President Asks U. S. To Eat Less Bread

Truman Also Requests Reduced Feeding Of Grain To Livestock

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—President Truman today asked the American people to eat less bread and thus help save 100,000,000 bushels of grain for European aid. He also asked reduced feeding of grain to livestock. Addressing the first meeting of his citizens' food committee at the White House, Mr. Truman exhorted: "Me must get prices down and help hungry people in other countries at the same time."

Solons Demand Restrictions On Red Visits

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—A court refusal by Russia to let 12 Senators visit Moscow brought demands by two Congress members today for a tougher policy on admitting Soviet citizens to this country.

The Soviet foreign ministry declined to issue visas either for members of the Senate appropriations committee or John Peurifoy, assistant secretary of state, to make an inspection of the U. S. embassy. The explanation to Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith was: "Inasmuch as the USSR is not considered a country that could be made the subject of an investigation on the part of the visiting Senators, we do not consider their trip to be suitable."

Senator Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the committee, declared the incident raises the question of how much longer the United States will permit "indiscriminate admission of Soviet subjects and sympathizers."

Senator Dvorshak (R-Idaho), a member of the group, told a reporter there should at least be a careful scrutiny of any such admissions in the future.

"I understand there are about 1,900 Russians in this country," Dvorshak said. "I wonder what they are investigating."

Bridges disclosed that the individual Senators applied for Russian visas during their preparations for a European trip to start next week.

ATOM THIEF PLEADS GUILTY

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. (AP)—Arnold F. Kivi, 26, former Army sergeant in whose home the FBI said it found 37 photographs and 10 negatives taken at the atom bomb plant at Los Alamos, N. M., will be sentenced Oct. 9. Kivi, saying he wanted to "get it over with," pleaded guilty yesterday in federal court to charges of stealing government property and possessing restricted photographs.

Efforts Fail To Terminate U. N. Deadlock

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. (AP)—The United Nations assembly failed in its first effort today to break the deadlock in the race between the Soviet Ukraine and India for the security council seat to be vacated by Poland Dec. 31.

The first secret vote of the 57 nations today, after seven indecisive ballots yesterday, showed: Ukraine 31; India 23. A two-thirds majority of those present and voting—36 votes—was required for election.

The eighth ballot—the first for the day—indicated no major shift in the voting line-up. The last ballot yesterday gave the Ukraine 35 and India 23.

The ninth ballot showed: Ukraine 32, India 24. Dr. Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil announced president, then ruled that the assembly should drop the security council seat contest temporarily and move on to the election of six replacement members to the economic and social council.

However, at this point Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, chief of the Indian delegation and ambassador to Moscow, took the floor for a brief statement of refusal to withdraw India from the contest.

Russia was backing the Soviet Ukraine, one of the constituent republics of the Soviet Union, and the United States and Britain were backing India in the hard-fought contest within the 57-nation assembly.

New Stokes Trial Is Now Underway

HENDERSON, Oct. 1. (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Stokes, 23, was on trial here today in the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tommie (Dorlene) Garrett, whom the state charges died last March 4 after drinking poisoned buttermilk. It is the second trial for Mrs. Stokes, who lives in Garrison. At Nacogdoches last June a jury failed to agree, and the case was transferred to Henderson.

Shortly after a jury was completed yesterday afternoon, the state introduced as evidence against Mrs. Stokes a prescription for reducing tablets, Mrs. Stokes is charged with murder.

Mrs. N. C. Akin, Garrison housewife, testified at "Mrs. Stokes' second trial, that she gave the reducing medicine prescription to Mrs. Stokes and to no other person. Robin Hooper, pharmacist of McDavid's drug store at Timpon, had testified earlier that he sold two bottles of strychnine and a prescription of reducing tablets to a woman whose identity he did not know.

He said the young woman gave him the name of Mrs. Tommie Garrett and said she wanted to use the poison on possums which were raiding her chicken yard. Hooper testified the woman paid him with six silver dollars.

But Patty didn't get to see big Joe make the first Yankee hit yesterday; Patty died at 5 a. m.

Way Cleared For Hearing On City Paving

City Passes Ordinances Unanimously

A series of ordinances, clearing the way for a public hearing on the new paving contract, gained unanimous approval Tuesday afternoon at an abbreviated session of the Big Spring city commission.

The public hearing has been set for 7:30 p. m. Oct. 14 at the city hall.

Prior to ordering the public hearing, however, the commissioners ordered paving improvements to Washington Blvd., which were not included on the original list and appropriated money from the general fund to bear the city's part of the cost.

Fifty blocks are included on the final list, and estimated cost for completing the entire contract amounts to $200,289.04. The city will pay an estimated $49,832.22, or approximately 25 percent of the total, with the balance to be charged against owners of abutting property on the various streets involved.

Following is a list of streets included in the contract, with curb to curb widths and estimated costs per front foot:

- NW Third, from Gregg to Aylford, 40-feet, $5.10; N. Second, Gregg to Benton, 40-feet, $5.40; S. Second, Nolan to Benton, 55-feet, $6.49; S. Fifth, Main to Nolan, 30-feet, $4.25; S. Sixth, Main to Gollad, 30-feet, $4.44; S. Eighth, Scurry to Gollad, 30-feet, $4.10; S. Ninth, Runnels to Gollad, 30-feet, $4.22; S. Tenth, Scurry to Main, 40-feet, $4.91; S. Eleventh, Scurry to Main, 30-feet, $3.75; S. Twelfth, Main to Runnels, 30-feet, $4.28; S. Thirteenth, Runnels to Johnson, 30-feet, $4.16; S. Fourteenth, Lancaster to Gollad, 40-feet, $4.91; S. Fifteenth, Lancaster to Dallas, 40-feet, $4.73; S. Sixteenth, Third to Fourth, 55.16; S. Seventeenth, Second to Third, 50-feet, $6.05; Washington Blvd., 11th Place to East city limits, 60-feet, $6.92.

First Payment Is Made On '47 Taxes

First payment of city taxes on 1947 assessments was made this morning as the first group of statements reached property owners. The city tax department began mailing the statements Tuesday and others were to go out today. Virtually all property owners should receive their respective statements before the end of the week, officials said.

Payments have been limited to two methods this year, annual and semi-annual. The quarterly payment plan was abolished at a recent meeting of the city commission.

Weather Makes Dull Conversation Today

It would take a lot of imagination to work up a conversation about the weather today—it was fair, cool, with no showers anywhere. And no change is predicted for tomorrow. Coldest today was Kerrville with 43 degrees. It was 45 at Spur. Warmest yesterday was 91 degrees, reported at Graham, Seymour and Uvalde.

Bible Class Fund Reaches Its Goal

The high school Bible fund reached its goal Wednesday and there were prospects that it would go well beyond the objective of $1,500 from the community.

Totals stood at $1,510.50, according to Capt. Olvy Sheppard, secretary-treasurer of the sponsoring Big Spring Pastors association, and several contributions were known to have been made but not yet reported to the treasurer. In addition, several others had indicated they planned to give to the fund, regardless of the amount.

Raising of the funds by popular subscription is made necessary because state law precludes use of tax funds for financing Bible instruction in public schools. Churches of the city have pledged an additional $200 to the fund during the year, providing for the budgeted amount of the department.

Among the latest contributors were: W. L. Mead and Cosden Petroleum Corp., each added $100 to the fund; Big Spring Lions club, West Texas oil, J. W. Elrod, and an anonymous contributor each gave $25; Roy Reeder $15; the Elizabeth McDowell church, $14; G. H. Hayward, Dr. J. M. Woodall, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Collins, Dr. G. H. Wood, Southern Ice, Dr. B. G. Cowper, Duncan Drilling Co., KIST, R. L. Cook, Dr. J. E. Hogan, Mrs. C. L. Rowe, $10 each; an anonymous contribution for $8; Mrs. A. J. Cain, Ruby Lee Smith, Dr. W. B. Hardy, Mrs. H. W. Stimples, H. D. Norris, Mrs. C. J. Smith, M. M. Thorp, Walker Building, Bill Home, $5 each.

There may be contributions which have not been acknowledged, and if so, Capt. Sheppard would appreciate it being called to his attention.

Tension Mounting In Ranks Of Labor

TIMBER ABLAZE — Army officials are rushing special equipment into the East Texas timber belt around Conroe, to fight 110 forest fires like this raging in a four-county area. This arrival of one of the fires burning uncontrolled was made by the Texas Forestry Service. (AP Wirephoto).

Few Fires Burning In East Texas

CONROE, Oct. 1. (AP)—Adjutant General K. L. Berry said today that an early morning aerial survey of the forest fire area indicated few fires were still burning.

Berry, flying over the densely wooded Conroe area where 95 fires were reported last night, said "only one or two of any size" were burning this morning, and that smoke was clearing.

He said today's reconnaissance indicated the fires either had burned out, had been halted by roads or trails, or had been temporarily smothered by dew.

He said other flights later in the day would determine whether the fires actually were under control.

G. D. Kennedy Is Named President Of Teachers Group

G. D. Kennedy, Forsan's superintendent of schools, was named president of the Howard County Teachers' association for the 1947-48 term at that organization's meeting Tuesday night in the library building of Howard County Junior College.

Kennedy succeeds M. R. Turner of Cosham to the post.

Kennedy's old post of first vice-president was taken by Homer E. Barnes of Knott. W. B. Thornton, principal of high school at Cosham, replaces Walker Bailey, Big Spring, as second vice-president.

M. T. Jenkins, director of Vocational Agriculture at Cosham, was elected to the post of secretary, replacing Helen Ault of Big Spring while Glenn Whittenberg, Forsan, succeeds F. L. Bass of Center Point as the association's treasurer.

J. F. Flood of Houston, state representative for Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc., principal speaker, took as his subject "How to get best results from use of reference material." Refreshments for the gathering were furnished by Flood and his employers.

The group went on record as favoring the proposed appointment of W. C. Blankenship, Big Spring, to the Teachers' Retirement board.

Transport Is Main Trouble Center Now

Averted Shoe Strike Is Only Bright Spot

Tension appeared mounting on the nation's labor front today with disputes in transportation in the vanguard.

Labor troubles disrupted handling of cargo in two West Coast harbors were the nation's railroads were served with a formal demand for a 30 per cent wage increase to more than 350,000 members of five operating railroad brotherhoods.

However, there was a bright spot on the industrial scene. A scheduled strike of about 13,000 CIO United Shoe Workers in International Shoe Company plants in Missouri, Illinois and New Hampshire was averted after union acceptance of a wage hike of three cents an hour. The settlement, subject to ratification by union members, was made shortly before the midnight deadline set for the walk-out.

The wage demanded by the rail unions, spokesmen said, was "compulsory" due to the skyrocketing living costs. It followed the recent award of 15 1/2 cents an hour wage boost granted a million non-operating rail workers by an arbitration board named under the National Railway Labor Act.

The strike of 173 pilots and co-pilots against the American Overseas Airlines kept the company's planes on both sides of the Atlantic grounded and indirectly affected 323 other flight crew members.

Handling of cargo was halted in Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors after the waterfront employers' association, representing 12 stevedoring firms, ruled no crews of the CIO International men's union would be called for loading or unloading of freighters.

Airline Promises Continued Service To World Points

A strike by pilots of American Overseas Airlines, an overseas subsidiary of American Airlines, Inc., grounded all overseas planes of the line early Tuesday, but it appears likely that the development will cause little or no delay in the Transatlantic movements of passengers or airfreight from Big Spring to Europe, according to J. W. Campbell, local American Airlines manager.

Passengers and air-freight booked via American Airlines and American Overseas Airlines to Europe will be rerouted, Campbell said, preferably by US Flag carriers. He said there is currently sufficient space available via other overseas air carriers to take care of the traffic.

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 1. (AP)—Blasting four Brooklyn pitchers for 15 hits in a murderous display of power, the New York Yankees overwhelmed the Dodgers 10-3 today to take a 2-0 lead in the World Series before a paid crowd of 69,965.

A homer by Tommy Henrich, three triples which tied the World Series record for three-baggers by one club in a single game, and two doubles rattled off the bats of the high-riding Yankees.

Nine of the safeties, including six of the extra base swats, were smashed off the offerings of little Vic Lombardi, Dodgers starter. Lombardi was taken out of the game in the fifth inning and the Yankees belted his successors, Hal Gregg, Hank Behrman and Rex Barney with just as much ease.

Lawmakers See New Controls Covering Rent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—Senators Buck (R-De) and Sparkman (D-Ala) today predicted Congress will pass a new rent control bill next spring carrying some rent boost provision for tenants who had no increase under the present law.

The lawmakers said in separate interviews that they see no chance the housing shortage will ease enough to permit removal of rent ceilings by March 1. The existing statute expires then.

But both Buck and Sparkman foresee a problem when Congress gets around to considering the extension of controls. It is this: Thus far more than 950,000 tenant families have accepted rent increases of generally 15 per cent in exchange for leases through 1948, as permitted under the extension bill which became effective last July 1. These families, according to Rent Administrator Frank Creighton, occupy about 6.1 per cent of the nation's rental dwellings.

Those who signed rent increase leases did so to obtain 10 months protection against any further hike after the scheduled March 1 expiration of controls.

"In fairness to those who signed a lease and accepted an increase on the assumption controls would expire March 1, it would seem that Congress in extending the ceilings would have to make some arrangement for a permissive increase in the rents of other tenants," Buck said.

Objections And Points Of Order May Bob Up

(This is the fourth and final series of sketches on basic parliamentary procedure...)

There comes a time in every chairman's life when someone rises for recognition and says: "Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of order."

Don't let the member confuse you. Just say: "Please state your point of order."

Usually it has to do with a point of conflict between the motion under consideration and the rules of the organization or consideration of business out of prescribed sequence.

If the member doesn't like your decision, he can appeal from it. Don't get hysterical if this happens, you could be wrong.

World Problems Chief Concern Of Texas Solons

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—Eight members of the Texas congressional delegation were here today, but national and international problems rather than state affairs were uppermost in their minds.

Voicing the concern of all on the world situation was House Minority Leader Sam Rayburn of Bonham, who came for President Truman's conference with congressional leaders.

Getting ready to catch a night train back to Texas, Rayburn gave his own personal views of the international picture.

"We don't have any alternative course but to give Europe stop-gap aid to tide them over through the winter," he told a reporter.

Another congressman who has just returned from his north central Texas district was much less enthusiastic about further aid to Europe.

"I think I am reflecting the opinion of most of the people in my section of the state," he said. "When I say I favor further aid to Europe only if it can be shown beyond all doubt that those people are doing everything to help themselves."

HANGCHOW TIDAL BORE TO HURL ITSELF AGAINST MASSIVE SEAWALL

SHANGHAI, Oct. 1. (AP)—The famous Hangchow tidal bore—a moving wall of ocean water from six to 20 feet high—will hurl itself against a massive 1,200-year-old seawall at ancient Hangchow on Oct. 2, with thousands of spectators on hand to watch.

It is a great wall of stone, stretching 40 miles along the north shore of Hangchow bay and 75 miles along the south shore. It's main section is 18 feet high, 18 feet thick at the base and six feet thick at the top, backed with an earthen dike and protected at the base by two stone approaches.

Railways operate special trains for the day, and thousands travel for miles to see it strike.

Hangchow's ancient dike, protecting some 6,000,000 Chinese farmers and thousands of acres of fertile land, was recently restored after severe damage resulting from wartime neglect.

The tidal bore occurs annually at the seaport, south of Shanghai, on the 18th day of the eighth moon of the Chinese lunar year. It forms when a high incoming ocean tide clashes with the swift-flowing Chien Tang River, and rolls in like an elongated battering ram.

CAA Plans Check-Up On Flying Schools To Protect Students

FORT WORTH, Oct. 1. (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration "expects to take whatever steps are necessary" to see that the flying training by veterans under the GI bill of rights is safeguarded.

That statement was made here yesterday by L. C. Elliott, regional administrator of the CAA. He said that the CAA was beginning a survey of schools offering flying training to veterans under the GI bill.

He estimated that there were approximately 15,000 students enrolled in 500 of these schools in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

He appealed to operators of flying schools to comply with safety and maintenance regulations.

The CAA official cited an instance where a school gave instructions in aerobatics without providing parachutes to the students.

Coahoma Plays Hornets Friday

COAHOMA, Oct. 1. — John Albers and his Coahoma Bulldogs will see for themselves whether it's true what others have been saying about the Mertzon's Hornets in a game here Friday.

The Hornets will come to town with an unblemished record and a lot of promise. Those who have seen them play insist they rank with the leaders. They would surely have the inside track for the league crown if they back the Canines, since two of the pre-season favorites, Coahoma and Sterling City, have already been beaten.

In their assignments to date, the Hornets have trounced Water Valley 35-0, and Garden City, 33-0. The Canines slugged out a 21-19 victory over Union, edged Sterling City, 31-20, and then lost to Courtney, 12-6, in a surprising upset.

The Mertzon team is coached by Cagle Hunt, a former Forsan mentor.

Patterson Hits U. S. Attitude Toward War

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. (AP)—Robert Patterson, former secretary of war, says that "World War Three lies dead ahead" unless the American people drop their "business as usual attitude."

Describing American military strength as "hopelessly inadequate," Patterson wrote in a Cosmopolitan magazine article: "Foreign governments need a minimum of four, a maximum of ten years to produce an atomic bomb. But these estimates hold true only if they make the bomb the same way we make it—a highly complex operation.

"If some nation finds a simpler way, it is altogether possible scientists might produce another atomic bomb tomorrow."

The former cabinet officer said the government must prepare a defense plan that will answer such questions as:

"Who will run the government if an atomic bomb explodes in Washington x x x?"

"Who will handle the work of placing children in rural areas far from vulnerable industrial centers?"

"Who will decide upon and handle dispersment of vital industries x x x?"

"Will the Army have its own equipment available for troop movements while other rolling stock is being used for evacuation of civilian populations?"

"Will mobile radio units be available all over the country, in case the lines of communications are smashed and rendered useless?"

"We have begun once more," Patterson said, "to think that because we don't want war, nobody on earth wants war."

Nation's Traffic Deaths Increase

CHICAGO, Oct. 1. (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths totaled 3,140 in August, the national safety council said Tuesday, marking the fourth consecutive month an increase was shown over the corresponding months of 1946.

However, due to the decreases in the first four months of 1947, the eight-month total was five per cent under the 1946 level—20,370 as compared with 211,400. The August total was six per cent over 2,960 fatalities in August, 1946.

DUTCH MILL IN ILLINOIS — This ancient windmill, brought from Holland in 1815, overlooks the Fox River where it flows through the Fahyan Woods in Kane County, Illinois. No longer used to grind flour, it is a landmark of a forest preserve.

POW'S HELP REBUILD — German prisoners of war, wearing "N" as identification, work on reconstruction of a mansion on Stalin street, Warsaw, to be used as executive headquarters of the Polish Workers Party.

GIANT CROWDS LIFT — Pedro Espiritu, employe of a Chicago hotel, registers amazement as Jack Earle, 8 foot 6 1/2 inch giant, stoops to enter the seven-foot elevator.

PARISIAN — Christian Dior of Paris designed this black wool cocktail dress with very full skirt and an unusual divided bodice, held together by three large knots.

FROM WAR TO PEACE — Polish peasant women walk past a knocked-out Soviet tank, awaiting use with other disabled weapons of war as scrap metal in steel mill furnaces of Upper Silesia. Before the war Germany controlled this area.

DOGGY COSTUMES — Archie H. Payne of Scotch Plains, N. J., holds his collie, Blythe Bruce O'Glenns, and Mrs. Whiting Hall of Armonk, N. Y., her Great Dane, Simba of Collingdale, at "dog week" festivities in New York.

NOVEL WALLPAPER — While an assistant holds a rare old print, James Secman, Brooklyn artist, copies detail for hand-painted wallpaper depicting colonial days from exhibits in the Museum of the City of New York.

SIGHTLESS EXPERT — Marty, her seeing-eye dog, watches with interest as Mary Thompson of Melrose, Mass., uses a home permanent waving kit to dress the hair of a friend, Mrs. Grace Wilson, who also is blind.

FLOODS HIT TOKYO — Overflowing streams in the Tokyo area sent water through this street, compelling flood victims to resort to boats for transportation.

ENVOY — Paul H. Alling, (above) an advisor to the United States delegation at the United Nations general assembly, has been named as the first U. S. ambassador to Pakistan, following admission of that nation to U. N. membership.

SEEING DOUBLE — Ten sets of twins, ranging in age from 8 to 15 years, create quite an identification problem for R. W. Harper, (right) superintendent of the Defton, Mich., school. Some have been attending for several years, but still it's tough.

GIRL COP — On a Warsaw street this policewoman directs traffic with special cuffs to make signals readily visible at all times.

Faculty And Students Seek Return Of Dobie To UT Fold

AUSTIN, Oct. 1. (U.P.)—Both faculty and students today were seeking the return of dismissed professor-folklorist J. Frank Dobie to the University of Texas.

Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, professor of American history at the university, yesterday may public a statement apparently intended to intermediate between Dobie and administration to reinstate his dismissed fellow-professor on the university faculty.

"The administration can be generous and Mr. Dobie can be considerate" to prevent a loss that "will be everybody's" if Dobie leave the university permanently, Dr. Webb declared.

His statement came while students were preparing to circulate petitions among the student body urging that Dobie's connection with the university be retained. The student campaign was under the sponsorship of students organized expressly for the purpose Monday night.

Dr. Webb said there was no rule to prevent Dobie's reemployment on terms agreed to by Dobie and the administration.

Dobie had been dismissed by the administration last week when he failed to report for duty after his requested leave had been refused under a new regent rule limiting leaves to one year except under unusual circumstances. Dobie had been on leave four years.

Dr. Webb described the rule as "a trap," into which Dobie had walked "with stubborn unconcern." He said the rule as a whole was a good one and Dobie should not have walked into it.

"Dobie is by nature a maverick, and has always been so," Dr. Webb said. "He wears no man's brand. He runs free and easy with whatever crowd takes his fancy, or if the crowd gets too big or in any way objectionable Dobie separates himself and runs in a herd by himself."

Webb said it was his characteristic of going his own way that had brought about the present impasse.

"That and the further fact that in late years Mr. Dobie has for practical purposes associated himself with the 'wrong crowd' at the University of Texas," he said. "He made the practical mistake of giving his loyalty to a dead king."

Dobie had actively supported Dr. H. P. Rainey, deposed university president, both in his fight against the university administration and in his unsuccessful race for governor. At the same time Dobie had lashed caustically against the university high command.

Jack Thompson presented plans for a model airplane exhibition, which will be sponsored at an early date under auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, at the JayCee luncheon meeting today.

Thompson listed a series of prizes and quoted costs of the event to the organization. The JayCees will underwrite $50 for the show.

Members were asked to attend a party for JayCees and guests Wednesday at 7 p. m. in the Crawford ballroom.

Wayne Guin was announced as a new member. Kenny Mayne of Salt Lake City, Utah, was present as a guest.

UNDERGROUND SAYS 'EXODUS 1947' AVENGED—Ten persons were killed and 77 injured when a barrel of explosives rolled over a large wire barrier blasted this district police headquarters in Haifa, Palestine. The Jewish underground said it launched the attack to avenge the deportation of the "Exodus 1947" Jews to Hamburg, Germany. (AP Wirephoto).

SUCCESS STORY

Nathan's Begin Celebration Of Their 17th Anniversary

Beginning Thursday, Nathan's Jewelers begin the celebration of the 17th anniversary of the enterprises of Nathan Donsky, which began in humble surroundings and have now expanded to six stores.

The event is being commemorated with a store-wide sale, according to Herbert Edenbaum, manager of Nathan's in Big Spring. In a measure, the occasion is an appreciation by Donsky for the popularity accorded his stores, which now operate in San Angelo, Brownwood, Paris, Denison, and Odessa as well as Big Spring.

NATHAN DONSKY

Eventually, he took his first expansion step in opening a store at Brownwood. Then followed stores at Paris and Denison. While the war was in progress, Donsky picked out two other towns which he considered with sound prospects for growth and development. One was Odessa, and within a week after that store opened, Nathan's began business in Big Spring on July 27, 1946, with an event that attracted several thousand to the store in two days.

In charge of the store here, Edenbaum ranks as the oldest employee in the organization in point of service, dating his association with Nathan's back to the original store in San Angelo. He carries out the policies which stress store and individual participation in community affairs, for Donsky believes that "we succeed only as the town succeeds."

Assisting in the store operation here are J. T. Grantham and Paul Bugh, watchmakers; Jessie Killingsworth, Ernest Barber, Mrs. Ina Richardson, sales force; Gilly Fitzpatrick and Helen Monroe, office.

BEAUMONT, Oct. 1. (U.P.)—Even newspaper reporters must be dignified in court here. A new regulation passed yesterday by the Jefferson county commissioners court makes it mandatory that newspaper reporters who cover the court's weekly sessions must wear coats.

Damage Suit Filed By Disaster Victim

HOUSTON, Oct. 1. (U.P.)—Gardner F. Gerard, 54, safety inspector for the Corpus Christi naval air station, has filed a suit asking damages of $101,250 for injuries received April 17 when the S.S. High Flyer exploded during the Texas City disaster.

Gerard, who lost a leg in the disaster, named the Lykes Bros. Steamship Company, owner and operator of the vessel, as defendant.

COSTLY CELLO—One of the oldest and most valuable pieces of baggage flown overseas from Logan International Airport was a cello owned by Alexander J. Ludwig of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The cello, made in France in 1679, was valued at $25,000.

Baylor Round-Up Slated At Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 1. (U.P.)—Between 500 and 600 former students of Baylor University are expected to gather for the annual Baylor Roundup on the campus of Baylor University hospital here Thursday night.

President Pat Neff and several representatives from the Waco branch of Baylor University will be present, along with a group of the students there.

The CHIROPRACTOR—and You

This is One Of A Series Of Articles Published In The Public Interest To Explain And Illustrate The Practice Of Chiropractic.

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC? The Chiropractor teaches that the brain and nervous system are the root of health. From the brain, nerve energy is distributed through the nervous system to all part of the body. When this nerve energy is shut off even slightly between brain and body (By bone displacement in the spine), one or more body functions are interfered with and ill health results. By x-ray, analysis and spinal adjustment the Chiropractor is able to relieve nerve interference and restored normalcy to the affected part. No drugs. No surgery. Nature is the healer.

CASE HISTORY No. 621. A middle-aged woman in a state of serious nervous exhaustion. Suffered severe headaches and in her own words, "wanted to be in a dark room and left alone." A variety of treatments had failed to help her. Finally, she turned to Chiropractic. The spinal displacement which was the cause of her trouble was located immediately, and a series of adjustments led to this woman's complete recovery

CASE HISTORY No. 92. A victim of sinus headaches for several years. Suddenly stricken with pain one morning, he called upon a Chiropractor whose office he was passing at the time. A spinal adjustment brought relief from the pain in less than three minutes. Within half an hour the pain had gone entirely, and there has been no recurrence of the sinus condition since.

CASE HISTORY No. 356. A young woman who for seventeen years had been having as many as ten to fifteen convulsions daily. Treated for epilepsy without avail. Under special treatment for seven years without benefit. All hope for recovery had gone when a friend advised Chiropractic. A spinal x-ray revealed a marked disarrangement of the neck, the result of a fall suffered when a child. Adjustments were commenced and after only four months she was 95 per cent better.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION concerning the modern Chiropractor and what he can do for you, Phone-419. Appointment only.

The Objectives Of A Newspaper

National Newspaper week—among the press at least—focuses attention again upon the services newspapers ought to give the areas which they serve.

Basically, all newspapers of quasi-public standing should have the same objective—to gather and report the news, something to interpret it, and in editorial columns to comment upon it.

It goes without saying that there are good, bad and indifferent newspapers, and the measuring stick is how well they come up to the fundamental objectives.

As in most undertakings, few newspapers achieve the full extent of their capabilities, although some do extraordinary jobs. There is always room for improvement, and an extra test for a paper is whether it is changing and improving to meet the needs of its constituency and of its day. Those who get into a rut and cannot be shaken from it usually fall into gradual decay. In time they disappear, for the public is not forever deceived.

To gather the news is no easy undertaking, although it has a single enough appeal. Even diligent staffs may fall short of the best possible job, but their work is made more effective by a cooperating public. Reporters are not clairvoyants; they gather news along regular paths to be sure, but the extra coverage that makes a paper's content expansive and distinctive usually results from "tips" by readers.

Too, there are certain obstacles in gathering the news, for censorship at the source is a real and present danger. It is quite human for one group to supply information enthusiastically when it is good and to suppress it when it is unfavorable. Certainly this would be a wonderful world were it possible to report only the good, but life is not like that. Even the Scriptures abound with human frailties.

Occasionally, background information helps the reader to appraise the importance of current developments in the light of what has contributed to the present situation, and thus to draw his own conclusions as to future patterns. Beyond this pure type of interpretative writing, there is a certain amount of interpretation of public service activities, much of it bordering on promotional. Appeals for funds for various private welfare agencies is a case in point.

Finally, the newspaper has the distinct mark of drawing conclusions of its own on certain happenings. Many people falsely assume this to be an attempt to direct the thinking and action of the public; on the contrary, it is an effort, by presenting one line of reason, to stimulate the public to thought. The dissenter is more apt to pick reasoning and logic apart when it is clearly opposed to his line of reasoning than if he were given a platter of information and urged to come to a conclusion. Thus, editorials may or may not find agreement, but what is important, they may encourage mental exercise on vital issues.

So long as newspapers succeed in a reasonably good collection and presentation of the news and in turn encourage thought, there need not be grave fears about diminishing the freedom of the press. The people would be too wise to permit it.

The Nation Today—James Marlow—

ABC On Europe Aid Problems

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Are you foggy from all the talk of helping Europe? Here's an ABC on it.

Keep two points in mind: 1. Europe will need help for years to come. 2. But right now, this winter, it needs help badly.

At this moment help of both kinds is away up in the air, indefinite.

Take those two main points again, in more detail.

No. 1—Europe will need help for years to come.

This country has been helping European nations since the war ended but on a piecemeal basis, without any general plan for all of them.

By last spring it became pretty clear this kind of help wasn't doing the job of getting Europe back on its feet.

It was still hungry and its money was running out. But would Congress continue to shovel out American dollars to help Europe?

Probably not, if the help remained on this piecemeal basis. Yet Europe would continue to need help.

If it didn't continue to get help from us Europe might, in desperation, turn to Soviet Russia.

So last June 5 Secretary of State Marshall said we'd try to help European nations with a general plan for the whole group of those nations would:

1. Get together and, first, agree on some plan for helping themselves.

(For example: One country agreeing to let another have spare coal.)

2. Then agree on exactly how much additional help they need from us, and for how long.

Sixteen nations met in Paris, agreed on a plan of self-help, and agreed also on what they'd need from us and other non-European countries.

They figured that, over four years, they'd need about $2,400,000,000 in outside help, mostly from the United States.

(This outside help would be of various kinds, such as loans of money, coal, food, machinery, and so on.)

But—and this is important—this whole plan, called the Marshall Plan, will fall through unless Congress approves.

Congress isn't due to come back to work until next January. Because it will take months of work by committees, Congress isn't expected to okay or kill the Marshall Plan before next spring. Meanwhile—

No. 2—Right now, this winter, Europe needs help badly.

Europe is in pretty tough shape right now for a lot of things, specially food and fuel.

So what are starving and freezing Europeans to do between now and that time—may be next spring—when Congress acts on the Marshall Plan? Before that time, if the Europeans become desperate for help and feel none is coming from us, they may turn to Russia or to communism of their own.

But can't Congress be called back into session now, instead of waiting till January, to start work on the Marshall Plan?

Yes, but, as explained, months will be used up before Congress decides on that plan.

If Europe has to wait for a decision on the Marshall Plan, the winter will be over. Can't we give Europe some help now?

President Truman said the money needed to tide Europe over the winter—perhaps $1,000,000,000—can't be given unless Congress approves.

To approve before its regular session in January, Congress would have to be called back into special session for that purpose. Will it be?

Maybe not. Mr. Truman yesterday talked with congressional leaders and decided:

He'll ask the big congressional committees which handle money matters to meet here as soon as possible. (They can do this without the whole Congress being called back.)

Those committees will check on what Europe needs this winter. Then, if they think a special session should be called to vote money, such a session can be called.

Example Of Red Fear Theories

The communist theory that the cause of the Red ism can best be advanced by force and threats is well exemplified in the circumstances surrounding the seizure of American Lieutenant William Van Atten and two U. S. soldiers by Yugoslav troops while the three Yankees were on mounted patrol duty at a disputed section of the new frontier between the Trieste free territory and Yugoslavia.

It required a peremptory demand by the U. S. government to secure the release of the victims of what American circles condemned as wholly unwarranted and brazen affront. And Van Atten tells us that during the five days of captivity the Yugoslavs "kept repeating that Russia was strong and kept pointing to pictures of Tito, Stalin and Lenin."

Clearly this exhibition had a double purpose: (1) To demonstrate to foe and ally alike the might of Russia and Red Yugoslavia, and (2) To spread life propaganda of fear abroad, especially among weak countries which are under assault by communism.

The employment of force and threats of course stems from the cardinal tenet of communism which lays down that the ism must be established through a reign of terror so as to impress it on the minds of the populace.

This creed is driven into every true believer in communism. The Red soldier, for example, is trained on terrorism until direct action becomes second nature to him. Take this instance as related to me in Europe since the war by a French Army captain who was liaison officer at U. S. headquarters in Austria:

The captain said he was motoring in a staff car in the Russian zone with an army driver. A Red army sergeant thumbed a ride by the expedient of stepping out into the road a hundred yards in front of the car and shooting a rifle bullet through the middle of the windshield, barely missing ing the occupants. The sergeant then sauntered along to the car and demanded his ride—and was made prisoner.

The French officer told me he knew the only way he could get redress was to take the sergeant to the neighboring Red commandant and pique the latter's pride by pointing out this terrible infraction of western army discipline. This was done. The commandant flushed up and demanded of the sergeant if he was guilty as charged. When the sergeant admitted that he was, the commandant called three soldiers, gave them a curt order, and they took the sergeant out and shot him.

Terrorism doesn't always take the form of force. Propaganda constantly is used for the purpose of instilling fear and causing disension. A fact we see demonstrated in the United Nations which is being used as a sounding board for the spread of the idea that Russia is too powerful to be challenged.

Ingrid Achieves Life Ambition

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Ingrid Bergman, who is now achieving her life's ambition by filming Joan of Arc, is wondering if Joan will become her "Frankenstein's Monster."

Two French actresses made film versions of the Saint. Neither made another film since that one. Bergman, like most actresses, is a "little superstitious. But her worries about the future are based mainly on whether she will have enthusiasm for future stories.

"It's like building a house," she said. "While you are building it you can't think or plan anything else. And when the house is completed what can you do."

Bergman has been living the role of Joan for almost a year. She is probably one of the best informed people on the French Saint, barring a few Ph.D's.

Things enjoyed recently... The music deprivation review of Spike Jones, who has played a set of cow bells into one of the top acts of show business... The loose-limbed jollity of Dan Dailey Jr., in "Mother Wore Tights," which is fine entertainment until it bogs down in sentiment... Art Linkletter's rollicking memoirs, "People Are Funny."

The voluptuous Rita Hayworth in "Down to Earth," She's the most exciting thing on celluloid... The King Brothers' party for their latest picture, "The Gangster," which didn't turn out to be as good as the party... From the record rack—Tommy Dorsey's "Tromboneology," Gordon McCrea's "A Fellow Needs a Girl," Pied Pipers' "I Have but One Heart," Margaret Whitling's "So Far."

Things I haven't enjoyed... Radio comics' jokes about high prices. 'Tain't funny.

ELDERLY "KIDDIES"
NEW YORK (U.P.)—The Council Club for Older People took 124 men and women, ranging in age from 65 to 92, to a suburban park for a picnic. They ate their lunches, played cards and other games, sang songs and returned tired and happy in the late afternoon—some on a bus which by chance bore a sign reading, "Children's Bus Service, Inc."

STORK GAME
NEW YORK (U.P.)—Two Brooklyn policemen, William Rulani and Edward Ruane, raced to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Vivian and arrived just in time to deliver a seven-pound girl. It was the 17th time in the 11 years they have been assigned to a radio car that the two policemen have collaborated at emergency births.

Bloodless Hunting

CHICAGO.—Searing summer has gone from the great Midwest heartland, and the brown earth is getting crisp underfoot again. The hunting season lies ahead.

But quail and cottontail are safe from my shotgun, as they have been for many years. I still like to go on hunting trips—just as long as the other fellow does the maiming. I know of many hunters who get that way. They retain all the joy of the chase—mankind's oldest intoxication—but lose their zest for killing game.

I first learned to hunt from my father. When the weather was right on wintry Sunday mornings, he used to load his four sons and three dogs into our old Maxwell touring car and set out across the Missouri countryside.

The function of boys and dogs was the same. We were assigned patches of wood or pasture and sent whopping and barking through them to scare out any wild life into the path of Dad's old double-barreled blunderbuss. He was an excellent shot, and we usually came back with a good bag of rabbits, quail and squirrel which Mother had the dubious pleasure of cooking.

As we grew older Dad got a small-gauge gun for the boys, and taught us in turn how to handle it safely. I shot poorly but in time got so I could knock on an occasional rabbit. It was then that I began to lose my pleasure in hunting. I didn't think it was wrong to kill rabbits—I just came to feel it was wrong for me to do it, an interloper in the wilds, driven to take life neither by hunger nor by fear.

This year I'll go quail hunting as usual, but even the quail don't mind that. I've fired enough shells at them to blow a hole in the Siegfried line—and I never have hit one of the blamed birds in my entire life.

Reporter Is Deflated

NEW YORK.—I walked into Reuben's one morning not long ago, after working through the evening and early morning, and as I looked around for a head-waiter, Billy Rose, the pint-sized producer, waved to come on over and join him. He was sitting with one of the handsomest girls about town, Gloria Saffier, and another young lady I'd never met.

As I sat down, Billy asked what I'd been doing all evening, and as I was answering, he introduced me to the young lady. I didn't get her name. I asked Billy what he and his little party had been doing.

"Oh, we dropped by La Martiniq to see the new show over there," Billy replied.

"Oh yes," I perked up. "That is the new show with Judy Garland's sister in it. I hear she was pretty punk."

A stony silence echoed my comment and I would have been glad to crawl into anything which might have swallowed me from the premises.

"This," said Billy, pointing across the table to the young lady whose name I had missed, "is Miss Garland!"

Such embarrassment, impossible of apology, hits lots of folks. John Tyers, a handsome robust baritone, was called to discuss a part in "Allegro," the new Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. Rodgers and Hammerstein asked John to sing something, and he decided to try a tune from "Rose Marie" as his audition piece.

"Before bursting into song," John told me, "I carefully arranged the chairs in the room to duplicate the set of 'Rose Marie,' and proceeded to explain the plot which led up to the song, in minute detail. I talked for about ten minutes, then turned to Oscar Hammerstein and asked, 'Do you get the picture?'"

"It ought to," was Oscar's staggering reply, "I wrote it!"

GOP Likes Truman Appointments

WASHINGTON.—Republican political strategists who winced every time the late Franklin Roosevelt linked the Republican party with the big bankers, now aren't wincing anymore. In fact, Truman's recent appointments have brought broad grins to Republican faces, for no longer are they worried by that big business-banking bugaboo.

Especially interesting to Republicans are Truman's latest appointments to the Air Corps. They include: Arthur S. Barrows, president of Sears, Roebuck and director of the Illinois Continental bank, as undersecretary, with Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, polo-playing chairman of Pan American Airways, as assistant secretary.

These appointments follow other banking appointments, notably General William Draper, former vice-president of Dillon, Read, as assistant secretary of war, and James Forrestal, also of Dillon Read, as head of national defense. It was the Wall Street firm of Dillon, Read which poured about $200,000,000 into Germany after the last war—most of it going to build up Hitler.

WILL HISTORY REPEAT? Regardless of Republican smiles at these appointments, the American public is wondering whether these new war department executives have retained their previous views about whether history is going to repeat.

Here are some incidents which indicate the answer.

When Dillon Read's General Draper was in Germany after the war ended, one of the first things he did was to appoint to his staff a former Dillon, Read representative in Germany, Dr. Alexandre Kreuter. Kreuter had been a contributing member of Hitler's famous SS Corps, but despite this Draper put him on his personal staff.

This was in direct violation of General Eisenhower's order that no German who had been a member of the Nazi party could hold an important job. Draper, however, not only violated this order but even further. He issued a travel order by which Dr. Kreuter, formerly of the Dillon Read firm, was authorized to visit Holland on what was reported to be Dillon Read business.

At that time, however, no German was permitted to travel outside Germany without special permission, and Draper's subordinates held up Kreuter's travel order. Twice Gen. Draper pressed them to put the order through, but finally John Bennett, U. S. financial officer, flatly opposed it, and the matter was dropped.

Despite the $200,000,000 loaned by Dillon Read to various German cartels, none of which ever came back to the American investor and most of which helped Hitler's armament program, Draper has been quite blunt in staff conferences in urging new loans to Germany. Draper's aides have been amazed at his frankness on this point. Apparently the error of the last war has had no effect whatsoever.

BIG BUSINESS CHAMPION
Latest Truman appointment to the war department, Undersecretary for Air Arthur Barrows, has an equally interesting background. As a member of the U. S. military government in Germany, he went directly counter to the American policy of encouraging small German business. Barrows wrote a directive instructing U. S. military officers to "put pressure on German economic ministries to correct their procedures for the allocation of coal, iron, and steel so as to close out small, inefficient plants and to concentrate industrial production in the larger efficient plants."

Barrows wrote this despite the fact that it was the large German plants which made up the backbone of Hitler's war machine; and it was these, big plants which all allied policy has wanted suppressed. Top American planners have sometimes disagreed on other phases of German policy, but nearly always agree that small German business should be encouraged.

Fortunately, General Lucius Clay stopped the Barrows directive before it could be sent out. But as undersecretary of one of the armed services, there will be very few with authority to put Mr. Barrows in his place.

UNIFICATION ITCH
The contagious spirit of unification has caught the President's military aide, Gen. Harry Vaughan. The man who got to know Truman only because he was a member of the Missouri National Guard would now like to merge the National Guard with the Army Reserve.

It is against regulations for an Army officer to make such a proposal out of channels, but big-for-his-boots Gen. Vaughan brazenly set forth his ideas in an article for the reserve officers magazine. At the last minute, however, he got cold feet and called it back.

Later, a friend in the reserves, Col. William Nettleton, talked Vaughan into releasing it again, and the article will appear in the next issue of the magazine.

Vaughan will argue: "The present plan for our security force established a National Guard and a reserve, units of which are found in every local community throughout our country. The functions of these overlapping units are identical. How much more efficient these citizens components could be if combined into one force, subject only to federal control!"

FOOD COST DOUBLES
Over at the mammoth department of agriculture building some studious minded men employed by the bureau of agricultural economic have just come up with some interesting figures that have a lot to do with your grocery bill.

The statisticians with the long charts and the slide rules now calculate that the nation's food bill for 1947 will come to approximately 26 billion dollars. Back in the pre-war years when prices were down and food was abundant; food cost the American people only about 12 billion dollars a year.

All the increase is not due to price rises alone, the economists say, because increased earning power has permitted us to eat better than ever before. However, price increases do account for more than half the increase.

To show just how much busier you can get back into the record books to the depths of the depression, when the country only spent 11 billion dollars a year on food.

Nobody's Heard Rebel Yell

Wanted: One rebel yell. You've heard of the famous confederate rebel yell your life. But, getting down to fundamentals, have you ever actually heard anyone give it? We haven't for one.

Down on the border we've heard the Mexican "Grito" so many times we still have weak eardrums. It may be a lot like the rebel yell. But we have never heard an authentic, honest-to-goodness, guaranteed rebel yell.

If you have one in the attic somewhere, tote it out and let's make a phonograph record of it, suggests Boyce House, Fort Worth.

I. Hardin, librarian of the Kentucky historical society, read House's newest book, "Cub Reporter," and wrote:

"One point in the book interested me so much that I am taking the liberty of writing to you about it—for information if you can give it. And that is the rebel yell."

"All my life I have been hearing of the rebel yell but I have never heard it. Since you heard it on the streets of Memphis in 1909, I wonder if you know what it is. Do you know if it has ever been reproduced, on a record?"

No known recording has been made, and Boyce says such a yell is hard to describe, although he insists he's heard it often in the past.

"How can you describe a sound?" he asks. Describing the yell, he says: "It has not a word nor a cheer nor was it similar to what I conceive the Indian war whoop to have been, high and shrill. It was a yell which continued for several seconds—the spontaneous expression of strong men, exultant in their strength; of brave men, thrilling with the excitement of the charge."

He says he doubts if any of the handful of Confederates still living can still give the yell, because it is so full-throated and strong. But he figures maybe they have coached younger men who might give the rebel yell. It could be recorded for posterity on a phonograph record.

When it's done, and we hope it is, we'd like to compare it with the Grito. Two bits says they're similar.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART Thanks to a tremendous evening at the expense of the Cisco Lobos, the Big Spring Steers have fought the common foe to a statistical standoff in the two games played to date.

First downs have favored the opposition, 15-14, and the Cisco-Childress combine piled up 437 yards in ground and air gains to 434 for the Longhorns but the Bovines' ground game has been more effective. In 72 scrimmage tries, the Big Springers moved forward for 321 yards while the best the enemy could do was 179 paces in 60 tries.

The Longhorns have never been able to get their passing game to clicking, which is one of the big reasons why Childress took them into camp last week. The Herd's dismal failure to travel the air lanes with any degree of success can be attributed to a number of things. For one, the Childress forwards were rushing the passer. For another, the defense was hawking the pass receivers and sometimes hit them so hard, they would jar the ball loose.

Ceramic Potential Cited By Graf

Developments and possibilities in the field of ceramics were outlined before the Lions club Wednesday noon at the Settles by Ota Graf, Sr.

Graf said there were currently two operations, a sand and gravel plant, with a capital investment of around $215,000, a yearly production of 107,500 tons and an annual payroll of about $114,000.

Research has disclosed alloys suitable for brick and tile manufacture, he continued. Limestone deposits here test 98 per cent pure and are ideal for burning, dehydrated lime. The stone also would be adaptable for cement manufacture, he said.

Ceramics, he declared, date back further than any other industry. Secret of profitable operation is obtaining men and women with the "know how" in the technical field. Broadly, he said, ceramics embrace all products made from the earth except petroleum and metal.

Wendell Stacey, Larry Evans Doyle Jenkins, accompanied by Kitty Roberts, entertained with a cornet trio. Out-of-town guests included Bob Campbell, Midland, and W. J. Jennings, Austin.

New Classes Set By Trade School

Two new classes are to be organized next week under direction of the Howard County Vocational school.

One will be at Garden City and will start on Monday, and the other is to be at Gay Hill starting on Tuesday evening. Fred Boren, formerly of Sterling City, will be instructor at Garden City, which has been included in the local vocational school territory, while John K. Nesbitt, formerly of Paris, will instruct at Gay Hill.

Four other classes are in operation, one at Vincent under John W. Miller, one at Knott under W. Q. Thompson, and another at Big Spring under Lawrence G. Adkins, assistant coordinator. All these are agricultural courses. Sid Sandlin instructs a class in auto mechanics here.

Enrollment will be approximately 100 when the two new classes are organized. Besides the two, there are vacancies now only in the class at Knott. Students get 12-12 hours of class and demonstration work per week in their training.

Pioneer Airlines Is Given Award

HOUSTON, Oct. 1. (Sp) — An estimated 400 employees and guests witnessed formal presentation to Pioneer Airlines here Tuesday afternoon of a bronze plaque awarded for outstanding excellence in aircraft maintenance. The award was by the magazine, Air Transport.

The occasion also celebrated the line's second anniversary. Fowler Baker, editor of the magazine, made the presentation to a committee of veteran maintenance employees composed of Robert Sear, Roy Jones, and John Gifford. Barker was introduced by R. J. Smith, Pioneer head. Smith, in an address, lashed at airline ownership by rail or water carrier companies, declaring "any dual management would result in the controlling company giving emphasis to the most profitable or easiest form of transportation which would retard the development of the other."

Baker said research showed Pioneer was the only line in the nation which had 100 per cent of its pilots holding airline pilot ratings. C. W. Van Rosenberg, CAA, praised importance of maintenance men.

Named To Group

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (Sp) — Dr. Merle E. Frampton of New York City has been named chairman of the planning committee of President Truman's committee on national "employ the physically handicapped" week.

Dr. Frampton is principal of the New York Institute for the education of the blind. During the war he was assistant director of the rehabilitation division in the Navy's bureau of medicine and surgery.

Decrease Recorded In Postal Receipts

Postal receipts for the month of September were pegged at $8,011,49, a decrease of $2,088.49 from the same period in 1946.

Figures for the first three-quarters of the year were also down. Total for the first eight months of 1947 were $80,709.32 as compared to $85,825.91 for the same time in 1946.

Two Shows Nightly

FUN, ISN'T IT? — Triplets Billy, Ronnie and Teddy Leban (left to right) of Chicago, who were one-year-old Sept. 30, do a preview to the festivities, by digging into what started out to be a wonderful birthday cake. The three lads are sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Leban. (AP Wirephoto).

Community Fund Must Be Givers' Organization, Local Group Told

A true Community Fund, to collect and distribute money to welfare agencies, can function soundly and permanently only if it is a "givers'" organization, a group of local citizens, was told Tuesday night by a man of long experience in civic money-raising.

He was Col. L. G. Wells of Fort Worth, whose organization puts on special fund drives through special arrangements with communities.

Wells was here only in an advisory capacity, and is not serving Big Spring in any professional way.

More than a score of persons heard him outline the fundamentals of a Community Fund organization. Representatives were on hand from the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA and Salvation Army which agencies have mapped tentative plans for another coordinated fund raising campaign this year.

Wells told the group to organize a Community Fund on a corporation basis, and said it will function properly only if the "twelve biggest givers of your community" serve as its board of directors and handle the collection and distribution. This group could be divided into special budget and technical committees, he said, to survey the needs of social agencies and direct an actual finance drive.

The true purpose of the Community Fund, he said, is not a coordinated "asking" effort on the part of the agencies themselves, but an organization of the donors of the community "who band themselves together, survey the requests of the agencies, and say: 'Here, we'll take over this job of collecting and distributing the money.'"

Ira Thurman, who headed last year's coordinated campaign, presided at the Tuesday night session, and was instructed by the group present to name a special committee to undertake an organizational setup along the lines outlined by Wells.

Wells said he would assist further in an advisory capacity, if the community so desires.

At the conferences were K. H. McGibbon, Joe Burrell, Olvy Sheppard, C. Y. Clinkscales, Frank Campbell, W. L. Mead, J. T. Clements, John Coffee, H. D. Norris, Lawrence Robinson, Mrs. Larson Lloyd, Arach Phillips, Mrs. Moree Sawtelle, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, R. W. Whipkey, Roy Cornelison, Olin Puckett, Rev. Gage Lloyd, Mrs. Ann Hubber, Mrs. E. B. McCormick, Nell Brown and J. H. Greene.

O'Brien To Speak

Dr. P. D. O'Brien will speak to members of the South Ward P-TA Thursday afternoon on "Bettering Human Relations."

The meeting will be conducted at 3:30 p. m. at the school. An executive meeting at 3 p. m. will precede the regular session, however.

Found Guilty

Eddie Bryant, who was found guilty by a jury when he faced a charge of assault in corporation court this morning, was assessed a $5 fine.

Bryant allegedly assaulted Howard Jones in an altercation Saturday night.

RETURN FROM MEET

Mrs. Florence McNew, personnel manager for Douglass hotel, and J. C. Douglass, Jr., operator, have returned from San Antonio where they attended the American Hotel association convention, which attracted some 1,200 delegates. Douglass, with Lee Hubby, formerly of Big Spring and now of Austin, and Graham Hall, Houston, was co-chairman of registration.

Noted Author Dies Of Cancer

CHICAGO, Oct. 1. (Sp) — Author Howard Vincent O'Brien, 59, died last night in a suburban Evanston hospital of cancer — the ailment that he had frankly discussed last July with readers of his column in the Chicago Daily News.

O'Brien had been ill for more than a year and his column — formerly a daily feature for almost 15 years — was written intermittently from the hospital room he called "Cell 308" during that time.

Last July 18, he wrote of his cancer, contending the disease should be given the "widest publicity."

"It was fastened to everything in the region so that getting it out involved considerable damage to adjacent and innocent property."

He advised his readers: "If a swelling turns up, don't be any slower about doing something about it than you would about turning in a fire alarm."

Markets

WALL STREET Oct. 1. —Assorted stocks continued to press their recovery advantage in today's market, although heavy trading was again held short on Tuesday's upswing.

Professional elements still maintained a moderately bullish attitude on the idea that the technical position of the list could result in a good fall rally. Numerous customers again held short of trimmed commitments because of pessimism over the foreign situation and doubts regarding domestic business in the light of mounting living costs.

Slowdowns were frequent after a fairly active opening and mild irregularity ruled near midday.

Bonds were narrow and cotton futures mixed.

LOCAL MARKETS Oct. 1. —Cattle 3.50; calves 3.25-3.35; hogs 18.00-19.00; sheep 12.00-13.00; chickens 2.00-2.50; eggs 15.00-16.00.

NEW YORK Oct. 1. —Cotton futures at New York were 25 to 70 cents a bale higher than the previous close, Oct. 31, 1946. Dec. 30-87 and March 30-92.

LIVESTOCK PORT WORTH, Oct. 1. —Cattle 3.50; calves 3.25-3.35; hogs 18.00-19.00; sheep 12.00-13.00; chickens 2.00-2.50; eggs 15.00-16.00.
