes up the nest in a very special manner. He makes it proof against robbers, at least most kinds of robbers. Then he forgets all worries except one. His single worry is how to provide food.

Hornbills are birds of the tropics. They are found in India, Burma and some other countries in southern Asia. Africa also has many of them.

Hornbills like to live in the hollow trunks of trees. When a proper hollow is located, a nest is built inside. Then the female starts laying eggs, usually from two to four of them.

At this point, it is time for Mr. Hornbill to show his special skill. Getting a lump of mud in his big beak, he carries it to the opening and starts to build a wall.

As the hours go along, the wall grows higher. The female is walled in almost completely! Only a small opening is left for her to look out. She waits for her mate to bring her something to eat.

The opening is too small for the female to pass through. She is a prisoner of a sort during the period of egg-warming. Her mate brings her food, and all she has to do is to hatch those eggs. At the right time, she will help the male to break down the mud wall. Then she and her young will be free.

It is common for the male to wait until the young have feathers, instead of down, before destroying the wall.

You may ask why these birds take such trouble. The answer is that they are afraid of attacks from monkeys and tree lizards. Tomorrow: Ravens.

Roger (The Terrible) Touhy Out Of Penitentiary After 20 Years

CHICAGO (U.P.)—I'm just looking for peace of mind. . . No, I'm not thinking of revenge. . . When you've been in the penitentiary for as long as I have, you forget about revenge.

These were some of the comments yesterday of Roger (the Terrible) Touhy, one of the nation's top gang leaders in the Prohibition era, who had just won his freedom from prison.

The 55-year-old gray-haired Touhy, one-time arch gang foe of the late Al Capone, had served more than 20 years in Stateville Prison for a kidnaping which Federal Judge John P. Barnes termed a hoax.

Touhy was sentenced in 1934 to 99 years in prison for the kidnaping in 1933 of John Jake (the Barber) Factor, once internationally known confidence man. He received an additional 199 years for his part in his escape from prison with five other convicts in 1942.

But Judge Barnes ruled that Touhy had no part in the "alleged" kidnaping, which he said was a hoax engineered by Factor to forestall his extradition to England to face prosecution for a confidence game charge.

six years of a 10-year federal sentence for a million dollar whisky warehouse receipts fraud.

Judge Barnes, in granting Touhy a writ of habeas corpus, said the one-time beer baron's conviction was procured by perjured testimony. He said Circuit Judge Thomas A. Courtney, who was state's attorney at the time of Touhy's kidnaping trial, "must be held responsible for the actions of chief investigator Daniel A. Gilbert in causing perjured testimony to be presented to the jury that convicted Roger Touhy."

Touhy's lawyers contended that Al Capone's old crime syndicate got Factor to frame Touhy so Capone could seize various labor unions then dominated by Touhy.

The lawyers, in their original writ filed in 1948, charged Touhy's conviction resulted from a conspiracy between Factor and law enforcement officials.

Judge Barnes ruled that the state statute under which Touhy was sentenced to 199 years in the prison

DATE DATA

About Writing Letters And Meeting A Curfew

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Dear Miss Brandow: I have just returned from a three weeks' vacation during which I met a certain wonderful boy. Now I have been home a week and am wondering if I'm supposed to write him first.

Wondering

According to Miss Post, regardless of sex, the one who leaves is the one who writes first. According to Miss Brandow a lot depends upon whether he showed much interest in you during your three weeks' stay.

Better not stick your neck out and embarrass yourself by writing to a boy who might not like the idea of carrying on a correspondence with you.

Did you discuss writing to each other? Then write a short, gay letter, sprinkled with a few questions to provoke an answer. Then wait—forever if he does not answer.

Dear Miss Brandow: Last Friday I dated a boy who knew my curfew but refused to bring me home on time because he wanted to sit and drink cold drinks and talk instead. How can a girl handle this situation effectively without making the boy think of her as a baby?

Babs

It's hard when the boy is young, stubborn, and having a wonderful time. The older the boy, usually the more considerate he is, so you may hope that the future will solve the problem naturally and easily.

For now, you must be insistent. Put him on the defensive by making him feel like the baby.

For instance you can say, "Oh come on, I've got a curfew to meet. After all, this isn't your first date, is it?" Or, "Come on now. Take me home and quit acting like a boy on a first date. You're old enough to understand about curfews."

Your time limit won't bother him half as much if he thinks it doesn't bother you. Laugh and joke about it without complaining and tease him into being a gentleman.

If he's too stubborn, take a nickel from your purse and bluff your way toward the telephone saying, "If you won't be a suave date and escort m'lady home before her witching hour like a gentleman, I guess I'll call a taxi." This should wake him up. If not, make good your bluff.

Sale Of California Town Goes Quickly

LITTLE VALLEY, Calif. (U.P.)—Bidding on this little lumber town started yesterday with a bang—and there wasn't much left of the town's physical assets today.

More than 300 people bid on and bought the general store, the post office, lumber company administration building, school, tools, truck equipment and supplies.

The remainder of the town—80 houses—will be sold today.

The sawmill burned down here in April and the Indian Head Lumber Co. decided it would be easier to liquidate than rebuild.

Nobody Runs For State Office Without Some Financing Plans

Few people in Texas are naive enough to believe that a statewide political campaign can be staged on a "poor boy" basis. Rightly or wrongly, campaigning is big business, and it takes many, many thousands of dollars to get the message across. This is just as true of one candidate for a state office as another. So when one of them starts crying that the other side is spending all the wealth, and his own side doesn't have any, just don't believe him. It isn't so. The television and radio stations, the newspapers and the printers, all get their money. So do the public relations people, the office workers, the campaign staff assistants. Both Allan Shivers and Ralph Yarborough have these expenses. It would be silly to conclude that just one side makes all these expenditures, and the other doesn't. Both are on the radio, both are on television, both have used newspaper advertisements, both have printed material, both have assistants, both have to travel. The "poor boy" argument, regardless of who raises it, just doesn't hold water. It is a sort of demagoguery to shout that "my opponent is spending millions, I don't have a cent." Anybody with a grain of common sense knows this isn't true. If a seeker after a state office had no plans for financing, and if he didn't expect to have enough support to make a race, he wouldn't run. It's simple economics. And the man who is running is spending money. Don't let anybody tell you differently. One other way of looking at it is that if a fellow goes in the hole $50,000 in trying for a $12,000 per year office, he might not be such a good business man to be running your state government.

Everyone Shares In Sense Of Loss Over Death Of One Of The Quints

The Dionne quintuplets occupied a unique place in the affections of all sorts and conditions of people in every part of the world. Theirs had been a near-miraculous advent, for while multiple births are not uncommon and even quadruplets and quintuplets are not as rare as supposed, theirs had been the first quintuple group in modern history to survive. So the news that Emilie Dionne had died of a stroke brought out universal expressions of regret and sympathy for the family. Emilie had been the "independent" one of the five, inclined to strike out on her own, to show enterprise and initiative. The grief of the surviving quints and the rest of their family will be shared by millions of people throughout the world. Somehow the birth of the quints struck a responsive chord in the hearts of a world in the midst of a depression which had left little to glory over. It was a ray of sunshine in a cheerless world, a reminder that after all is said and done people, just people, are the most important objects in the world. The fierce efforts of the parents to shield the children from worldly distractions and the attentions of the merely curious was a stimulating part of the miraculous story of the quints. The skill and down-to-earth practicality of a country doctor whose a zealous, watchful care over the babies engaged the respect of the world, added to the heart-warming story of the Dionnes. Since then Argentina has given the world another set of quintuplets who survived, and whose existence was unknown to the outside world for several years, shielded by a family of wealth in contrast to the moderate circumstances of the Dionnes. Very wisely it seemed to us a paternal Canadian government stepped in and guarded the material awards that flowed to the Dionnes, a fact that came to be resented by the father, but was nevertheless helpful in protecting them against exploitation by outsiders.

Washington Calling—Marquis Childs Sentiment Grows For Return Of War-Confiscated German Assets

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two articles on Germany's economic rise since World War II. RONN, West Germany—Pressure to return the German assets confiscated at the end of World War II to the German people has not only come from the United States Congress, the British Parliament and from inside Germany itself. It also has come from a powerful lobby of lawyers and publicists with large sums to spend both in Germany and America. To America's wartime allies this plan to return the assets is disturbing because it upsets a plan carefully worked out by the Inter-Allied Reparations Agency and the War Claims Commission. Under that plan the assets were to be liquidated and the proceeds paid to those who had suffered direct losses by German attack. Thus, Norwegian shipowners were to be compensated out of German assets in Norway. The German government was in turn to compensate the German owners. This was to be in lieu of the kind of reparations assessed against Germany after World War I, which proved so disastrous in their consequences. A report of the Dirksen subcommittee to return German assets to Germans cited the Harry Dexter White case as evidence of a plot to destroy Germany. The White case conveniently served German propagandists, too. The Neue Illustrate picture magazine, with a half-million circulation, recently ran a highly publicized series under the title, "Those Who Wanted to Destroy Us," drawing on the White case as put out by Attorney General Herbert Brownell and claiming material direct from Senator Joseph R. McCarthy's files. McCarthy, incidentally, first gave German neo-Nazis a rich propaganda windfall when he charged American officers with beating and torturing German prisoners accused of massacring American G. I.s at the Battle of the Bulge. Congress, if the Dirksen bill passes, would have to appropriate about two hundred millions to replace the value of assets already liquidated. But of greater value would be the patents and trademarks that would be handed back to a few big firms such as I. G. Farbenindustrie, the chemical combine that before the war was the world's giant. Under the decartelization program Farben was broken up after the war into four separate companies. But this separation has been theoretical rather than real, since the four have closely coordinated their activities and in any event the decartelization restrictions expire in 1956. The extraordinary growth of the Farben firms, with invasion of new markets throughout the world, was shown in reports recently filed. One of the four Cassella Farberwerke showed an increase of 42 per cent in exports for the first half of this year as compared with 37 per cent in the first half of last year. For the third quarter of 1953 the index of production in the German chemical industry was 156—the norm is 100 in 1938—as against 128 a year earlier. Naturally, stocks of the Farben quintuplets are soaring and they will go even higher if and when Congress hand back such major assets as the General Aniline and Dye Corporation, with its board of patents and trademarks. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has approved the Dirksen bill on the ground that taking over the assets of private owners is contrary to American principles. He also said in a press conference statement that insofar as foreign policy was concerned he would have no hesitation in recommending the legislation. The pieces are falling into place more or less as they existed before the war. Perhaps that was inevitable from the beginning. But what some observers fear is that the hope of a pluralistic society—that is, a society with healthy conflicting forces that strike a democratic balance—will be frustrated again. The tendency is to suppress conflict, criticism, opposition. Former State Secretary Otto Lens had pushed a plan for a propaganda ministry, with severe penalties to be assessed against reporters and editors who did not publish the "truth," to an advance stage before he was compelled to put it aside. This may be merely symptomatic of a difficult transitional time. But the real test for the German republic both at home and abroad is still to come. It would be hard to find in history any parallel for a victory having gone so far to meet the desires and aspirations of a conquered nation. Yet, it may be that the very experience of American policymakers to placate the Germans has produced a reaction the opposite of that which was sought.

Memories

MATTOON, Ill. (AP)—LeRoy Parker, a former postman who last blew his whistle in 1926, is 92 and has a sharp memory. Since the day young Roy held his mother's hand while she wept after his father's safe return from the Civil War, Parker has been a sportsman, big game hunter, traveler and at one time a driver of a horse drawn streetcar in Chicago. He remembers the election of Gen. U. S. Grant over Horace Greeley in '72. He voted for Eisenhower in the fall of '52 and caught a string of fish off the Gulf of Biloxi, Miss., in the spring of '54.

Politicians Protest

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP)—A political office was open and not one politician even nibbled at it. Five St. Ignace attorneys made an agreement not to seek the office of Mackinac County prosecutor. It was their way of protesting the smallness of the $2,300 annual salary paid for the job—and that includes hiring a clerk.

Letting McCarthy Cross-Examine Again In Hearings May Mean Long Sessions

WASHINGTON (AP)—First reaction to the news that Sen. McCarthy will be allowed to cross-examine witnesses in the new Senate investigation of him may have been: "Here we go again." But it is too soon to say whether the new hearings, on charges of unbecoming official conduct against the Wisconsin Republican, will be a repetition of the recently finished Senate investigation into his fight with Army officials. Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the six-man Senate committee which will conduct these new hearings, said they will start Aug. 30. But his committee still has a lot of clarifying to do before the public knows what to expect. The committee, appointed last week, has already laid down a few rules for its investigation, but not a full set of rules. In the McCarthy-Army hearings, McCarthy was also given the privilege of cross-examining witnesses and he employed it in memorable fashion. Those hearings lasted for 38 days. Because the seven Senators who handled that investigation laid down such loose rules, McCarthy could interrupt them and the proceedings repeatedly with: "Point of order." McCarthy, the dominant figure throughout those hearings, was able to create diversions, such as with his call to government employees to provide him with secrets from the executive department. One of the charges of misconduct against him now is that call. Only this much is clear about the new hearings: 1. They will be open to the public and reporters from the press. 2. They will not be televised or broadcast on radio. 3. McCarthy may cross-examine witnesses. 4. Watkins said they will be conducted like a federal court trial. But it isn't known yet who will really handle the hearings: Watkins and the five other senators who handled their children because they were kind-hearted, and because it was part of their creed to respect any person's right to be an individual. "The Indian parent believed a child should be taught by example, not by coercion," a tribal leader said. "He felt that if he had taught the child the right way of life he had done his duty, and he was not to blame if the child chose to go wrong." This attitude has delayed the education of the Sioux Indians. If an Indian child decides he doesn't want to go to school, authorities have a difficult time convincing the parents they should compel him to attend. Valor played a great role in the credo of the old Sioux warriors of the plains. "Today many young Indian men feel the only way they can prove their valor is to join the Army or to get a job with a rodeo," said an official on the Ogala Sioux Reservation here. Some 500 Indians left the reservation to fight in the first World War, 2,000 in the second. They make particularly fine infantrymen, and their casualties were heavy. A number of the tribesmen also volunteered for action in Korea. Some 2,000 veterans now live on or near the reservation. Hot Summer Calls For Lot Of Power ST. LOUIS (AP)—It takes a lot of power to keep St. Louis cool. Union Electric Co. said today the cooling load imposed by air conditioners is about 100,000 kilowatts—or enough electricity to take care of the residential needs of Omaha, Neb. "We estimate there are 60,000 room-type air conditioning units on our lines at present," a spokesman said. "In 1950 there were only 5,400."

Progressive Education Isn't New For Indians

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (AP)—Progressive education may be a new idea to the white man, but it's old stuff to the Sioux Indians. And it's a matter of opinion whether it has worked out very well for either the redman or the paleface. Some modern parents today are afraid to curb their offspring for fear of giving them a lifelong complex. As for the Sioux Indians, they apparently refrained from punishing their children because they were kind-hearted, and because it was part of their creed to respect any person's right to be an individual. "The Indian parent believed a child should be taught by example, not by coercion," a tribal leader said. "He felt that if he had taught the child the right way of life he had done his duty, and he was not to blame if the child chose to go wrong." This attitude has delayed the education of the Sioux Indians. If an Indian child decides he doesn't want to go to school, authorities have a difficult time convincing the parents they should compel him to attend. Valor played a great role in the credo of the old Sioux warriors of the plains. "Today many young Indian men feel the only way they can prove their valor is to join the Army or to get a job with a rodeo," said an official on the Ogala Sioux Reservation here. Some 500 Indians left the reservation to fight in the first World War, 2,000 in the second. They make particularly fine infantrymen, and their casualties were heavy. A number of the tribesmen also volunteered for action in Korea. Some 2,000 veterans now live on or near the reservation.

Mama Cow Not So Dumb, When It Comes To Looking After Calf

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

Thoughts of one thing has a way of leading to thoughts of other things, far from being related. The first purebred bull I ever saw, for example, is in a way, like the first ice cream cone I ever saw. I can't remember when I first saw either one. I got to thinking about purebred bulls because of this hot weather, and thoughts of them came to me as a result of thinking back on the mixed-up crossbred cattle that were the only cattle I ever knew as a boy back there in the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma. As I best remember the first purebred bull I ever saw was a Shorthorn. Somebody brought a bunch of them into that free range country and turned them loose to mix and mingle on an equal social footing with all the other cows and bulls. When I first saw a purebred Whiteface bull, I can't recall, but I've seen plenty of spotted and mottled-faced ones. I'll never forget one in particular because he once turned over a pony I was riding and I thought my time had come. But back to what it was that brought all this about. One thing I distinctly remember about those old crossbred cows, still carrying plenty of Longhorn blood, was the fine qualities of motherhood they had. On days as hot as these we've been having recently, you'd find them grazing a patch of prairie, or along the edge of the woods, but there probably wouldn't be a calf in sight. They'd find a nice shady spot, as cool as the area provided, and they'd bed those calves down and leave them in as much comfort as possible, while they'd go out in the hot sun and eat the grass that gave them the substance to produce the milk that nourished the calf. If there was hot weather to be endured the mother cows took it, and did their best to spare their babies from it. Somehow or other I've never liked that expression "as dumb as an ox." Cattle ain't so dumb. Maybe they're just slow thinkers. And at any rate they're more humane, in some instances, than human beings, as I think I can prove. Take a walk around the downtown streets some hot Saturday afternoon, or almost any hot afternoon for that matter, and you'll soon see what I mean. Do you think one of those old spotted crossbred cows would fasten her calf up in an automobile and park it on the street with the temperature running around 100 degrees by the government thermometer, and no telling how hot in a car? That's what I mean when I say those old cows were a lot more humane than some humans. The practice of leaving little children, some of them just babies, in hot parked cars is becoming rather common. In fact it seems to have reached such proportions that the Legislature will likely have to do something about it to teach some parents as much humanity as seems to come instinctively to a common old crossbred cow. In the absence of a special statute it would seem that there must already be enough laws on the books, against cruelty to children and animals, to enable the officers to do something about asking the juvenile courts to step in and exercise a finer discretion than some people appear to be capable of using. Many ranchers hate to have their stock hauled this kind of weather because the heat is so hard on them. Most of them distinctly don't like the idea of a trucker stopping and parking his truck in the hot sunshine while it is loaded with stock. A few days ago in a talk with Everett Colborn, producer of the Big Spring rodeo he told me how reluctant he was to produce shows during July and August because the hot weather is so hard on stock, particularly horses. Human beings have run my respect for the motherly qualities of those old crossbred cows up much higher than it ever was before. Too bad some little children can't be turned into little calves for the duration of the hot spells. —FRANKLIN REYNOLDS

Radio Networks Should Have An Answer To Rep. Dies Testimony

In the 1952 campaign, the Democrats made a great deal to do about the one party press. Of course, there is no such thing in this country. American newspapers have been called all sorts of names from the "Uptown Daily Worker" to the "Wall Street Phrease," but the truth is not in such phrases. In fact, even inside the pages of each newspaper that is not strictly propagandistic, there are great differences in the presentation and interpretation of identical facts. What brings this up is the testimony of Rep. Martin Dies before the Jenner Committee. Dies is describing the hoax put over by some left wing reporters that Dr. J. B. Matthews testified before the old Dies Committee, nearly 20 years ago, that Shirley Temple was a Communist. Matthews did not say this. He had actually said that a message appeared in "Ce Soir" in Paris which bore many names, none of which is related to a Communist, and that among them was the name of Shirley Temple. Matthews had used that as an example of how the Communists abuse innocent people. Dies was incensed. And here is his story of what happened on radio: "Immediately I asked for time on the radio. NBC wouldn't let me have the time. They told me frankly they were afraid of executive influence. Columbia wouldn't let me have the time. . . . Then I got the time at Mutual, but Mutual weakened at the last moment and finally said to me, 'You have got to submit your manuscript because Michelson follows you on the radio, and he is speaking for the White House and the White House wants you to surrender your manuscript to Paul Anderson.' 'I said, 'I am not going to do it.' I said 'I have been attacked all over the country. I am entitled to go on the air and I am not going to submit the manuscript.' 'For a time it looked as though I would not be permitted to go on the air. Finally I did go on the air, and I just simply read the testimony, the transcript, to show the people that it (the Shirley Temple story) was not true.' The radio industry ought to take this testimony seriously because it is a direct accusation that radio connives at accepting censorship. Here is sworn testimony which is either true or Martin Dies has committed perjury. I was recently told that one of the most prominent nationwide commentators lost a great many local outlets because he "told the truth," as his friends put it, about the McCarthy hearings. Rightist commentators have difficulty finding sponsors, although rightist columnists have, in aggregate, more newspapers that the left wing columnists. If they do so well in the newspapers, why do they have so much trouble getting sponsors on radio? If Charles Michelson, who was Roosevelt's press agent, could require a radio network to submit a congressman's manuscript to an antagonistic newspaperman, is it possible that similar operations are in practice today? Does that explain the difficulties of right wing commentators on radio and television? They are regarded as controversial, but the left wingers are not controversial. How come? The other night, at an after midnight party, I listened to an explanation of how best-seller lists are manipulated to favor leftist authors. I resolved never again to look at a best seller list unless printed along each listing are the figures of total sales up-to-date. As a matter of fact, some of the books listed sell fewer copies than books that are only listed once or not at all. Who organizes these queer operations? Martin Dies's report of his experience with radio is similar to reports I have heard from other public men. Only two television companies were willing to show the whole, unedited McCarthy-Stevens hearings, the American Broadcasting Company and DuMont. The National Broadcasting Company gave only the Stevens testimony; Columbia gave no unedited version. The late-at-night edited version omitted what they did not want the people to see, on the firm ground that they had to cut out something, and they used their own judgment. That is an editorial prerogative and risk. It would be interesting to hear what the radio companies have to say about Martin Dies's sworn testimony.

Sorority Plays Foster Mother To New Baby

When a brand new baby has an entire sorority looking after his needs he can count himself lucky indeed.

Little eight-day-old Ruben Alonso Gutierrez is the foster baby of Alpha Chi chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

Before he was born the girls gathered a complete layette for him with the assistance of the chapters at Midland, Odessa and Fort Stockton.

But the little fellow is not so fortunate in other ways. His mother, Mrs. Caesar Gutierrez, is in Sanitorium near San Angelo. Little Ruben was born in San Angelo. But the day he came into the world he was whisked away from his mother and brought to Big Spring to live with his aunt, Beatrice Urice at 509 1/2 N. Douglas.

There are six other little Gutierrez children in Big Spring, who have to live away from their mother. Their father makes only $40 a week, so the help that the Epsilon Sigma Alpha girls have given is a real godsend.

The chapter here is planning to check on the future needs of the baby and do the best they can to supply them.

When Ruben gets a little older he'll know that fairy godmothers are not just a myth.

Look-Alikes

Girls and boys adopt the same campus outfits this fall: Bermuda shorts, knee socks, boys' shirts and boxy, knee-length gabardine coats.

Boys, Girls Dress Alike In Latest Campus Rage

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Fashion Editor

How are you going to tell the girls from the boys?

The new look-alike fad started this summer and is slated to sweep college and high school campuses this fall poses some problems for near-sighted teachers.

Not satisfied with adopting the man's shirt, schoolgirls this fall are borrowing most of the other casual fashions — Bermuda shorts, knee socks, sport-star coat and, in some instances even his haircut.

When a girl has a crew-cut and is attired in shorts, socks, shirt, shoes and coat just like her brother's, how is a teacher to know whether to call her Mary or Joan?

Top campus style for both boys and girls this fall is reported to be charcoal gray flannel Bermuda shorts, pink man-tailored shirts, knee socks either in matching gray or a contrasting color, and the short storm coat originally designed for men, now adopted by girls.

Universal choice in shoes to go with this outfit is the loafer or moccasin, for both boys and girls.

So far the only deviation in this look-alike fad is that girls prefer their knee socks in vivid colors or Argyle patterns, while men stick to dark socks to match their sweaters, which may be bright red, green or any of a range of pastels now offered by alert manufacturers.

The dress-alike craze, of course, holds good only for casual daytime occasions. For dances and dates the girls go back to their petticoats and high heels, earrings and perfume, and look as feminine as any old-fashioned beau could desire.

Then operator washed the zone with 500 gallons of mud acid and swabbed for 10 hours. The acid, residue, and 16 barrels of new oil were recovered. Operator is still swabbing to clean out the hole.

Then tests will be made in an attempt to complete. Pan-American No. 4 James, I 850 from north and 330 from east lines, 25-33-3n, T&P survey, reached 6,970 feet in lime and shale.

Rutherford No. 1 Sullivan, 467 from south and west lines, 10-25-H&TC survey, was having pipe set today.

Standford No. 1-A, F. H. Merworth, C NW NE, 22-32-2n, T&P survey, is a new location in the Luther Southeast field. It will be drilled to 10,300 feet, starting at once. Location is about 15 miles north of Big Spring.

Warren Petroleum Corporation and H. S. Moss No. 2 Ellis Iden, 1,320 from south and 330 from east lines, northeast quarter, 28-33-3n, T&P survey, is an Oceanic (Pennsylvania) project. It will be drilled to 8,500 feet as soon as location is approved. Location is some 19 miles northwest of Big Spring.

Duncan Drilling Company of Big Spring spotted its No. 8 W. B. Currie as another project in the Howard-Glassecock field. It is 990 from south and 2,312 from west lines, 12-33-2n, T&P survey. It will be drilled to 2,500 feet.

HOOVER

United States and went on to say: "All of the peace agencies we have created and all the conferences we have held have failed to find even a whisper of real peace."

He said he had disagreed with, and protested what he considered the most dangerous of American foreign policies during the 20 years in which Roosevelt and Truman were in office.

As an example, he recalled the summer of 1941 when Hitler's armies launched the attack on Russia. He said they should have been allowed to destroy each other.

"I urged that the gargantuan jest of all history would be our giving aid to the Soviet government," he said. "I urged we should allow those two dictators to exhaust each other. I stated that the result of our assistance would be to spread communism over the whole world."

He urged that if we stood aside the time would come when we could bring lasting peace to the world.

Hoover then told his audience: "I have no regrets. The consequences have proved that I was right."

Meanwhile, he said, communism was beginning to take hold in the United States. He declared, however:

"The rank and file of our people are immune from this infection. The recruiting grounds for their agents are from our minority of fuzzy-minded intellectuals and labor leaders."

He touched on the questions of the Fifth Amendment, the FBI and congressional committees in connection with exposing such people.

The former President said he is not afraid that the Communists can destroy America.

Greater concern, he said, should be reserved for the socialists, whom he listed among "the other varieties of the Karl Marx virus."

The net result of their programs, Hoover said, is to stultify freedoms, incentives, the courage, and the creative impulses of the people.

"Beyond all this, there is proof in the world that the end result of socialism can be bloody communism. They furnished the boarding ladders by which the Communists captured the ship of state."

He described as a "gimmick" the e r a d i c a t e philosophy which he said the socialists advocate and said:

"It is solely the initiative and the labor of the physically able in the prime of life that can support the aged, the young, the sick—and the bureaucracy."

"And this active earning group requires the pressures of competition, the rewards of enterprise and new adventures to keep it on the job. Even if security from the cradle to the grave could eliminate the risk of life, it would be a dead hand on the spirit of our people."

He said England under its previous "socialist government" was an object example.

Hoover talked sarcastically about what he said was another socialist preoccupation — "the common man."

He called this "a vote getting apparatus," another cousin of the Soviet proletariat — the negation of individual dignity and a slogan of mediocrity and uniformity.

"The humor of it is that when we get sick, we want an uncommon general or admiral. When we choose the president of a university, we want an uncommon educator."

"The imperative need of this nation at all times is the leadership of the uncommon men or women."

The former President closed on a strong note of optimism, his "We are not at the bedside of a nation in death agony," he said. "As the shadows lengthen over my years, my confidence, my hopes and dreams for my countrymen are undimmed."

Prior to his speech he first visited the three-room cottage where he was born, a tiny dwelling, gleaming with whitewash and shaded by ancient trees.

Hoover lived here until he was nearly six years old. His father was the village blacksmith, his mother a Quaker schoolteacher. Both died before he was 10, and he then went to live on a nearby farm with one of his uncles.

Two Men Are Hospitalized After Viaduct Car Crash

Two men were hospitalized Monday night following an automobile collision on the north side of the Gregg Street viaduct.

They were Raymond D. Acosta and Jose Reyes, both of Midland. Acosta was dismissed this morning after overnight observation, and Reyes is reportedly not in serious condition.

Both men were taken to Cowper Hospital in an Eberly-River ambulance after the car in which they were riding collided with another vehicle driven by L. E. Gates, 918 Ohio.

Six other accidents were reported to police between Monday noon and Tuesday morning. They apparently were no injuries, officers said.

Robert A. Marshall, Coahoma, and Jean Githreth Butler, 1411 W. 4th, were drivers of vehicles in collision at Third and Lancaster about 12:30 p. m. yesterday. And about 1:30 p. m. vehicles operated by Judson Lee Hanke, Duncan Drilling Company, and Joseph L. Hutchins, 1008 N. Gregg, were in an accident at Fifteenth and Settles.

Operators of cars involved in a minor accident at Seventh and Runnels about 4:25 p. m. Monday were L. G. Smith, 901 Runnels, and His Wyson Roberts, 606 Nolan.

Mrs. R. J. Rizzi, 1410 Johnson, told police that a car backed into her automobile about 6 p. m. while parked at the Jet Drive-In Restaurant on West Third. The other driver, who police were tracing this morning through his license number, used profanity and left the scene, she told officers.

Robert White, Webb, and Robert Lantz, 213 N. Gregg, were behind the steering wheels of cars in collision in the 500 block of Northwest Fourth about 8:30 p. m. yesterday.

Shortly after midnight this morning cars driven by Ruby Carter and Murphy Lee Daniels, 204 N. Nolan, were in an accident in the 1100 block of West Third. A minor accident was reported at Tenth and Gollad at 9:30 a. m. today and drivers were Cally Baker Mason, 1405 E. 15th, and Wanda Daylong Bailey, 207 E. 15th.

Equalization Meet To Start Thursday

Equalization board for the Big Spring Independent School District and the City of Big Spring will meet Thursday and Friday to set property valuations for 1954.

The meeting, which is open to the public, is slated in the commissioners' room at the City Hall. Sessions will be from 9 a. m. to noon and from 2 to 5 p. m. each day.

Notices have been sent to Big Spring property owners whose valuations appear to have changed during the year and to those who have not rendered their personal property.

The board will consist of George O'Brien Sr., Lawrence Robinson and Worth Peeler.

It appears that the property valuations here, will increase more than a million dollars. City Tax Collector C. E. Johnson Jr. estimates valuation in excess of 18 million this year, and last year's total was $16,949,210.

The tax roll will be prepared after the valuations are set and after the tax rate is determined. The city commission is slated to set a tax rate following the valuation hearing.

Two Stolen Autos Found Abandoned

Two vehicles reported stolen last Friday have been found abandoned in other Texas cities, police said this morning.

A 1949 Ford which Miss Edith Gay, Settles Hotel, reported stolen in the 400 block of Runnels was found in Big Lake. Officers said that the car is in running order.

Another car which R. P. Hess reported stolen was recovered in Tyler. Officers there reported it too is in running condition.

The cars were found abandoned, and no arrests were made, it was reported.

DO Students Asked To Confirm Plans

High school students who plan to take the diversified occupations course have been asked by J. B. Whiteley, coordinator, that they contact him promptly.

Whiteley will be at his office in the vocational building at high school from 9 a. m. to 12 noon daily, or he may be reached by telephone (4-4315).

Last spring there were 60 students who signed for the course. Whiteley said that it is most important that they contact him promptly in order that their plans for the work be confirmed. If they still plan to take the special vocational work, it will be necessary to line up any additional training stations.

In this connection, Whiteley asked that heads of businesses and shops who would be willing to help with trainees call his office.

Yarborough Due In Colorado City

COLORADO CITY—Ralph Yarborough, candidate for governor, will fly from Midland to Colorado City on Wednesday afternoon.

He is scheduled to speak at 3 p. m. from Colorado City's Civic House.

His talk here will be the first during this political season by either of the gubernatorial candidates. Mitchell County went heavily for Yarborough in the first primary.

The plane in which Yarborough will be a passenger will land at Deregibus Field, south of Colorado City. The candidate will be escorted to town by his supporters.

Plans call for him to fly to Post City and to ride in their parade of the Post Stampede.

Fire Occurs

Mendes-France Economic Plans Given Approval

By HARVEY HUDSON
PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly today approved by a massive majority Premier Pierre Mendes-France's economic and financial recovery program.

The deputies not only gave Mendes-France a new vote of confidence but also accorded him large special powers to deal with France's financial situation until March 31, 1955.

It was another victory for the premier who was given the premiership almost two months ago on a three-fold program of teaching a truce in Indochina, working out a compromise on EDG and giving France's economy a thorough going over.

The unofficial tally gave the vote as 362 to 90. The Communists, who had previously supported Mendes-France, voted against him today.

But he picked up the votes of many previously hostile members of the Popular Republican Movement.

A truce in Indochina has been achieved.

Mendes-France, in asking the vote of confidence on his financial program, told the Assembly members must be launched to awake a nation he described as "enveloped in a big sleep, dreaming of the past and having nightmares filled with fear about the future."

He sought the confidence vote to strike down a host of amendments deputies wanted to tack on his economic proposals.

Mendes-France declared the aim of his program is to restore the health of the French economy so that it can meet internal and external competition.

The premier said that 2 to 3 percent of the nation's economy is weighing down the entire economic structure. By taking firm action now, he asserted, an entirely new impetus could be given to the country's economy.

These are the general goals of Mendes-France's economic program.

1. Opening the way for more competition within France and lowering trade restrictions in Europe.

2. Re-converting enterprises with high production costs to other types of products.

3. Expanding industrial and agricultural production, at the same time finding new markets for the extra production.

4. Spurring housing construction.

Through all these measures, Mendes-France hopes to free France from dependence on United States aid and to raise the standard of living through expansion of the economy.

CAMPAIGN

he expected to get out of prison if Shivers is defeated.

Sapet, former San Antonio bartender, was convicted in the 1952 ambush slaying of Jacob S. (Buddy) Floyd Jr. Young Floyd, son of a political opponent of South Texas politico George Parr, was shot down in the driveway of his Alice home.

Sapet told a reporter he read in Monday's newspapers about an affidavit given by S. B. Parker, identified by prison officials as a vacation-relief steward, said in the affidavit Sapet told him "he did not expect to be in the penitentiary much longer; that all he needed to get out was for Governor Shivers to be defeated."

Sapet, interviewed in his cell, said Parker approached him and said: "I have read considerably about your case and in my opinion it was all politics."

Sapet said he replied, "I think so, sir."

"Sapet said Parker then said: 'Well, if Mr. Yarborough gets elected you might get a break.' Sapet said he replied, 'Well, I hope so.'"

Yarborough said at Houston Monday he was the victim of a "typical Shivers smear" in a charge he had made a deal with Farr in return for support in the run-off.

Lawrence Warburton Sr., president of the Duval County Good Government League, made the charge Sunday in an Austin press conference. Warburton showed reporters the affidavit signed by Parker.

Reached by telephone Monday, Parker confirmed he had made such an affidavit and confirmed that a paragraph read in him was from the affidavit. Parker said he did not remember the name of the person to whom he gave the affidavit but said, "I think he was with the attorney general's office."

Parker declined to go into circumstances of how he came to make the affidavit. Asked whether it was requested of him, he said: "You just let the affidavit speak for itself. I don't know much about that kind of business."

Asst. Atty. Gen. John Davenport said Monday at Austin Warburton had left the Parker affidavit in the attorney general's office and that it had then been sent to the Board of Pardons and Paroles. Asked whether the attorney general's office had obtained the affidavit displayed by Warburton, Davenport said he did not think so.

Absentee voting in the run-off began Monday. First-day turnout indicated high interest. At Houston, a record 430 votes were cast.

A women-for-Shivers rally is scheduled in Austin Friday. Mrs. Charles Dewall of Kilgory, chairman of the Texas Democratic Women for Shivers, said buses have been chartered to bring women from over the state.

Colorado City Council Asks Anti-Noise Ordinance Study

COLORADO CITY—The Colorado City Council at its Monday night meeting directed City Attorney John Worrell to study need for an anti-noise ordinance.

The action followed the complaint of Milton Bodzin, who asked the council to take action to eliminate juke boxes and outside speakers. Bodzin is a property owner on Chestnut Street near the Junior High School. V. J. Richardson, owner of a drive-in near the Bodzin home told the council that he had operated a juke box at the Dairy Frost, but had removed it and did not plan to use one again.

The Council also voted to get a recommendation from Freese and Nichols, Engineers, before awarding contract on a new pump for the City's filter plant. Byron Jackson and Company of Los Angeles offered the lowest of eight bids. The Los Angeles company bid $1,852.

The Council also: (1) Opened bids for a new 750-gallon per minute pumper for the fire department. The fire department and Councilmen Jeff Taylor and Trevor Crawford are to meet next week to study the bids and make a recommendation to the council.

(2) Voted to pay half of the paving costs for a parking strip in front of the Church of Christ, at a cost to the city of $378.25.

(3) Asked for bids for a new police car.

(4) Voted a resolution of respect and sympathy to Mrs. Alton Moore, whose husband died Sunday morning. Moore was a former member of the council.

Lemons Named Mitchell Justice

COLORADO CITY—G. C. Lemons, 60, a retired police officer, was appointed justice of the peace, Precinct No. 1, by Mitchell County commissioners Monday at their regular meeting.

He fills the vacancy caused by the death of W. J. Chesney last week and will take office immediately.

Lemons was a Denver police officer from 1925 until 1946 and has lived in Colorado City since June 1, 1953. He is the high priest of the Royal Arts Chapter of the Masonic Lodge. He owns his home in Colorado City and is married and has a son.

Rifle Fire Reported At Berlin's Borders

BERLIN (AP)—American officials reported separate, heavy outbursts of rifle fire today at the borders between the American and French sector borders of Berlin and the Soviet zone.

A spokesman said 10 to 15 shots were heard in the area where the U. S. sector meets East Germany and 10 or 15 shots at the French zonal border.

Cause of the firing was not established but such outbursts usually are fired by East German or Russian guards attempting to thwart escapes from the Soviet zone into the West.

BANK ROBBER

000 in equal thirds at Lake Marvin, near Canadian, Tex.

From there, he said, they drove to Roy, N.M., where their car burned out. While they were walking down the highway, Rine said, the city marshal picked them up and took them to a cafe where they ate breakfast. Rine said they had their guns in a suitcase at that time.

The marshal took their names but wasn't suspicious of them, Rine said.

They stayed about three hours at a motel, then got the owner to drive them to a small town 30 miles west of Roy. There Holland bought a car and they drove to Los Angeles, by way of Las Vegas, Nev.

"We went to a gambling hall in Las Vegas where Holland lost quite a bit of money," Rine said. "I gamed at the dice table for about two hours and lost about $60."

In California, he said, they threw three of the bank's marked money bags and two guns in the ocean, then separated. Rine bought a car and headed for San Francisco.

"When I left San Francisco and caught the plane, I wasn't trying to run away," he said. "I was trying to get back, but I guess I was taking the long way back."

Rine said he wanted to get back to his home without trouble and give himself up because he knew "my folks were worried and I wanted to be where I knew people."

In San Francisco, he said, he caught a plane to Seattle, then flew to Salt Lake City. From Salt Lake City he rode a freight train to Pueblo and hitch-hiked from there to Berger.

Rine said twice he had narrow escapes from officers—once at a road block near San Francisco and again at the Seattle air terminal.

Rine said he had not worked since leaving the service last February. He said it seemed he had lost most of his friends "since I had gotten a divorce before going into the service." He said he probably began "running around with the wrong crowd."

FBI agents interviewed Rine early today and he was placed in the Hutchinson County Jail in Stinet, pending transfer to Oklahoma City.

Both Holland and Spangler were under five-year suspended sentences for burglary of a Berger lumber yard in 1950.

A federal district court in San Francisco ordered both Holland and Spangler returned to Oklahoma City where they will face armed robbery charges in federal court. The men at present are en route to Oklahoma City in custody of a U. S. marshal staff.

Holland was arrested last Tuesday at Los Gatos, Calif., and Spangler a few hours later at Modesto, Calif. Their bond was set at $50,000.

Bond for Rine was to be set today at Amarillo.

Sen. Fulbright Willing To Drop Some Of Counts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said today he would not object to discarding some accusations against Sen. McCarthy so long as the Senate gets a chance to vote on whether the Wisconsin Republican has shown "disregard for the whole orderly conduct of government."

A six-member Senate committee decided yesterday to give McCarthy the right to cross-examine witnesses in public hearings to begin Aug. 30 on accusations that his conduct has tended to bring the Senate into disrepute and merits formal censure.

Members said the special group, headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), is aiming at a 10-day hearing and a mid-September report. The Senate might reconvene Oct. 1 to act on such a report.

Watkins said the group, composed of three Republicans and three Democrats, hopes to conduct its hearings much as a court trial, with evidence limited to that which the committee holds is relevant and most hearsay testimony barred.

Although some committee members have indicated they will vote against considering it, Fulbright said he is unwilling to drop a charge that McCarthy did not give "comparable value" for a $10,000 fee he received from Lustron Corp. for writing a housing pamphlet.

Watkins said either McCarthy or his attorney, but not both, will be permitted to cross-examine witnesses. But Watkins said the cross-examination must be directly on the direct testimony.

The Wisconsin senator has said he wants senators who have been critical of him, his Communist-hunting methods and his financial operations called as witnesses. Watkins said the committee will have to decide later what witnesses to call.

Off To Far Away Places

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Orme were to more than two score of friends who saw them off Monday afternoon to far away places. Orme, vice president in charge of traffic for Cosden, has completed 25 years of service with the company and the month-long vacation trip is a gift from the company. They plan to go up the West Coast to Vancouver, thence to Skagway and White Horse, back to Vancouver and over to Banff and Lake Louise before coming down to Calgary and then to Minneapolis, Minn., and on home. They went well armed for their journey—Mrs. Orme with an orchid, he with a cop of the Herald, and both with a bottle of West Texas sand to be taken in event of homesickness.

Knowland Says AEC Bill Decision 'Must'

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today the Senate will stay in session—no matter how long it takes—to approve a compromise version of President Eisenhower's new atomic energy blueprint.

The two-week Senate debate required before the bill was passed originally was the major factor in wrecking congressional leaders' hopes of adjourning July 31. They are aiming now for this Saturday.

The House passed by voice vote late yesterday a compromise version of the bill designed to spur the entrance of private industry into the field of peaceful atomic power, and to permit sharing of such nuclear secrets with U. S. allies.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, told newsmen he will not offer any adjournment-recess resolution until after the measure, worked out by a Senate-House conference committee, is passed.

"The bill is going to be passed," he said. "The Senate has voted 2-1 in favor of it and the conference report isn't going to be rejected. I don't know how much talk there will be on it. But we are going to stay here until it is passed."

Opponents who argue that some provisions of the bill would prove the way for monopoly in the atomic power field have said they regard as good the chances

Principals In Traffic Hassle

Superior Court Judge Samuel B. Epstein (right in picture at left), 64, helps his wife, Lottie, 58, down the steps at Henrotin Hospital in Chicago en route to another hospital for X-rays. Police said Mrs. Epstein got into a tangle with traffic policeman Jack Muller, right, Chicago's reputed champion ticket-writer. Muller, shown displaying a bruised lip, said the incident began when a car driven by Mrs. Epstein crossed an intersection "in the wrong lane." He told superiors that Mrs. Epstein "jumped out and smacked me right in the mouth." Mrs. Epstein told the police it isn't so. She's booked to appear in traffic court on Aug. 25 on the improper passing charge. She claims she got hit in the face by Muller. (AP Wire photo).

Three States Have Primaries Today; Delaware Demos Meet

By The Associated Press
A complicated series of primary contests in Nebraska—one a Senate race pitting Republican Gov. Robert B. Crosby against six opponents—tops party balloting in three states today.

Also on the slate are an Idaho primary, an Arkansas run-off and a Democratic convention in Delaware. These will determine:

1. Whether Idaho's "singing cowboy," former Sen. Glen Taylor, can resume a political career that faltered after he bolted the Democratic party in 1948 to run for vice president on the Progressive ticket.

2. Whether Arkansas Gov. Francis Cherry can win a second term in a Democratic run-off.

3. Whether Democratic Sen. J. Allen Frear Jr. of Delaware can win renomination over the opposition of some party leaders who contend he's too "conservative."

Though each state has only two Senators, Nebraska will name candidates for three Senate seats—a rare circumstance caused by the deaths earlier this year of GOP Senators Dwight Griswold and Hugh Butler.

The feature race is for the regular 6-year term starting next January, when Griswold's term would have expired. Gov. Crosby and Rep. Carl T. Curtis are in a field of seven seeking the GOP nomination.

Three Democrats are competing for their party's nomination to the 6-year term, though Nebraska normally is strongly Republican.

A total of 31 candidates—24 Republicans and 7 Democrats—are entered in the Senate contests. The present Nebraska senators, serving by appointment, are not seeking election.

The other Senate posts to be filled in November are for the last three months of Griswold's term.

Stablehand Held For Killing Man, Stroll With Wife
CHICAGO (U)—Sheriff's officers said a Washington Park stablehand stabbed a cab driver to death in the race track parking lot last night and then went for a stroll with the victim's wife.
Dead is Harry R. Andrews.
Captain Jack Johnson of the County sheriff's police said Jack Miller, 28-year-old stablehand, stabbed Andrews nine times with a three-inch-blade pocket knife as Andrews' wife, Mary, 41, watched. Johnson described Miller as being friendly with Mrs. Andrews. The officer said Andrews followed the couple into the parking lot of the South Side race track, pleading with his wife to return to him. As Andrews continued toward them, Johnson said, Miller took the knife out of his pocket and killed the taxi driver. Johnson quoted Miller as saying Andrews hit him first with a pop bottle. Then, Johnson said, Miller and Mrs. Andrews continued their walk. They were arrested on a street three blocks away.
Johnson said Miller admitted the stabbing. Miller and Mrs. Andrews were held without charge.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

Now that the rodeo is over I'm more determined than ever that some day I'm going to see a rodeo. I was there for every performance, but there's still a difference between "being at" a rodeo and "seeing" a rodeo.
Some day I hope to be able to again just sit down and watch one. It's like my Uncle Benton. He went to circuses for years and years. He'd even seen the old John Robinson shows lots of times when that circus traveled through the country in wagons. Then one day after Uncle Benton had gotten to be a pretty old man he startled the family by announcing that he had made up his mind that before he died he was going to see one circus from start to finish.

It made the family feel good to think that maybe he had reformed. He'd go to town to see a circus, and he'd always get there, but he never was able to see much of one because he always through a circus would look better through the bottom of a bottle or two that he had emptied of apple brandy.
Poor old Uncle Benton made that last try, but he had to pass on before he really saw a circus, but in his time he had seen lots of things far more outlandish than anything a circus could present.

I've attended a lot of rodeos but I can't recall one for many, many years at which I wasn't working, doing something or other—selling tickets, taking tickets, keeping times, feeding stock, working the chutes, reporting for a newspaper, or maybe trying my luck, or something else.
But the chances are that I'll be like my Uncle Benton and never really see one, top to bottom, start to finish. It's hard for a newspaperman to see a good rodeo and not take time out to make notes on what's going on.

I've always thought, and am now more firmly than ever convinced that Everett Colborn has the roughest bulls and the toughest steers in rodeo. The hardest ride I think I ever saw a rodeo cowboy take was on a Colborn bull at Dublin several years ago.

Colborn has always been regarded as having the best broncs in the game. I've never been able to draw a straight line of great difference between big broncs and the best in some other string, but when it comes to bulls and doggin' steers, I've never seen a producer with better stock.
Anybody who doesn't think the Colborn bulls are rough and will fight, should just ask Lawrence Davis and John Dublin, who battled a couple of them Saturday night in getting them penned after the show.

And where can a cowboy of any age find more beauty than in a combination of a beautiful girl, a beautiful horse and a beautiful performance.
Hats off to Carolyn and Omar,

The most beautiful vision in rodeo! Everett Colborn is also a man who wants the cowboys and the spectators to get the most out of a show.
Too many rodeo spectators, without ever knowing it, have been cheated out of a really good show by producers who use pickup men as "turn-back" men, stationed where they can turn the bucking stock back toward the chute instead of giving them a run up the arena. This saves the stock from pitching themselves out too fast, makes them last for more shows, and they don't burn up so much energy that must be replaced with expensive feed.

Colborn, on the other hand, is a producer who is willing for the cowboys to get all they can out of his bulls and broncs, while these bulls and broncs are getting all they can out of the cowboys.
His shows are a lot of fun. We hear he'll probably be back in Big Spring next year. We hope so.

communicated with General Mills at Kenedy concerning some Guar in this section, the leaves of which are turning yellow.
He says he has been advised by John Essar, manager of the Kenedy plant, that this definitely is not a disease but is probably due to the dry weather. Extremely dry soil has been known to produce this result.

At the same time Goodlett says it has been definitely determined that the cattle up on the High Plains that were reported to have died while grazing Guar most certainly did not die because of any kind of Guar poisoning but from some other source.
Guar, he points out, has been a standard for both the people and the cattle of India for many hundreds of years. Tests have proven it to be, in this country, one of the best possible forage feeds. It puts a finish on cattle that few other feeds can get on them.
However, West Texans are being discouraged from grazing Guar for two reasons. The first of these is seed production, and the second is to get the litter from the guar crop on the ground as a means of replacing some of the organic matter that has blown away.

Woman's Antiques Stolen; Man Held In Extortion Case

LOS ANGELES (U)—Mrs. Maude Christiansen's stolen antiques, which she values at $5,000, are still missing but police are holding a man who, they say, tried to capitalize on her loss.
Mrs. Christiansen said she got a phone call yesterday from a man who said:
"Meet me in the Pacific Electric station at 1 p.m. Wear a red rose so I'll know you. Bring $250 in a manila envelope and I'll tell you where your antiques are."
Mrs. Christiansen notified police and kept the date. Officers arrested a man who approached her and booked him on suspicion of extortion. They identified him as Joseph A. Swafford, 34, of Portland, Ore., an ex-convict, and quoted him as saying concerning the antiques:
"Now, I didn't take them. Haven't any idea who did. I just thought this might be a good way to pick up a fast $250."

LOS ANGELES (U)—A fatal charges of manslaughter and hit-run driving against former actress Lynne Baggett has been followed by three damage suits.
The latest, for $25,000, was filed yesterday by Joseph Silvers on behalf of his son Dennis Silvers, 10, a passenger in a vehicle which collided with the machine driven by Miss Baggett last July 7. Another passenger with Dennis, Joel Watnick, 9, was killed.
Earlier suits were filed by Mrs. Lillian Watnick, mother of the dead boy, for $20,000 and by Thomas J. Sanderson, 28, driver of the vehicle in which the youths were riding. Sanderson was joined by another passenger, John C. Beasley, 22, in asking $22,000 damages.
Miss Baggett is due in court Thursday to enter pleas on the charges.

GRANDDAD GOES ALONG Eisenhower Grandchildren Get Promised Boat Ride

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower had promised his grandchildren a boat ride.
Kids never forget a promise like that. So last night he took them on a 4½-hour cruise down the Potomac River to George Washington's historic home at Mount Vernon.
When the trip ended at 10 p.m., grinning grandfather Eisenhower led the three small and sleepy children ashore, looking every bit as though he had as much fun as they did.

Negro Designation On Ballot Attacked

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—A $200,000 lawsuit against the State Election Board was filed yesterday by a Negro lawyer attacking the required designation of Negroes on Oklahoma ballots.
The plaintiff, A. B. McDonald, was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator in the July 6 primary election won by Sen. Robert S. Kerr.
McDonald bases his suit on the word "Negro" placed after his name on ballots, and alleges the 1937 state legislative act providing such listing is unconstitutional and amounts to segregation in violation of federal law.

David, 6, had more spark left than his sisters. When the 64-foot Navy cabin cruiser pulled to the pier, David and the President were perched side by side on a deck cushion in the bow. They watched the mooring operation with interest.
The cruise got under way in the late afternoon in perfect weather after a torrential rain had threatened to wash it out.

On board in addition to the President and Mrs. Eisenhower and the children were the youngsters' parents, Maj. and Mrs. John S. Eisenhower, the First Lady's sister and her husband, Col. and Mrs. Gordon Moore, and the two Moore children, Mammie 13, and Ellen, 12. The party had dinner aboard.
The President promised the boat ride when his grandchildren arrived for a White House visit three weeks ago. They had been after him ever since to make good.

Cayuses Take Rest Tonight, Then Play 2

ROSWELL, N. M. (SC) — The Big Spring Broncos take a well-earned rest tonight, after having lost their fourth straight game here Monday night.

The Steeds and the Artesia Nomadexers have an off night. They will resume play on Wednesday with a doubleheader. The Roswell Rockets swept their two-game series with the Broncos, whipping the Steeds, 5-3, here Monday night behind the steady hitting of Ray Faust.

With the win the Rockets pulled a game and a half ahead of third place Carlsbad, clubbed, 13-3, by powerful Artesia last night. Big Spring jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Bob Doo slammed a triple to score Tony Martinez and Floyd Martin.

Roswell waited until the fourth inning to score enough to win, sending five runs across the plate to seal the decision against Bronco topper Mike Rainey.

Shortstop Ossie Alvarez was the batting hero for Roswell, ripping four hits in five trips for four RBI's. Rainey was chased in the seventh, Tom McKeena finishing up. The final Bronc run crossed in the ninth when McKeena doubled, Luis Caballero singled and Tony Martinez lofted a sacrifice fly to center.

Public Works Dept. Busy During July

The public works department of the City of Big Spring had another busy month during July, with street maintenance accounting for the bulk of work.

A total of 175 gutter blocks were hand swept in the business district, and 24 alley blocks were hand swept. There were 436 dirt street blocks bladed, and 84 dirt street blocks graded. Some 436 loads of water were used.

Loads of street sweeping hauled from the residential districts totaled 120. And the speedometer miles registered on the motor sweeper during the month hit 292. Four gutter steel brooms were built for the sweeper and eight straw brooms were constructed.

Forty-four loads of excess dirt were hauled from dirt streets, and 79 loads of caliche were hauled to the residential areas. There were 34 loads of soil hauled to city park, along with 210 sidewalk squares from the county courthouse.

The motor graders were used to grade 15 alley blocks, blade 140 alley blocks, fill 350 feet of wash-out ditch at Hamilton Airfield.

Fill 1,531 feet of sewer ditch, cut 600 feet of storm sewer ditch in west Big Spring, and clean 550 feet of storm sewer on Eleventh Place.

A total of 1,031 feet of six-inch sewer main was laid during the month, and 253 feet of four-inch service lines were relaid on East Fourth.

The City dumpground was once bladed and cleaned, as were the roads and lanes in the City Cemetery. The inside of the city jail was completely repainted, and 6,402 feet of four-inch stripes were repainted in city street. Fourteen iron drums were painted for garbage used at city park.

Records in Superintendent R. V. Forsyth's office also show that 678 loads of garbage were collected. There were 41 complaints filed concerning garbage service, the largest number being calls before the truck arrived.

Material used during the month included 16 yards of concrete. There were 120,300 pounds of rock asphalt unloaded at the city warehouse, along with 523 sacks of cement.

Some 2,100 gallons of DDT were used to spray residential districts in the fogging machine, and 25 gallons of six per cent insecticide were used to hand spray the city ground. Three concrete culverts were cleaned and opened, and five water detention dam inlets were cleaned (including weed cutting).

Seven brick manholes were constructed during July, and eight manholes were lowered and repaired. Four sewer taps were made on the main line at West Fourth and Jones Streets, and six service lines were set and repaired on the main line at the Fifth Street alley.

Pavement was covered with 17 loads of pea gravel during the month, four loads of rock powder were hauled to the residential areas, and two loads of concrete rock were hauled to the warehouse. Some 31 loads of special trash were hauled from the city warehouse.

Eight parking meters were reset in the business district, 36 traffic signs were placed, and 34 street sign standards were painted.

Installations included 33 feet of 16-inch pipe for a storm sewer intake at Fourth and Gollad, four concrete boxes for fireworks displays at city park, 132 feet of driveway aprons on Abrams Street, and one concrete driveway on Fifth Street.

Dogs and cats killed at the pound totaled 165. Another 206 dead dogs and cats were hauled from city streets, along with two dead rabbits.

Repairs on materials took quite a bit of time, with new handles going to seven hammer, six sledge hammer, 15 diamond pointed shovels, one wheel barrow, 39 regular shovels, a seed fork, and two hand tappers. Eighteen steel manhole steps were built, 180 steel pins were straightened, and 75 hand picks were sharpened.

IT HAPPENED

Eye For Clothes

CHARLOTTE, N.C.—A young girl made an on-the-spot recovery of stolen goods here in a crowded downtown store.

The young woman, who asked not to be identified, told police that last week she went swimming. She went home in her bathing suit when she found her clothes had been taken from a locker.

While shopping she spotted the clothes being worn by a teen-age girl. The girl admitted the theft. The young woman got her clothes back and the youth bureau a larceny case.

Proof Positive

PUEBLO, COLO.—John Rice of Penrose appeared at the Pueblo dog pound yesterday and asked for a watch dog "that would bite." He explained he was tired of marauders molesting his chickens.

The poundmaster selected a dog and asked Rice to watch him while he went out to unload a truck. When the poundmaster returned Rice's face and right ear were bleeding.

"That's the dog I want," said Rice.

A Minor Detail

BEDFORD, Va.—The crowning of Miss Mary Babb Venable as queen of Bedford County's bi-centennial celebration went off just fine here yesterday, except for one little thing.

Brig. Gen. William M. Stokes Jr., commander of the 80th Infantry Division, was to have done the honors at the coronation.

At the appointed moment, Stokes arose and looked to an assistant, expecting to be handed the crown.

The assistant looked blank.

The master of ceremonies, Charles Green, looked embarrassed.

What's In A Name?

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—Rumors spread rapidly in the West Virginia capital yesterday that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Roy Cohn were to stop over on a flight through Charleston.

After airlines officials confirmed that the names McCarthy and Cohn were on the passenger list, newspaper reporters and television cameramen hurried to the airport.

When the plane landed, they scrambled up the steps and searched out their quarry, only to find that another Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Cohn were traveling together bearing no resemblance to the Wisconsin senator and his associate.

Big Springer's Son Wins French Medal

Col. William L. Kennedy, who visited his mother, Mrs. R. L. Kennedy, and other relatives here Sunday, recently was presented the French Legion of Honor. He probably is the only American stationed in France to receive the medal since World War II.

Col. Kennedy received the honor during a farewell review at Laon Air Base, Laon, France, where he was commanding officer prior to returning to the states. He visited here while en route to Lackland Air Force Base, near San Antonio, and a new assignment.

He was made an officer in the Legion for his work in strengthening Franco-American friendship in the Laon region during his two years there. The Legion of Honor was established in 1802 by Napoleon.

Presentation of the medal was by Brig. Gen. Ernout de la Chevallere of the French forces.

Mrs. D. W. Conway of Big Spring is a sister of Col. Kennedy. Accompanying the officer here were his wife and two children.

Tree Crushes Man

PARSONSBURG, Md.—James Moore, 58, a woodsman, was killed yesterday when a tree he was cutting fell on him and crushed his skull.
