Plans for the new structures are now available for inspection at the local Chamber of Commerce offices in the Permian Building.

According to the announcement received here, bids will be received until 2:30 p. m. Dec. 3. At that time the bids will be publicly opened and read. Contract is expected to be awarded and construction to begin soon after.

AEC Draft Of Changes In Act Told

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the Atomic Energy Commission is drafting a series of important amendments to the Atomic Energy Act.

A Washington dispatch to the Times by James Reston said the amendments are designed to increase the participation of private industry in the program at home and to liberalize the exchange of atomic information among the Allies.

The amendments would do these things, the story said:

1. Enable private industry to own or rent fissionable material and to own and operate power reactors under proper controls. They cannot do either at present.
2. Give the Atomic Energy Commission greater discretion in the exchange of atomic and thermodynamic information. This is strictly limited by the act, though it is subject to various interpretations.
3. Liberalize the rigid patent system that now governs all developments in this field so that private industry will have greater incentives to put its dollars, manpower and brains into these projects.
4. Revise the security system so that it is not necessary to get or evade the high 'Q' clearance for laborers on atomic energy projects.
5. Remove certain technicalities in the act in order to remove any doubt that violations of the law cover not only the atomic energy program but the thermonuclear (hydrogen bomb) program as well.

Three Ex-Convicts Under Heavy Bonds

HOUSTON (AP)—Three young ex-convicts were under bonds totaling $125,000 today after being indicted on 11 counts yesterday.

Abraham Brothman, 39-year-old chemical engineer who served a prison term in the Rosenberg atom spy case, waits in the U.S. Courthouse, New York City, to testify in a closed hearing before the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations.

Waits To Testify

John C. White, state agriculture commissioner, said this morning he hopes to have the hay transportation program in high gear by Monday. He said he believes funds now available will carry the state through April and that more federal money probably will be available if the present kitty is exhausted.

White signed a contract with the federal government Monday providing for the hay program. Object of the plan, he said, is to permit stockmen and farmers to purchase hay at prices comparable to its cost in non-drought areas of the state.

Boyd completed arrangements for the local meeting through Howard County Judge R. H. Weaver and City Manager H. W. Whitney this morning. He said Young will arrive Friday to conduct the session.

Dallas Loyal Demos Slate Chicken Fry With Kerr Speaker

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas County Democrats who remained loyal to the national party will have Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma at their fund-raising rally here Nov. 20.

Sen. Kerr will be introduced by Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham, sparkplug of the re-activation of the national party supporters in Texas.

The Dallas affair will be a $10 plate chicken fry in the automobile building at Fair Park.

It is a part of a series of fund-raising dinners for the Democrats over Texas. Rayburn will speak at many of them.

H. R. Aldredge, chairman of the Democratic organizing committee of Dallas County, said today that 2,500 persons are expected at the Dallas rally.

He objected to the labels of liberals, loyalists and Trumanists put on his kind of Democrats.

"We are tired of classifications and labels," he said. "We intend to function as plain Democrats, and neither to the left nor to the right."

$1 Million More In AFB Contracts Due

The award of a $1,242,26 contract to H. B. Zachry of San Antonio for construction of an aircraft parking apron at Webb Air Force Base brought the work under contract at the base to about $550,000, Col. Lynn C. Barnes, District Engineer of the Albuquerque District, Corps of Engineers, announced today.

Bids for construction of the radar training building, an auxiliary airfield in Martin County, a maintenance hangar, a base maintenance shop, and bachelor officers' quarters.

Bids for construction of the radar training building will be opened Nov. 13. The major items of proposed work include a 20 by 100 foot wood frame building with a concrete floor, 330 square yards of double bituminous surfacing and minor amounts of utilities consisting of water, sewer, gas and electrical facilities.

Bids for construction of an auxiliary airfield in Martin County are scheduled to be opened Nov. 20. Proposed work under this invitation for bids include 123,000 square yards of asphalt paving, 150,000 cubic yards of excavation, 375 lineal feet of gravel road, 600 feet of drainage pipe and almost two miles of barbed wire fence.

Bids for construction of a 124 by 238 foot maintenance hangar and a 120 by 228 foot base maintenance shop will be opened Dec. 1. The hangar shop will be steel frame and masonry panel construction. Concrete sidewalks, paved roads, and parking areas, and sewer, water, gas, steam, electrical and compressed air facilities are included in the proposed work.

Bids for construction of bachelor officers' quarters are scheduled to be opened Dec. 8. The two proposed structures will be two-story, L-shaped buildings of frame construction, each approximately 32 by 100 feet and 32 by 224 feet. Also included in the proposed contract are sewer, water, gas and electrical utilities and double bituminous surface treatment of approximately 18,000 square feet.

Two Men Held In Robbery Of Stanton Cafe

STANTON — Two Odessa men were charged with robbery here this morning after a masked man and companion hijacked a small cafe west of Stanton Wednesday night.

Charged with robbery were Joe James, 26, and Wayne Earl Coffey, 21. The complaints were lodged by District Attorney Elton Gilliland. The two men were held in the Martin County jail.

Sheriff Dan Saunders said that Mrs. Flossie Curtis and Jeanne Overby, victims of the robbery, had identified the two men as a pair who came into the cafe shortly before the stick-up.

As they related the incident to Sheriff Saunders, Mrs. Curtis and Miss Overby said that two men entered the cafe around 10:30 p. m. when the Burger Buggy was crowded with several trucks. They departed about the time other customers left.

The two women had just exchanged suspicions about two men who had sat at the end of the counter when the door was opened. One man, the younger of the two, had a handkerchief around his face. Mrs. Curtis said she recognized the clothing. The companion was not masked.

The robbers commanded the two women to lie down behind the counter. The place was too small to lie side by side so Mrs. Curtis sat up.

"I said lie down flat on your face," one of the men commanded. So Mrs. Curtis had to pile on top of Miss Overby while the cash register was relieved of $41. While the two men fled, Mrs. Curtis and Miss Overby kept their places because they were afraid their assailants might be outside. Soon a truck driver stopped and entered. Mrs. Curtis then summoned her husband, T. Curtis, who was in his trailer house, 75 yards away, and he rushed into Stanton to report to Sheriff Saunders.

The alarm was put out and at 3:05 a. m., two suspects were apprehended at 1600 2nd in Odessa by Odessa and Miller Peak. Sheriff Saunders immediately told the two women there to identify the men, who were returned to Stanton to be charged.

Gilliland said that James admitted to a suspended sentence at Kermit for burglary, and then to serving a three year term from Andrews County for forgery. He was released from Huntsville on Nov. 23, 1952 and was living in Odessa with his mother.

Coffey, who said he was an unemployed oil field worker, told Gilliland he had been staying with James although his mother lived in Odessa. An old car, which the district attorney said was used in fleeing from the robbery scene, was abandoned near the Bruce Frazier Sr. farm 10 miles northwest of Stanton. He said that the men walked back to the highway, caught a ride in a truck to the bus station in Midland where they caught a taxi to Odessa. Most of the missing cash was recovered, he said.

McCarthy's committee has been conducting closed door hearings into possible espionage at the Signal Corps radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

The Senator said he was sending a telegram to Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard, "to see what his attitude toward Furry will be."

"I think it is a good thing for the people who are sending their sons and daughters to Harvard to know the Harvard Corporation attitude," McCarthy said.

"It's a smelly mess and I cannot conceive of anyone sending their children anywhere where they might be open to indoctrination by Communist professors."

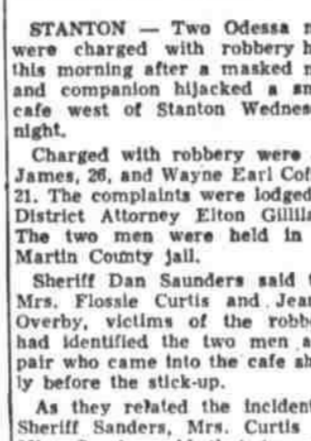

McCarthy asserted "this committee is not investigating colleges as such but is interested in any campus partially supported by federal funds through tax exemptions and grants."

McCarthy said yesterday that a Harvard physics professor, whom he did not name, had refused to tell whether he ever gave any data on secret radar material to the Communists.

He said the witness said he is not a Communist now and was not on March 1, 1951, but that he declines to say if he were one on Feb. 28, 1951.

and make it impossible for Germany to regain her unity in freedom," he told the House of Commons.

"Despite this setback and this note we for our part remain prepared to discuss Germany and Austria with the Soviet government at any time and at any place and without any prior conditions at all."

In its note, the Soviet Union in effect asked the Western Powers to scrap the North Atlantic Pact Alliance and the European Defense Community (EDC) scheme before she would enter discussions on Germany.

"I think," Eden stated, "it would have been a very good thing if this discussion could have taken place at Lugano. That is exactly what we wanted and what we asked for. I am sorry that the discussions are not going to take place."

Speaking in a foreign affairs debate on the speech of Queen Elizabeth at the opening of Parliament Tuesday, Eden declared:

"It is hard to find any sign that the Soviet government has modified its fundamental hostility to the Western nations."

Eden Pledges Big 4 Meet Pressure

By NATE POLOWETZKY
LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said today Britain will continue to press for talks with the Soviet Union "at any level."

Eden told the House of Commons:

"The House will see that despite the disappointments our broad purpose remains unchanged. If others choose to slam their doors and barricade them ours will remain open. Talks at any level remain our objective, for our work is for peace which we shall not abandon."

The chamber reverbated with cheers as Eden wound up a foreign affairs speech with this statement, which obviously kept alive the plans of Prime Minister Churchill to talk between the heads of the Big Three Western Powers and Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov.

The "disappointments" to which Eden referred were obviously the continued Russian rejection or evasion of a Western invitation to join in foreign ministers talks on the future of Germany and Austria.

The dapper foreign secretary, only recently returned to office after a long illness, earlier told Parliament the Big Three Western Powers were still willing to discuss Germany and Austria with the Soviet Union "at any time and any place and without any prior conditions at all."

Eden said the latest Soviet note, ignoring a Western invitation to discuss Germany and Austria at a Big Four foreign ministers meeting at Lugano, Switzerland, Nov. 9, laid down "extensive and unacceptable conditions."

"If we accepted those conditions, that would undermine our security and make it impossible for Germany to regain her unity in freedom," he told the House of Commons.

Churchill's Conservative Party consistently opposed this idea. Announcing its future plans, a government white paper stated:

"The Ministry of Food will continue for some time to continue to import bacon, but will not trade in meat. 1954 will thus see the end of rationing."

By that time every item in the British housewife's larder will be freed from government control, according to present plans.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, has declared his party members would not attempt to take control of committees unless circumstances gave them a margin of several votes. He has mentioned no plans to ask for creation of the post of vice chairman. Hunt said he would discuss with Johnson his plan to award such posts to senior Democrats on at least some major committees.

Vice Chairmen Idea Advanced By Hunt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo.) suggested today that Democrats should demand the right to name vice chairmen on at least some key Senate committees when Congress meets in January.

He said Senate Democrats, who now outnumber the Republicans by one, "have no desire to take over the committees" or the chairmanships. But, he added in an interview, he believes they are entitled to a greater voice in Senate affairs than apparently has been contemplated.

Committee chairmanships, awarded primarily on the basis of seniority, are coveted positions. They carry with them some patronage, and an influence over the course of legislation. Committees do not now have vice chairmen. In the absence of the chairman, the next senior Republican normally presides.

Garner Gives His Blessing To Lyndon Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, promised sure opposition by Texas Republicans in his race for re-election next year, had the blessings today of former Vice President John Nance (Cactus Jack) Garner.

Johnson, continuing his strenuous tour which he has called a "report to the people," visited at the Garner home in Uvalde Wednesday before speaking Wednesday night to a water conservation meeting. He called Garner "one of the greatest Americans I've ever known."

Garner spoke well of Johnson, too. "Can anyone give a sound party or patriotic reason why Senator Johnson should not be re-elected to the Senate?" he asked his neighbors.

Nobody answered.

The Johnson visit to Uvalde, following appearances earlier in the day at San Angelo, was only one of several events of a political nature during the day. Others:

1. Jack Porter, national Republican Committeeman from Texas, said results of Tuesday's elections in New York City demonstrated that Texas' conservative Democrats have nothing in common with the National Democratic leadership. He said the New York Democratic leadership and the national leadership of the party were "the same."

Porter also said Republicans ran a great race in Virginia, despite the combined efforts of Virginia's U.S. Senators Byrd and Robertson and Democratic Governor Battle.

2. Ralph Yarborough, unsuccessful candidate for governor last year, said the Democratic victories reflected "a trend all over the nation."

"The people are thoroughly disillusioned with the Republican program," Yarborough said, "which shows utter lack of regard for the citizen and for the habitat that Americans live in."

3. A spokesman for the Texas Federation of Labor said what he termed "Republican wrecking-crew tactics" in soil conservation and labor-management relations may cost untold millions of dollars.

Jerry R. Holleman, secretary of the state organization of AFL-Union in Texas, condemned GOP plans for reorganizing the Soil Conservation Service and the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

"The price for the saving of a few dollars in appropriations will be paid in depleted soil, lost water and costly labor-management disputes," Holleman said.

Republican reorganization plans would eliminate the Soil Conservation Service's regional office in Fort Worth and Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service's regional office in Dallas.

4. Senator Bridges (R-NH) said in Dallas, "There's no minimizing" Tuesday's Democratic victories. "They may do more good, perhaps, by alerting Republicans to the problems ahead," the chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee said. He added that the Democratic successes indicated "a trend away from Republicanism" but maintained they were nothing permanent.

American Editors Differ On Kinsey's Report, McCarthy

CHICAGO (U)—Like many people who read their newspapers, American editors have widely varying opinions on handling the news. This was demonstrated Wednesday when news executives attending the annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. discussed news coverage of Sen. Joseph McCarthy's activities and the Kinsey report on "Sexual Behavior of the Human Female."

The evaluation of the Kinsey report ranged from page one news story to a publicity plant not worth newspaper space.

McCarthy was described as a "cheap demagogue" by one editor, while another said the Wisconsin Republican has made significant revelations which all newspapers have not fully treated.

Sam H. Day, of the New York Journal American, said his newspaper played the Kinsey report on Page one to give the public the news. He said the reaction to the readers was evenly divided.

Ed Dooley, of the Denver Post, said he regarded the Kinsey report as legitimate news for his readers although "I don't think Dr. Kinsey's was a scientific job."

He said the book was more dangerous to the public morals than "Tobacco Road."

But some editors didn't print news stories on the report while others said they carried only brief stories on inside pages without complaints from their readers.

Arch W. Jarrell, of the Grand Island, (Neb.) Independent said his newspaper didn't use a story on it because "it seemed to me on the verge of free advertising."

Discussing the handling of stories on McCarthy's activities, Richard F. Pourade, of the San Diego, (Calif.) Union said:

"I don't think all the newspapers have fully treated the significance of the revelations made by McCarthy and other congressional committees."

He said the senator had been "plugging away and piling evidence on evidence for the last two years."

But Thomas F. Reynolds, of the Chicago Sun-Times, said a greater effort should be made to follow up McCarthy's charges and tabulate the outcome.

Norman Isaacs, of the Louisville Times, called the senator a "cheap demagogue."

He said McCarthy pulled a "cheap stunt" in announcing he might call former President Truman to testify about a "list of spies he supposedly got from the Canadian government."

Isaacs said Atty. Gen. Brownell later said there was nothing in his files to bear McCarthy out and that he FBI two weeks later said there was nothing to it.

However, some newspapers that hit the original McCarthy announcement hard, buried the end result on inside pages, Isaacs added.

WASHINGTON, (U)—Gen. George C. Marshall, stricken with an inflamed lung after influenza, continues in good condition at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

"Another good day" was the hospital's summation of the 72-year-old soldier - statesman's response to treatment yesterday. Marshall, winner of the 1953 Nobel Peace Prize, has been at Walter Reed since Sunday.

President Eisenhower paid him tribute yesterday as one of America's great patriots and public servants. Eisenhower told his news conference that was his answer to anyone who wants to talk about Marshall in derogatory terms.

The President's comment was requested by a reporter who recalled that Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) once called Marshall a front man for traitors and recently said he was standing by that statement.

Paris Vote Verdict Contested By 4 Men

PARIS, Tex. (U)—Voters rejected the mayor-alderman form of city government in a Paris city charter election Sept. 26 but yesterday the decision was contested.

A notification of intention saying the city council had acted wrongly by calling the election was filed by four men.

The complaint said the council acted illegally by calling the election on the issue at the same time the public voted on candidates under the mayor-alderman form of government.

The complaint said the council purposefully placed the negative side of the issue above the affirmative, confusing the voters.

Paris citizens turned down the mayor-alderman form of government by 320 votes. The count was 1,768 against the plan to 1,448 for it. Paris now has city manager government.

Dean Suggests Meet Disputes Be Presented To Subcommittee

By SAM SUMMERLIN
 PANMUNJOM (U)—Arthur Dean, U.S. envoy, suggested today that top Allied and Communist diplomats abandon temporarily efforts to arrange a Korean peace conference and turn over to subcommittees disputes which have stalled the preliminary talks.

The Communists promptly said "no," then agreed to think about it overnight. They promised an answer at 11 a.m. tomorrow (8 p.m. today CST).

Dean, noting the high level negotiators have gotten nowhere, told newsmen he felt staff advisers could have a "freer exchange of ideas." They presumably would meet in closed sessions.

Dean said the top delegates now "sit like bumps on a log" and have "no give and take" in their deliberations.

The envoy also said the lower-level negotiators might divide up with one group debating the time and place for the conference and another thrashing out the major issue—who will attend.

The preliminary talks to arrange the peace parley have been stalled from the start over Red insistence that neutrals be invited and that this question lead the agenda for the Panmunjom discussions.

But Dean, speaking for the nations which fought against the Red armies in Korea, insists only the belligerents and possibly Russia attend the conference and wants the first order of business here to be a decision on time and place for the conference.

The U.N. Assembly has fixed composition of the conference and Dean is not authorized to change it.

Dean picked Kenneth Young, director of the office of northeast Asian (Japan and Korea) affairs of the Department of State and Col. Stanton Babcock, a senior adviser, to represent him at lower level meetings if they are held.

The Communists called an hour-long recess to mull over Dean's proposition. Their first reaction was definitely unfavorable, if not an outright rejection.

Recouping Loss Via Taxes Is A Slow Process

Ben Hawkins, of the local Bureau of Internal Revenue office, agrees that farmers may be able to recoup some of their losses, if any, this year, but he says they'll have to wait until 1954 to do so.

Hawkins takes issue with a report from Washington, published early this week, that all a person has to do is gather up records showing his losses and rush down to the BIR office.

In the first place, the tax collector says, you'll have to wait until the end of the year to be absolutely certain you've suffered a loss. A landowner might sell enough minerals or something else between now and Jan. 1 to offset any apparent losses.

But when 1953 tax returns are filed—after the first of the year—farmers and businessmen will have an opportunity to recover part of any losses they may have sustained during the year. But the recovery will have to come out of taxes paid on 1952 income, or out of taxes paid in some future year.

And if the farmer or businessman also suffered a loss in 1952, he may be able to recover some of that too—out of future taxes.

The law, Hawkins explains, provides that agricultural or business losses for any one year can be partially recouped out of taxes paid for years when there were no losses. But the recovery can be computed only on the basis of taxes paid the immediately prior year or for the subsequent five years.

In Howard County, Hawkins said, many farmers may be entitled to recover taxes on financial losses suffered for two or three years.

However, he warned, records must be presented to substantiate the claims for losses. And there's no use filing any claims until after the first of the year, when records are complete.

try councillor, Ki Sok Bok, spokesman for the Reds told Dean his side feels the agenda "must be settled" at the top level.

The Red delegates called it "inappropriate" to refer the dispute to staff workers.

But Ki promised to give the plan further study and "comment on it tomorrow."

The deadline recommended in parley, Oct. 27, already has passed.

At a press conference after the session, Dean was asked if he felt Communist rejection of his staff adviser meetings would mean a breakdown in these preliminary talks.

The envoy replied "not necessarily." He said:

"If they feel we can make more progress" in the full meetings "we will go on." Dean said the tone of the Communist spokesman Wednesday and Thursday was "very reasonable."

"It looks to me as of the present time," Dean added, "that we may be able to work it out."

Eight Die In Auto Crash Including Ex-SMU Grid Star

PLATTE CITY, Mo. (U)—Two automobiles collided head-on on Highway 71 near here last night killing eight young people including Dick Reinking, former college and professional football player.

Reinking, 27, and his wife, Camille, 25, were in one car. Six young men were in the other.

Authorities, who blamed excessive speed for the crash, said the speedometer of the car in which the six men were riding was stuck at 83 miles per hour.

Reinking was a star left end at Southern Methodist in 1945 and 1946—during the college days of All-America Doak Walker.

He played pro football with the New York Giants.

The victims, in addition to the Reinkings, were Mike Nigro, 18; Mike J. Ferrera, 20; John Floyd Tittone, 19; Dean O. Stanley, 19; Carl J. Pace, 19; and Charles Divalvo, 29. All lived in nearby Kansas City.

Reinking was plant manager of a north Kansas City lumber concern headed by an uncle, A. C. Reinking. He and his wife moved to this area from Dallas, Tex., about one year ago.

Mrs. Tommy Hutto is the proud owner of a pair of hand-manipulated slim-jim earrings of pearls and rhinestones. She wouldn't mind owning the handsome pearl choker and bracelet that go with her earrings.

Spurs' Jingle Jangle Replaced By Jewelry

Vogue says, "Glittering jewelry with serenely unglittering dresses," and that trend is being followed by many Big Spring women if a survey of accessory shops here is any indication.

It may be that the approaching holiday season puts everyone in a "glittery" mood or it may be that the ladies are just taking more of a shine to more dazzling costume jewelry as a morale lifter. Anyway, it is selling like hot cakes. And the bigger and fancier the better.

One store we checked had some beautiful "hand manipulated" pieces that look like heirlooms. That means the stones are set in by hand. They range from rhinestones to topaz, pearls and turquoise, fake of course, but very convincing. Being hand set they are made to last and some of the pieces are even sealed to size for the smaller, daintier woman. Available in this type jewelry are bracelets, pins, earrings and pendants.

Mary Margaret McBRIDE SAYS

A young friend of mine was discussing a man she is seriously considering as a husband. "He's wonderful," she said. "Thoughtful, generous and really kind. I just heard today of a lovely thing he did for someone in trouble, but . . ."

I'd been waiting for that "but," because Kay's pretty face was troubled, not radiant. "You see, he does his level best to hide all his nice, warm side," she continued. "He talks tough—he acts suspicious, as if he thought everybody was a potential enemy trying to beat him. He really did have a hard time getting started, and he's made his success pretty much by himself, I guess. But why must he scoff at all the things that I feel have some meaning? He calls them 'corn' and me sentimental."

I've never met Kay's young man, but I know him because I've met many like him. He's afraid to show that he is sensitive and soft-hearted since he feels somebody might laugh at or scorn him. I know all about it because I've been through it.

It was back in my twenties and early thirties that I too had a period of being ashamed of sentiment, timid about expressing my belief in the faith of my fathers. It was smart to be cynical when I was a young girl in the big city struggling in the traditional way to win success and I hadn't always the courage to follow the dictates of my conscience. I tried hard in those days to pretend to be something that I wasn't.

As a result, I was often miserable and uncertain, wanting to be thought well of by those who seemed so much more exciting and brilliant than I, yet tortured by remorse if I flouted the still small voice.

Once I even had what the doctor called a near-nervous breakdown because I couldn't get the two halves of myself together. One of me wanted to be able to smoke a cigarette and down a Pink Lady with airy nonchalance; to laugh heartily at naughty stories—even tell one. The other me heard with great distinctness the southern voice of Brother Stuart, who baptized me, pointing out the terrors of the path of the transgressor. Somewhere in this period, I was discovered by my two roommates in Greenwich Village busily washing the brandy from a jar of brandied peaches for which they had paid a scandalous sum. I doubt if I could have written about my beliefs then, for I was never certain what they were. It's only in these late middle years that I have realized the futility of the false front. Now I am firm in my belief in God, justice, truth, the Golden Rule and their eventual triumph in the world. These are not "corn" and even those who appear to be the most cynical know they are not.

Kay's young man, with Kay to help him, will work through this pugnacious hard-boiled period. And I who know I am sentimental and now glory in it predict they will live happily ever after.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Starlet Has Hints For Posture And Carriage

By LYDIA LANE HOLLYWOOD One of the first things you notice about Maria English, who is celebrating her Paramount contract by making her debut with Bob Hope in "Casanova's Big Night," is her beautiful carriage and rhythmic walk.

When I complimented Maria about this as we had mid-afternoon coffee together at Paramount's restaurant she told me, "I've spent most of my summers water skiing since I was ten and you can't have bad posture if you want a good ride!"

Maria comes from San Diego and told me her father's hobby is building speedboats and water skis.

POSTURE PERFECT

Maria's posture routine will help you, Try it. Also, for additional information on posture, including exercises and the new "thought" control, you'll want a copy of leaflet M-28, "Piper Laurie's Special Exercises to Correct Posture." Add, "Breathing for Beauty." Get your copy by sending 5 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald. Remember, it's leaflet M-28.

"I think water skiing is wonderful exercise," she said. "It gives you a sense of balance which makes it easy to carry yourself well when you are not on the water." "If you don't happen to be lucky enough to be able to water ski, have you any suggestions on developing good carriage?" I asked.

"I've been modeling bathing suits since I was in high school," Maria told me, "and I learned a trick early in life—walk as if you were strung up behind your ears. When you think about holding your shoulders in and keeping your shoulders self-conscious that you look awkward and move without rhythm."

"Most people," Maria continued, "walk from the knee instead of swinging from the hip. If you get started with a bad habit, the wrong thing feels comfortable. But I feel a girl can improve her posture just by thinking about it."

"Isn't a limber body essential to moving gracefully?" I asked.

"Yes!" said Maria forcefully, "and it is surprising how few people do anything about keeping their muscles lithe. If you've ever watched a cat or a dog, you've got a good idea of how to stretch."

"I wanted to know if Maria had a favorite stretching exercise.

"I like to stand up and raise my hands above my head and try to touch the ceiling first with one hand and then the other. It's pulling your arm up as high as you can which is helpful because this gives your whole rib cage a good stretch, and keeps you from wanting to slump. Then I like to lie down on the floor and try to touch the wall with my toes. It's the same idea only this time your legs are getting a stretch. The routine takes only a minute," Maria concluded, "but it will keep you limber and help you to walk more gracefully."

Red Coaxing Efforts Go Slowly With Poorest Showing To Date

By JOHN RANDOLPH

PANMUNJOM (U) — Communist efforts to coax home anti-Red Chinese and Korean war prisoners was almost halted today as stalling Red persuaders dragged out interviews and walked out during even minor disputes.

Only 136 prisoners were interviewed all day. And only two of the 136 elected to return to communism.

This was the smallest number of POWs to appear before Red explainers in any one day and was only a fraction of the 492 prisoners the Communists asked to see.

There was growing speculation here that the Reds might be preparing to call off explanations which have won back only a handful of hazy prisoners.

It was the second straight day of slowdown tactics by Communist teams trying to change the minds of prisoners who have rejected repatriation.

And even though interviews averaged about 1 hour and 20 minutes each the Reds chalked up their poorest showing in seven days of explanations. Less than 1.5 per cent of the prisoners said they would go back to their Red-ruled homelands.

Only 61 of 2,020 prisoners interviewed to date have agreed to go back.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission broke up some long interviews with prisoners who obviously were anti-Red. "This is absurd," he said. "It's got to stop."

Several Swiss members of repatriation commission groups supervising the explanations walked out as they did Wednesday in protest against Communist tactics.

"I will not be ruled by such people," said one exasperated young Swiss officer.

The Chinese POWs from Compound C22 marched peacefully to the interview tents. Once there, some cursed and threatened Communist explainers. Others sat quietly, looking bored.

The Indian Command said Chinese prisoners remaining in Compound C22 probably would be called before Red explainers Friday. However, a U. N. spokesman said the Reds would switch back to North Koreans after talking for two days with Chinese POWs.

Meanwhile, Arthur Dean, U. S. envoy, proposed to the Communists that subcommittees try to iron out disputes which have stalled efforts to arrange a Korean peace conference.

In a tiny hut only a few miles from where the prisoner interviews are being held, Dean and Communist diplomats held their 10th meeting without making progress toward setting up a peace parley.

The Reds tentatively turned down Dean's subcommittee proposal but promised to look it over and answer Friday.

In Seoul, the South Korean government announced that it will start next week interviewing 332 ROK prisoners who the Reds say have refused repatriation.

One team of Communist explainers walked out Thursday when a U. N. interpreter and observer switched jobs they held Wednesday. The Reds said this violated the rules.

Another Red walkout occurred when a tent chairman reprimanded a Communist explainer for leaving the booth unnecessarily.

Most explanation sessions were resumed only after Gen. Thimayya intervened.

Observers here said the Communist slowdown had one immediate and obvious effect—a tightening of bonds among the Indians, Swiss and Swedish neutrals.

As one Swiss officer said: "All the Communists hang together and we, the Swedes and Indians hang together just as strongly. It is a case of north and south poles."

Mexican Cattlemen Eager For Hoof, Mouth Plague End

MEXICO CITY (U) — Cattlemen in Northern Mexico, who say they have 300,000 cattle ready for market, increased pressure today for elimination of the foot-and-mouth disease in this country.

Normally—when there is no U.S. ban against Mexican cattle—they export some 400,000 head per year to their northern neighbor. Today they miss that huge market.

The border was closed in May of this year after an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease along the Veracruz coast.

Mexico asked that it be reopened on the ground that the plague center was 1,000 miles from the northern cattle areas nearest the United States. But U.S. authorities answered the U.S. law bars importation of cattle from any country where the disease exists.

A suggestion of the Mexican Ministry of Agriculture that the Northern Mexico cattle be sent to the Mexico City market was answered by the farmers that shipment of any large herds was impossible. The government railways own only 1,000 cattle cars, they pointed out.

Pressure for quick elimination of the Veracruz outbreak followed.

Meanwhile, there is a deadlock between the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Mexican Ministry. Both cooperated in the international commission set up to fight the disease in 1946. But the U.S. technicians want all cattle in the area of the outbreak killed. Mexico will agree only to kill infected stock, relying on vaccination to protect the others exposed to the disease. During this deadlock, there have been additional outbreaks on the fringe of the original one, leading to enlargement of the quarantine area.

Pressure on the government is even heavier than it was during the first outbreak discovery in 1946. During a five-year fight against the disease, by vaccination, a drought reduced the northern herds and reduced the number of cattle available for export. In addition, packing plants were established in the area to can meat and provide a market for the cattle. The United States provided a steady market for the canned meat as part of its contribution to the campaign. Much of this meat still remains in U.S. warehouses.

The border was opened Sept. 1, 1952, and exports began. They were cut off again nine months later.

Senator Chavez Is For New U.S. Pact With Franco Spain

MADRID, Spain (U) — Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), on an inspection tour of sites for proposed U.S. military bases in Spain, said today he feels the new Spanish-American military agreement is the best the United States has in Europe.

The senator, who is here for the Senate Appropriations Committee, said in an interview the accord "was made in good faith by both sides. I am sure the United States and Spain have the intention to fulfill every part of that agreement."

He refused comment on U.S. Air Force Secretary Harold Talbot's reported prediction that U.S. atomic bases would be set up in Spain.

In Madrid Monday, Talbot was quoted by newsmen as saying the U.S. eventually will have atomic bombs in this country. Later in Athens, he denied making the statement.

Asked for comment, Chavez replied that he had talked with Talbot but, "I don't know what the secretary told newsmen."

Election Results Probably Not Good Clue To Popularity Of Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—When President Eisenhower endorsed all Republican candidates in Tuesday's elections, some political experts said the results would show how the voters feel about his administration.

Politicians All Hope To Be Thought Statesmen

"Politics is perhaps the only profession for which no preparation is thought necessary," wrote Robert Louis Stevenson. But that was before candidates had to learn the art of television makeup.

Washington Slates Mythical Air Raid Exercise For Today

By ED CREAUGH
WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government, with President Eisenhower leading the way, scrambles for shelter today in a mythical air raid on the nation's capital.

Some 350,000 adults and children are taking part. The exercise, first of its kind here, calls for evacuating federal buildings from the White House down, and public and parochial schools as well.

Eisenhower, who directed all government agencies to cooperate "to the fullest extent possible," planned to take part himself.

The White House announced the President will descend to the White House bomb shelter, whose exact position is a secret. It was rebuilt and strengthened in the recent White House reconstruction at a cost of more than $750,000.

The take-shelter drill begins with the flashing of a "warning red" alert, meaning imminent attack, one hour after a test "warning yellow," meaning enemy planes spotted approaching the country. The 15-minute alert ends with an all clear signal.

The city's 38 air raid sirens were called into use. They are only half the number needed to cover the city, so 70 police and fire sirens were pressed into service. Traffic and normal business activities were not interrupted for today's drill although a number of apartment house dwellers were invited to take part.

The exercise will continue at 7 p.m. (EST) when the District of Columbia joins civil defense organizations in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio in a communications drill not involving the public.

White House press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said the White House shelter provides ready access to the President and his staff. He said its communications facilities include means for broadcasting and keeping in touch with the military and other agencies. Its structure, he said, will repel poisoned gas and atomic particles as well as withstand bomb blasts.

Woman Kills Mate, Collects Insurance

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A woman convicted of fatally shooting her husband has been awarded half the proceeds of his life insurance policies, exceeding $25,000.

Superior Judge Ernest A. Tolin made the award yesterday. He held that because the policies existed before Dr. Telford Moore's death, they must be considered community property.

The other half will go to the couple's son, Telford I. Moore Jr., and to a daughter of Mrs. Patricia Moore by a previous marriage, Antelie Jane Thomas.

Mrs. Moore pleaded self defense, was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to one to 10 years in prison. She has appealed and is at liberty under $10,000 bail.

U.S. Civilians In Far East To Get Dismissal Notices

TOKYO (AP)—The Army said today it will send dismissal notices by Nov. 10 to a "considerable number" of American civilians it employs in the Far East, because of a shortage of funds.

An announcement said the Army also will send dismissal notices to 5,007 Japanese nationals by the same date.

The Army said last week it might start laying off civilian employees in Japan, Korea and Okinawa because of an "austerity policy" in Washington. An official announcement said "it is expected that fund shortages will necessitate a general reduction in the civilian personnel force."

Today's announcement gave no reason for the layoffs.

New Atom Smasher Is Poor Man's Type

By RENNIE TAYLOR

AP Science Reporter

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—A poor man's atom smasher, called a swindler because it seems to get something for nothing, is being built at the University of California.

This relatively small instrument will produce a beam of atomic particles bearing charges of one million volts each, even though it uses only a half-million volt power source.

It is intended to do work now done by larger and more expensive apparatus, such as the Van De Graaff generator and the Cockcroft-Walton voltage multiplier. They are much used in low energy atomic research.

A full-sized 4-million volt swindler can be built for $10,000 to $50,000 while the other machines of that caliber cost $100,000 to $200,000, said Dr. John R. Woodyard. The one-million volt pilot model is being built under his supervision.

The new machine was conceived by Dr. Luis W. Alvarez, professor of physics, who learned later that the same idea had been developed in 1936 by Dr. Willard Bennett of the Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D. C. Dr. Bennett patented the idea.

The pilot model consists mainly of a tube 6 feet long with a few gadgets surrounding it.

It uses hydrogen atoms for ammunition. A hydrogen atom is composed of a positively charged nucleus, called a proton, and a single negatively charged electron. This makes the normal atom electrically neutral.

At the starting end of the tube the electron is burned off the atom with heat. The resulting positively charged proton is started through the tube with a modest 30,000-volt jolt of electricity.

First the proton passes through a very thin sheet of aluminum, from which it picks up two negative electrons and thus becomes negatively charged.

Further down the tube is a second sheet of aluminum bearing a half-million volt positive charge. The negative particle is attracted to this positive surface with a half-million volt burst of speed.

As it goes through the second aluminum sheet it is robbed of its two electrons and becomes positive again. Because the second aluminum sheet and the particle now are both positive, the particle is repelled. Already traveling at a half-million volt clip, it picks up another half-million volts of energy because of the repulsion. Then it bangs into a target at the tube outlet with a total energy of a million volts.

Technically called a charge exchange accelerator, the new gadget already has shown its builders some new things about electrical circuits and has pointed the way toward new uses for plastics in electrical insulation, Dr. Woodyard said.

Two Soldiers Will Appeal Sentences In Cabman's Death

FORT WORTH (AP)—Two soldiers given the death sentence in the slaying of a cab driver last winter were to make their appeals here today.

Pvt. Raymond L. Button, 22, Des Moines, Iowa, and Pfc. Marvin Lee Austin, 21, Marmaduke, Ark., will make their appeals before three judges of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The two soldiers, stationed at Fort Bliss, were convicted of slaying Jesus Alvarez Gonzales on the Fort Bliss military reservation last winter.

They admitted the shooting and burning the body in the car. They had been scheduled to die last June. The executions were delayed pending the appeals.

56 Per Cent Of Tax Roll Is Paid

City tax collections through October totaled $156,078.61, which is 56 per cent of the total tax roll.

The 3 per cent discount for October payments were $4,825.89, making gross collections $160,904.50. Taxpayers submitting payments this month will receive 2 per cent discount, it was announced by Perry Johnson, tax collector.

Glamor Oil Well Drilled At Studio

By GENE HANDSAKER HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A glamorized oil well is being drilled on the lot on 20th Century-Fox's movie studio. Its steel skeleton is costumed in glass cloth stuffed with a 1 1/2-inch blanket of fibre glass to muffle its sound.

After the drilling is completed, the 136-foot derrick will be taken down. Underground electric pumps and buried pipes will carry the oil to refineries 20 miles away.

Four million barrels of oil were produced from 34 comparatively shallow wells in the area back in the 20s. Some dried up and movie-making and real estate took precedence.

Oklaggies In New Dairy
Experiment

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma A&M College researchers have mapped an experiment which, successful, could reverse a half-century trend in the dairy industry.

At the present time, milk quality is determined by the amount of butterfat content. The Aggie researchers are trying to determine the possibility of producing a new high protein milk through breeding that would do away with the butterfat grading system.

Milk from 45 Holstein cows will be used in the tests, expected to take two years. If the amount of protein in milk is found to be an inheritable characteristic in dairy cows, Dr. Stanley Musgrave, experiment director, said it will be a starting point for a new industry-wide breeding program.

Such a program would be the reverse of decades of work to produce cows giving milk high in butterfat.

With butterfat in oversupply, much discussion in the dairy industry has centered on finding a more realistic basis for setting milk prices. Dr. Musgrave said the amount of other nutrients in milk has been suggested as a possible substitute.

The project, only one of its kind in the United States, is the result of more than four years planning. Previous studies of the protein characteristic have been conducted in Europe, Dr. Musgrave said, but none with the same purpose. The study here will cover the cow's complete lactation cycle, he said.

Eden Man Named
Sheep, Goat Raiser
Association Head

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Walter Pfluger, Eden rancher, was the new president today of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Assn.

Pfluger, elected yesterday at the closing session of the association's 38th annual convention, succeeded Penrose B. Metcalfe, San Angelo.

Austin was selected as site for the group's 1954 convention.

Other officers named included: W. R. Hoge, Del Rio, first vice president; J. B. McCord, Coleman, second vice president; and Ernest L. Williams, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Eleven directors named to the 160-member board were Fred Sheld, San Antonio; Tom D. Woods, Marfa; Gay Howard, Marfa; Watt Turner, Rocksprings; W. L. Moody III, Brackettville; Carl Pfluger, Eden; Jimmie Chittam, Mountain Home; Dick Winters, Brady; Harold B. Shull, Midland; Lee Allison, Sonora; S. Mayer Jr., Bluffdale.

U. S. Warns Israel, Arabs To Get Together On Refugee Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States has warned Israel and neighboring Arab states that America cannot bear indefinitely the financial burdens imposed by their failure to agree on a settlement of the Palestine refugee question.

The warning was voiced yesterday by U. S. Delegate James P. Richards, a Democratic congressman from South Carolina.

Richards urged Israel and the Arab nations bordering on the Jordan River to join in the irrigation and hydroelectric development of the river and help the 800,000 refugees driven from Israeli soil by the Palestine War.

He called on Israel to start thinking about compensating the refugees for their land or allowing them to return, asserting it would be in the best interests of both sides if something were done as soon as possible.

The refugees are now being supplied with necessities through a 200-million-dollar U. N. fund, designed to keep them going until mid-1953. The bulk of the money was contributed by the United States.

Richards said the United States gave full backing to a Jordan River development plan, drawn up by the Tennessee Valley Authority. The 121-million-dollar project would water land for the refugees and supply power for industries in Israel, Jordan and Syria.

Although President Eisenhower has sent Eric Johnston, former head of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, to the Middle East in an attempt to sell the idea, Arab reaction thus far has been negative.

There has been no official Israeli reaction to the plan. The Israeli government, however, has temporarily suspended work in its own Jordan irrigation scheme while the U. N. Security Council debates Arab claims that the project disturbed Middle East peace.

South's Publishers Told Printers Don't Deserve Wage Hike

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP)—The South's newspaper publishers were told today that "in the vast majority of cases, there is no apparent justification" for increasing wages of their printing department employees this year.

Tom Tanner, full-time labor commissioner for the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, told the organization at its convention here that if a newspaper's wage scale last July was as much as 14.7 per cent above the three-year average of 1947-49, it had more than kept pace with the cost of living.

He said the rate was above that figure "in practically all cases" among Southern newspapers.

Another report revealed that 264 Southern newspapers now are served by teletypewriter equipment which brings telegraphed dispatches into the newspaper plant in the form of perforated paper tape which will automatically cast lead type when fed into typesetting machines.

Mexico City Makes Road, Airport Pledge

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Matamoros road and airport projects will be completed next year, the federal government says.

Gov. Horacio Teran said yesterday President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines has promised the projects would be on next year's list of constructions.

Indian Delegate
Not So Certain Big
4 Meet Good Idea

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Current cold winds in the international climate have convinced India's delegate V. K. Krishna Menon, the time is not ripe for his idea of a U. N. Assembly of a top-level Big Four conference.

Menon told the Assembly last September he might propose a resolution in which the 60-nation organization would appeal to the chiefs of state of the United States, Russia, Britain and France to get together personally in an attempt to solve present world tensions.

Now, however, sources familiar with his views said today he has decided to wait for more favorable conditions.

The sources said he has no desire to push his suggestion in the face of the present U. S. opposition and the stand-off attitude of some other nations. The sources said Menon would prefer to be assured of unanimous passage of any such proposal in the Assembly.
