JAPAN IN THE SADDLE.

Secretary of State Stimson notified Japan it cannot permit the legality of Japan's occupation of Manchuria, nor recognize any resulting regime imperiling the open-door policy.

As for poor old China, with its population of 500,000,000, it has been the fat oyster for the European nations for ages and ages; it is the hot bed for revolutions and revolutionists, and a stable government has been unknown since the royal house was toppled over and rival heads of rival armies of Chinese have been plucking the golden flowers by the wayside and playing havoc with many sections of Mongolian land.

Japan is a very large buyer of American cotton. Japan has a vast surplus of population. Japan always knows what she wants. She is getting it, and if she continues to control Manchuria, she will at least give it a stable government and protect to the utmost life and property of natives as well as foreigners.

What the Well-Dressed Man Will NOT Wear!

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

Winter is back again and our attack of spring fever has left us. Here is today's offering, which could be better, but then this is the morning after a severe case of spring fever, so we are not back to normal as yet.

We have heard a lot of talk in the last two years about depression, business conditions and what it would take to bring back the good old days, but we didn't really know until this morning just what it would take to bring back the old time business. We have noticed that since the first of the year the people are more optimistic, business is showing a little revival and all in all things look better.

But this morning we got a pamphlet that is said to explain just what it will take to relieve conditions. The pamphlet, written by a man with a string of degrees is entitled "Philippine Independence Legislation Will Relieve the Depression in the United States."

Now that the question is all settled the only thing to do is to urge congress to let the Philippines go free and we will have the whole question solved—at least in the mind of that A.M., L.L.M., L.L.D. fellow.

In Eastland county the political pet has begun to show indications of slight bubbles like it might be getting ready to break out into a boil. One man has announced for an office, so we have been told, but we are not positive about it. One or two others have said that they were either in the race or would be soon. None have come out with such very positive declarations along the announcement line. One said he was in the race but hadn't announced and then called up and said he was going to consider it for a while longer.

This indecision makes the mentioning of names somewhat of a guess as often a man says he is going to announce, talks to friends as though he was a candidate and changes his mind. Last election year a man told us he was in the race for an office. We said something to the effect and a little later he changed his mind and dropped out without doing much campaigning. We were accused of trying to promote his candidacy and get him to run, which was not the case at all.

No doubt there will be many in the race in the next few days, or in the next few weeks at most, and we can be more definite about politics, though personally we do not like to make our column too political.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

JESUS AND NICODEMUS

NICODEMUS CAME EVIDENCE OF HIS FAIRNESS AND EAGERNESS TO KNOW TRUTH.

Text: John 3:1-16.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 17, Jesus and Nicodemus, John 3:1-16.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist.

If the stories in the New Testament have been highly elaborated and full of detail, they would not have been as widely read and have made as deep an impress upon the imagination and conscience as they have made. It is their simplicity and meagerness of detail that give them such outstanding value.

None the less, there are times when we wish that we knew more about some of the characters who are so dramatically set before us. This is particularly true concerning Nicodemus, the prominent Pharisee who came to Jesus by night. Much has been made by preachers and commentators of the fact that Nicodemus chose the night time for his visit. The worthy man has been subject to the imputation of cowardice, and yet the meager glimpses of the man that we have reveal him as anything but a coward. At a later time he defended Jesus under circumstances where even a word in behalf of the accused involved the greatest danger to himself.

The fact that Nicodemus came was evidence of his fairness of mind and his eagerness to know the truth. The fact that he chose the night time for his visit simply indicates the reasonable caution of the truth seeker and the man who feels the responsibility of his position. At this stage of his approach to Jesus he was an investigator.

Jesus evidently recognized his deep sincerity, for he treated his visitor with the utmost courtesy and patience. It is true that he spoke with great plainness, but he did Nicodemus the justice of treating him with candor and honesty.

Nicodemus, it should be noted, was a Pharisee. If for Pharisees everywhere in the New Testament we should substitute the words "church member," the true effect of the reference would be much better apprehended. The Pharisees were in reality the earnest and devout party in Israel.

When Jesus contrasted the Pharisee and the publican at prayer, he did not intend for a moment to suggest that publicans were better than Pharisees. What he was pointing out was that even the Pharisee in his religious pride might have less reality of religion than a publican who felt his humility, and in whose soul there was a real quest of righteousness.

Nicodemus evidently represented what was best in Pharisaism. He was zealous to know the right and to do the right. Jesus, there-

Rice Has a Good Track Team, Coach Hjerlberg Believes

HOUSTON.—Ernie Hjerlberg, Swedish coach of the Rice Owls, will predict no track championship for his 1932 team, but believes it will be good enough to win every dual meet.

Track and field champions of the Southwest conference in 1931, Rice is regarded as a possible repeater this season. Sixteen lettermen returning to the fold from the championship team make the Owls dangerous contenders.

Coach Hjerlberg states frankly that his 1932 organization, led by Captain Dick Baldry of Dallas, will be much improved over the team that bagged last year's title at Fort Worth.

It's got to be good to be ADVERTISED

All the king's horses . . . and all the king's men can't make a success out of a bad product. No amount of advertising will create a market for it. The more it's advertised, the more its defects become known.

But a good product well advertised grows as swiftly and naturally as a healthy plant. People try it and like it. They tell others. They like it. Soon that product is found everywhere . . . and its name, spread abroad by advertising, is on every tongue.

When you see something widely and consistently advertised, you can be pretty sure its well worth having. If it weren't . . . if it didn't represent an honest and worthy value . . . the maker couldn't afford to advertise it.

Look over the advertisements in this paper. Some of these names you know. Others perhaps are newcomers, potential friends bringing some new comfort or convenience. But all are entitled to your trust . . . all are here because they have something real to contribute to your advantage . . . your service . . . your happiness.

It is going to be better than ever this year, and Mr. Hill is going to arrange so that Ermintrude and I can have ponies to ride and everything; and I've got my knicker suit already, and there's going to be a swimming tournament, and Cissy said I could borrow her swimming suit, it is so much prettier than mine. We'd have a secret engagement, and we could write letters, and I'd dedicate long hours to go off in the woods and think about you. If the girls thought it was queer or anything, Ermintrude could kind of that I had a beautiful though kind of sorrowful secret. We'd be faithful all through the years, and—" "Cripes!" he interposed. "What's the use of all the agony? I'm not much hand at writing letters. Never was. 'Nothing thing, you're overlooking the main issue—see?"

"Nix, hon. Now, Now or never that's a good rule. You got to make up your mind, and that's all there is to it—see? I got to beat it out here by the middle of the week at the latest."
"I have to think it over some more," said Mary-Frances. "I just have to."
"How about tomorrow night, Monday, then?"
"Well—" Mary-Frances acceded ("Ermintrude, I have promised to give him my answer this very night")—"tomorrow night, then, beloved."
"Yes or no, then, tomorrow night. No kidding? No fooling?"
"I promise," said Mary-Frances.

Cecily said, "You know, Ann, I do feel sort of better," and pushed away the bowl, emptied now of its hot, stimulating milk, and nibbled at the last crumbs of toast. "Not," she explained, "that I'm happier—but, well, just spunkier, maybe. You have been good for me, angel."
Ann asked, "I, or the hot milk after you'd eaten nothing since yesterday?" and added, "Sister's girls," and picked up the bowl and plate to wash them along with the other dishes piled in the sink.
"I'll put the kettle on," Cecily sighed. "I suppose we'll have to do those ding dishes tonight. Mary-Frances might have washed them for once. It wouldn't have hurt her."
"It is on and boiling, I'll wash them; you dry them, Mary-Frances would have, if you'd told her. She just doesn't think."
"Well, we thought. We had to, when we were her age."
"I know. But we were different."

"Yes, but why were we? I think we are different yet. And what is the matter with us, anyway? Other girls grow up and have jobs, and boy friends, and good times, and are happy. After a while they get engaged, and then they get married and have babies and keep on being happy. Look at us. Quarrelling with our beaus and everything. Just a mess."
"Well—Don't pour that water over them, honey, it's too hot. Never mind, it was only a jelly glass. What was I saving? Oh, yes. We've had worries and responsibilities all along. Sometimes I think Phil was right when he said that we didn't have any definite point that we could place and begin to hope."
"Hope? Shoot, Ann—that's what we do best. That's what we've always done—wait around and hold our breath. You told me yourself, half an hour ago, not to hope. It is the best bit of advice I've had. Look at Grand and Rosalie—honing. Two summer homes, and—"
"Poor dears," said Ann.

TRAVELING MAN ENDORSES ALL-BRAN Says It Brought Relief From Constipation

"I want to take this unsolicited means to tell you what ALL-BRAN has done for me.
"I am on the road all the time, and this has a tendency to constipate me, or any one who travels all the time. I used to suffer a great deal from constipation, until some one told me about Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since I have been eating this cereal, I have been cured of constipation. I heartily endorse it to any one suffering as I did."
Mr. B. F. Pollard, Marion, N. C.
Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN provides both. At the same time, it supplies iron for the blood.
The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Being a natural corrective ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming.
How much better than risking pills and drugs—so often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation—serious cases, with every meal. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.
Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

He claims he is Jesse James!

I CANNOT DO WITHOUT CRAZY CRYSTALS

I cannot do without Crazy Crystals. Should they never cure me of this terrible kidney and bladder trouble I would not take hundreds of dollars for the relief that I have obtained from them in the last six months. They are wonderful. I never miss an opportunity to recommend them to folks suffering with kidney and bladder trouble and also constipation. Without doubt they will relieve the most severe case. They have relieved me when competent physicians failed. Signed: MRS. C. H. CALDWELL, Rt. No. 4, Lone Oak, Texas.

How Old?

He doesn't look a day over fifty. And feels like forty.

At the age of 62. That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headachy, half-alive—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

This appetizing syrup is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. One dose will clear up almost any case of headache, biliousness, constipation. But if you want to keep in fine shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better in every way. You will never need to take another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant that makes them eat and keeps the bowels from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colds.

Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every way. Syrup pepsin isn't expensive.

"Sure, Sailor.. I used to Roll my Own"

THEY TASTE BETTER... THEY'RE PURE...
THEY'RE MILDER... They Satisfy

"I CARRIED the makin' for years. Got so I could roll 'em single-handed. But there's no real economy in it. "The way I figure is this: A fellow don't spend so much on himself but that he can afford to enjoy the best in smokes."
"Myself... I smoke Chesterfields. They cured me of rollin' my own. First off, you get better tobacco."
"I'm not knockin' the makin'... but it stands to reason Chesterfields wouldn't be where they are today if they didn't give you the finest tobacco. I like their aroma."
"Plenty of Turkish in Chesterfields...and you don't get that in the makin'."

And there must be something about the blend, too... you can't get a milder, better taste... not anywhere!
"Got a right good opinion of myself, but I don't figure I'm as clever as those cigarette-making machines. Every single Chesterfield is round and filled right...beats anything you can roll yourself. Besides, it smokes cooler and lasts longer. I've tried both, so I know."
