Heavy rain and hail, some of the stones as large as hen eggs, inflicted a total loss of our garden, and we imagine the same damage to neighboring gardens here at Indian Mountain on Monday. Hail fell with a heavy downpour of rain from 3:30 p.m. until after 4 o'clock. This Tuesday morning the Sabanno Creek could be heard one and a half miles away, rushing mud and debris as it flowed banks full. Certainly there is moisture for planting crops.

Mrs. Frank Scott, Aunt Lou to Cheaney folk, and a resident of the Cheaney community for many years, was buried at Stamford April 23, 1956. Two sons, Sterling Scott of Odessa and Homer Scott of Stamford and four daughters, Mrs. Rilla Williams of Abilene, Mrs. Vera Beck of Abilene, Mrs. Mollie Shelton of Eunice, N.M. and the youngest daughter, Ila, of Moody. Attending the funeral services at Stamford from Cheaney and Ranger were Mrs. Elmer Blackwell, Tom Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Jid Blackwell, Walter and A. C. Underwood and Bill Herrington. Members of the Scott family most always are present each year at the Alameda cemetery working.

Mr. and Mrs. John Love were in Waco Monday and Tuesday for an area insurance conference with Texas Farm Bureau leaders.

Mrs. Ben Freeman is resting and making satisfactory recovery at home following a heart attack in March.

Mrs. Lee Anglin's father is staying a while with her. His health does not permit him to be about much since he is well over 80.

'The Holy Earth' Will Be Sermon Topic Sunday At First Christian

Rural Life Sunday will be observed at the First Christian Church here, Sunday when the pastor, Roy M. Turner will speak on the subject: "The Holy Earth." This is the day set aside in the calendar of the Protestant churches to recall the essential relationship of men to the land. It is a day set aside to remind us of the good things of rural living. It is a day set aside to increase our concern that rural life has a chance to remain good and satisfying in these changing times.

"America needs strong rural churches," says Dale W. Medearis, national director of the Town and Country Church for the Disciples of Christ (Christian church). "There never was a time when strong rural churches were needed more than now, yet in many rural communities, the church is

Gospel Singing Will Be Held At Calvary Baptist

Sunday school begins at 10 a.m. Sunday at the Calvary Baptist Church, 205 North Oak, and regular church services follow at 11 a.m.

There will be a gospel singing from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. under the direction of Clyde Fisher.

Rev. Earl Williams, pastor, urged everyone to "come and bring a guest."

getting weaker." This condition Medearis attributes to the radical changes taking place in rural life coupled with the inability or unwillingness of the church to adjust with the changing times. During the period 1940-50 many of the rural churches closed their doors. "This is evidence," says Medearis, "that the line is being drawn rapidly between churches that are abreast of the times and those that are struggling to maintain the same program as they had a half century ago. Sunday preaching bolstered by an occasional week-long revival is not sufficient church program for a changing America!"

The Youth Group of the church will meet with Mrs. Howard Gill for their regular program at 6:30 p.m. Vespers will be held at 7:30 p.m. (This Sunday we change to the summer schedule.) The sermon will be part of the series: "God Gives So 12". Subject for Sunday is: "The Failure of Successful Men."

First Presbyterian Church Topic Sunday: 'Fear and Trembling'

"Fear and Trembling" is the subject of the sermon at the First Presbyterian Church, as a part of the 11 o'clock worship hour. The scripture lesson is Genesis 22:1-9, which deals with God's call to Abraham to sacrifice Isaac. The text is Philippians 2:12b-13.

Sunday church school convenes at 10 o'clock. Work progresses on the church school portion of the church building. Before the end of this month more adequate facilities will be had for the rapidly-growing attendance.

The dates for the Vacation Church School are set as June 4 through 8, from 9 to 11. This brief, but intensive school will enroll girls and boys from 4 to 14 years of age. Leadership was no problem: there will be two or more teachers for every class or group. A number of planning conferences have already been held, with more to come.

The Adult Study Group meets Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock, in the Cyrus B. Frost, Jr., home, 712 W. Moss. The lesson is in Exodus, as a part of the course on Old Testament survey.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cooper Home Is Desdemona After Recent Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. James Cooper are at home in Desdemona following their wedding April 14 in the Church of Christ in Gorman at 5 p.m. Walter Kaydell of Abilene read the double ring ceremony. The bride, who was Miss Tina Overmyer before her wedding, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Overmyer of Touke, Arkansas. Mr. Cooper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cooper of Pleasanton. Miss Nita Traner of Lingleville sang two special numbers and a group from the church sang the wedding marches. Miss Dorothy Cooper, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant and Grover Moiser served as best man. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white pimasilk. The dress had a fitted torso bodice attached to a bouffant skirt. The finger-tip veil was of nylon tulle. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, gladiolus and stock blossoms. Following the wedding, a reception was held in the living room of the Desdemona Home-making Department. Members of the house party were Miss Norma Henson, Doris Nabors, Jo Jacobs, La Tonne Lewis, Eula Ash, Laverda Rasney, Anell McMaster and Luenell Allen. Miss Connie Jo Nabors registered the guests. Out of town guests attending were the parents of the bride and bridegroom, Miss Dorothy Cooper of Big Lake, Miss Rebecca Overmyer, sister of the bride, Gary Overmyer, brother of the bride, Melvin Stafford and Marilyn Walraven of Touke, Arkansas, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mufford and son, Curtis of Bonham. Mrs. Mufford is the sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper are both employed as teachers.

PARTNERSHIP OR CORPORATION

Thinking of going into business for yourself? Perhaps you and Bill Smith have decided to operate a business together. Should this be done as partners or as a corporation? The answer to this problem involves many legal questions.

Perhaps the most important factor is that the business or personal acts of either you or Bill may be binding upon the partnership. The corporation, however, can act only through its officers and agents, and then only within the limitations granted by the articles of incorporation.

As members of a partnership both you and Bill will be liable for all of the debts of the business. In the case you have business losses, the creditors of the partnership could take all of the assets of the partnership, and all of the personal assets of either you or Bill, or both (except a few exempt by law), in order to satisfy the partnership debts.

On the other hand, if you form a corporation the creditors may go only against the assets of the corporation so that the most that either of you can lose is the amount you have invested in the business. The creditors could not touch the property which either of you own personally and individually, outside of your corporate stock.

In event of the death of you or Bill, it would be necessary to liquidate the partnership, but in case of a corporation the operation of the business is not affected by the death of an owner (stockholder). The firm continues as the same business with the heirs of the one who dies substituted as the owner of the stock.

Of primary interest to you and Bill will be the amount of income taxes you have to pay. In a partnership, each of the owners of the business includes on his individual income tax return his proportionate share of the total income shown on the partnership return. This is because the partnership is not recognized as a taxable entity. The corporation is recognized as a taxable entity, so it pays a tax on the amount of its net income, after deducting the salaries of you and Bill and other expenses. Then you of course pay individual income taxes on your salaries. If over a period of years the earnings of the corporation exceed reasonable salaries for the two owners, these earnings will be distributed to you and Bill in the form of dividends. The funds with which the dividends are paid have already been subject to tax in the hands of the corporation, but are again taxed on your individual returns when distributed.

The income tax advantage or disadvantage of a partnership as compared with a corporation depends on the net income from the business, the salaries the owners receive, the amount of their other income, and the requirements of the business for liquid funds.

In the event either of the owners is interested in planning his estate to reduce taxes at the time of his death, he can probably do it more easily through a corporation than a partnership.
