

U. S. Rests Its Case On Balkans Issue

America Will Study Possible Conciliation

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 4. (AP)—The United States rested its case in the controversial Balkans question today by telling the United Nations it would "explore" a French proposal of conciliation in the hotly-debated Balkan problem.

Herschel V. Johnson, U. S. delegate, made the closing American statement on this case before the 57-nation general assembly political committee. He declared that the U. S. would "explore" the French compromise which seeks to refrain from placing blame on Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria.

The American government has accused the three Soviet satellite nations of threatening the political integrity of Greece and has recommended that a special Balkan commission be established to settle the problem.

Johnson told the committee that the U. S. is interested in the proposal made yesterday by Premier Paul-Henri Spaak, of Belgium, who asked Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria whether they would accept such a commission provided that the "U.N. would render no verdict against them.

Johnson suggested that the committee ask the three Balkan nations to express their opinion on the French proposal.

The committee adjourned until Monday when Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky is expected to close Russia's case. Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian deputy prime minister and foreign minister, is listed as Monday's second speaker. Ten other nations are to be heard from before the committee starts detailed work on opposing U. S. and Russian proposals on the Balkans.

A trend toward adopting a conciliatory attitude in the Greek case rather than to place blame on any given party also was embodied in statements made today by delegates from Egypt and Colombia.

Reviewing The Big Spring - Week -

Joe Pickle

Perhaps some entomologist can explain how, in the absence of so much as half an inch moisture in a month and a half, we are plagued lately with an influx of mosquitoes. Have these pests acclimated themselves to propagate in the dust?

Certainly the War Assets Administration can't complain about results in the AAF building sale here last week. The total take was right at $100,000 for 183 structures, and bidding was red-hot all the way. Prices were up from what WAA had been getting.

City and county bastles are busy places these week ends, and you can expect it to continue in much the same pattern until the end of the year. The general run, plus celebrating harvest workers, accounts for the volume.

Like the old spring tonic, it was a bitter dose but it's good to get the Odessa gambit behind us. With a bit of experience and more speed, the Steers might have held the score down to proportions more representative of the actual tide of conflict.

You will want to read a story today about T&P carloadings and traffic during September. Loadings hit an all-time peak; incoming shipments were up sharply too. Approximately 1,300 cars daily course through the local yards.

The T&P is installing new 112-pound rail between Big Spring and Colorado City. Contrast this to the 30-pound rail on the road when it was laid first in 1883 through here. Some of this lightweight English-made rail is still in the rail line between Pecos and Balmorhea—and is practically indestructible.

The community is to be commended for its fine response to appeals for support of the high school Bible class fund. By Saturday contributions were still coming although the $1,500 goal had been exceeded by $139.50.

In case you have wondered, as we have wondered, timing has been changed on the traffic lights downtown. Instead of 22 seconds from green to green, the time has been retarded to 30 seconds, permitting a right turn on red and making the next green without gunning the car. Of course, it may strack up longer on the reds, but

IN TEXAS

Business Activity Reaches New Peak

AUSTIN, Oct. 4. (AP)—Texas business activity set a peacetime record for the second month in a row in August, and upward spiraling prices continued to be a disturbing factor, Dr. Robert W. French, director of the University of Texas bureau of business research said today.

Dr. French noted that August was the third successive month in which business advanced in Texas.

As summer closed out, business was well above the previous peacetime peak reached in February of this year, and activity was 8 per cent above the August 1946 level.

"There was nothing mysterious or uncertain about the factors back of the steady rise in Texas business activity since October, 1945, or the sudden spurt forward this summer," Dr. French observed.

These, he said, were the contributing factors:

- 1. A large, firm market for durable goods.
2. High industrial production and employment.
3. Increased agricultural production at high prices.
4. Steadily rising incomes of farmers and factory workers.
5. New enterprises.
6. Gradual expansion of credit with the relaxation of credit controls.

The August gain pushed business more than 100 percent above the prewar average.

"Most disturbing factor in the current business outlook is still the price situation," he continued. "Wholesale prices resumed their upward spiral in mid-July and have advanced for 10 consecutive weeks. They lifted the overall rise since May, 1946, to 40 percent and the gain in wholesale food prices to 56 percent.

"The advances in consumer prices have been smaller but no less disturbing."

Of the six indexes combined to make up the overall index of business activity, crude oil runs to still turned down fractionally and all other indexes were up in August.

The seasonally adjusted index of department and apparel store sales rose 5 percent, the electric power consumption index 4 percent, miscellaneous freight car-loadings 3 percent, and both employment and payrolls showed a July-to-August gain.

A decline in savings during August was indicative of the pinch of higher prices, and the sale of ordinary life insurance dropped 8 percent, while purchases of U. S. savings bonds slipped 19 percent.

MIDLAND, Oct. 4. (AP)—Midland voters today approved the issuance of $1,200,000 worth of bonds for water system improvements, sewer system extensions, drainage, paving and public buildings.

Not carried was a $125,000 proposal for park improvements.

Penthouse Bandit Steals $700,000 In Jewels From Wealthy Divorcee

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. (AP)—A bandit who threatened to shoot Mrs. Sari Gabor Hilton and her infant daughter today robbed the beautiful red-haired former "Miss Hungary," divorced wife of hotel magnate Conrad Hilton, of nearly three-quarters of a million dollars worth of jewels.

The holdup man, who forced his way into Mrs. Hilton's penthouse apartment at 8 East 83rd Street, just off Fifth Avenue, made off with 25 pieces of jewelry in what police said was one of the greatest jewel thefts in New York history.

Mrs. Hilton, who wore a dazzling display of diamond-studded jewels on a round of exclusive night spots last night, lost a diamond necklace, two diamond bracelets, a diamond engagement ring and a diamond wedding ring among the stolen jewels.

The bandit tied Mrs. Hilton, sister of Hungarian actress Eva Gabor, to a love seat and also trussed up her maid, Mrs. Lulu Barth, before fleeing.

Chief of Detectives George P. Mitchell who said the jewels were valued at between $600,000 and $700,000, said Mrs. Hilton was in her bedroom with her six-month-old daughter, Constance, when

Cotton Crop Should Top '46 Output

Gins Crowded With Heaviest Run Of Year

Current prospects indicate that Howard county cotton ginning figures will exceed total for the entire 1946 season within one more week if weather continues favorable for rapid harvest.

Gins were crowded again during the past week as the heaviest run of the year to date was marked up. Estimates were that at least 3,500 bales, and possibly more, were processed during the week, which advanced the season's total to approximately 8,000 bales.

By Saturday Big Spring gins had handled 3,625 bales, and although figures were not available from other gins in the county reports indicated that all were ginning steadily.

Some farmers still need picking crews, despite the fact good general progress has been made toward harvesting the crop on a county-wide basis. The cotton has opened rapidly, and the bulk of it is ready for picking now.

Average staple length of cotton ginned to date has not been outstanding, with most of it pulling seven-eighths.

A development which was encouraging to farmers was a 45 advance in the price for cottonseed. Big Spring quotation now is $90 a ton, as compared to $85 a ton a week ago.

The advance was particularly welcome in view of labor conditions and general costs of picking.

Hammond Will Speak At Farm Bureau Meet

J. Walter Hammond, state president, will be a featured speaker at a sub-district meeting of the Farm Bureau Federation to be held here Monday in the Settles hotel.

Representatives from nine counties are expected here for the session, which will precede a similar meeting scheduled for Tuesday at San Angelo for counties in the southern part of the district.

Attendance here Monday is expected from Fisher, Nolan, Scurry, Mitchell, Dawson, Martin, Midland, Glasscock and Howard counties.

C. H. DeVaney, state director, said that all farmers and their wives from this immediate area are being urged to hear Hammond's address. His topic will be the National Farm Program.

DeVaney said the Bureau is anxious to determine the type of national program farmers will favor in the present program expires in 1948.

Another important topic to be discussed is the possibilities for new rural road program in Texas.

Loys D. Barber, director of sales for the Farm Bureau insurance program in Texas is scheduled to take part on the day's program, and Rep. Sterling Williams of Sweetwater, will speak.

Austin Cornover, state bureau field representative, will outline plans for a state-wide fall membership campaign for the organization.

Italians Beat No Confidence Motions Twice

U. S. Renounces Its Share In Italian Fleet

ROME, Sunday, Oct. 5. (AP)—Leftists efforts to oust the Christian Democratic government of Premier Alcide De Gasperi failed in the constituent assembly early today with the defeat of two motions of no confidence and the withdrawal of a third.

The assembly beat down one non-confidence motion by 93 votes and a second by 47 votes.

The first motion was presented by Ex-Foreign Minister Pietro Nenni's pro-communist socialist. The vote was 178 for and 271 against. Sixty-three deputies abstained.

The second motion was offered by Giuseppe Saragat's moderate socialist labor party.

Before the voting started the present foreign minister, Carlo Sforza, brought the assembly to its feet cheering by announcing that the United States had renounced its share of the Italian fleet.

Even the communists reluctantly joined in the cheering. The prospective distribution of the fleet has been a bitter pill.

(American officials in Washington said the United States is renouncing title to an Italian battleship and other war vessels awarded under the Italian peace treaty. The Italians must scrap the warships which the U. S. renounces, although they can keep and use auxiliaries such as tugs and tankers.)

Bitterly Pietro Nenni, left-wing socialist who himself was foreign minister up to last January, upbraided Sforza, saying it was "very curious that Sforza makes this announcement today appealing to our patriotic sentiments, when the United States and Great Britain informed us of this four or five months ago."

Palmino Togliatto, communist chief, attacked the United States as a "warmongering nation," and was interrupted by a Christian Democrat who shouted, "you have rubles."

A dozen communists rushed forward and blows were exchanged with a Christian Democrat before order was restored.

De Gasperi concluded the debate by excluding any possibility of returning to a coalition government with communists and socialists, whom he threw out of his cabinet last May.

"I have lost all faith in the possibility of getting along with the leftists in the government," he declared.

He charted the communists with waging a continuous campaign of strike against his rule, asserting there had been 2,617 strikes in Italy since June.

A United States embassy official said it was not correct that the United States and Britain had decided to refuse their share of the ships "three or four months ago."

BY BREWERS' REPRESENTATIVES

Recommendation Set To End Use Of Wheat, Rice In Beer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (AP)—Representatives of the brewing industry today agreed to recommend to the nation's brewers an immediate stop to the use of wheat or table grade rice in beer, in furtherance of President Truman's aid-to-Europe program.

The representatives of the United States Brewer's Foundation and the Small Brewer's Committee, also agreed to recommend the release for food use of all stocks of wheat owned by the brewers or under contract to buy.

The latter stocks are estimated by the brewers' spokesman at over 200,000 bushels.

The action was announced at the White House. It was taken at the request of Charles Luckman, chairman of Mr. Truman's citizens food committee, and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, after a secret, six-hour conference today.

Anderson estimated that the industry uses upwards of 10,000,000 bushels of wheat annually.

The dozen brewers' representatives present "unanimously pledged their respective companies 'to the conservation program,' the White House announcement said.

As to the effect on quality and flavor of beer, the brewers were sparing of comment. One told a reporter: "Some companies use wheat in their beer, and some don't." Another said: "It's a matter of individual preference and taste."

Luckman, in the official statement, said that while the wheat stocks held by brewers on contract for by them are "comparatively small," today's decision will be "a contribution to the conservation program." He called it a constructive step also to eliminate the use of grades of rice which are suitable for table use.

Nothing also that the brewers' spokesmen have promised additional steps to eliminate waste and to increase the recovery of high-protein and yeast by-products which are useful for feeding dairy cattle and poultry, Luckman declared his belief that more can still be done.

Without saying whether the committee had tried to persuade the brewers to curtail their use of corn, his statement added: "The brewers use substantial quantities of corn in addition to the barley that is principally used in the making of beer."

Two Confident In House Speaker Race

AUSTIN, Oct. 4. (AP)—At least two of the half dozen or so candidates for speaker of the House of the 51st legislature were breathing confidence here today.

They were Reps. Joe Kilgore of McAllen and Doyle Willis of Fort Worth. Kilgore was host at a lunch for House members at a downtown hotel today.

Kilgore said his campaign was making good progress and that his backers plan a person-to-person canvass of House members.

"I don't want to overestimate my strength at this stage in the campaign," Kilgore said, "but it looks good."

Willis claimed he has 51 signed pledges of support. He was flatly predicting a victory.

Overell Case Decision Seen

SANTA ANA, Calif., Oct. 4. (AP)—The jury trying Louise Overell and George (Bud) Gollum for the murder of her parents advised Judge Kenneth Morrison tonight that it stood numerically 11 to 1, without disclosing whether the vote was for conviction or acquittal.

Jay Porter, Orange, Calif., foreman of the jury, informed the court he believed the jury could reach a verdict.

The jury was summoned to the courtroom at 8:30 p. m. (CST) by Judge Morrison after it had been deliberating for almost 26 hours.

"Mr. Porter," Judge Morrison said, "I should like to ask you a few questions and I would like you to answer without divulging secrets that belong to the jury alone. Please tell me what the vote of the jury is numerically in the case of Mr. Gollum?"

"Well, Your Honor," Porter replied, "We have been considering the cases."

At this point the court admonished Porter against any discussion of whether the jury was considering the case of Gollum and Louise jointly.

Porter explained, however, that the vote was 11 to 1, also in the case of Miss Overell.

"Do you believe you will be able to reach a verdict?" asked the jurist.

"We hope so," answered the Foreman.

Little Action Is Seen On Rice Price Violations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (AP)—Rice growers charged with violating OPA price regulations prior to the death of that government agency, have been obliquely assured that the government will take no wholesale action in prosecuting them.

W. Carroll Hunter of the agriculture department said yesterday that "it is understood there only a few cases of this sort pending x x x involving violations by farmers of former maximum price regulations on rice."

"Apparently it is not contemplated that there will be many cases of this kind. It is also understood that the solicitor's office will examine each case presented to it on its merits and give attentive consideration to all relevant mitigating factors, including the extent to which enforcement measures were not undertaken in the past."

Representatives Larcade and Domengat of Louisiana said they told Hunter that attorneys for the OPA, agriculture department, rice millers and rice growers agreed at a meeting in Crowley, La., last November that there would be no further prosecution of rice price violation cases.

WEST TEXAS OIL

Ector, Crockett Tests Looking Up

By John B. Brewer

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 4. —Two Clear Fork lime strikes by Gulf Oil Corp. in western Ector county within 24 hours and a promising bid for discovery of Glorieta production in the Seminole (San Andres) field in Gaines county were among top West Texas developments this week.

Addition of Sutton county to the oil producing ranks with a pumper appeared likely. A Devonian discovery in north central Andrews county logged thick pay and a north extension to the Clara Couch Wolfcamp pool in Crockett county was indicated.

Gulf No. 439-E Goldsmith, C. NW NW 15-44-1s-T&P, diagonal northwest offset to Gulf No. 430-E. Goldsmith, opener of the Goldsmith Ellenburger field in Ector county, flowed 57.48 barrels of oil in one hour on a drillstem test of the Clear Fork from 5,398-5,450 feet.

Twenty miles south and slightly west, Gulf No. 20-E-3 W. E. Connel flowed 351 barrels of oil in 90 minutes on a drillstem test of the Clear Fork from 5,245-54 feet. It is near the C SW SE 20-B16-psl, 7/8 mile northeast of Gulf No. 1-E-A Fogelson-University, Jordan Ellenburger discovery.

Amerada No. 9 Thos. S. Riley, slated 10,500-foot test to explore the Devonian on the northwest side of the Seminole field in Gaines county, showed oil and gas on five drillstem tests between 6,388-6,380 feet before getting water. Best showing was the recovery of 1,118 feet of oil from 6,510-50 feet in four hours. Location is the C SE SE 229-G-WTRR, near wells producing from around 5,100 feet.

Lloyd S. Parker of San Benito No. 1 Meta P. Reick, southeastern Sutton county wildcat, had 300 to 400 feet of 25.5 gravity oil in the hole after removing oil load and acid residue from a 3,500-gallon acid treatment of the Strawn through casing perforations at 3,400-22 feet. Some estimated the well would pump 25 to 50 barrels of oil daily.

Stanford No. 1 M. J. Hall, first deep test in the Landon (San Andres) pool in Cochran county, C NW SW 13-L-psl, recovered oil and gas-cut mud on drillstem tests from 10,295-347 feet and cored ahead. The section was reported to be Strawn.

Sinclair Prairie and others' No. 1 Skelly-University, Devonian lime strike in Andrews county, C NE NW 25-13-U, had logged 125 feet of streaked pay and 250 feet of almost solid pay in drilling to 9,840 feet and had flowed oil on three drillstem tests. It is four miles east of the Fullerton 8500 field, where the Devonian is approximately 1,000 feet higher.

Plymouth No. 1-M-A J. W. Owens, quarter mile north outpost to the Clara Couch Wolfcamp pool in western Crockett county, sprayed distillate from 5,833-70 feet in the Wolfcamp and cemented 3 1/2-inch casing on bottom at 5,890 for perforating. It is in the C SW SW 12-GG-H&OB. Mile and a half farther north, Plymouth No. 1-O-A A. C. Hoover, near the C SW NW 11-GG-H&OB, had had no shows in the Ellenburger topped at 6,534 feet in exploring to 6,825.

Texaco No. 1-U University, northeastern Crockett wildcat C NW NW 22-40-U, recovered 135 feet of oil and 300 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud from 8,785-8,840 feet in Ellenburger topped at 8,593 feet, 6,028 feet below sea level. It showed salt water at 9,025-75 feet and was testing at 9,197 feet.

The Texas Co. staked No. 1 Victor I. Pierce, scheduled 10,000-foot wildcat in Crockett county 660 from the south line of the lease and 1,080 feet from the west line of section 5-0-GH&SA, 20 miles southeast of Ozona. Gar-Ter Drilling Corp. spotted No. 1 Weiner-Shannon, proposed 8,000-foot wildcat in Crockett C NE NE 16-UV-GC&SF, 1 1/2 miles northwest of Ted Weiner and others' No. 1 R. L. Baughan, Ellenburger failure abandoned at 7,785 feet.

Gar-Ter plans to drill five outposts to its No. 1 R. L. Baughan,

Crusade Slated Against Fires In B' Spring

A crusade against fire, principally on an educational basis, will be carried out here during the coming week in observance of Fire Prevention Week, H. V. Crocker, fire chief, announced Saturday.

Crocker said visits will be made to all elementary schools in the city during the week. At each school, special fire prevention programs will be conducted with students participating.

"If we can make our youth, especially the smaller children down in the grades, conscious and alert to the danger of fire, I am sure that the entire community will benefit," the fire chief declared.

Big Spring currently enjoys a 15 per cent credit on its fire insurance rate and if no large losses of property due to fires are recorded, the city stands a chance for further credit. However, the credits are based each year on the fire records for the preceding five years, and a city must be continuously on guard against serious fires in order to qualify. Fire underwriters will list new credit ratings next March.

Crocker said plans are underway for local Boy Scouts to participate in a fire prevention activity. If the plans materialize, Scouts will be assigned districts in the San Andres lime strike 10 miles northwest of Ozona finished at 1,500 feet, 8 inches on the pump for 216 barrels of 19 gravity oil in 24 hours from eight inches of pay. The shallow strike is 990 from the south, 1,873 feet from the east line of section 86-OP-GC&SF, 330 feet north of Weiner No. 1 Vaughan, the Ellenburger failure.

A surprisingly large number of these fires is unnecessary, he declared, in calling upon all local citizens to help focus attention upon the Fire Prevention Week observance.

TEXAS POLL

Texans Make Flunking Grade In Naming State Officials

AUSTIN, Oct. 4. — Given a test on the names of top state officials, the adult population of Texas makes a flunking grade. Nine out of ten can tell you who the governor is. But only one out of three can name the lieutenant governor, only one out of four knows the name of the attorney general, and only four out of every hundred can name all three members of the Railroad Commission.

The test, given by means of a statewide survey by The Texas Poll, shows that men are more informed on the names of state officials, but not much more than women.

In giving the test, Texas Poll interviews asked a scientific cross-section of the public these questions:

Men Women All
 "Will you tell me who is governor of Texas?"
 Correctly named 89% 86% 88%
 Gave incorrect answers 11% 14% 12%
 Admitted they didn't know 8 10 9

Among the persons who failed on this question, some said Coke Stevenson is still governor. Others, living further back in the past, thought U. S. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel is the state's chief executive. Also mentioned as governor of Texas were President Truman, Attorney General Price Daniel, and "Coke Jester."

Men Women All
 "Can you tell me the name of the lieutenant governor of Texas?"

 Gave incorrect answers 63% 69% 66%

Incorrect answers included names of Price Daniel, Texas attorney general; John Lee Smith, Coke Stevenson, and Walter Woodul, former lieutenant governors; Tom Clark, U. S. attorney general; Grover Sellers and James V. Allred, former Texas attorneys general; Gov. Beauford Jester, and U. S. Senator Robert Taft of Ohio.

Amvets Ask Army Probe

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 4. (U)—The American Veterans of World War II (Amvets) asked Congress today to launch an investigation of possible maltreatment of enlisted personnel in military service.

Amvets members in their third national convention approved a resolution asking appointment of a civilian committee to make the probe. The convention action grew out of charges, recently made against Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, Army Commander in Italy and his vindication by the Army inspector general. The charges were made by newspaper columnist Robert C. Ruark.

"The integrity of the Army and the intelligence of the veteran are challenged by this latest predicted whitewash of a West Point general by a West Point General," Amvets president Ray Sawyer told the delegates.

"I ask this convention to ask Congress for immediate investigation of military justice as prostituted by the U. S. Army."

Guidance Program To Be Explained

Fundamentals of a guidance program, being instituted in the Big Spring school system, will be explained in an institute program for the entire faculty Monday at 4 p. m. W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, said Saturday.

Zelda C. Brown, director of guidance, will outline details of the program, which is to become operative from the first through the 12th grade, according to the superintendent. Hereafter, limited funds have precluded guidance activities, but the evaluation criteria committee last spring strongly urged its inclusion to overcome one of the flaws in the local system.

Aged Hold Majority In Court Charges

The aged apparently held a majority in the iniquities of the day in Big Spring Saturday. Five men were haled into corporation court to face charges of drunkenness, with the youngest reporting his age at 55 years, while

Softer Miles and Safer Miles

..Thanks to Buick's Safety-Ride rims

YOU sense it right from the first in the way your Buick handles.

You feel it not only in the cloud-soft ride of this big beauty, but in the way it seems to lean into the curves, the way it holds its "track," answers unflinchingly to your touch on the wheel.

The reason? Simply that even before the war, Buick found a way to get greater softness and greater safety from standard-size tires that are available anywhere.

Put a Buick wheel beside a wheel from other cars, and you see at once that Buick rims are wider.

In fact, they are an inch and an inch and a half wider — from 20% to 33%.

By this simple step, standard-size tires of any make are given greater air capacity. This permits lower air pressure and the softer ride that naturally comes from traveling on 25 pounds instead of 30.

In addition, widening the base of the tires gives bracing against side-thrust, as your legs brace you when you stand with feet apart. This checks sideways and the tendency of a tire to "roll under" on sharp or fast turns.

Furthermore, the tread is flattened. More rubber is put on the road. More rubber means more traction — more braking power — more resistance to skidding — far, far better car control.

And you have only to compare the handling of a Buick with any other car to see the result. . . .

You travel with a soft, level buoyancy that is Buick's own.

You seem to feel your car leaning into the curves, like a race horse coming into the stretch, instead of swaying outward. You come out of fast emergency swerves straight and true, with no wheel fight to keep your car on course.

You start, stop, accelerate and turn with a sure-footedness that keeps driving tension away, lets you enjoy Buick's soft comfort to the full.

And all this has been true of every Buick built since before the war, with no change in factory-installed tires.

Check up and see. For a softer ride that is also a safer and surer one — get your order in now for a Buick. We'll take it whether or not you have a car to trade.

ONLY BUICK HAS SAFETY-RIDE RIMS

AVOID THIS

On fast turns, tires on ordinary rims "roll under" like this, sometimes almost riding the sidewalls. Buick's wider Safety-Ride rims check this.

BIG SUCCESS

Martin County Fair Attracts Several Thousand Visitors

STANTON, Oct. 4.—The annual Martin County Fair broke up here today with success written all over it.

Off to a colorful start Friday afternoon, the event attracted several thousand visitors to agricultural exhibits, livestock judging, football game and implement and labor-saving device displays. The Lions club, sponsoring much of the arrangements for the fair, was doing a good business, too, with a carnival and prospects were good that the organization would be able to finance the fair out of its profits.

Two bands added thrills to the parade which formally opened the fair Friday at 3 p. m. Following highway patrol cars, the Crane high school band of 60-piece came up behind the colors with lively music. Boy Scouts and 14 decorated bicycles trailed with the 70-piece Big Spring high school band representing the Big Spring Lions club, followed with martial airs and prancing majorettes. Close behind were members of the Crane and Stanton high school pep squads.

The Stanton Girl Scouts passed by on a float set up as a camping layout. Immediately behind came the winning float, an original entry by the Stanton Music club. Mrs. Claude Houston said that several members of the club, including Mrs. P. E. Smithson, president, Mrs. Arlo Forrest, chairman, had put in two evenings of work past midnight in preparing the display, which had bars and notes on the side, and musicians performing.

id and beautiful blossoms such as roses, lantanas, dahlias, cosmos, chrysanthemums, gladioli, marigolds, myrtle and others.

Mouth-watering displays of canned foods were attractively arranged. Evidence of needlecraft skill by 4-H club and home demonstration women abounded in two exhibits. Another booth held a collection of pioneer articles, the sweepstakes going to Mrs. Flora Rogers who exhibited an early-day strong box.

In the agricultural exhibits, W. P. Reid and sons built up a heavy lead to coast in to the sweepstakes honors. They showed special strength in grains.

Saturday morning, Bob Cox took first and second, John Dale Kelly

FAIR TIME — People turned out by the hundreds Friday afternoon when the annual Martin County Fair got off to a flying start with a 10-block parade, the largest in the history of Stanton. With streets well lined and youngsters watching from awnings and building tops, the 60-piece band from Crane high school, left above, led the colorful procession, followed by Boy Scouts, the Big Spring high school band and a series of floats. Typical of the many artistic designs, but not the winner, the 4-H Club float, pictured right above, stood out in the parade as did the winning Music Club float and several others. Below, at left, is the winning community booth from Valley View, containing a wide assortment of feeds, foods, vegetables, fruits, cotton, melons, small grains and other items. The second place community exhibit may be seen at extreme right — the display from Lenora. Immediately after the parade hundreds thronged to high school gym to inspect the various community, individual and special exhibits which contributed to making the fair the most successful in its history. AAF Building Purchasers Are Busy Moving Structures

Purchasers of surplus buildings at the WAA sale held Tuesday at the Army Airfield started to move their respective structures to new sites and prepare them for various uses toward the end of the week. The activity served to start October building figures off with $12,925 during the first four days of the month. Many of the buildings may be moved without permits, however, since some of the purchasers are expected to take them westward and they will not touch the city limits in transit. In addition to the moving and repair work, permits have been issued since the first of the month for two new residences. The total for the year stands at $838,870.

Valley View captured first honors in the community exhibits with items such as melons, pumpkins, keshaws, corn, small grain, sorghums, feed stuffs, vegetables, canned goods, peanuts, peaches, cotton and many others on display in attractive arrangement. The Lenora booth was judged second and the Courtney booth third.

The Beta Sigma Phi and Girl Scouts had arranged a large display of hobby items, ranging from paintings to button and salt and pepper collections, from hand painted pitchers to arrowheads and snake rattles. Mrs. S. H. Gwyn won the sweepstakes in this event.

Another big and novel display was that of war trophies arranged by the American Legion post. Everything from Nazi flags to machine guns, rifles and trinkets from every section of the globe was represented.

Also adding attractiveness was the flower display, containing vivid and beautiful blossoms such as roses, lantanas, dahlias, cosmos, chrysanthemums, gladioli, marigolds, myrtle and others.

Mouth-watering displays of canned foods were attractively arranged. Evidence of needlecraft skill by 4-H club and home demonstration women abounded in two exhibits. Another booth held a collection of pioneer articles, the sweepstakes going to Mrs. Flora Rogers who exhibited an early-day strong box.

In the agricultural exhibits, W. P. Reid and sons built up a heavy lead to coast in to the sweepstakes honors. They showed special strength in grains.

Saturday morning, Bob Cox took first and second, John Dale Kelly

at the county clerk's office during the past week, with only seven instruments recorded. The total exchange value of property recorded amounted to $7,720, which increased the year's total to $1,579,722.

New vehicle registrations made a new gain after the previous week's jump. The county tax assessor-collector's office issued licenses for 21 passenger cars, eight trucks and one house trailer during the week.

Livestock prices strengthened for butcher classes at local sales concerns last week. The stocker market dropped slightly, however, in the face of dry weather. Receipts were light, with only about 850 head available. Hogs were strong, moving generally at about $29.00 cwt.

Fire Destruction Is Light Here

Big Spring recorded only $3,384.57 in property destruction and damage due to fires during the first seven months of 1947, F. W. Bettle, city fire marshal, announced Saturday on the eve of Firevention Week observance.

Although figures for August and September have not been completely tabulated, indications are that this year can become a bright spot on the city's fire records if proper vigil is maintained for the last quarter.

To date, the year's loss records are topped by a more than welcome zero for the month of June, while February brought the most losses with $1,622.51. May is the second best month on the record with $80.70, and January is second highest at $1,046.45.

The United States uses about 130 million railroad ties every year, enough to build 43,000 miles of track.

OMINOUS SIGNS

Pink Bollworm Infestation Shows Increase In This Area

Pink bollworm infestation, held in check in this area in recent years, has shown an ominous increase in intensity this season.

Although incidence is yet far below levels sufficient for significant damage to cotton, the sharp increase in worms found in this area during the past three days constitutes a sharp reversal, reports from the office of G. W. Chowms, in charge of the office for the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine for the department of agriculture, indicated here Saturday.

By far more pink bollworms were found in inspections from Midland to Westbrook last week than in any season on record here.

Samples sent into San Antonio headquarters contained 83 specimens picked up in trash inspections at nine gins in Midland, Martin, Howard counties. Not only was the number up markedly, but the number of worms recovered per bushels of trash showed an even more alarming gain. The average was around one and a half per bushel, and some areas had upwards of two specimens per bushel.

The wide dispersal of the increased infestation was considered alarming, for in previous years sharp increases were not infrequently confined to localized territories.

As a pest of economic consequence at the moment, Chowms doubled that the degree of infestation yet cut any figure. Implications, he said, were another matter. For one thing, the gain in intensity might offer a source of incubation for serious infestations, and more than that a base of spread in the heavy cotton belt to the north and northeast of here. The pink bollworm is considered as the most destructive of cotton pests because it not only bores into the boll to feed, but cuts and stains the lint badly. The worm bores into the seed to later undergo its metamorphosis and emerge in the moth stage to lay eggs on bolls.

Thus, the danger of spread is considered to lay largely in seed, according to entomologists. For that reason, seed going outside the quarantine area are required to be covered and shipped in a manner to prevent loss in transit. Mills must sterilize upon receipt. The danger of spread is perhaps greater in unauthorized transportation of seed outside the area.

One gin at Coahoma had three specimens, two at Big Spring had 24, three at Stanton had 19, one at Courtney four, two at Midland had 33. Previously, one at Westbrook had 33 specimen from 20 bushels of trash.

North of Howard county infestation has not yet been found to be substantially heavier than usual, although Bailey, Cochran and Hockley, released from quarantine in 1943, are back in the fold. For the first time this year, Fisher has yielded pink bollworms in inspections. In the southeast end of the Panhandle district for the bureau, San Saba has been added to counties with new infestation.

Lesson Tells Of Gods Revelation

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
 (The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for October 5 is Hebrews 1-2; 8:5-13; Matthew 3:16-17; John 14:5-11, the Memory Verse being Psalm 122:1, "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go unto the house of Jehovah.")
 TODAY WE start a new series of lessons taken from the letters of early church leaders. The one for today commences with two chapters from the Epistle of Paul to the Hebrews, concerning the revelation of God regarding His Son, Jesus. It begins:

"God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

"Hath in these last days spoken unto us by His Son, whom He hath appointed heir to all things, by whom also He made the worlds: "Who being the brightness of His glory, and the express image of His person, and upholding all things by the word of His power, when He had by Himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high."

All through the Old Testament narratives God spoke through the prophets, who, in turn, translated His words to the Hebrew people. In the New Testament He speaks through Jesus, His Son and representative on earth.

Jesus brought God very near to us. He called Him "Our Father," as well as "My Father," assuring us that we could take our problems directly to Him and He would hear and help us.

God's Words Concerning Jesus As to the revelation concerning Jesus, Paul tells us: "For unto which of the angels said He at any time, Thou art My Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to Me a Son?..."

"Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed Thee with the oil of gladness above Thy fellows."

These passages we should keep in our hearts. Paul writes: "Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip."

There is no need to comment on this verse. Heedless little children who "forget" what Father and Mother tell them, or what their day or Sunday School teachers say, are matched by we older ones who forget too, and must remind ourselves again and again about our moral and spiritual lives.

Now we come to the New Covenant which Paul sets forth in the 8th chapter of his epistle to the Hebrews.

"But now hath He obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also He is the mediator of a better covenant which was established upon better promises."

"For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second."

"For finding fault with them, He saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah."

"Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in My covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord."

"For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after these days, saith the Lord; I will put My laws into their minds, and write them in their hearts and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to Me a people: All Shall Know Him"

"And they shall not teach every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know Me, from the least to the greatest."

"For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more."

The old covenant may be found in the 30th chapter of Jeremiah. The people broke that pact and were punished. Now, through Jesus we have this New Covenant, "the new, the better, the everlasting Covenant."

When Jesus was baptized in the river Jordan, you remember, by John the Baptist, John said, "I have need to be baptized of Thee, and comest Thou to me?" Paul baptized Him, and as He came from the water the heavens opened and a voice from heaven said, "This is My Beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

Our last reference, John 14:5-11, tells us of Jesus' efforts to explain His coming death and resurrection to His apostles. He had told them that He was going to leave them but would prepare a place for them. "And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know." They did not know. Thomas told Him, and Jesus said, "I am the way—the truth, and the life, no man cometh unto the Father, but by Me. If ye had known Me, ye should have known My Father also. . . . Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in Me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of Myself; but the Father that dwelleth in Me, He doeth the works."

Chameleons do change color from time to time, but not to match their background. The change governed by light, temperature and the way it feels.

NIMBLE FINGERS—Nimble fingers paid off in $1,000 worth of crisp dollar bills for Edd Anderson, 18, (above) of Kennett, Mo., the new national cotton pickling champion. Texas Lumber Industry Founded On Fast-Growing Small Trees

HOUSTON, Oct. 4. (AP)—Texas trees may not be as large as those in other sections of the nation, but they grow faster.

Commercial timber grows so rapidly here that Texans handling timber on a crop basis can see every tree on their acreage cut and marketed and replaced by another full-grown tree within a single generation—60 to 80 years—a cycle that requires 300 or more years in most other states.

The same comparison can be made for individual trees of full growth, but here in Texas a four-inch tree, requiring less than 20 years of growth, frequently is marketed.

Texas' lumber industry cannot compete today with glamorous oil, but it does rank fifth in annual income among the state's industries. Cash crop lumber and resulting wood products last year realized $135,000,000 from the approximately 11,000,000 acres of East Texas timber land.

Only oil, natural gas, livestock and agricultural crops surpass lumber, and while natural gas, the fourth ranking industry, surpasses lumber by approximately $100,000,000, Texas' future in timber expansion and development is "exceedingly bright," according to H. B. Bosworth, federal supervisor for Texas National Forests.

Texans are rapidly realizing this opportunity and are taking advantage of certain nature-made circumstances.

"Texas is in an excellent position to improve greatly its timber development as an annual crop with a constant return," Bosworth said.

"The state's commercial acreage is larger or equal to anything in the south and has been preserved so that we now have approximately the same size area that existed nearly a half-century ago," he said.

Lumber became a commercial enterprise in Texas shortly after 1900, and the estimated 11,000,000 acres in timber at that time has decreased only slightly.

We have about 1,000,000 acres that today need replanting but portions of this are a result of abandoned agricultural farms and projects and not a result of mismanagement within the lumber industry," Bosworth explained.

Other states have experienced tremendous decreases in timber acreages. A nearby state, as an example, has lost about 5,000,000 acres since 1900, Bosworth estimated.

Bosworth is not jealous of the vast oil domains that even encroach upon the East Texas forest lands, but, instead, credits the petroleum industry with aiding lumber in attaining its present status within the state.

"Most of the land covered by forests in Texas is unsuited for agricultural purposes and much of the area would have been abandoned had it not been aided indirectly by the discovery of oil in the area," the federal forester explained.

"When the oil boom began, and even today, owners of timber land naturally kept their property and resulting income from oil leases and royalties soon exceeded tax assessments," he continued. "Part of this oil money went back into the land and owners began to develop their timber on a commercial basis. If oil money had not been available, this would not have been possible in many cases."

But the oil boom did not bring a complete end of destruction of timber.

"This problem still exists," Bosworth said, "for an example, if a property owner has a $2,000 mortgage due, he sometimes goes out and cuts down enough trees to realize the needed sum. He does not select the trees to be cut, and normally gives no thought to rotation of cuttings. As a result, he does not have a continuous crop and the action hinders future development of the industry through hindrance to condition of the land."

"The state's commercial acreage is larger or equal to anything in the south and has been preserved so that we now have approximately the same size area that existed nearly a half-century ago," he said.

Other speakers may be added to the list within the next few days. Among those already definitely booked are Col. Bernard Robinson, district engineer Army Corp of Engineers, Galveston; E. V. Spence, chairman state board of water engineers, Austin; J. E. Sturrock, state conservation association chairman, Austin; V. C. Peanut Crop Below Normal

GORMAN, Oct. 4. (AP)—The 1947 peanut crop seems to be only about one-third normal with the quality poor, says E. D. David, manager of the Southwestern Peanut Growers' association with headquarters here.

The south Texas harvest is almost completed and harvest is well under way in central Texas and starting in all other parts of Texas as well as Oklahoma.

Some parts of north Texas report normal yields, says David, but it looks now like the total for the crop will fall far short of expectations.

All peanuts are selling at the government's support price of $201 per ton.

Americans Found In Rebel Band

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 4. (AP)—Three Americans were identified by a Cuban judge today as members of an expeditionary force organized to invade the Dominican Republic and depose President Rafael Trujillo.

Magistrate Evello Tablo identified the three as Hollis Smith of Palisades Park, N. J., and Rupert Irwin Waddell and Thomas Sawyer, both of New York City.

Tablo said Smith and Waddell would not be released at once since they were listed as officers with the rank of captain in the expedition, which was broken up by the Cuban Army and Navy before it could accomplish its purpose.

The judge said Sawyer was enrolled as a soldier, and would be freed.

HORIZONTAL SKYSCRAPER

Pentagon Is Big --Even To Texans

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (AP)—The War Department currently employs 22,000 persons in the mammoth Pentagon Building just across the Potomac River in Virginia — at one time the number was nearly 40,000.

In numerous other buildings scattered over the Washington metropolitan area the War Department employs many additional thousands, among them many Texans, both military and civilian. Because it is one of the most interesting structures not only in Washington, but in the entire country, a few words might be devoted to the Pentagon. Its size is impressive, even to Texans.

The building is in effect a horizontal skyscraper, with its acre-foot of floor space said to be as great or greater than any building in the world. Besides innumerable offices, it has five separate and large cafeterias, a shopping center with a drug store, bookstore, branch shop of a Washington department store, and other businesses.

The five story, five-sided building is built so that there are five rings, the smallest, inside ring looking down into a "patio" area the size of most city blocks. Rooms are designated by such numbers as "3D333", which would mean third floor, the next-to-the-outside ring, and room 33 just off connecting corridor 3. The number 1 just after the letter stands for the passageway connecting the rings.

A confusing pattern of cloverleaf road runs around and through acres of parking space on all sides of the Pentagon, and drivers of buses as well as private cars continually are getting lost and driving the wrong way on one-way thoroughfares, or turning off on the wrong lane. Buses zip along a four-lane tunnel that burrows down along under one side of the building for a quarter mile, along which are stop lights and pickup stops.

As for top Texas personalities in the Pentagon, General Dwight D. Eisenhower heads the list. Of course he claims Abilene, Kansas, as home, but Texans emphasize he was born at Denison.

Others of general rank currently on duty here and who hail from Texas include: Maj. Gen. Howard Davidson, Wharton, who was retired but now is on active duty with the Army Air Forces Aid Society; Maj. Gen. E. H. Leavey, in the office of the chief of transportation, an ex-Texas Aggie; Maj. Gen. Otto P. (Oppie) Weyland, Uvalde; Maj. Gen. William D. Old, on the general staff, another ex-Texas Aggie, and Brig. Gen. Alvin R. Luedecke, of the class '32 of Texas A. and M., who, when promoted to his present rank in 1944, was the Army's youngest general.

One of the most colorful war records belongs to Col. John A. Hilger of Houston, on duty at AAF headquarters. He was next to Gen. Jimmy Doolittle in command on the famous raid on Tokyo at the beginning of the war.

FROM BIG SPRING
New All-Time Peak Reached
In Loaded Rail Movements

Loaded rail car movements from Big Spring jumped to a new, all-time peak during the month of September when 2,103 loaded cars were forwarded, according to figures released from the office of G. I. Brooks, T&P general agent. Total shipments for the month more than doubled those of September, 1946, and also represented a substantial gain over August of this year, which was the previous high month. Comparative figures show 1,839 for August of this year and 1,019 for September, 1946.

Petroleum products, which had the figures to zoom repeatedly since early last spring, also have accounted for the lion's share of the latest increases.

Heavy gains also were marked up for inbound shipments, with 245 cars received, as compared to 199 a year ago and 157 for August.

Traffic on this division has been considerably higher during the past few weeks than at any time during war rush, G. R. French, assistant superintendent declared.

French said that crews operating out of Big Spring average handling approximately 18 freight trains every 24 hours, which serves to keep the division among the busiest on the entire T&P. The Baird to Fort Worth run has the heaviest traffic on the line at present, due to grade conditions which limit tonnage per train.

An average of 10 eastbound freight trains leave Big Spring every 24 hours. They usually are composed of approximately 50 cars however, tonnage must be pared for efficient operation over hills and grades between Baird and Fort Worth, and the cars are distributed to form from 13 to 15 trains for the remainder of the trip to "Cowtown."

An average of eight freight trains move westward from Big Spring daily, most of them carrying oil cars for refilling. The average westbound freight carries somewhere around 90 cars.

Traffic for both directions accounts for something over 1,300 cars shuttling through the Big Spring yards on an ordinary day, and if all were coupled together on one string they would extend for a distance of something near 10 miles.

The heavy traffic, of course, is keeping maintenance crews alerted, and the whole thing has the T&P improvement working out of Big Spring now are nearing completion on a project which is bringing new steel to a 30-mile strip between Big Spring and Colorado City. New rails were started at a point near the Couden refinery and the crew will continue to within approximately three miles of Colorado City.

They are installing new rails at the rate of about a mile a day. Heavier rails than those previously in service are being installed, with 112-pounds per yard as compared to the new steel carrying a weight of to 110 pounds per yard for the old rails. This project is nothing out of the ordinary, however, since the T&P has been making rail replacements obtained for the past five years, as rapidly as new steel could be. The railroad takes all of the steel it can get each year from the steel mills, makes necessary replacements when defects are noted up and down the line, and then if any new rails remain, entire blocks of track, such as that included on the current project, are replaced.

Although the new, heavier steel provides smoother traveling for passenger trains, the replacements are not necessarily being made in anticipation of the streamlined passenger trains the road expects to put into service within the next few months, French said. Incidentally, latest information indicates that the T&P may receive some steam lined pullmans this month but a delivery date on the new equipment has not been set definitely.

Mexico Seeks To Discourage Farmers From Work In U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 4. (U. S. A.)—A government request to governors of all Mexican states asks they cooperate in discouraging farmers from traveling to the United States border in hope of finding work as contract agricultural laborers in the United States.

A government bulletin, issued yesterday, says "There is not the slightest possibility of contracting agricultural workers for the U. S. at border points. Furthermore, the discrimination to which some Mexican nationals have been subjected in Texas will result in termination of contracts there, and a considerable number of braceros will be returned to the border."

Texas Press Group Establishes Office

DALLAS, Oct. 4. (U. S. A.)—Members of the Texas Press Association approved the establishment of a Dallas office with an executive secretary-manager at a meeting here last night. The position was offered to Vernon Sanford, manager of the Oklahoma Press Association, according to Paul Fulk, association president and editor of the Wolfe City Sun. Members also voted for an amendment in Texas' legal notice publication laws to provide penalties for refusal of a taxing body to publish its expenditures.

Business Asked To Consider Employing Handicapped Persons

Management and labor are being asked to consider the importance of maintaining employment for handicapped workers during the next six days as the nation observes Employ the Physically Handicapped week. Locally, six agencies and organizations have made plans to cooperate in emphasizing the placement of physically handicapped persons on suitable jobs during the week.

Represented in the group are the VFW, the American Legion, the Veterans Administration, the Texas Employment Commission, Disabled American Veterans, the Service Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

These organizations have reminded local employers that statistics indicate that the average efficiency rating of 528 handicapped workers surveyed was 102 per cent, as compared to 100 per cent for non-handicapped personnel. Surprisingly enough, the handicapped workers had an attendance record as good as the able bodied workers.

Here are some other figures the organizations point to in boosting their program. Average frequency suffered by 3,800 handicapped workers was 8.3 per cent, while among 6,200 able bodied workers the injury frequency was 11.8 per cent.

These statistics were taken from an interim report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics and represent findings in 47 plants and 30 industries in six states.

In view of these figures, the organizations reported, employers are being urged to consider the capabilities of prospective employees instead of their disabilities.

'STOMPING CASE'

Poorly Written Indictments Caused Trouble In Court

By PAUL BOLTON
Herald Austin Bureau

AUSTIN. — You need not be versed in law to appreciate the difference if you stomp on a person with (a) bare feet (b) rubber-heeled shoes and (c) cowboy boots. The way you were shod might make a vital difference in determining your intentions if, in a fight, you got the other guy down and stomped him.

For saying, in substance, that it does not make a difference, the Texas court of criminal appeals has been accused of relying on technicalities. A previous article discussed the much-advertised "drowning" case. Here are the facts in the stomping case:

Buster Northern was charged with killing a 70-year-old woman in a peculiarly revolting crime. "Buster" Northern did... with malice aforethought, kill Fannie McHenry by then and there kicking and stomping the said Fannie McHenry.

For the court, Commissioner Kruger wrote in part: "It is the established rule that an indictment should be so certain and definite that it leaves nothing to be supplied by intendment or inference. . . . It is urged that inasmuch as one could only kick and stomp with his foot, the instrument or means used in the offense may be inferred. . . . (to so infer) would require the court to supply by inference something not alleged." So the indictment was dismissed.

It made a big splash in the headlines and inevitably was tied up with the drowning case. But, as Chief Justice F. L. Hawkins wrote on rehearing, the court had announced NO new doctrine. As far back as the Republic, in 1945, the appellate courts said, an indictment should "allege the facts by avertment direct, positive and certain, and not by way of argument and inference." "Rules," said Judge Hawkins, "cannot be varied to satisfy the clamor of those who demand their relaxation in cases where the facts arouse popular indignation."

The rule to be remembered is that an indictment should be so certain that it leaves nothing to be supplied by "intendment or inference. The "popular indignation" was most manifest in one Texas newspaper (The Dallas News) through one columnist. Curiously enough, that newspaper was the direct beneficiary of that self-same rule; and many another newspaper likewise has been protected by what was labelled, in the criminal case, a "technicality."

Attorney General Looney filed suit against the newspaper publishing company alleging slander for certain statements about his official conduct. When the case was tried, attorneys for the paper had raised every possible legal objection. But the one which decided the case was that you could not interpolate anything into a publication and by "intendment, place in it something the words would not speak."

Judges of the appeals courts, by reason of their supposed dignity cannot comment on criticisms of their opinions; indeed, it's considered bad taste for them even to discuss them. If they could, they might well ask: If the rule is good when applied to the money of a newspaper, why is it not good when applied to the life of a man?

Before proceeding to a comparison of "resort to technicalities" it is pertinent to point up this fact: Both of the highly criticized cases involved indictments which the court considered poorly — perhaps carelessly — written. Either, would have been saved by the merest compliance with the constitutional provision that the accused shall have the right to demand the "nature and cause of the accusation against him." And both of the cases came from Dallas county. (Also from Dallas county came the "one man riot" case. This case, too, was reversed, because it takes more than one man to create a riot.)

In the final article, technicalities in civil cases will be discussed.

B' Springers Are Serving In Armed Forces

Commanding officer of the CEC unit activated recently in Big Spring, Barnaby again donned his uniform as chief carpenter while on temporary active duty. S. occupation forces on Okinawa, 1940 was assigned overseas as commanding officer of a company with the 24th Infantry on Ie Shima. Before entering service, he was employed here by C. L. Rowden. MAKING LITTLE ONES OUT OF BIG ONES

Less bulk, lower freight rates, more bales per shipment... these are some of the services your cotton compress contributes to the efficient marketing of cotton.

The big gin bale must be reduced to less than one-half its size to meet railroad requirements of 100 bales per car... reduced to less than one-third for the most economical water freight rates. Without your cotton compress, twice as many railroad cars and three times as many freighters would be required to market your cotton... raising your costs and lowering your profits.

In "making little ones out of big ones", your cotton compress gives a service the cotton industry depends on for fast, economical handling of America's greatest money crop.

Underwriter Cites Need For Diligence

Conditions testing the metal of many life underwriters are now apparent, Curtis Currie, Abilene, agency director for Western Reserve, told Big Spring Life Underwriter association members here Saturday when he raised the question: "Are you going to stick?"

Rising commodity prices, plus pent up consumer demand, are making it increasingly important that underwriters be more diligent in order to market their needed services, he said.

Entertainment was furnished by Cornelia Frazier, vocalist, accompanied by Helen Duly. The association voted a resolution of sympathy to Dalton Mitchell, Big Spring whose mother died Thursday morning. Next meeting will be held in Odessa on Nov. 1.

Attending were W. W. Barker, W. T. Fields, A. F. McKee, Roy McKee, R. J. Graham, Mrs. Laura Jesse, Midland; Jack Simmonds, Dallas; C. R. Walker, Odessa; Otho Rice and Joe Clark, Colorado City; L. W. Covington Buys Implement Co.

Purchase of the Cathey Implement company by M. R. Covington, formerly of San Angelo, was announced here Saturday.

The trade became effective on Oct. 1, and Mr. and Mrs. Covington have established their home here.

Covington, a native and life-long resident of San Angelo, said that he planned an expansion of the services and distribution of the company, which is located on the Lamesa highway in northwest Big Spring and which will henceforth bear his name.

Covington's will continue as dealer for Oliver power units, tractors, implements as well as offering complete repair service by experienced and skilled mechanics.

Shea Hurls Yankees To 2-1 Win

DiMaggio Home Run Clincher

BROOKLYN, Oct. 4. (AP)—Frank (Spec) Shea, brilliant freshman pitcher, and the great Joe DiMaggio combined their talents today to give the Yankees a tense 2-to-1 triumph over the Dodgers in the fifth game of the World Series at Ebbets Field and move the Bronx Bombers within one victory of their 11th world championship.

Cookie Lavagetto, the Dodger pinchhitter who bounced a game-winning double off the fence in the ninth inning to win yesterday's thriller for the Flatbushers, went down swinging for the final out today with the tying run on second base.

Shea, in racking up his second victory of the playoffs, pitched a superb four-hitter and knocked across the Yankee's first run off young Rex Barney, the losing Brooklyn flinger. DiMaggio smashed his second home run of the series into the left field upper-deck in the fifth frame.

Brooklyn scored its lone run off the Naugatuck, Conn., righthander in the sixth when he issued two walks and Jackie Robinson, Dodger first baseman, drove a single off Shea's glove into center field for a single. Shea's dramatic strikeout of Lavagetto as Dodger fans prayed for another miracle was his seventh of the contest.

Although Brooklyn threw four pitchers into the fray, including the ever-ready Hugh Casey for the third time in as many days, it was not necessarily as a tribute to Yankee power. Outside of the two vital blows by Shea and DiMaggio, the only other hits the winners collected were a single and a double by Tommy Henrich and a double to the fence by Shea after two were out in the eighth.

DiMaggio's circuit blow, in fact, possibly saved the Clipper from going down as the official goat of the game. In three other attempts the Yankee star rapped feebly into two double plays and struck out, each time with runners on base. It was a tight, well-played game, the second in a row in a series which had threatened to go into the books as possibly the worst ever.

For the second straight day the interborough rivals left their funny faces at home and played it straight, and the crowd of 34,379 was appreciative.

Barney, 29-year-old surprise starter for the Dodgers, gave up both Yankee scores before he had to be lifted soon after DiMaggio's had started since July 4, and he was as wild as the northern winds, but the American leaguers had a tough time getting him out of there. In the four and two-thirds innings he worked the young fireballer issued nine walks, within one of the new World Series records set only yesterday by Bill Bevans of the Yanks, yet only one of them figured in the scoring against him.

Shea's control, on the other hand was immaculate through the early part of the game, and he didn't let a Dodger reach first until Pee Wee Reese worked him for a walk with one out in the fourth. Thereafter the Yankee star gave up two passes in each of two following innings, and one of them, opening the sixth, led to Brooklyn's only run.

For four frames Shea had a no-hitter working, and people were beginning to look at one another. But Shea was spared any further strain on that score when Gene Hermanski opened the fifth with a clean single.

The stage for Cookie's second rendezvous with fate was set when Bruce Edwards, Dodger catcher, opened the ninth with a line single into left. Vic Lombardi, little Brooklyn pitcher, went in to run for the backstop, and was sacrificed down to second by Carl Furillo.

Johnny Jorgensen, the next Brooklyn clubber, laid into a Shea fast ball and drove it deep into right center field into Tommy Henrich's waiting glove for the second out. That brought up Cookie, and the crowd greeted him in a manner suitable to his heroic stature.

Rice Is Held To A 7-7 Tie By USC Team

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4. (AP)—The Rice Owls of the Southwest Conference and Southern California of the Pacific Coast waged furious grid combat for four quarters today and both were lucky to leave the field with a 7-7 tie in the first meeting of the two schools.

A crowd of 64,231 saw the big blue and grey eleven from Texas, outplayed in the first half, come back in the third quarter to score seven points, and then roared with excitement as the vaunted Trojans forgot to fumble for the first time this afternoon and traveled 81 yards in 13 plays to tie the count as the clock ticked into the final two minutes of the contest.

Costly miscues robbed the Trojans of scoring chances in the first half as they outran the Owls, 152 yards to 69, and racked up six first downs to two for the visitors.

Rice came back strong after the half time, grabbed the play and went on to tally. Huey Keeney, Owl halfback, outpunted the Trojans and put them in a hole early in the third period. Then Quarterback Ed Eikenberg ran and passed the outfit 38 yards in 12 plays for the score, going over on a sneak himself for the tally. Jimmy Williams booted the extra point.

Late in the fourth, Rice got deep into Trojan territory but had to punt on fourth down. From his own 19, sophomore quarterback Jim Powers, with Jack Kirby and Gray lending the most help, put together a final sustained drive that carried on for their score.

USC earned 20 yards on the ground and surrendered 163, while the total air and ground gains were 222 for Rice and 291 for the Trojans.

MITCHELL HOT

Sooners Lick Aggies, 26-14

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 4. (AP)—Jack Mitchell, the University of Oklahoma's amazing quarterback, was as hot as the 90-degree weather today as he scored one touchdown and passed to two others as the Sooners stopped the Texas Aggies football team 26-14.

A capacity crowd of 33,000 watched Oklahoma come back from a 14-6 deficit in the middle of the second period to bowl over the spirited but tiring Aggies.

Oklahoma scored first as it marched 49 yards. The payoff came when Mitchell shot a pass to Bobby Godd who romped over the goal, the touchdown play carrying 17 yards.

An Oklahoma fumble by George Thomas on the Sooner 33 gave the Aggies their first scoring opportunity. They put their passing attack to work with James Cashion tossing to Barney Welch and Norton Higgins to move down to the two. Ed Dusek crashed over and John Ballentine made the extra point kick good to give the Aggies a 7-6 edge at the end of the first quarter.

A bad Oklahoma punt gave the Aggies the ball on the Sooner 27 at the end of the first period and they moved in three plays to the 15 where Stanley Holmigg passed to Cotton Howell for what proved to be their last touchdown. The extra point kick by Ballentine was good.

In the middle of the second period Oklahoma took over on its 43 and Thomas barreled 24 yards to the Aggie 33. Then Mitchell made the most thrilling run of the contest when he took a lateral from Darrell Royal and streaked to the goal. Dave Wallace made the extra point kick good to make the score 14-13 in favor of the Aggies at the half.

Oklahoma scored what proved to be the winning touchdown when John Rapacz intercepted a pass on the Aggie 44. Six plays and three first downs later, Thomas punched over from the three.

It was with six minutes left that Mitchell passed to George Brewer 24 yards for the final tally after starting a drive from the Sooner 48.

Shorthorn Club Loses, 22-12

Fumbleitis on the part of the resident squad, and the ability of the invaders to take advantage of the breaks, enabled the Sweetwater B football string to defeat the Big Spring reserves, 22-12, at Steer stadium Saturday afternoon.

The Shorthorns led at half time, 6-2, and scored again on the first play in the fourth quarter only to have the Colts cross the goal line twice.

Joe Bailey scored the first TD for Big Spring on a blocked punt in the second period. Bailey later set up the only Big Spring score when he accepted a pass from Carroll Cannon and went 50 yards to the Sweetwater 11-yard stripe. After pushing to a first down on the one, Johnny Hooper stepped over for the six points.

The guests scored their safety in the second heat, the first touchdowns in the third and the decisive two in the big fourth. Bailey and Gerald Burrus were outstanding for Big Spring.

Bearcats Upset Water Valley

GARDEN CITY, Oct. 4.—Garden City's Bearcats slipped out of the District Seven six-man football cellar and put Water Valley there by thumping the Wildcats, 19-6, here Friday.

Laney counted two touchdowns the visitors.

The victory was the first conference win of the season for Gordon Griggs' contingent and its second of the year.

TEXAS CLIPS TARHEEL 11

AUSTIN, Oct. 4. (AP)—The University of Texas turned on the heat to smash North Carolina 34-0 in convincing style today and threw out a national challenge.

A crowd of 47,900 saw the Longhorns combine the accurate passing of quarterback Bobby Layne with the power and speed of backs Tommy Landry, Randall Clay and Byron Gillroy to count their third straight victory.

Texas scored on a 44-yard pass in the first, a 28-yard pass and a two-yard plunge in the second and two plunges from inside the one-yard line in the final period.

Texas' first tally came on a 44-yard pass from Layne to Gillroy, who got in behind the Tarheels' Johnny Clements to grab the ball on the 10 and go across standing up. The heave climaxed a 59-yard drive sustained by 12 and 7-yard gains by Landry. Frank Guess converted to make it Texas 7, North Carolina 0 at the end of 5 minutes of play.

Early in the second quarter, Raymond Jones, a substitute fullback, passed to substitute right end Peppy Blount on the two-yard line, who dove across for the touchdown. Guess booted his second conversion.

A fumble by fullback Walt Pupa of North Carolina gave Texas the break which paved the way for that second counter. It was Blount who recovered for the Longhorns on the Tarheels 28, then made the 28 on the pass.

North Carolina came roaring back on the sharp-shooting passes of left half Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice and Pupa. Catches by Clements and right end Bobby Cox moved the Tarheels to the Texas 40, but then Justice's pass, intended for Cox, bounced out of Longhorn Bobby Cox Lee's arms, and Jones grabbed it to halt the Tarheel drive.

Landry slashed for 23 yards to initiate the march. Gillroy, the 140-pound scabback, went tearing around left end on the old Statue of Liberty play and raced to North Carolina's three. The Tarheels held for one play before Landry battered across.

The conversion was good momentarily, but a holding penalty against Texas set the Longhorns back 15 yards, and an attempt to pass for the point failed.

North Carolina again threatened, pass plays clicking to the Texas three-yard line, but the half ended before the Tarheels could run another play.

The Longhorns' fourth tally came on a one-yard plunge over center by Clay at the end of an 84-yard march which began when Jones intercepted a pass behind his goal line and brought it out to the 16.

Billy Pyle, left half, dashed 14 yards. Layne hit substitute left end Lewis Holder for 32 yards to North Carolina's 34. Clay rambled 13 more and Layne shot one to Jim Watson for 13 to North Carolina's six. North Carolina was penalized for its one-yard march for roughing the passer, and Clay scored. Guess kicked the extra point.

BLOUNT TALLIES

Clay collected his second touchdown when he again rammed through from the one-half-yard line at the end of a 47-yard drive in which the Texas second team employed straight power. Guess kicked his fourth extra point to make the final score 34-0.

Arkansas Repels Threat To Defeat Christians

McGaha Goes Over For TD

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 4. — A 44-yard pass play gave the University of Arkansas Razorbacks a first-quarter lead and from there on they relied on a stubborn goal-line defense to subdue Texas Christian university, 6 to 0, here today in the opening game of the Southwest Conference football race.

At the beginning it looked as though the Razorbacks, defending co-champions would run the Horned Frogs out of the stadium. Later TCU kept about 16,000 on-lookers on the edges of their seats with a fourth-period aerial bombardment.

Arkansas went 79 yards on five plays for the afternoon's only touchdown, with Clyde (Smackover) Scott and Aubrey Fowler, fleet back, leading the way. The march began after TCU's Carl Knox punted out of bounds on the Razorback 21-yard line.

Scott drove through tackle for 11. Two more running plays lost five, but Fowler faked a punt and raced 27 yards to the TCU 46. TCU was penalized five yards. Scott whipped a pass to Melvin McGaha near the sideline on the Frog 30, and the deer-footed end outran the TCU secondary to the goal. Fowler's placement for point was low.

Each team threatened four times in the last three quarters. Fumbles halted Arkansas' short of pay dirt, once on the TCU two, and interceptions put out the Frogs' fire.

TCU's best opportunity fizzled when Co-Captain Tom Bishop dropped Joslin's 14-yard pass in the end zone in the fourth period. He was all by himself and had the ball in his arms, but apparently was too anxious and let it slip away.

Eighty-five per cent of Puerto Rico's 400,000 families have an annual income of less than $400 a year.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

The glory that was once Rome's is no more... Odessa's 1947 football Broncs are riding for a fall, if they wore their Sunday best attack into the Big Spring outing Friday night... Joe Coleman's backfield perhaps is as good as the one he put together a season ago, though we doubt it... The line, from stem to stern, simply does not stack up... In fact, the Big Spring forwards more than held their own throughout the one-sided struggle... The Hosses perhaps miss the Moorman brothers most of all... Paul Matejowski has yet to prove himself as an equal to Hayden Fry as a T quarterback... Jimmy Patterson has a long way to go before he equals Pug Gabriel as a ramming type of fullback... Gerald Campbell was ailing and therefore did not get a chance to show his worth... Townsend does not look as good to us as he did last Autumn... San Angelo may give the Broncs trouble... No team in this district has much chance of beating them but the Steeds are in for much trouble when they run into a club with a stout line... Wichita Falls looks like the eleven capable of snapping their streak... Coleman didn't make many friends when he left his first string in most of the time and let it run up the score... Ike Robb of Our Town turned in a grand performance... Ralph Branca's efforts in the first game of the World Series have been compared to that of Lee Zamora's in the first Big Spring-Sweetwater playoff game... The Sport hurler was blinding fast in the first three or four rounds but spent his strength... Like Zamora, Branca could not pace himself.

Coleman Trout Camp Slated October 16

Odessa's football Broncs first started getting rough with Big Spring in 1941... The Bovines edged out the Hosses in 1939 and fought them to a scoreless stalemate in '40 but in '41 the Ector county terrors rolled up a 21-6 win... The Odessans won again in '42, 33-6, then pulverized the Longhorns, 46-0, in '43... The locals crossed the scrimmage line in '44, thanks to a long run by Pete Cook, but fell, 34-6... The following year produced that gosh-awful 52-0 tally... In '46, it was 12-0, Odessa... Ed Dorsey, Ohio State university's Negro end, is a native of Houston, Tex... Don't be surprised if Joe Coleman, the Odessa coach, move into the college coaching field in 1948... Like Alexander of Macedon, Joe may feel there are no more worlds to conquer in the city to the West... The Ahlene Blue Sox came within an ace of getting Ed (Duke) Snider as a player in the 1946 baseball season... Snider wound up with Fort Worth, had a respectable year and showed on to Montreal the past season... He may be with Brooklyn in '48... The trout camp at Coleman sponsored by the St. Louis Cardinals comes up Oct. 16-17-18... Runt Marr and Fred Hawn, who scout for the Red Birds, will oversee the camp... Players will have to furnish their own gloves, shoes and uniforms... All expenses incident to attending the camp will be refunded to those signed to contracts... Local friends have learned that Humbert "Bert" Baez, the Big Spring baseball hurler last season, is seriously ill with pneumonia in Havana... Seems the little fellow contacted a bad cold while waiting to clear the customs in Miami but rather than take the chance on being held over there went on to Cuba.

Georgia Bulldogs Stun LSU, 35-19

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 4. — Georgia tied a knot in the tail of the mighty Tiger from Louisiana State here today and then kicked him all over Sanford field for a surprise 35-19 victory—the first in eight attempts—before 40,000 fans.

TAFT-HARTLEY ACT EXPLAINED

Labor Law Clarifies Position Of Foreman And Supervisors

(Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of three interpretive articles on the Taft-Hartley Act written for The Herald by T. J. McMahon, Abilene attorney).

By T. J. McMAHON

It has always been the position of the Labor Relations Board, as exemplified by many of its decisions wherein the question was involved, that foremen and supervising employees who had authority to recommend the promotion or demotion of other employees were, in reality, a part of management, and the Board has frequently decided that an employer was guilty of an "unfair labor practice" by reason of utterances and conduct of such supervisory employees. On the other hand, the National Labor Relations Board, when it had before it the question of the propriety of unionization of employees, held that they were entitled to the protection and benefits of the Wagner Act in their right to join any labor union, with which they desired to affiliate. This left the employer in the impossible situation of being required to deal with that group of his employees, whom the Board held were part of management, on the same basis as he dealt with those who admittedly were not a part of management. At the same time, the employer was held responsible for anything and everything these supervisory employees might say or do. Undoubtedly, this situation needed correction. It should have been corrected long ago. The Taft-Hartley Act corrected it by simply providing that supervisors and foremen were not included as employees under the law.

OTHER FEATURES

There are other features of the Taft-Hartley act, not comprehended in the Wagner Act, which requires employers and employees, where a labor contract is already in force to notify the other at least sixty days prior to its expiration date, if either desires to change the existing contract. It is not believed by this writer that there is any serious objection to this provision of the law from any source.

Another deal with welfare funds collected by some unions under terms of existing contracts. Ofttimes this fund is created by contributions from employers and employees, and formerly in most cases was generally administered by the union. The Taft-Hartley Act does not in any sense prevent the incorporation in labor contracts of provisions authorizing the establishment of welfare funds, but it does provide that where such a plan is provided for in a contract the purposes for which the fund is created must be definitely set forth, and there must be established in connection with the administration of the fund a non partisan authority to work with the employer and the union to see that the fund is used for the purposes intended.

Finally, it is believed that the Taft-Hartley act will definitely eliminate that form of labor strife, with which the general public has long been impatient — the jurisdictional strike. The Act approaches the solution to this problem in a sensible way. It simply provides that it shall be an unfair labor practice for a union to attempt to force an employer to assign particular employees to a certain job. In other words, the Act goes on the theory that if one is building a house, and the owner wants carpenters to hang the doors, and so employs them, the metal workers cannot strike and tie up the whole operation in an effort to compel the owner to let them hang the doors because the doors or hinges are made of metal. The position of this writer is that so long as the owner is willing to pay for the job, and is willing to use union men to do the job there should not be too much complaint as to which craft the work is assigned. It is hoped that the provision of the law will prevent many wasteful strikes which in the years gone by have cost employers untold thousands, and good workmen the loss of hundreds of working hours when there was no good reason for it, aside from the colossal loss to the public, as a whole, in goods not produced.

In conclusion the impression obtained by this writer is that the Taft-Hartley Act moves in the direction of making everybody, employer, employees and union alike responsible under the law. It moves in the direction of requiring parties to contracts to live up to their contracts, employer, employees and union alike. It protects labor in its right to strike, but attaches to labor unions a responsibility in the use of their power. It must be borne in mind that the Taft-Hartley Act is the law of the land, and the government of the United States will undoubtedly assert its supreme power in its enforcement and application. Those of giant business and industrial corporations and omni-poten labor leaders who feel they can ignore or boycott it are due for a shocking disappointment. It is believed that most employers and most union leaders and unions will, as good citizens, accept the principles of the Act and comply with it in good faith, seeking, where dissatisfied, a modification or amendment in a lawful, orderly way.

Of course, the Taft-Hartley Act, and this is true of any law that may be passed governing labor relations, will not settle all disputes, or solve all difficulties. These cannot all be settled by law. All that this act does, or tries to do, is to establish a balance and an equality of legal application and enforcement between the parties to labor contracts to the ultimate benefit of the public generally.

FBI Investigates Tennessee Blast

ETOWAH, Tenn., Oct. 4. (U)—The FBI joined county and city police today in investigating a mysterious automobile explosion which mangled and killed T. Burkett Ivins, prominent figure in McMinn county's turbulent politics.

Ivins was a lieutenant in the Paul Cantrell political machine which was ousted in a bullet-ridden election in August, 1946, when a veterans' group stormed the county jail where ballots were held.

The 65-year-old Democratic leader was killed yesterday when a terrific explosion ripped his car to pieces and blew a fender through the garage roof as he stepped on the starter.

About 5,000,000 trees are used each year in the United States for wire service poles, enough to build a line 100,000 miles long.

OFFICE WORK gets one in practice for such duties as corresponding secretary of the B and PW Club, thinks Mary Louise Gilmour, who works for the Texas Electric Service Company and is corresponding secretary of the club. Miss Gilmour works in the accounting department at Texas Electric and has been in charge of the museum committee of the club which has kept the museum open during the summer is making plans to enlarge it and add additional rooms.

A TECHNICIAN at the Big Spring Clinic is quite a profession with-in itself explains Jewell Barton, who is director of the Business and Professional Women's Club of this district. Miss Barton has been a member of the club for eleven years, first in Lubbock, then in Temple and she is a past president of the Big Spring club. A district director, she organizes new clubs and supervises those already organized.

PRESIDENT of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Mrs. Moree Sawtelle, thinks that being executive secretary of the Red Cross for the past seven years is the most interesting work that she has ever done. Mrs. Sawtelle has been a member of B and PW for seven years and thinks that the club can achieve many things with the work of all the members combined.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, women are making singular contributions to our community in business and professional vocations, and

WHEREAS, their association together in the Business and Professional Women's club stresses not only efficiency in work, but ethical and exemplary performance as well as progressive civic service, and

WHEREAS, the Business and Professional Women's club of Big Spring has had a record of distinguished service to its members and the community as well, and

WHEREAS, this week is being observed nationally as Business and Professional Women's week,

I, George W. Dabney, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Big Spring, Texas, do hereby proclaim Oct. 5-11 as Business and Professional Women's week in Big Spring as a means of focusing attention upon the constructive work of this organization.

WORKING with flowers can be fun as well as business especially when you own the shop as Faye Calthorp does. She is shown as she arranges a bouquet of gladioli. Miss Calthorp is also recording secretary to the Business and Professional Women's club and is finding that recording orders is good practice to recording secretaries. She has been a member of the club for approximately two years.

TYPING is an important task of the business and professional woman especially when that business woman, Edith Gay, is secretary to the Chamber of Commerce as well as second vice-president to the club. The telephone also plays an important part in contacting people as Miss Gay finds in getting her contact committee together. She is chairman of the Membership committee and makes much use of the telephone.

MRS. BETH KAY, editor of the B and PW Flash, which is the official publication of the Business and Professional Women's Club, also has time to be secretary to the internal auditor at Cosden Petroleum Company. Mrs. Kay is also chairman of the News Service Committee. She has edited the magazine which is a compilation of the goings and comings of the members of the club as well as general bulletin on club happenings and meetings.

NOT MUCH in common with teaching physical education and holding the purse strings to the Business and Professional Women's Club, but Arah Phillips has time for both positions. She has been physical education instructor at the high school for four years and has been a member of the B and PW Club for two years. She is also a member of the Finance Committee which controls the disbursement of the money.

FIGURES, FACTS, AND FIGURES—It's all in a day's work to a business and professional woman, is the attitude of Mrs. Mamie Mayfield, who is chief price and report clerk of the Accounting department at the Cosden Petroleum Refining Corporation and first vice-president of the club. She has been a member of the club for three years. As vice-president she is program co-ordination chairman of the club.

Business Women

Do Women Accept Responsibility Is Discussed By Club President

Women do not accept their share of responsibility, said Mrs. Morice Sawtelle, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club in an interview recently.

America, over 80 percent of the wealth in America and over 60 percent in Howard county.

The topic of discussion was the national slogan, which is better business women for a better business world.

Only one percent of the Congress of the United States is composed of women which is a smaller percentage than any other representative country in the world.

Women control over 85 percent of the retail buying power in America.

September Was One Of Driest Months Recorded

September went down in the books as one of the driest on record for the month. Only three years—1939 and 1922 with nothing and 1931 with .04 of an inch—produced less precipitation than the .11 of an inch attributed to the month this year by the U. S. weather bureau. The total was equal to the 1938 figure.

Normally, September is one of the wettest months in the year, but six of the past 11 years have fallen under an inch.

Temperatures averaged 77 degrees, or 1.6 degrees above the average for the month a year ago. Maximum was 102 degrees on Sept. 2, one of two days the heat got to 100 or above. It was far short of the record 107 in 1902. Lowest temperature was 53 on Sept. 23, which also was well above the 37 minimum record set in 1912.

Comparatively still weather was the order, and there were 19 days classed as clear, nine as partly cloudy and only two as cloudy. What small amount of moisture fell came in two light thunder-showers.

Dutch Plan Change In Royal Power

THE HAGUE, Oct. 4. (Sp1) — The Netherlands government announcement Friday that Queen Wilhelmina would temporarily lay down her royal power in the near future for reasons of health and that crown Princess Juliana would act as Princess Regent.

The announcement said that legislation would be introduced shortly in Parliament to permit transfer of the royal power.

The bulletin emphasized, however, that while the 67-year-old Queen was not in the best of health there was no reason for alarm over her condition.

Budget Solution To "New Look"

Associated Press Fashion Editor There's nothing dumb about the average American girl.

Faced with the necessity of acquiring an entirely new silhouette this fall, she didn't mortgage the old family homestead to acquire dozens of new dresses with longer skirts and rounded hiplines. Instead she laid in a supply of skirts for all occasions, teamed them with smart blouses, and there she was—all set to outshine the Gibson Girl.

Most career girls and others who can't afford a complete new wardrobe are taking this means to meet the new styles half way. Separate skirts and blouses are selling like hot cakes in every store in the country, and already you are seeing trim shirtwaist clad girls on every Main Street.

The choice of skirts and blouses is wide, and makes it possible to get together an interchangeable wardrobe at a minimum cost.

For street and office wear there are handsome tweed and flannel skirts, cut on the new fuller, longer lines, that team beautifully with trim white blouses.

For cocktail wear slightly longer black faille or velveteen skirts are the choice of the smartest young set, worn with dressier blouses or little separate velveteen jackets.

For evening the sky's the limit, and you may acquire lush and beautiful skirts with tiny corselet waists and billowing hemlines, in faille, velvet or brocade. Worn with blouses of varying degrees of formality, they will outfit a girl properly for any afterdark occasion.

Pictured here is an around-the-clock wardrobe of skirts and blouses, all with the important "new look." The blouses are by Abbott.

The CHIROPRACTOR-and You

This is One Of A Series Of Articles Published In The Public Interest To Explain And Illustrate The Practice Of Chiropractic.

CASE HISTORY No. 541. A former athlete who had been forced out of sport by an apparent injury to the left knee. The knee gave great pain whenever the limb was exerted, even in walking. For 7 years the condition persisted and, in the patient's own words: "I spent a small fortune trying to get the knee fixed, but no luck." A few weeks ago the patient read Article No. 2 of this series and visited a Chiropractor. Analysis revealed a pinched nerve in the knee which was traced to a displacement of a segment of the spine. A series of adjustments realigned the spine, released the pinched nerve and thereby removed the cause of the pain.

CASE HISTORY No. 37. A prominent business man who suffered from severe headaches at frequent intervals. Had great difficulty in obtaining sleep. Physical examinations had failed to reveal and abnormality and the headaches and sleeplessness were put down to "nervous tension." However, during a particularly severe headache he was persuaded to visit a Chiropractor. A spinal adjustment was given and the headache ceased immediately. Chiropractic analysis revealed an acute condition of constipation due to interference with the nerves supplying the intestines. The interference was removed by spinal adjustment, and as a result, bowel action became natural and the headache went.

CASE HISTORY No. 16. A musician worker suffering from severe "gas pains" in the stomach. Constipation and violent headaches were present. Actually afraid to eat because of the distress that followed. Had not worked a full day for seven months when he brought his case to a Chiropractor. Pressure on the nerves controlling the action of the stomach was located in the spine. Chiropractic adjustments relieved the pressure and within a short time nature restored the digestive rhythm to normal.

WHY YOU ARE ILL. Chiropractors have found that illness and dis-ease are most often caused by pressure upon the nerves which carry vital nerve force from the brain to various parts of the body. The nervous system radiates from the spinal column, and it is here that even slight pressure from a displaced segment of the spine can impede the flow of nerve force from the brain, thus interfering with the function of one or more parts of the body. This nerve interference can be located accurately by the Chiropractic technique. The Chiropractor can then remove the pressure by a simple adjustment with his hands only. Drugs and surgery are not employed. Once the cause of the illness is removed, Nature itself restores the affected part to normal.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION concerning the modern Chiropractor and what he can do for you. Phone 419. Appointment only.

No Fanfares Set For Royal Wedding

AP Newsfeatures LONDON—Glamor-starved Britons who hoped that the grinding monotony of "we work or we want" would be relieved by a round of exciting, handsome social functions preceding the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Philip Mountbatten have been disappointed again.

Their government cannot afford the indulgence.

From members of the royal household it was learned that virtually the only events preliminary to the ceremony in Westminster Abbey Nov. 20 will be private ones—a dinner here, a reception there, a modest party somewhere else would not unduly tax privy purse or public treasury.

Normally, there would be at least one full state dinner for foreign royalty, high-ranking diplomats and other illustrious guests; a grand ball reminiscent of opulent, ornate times; colorful receptions at royal establishments, and perhaps touches of anticipatory pageantry. All that is ruled out because Britain is hard up, plagued by short-gages of essentials, and generally care-ridden.

As tentative arrangements now stand, the public might enjoy a look-in at only one show, and that merely a rehearsal of the wedding principals. And to get a peep at shadows rather than substance, people probably would have to be up pretty early, as such practicing customarily is done first thing in the morning when traffic is light and the risk of crowd obstruction relatively mild.

No date, however, has been set for a rehearsal, which will entail chiefly a trial run, with horses, carriages and outsiders, over the route from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey, and back again, in order to achieve perfect timing, and a run through the wedding ritual itself, clergy, choir and standins taking part.

In line with the king's wishes to observe strictest economy, plans for flood-lighting public buildings in London on the night of Nov. 20 have been cancelled. Probably the only building to be illuminated will be Buckingham Palace, making it easier for the crowds to see Princess Elizabeth and Philip if they appear outside.

BE PREPARED

Red Cross Disaster Director Is Number 1 Pessimist In U.S.

WASHINGTON—All you can do about a disaster, says Colin Herrie, is get ready for it.

And he is. As national administrator of Red Cross disaster services, nothing that man or nature may cook up in the way of devastation can surprise or dismay him.

Herrie, a tall, gray native of Washington, is 55 years old and has spent 37 of those years with the Red Cross—33 of them getting ready for, and getting over, disasters from Vermont and Louisiana to China and Serbia.

The Red Cross depends primarily on its local chapters—one in every county, at least—for its disaster preparedness. Each chapter has a disaster chairman in charge of surveying local resources and getting them lined up for emergency use.

"One of the best setups we have is in Florida, the Dade County organization in Miami," Herrie told me. "If they had a hurricane this morning they could put 30,000 people under shelter tonight."

Disaster business in this country is big. The Red Cross gets about a disaster a day, ranging from small fires up to floods, cyclones and hurricanes. It still is paying for the care of people injured in cyclones 10 years ago and expects to be taking care of injured from the Texas City, Texas, explosion and fire 10 years hence.

Here, roughly, is the way the Red Cross goes to work on a disaster:

The U. S. Weather Bureau makes daily rainfall reports, at noon, to Red Cross headquarters here. When a hurricane is spotted, it reports more frequently, sometimes a half-dozen times a day, on the storm's progress and probably path.

Suppose a hurricane is headed for Florida and the Weather Bureau thinks it will hit Dade County first. The nearest Red Cross area office, at Atlanta, Ga., makes sure the local chapters have been warned and are getting ready. It may establish a temporary regional headquarters to direct the work of chapters in several counties or even several states.

The local workers get their machinery in operation and make sure that families along the coast have been warned and moved out. If necessary, the Red Cross moves them.

When the storm strikes, emergency aid—food, shelter, clothing and medicine—is on hand. The local chapter even plans truck routings in advance.

After the storm, specially trained disaster workers go into the area and make a rehabilitation survey. The people help themselves as much as possible, then the Red Cross carries on from there with gifts of money for hospital care, to replace furniture and clothes and even to repair or rebuild houses. Sometimes the gifts run into thousands of dollars for a single family.

"For years that rehabilitation work ran about $4,000,000 a year."

Herrie said, "Last year it was $5,000,000, and the Lord only knows what it will be this year."

Inventory At Three-Quarter Mark

At the three-quarter mark, it is perhaps proper to take stock as a community.

There are definitely some bright signs — and some not so encouraging.

On the right sides of the ledger, we have come through with a big cotton crop despite drought. This followed on the heels of a record wheat crop for this county of a 125,000 bushels of wheat which brought upwards of a quarter of a million. Feed and cotton may add around five and a half million dollars. Livestock trade has been generally sound with high prices although at the moment offerings are off. Spring clip on wool was excellent.

Industry has been active with Couden and the T&P both handling record volumes. Their joint "pipeline on wheels" experiment is proving hopeful as well as stimulating an already peak government of oil over the fire. Smaller industries have had a steady to good business in the main.

Church attendance held up well during the summer slump period and several of the major institutions are entering the autumn with excellent prospects. Health of the community has been good, there having been no epidemics. Polio was held to a minimum and there was, thanks to the rodent control program, no typhus.

While scores of Texas cities were vexed by serious water problems, Big Spring sailed through in sound shape in the face of an all-time high for summer demand. Fire and safety records have been fair.

Substantial extensions have been made to the mail delivery service here. The city is making steady progress on production of badly needed street markers.

On the other side, while freight has boomed in transportation field, passenger traffic is not as strong and Big Spring has shown a weakness, lately in embarking air passengers. Although the harvest is good, agricultural outlook beyond this autumn is gloomy at the moment. The feed crop is far short and ranges are in extremely poor condition for carrying stock. Stocker sales on livestock markets have been slow and weak. Lack of moisture is forestalling small grain and desperately needed cover crop plantings. Plans for a fire substation and airport terminal development have been delayed or pigeon-holed.

A number of things show bright spots and yet so much to be done. Significant strides were made in beautification, but we are a long way from being an attractive city. Building figures are disappointing on the commercial side, but fairly encouraging on the residential side. Paving has been slow and inadequate, but a promising project is in the making. The veterans hospital project has been delayed but looking up. Good work has been done with our city park, but no attempt has been made to extend the park system. Dispersion of small and moved-in housing units has not helped appearances, but zoning is beginning to show some effects. The low total on major crimes is fair, but the misdemeanor dockets are discouraging. Scholastically, schools have made progress, but the financial situation is critical.

Also on the borderline is community attitude. It is better at the moment than 30 days ago, but there is still much to be desired in confidence, vision and aggressiveness. In the final analysis, this will count for a great deal more than many other things. Thus, many of our hopes ultimately lie in the people who make up the community.

Independent Iowa

DES MOINES, Ia., (AP)—"What is Iowa Like?" I asked this of buddy of Ernie Pyle and at present columnist and radio commentator for the Des Moines Register and Tribune.

Here's a thumbnail portrait of the tall corn state in "Gams' anecdotes."

Iowa farmers are thrifty: one listed $1.50 depreciation on a $8 fountain pen in filing his income tax report. . . . They know what they want: one rejected a hotel room with bath because "I don't want folks running in and out all night." . . . Another answered city dwellers' complaints on the high price of butter by figuring out it took 2,500 squirts from a cow to make a pound.

Iowans are independent: a judge offered to suspend a $300 fine for drunken driving. "No," said the defendant. "I'd rather pay. I don't want anything hanging over my head."

The big league pitcher, Bob Feller, was halted by highway patrolman Napoleon Bonaparte Wilson for speeding. "I'm Feller. Cleveland Indians," said Bob. Replied the patrolman: "I'm Wilson. Highway Patrol." Feller got three tickets. . . . The speaker of the House of Representatives, Farmer Gus Kuester, refused to wear a tux to the governor's inaugural, explaining: "Never wore one of the darn things before and ain't startin' now."

Iowans are folksy: Whacking away at burning timbers atop a building, a city fireman called down to a passin' friend: "Hey, Joe, run over to the fire station, will you, and turn out the fire."

under the prunes." . . . A bus driver rolling down the street on which he lived, stopped, got out, thrashed his little son for playing in the street—then resumed his trip. . . .

Iowans aren't all consistent: The hero of a fire at the state penitentiary was a man serving twenty years for arson. . . . During a religious census one man scribbled on the question sheet: "I'm an atheist, thank God." . . . On the other hand, some Iowans are consistent: The governor is Robert D. Blue—and he uses blue stationery. . . . and a preacher raised a storm of protest when he learned that some sod he'd sold was to be used for a baseball park.

Iowans are poetic: A high school boy sent his best girl a cheese on Valentine's day with this note: "This cheese may be strong, but not as strong as my love for you." . . .

Some Iowa economic trends: A grocer extended a self-service pushcart to a customer. "Don't need one," said the customer. "only got $5." . . . A father bought a fountain pen as a graduation present for his son. "Going to surprise him?" inquired the clerk. "I'll say," declared the father. "He thinks he's going to get a convertible." . . .

A religious zealot delivering a private sermon to a grocer held up a long line of customers. "This fellow's trying to sell me heaven," apologized the grocer to the waiting women. "Take it," snapped a peppery little grandmother. "It's cheaper than anything you've got."

That's Iowa.

Intervention Oftimes Boomerangs

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer

Just how far ought a President's wife to go in bringing influence to bear on government departments, boards and bureaus? Should there be a law enjoining the chief executive's wife, sons, daughters, brothers, uncles, nephews and in-laws from interfering with government agencies in the responsible exercise of their lawful function?

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is one of the most highly respected women of our time. The goodness of her heart is conceded by all. We do not believe she would intentionally harm a fly.

Yet the house un-American committee trying to find out why Hanns Eisler, the Hollywood composer, managed to get into this country over the combined opposition of the labor department and the consular service found that the trail led directly to Mrs. Roosevelt.

Under date of January 11, 1939, Mrs. Roosevelt wrote to "Dear Sumner" Welles, then undersecretary of state, stating that a lot of papers had been brought to her by a friend in behalf of Eisler.

"The man who brought them is a perfectly honest person and very much disturbed," wrote the First Lady. This friend, she said, thought the state department had mixed Eisler's entry, and he (her unnamed friend) "is perfectly sure that the Eislers are not communists and have no political affiliations of any kind." Continuing, Mrs. Roosevelt wrote: "He is sure that they (the Eislers, man and wife) believe our form of government is 'heaven' and would be entirely agreeable without reservation to take an oath of allegiance."

In conclusion, the First Lady suggests that the labor department "did not examine the case carefully enough."

"Why not do it all over again and bring it out in the open and let the Eislers defend themselves?" (One witness testified that the files of the state department contained considerable evidence that Eisler was a Red.)

Well, the case was re-opened and Eisler got in. He personally testified before the committee recently that he joined Communist party in Germany in 1926, but insisted he had not been "active." (His brother, however, was the top Communist in the United States, and is now serving time for holding congress in contempt.) Eisler also bragged that he had written a number of red-tinted songs, including a Comintern marching tune.

A Communist will take an oath of allegiance as readily as a chicken will pick up a grain of corn. He will deny his communism under oath if it serves the present purpose.

Mrs. Roosevelt was concerned that an alien might be denied his "rights" in this country, and that, it seems to us, is carrying meekness and hospitality a mite too far. What "right" has any foreigner to enter this country? American citizenship is a precious heritage, and in the case of foreigners seeking the full rights of citizenship this country's laws, institutions and convenience should be consulted first, not the convenience and the desires of the would-be newcomer.

Of course the departments jumped through hoops when Mrs. R. sounded off. One doesn't turn down the President's wife out of hand. So Eisler got in and it remains to be seen whether all the power and machinery of the United States government can get him out again. It failed in the case of Harry Bridges and others.

Mrs. Truman is said to turn a cold and fishy eye at any and all petitioners who seek her help with government departments or at the White House. Bullseye for her! She seems to think that she is just the President's wife.

That is as it should be. Many a dutiful official's wife would no more think of using her conjugal position to exercise influence on others than she'd fly. Maybe congress would do well to pass a law forbidding the families of office-holders from President on down from "practicing" before the various departments.

Board Studies Air Problems

WASHINGTON. — For months there'll be a lot in the news about hearings on aviation by a presidential board and congressmen.

Because the hearings are important, here's a roundup explanation of what they mean, how they started, and why.

The United States Air Force became huge during the war. So did the American aviation industry which expanded to build planes.

With war's end the air force was cut to pint-size. So was the aviation industry which then had no more war orders.

True, there still are orders for military planes and many commercial planes. But they're tiny compared with wartime orders. So, with the end of the war, some important questions moved up front:

1. What do we do about developing better planes in case of future war? Other countries are doing that. How do we keep in front?
2. If another war comes, we'll

England-Eire Relations Improve

From Dublin comes news that Eire finally has decided to remove the bitterly disliked statue of Queen Victoria which through many decades of hostile relationship between southern Ireland and England has stood in front of Leinster house—now the Dail, or Parliament, of an independent Eire.

The announced reason for the removal is that the room it occupies is needed for parking space—poor Victoria! But everybody knows there are few reminders of Britain that stir the fightin' Irishman to greater wrath than sight of the queen who ruled in days which southern Ireland would like to forget.

However, despite this barrier between Eire and England—a barrier which was responsible in no small degree for Eire's much criticized neutrality in the late world war—recent developments have set observers to speculating whether perhaps the two old enemies might be on the way to a bury of the hatchet. The past few weeks have seen events which might portend better times.

First was the trip by Prime Minister De Valera to London to

Casino Headache

NEW YORK — I bespoke a slight envy for Shep Fields the other evening while escapin' Manhattan's heat at Shep's suburban temple of dine and dance, The Glen Island Casino. Shep promptly advised me to save my envy for something more worthy.

This seemed confusing to me since it is a known fact that Shep is what is known in Broadway financial circles as "loaded."

Shep acquired his "loaded" bank account when he was the maestro of an orchestra which diverted large sections of the dancing populace with a bouncy style called "Rippling Rhythm."

You remember, you dipped a straw into an ice cream soda, or a goldfish bowl and as you exhaled the noise of the gentle bubbling represented "Rippling Rhythm." This simple gimmick actually earned for Shep Fields more than a million dollars.

I was walking about the grounds of The Glen Island Casino, which Shep had acquired as a "sideline," and was complimenting him on the fact that such a lucrative avocation. Having been burning with a wish to get rid of his baton and the problems of fattening his bank balance, he was actually bent on finding a house when he fell across the opportunity to run the Casino.

Having opened the sprightly premises on a noisy, gaudy note of success, with first-nighters arriving in splashy convertibles, speedboats, yachts, and even helicopters, Shep watched the books take on a neatly monotonous decoration of solvent bank ink. But—

"I've learned that operating this big dine and dance joint is a triple colossus of a headache," he said wearily. "I go to bed at three a. m. after checking up on the night's receipts, and then find myself in the wholesale meat markets at five shopping for the best cuts of beef."

"I've got 245 employees' temperaments to attend to. I think I can ask that psychiatrist guy, Zilboorg, to move over. Sometimes I'm at my desk at 10 a. m. and don't get more than a couple hours sleep a day. And I used to think playing one nighters with my band was a bother."

Shep is getting his band back together and is going to head right back playing one-nighters as soon as the Casino season is finished. "It may not be easier this time," he said, "but it'll sure seem easier after this place."

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Draw Pearson

Wall Street Puts Clark On Spot

WASHINGTON. — The former Wall Street firms of certain cabinet members have put one of their cabinet colleagues—Attorney General Tom Clark—very much on the spot.

Clark has had dumped on his lap the charge that Dillon, Read & Company plus Harriman, Ripley violated the anti-trust laws in regard to the sale of $25,000,000 preferred stock being issued by the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

This charge isn't going to bring happiness to certain gentlemen in and on the edge of the Truman cabinet—namely Secretary of National Defense Forrestal, former head of Dillon, Read; Secretary of Commerce Harriman, who founded Harriman, Ripley; and Undersecretary of State Lovell, ex-senior partner of the Harriman firm. Though all three have divorced themselves from their Wall Street firms, there is no doubt in the minds of Washington officialdom that the partners they left behind would give serious consideration to any suggestions made by them.

For some months the justice department has been holding a grand jury investigation of Wall Street investment houses, including Dillon, Read. In fact, just before Wendell Berge resigned as assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division, he was all set to prosecute. But six months have dragged by and for some mysterious reason nothing has happened. John Sonnett, new head of the anti-trust division and former aide to Forrestal, has not proceeded.

On top of this earlier grand jury probe, Cleveland bankers this week complained to the justice department that the Dillon-Read, Harriman-Ripley group had frozen them out of a refinancing job for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

This company advertises that "Cleveland is the best location in the nation." When it came to refinancing, however, this utility went to Wall Street. And the negotiations were kept so secret, Cleveland bankers charge that the Middle West was frozen out of the business.

What the justice department has been probing through its recent New York grand jury is the right of big banking houses to hatch up secret financing deals without giving outside bankers a chance to compete.

Secret deals, the justice department claims, keep prices high and give the public no chance to benefit from lower rates.

The whole question is now resting uneasily on the doorstep of Attorney General Tom Clark as to whether he will prosecute the ex-banking firms of his cabinet colleagues.

Making democracy live—Stanley Bojens, an ex-GI of San Diego, has developed a peace program called "Peace By Postage," a sort of personalized foreign policy. Plan consists of sending personal parcels to families in foreign countries who befriended GIs during the war. "If veterans themselves can win individual friends," says Bojens, "it will be difficult for governments to go to war." . . . Harold Hermanson has inspired the Alumni of the Bethesda-Chevy Chase senior high school in the suburbs of the nation's capital to give the children of war dead as good an education as the children of fathers who lived. When Hermanson saw some of his buddies killed, he determined to do something for their children. With the help of many patriotic alumni of his old school, Hermanson, a bachelor, has made good that promise. . . . Amvets (Ray Sawyer, National commander) was the only veterans organization to appear before the Senate to champion the O'Mahoney-Langer anti-monopoly bill; also was first to support the Marshall Plan. . . . Senator Bridges of New Hampshire has made it a flat rule that all senators who went to Europe this summer on his appropriations committee must pay their wives' expenses. . . . while most prices are soaring, one outfit — the Boatrailer Company of Detroit —has done just the opposite. It has reduced all prices 5 per cent, counting on greater sales to make up the difference. . . . Abbott and Costello, besides making youngsters laugh, operate a youth center for helping delinquent youngsters-improve their lives.

Not making democracy live—The British government is now trading 20,000 Yugoslavs, who had fled to the British zone of Austria, to Tito in return for British copper and gold mines in southern Yugoslavia seized during the war. Their return in some cases means death. . . . Some real estate dealers are brazenly flouting the law requiring them to give veterans preference in renting homes. Though this is required by law, the Republican Congress carefully cut from 400 to 15 the government enforcement officers supposed to enforce the law. Result: Real estate dealers know they can get away with flouting the veterans. . . . right under the nose of the justice department in Washington, the real estate boys have been accepting nonveterans on waiting lists even before new homes and apartments were completed. The law clearly stipulates that nonveterans shall not be able to rent until veterans have had a 30-day priority. . . . Coca beans, kept down to 9 cents a pound by OPA, have now soared to 38 cents. This affects every kid who buys a chocolate bar or a piece of chocolate candy. Cocoa is one of the nicest and tightest of international monopolies being controlled by the cocoa exchange and the British. Poetie John Sonnett, the alleged trust-buster, has done nothing about it.

State Fair Of Texas Opens

The 1947 State Fair of Texas, described by some enthusiasts as even better than the big 1936 centennial, opens in Dallas today for a 16-day run—Oct. 4 through Oct. 19.

A glance at the schedule indicates they may be right. All of the permanent buildings at the fair ground, constructed for the centennial, are packed this year. And new buildings have been added.

There are just as many big-name shows and events. Dallas is all set for the big show. Streets are decorated. There's an air of expectancy, of tense excitement, among the natives.

Outside the fair grounds proper, other entertainment spots over town are getting in on the act—special floor shows at the numerous night clubs, special movies at the theaters.

But what about the fair itself? Well, here are a few of the offerings:

"Annie Get Your Gun". Broadway hit, will be offered at the fair park auditorium. Mary Martin, Texas' own big name musical comedy star, will play the lead. It took a special train to bring the cast and property to Dallas from New York.

The Ice Cycles of 1947, at the Ice arena, is a thrilling show on skates. It has beauty, comedy, gorgonoid, etc. It is magnificent scenes, gorgeous girls, or did we mention them before?

Two top football games—Southern Methodist against Missouri and Texas vs. Oklahoma University; a breath-taking midway with all the trimmings; fireworks; whitehorse revue; museums; aquarium; farm exhibits to warm the hearts of the most confirmed agriculturist; roller coaster; food show; free entertainment on the grounds; souvenirs; hamburgers; rodeos; historical exhibits; gun shows; carnivals—and Elsie the cow.

Ladd And Lamour Combine Talents In 'Wild Harvest'

Alan Ladd returns to the screen at the Ritz today co-starring with Dorothy Lamour in Paramount's "Wild Harvest" with Lloyd Nolan and Robert Preston in supporting roles.

The setting is the novel one of America's great wheat country where giant combine crews battle each other and the elements for the profitable job of harvesting the vast fields of golden grain. Ladd portrays the leader of one such combine crew; Preston and Nolan are his friends and co-workers. The story revolves around their problems and the life-and-death hazards connected with their work.

Ladd gives an excellent account of himself as the hard-driving, hard-hitting leader of tough men. For the first time he plays opposite Dorothy Lamour, who has her first straight dramatic part in many years. Dorothy is seen as the discontented niece of a farmer. She wants no part of the farm and is determined to leave no stone unturned to get away from it. She thinks Ladd will provide her escape, but when he finds that he must choose between her and the combine crew, he prefers the latter.

Dorothy gets even by marrying his best friend and co-worker, Robert Preston. Over Ladd's objections the crew permits the newlyweds to accompany it, which gives the spiteful Dorothy a chance to heckle Ladd and her husband to such an extent that a blow-up is inevitable. What happens at that point adds to the thrill pile that "Wild Harvest" rolls up from the very start.

LADD AND LAMOUR — Alan Ladd and Dorothy Lamour are starred together in "Wild Harvest" opening today at the Ritz.

IN TECHNICOLOR — "Homestretch" a story of racing featuring Cornell Wilde and Maureen O'Hara (shown above) is playing at the State.

Highlights On KBST

Featured in the Theatre Guild on the Air presentation of Sir James M. Barrie's adult comedy, "The Admirable Crichton," to-night at 8:30 over KBST, will be Basil Rathbone and June Duprez. Miss Duprez, a featured player in many movies, including "None But the Lonely Heart," was seen in Broadway last year in various productions of the American Repertory Theatre Company.

By general agreement, "The Admirable Crichton" ranks high in the select category of plays that are called "distinguished comedy." In it, playwright Barrie is concerned with some of the deeper aspects of English behavior though he chooses to present his findings in terms of sly amusement. A butler who firmly believes in the superiority of his masters is the principal character in the play and his own superiority to them is made clear when a serious crisis arises.

PATTI PAGE
Songstress Patti Page will star in her own program when it makes its debut over KBST this afternoon at 3:30 to 4:00 p. m. CST. She will be assisted by the George Barnes Octet and a full orchestra directed by Rex Maupin.

Patti will be heard singing "We'll Be Together Again," "Mean To Me," "Oh My Achin' Heart," "Come to the Mardi Gras," and "Every So Often." The George Barnes Octet will play "Zebra's Derby." Don DeLillo will offer "I Surrender Dear" as a trombone solo. Selections by the orchestra will include "Mimi," "Lady Be Good," and "So Far."

"THE GREATEST STORY"

The story of Philip, the young boy whose unflinching faith was rewarded by The Master, will be told in a drama titled "The Troubled Waters" on the KBST broadcast of "The Greatest Story Ever Told" at 5:30 this afternoon. Although his grandfather had been ill for 38 years, young Philip was sure a cure could be found for the old man. The youngster went without food to obtain delicacies for his grandfather. In a supreme sacrifice, Philip prepared to sell his body into slavery in order to raise money to send his grandfather to the pool of Bethesda in Jerusalem.

Aghast that anyone in his family should consider abandoning freedom, Philip's grandfather, accompanied by the boy, undertook the journey to Jerusalem. Time after time the old man prepared to abandon the project, but when he was beside the pool of Bethesda, The Master approached him and commanded—"Rise, take up thy bed, and walk."

State Film Gives Action And Color Of Racing World

With "Homestretch" which plays today and Monday at the State, with Cornell Wilde and Maureen O'Hara in the starring roles, the technicolor camera has been turned on the "Sport of Kings" to come up with what is called a picture that combines all the drama and color of the turf with an exciting love story.

Wilde and Miss O'Hara have been assigned roles of interest and the story is swiftly paced, set against brilliant backgrounds. The romance that picture unfolds is that of two contrasting personalities — a carefree reckless spendthrift who dreams of conquering the racing world and a reserved and sensitive Boston girl who is put to an unusual test in the turbulent atmosphere of international horse racing. The story tosses the two across three continents in a race against misunderstanding and fate.

Besides this romantic angle the film is notable for its outstanding racing sequences. The Ascot Gold Cup, the Green Premio Nacional, the Kentucky Derby and other famous races events are brought to the screen in scenes that capture the colorful spectacle, the drama, suspense and thrills of these turf classics.

Film Classic Is Showing At Lyric

Starring Spencer Tracy, Darryl F. Zanuck's presentation of "Stanley and Livingstone" returns to the screen of the Lyric Theatre to thrill audiences anew with its drama of adventure. Directed by Henry King, the film unfolds the saga of newspaper reporter Henry M. Stanley, celebrated search for missionary-explorer Dr. David Livingstone through darkest Africa. How he found Livingstone, how the world called the newspaper man "the most colossal liar of his age," and how he later became the greatest hero of his era is a story that has been dramatized for the screen and is credited with being one of the great adventure films of all time.

Spencer Tracy is seen as the intrepid New York Tribune reporter, Stanley. Nancy Kelly is paired with Richard Greene as the romantic duo with Walter Brennan, Charles Coburn, Henry Hull, Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Henry Travers giving expert accounts of the colorful personalities involved in Stanley's apparently hopeless assignment to cop the biggest "scoop" of the century.

Preparations for the making of "Stanley and Livingstone" began long before the script was written, when famed explorer Mrs. Martin Johnson led an expedition of Hollywood players and technicians in to the wild Tanganyika country of Africa to photograph background material. The small safari retraced Stanley's historic nine month trek through the Dark Continent's wilderness to the jungle village of Ujiji, where Dr. Livingstone was found. Their work was invaluable when the actual filming of the picture, which took three years, commenced.

Assigned the script writing chore, Philip Dunne and Julien Josephson authored a screen play that fully capitalizes on the story's dramatic potentialities to make it an adventure classic.

Hobbyist Asks Stalin To Send Lucky Clover

SHANGHAI — Charles E. French, of Huntington Park, Calif., has been trying for several years to get a fourleaf clover from Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin.

French, who calls himself "Clover Charlie," conveyed this information to Mrs. Barbara Volin, secretary of The Associated Press bureau in Shanghai, to whom he wrote after seeing a photo depicting her with a pile of Chinese banknotes, representing a month's salary.

French asked Barbara for a four-leaf clover from Shanghai. She replied they were hard to get here. He wrote her again and, fully, he said he had no four-leaf clovers in Italy, France or Yugoslavia, "and should you run across any from any of those places, and can spare them, I'd be rather tickled to have them."

He had, he said, a letter from Gen. Charles de Gaulle—"but no clover"—and he expected both a letter and a clover from the Pope, to whom he intended to write.

"I've been working on Joseph Stalin for several years—sent him an airmail last Saturday—and I'm hoping," French said.

He said he had clovers from every state of the Union, all the provinces of Canada, and 22 foreign countries. During the war, he said, he had sent clovers to servicemen all over the world.

Soviet Plans To Develop Irkutsk Area

AP Newsfeatures
MOSCOW — The Irkutsk District in Eastern Siberia is slated for industrial development in the near future, according to Pravda, which summed up the results of a recent conference on the productive forces of the district. The conference was attended by some of the outstanding economists of the Soviet Union and studied various problems of the economic growth of the area. The Irkutsk District, which is larger than Texas, is located along the shores of Lake Baikal, fifth largest and deepest lake in the world. It has developed rapidly since the Bolshevik revolution. During these thirty years, according to Pravda, production of coal has increased twelve times, salt mining ten times, timber output ten times and total industrial production eighteen times. All this development has not even scratched the surface of natural resources, Pravda stated. The conference was told that on the basis of local coal, water, power, iron ore and salt the whole region would be turned into a tremendous electric power and industrial combine. The Angara River, according to Soviet sources, is the most economical source of electric power in the world, largely because of the fact that Lake Baikal with its tremendous water reserves guarantees year round flow through power turbines.

Flying Physicians Cover 'Outback'

AP Newsfeatures
SYDNEY — Australia's "flying doctor" service claimed to be the only one of its kind in the world, is carrying medical aid to farmers and cattle and sheep ranchers in Australia's lonely "outback." The idea was conceived by the Rev. Dr. John Flynn ("Flynn of the Inland"), superintendent of the Presbyterian Inland Mission. Started 26 years ago with one base at Cloncurry in North-West Queensland, the flying doctor service now has eight bases throughout Australia covering virtually all of the dominion's 2,974,000 square miles. Staffing each base is a doctor, pilot and radio operator. Each base equipped with medical and surgical supplies, a two-way radio and "Dragon" twin-engine aircraft fitted out as an aerial ambulance. People living on isolated farms and ranches contact the base with a "pedal wireless" power for which is obtained by working bicycle-like pedals. These are installed in homes for $275. In the case of mild illnesses, medical advice is given from the base by radio, together with instructions for the use of the medical kit with which every homestead is equipped. Work done by Dr. J. G. Woods from his Broken Hill Base, New South Wales, is typical. With a practice covering an area of 400,000 square miles, Dr. Woods sometimes flies more than 900 miles in one call. If a patient needs hospital attention he is flown back to base in the aerial ambulance. The flying doctor service is maintained by government subsidy, private donations and a voluntary contribution scheme by which settlers in the area pay a yearly subscription.
