He said these provisions state that 120 days after the prisoners were turned over to the Repatriation Commission, for explanations by Reds trying to persuade them to go home, they must be given their freedom and civilian status.

The Koreans among the anti-Communist prisoners, Dulles told questioners, are electing to stay in the Republic of Korea, and the Chinese who have refused to return to Red China presumably will elect to go to Nationalist China on Formosa, although they might elect to go elsewhere.

Dulles also told the news conference that:

Flying Blind—And Safe

Aviation Cadets at Webb learn the fundamentals of instrument flying on the ground; consequently, they have a "margin of safety" when they "fly blind" for the first time.

Cadets Given Full Knowledge Of Plane And Its Accessories

This is the third of a series of six articles on how the Air Force looks after safety of its men and equipment.

The modern airplane is as safe as manufacturers can make it. So the key to safety operation lies in the pilot's knowledge of the plane and all its accessories.

The training mission at Webb Air Force Base is to instill in the fledgling airman a fundamental knowledge of the plane, the built-in warning and emergency devices and to make him so familiar with his craft that he will react automatically and accurately at any time an airborne emergency occurs.

Flight instruction is based on this theory: that if the pilot understands his plane and the control he has over it, he will be able to bring it safely home under virtually any circumstances.

Not the least of his instruction is concerned with the scores of safety devices built into the plane. The best communications equipment, navigational aids, instruments are necessary, of course, to operation of the modern plane, but they also provide the pilot with the greatest margin of safety any military airman enjoys anywhere in the world today.

Take the radio compass, with which all combat-type planes are equipped. Suppose a Webb cadet became "lost" somewhere over West Texas. His fuel supply would be limited, and he must find a place to set the plane down.

He simply would tune the radio compass to any radio station in the area, say KBST in Big Spring. Needle on the radio compass immediately would swing around to point out the course the pilot should follow to reach Big Spring. All the cadet would have to do would be "follow the needle" to Big Spring and a safe landing.

Or consider the radio "direction measurement" instrument. This device is tuned to a "range station" which sends out a constant radio "beam" which a pilot may follow simply by the sound in his earphones.

But it does more than that. Suppose the pilot is on a "beam" but doesn't know how far he is from the field where the station is situated.

He just pushes the "direction measurement" switch and a dial immediately shows him how far he must fly to reach the station. It also tells the pilot whether he is flying to or from the station, and notifies him, even in the thickest "soup" when he is directly above the station.

Ordinary radio, with which the pilot maintains contact with other planes in his flight or with ground station, also is a valuable ally in case of trouble. He can call for advice, or inform others of his predicament.

Student pilots receive extensive classroom instructions in operation of all these communications and navigation devices. Later, as they receive more and more flight training, they study instrument flying in the Link trainer, a mock airplane that reacts just like a real plane to its controls, simulated air turbulence, crosswinds, etc.

The cadet first becomes familiar with the instruments that measure and indicate extent of the external forces in the Link.

The things he learns are put into practice in the air, gradually, so that the pilot masters every phase of instrument flying individually and finally as an integrated "blind flying" procedure. He gets 20 hours of instrument training in the Link, with instruction coordinated with actual instrument flying so that any weaknesses may be overcome as the training program progresses.

Of course, the cadet learns to use his maps, understand the weather and the hazards it creates, and plan his flights. He is drilled in "ball out" procedures and even gets shot out of a cockpit in Webb's ejection seat to get first-hand experience in that emergency operation.

Another important phase of flight training is the "fuel management" instruction woven into the jet course at Webb. The cadet learns what he can expect of his plane and fuel supply, how to operate the craft to get the most flight out of the fuel, what to do in case of a leak, how far he can go on that last 80 gallons, etc.

And the student learns to follow the proper landing patterns, how to maintain proper position in formation, and to be constantly alert for other aircraft which might be in the same area.

All the training must be mastered, of course, if the pilot is to be expected to complete his combat mission. And completion of any assignment means—safety.

U. S. Alters Stand On Peace Conference

By SAM SUMMERLIN

PANMUNJOM (U.S.)—U. S. envoy Arthur Dean told the Communists today the United States would be willing to invite neutral nations to the Korean peace conference under certain conditions—a sharp reversal of his earlier stand.

At the same time, Dean rejected as "totally unacceptable" a Communist proposal to hold the conference at Panmunjom with Russia, India, Burma, Indonesia and Pakistan attending as nonvoting observers.

The U. N. delegate to preliminary peace talks told the Reds the United States would ask its Allies to consider asking neutrals to the full-dress conference if:

1. The belligerent nations reach agreement on the Korean question and want to move on the broad Asian questions.
2. The conference bogs down and it appears that progress on Korean problems is impossible.

The talks resume tomorrow. Meanwhile, Communist interviews with Chinese and Korean war prisoners who refused to go home were called off again today when the Reds called for POWs skipped by Persaders yesterday.

And the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission called off interviews for tomorrow when the Reds had not filed a request for prisoners from a new compound by 10 a.m. deadline.

U. N. and Communist proposals for setting up the Korean peace conference came after three weeks of maneuvering and Dean told newsmen afterward, "This is going to be a long horse trade."

The Red proposal closely followed previous Communist plans, but Dean's move departed sharply from his stand that he had authority only to exchange views on composition of the peace talks.

Dean said the United States is ready to "commit itself" and recommend to South Korea and the 15 other U. N. nations which fought in Korea that neutral nations be invited to the conference after a "completely satisfactory agreement" is reached on Korea or if developments "make it appear desirable" that they take part.

The U. S. envoy emphasized, however, that he could make no guarantees as to how the Allies would react if the United States recommends the seating of neutrals.

The Red proposal to hold the peace talks at Panmunjom was rejected by Dean minutes after it was advanced.

"Surely, with all the world to choose from, some place other than Panmunjom would be satisfactory to you," he declared.

County Reports Some Progress On 4th Street

Commissioners Earl Hull and Ralph Proctor reported some progress Monday in their efforts to secure right-of-way for extending and improving Fourth Street outside the city.

Proctor said he has secured deed from another property owner, and that condemnation action apparently will have to be initiated against only three owners of property involved in the proposed project.

Hull reported that he has secured commitments from several owners of land the street will cross east of the city limits, but that negotiations still are incomplete in most cases. Both Proctor and Hull are to contact property owners at least once more prior to the filing of any condemnation suits, they said.

Little action resulted from a commissioners court session that lasted most of the day Monday. The court voted against raising the salary of Odell Buchanan, constable of Coahoma. He had asked that salary be hiked from $150 to $200 per month.

Man Who Claimed To Be Civil War Vet Dies At 102

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (U.S.)—James Erwin, 102, who claimed to be a Confederate Civil War veteran, died last night after being struck by an auto.

Erwin was the oldest resident of Big Bear Valley in the San Bernardino Mountains. He settled there 75 years ago and lived in a cabin overlooking Lake Erwin, which was named after him.

Four years ago he was ill in a Redlands hospital. He slipped out of bed and hit his head more than 40 miles to Big Bear because he didn't like the nurses.

He said he was a trooper with Gen. Nathan Forrest, who made the classic statement, "Get there fustest with the mostest."

Stassen Says Aid To Europe Can Be Cut

PHILADELPHIA (U.S.)—American aid to Europe has been so successful that economic assistance to most nations can be reduced soon, it is a Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen said last night. "Unequivocally," he said during a television interview, "Europe is having its best year economically since the war." He continued: "As a result of this, economic assistance can soon be reduced in Europe except perhaps for Spain, Greece and Turkey."

Bribe Denied In Gambling Tax Hearing

GALVESTON—A witness in a gambling tax trial, in which the government has injected the question of a million dollar payoff, denies he paid off any Beaumont officials.

The case involves five Beaumont residents and more than $100,000 the government levied against them.

The Beaumont residents appeared, saying the levies, for the years 1949 and 1950, were too high. Jerome Giles under questioning yesterday by U.S. Atty. Clifton Maxwell, said he had never paid protection money to Beaumont officials after the government injected the "million dollar protection payoff" question into the trial.

Giles also said he knew of no numbers enterprise going on in Beaumont now.

Russell Bond, another who appeared, testified he would not deny that he is in the numbers racket "right now." Bond also denied any knowledge of a payoff.

Marcus Daugherty, agent of the Internal Revenue Bureau in 1949 and 1950 and now a credit manager for a Beaumont bank, testified that expenses claimed were unsubstantiated. He said he arrived at a reasonable assumption figure.

Bond and his wife, Dencie; Giles and his wife, Thelma; and Mrs. Valerye McLaughlin, filed the case. They said that for 10 years before 1949 they had been paying the gambling taxes and their figures had been accepted.

Chamber Board Plans Meetings On More Direct Route To Lake

Conferences looking toward opening of a more direct route to Lake J. B. Thomas from the Big Spring-Snyder highway were planned Monday, through action taken by the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

The board authorized appointment of a committee—and the request for similar committees from Chambers at Odessa, Snyder and Colorado City—so that the entire group may confer with Commissioners Courts of Scurry and Mitchell counties.

A direct route from the highway to the lake includes a six-and-a-half mile stretch that lies within Mitchell and Scurry counties. Land owners have offered to give right-of-way for a 100-foot road, it was explained by E. V. Spence, manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, but there are no provisions as yet for moving fences and grading the road. This problem will be taken to the officials of the counties affected.

C-C directors met Monday for the first time in the conference room of the organization's new offices in the Permian Building.

They heard reports from Culin Grigsby and Bryce Wiginton on progress made for the Christmas-season opening festivity on December 1. On that date Santa will appear in a parade, and the city's traditional holiday Treasure Hunt will be inaugurated. Grigsby said already 24 more firms had agreed to participate in the Treasure Hunt than took part last year. He felt that this feature will be of wider impact than ever.

He also reported that six churches in the city will have special floats decorated along the religious theme to highlight the December 1 parade, and that there will be several other decorated units, plus commercial entries. The review will be brightened by the appearance of several bands.

Wiginton said about $900 additional is needed by the merchants committee to finance various holiday projects, including repair, replacement and installation of street lights.

Announcers cements were made concerning the Howard County Junior College Field Day, scheduled Saturday; the Soil Conservation Award banquet, to be held December 3, and the formal "open house" and dedicatory ceremonies for the Permian Building next Sunday afternoon. All tenants in the new

Yule Tree Harvest Is Underway

OLYMPIA, Wash.—The Christmas tree harvest, a major industry in this state, has begun.

Between now and Dec. 25, millions of Christmas trees will be cut, baled or packed, and shipped to every state, Hawaii, Alaska and numerous foreign countries.

Last year approximately two million trees were exported and an additional half million or more were sold within the state.

Most of the evergreens come from half a dozen large operators who harvest their own or leased land. Many smaller operators buy their trees from the state or from farmers who raise them in woodlots.

Asst. Forestry Supervisor Donald R. Hopkins says, "Christmas trees grow best on poor land which will not grow satisfactory trees for lumber."

Mature evergreens, he said, "throw off more seed when they are growing on poor land than when growing in good soil, thus producing more small trees."

Ten to 20 years after the seed falls the new evergreens are Christmas-tree size, ready to be cut and shipped.

On Christmas tree farms the trees' lower limbs are pruned to make the upper grow thick and full. The trees are also thinned for more perfect proportion. Crowding causes top-sided trees, unsuitable for holiday decorations.

State P-TA Meet Opens Tonight As Hot Vote Awaited

SAN ANTONIO—The State Congress of Parents and Teachers convention opens tonight. The highlight of the convention, the election, comes Thursday.

Campaigning for the election has been extremely active in Houston where Mrs. C. R. Larimer has strong backing. The Houston block hopes to elect Mrs. Larimer by nomination from the floor.

The Larimer supporters oppose Mrs. Leon Price of Dallas, the nominating committee's candidate for president.

The Houston group say Mrs. Price and present president, Mrs. H. G. Stinson, of Plainview, are liberals. Their candidate, they say, is a conservative.

British Methodist Asks Queen To Quit Going To The Races

MANCHESTER, England—The president of Britain's Methodist Church Conference urged Queen Elizabeth II yesterday to quit going to the races.

"I think gambling is an antisocial habit. I would prefer that the Queen should stay away from a business of vested interest like horse racing. This country cannot afford gambling on horses."

Methodists Hear Reports Of Increases In District

Substantial gains in virtually all phases of the work were reflected in reports to the Big Spring Methodist District Conference here Monday.

Additions to the 38 churches of the district aggregated 908 for the first six months of the conference year, a gain of 276 over the corresponding period last year. World service reports showed a 80 per cent increase for the same period, Dr. Orion Carter, district superintendent, reported.

Conference highlights included a message at the worship hour by Dr. Edwin Parker pastor of the First Methodist Church in Odessa, and the licensing of four young men to preach. Dr. Parker spent several weeks in England last summer as an exchange pastor.

The Rev. J. Howard Crawford Lamesa spoke on "The Call to Preach" and Claude Hooks, of Colorado City, on "What A Layman Expects of His Pastor" in the licensing ceremonies. Those who met the committee Sunday and passed their examinations for licensing were Frank Oglesby, Westbrook, and Philip Daniel, Gene Ellis, and Richard Tucker of Andrews.

During the year four new churches were organized. Mother To Be Charged In Deaths

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A 35-year-old mother in critical condition in a hospital here this morning will be charged with first degree murder in the deaths of her two children.

Prosecutor H. A. Tucker said last night that two first degree charges, which carry a possible death penalty, will be filed against Mrs. Velma Lorene Swafford if she recovers from an overdose of sleeping pills.

Mrs. Swafford's children, Mike, 8, and Donna Ruth, 2, were found dead in the family's small apartment here yesterday. Deputy Coroner Dr. Robert Lee said the children were killed by injections of bichloride of mercury.

Dr. Lee said Mrs. Swafford, who was found sprawled on the kitchen floor, left a suicide note in which she chronicled the death of her children. He said the woman, a registered nurse, apparently had planned to kill herself with an injection of the poison, but was overcome too quickly by the sleeping pills. A hypodermic syringe filled with poison was found beneath Mrs. Swafford.

Dr. Lee quoted a note written by Mrs. Swafford as saying that Mrs. Swafford was "tired of having my children pushed around."

Dr. Lee said the note related Mrs. Swafford's son was suffering from muscular dystrophy; her husband had left her, and that she and the children were without money to buy food.

LENDERS' VERDICT

It's Take-Home Pay That Counts In Buying Houses

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP)—What price house can you afford to buy these days? How have high income taxes and inflated prices affected the old guide-posts on home buying?

Some traditional rules of thumb for home buyers are:

Pay no more than twice or twice-and-a-half your annual income.

A week's pay should equal a month's house expenses.

The one per cent rule: A week's pay equals one per cent of the house price—$50 a week for a $5,000 house; $100 a week for a $10,000 house and so on.

Puzzled home-shoppers wonder, however: Do these rules apply to gross pay or take-home pay?

The answer is flat—it's take-home pay that counts. That's the verdict of many lending officials who rule on what mortgage risks to accept or reject.

In former days, a $100-a-week man with a wife and two children was justified in buying a $10,000 or $12,500 house.

Today the same man takes home $68.76 a week. Under the one per cent rule he should buy an $8,876 house.

Just for kicks, and bearing in mind inflated home prices, let's assume this typical man is interested in buying what the National Assn. of Home Builders calls the nation's "typical house," one costing $12,500.

Under a Federal Housing Administration-insured mortgage at 4 1/2 per cent for 20 years his monthly payments would be $67.77; a 25-year mortgage would be $59.63 a month.

Okay so far, but an FHA loan official says this: "One week's take-home pay should match not only the carrying charges but also cover local taxes, fire insurance, heat, light and upkeep."

Eight-Point Buck Bagged By Man With Fishing Rod

WELLSTON, Mich. (AP)—Dewey Loomis bagged an 8-point, 200-pound deer yesterday with a fishing rod.

He was in a boat in Pine River when he heard a shot. A wounded deer came tumbling down a bluff, fell into the river and began to swim.

Loomis rowed after it, grabbed his rod, equipped with a 30-pound test line, and cast. The line tangled in the deer's antlers.

Loomis reeled the buck alongside and pushed its head under until it drowned, then loaded it in the boat and rowed home.

Two Fines Levied Against Airman

An air policeman from Webb Air Force Base, who was arrested following a disturbance around midnight at a drive-in cafe, was fined a total of $51 in city court this morning on two charges.

Judge W. E. Greenlee levied a $50 fine against the man for drunkenness and a $1 fine for simple assault. And he ordered the airman transferred to Howard County Court on charges of aggravated assault.

Complaint of simple assault was registered against the man by another air policeman, who said he was struck. Complaint of aggravated assault was filed by a woman, who said she was also struck at the drive in.

Both complaining witnesses testified in the airman's trial this morning. They said they were sitting in a car at the drive-in when the airman ordered them out. He struck them both, they said, and then resisted arrest when police arrived.

The defendant said he had at-

PORT WORTH (AP)—The home of a Negro real estate agent active in the controversial Riverside Area was dynamited early today.

L. V. Johnson, 54, was shaken from his bed at 1:45 a.m. when a blast was set off at the front of his house in an all-Negro neighborhood.

Asbestos slings were blown away, two windows were shattered, the cement porch chipped. Shrapnel was uprooted.

The Negro said he was the agent for a number of houses in the Riverside Area occupied by Lawrence Peters. Peters, a Negro, first moved into an all-white neighborhood. His auto was dynamited several weeks ago.

Johnson said he had white listings from the Riverside area and added, "The white people came to me. I never went to them."

Bulky Briefs Filed In Laughlin Ouster Hearing By Both Sides

By MAC ROY RASOR
GEORGETOWN (AP)—More accusations and denials were ready for study of District Judge D. B. Wood today in the South Texas ouster proceedings against District Judge Woodrow Laughlin of Alice.

Sen. William Shireman of Corpus Christi, claimed the evidence shows Laughlin "callously perverted" justice in the 79th District of Jim Wells, Duval, Starr and Brooks counties.

The defense brief, filed by C. C. Small Sr. of Austin, charged Laughlin's opposition with failing to show "utmost good faith" of "clear, positive and convincing proof." It contended the judge was the innocent victim of two feuding political factions.

charges against Laughlin. Among them was the charge that he obstructed a grand jury investigation into the "mistake" slaying of Jacob Floyd Jr., son of a political foe of South Texas political boss George Parr.

ponderance of evidence shows that (Laughlin) showed partiality and wilfully intended, to and did obstruct the x x x investigation. Small's brief denied that Laughlin's conduct had the "slightest effect" on the investigation of the murder.

You'll help allay fear of flash fires during the holidays with one of the new glass balls filled with carbon tetrachloride. The heat melts the fusible metal, splashing the chemical over the tree to extinguish a flash fire in a split second, say the manufacturers.

Outdoor Living Sets New Trend

A preview of 1954 summer furniture at Chicago indicates that the trend to summer outdoor living has inspired manufacturers to new designs and new materials.

Blonde redwood (the sapwood of the tree) is one innovation. Redwood used with wrought iron is another. Wood-grained plastic materials are in abundance.

One garden umbrella tilts, opens and closes with simple fingertip control. A barbecue unit is kettle-shaped, set on tripod legs which are unscrewable for portability. There are new contour and "wedgie" chairs lounge with wooden bases. Rattan is being groomed for a large role in indoor living. And wrought iron furnishings for both indoor and outdoor use.

For A Deep Drawer

A deep drawer is far more useful if outfitted with dividers. Metal or wood moldings can be fastened to the sides of the drawer at equidistant intervals. Cut-to-size panels of 1/2-inch tempered hardboard fit into these slides. Dish out the tops of the panels for easy visibility.

Soviet Gals Start Their Own Revolution

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

AN UNUSUAL MOSCOW — "Why, Grandmother, said the girl, 'in that dress you look just like a divan.' And how right the girl was, observed Tatiana Tess, writing in the Soviet government newspaper Isvestia.

Miss Tess was giving a dressing down to the Soviet Union's clothing industry in an article entitled "Pretty as well as Comfortable Clothing."

She demanded that Soviet fashion designers and clothing factories bestir themselves to obey the orders of the Malenkov government, which is putting on a big drive for more and better consumer goods. The government has promised the Soviet people, male and female, that they can have "elegant as well as serviceable shoes and clothing." The nation's press now is prodding the industry to get out of its monotonous rut and get chic.

Miss Tess, in her discourse on the shortcomings of the Soviet clothing industry suggested that it

Eye Care For Children Can Be Fun

By VIVIAN BROWN

A vain mother could ruin her child's eyes. She may take the attitude that her child's looks will be spoiled by "horrid old eyeglasses." So the poor tot may squint and strain her eyes to see the school blackboard, only to pay the penalty later.

If Junior or Sis must wear special lenses to correct poor vision, the idea should be made attractive to them. Instead of a big bug-a-boo which may even give them an inferiority complex.

Here are a few suggestions gleaned from mothers who cope with the problem to help keep your youngster happy with eyeglasses:

1. Do not discuss your child's handicap within her earshot.
2. Use psychology in conditioning her to the idea. Stress that it is probably only a temporary measure.

3. After your eye specialist gives you a lens prescription, choose an optician who will give your child good fit and help you select the right lens frames.
4. Select frames that are flattering to her. If you wear glasses, it is a wonderful idea to choose matching mother-daughter frames. If it is Junior who needs glasses, perhaps the frames can match Dad's—although horn-rimmed or other adult-type frames should be skipped. Adult-style Junior model frames come in a variety of colors in attractive version-correcting lenses.

5. Dress your child's hair in soft lines to take the play away from the glasses. Pig-tails or other sleek-to-the-head coifs that draw the hair back tightly are likely to make the glasses especially prominent.

HD Members Make Aluminum Trays

Members of the Luther Home Demonstration Club worked on aluminum trays when they had an all-day meeting in the home of Mrs. D. C. Zant.

Mrs. Sue Wilson reported on rugs. The Thanksgiving dinner planned for Nov. 24 has been canceled. A Christmas dinner was set for Dec. 10, when secret pals will be revealed.

factories don't come through with smart clothing and continued "wasting" materials in unsalable styles "It is necessary to fine the factory, just as one would fine a person who violates an order."

"Clothing," she wrote, "should be beautiful, comfortable and elegant. It should meet the demands of the people of various professions, ages and sizes. But clothing should also be as varied as people themselves vary."

Miss Tess said that she and many other Soviet women were sick and tired of the limited and unimaginative styles offered them in hats, frocks and shoes.

Take the lady who looked like a divan.

"She was the head of a collective farm brigade from the Kieve district who came to Moscow," related Miss Tess. "This woman began life as an agricultural worker but ended up as a state official. She went into a Moscow store with her granddaughter and made the rounds from one store to another. 'I came to their home just as the grandmother was unwrapping her purchases. She unwrapped a crepe de chine dress, looked at its bright flowered pattern and remarked that she had been offered the same design in one store after another. She said the clerks finally persuaded her to take it because of its sturdy material.'"

About grandma looking like a divan in that dress.

"The flowers in the pattern were so large," remarked Miss Tess, "like the kind used in pattern for upholstery." She continued: "Now this woman had hunted for a pretty dress to fit her age and taste and not belle her grey hair. But everywhere she found the same thing—large flowers in monotonous pattern printed on good material. This monotony aroused a feeling of dissatisfaction and protest, and it was had work."

"Now we have many talented artists working in our textile factories. And one finds many beautiful and interesting drawings in their work rooms. But why aren't these patterns being introduced into the industry? Why do the clerks in our stores stand around idle? Because people will not purchase the monotonous patterns in our clothing industry."

"There is such a thing as technical waste," Miss Tess continued. "For example, if a factory makes up a green dress embroidered with blue silk only because there is no brown silk on hand—such a dress is a waste."

"The Soviet people have a genuine love for the beautiful. . . they have a right to demand beautiful and comfortable clothing for work, the home, the theater. Soviet citizens are ashamed to observe that many of our establishments have fallen behind their sense in tastes and the requirements of the people."

Former Slum Area Now Is Fashionable

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Up until World War II when you talked of alley dwellings in the Capital you talked of slums. Now it's considered chic to have an address in these areas and the Sallies in our alleys are among the town's top hostesses.

Realtors and private citizens are in the rush to buy up the dilapidated houses, some not more than 12 feet wide and 28 feet deep; rip out the interiors; rig them up with modern plumbing, fancy paint and quaintness and resell them. Houses that cost around $1,000 when built years ago are selling like hot cakes now for $15,000 or more, after they have been remodeled.

The movement began in earnest when Beall's Court, one of the most notorious slum areas in the city, was purchased and remodeled. The place is now "Pomander Alley."

The idea caught on and alleys on Capitol Hill were cleaned up. The latest venture is in "Foggy Bottom," Washington's old gas-house district on the Potomac River where the Department of State is located and where plans are under way to build an $8 million dollar hotel project with a private yacht basin and other spectacular innovations. In all, about 120 houses in 20 different alleys have been remodeled and another 80 houses are in the process of conversion.

Mrs. Eleanor Lansing Dulles, of the Department of State, a sister of the Secretary of State, is renovating three alley houses in "Foggy Bottom," which was the first residential area in the old Federal City. She expects to make one of these her town residence. An adjoining house is being done by former Congressman Richard Harless (D-Ariz) and his socialite wife, Meredith Howard. Another has been purchased by Frank Butler, aviation official.

Airport P-TA Plans Meeting Thursday

At the last meeting of the group Mrs. Joann Thompson's sixth grade gave the program "Beauty Review for Miss Tin Can of 1954." The review was accompanied by a pantomime band. Members of the band served as judges of the review. They pronounced all contestants winners.

Mary Jane Engstrom gave a tap dance number and Patsy Beaube gave two readings.

Scored Hardboard Moisture Resistant

Scored hardboard in a 4-inch tile pattern, specially treated to make it moisture-resistant and long wearing, makes an economical and attractive covering for sad looking, cracked plaster walls.

When painted or enameled, with the scored lines colored in contrast, these hardboard panels give the kitchen a smart appearance. A stripping tool is used to paint the score lines neatly.

Available at all well-stocked lumber yards, scored hardboard panels can be cut with a crosscut saw in any direction, making it relatively simple to fit them together. Dealers carry complete instructions for installation and will recommend metal moldings to cover joints between panels.

Mary Margaret McBRIDE SAYS

It's no secret among practiced fund raisers that if you want to get big donations for a cause, the time to ring doorbells is when the man of the family is at home.

This is not to call women stingy, exactly. Still, the fact remains that the average man does write a more impressive charity check. And you really can't brush this statistic off with an amused reflection that good old Joe is only trying to brag when he gives $100 at a time that his financial statement indicates he can better afford $25.

A more logical explanation of the—shall we say comparatively cautious?—generosity of women was given to me by Mildred McAfee Horton, who has raised large sums for education and now sits as the only woman on the board of directors of at least two big companies. Mrs. Horton says it isn't that we women are less concerned about worthy causes than men, but that we habitually think of money in terms of relatively small sums.

Admittedly we own a good deal more than half the nation's wealth, and if we so elected, could control the country's economy. But here's the catch: we usually turn our money over to men to administer. The result is that women rarely handle large amounts. Most of us go through life without ever writing checks much larger than those needed to cover household expenses and maybe a few c.o.d.'s from stores where there are no husband-paid charge accounts. Dealing with the laundryman, the milkman and the super-market around the corner limits most of us to the petty-cash world which we still are in when the call comes for a contribution.

What to do, then, about loosening up thrifty women for a worthy cause?

Right now I am working on a game designed to remold the conservative spender into a money's-no-object tycoon. This game, to replace bridge, Canasta and recipe-swapping as afternoon diversion, is called "Let's Form a Corporation." Special prizes go to the players who pull off the slickest merger, float the biggest bond issue and show the largest profit from an investment.

I'm also mulling over a child's version (best to get them young, they say) to replace "come to see." This is called "Bank Teller," and the little girls will sit at metal cage windows and count out stacks of stage money which they shove through the wicket to little boys.

Two more boring games have never been invented, but desperate situations require desperate measures.

Meanwhile, until the arrival of the new, free-money era for the female, I'll go along defensively explaining we aren't stingy, just inexperienced as Mrs. Horton says. But I still think that if I'm ever in charge of a charity funds drive, I'll keep my doorbell ringers busy evenings and weekends—and just for good measure, I'll handpick the prettiest to make the most important calls. I'll bet on old Joe to stunt a bit with his checkbook when confronted with a pretty lady.

If Angry Don't Write

"Ow-o-w! Just let me get my hands on a pen. I'll write a letter that'll be too hot to hold. That so and so is going to get a piece of my mind."

Have you ever thought such thoughts? Of course you have. At one time or another all of us have. It's human to anger occasionally, but it always works out for the best when you can't locate a pen until you've had a chance to cool off and regain your common sense and perspective.

The best advice I can possibly offer is that you not write a letter while in the throes of any strong emotion whether it be anger, jealousy, sorrow, or love. Logical and right as such letters may seem at the time, they will invariably backfire, clothing you in embarrassment and regret.

You wouldn't be normal if you didn't get your dander up upon spying your steady attending a movie with an extra special dreamboat. But suppose you reveal the worst side of your nature by writing a bitter poisoned-pen letter.

How can you possibly smooth it over and make him think you're as sweet as ever after he explains the girl was his visiting cousin from Podunk who incidentally is six months older than he.

Okay, so the picture looks pretty black. Don't start judging until all the evidence is in. Believe me, whatever you write under the influence of any passion will later be used against you. If you must get it out of your system or burst, scribble it down in unending detail in your diary. It's the only friend who'll hear you to the uncensored and bitter finish without comment and who'll keep your private thoughts a secret forever.

Sanatorium Aid Studied At TB Association Meet

Directors of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association Monday voted to investigate possibilities of its assisting in the occupational therapy program at the Carlsbad Sanatorium.

The group said the local chapter "definitely is interested" in aiding the rehabilitation of tuberculosis victims. Bryce Wington, board member, was authorized to contact officials of the sanatorium for information concerning ways the chapter can assist with the work.

TB Association directors also voted to expand the program of financial aid to local tuberculosis sufferers who are awaiting admission to hospitals. Jewel Barton, public health nurse, is in charge of this program.

It was announced at the meeting that local merchants may secure Christmas Seals for use on their Christmas correspondence by contacting Wington, Miss Barton, C. G. Grigsby, or Wendal Parks, chairman of the association.

Virtually all Howard County residents are to receive packets of Christmas Seals by mail this week or in the next few days. Sale of the seals is the only means of raising funds employed by the tuberculosis association.

Greek Royal Pair Visits New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE (U)—The King and Queen of Greece, conquering the hearts of Americans on their nationwide tour, chugged through the rugged country of New Mexico today.

The train bearing Queen Frederika and King Paul made three brief stops at Gallup, heart of the Indian country; Belen, railroad hub of the state; and Clovis, cattle center of New Mexico.

Clovis, Roswell and other eastern New Mexico cities are to be represented by 150 to 200 Greek-Americans when the train stops at Clovis at 2:30 p.m. Delegations from Amarillo and Lubbock are expected to be on hand.

The royal couple make the New Mexico stop on their journey to Houston.

In Los Angeles the question was the entertainment for the King and queen of Greece at a civic banquet here Saturday too risks for royalty?

The mayor, some city councilmen and several society leaders thought so, and the corridors of City Hall still echoed their complaints today.

Mayor Norris Poulson said he was shocked, particularly by some of the songs of sexy Eartha Kitt. Other politician-critics found fault with some of the patter of actor Dick Powell, master of ceremonies at the black-tie, $15-per-plate blow-out.

"I was extremely disappointed," said the mayor. "I personally found some of the lyrics offensive. I feel the Hollywood Coordinating Committee owes an apology to the King and queen."

The coordinating committee arranged the entertainment, in which Frankie Laine and Comedian Danny Thomas also took part. Miss Kitt sang such ditties as "I Want to Be Evil" and "Santa Baby." She said:

"I can't understand it. I'm just an innocent little girl. I didn't think it was possible to shock politicians."

"And said Powell: "What did they expect, church hymns? It was only a little bit sophisticated."

Grazing on wheat has settled at 50 cents per hundred per month in some cases, says Paul Taylor, manager of the Quannah Livestock Commission Co.

Some cattlemen have placed animals on wheat fields as a share of the gain basis.

Taylor said a few fields have been leased for as low as $1.50 per head per month for calves, and in at least one instance, cows are being grazed for $2 per head per month.

In sales the past three weeks, his company has sold an average of 800 animals per week, Taylor added.

At Seymour, Ed Heller, co-owner of the Seymour Livestock Auction Commission Co. said cattle were coming there from as far as Alabama. Friday's sale, he said, represented the biggest run ever.

L. O. Tucker of the Vernon Stockyards Co. said about 4,000 head had been sold there in three weeks in "our largest sale in history."

"About 75 per cent of them are replacement cattle, going directly onto wheat pasture in and around Vernon. About half of them are heifers and cows, about half of them steer calves and stockers."

"We had 100 head out of Missouri, a lot from East Texas and Oklahoma, a few from Louisiana. I never saw anything like it," Taylor said.

The wheatlands are a succulent windfall to the hungry cattle. They can gain an average of two pounds per day, or roughly 250 pounds by March 15, observers say.

From Wichita Falls to Quannah and south to Haskell the crop is up to a good stand. It has never been so promising at this time of the year, observers agree.

T. L. McBride of the Wilbarger County PMA said his county's 90,000 acres show "as consistently good growth as I have ever seen. It is awfully good."

County Agent Ray Stockard said in Quannah that Hardeman counties "were never better." R. O. Dunkle of Young County says the 51,800 acres there are still too wet to graze but look "exceptionally good for this time of the year."

With Wichita County's 95,000 acres, the cattle have more than 300,000 acres of wheat to graze in just the four counties. Besides there are fields of barley and oats, and a near record seeding of legumes.

With government allotments on wheat, much planted acreage will never be harvested. It will all be grazed, at least until March 15.

Ninety-three per cent of all Canadian forest land is publicly owned.

BOVINES SIXTH IN GRID POLL

By WILL GRIMSLEY
 NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame and Maryland, only major elevens to escape the season's plague of "upsetitis," stood almost unchallenged today as the No. 1 and No. 2 teams of college football.

Notre Dame, preseason favorite for national honors, held its position at the head of the Associated Press rankings for the eighth straight week but felt new pressure from its constant pursuer, Maryland.

Meanwhile, three teams which were victims of surprise reversals — Georgia Tech, West Virginia and Baylor — fell from the top 10 and gave way to newcomers Wisconsin, Southern California and Rice.

Notre Dame's Irish, who conquered North Carolina, 34-14, for their seventh straight victory, had only a 60-point edge over undefeated Maryland, which smashed Mississippi, 38-0.

That is equivalent to only six first-place votes in the poll, which gives 10 points for a No. 1 vote, nine for No. 2, etc.

A total of 151 sports writers and broadcasters participated this week and elevated Michigan State, the 1952 national champion, to third place, supplanting Illinois, downed by Wisconsin, 34-7. The Illini slipped to seventh.

Georgia Tech, beaten by Alabama, 13-7, fell from 5th to 12th, and West Virginia, its 12-game winning streak snapped by South Carolina, plummeted from 8th to 19th. Baylor, upset by Houston, 37-7, dropped completely out of the picture from ninth place.

Notre Dame received 93 of the 151 first-place votes while Maryland collected 42. The Irish had 1,404 points compared with 1,344 for the Terrapins.

Others in the top 10 were Michigan State, Oklahoma, UCLA and Texas.

The top 10 (first-place votes in parentheses):

- Kentucky (3) 130; 14. Auburn (1) 126; 15. Duke 117; 16. Stanford 106; 17. Texas Tech 81; 18. South Carolina 78; 19. West Virginia (1) 74; 20. Iowa (1) 71.
- Others receiving more than 10 points were: Army, Tennessee, Baylor, SMU, Michigan (1), Cincinnati, Oklahoma A&M.

Members Of Coahoma Defensive Platoon

Coahoma's Bulldogs boast a high-powered offense but their defense has contributed no little to the team's success, too. Some of the lads who play defense for the 6-B champs are pictured above. They

Reserve Seats For Nov. 27th Game Are $1

Local football fans can purchase reserve seats for the Coahoma-Grandfalls Class B bi-district football game here after Thursday at Dibrell's Sporting Goods downtown.

The game will be played at Steer Stadium, starting at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 27.

Reserve seats will sell for $1 each. Students can gain admission to the game for 50 cents each, either by purchasing tickets at Coahoma High School or at the gate.

The general admission seat, which will be available only at the gate, will also sell for $1. Sections 3 and 4 on the West stands have been set aside for Big Spring fans planning to see the game.

A box of 500 reserve seats is being sent to Grandfalls for the contest. Those are located in Section 8 on the east side of the field.

In Coahoma, the tickets are available at the high school.

Coach Fred Salling of Coahoma said officials for the game would be assigned by the Abilene Association of Officials. If none are available there, then the arbiters will be obtained from the Lubbock district.

Coahoma's Bulldogs, still unbeaten after ten starts, resumed heavy drills Monday afternoon and were to keep at it all week.

Coach Salling said his boys had escaped serious injury and were in good condition.

Ysleta's Potential Good, Coach Gene Jordan Says

YSLETA (SC) — The Ysleta football team which heads into Big Spring Friday night for a practice game with the Big Spring Steers boasts more manpower than anyone around Big Spring perhaps suspects.

Coach Gene Jordan admits that the material, though a little green, is there.

Ysleta showed improvement in its game last week, though it lost by three touchdowns (26-6). It happened to be playing Bowie, which won the District 2-AAAA crown by beating the Warriors.

Ysleta lost its opening game to Roswell, N. M., 39-19, and Plainview later whipped the Indians, 45-8. Big Spring and Ysleta can be compared indirectly by the fact that Snyder, which yielded to Big Spring, 27-14, last week, decided Bowie early in the season, 14-12.

End-linebacker Fernando Basoco and back Sal Arzola have been standouts for Ysleta this season. End Bill Haynes has also been a big help.

Arzola is the speedster who grabbed the ball out of J. C. Armistead's hands in last year's game and raced 90 yards with the touchdown that gave Ysleta a 14-12 victory over the Steers.

Ysleta will not be at full strength for the game. Coach Jordan has announced that Harold Goodbraker, a back; and Guard Vince Esparza will miss the game due to injuries.

At that, the Warriors will be in better trim than they have for several games. At one time, Ysleta had seven starters sitting on the bench due to injuries.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Had Snyder scored a third touchdown against Big Spring the other night, the onlookers probably would have seen the Steers take to the air as they never have before—in order to gain running room.

If that doesn't add up, read on.

Snyder was playing what amounted to an eleven-man line (in reality, a 7-4 defense), concentrating solely on the job of quering the Steers' ground game. The Tigers did it, as no other team has this season.

In so doing, however, they relaxed their aerial defenses, left themselves wide to an attack through the air.

Had the need arisen, Quarterback Frank Long of the Steers would have thrown the ball a lot more, in order to make the opposition relax its tightly-knit defensive pattern.

Had the Tigers, through necessity, shifted into a 6-3-2 or a 6-2-2-1, chances are the Steers' running game would have started clicking.

The breaks helped to give Big Spring a three-touchdown lead at one time, however. Coach Carl Coleman decided to play it close to his vest and try and hold what he had.

As it turned out, Snyder had fired its best shots in scoring its two touchdowns. After that, the Bengals could not mount a genuine offensive. Throughout the last two periods, the two teams milled around in the center of the field.

The big mystery here is how Snyder has lost four conference games.

Observers who had watched the Bengals said they played their best game against Big Spring. It looked like a good, solid ball club, though, both offensively and defensively.

Game officials which blend into the background of a game and all but go unnoticed from the stands generally do a good job.

The arbiters who worked Friday night's game weren't doing that. Nothing seemed to suit them. They hammed up their act by insisting that something was amiss on every other play. The fans then gave vent to their feelings by booing them, everytime they saw a red flag floating through the breeze, which was often.

The officials even chased two boys for alleged fighting. A finer lad never lived than the young Big Springer who was banished, Jimmy Porter. He doesn't know yet why he was given the thumb.

Fact is, Jimmy vindicates the Snyder lad who was ordered to the sidelines, too. He says the other lad wasn't doing anything, either.

In the words of one observer: "the officiating kept our boys tore up all the way." And the reports on how the Snyder lads reacted haven't yet come in.

Snyder returns much of that backfield next year that dealt so much misery to Big Spring but will get hit fairly hard in the line.

Tiger backs returning will be Alan Sneed, Bernie Hagins (who called a fine game against the locals), Gerald Crawford, Jack Spikes and Joe Baxter.

Jackie Grimmett, who scored both touchdowns against Big Spring, is a senior, as is Mike Gibson.

Up front, the Bengal coaches will have to find replacements for Center Morris Hataway, Guards Naxie Davis, and Robert Burney, Tackles Jerry Smith (a 199-pounder), and Jimmy Rodgers; and Ends Keith Pitzer, Royce Pierce, Reagan White, the lad who turned in so many remarkable pass catches against the Longhorns.

Returning linemen will be Center Douglass James (who recovered a fumble that set one of Snyder's touchdown drives in motion); Guards James Parker, Norman Grimmett, Steve Blair (the expert goal kicker), Don McNew, and George Jennings; Tackles Robert Hagins, and Frankie Minton (a 223-pounder), and Ends Wayne Shuffield and Paul Hayes.

EIGHT LOCAL GRIDDERS UNABLE TO WORK OUT

The Big Spring Steers will enter the Ysleta game Friday night in their worst physical condition of the season and Coach Carl Coleman said some of the injured may not be ready before the bi-district game with the District 2-AAA champion, if by then.

No less than eight gridgers watched practice from the sidelines Monday afternoon.

The club suffered a battering in last week's game with Snyder. Joining Don Swinney, who had been hurt in the Lamesa game, were:

James Hollis—who hurt a knee in the Lamesa game, but who saw action last week.

Dean Porter—whose knee has been ailing ever since the San Angelo game.

Wayne Medlin—heavy cold.

Jerry Hughes—hurt three times in the Snyder game, out indefinitely with an ankle chip.

Joe Liberty—heavy cold.

Don Reynolds—bad tooth.

Most of them may be ready this weekend but Coleman said he would take no chances on the doubtful cases, either in the Ysleta or Sweetwater games.

The hospital list didn't influence the coaches into easing up in the workouts. The Steers, although they quit early, went through a spirited scrimmage.

J. C. Armistead, star back, suffered a mouth injury and Frosty Robison, the team's leading scorer, was shaken up a time or two on jarring tackles downfield but both were able to continue.

The USGA and the R & A established a uniform code of rules two years ago after a series of conferences.

The principal changes concern hazards and checking scores in stroke play—the latter designed to help eliminate the occasional mix-ups that occur when a player signs a card on which a mistake has been made.

The change makes it obligatory for the player to "ensure that the marker has signed the card." The rule now calls for the marker to sign the card and hand it to the competitor and for the competitor to check his score, sign it and turn it in. But the competitor, who is solely responsible for the correctness of the score, has not been required to accept the responsibility for the failure of the marker to sign.

In regard to hazards, henceforth a ball may not be lifted for identification in a hazard although if a ball is covered by sand, fallen leaves, etc., the player may remove enough to enable him to see the top of the ball. But if he plays the wrong ball from a hazard, there is no penalty.

A clause added to rule 22—dropping and placing the ball—provides that "A ball lifted in a hazard must be dropped and come to rest in that hazard unless otherwise provided for in the rules."

Other principal amendments provide that strokes played with a wrong ball do not count in the player's score; that combining stroke play and match play is prohibited.

Bisons Won't Use Fence Advertising

HOUSTON (AP)—Fences at Buff Stadium, home of the Houston Buffs, will be solid green next summer, free of advertising. The elimination of colored advertisements is in keeping with the policy of August Busch, new president of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Busch ordered the removal of the signs from the Cardinal Park in St. Louis. Houston is a St. Louis farm club.

Changes Slated In Golf Rules

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States Golf Assn. and the British Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, the world's principal ruling bodies of golf, have agreed on a number of minor revisions of the rules of golf, to become effective Jan. 1, 1954.

They also have agreed that there will be no further changes in the rules until representatives of the two bodies have had personal conferences. These likely will take place when the U. S. Walker Cup team visits Britain in the spring of 1955.

The USGA and the R & A established a uniform code of rules two years ago after a series of conferences.

The principal changes concern hazards and checking scores in stroke play—the latter designed to help eliminate the occasional mix-ups that occur when a player signs a card on which a mistake has been made.

Meanwhile, three teams which were victims of surprise reversals — Georgia Tech, West Virginia and Baylor — fell from the top 10 and gave way to newcomers Wisconsin, Southern California and Rice.

Notre Dame's Irish, who conquered North Carolina, 34-14, for their seventh straight victory, had only a 60-point edge over undefeated Maryland, which smashed Mississippi, 38-0.

That is equivalent to only six first-place votes in the poll, which gives 10 points for a No. 1 vote, nine for No. 2, etc.

A total of 151 sports writers and broadcasters participated this week and elevated Michigan State, the 1952 national champion, to third place, supplanting Illinois, downed by Wisconsin, 34-7. The Illini slipped to seventh.

Georgia Tech, beaten by Alabama, 13-7, fell from 5th to 12th, and West Virginia, its 12-game winning streak snapped by South Carolina, plummeted from 8th to 19th.

Baylor, upset by Houston, 37-7, dropped completely out of the picture from ninth place.

Notre Dame received 93 of the 151 first-place votes while Maryland collected 42. The Irish had 1,404 points compared with 1,344 for the Terrapins.

Others in the top 10 were Michigan State, Oklahoma, UCLA and Texas.

The top 10 (first-place votes in parentheses):

- 1. Notre Dame (93) .....1,404

Klondike May Go To Alpine

KLONDIKE (SC)—Coach Adrian Huckabee said Monday night his school had been offered a $200 guarantee and lodging to play its bi-district six-man football game with Fort Davis in Alpine next week and that the Cougars would probably take it.

Klondike won the District Six championship without the loss of a game. Fort Davis still has a game to play but has already clinched the District Five crown.

It plays again Thursday afternoon and Huckabee said he planned to scout the team at that time.

The winner of the Klondike-Fort Davis game will meet the winner of the Foran-Lohn contest in the Regional finals.

Huckabee said his team suffered several injuries in its game last weekend with Ackerly but all the boys, including his brilliant back, Ken (Stubby) Dossey, would probably play against Fort Davis. Dossey was hospitalized briefly following the game.

New Orleans Scribe Appeals For Raiders

NEW ORLEANS (U)—West Virginia, tumbled from the ranks of major unbeaten football teams last Saturday, is still considered a likely prospect for the Sugar Bowl by the classic's general manager, Fred Digby.

Digby said the Mountaineers lose their first game by a 20-14 score to South Carolina, but said West Virginia was "the biggest team physically I've seen this year with backs averaging over 200 pounds."

He told a New Orleans Quarterback Club meeting yesterday he thought West Virginia has a fine team despite the loss.

Texas Tech, the nation's highest scoring major team, was entered into the Sugar Bowl picture by Lloyd Glaudi, sports editor of the New Orleans Item.

Glaudi pointed out that Texas Tech represented a "colorful new face with fresh new money for our town...and a top-ranking challenger for an SEC (Southeastern Conference) club."

Glaudi said the Sugar Bowl could "do itself proud" by selecting Texas Tech.

Irwin Poche, president of the Sugar Bowl sponsoring Mid-Winter Sports Association, said Alabama, Auburn, Georgia Tech, Mississippi and Kentucky were among the SEC schools under consideration.

Commenting on West Virginia, Digby said it was his opinion that "Georgia Tech would have to be up to her game with Notre Dame to beat this West Virginia team."

He said the Mountaineers "made three marches of over 70 yards, but made some mistakes. Once they reached South Carolina's seven-yard line and fumbled."

Glaudi, booming Texas Tech as a "sleeper," pointed out that Texas Tech has defeated, among others, Mississippi State, Oklahoma A&M, College of the Pacific and Tulsa. Tech, he said, "slaughtered Tulsa 49 to 7, just a week after the latter had whipped Houston." Houston took an added prestige Saturday by overwhelming a highly-rated Baylor team, 37-7.

Glaudi said if Tech defeats Houston Saturday, "the Sugar shouldn't hesitate."

LUBBOCK (U)—Of course Texas Tech is interested in playing in the Sugar Bowl, Dewitt Weaver, coach of the high-scoring Red Raiders, said today.

He was commenting on an article in the New Orleans Item by that paper's sports editor, Lloyd Glaudi, in which Glaudi advocated that Tech be selected to play a team from the Southeastern Conference in the New Orleans gridiron classic Jan. 1.

"I am highly complimented that we should get this recognition," Weaver beamed. "We would go all out to give them a good football show if we played there."

Glaudi, in his column, said the Sugar Bowl should go after a "colorful new face and fresh money" by inviting Tech which he said was a fine football team and the nation's leading scorer. "The Sugar Bowl would do itself proud by

Among the boys coaches Roy Baird and Harold Bentley are counting heavily upon when the Big Spring High School B team invades Sweetwater Saturday are Gene Odell (left) and Preston Bridges. Odell, a back, scored a touchdown against Lamesa last week. Bridges is a stellar guard.

'Who Wants Baylor Now?' Chant Is Cry At Waco

By The Associated Press
Southwest Conference football notes:

The Texas Aggies, who lost 24-7 to Rice Saturday, resumed football drills Tuesday, the Texas Longhorns, their Thanksgiving Day opponents, took another holiday.

It was the third "day off" in a row for the Longhorns who waited until the final quarter last week to go ahead and whip TCU, 13-3. Trainer Frank Medina reported the Texas squad in good shape.

Coach Ray George of the Aggies said backs Don Kachik and Connie Magour were injured in the Rice game and Kachik might not be ready for Texas.

At Waco, the stunned Baylor Bears, ranked No. 3 nationally in The Associated Press poll two weeks ago, worked out with the bowl selectors' chant, "Who wants Baylor now?" ringing in their ears. They lost, 37-7, to off-beaten Houston Saturday. They play SMU at Waco Saturday.

SMU gained a halfback and lost another. Roy Pace will be lost for the season because of a knee injury in the 13-7 defeat of Arkansas last week. Jerry Norton, out for two weeks with injuries, ran at full speed Monday.

Coach Jess Neely worried about Rice Owl fumbles as his squad prepared for TCU at Fort Worth Saturday. Rice fumbled four times in the first eight minutes in defeating A&M last week.

TCU took up heavy work Tuesday after running a 45-minute offensive drill Monday with no pads. Fullback Ray McKown, nursing a thigh bruise, was the only casualty.

Arkansas' Razorbacks turned on the heat Tuesday after taking it easy Monday. The Hogs meet LSU Saturday at Little Rock.

First Round Pairings Are Drawn For SWC Tourney

HOUSTON (U)—Southern Methodist, last year's winner, and Baylor meet here Dec. 28 in the opening game of the 3rd annual Southwest Conference Pre-Season Basketball Tournament.

First-round pairings were drawn last week at a meeting attended by Rice Institute officials, sports-writers and Abb Curtis, assistant secretary of the conference.

The Dec. 28 pairings for the first round at the 6,400-seat Rice field house:

2:30 p.m.—Southern Methodist vs Baylor.

4 p.m.—Texas Christian University, the defending conference champion, vs Arkansas.

7:30 p.m.—Rice vs Texas A&M.

9 p.m.—Texas vs Alabama, the tournament's guest team.

Rice, A&M, SMU and Baylor are in the tournament's upper bracket, Texas, Alabama, TCU and Arkansas in the lower bracket.

Second-round championship and first-round consolation games will be played Dec. 29. The consolation titles will be settled at 4 p.m., Dec. 30, with the championship finals at 9 p.m. Third place games also will be played in each division.

The tournament was moved here this year on a trial basis after the first two tournaments at Dallas ran into financial difficulties. The 1951 meet, with TCU the winner, broke even financially but last year's receipts totaled only $8,000.

Curtis estimates the Houston tournament will need an income of $12,000 to break even. This is about the same as was needed in Dallas. Curtis figures additional travel required for the three-day Houston tournament will just about match the added housing expenses for the four-day meets in Dallas.

Tentative plans are under way for an advance ticket sale arrangement which Rice officials hope will make the tournament a financial success and establish it as an annual affair in Houston.

Shinaut Stars For El Pasoans

By The Associated Press
One reason Texas Western has its best Border Conference football season since 1945 is quarterback Dick Shinaut.

He gave possibly the best performance Saturday when he led the Miners to a 28-20 upset victory over Arizona.

The Miners are expected to end the season third.

Shinaut trails only Dee Windsor of Hardin-Simmons in passing. He has completed 43 of 73 passes for 504 yards and 45 of 100 for 786 yards for Windsor.

Windsor and Bob Hendricks of Arizona Tempe, who is third with 31 completions in 57 tries for 453 yards, will have a chance to gain ground on Shinaut this week. While the Miners are idle, Hardin-Simmons meets North Texas State at Abilene. Tempe is host to Midwestern.

Arizona's Ken Cardella held his lead in rushing and total offense. His total is 115 yards. Windsor has a total offense of 680.

Cardella is expected to return to action this week against Kansas State at Tucson. Robert Wheelchel of West Texas is second in rushing with 646.

The top game of the week is Texas Tech's visit to Houston to meet the University of Houston. West Texas and New Mexico A&M tangle at Las Cruces in the only conference game. Both are without a conference win.

Keith Lane Hot In Early Tilts

BORGER (SC) — Frank Phillips' Plainmen of Borger, fast becoming the favorites to cop their first West Zone basketball title in history, will play their third game of the season Thursday night, at which time they host Sayre, Okla., J.C.

In their first two starts, the charges of Coach Jim Holston lost to West Texas B, 44-41, before the largest crowd ever to see them at home; then drubbed the Panhandle Aggie B team, 70-63.

In the two games, Keith Lane—the Plainmen's great offensive threat, scored a total of 59 points. He got 29 against West Texas B, then scorched the hoop with a 39-point effort in the Panhandle A&M game.

West Texas used several of its varsity players against the Phillips team in its game.

Joe Goodwin, Dee Miller and John Holland fed the ball to Lane and each picked up eight points as the Plainmen rolled over the Oklahoma club.

The Phillips schedule:
Nov. 19 — Sayre here.

Wink Facing Major Test Friday Night

By The Associated Press
The Class A division of Texas schoolboy football completes its state playoff bracket this week with defending champion Wink hard put to make it.

The Wildcats play unbeaten, one-tided McCarney for the District 5 title at Wink Friday. McCarney has looked fully as strong if not stronger than Wink.

Deer Park, which played Wink in the final last season, appears a certainty to return to the playoffs.

The undefeated, untied Deer plays a Dickinson team that has lost five, although only one in conference competition, for the District 26 crown Friday.

Another familiar face is likely to be in the Class A playoffs—Giddings, the state champion in 1951. Giddings meets Luling for the District 24 title.

Seventeen of the 32 districts already have determined their teams in the playoffs. The other 15 must be decided this week. Playoffs start next week.

Already in the fight for the state title are Springlake, Hale Center, Sundown, Ranger, Paducah, Clifton, Richardson, Whitewright, Canton, Newton, Trinity, Elgin, Burnett, A&M Consolidated, Palacios, Boerne and Lyford.

Six teams are undefeated and untied: Springlake, Clifton, Elgin, Burnett, Lyford and A&M Consolidated. Richardson is undefeated but tied.

Buffs At Work For Christoval

FORSAN (SC) — Though the time and place for Forsan's bi-district game with Lohn has been set, Coach Frank Honeycutt says the Buffaloes are not even thinking that far ahead.

According to Honeycutt, the Buffs have an important test coming up with Christoval this weekend.

In that one, the Buffs will be meeting the 1952 champions of the circuit before a Homecoming crowd.

Christoval, Honeycutt emphasized, has always posed a problem for the Buffs. This year is to be no exception.

The Cougars tied Blackwell, which gave Forsan a rugged time, and have won other games which they weren't figured to come out on top.

For that reason, Honeycutt has his team hard at work.

The Buffaloes were idle last week. They have won eight games in a row and will go all out to humble the Cougars and enter bi-district play with a perfect slate.

The schedule Friday by district:
1. Memphis at Metean, White Deer at Panhandle, Clarendon at Letora.
2. Sudan at Happy.
3. New Deal at Idalou, Batta at Crosbyton.
4. Merton at Dumas City, Whitelace at Beagraves, O'Donnell at Sundown.
5. McCamey at Wink, Big Lake at Truan.

8. Albany at Haskell, Roscoe at Roby, Market at Munday.
9. Paducah at Archer City, Henrietta at Crowell, Holiday at Childress.
10. Garrettsville at Levittown, Pilot Point at Lake Worth, Lanier (Fort Worth) at Bridgeport, Boyd at Addicks.
11. Plano at Rockwall, Ferris at Kaufman, Richardson at Wilmer-Hutchins.
12. Euless at Quinlan, Hughes Springs at New Boston, James Bowie at Talco.

section the GOP organization had worked "hand in glove" with Brownell on the White case. He said the committee learned of Brownell's original Chicago speech on the subject only 10 minutes before it was made on Nov. 6.

"If Mr. Truman's statement is representative of the truth of the balance of his presentation, then no reliance whatsoever can be put on anything in the former President's explanation," Hall declared. Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, followed Truman on the air last night to declare that if the former President was aiding FBI investigations in the White case there remained unanswered questions as to why he had labeled a congressional probe as "red herrings."

Ferguson raised the question, not mentioned by Truman, of the latter's laudatory letters to White when White was preparing to transfer from the Treasury to the international fund, and when he left the fund in 1947. Lashing out at Brownell, he said the attorney general "has degraded the highest function of government — the administration of justice — into cheap political trickery. He made the Justice Department headquarters for political skulduggery. The attorney general of the United States has not only degraded his office, he has deceived his chief as to what he proposed to do, and in saying 'Harry Dexter White was known to be a Communist spy by the very people who appointed him' led to the American people."

"In backing away again from this charge with the mealy-mouthed statement that he had no intention of impugning the loyalty of any high official of the prior administration, he lied to the American people again." Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said he had often disagreed with Truman "but I have never questioned his loyalty to his country." McClellan, a member, said it will be up to Brownell to prove before the Senate committee "his position that White was promoted when President Truman knew he was a spy."

"I guess he can show that, I think maybe the public will feel that President Truman acted in good faith," McClellan said. Chairman Jenner (R-Ind.) of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee said that group is "interested only in fact and is not concerned with political blyat." "We intend to make a complete record in the White case . . . and let Congress and the American people be the judge of what the true facts are," he said.

Rep. Moulder (D-Mo.), a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee, said Truman had given "crystal-clear statements of the facts and an answer to the scurrilous and insulting political smear against him and the Democratic party." Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) took up Truman's admission that he had made an error when he said originally that White was "fired" when he was found to be "wrong."

"There are many people who think Mr. Truman made many other mistakes, including the condoning of Communists by his administration and his reluctance to believe that Alger Hiss could not be trusted," Brown declared. Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, assistant House Democratic leader, retorted in a separate interview that Truman had exposed "the below-the-belt conspiracy of Brownell and others."

"Brownell made use of confidential FBI reports for political purposes, McCormack declared. "If he can use one FBI report for political purposes he can use another, and the sources of FBI information will be dried up." Rep. Clardy (R-Mich.), a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee, said in Philadelphia the Truman administration had "quashed" an indictment against White by a federal grand jury sitting in New York in 1947. Clardy said the committee would like to question Jerome Blumauer, who was foreman of the grand jury, about the case. It had subpoenaed him last Friday, but Blumauer sent word he could not testify without running the risk of being cited for contempt of court if he discussed grand jury deliberations.

Clardy did not elaborate on his statement that an indictment was about to be handed down against White and was quashed. White appeared before the grand jury. It did not indict him. He died in 1948 after testifying before the House committee that he was neither a Communist nor a spy. Truman said "any unusual action" with respect to White's appointment might have alerted other suspects. He said that in 1947 the results of the FBI investigation were laid before a federal grand jury in New York which indicted 12 top Communist party leaders but did not indict White. The former President avoided any derogatory mention of Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, once Truman's secretary of state and now a political foe. It was Byrnes who first said in a statement after Truman had said he did not recall any FBI report on White—that he discussed such a report with the former President at the White House on Feb. 6, 1946. This was the day White's monetary fund appointment was confirmed by the Senate. Truman confirmed this account. Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) of the Un-American Activities Committee announced in Philadelphia that a three-member subcommittee will question Byrnes about the White case in Columbia, S. C., late this month. He named Clardy as chairman and Representatives Gordon H. Secher (R-Ohio) and Moulder as members.

White Left Widow Cash, U.S. Savings Bonds, Insurance NEW YORK (AP)—Harry Dexter White left his widow, the former Anne Terry, $19,565 in cash in two bank accounts. Papers in connection with the probate of his will showed the couple also jointly owned U.S. savings bonds with a maturity value of $11,025. White also had carried a $10,000 life insurance policy. White died Aug. 16, 1948, after having served as executive director for the United States on the International Monetary Fund.

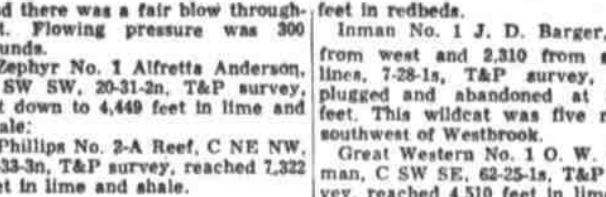

It was his appointment to this post while under investigation by the FBI that has resulted in the bitter exchange of charges between Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. and former President Harry Truman. Witnesses to White's will included Harold Glasser of Washington, a former Treasury Department official. He has refused on the ground of possible self incrimination to answer questions before investigating committees.

TRUMAN

In the Treasury Department for many years and who was at that time an assistant secretary of the Treasury," he said. He added that as best he can determine an FBI report "specifically discussing activities of Harry Dexter White was brought to my attention" early in February 1946. He said it was delivered to him by Brig. Gen. Harry Vaughan, his military aide, and also "brought to my personal attention by Secretary of State Byrnes."

Truman said he sent a copy of the report to White's immediate superior, the late Fred Vinson, then secretary of the Treasury. He said he also discussed the matter with Vinson as well as Byrnes. But that discussion, he related, was not until after the Senate had confirmed White's promotion to the International Monetary Fund. "Secretary of the Treasury Vinson consulted with Atty. Gen. Tom Clark and other government officials," Truman related. "When the results of these consultations were reported to me, the conclusion was reached that the appointment should be allowed to take its normal course. The final responsibility for this decision, of course, was mine. The reason for the decision was that the charges which had been made to the FBI against Mr. White also involved many other persons . . . of great importance to the nation that this investigation be continued in order to prove or disprove these charges and to determine if still other persons were implicated."

He said any unusual action in connection with the White appointment "might well have alerted all the persons involved to the fact that the investigation was under way and thus endanger the success of the investigation." At one point in his speech, Truman said the "wild imputations of disloyalty which Mr. Brownell has made" were directed not only at him but against Vinson. "No man I ever knew was a more patriotic American," Truman said, adding that "I deeply resent these cowardly insinuations against one who is dead."

Truman made no mention by name of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, a fact noted by Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.). Ferguson accused the former President of letting it "leak out" before the speech that the FBI director had been in on the agreement to keep White in the government while the investigation continued. But in the speech, the Michigan senator said, "he doesn't combine Hoover with any of the people he consulted. . . . He leaves that to the imagination." Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) chairman of the Internal Security Committee before which Brownell will appear today, said the body intended to make a complete record in the White case and "let Congress and the American people know what the true facts are."

On the Democratic side of the Senate, Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said he thought Truman had "laid to rest whatever doubts may have resulted from the spurious Brownell charge." He said he thought "an apology from Mr. Brownell would be most appropriate." Truman also pointed out another step which had been taken. He said it had originally planned to support White for the top managerial position in the International Monetary Fund—a more important post than a director. But Truman said after the receipt of the FBI report it was decided that White should be limited to membership on the Board of Directors. "With his duties thus restricted," Truman said, "he would be subject to the supervision of the secretary of the Treasury, and his position would be less important and much less sensitive—if it were sensitive at all—than the position then held by him as assistant secretary of the Treasury."

White later appeared before a federal grand jury, then investigating subversive activities, but he was not indicted. He resigned in April 1947. He died a few days after he had appeared before the House Un-American Activities Committee. Here he denied he was a Communist. Four days after the attorney general leveled his charge in Chicago, Truman was subpoenaed by the current committee. He declined to appear. He said at first it appeared to him to use the committee "as a forum to answer the scurrilous charges which have been made against me."

"But if I had done it," he said, "I would have been a party with the committee to an action which would have undermined the constitutional position of the office of President of the United States." His over-all observation of the White controversy he summed up this way: "If this sordid, deliberate and unprecedented attack on the loyalty of a former President of the United States will serve to alert the people to the terrible danger that our nation and each citizen faces, then it will have been a blessing in disguise."

Blowing At 111 Candles

Walter W. Williams, oldest of five surviving veterans of the Civil War, blows at some of the candles on his 111th birthday cake in his farm home at Franklin, Tex. Williams, who fought for the Confederacy, was 111 Nov. 14, but the party for 100 relatives and friends was delayed one day. Williams had "wind" enough for the party, but not enough to blow out 111 candles. Willie Mae Bowles of Houston, a relative, is at left and his wife, Ella Mae, 75, stands behind him. (AP Wirephoto).
