GIRL FREED BY ATTACKER EARLY TODAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Miss Lillian Henry, 19-year-old niece of former Police Commissioner John Alcock, was released today by a "quick trigger" gunman, who kidnapped and attacked her shortly after he had killed a man in a holdup.

The return of Miss Henry after being held prisoner in an automobile by the slayer-kidnaper for six hours, and her story of the attack caused police to intensify their widespread search for the man.

The killer kidnaped her last night after tossing her companion, James Guisinger, 25, from Guisinger's automobile into the street. A half hour earlier he had shot and killed Frank F. Jordan, 38, a salesman.

Increase Urged In Personnel of The Army C.W.S.

WASHINGTON.—An increase in personnel of the Chemical Warfare Service and the creation of a safe storage depot for chemicals and munitions at Edgewood Arsenal, Md., were recommended in the annual report of Maj. Gen. H. L. Gilchrist, chief of the service.

The general and Secretary of War Hurley that with the Chemical Warfare Service's present personnel it is "extremely difficult" for it to discharge its duties. These include wounding all new developments in chemistry and training the role of the Army in the use of noxious gases.

Conditions Alarming
Gilchrist considered conditions at the Edgewood arsenal "alarming," explaining:

"Since the creation of the Edgewood Chemical Warfare Depot in 1921, the storage facilities have consisted of miscellaneous buildings which originally were a part of Edgewood arsenal. The majority of these buildings are unsuitable for the storage of chemical munitions. Many of the buildings are overloaded with dangerous munitions and are situated in close proximity to military and civilian personnel at Edgewood arsenal."

Ranger Lions Hear Good Short Talks At Meeting Today

Rev. E. B. Surface of Abilene, a member of the Abilene Lions club, made the principal address at the regular weekly meeting of the Ranger Lions club today at noon.

His talk was interspersed with bits of humor that kept the crowd laughing, but at the same time he brought out many serious and interesting points for the enlightenment of those present. He stressed clean living, pointing out the duties of the members of the club from a civic and moral standpoint. His was one of the most entertaining, and at the same time instructive, talks that has been heard before the Ranger Lions club in some time.

A committee composed of John Z. Martin, secretary of the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce, and Ernest Maxwell and Bill Christian, representing the Breckenridge Lions and Rotary clubs, Paul Williams of the Breckenridge athletic committee and N. S. Holland, superintendent of the Breckenridge schools, met with the Lions and the members of the Ranger athletic committee to make arrangements for the Thanksgiving game between the Buckaroos and Holders.

Short talks were made by all the members of the committee and John Martin said he was sure that 2,000 paid admissions would be brought over from Breckenridge for the game.

The good fellowship that has prevailed between the Ranger Breckenridges at these annual football games was stressed and renewed at the meeting.

Wins, But Pen Term Bars Him

F. H. Shoemaker, above, Farmer-Laborite, apparently has been elected to Congress from Minnesota, but may never take his seat. He served a term in Leavenworth Penitentiary for violation of U. S. postal regulations. The Minnesota constitution provides that one convicted of a crime against the government may not hold public office, and Shoemaker has never received the pardon to restore his civil rights. One of the candidates he defeated may be certified as congressman in Shoemaker's stead.

House Is Being Built For Deer On Ranger Lot

Fire Chief G. A. Murphy of Ranger is supervising the construction of a house which will serve as a permanent home for the two deer recently received by the city of Ranger.

Plans at first called for the construction of a small park on the lot at the corner of Elm and Austin streets, but it was later decided to clear the lot on Austin street next to the city hall and make a small park out of it. The lot has been used for a number of years as a material yard for the street department, where bridge materials, road machinery and other equipment was stored.

All the lumber and machinery is to be cleared from the lot, a fence built around it and the deer house completed on the site. The fence is to be made of wire, with several strands of barbed wire at the top to prevent dogs or other animals from entering the park, which will be kept locked at all times.

It is expected that the house will be completed and the fence built within the next week and everything ready for the deer to be placed on display. In the meantime they are being kept in the stable behind the fire station and are beginning to feel at home in their new quarters.

France Is Rushing Submarine Plans To Quota Limits

PARIS.—Concentrating on the building up of her submarine fleet to its full strength under the Washington and London naval treaties, France will rush to completion those undersea ships left unbuild under the 1930 building program.

The minister of navy today ordered two more remaining subs of the 1930 program, the Oberon and the Sidi-Ferruch, each 1,570 tons, to be laid down immediately in the Cherbourg arsenal yards, so as to complete them during 1933.

Each of the new submarines will cost 46,000,000 francs. They are of the Redoubtable class, of which France will soon have 25 units. These new craft will bring France's total submarine strength to 55 first class high-seas subs and 50 coast or mine-laying subs, a total of 105 undersea craft.

Each of the two new subs will have two sets of Diesel engines of 5,000 hp, capable of a speed of 18 knots on the surface and 10 knots submerged. Each sub carries one 5 1/2-inch gun and 14 torpedo tubes.

The "Glorious" of the same class and the last of four built under the 1929 program, is nearing completion and will be launched at Cherbourg during November.

The navy department is planning the early replacement of 10 German submarines, surrendered to France under the peace treaty, which are now nearing the limit of their usefulness. These include the U-119, now the Rene-Audry, which the Germans started in 1917 but had not finished at the armistice. This sub was destined to cross the Atlantic, "straf" New York and other coast cities, and lay mines in American waters.

LICENSE LAWS FOR MOTORS IS FOUND LACKING

Court Ruling Might Delay Car Registrations For Year 1933.

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—Rumors of a fifth special session of the legislature to cure the state motor registration law, were heard in the state capitol today.

The San Antonio court of civil appeals ruled the trucks used in hauling water to orchards were exempt from registration as farm implements.

Members of the attorney general's department believe the ruling is so broad that, if sustained, it will invalidate the whole motor registration law as discriminatory.

Automobile registration fees are due Jan. 1. The legislature does not meet regularly until Jan. 10.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma THAT the business concerns of your city can meet your every requirement. They take great pride in their ability to fill your orders and assure you prompt service. When you buy from them you see what you buy and get it right now. Your local dealers fully realize that their success depends upon satisfied customers and they make every effort to give you the quality and service that is necessary to keep you satisfied. When you buy at home you see what you buy and take it home with you. If not as represented, you get quick adjustment. When you buy from a peddler or a catalogue you get, some day, what they send you—maybe you will like it and maybe you won't. If you investigate you will find you can get more for your dollar at home than you can elsewhere. Local merchants offer you better quality at better prices. Merchandise bought in the home city not only represents "good buys" from the standpoint of value received, but there is still greater value in the fact that you have kept the money at home working for the home city. The economy game has been worked so long and hard by our politicians that millions of our people no longer have any choice in the matter. The economy wave has left them with empty pocket-books, out of work, out of credit, and out of luck. The bad feeling between enemy countries involved in the World War has long since died out. It has been reasonably concluded that the ordinary citizens of the countries involved now have no quarrel that they should hug to themselves an dperpetuate.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

Tomorrow afternoon will tell the tale as to whether the Bulldogs can hope to remain in the district race or whether they are out, even though they are in a three-way tie for first place. That may not sound true, but we believe it is. Here is the way we figure it: With a loss at the hands of the Lions the Bulldogs must win from Breckenridge, then defeat Abilene and Breckenridge in the same week in addition to playing the Sweet-water Mustangs or the San Angelo Bobcats on the following week, which would be more than the team could do with the few reserves it has.

By winning from Brownwood the task would be lightened to tying or winning from Breckenridge, which would be much easier than defeating the Buckaroos twice in one week. Up Breckenridge way they have already decided to defeat Ranger and throw the district into a tie so that Breckenridge will have a chance to win. Of course if Ranger loses to Brownwood and ties or loses to Breckenridge, or the other way around, it will be between Abilene and Breckenridge in the final week of the district race.

Tickets are on sale for the game, and since it is unlikely that many fans, other than a few students and a mere handful of adults will come from Brownwood, it is up to the fans of Ranger and this section to see that there is a crowd on hand by buying a ticket and going out to the game. The Bulldogs have been playing an excellent brand of football, but they have not been getting the cooperation of the fans they should have.

The Eastland game failed to bring in anything like the money it should have brought, partly due to the cold, windy weather, partly due to the fact that but few Eastland fans went to the game and partly because not as many Ranger fans turned out for the game as should.

Support of the fans means much to the team, both in winning a victory and in helping the finances of the athletic fund, which has been smaller this year than ever before, if our arithmetic is any good. One game last year, the Cisco game, brought in almost as much money, we imagine, as both the Abilene and Eastland games together.

Foulois Seeking Army Graduates For Air Service

WASHINGTON.—Hundreds of young Americans, who have received military flying training at army schools may become lieutenants in the regular air corps if congress adopts a recommendation made in the annual report of Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, corps chief. In a report to Secretary of War Hurley for the last fiscal year, Foulois said the air corps was short 396 officers. He explained that under existing regulations the strength could be increased only by "voluntary transfer of officers commissioned in other branches." Authorization Needed. "This condition really could be remedied," he said, "if authorization were obtained to commission into the air corps from civil life those individuals who, as flying cadets, are graduated from the air corps training center and commissioned second lieutenants in the air corps reserve." Foulois said that at the present rate of accretion from other branches of the army, the air corps would not reach its authorized strength, 1,650 officers, for many years. Reporting on student fliers, Foulois said that of three classes at Kelly field, 41, 39 and 40 a per cent respectively finished their course successfully. He recommended more rigid tests of flying aptitude for applicants. 67 Per Cent Caused by Pilots. A study of aviation accidents during the last fiscal year showed that the human element, still causes most casualties. Some 77 per cent of accidents were blamed on pilots, 33 per cent on other causes. Foulois revealed that the air corps now is building two new types of observation planes. One, a high-wing gull type of metal monoplane, is to have a top speed of 200 miles per hour. The other, a sesqui-plane, "has one of the best observer's cockpits yet developed. It is expected to be extremely high speed." A military cabin has been developed for observation planes, which will protect the observer yet permit him to fire accurately while flying at full speed. Foulois repeated a recommendation made last year that see the national guard observer squadrons be converted into force units. The air corps now is developing a large triangular parachute, a 5,000 square foot canopy, plane of low-winged a detachable cable cabin carrying four engers. UNIVERSITY PLANS CELEBRATE AUSTIN.—The University of Texas is planning to celebrate its fifty-fifth anniversary in 1933. The school was founded in 1827. The first students, in 1832, numbered more than 6,000.

EASTLAND AND RANGER PLAY CONFERENCE GAMES FRIDAY

BROWNWOOD TO PLAY AT RANGER FOR BIG GAME

Have Good Team With Scoring Leader of Oil Belt.

The Oil Belt football game that is of more interest than any other this week will see the Brownwood Lions and the Ranger Bulldogs in a conflict on Lillard field which may have much to do with the standing of the teams in the Oil Belt race for the district title.

The Bulldogs, who have won two conference games this season, will probably be watched closely by Buckaroo scouts and fans. The result of the game will be a factor in the choice of the team to play in Abilene, where the game will be played in another conference.

While Communists demonstrated in the capital against the death sentence imposed on seven negroes who were convicted at Scottsboro, Ala., of assaulting two white girls, the United States supreme court handed down a decision granting the seven a new trial. The supreme court decision was based on belief the seven had not been permitted adequate counsel. Communists, carrying clubs and placards, above, attacked and tore the coat of a policeman who is just about to throw a tear bomb into the group.

Riot as Supreme Court Acts

While Communists demonstrated in the capital against the death sentence imposed on seven negroes who were convicted at Scottsboro, Ala., of assaulting two white girls, the United States supreme court handed down a decision granting the seven a new trial. The supreme court decision was based on belief the seven had not been permitted adequate counsel. Communists, carrying clubs and placards, above, attacked and tore the coat of a policeman who is just about to throw a tear bomb into the group.

MAVERICKS TO PLAY ABILENE AT 3:30 FRIDAY

Team Uninjured After Ranger Game and Will Have Full Strength.

With only two football games scheduled for this week-end in the Oil Belt, both will come in for their share of interest throughout the district.

Early Friday morning the Eastland Mavericks will leave for Abilene, where they will play their third conference game. Abilene is rated as being the stronger of the two teams, having won two out of three conference games, while Eastland has played two games and has lost both. However, the Mavericks are always considered dangerous as they often win when they are up against supposedly stronger opponents.

The Maverick-Eagle game was originally scheduled for Saturday afternoon but the date was moved up one day. The game will start promptly at 3:30 Friday afternoon. A good number of Eastland fans have indicated that they will make the trip to Abilene to see the encounter and to encourage the Mavericks on to their best efforts. Tickets have been on sale in the Eastland drug stores for the past few days in order that the fans who make the trip might secure good seats on the Eastland side of the field.

Students Send WASHINGTON HOME. MISSOLA, Mont.—Mother and Dad are sure to hear from their darling sons and daughters attending the University of Montana at least once each week, judging from the "dirty shirt" days recorded at the Missoula post office. Friday and Saturday of each week a long line of students enter the post office to send home bundles of laundry, addressed almost invariably to "mother." Inside, for father, may be a letter requesting just a little more allowance money.

San Benito Leads In Valley Shipping

SAN BENITO, Texas.—San Benito is leading all shipping points in the lower Rio Grande valley in volume of citrus shipments since the opening of the 1932-33 shipping season. The city has led in early shipping for four consecutive seasons but was noosed out near the close last spring by Mercedes.

This season's crop is light, being estimated at about half last year's production of over 8,000 carloads for the entire valley. However, the quality is fair to good and growers are receiving satisfactory returns. It is believed bulk of the crop will be marketed earlier than usual.

Short crop is due to the loss of early blooms during the March cold wave.

Senator Borah still refuses to tell how he voted. Anyway, it doesn't seem to have made much difference.

Hazing Tactics Bringing Penalties

KINGSTON, Ont.—Sixty-two students of the medical sophomore year at Queen's University were fined $2 each and required to post bond of $3 each for the balance of the term, when found guilty of infringement of the Alma Mater society rule pertaining to physical initiation.

The penalty was imposed by the Alma Mater society court. In addition to the fine, further restrictions were placed on the guilty students. They will not be permitted to hold any year dance or banquet and will not be allowed to "cut" any classes.

The case arose from the initiation ceremonies, when the medical freshmen were said to have been made to walk in molasses in their bare feet, and then through grain, after which they were made to put on their shoes.

In addition to this, several of the freshmen had rotten tomatoes and eggs rubbed in their hair.

Tea Market Now Offers a Problem

LONDON.—Rumors are current here that private discussions are taking place in an effort to restrict the output of tea. The chaotic tea market depressed by over-production, thereby is expected to be put on a firmer basis from agreements when it is believed, will be arrived at by producers in India, Seylon, and the Dutch East Indies.

The belief has gained credence through the very active tea share market in London with quotations for many leading shares having risen to levels which are not far below the peaks for the year. A restriction aimed at the evils of over-production broke down after 1929 mainly because of the unwillingness of the Dutch Colonial authorities to intervene, in order to prevent an increase in native production, which, quantitatively, overruled the restrictive efforts of the Dutch estate producers.

The present restriction scheme, it is rumored, calls for a 15 per cent cut in production for a period of five years. It is believed that the scheme will go through since a vast majority of the producers are in favor of it.

Collie, who leaves soon with her husband, Senator W. B. Collie, for their future home in Austin.

The club assembly room was softly lighted with gold tapers in bronze sticks, and tinted floor lamps. As guests arrived they were seated at several tables appointed in gold lace plate doilies and centered with slender bud vases holding yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Clusters of chrysanthemums in these shades branched gracefully about the two pianos, on consoles, and used effectively with autumn foliage in corner, and floor baskets.

The response to the encore brought "The Cuckoo Clock." Mrs. Wadsworth was magnificient in numbers, "The Years," "Dreams," "Make Believe," "A Prayer," original compositions of artist.

Seldom has an Eastland audience been given the opportunity to hear a program of such varied interest, and perfect performance. Booster Class Honors Departing Members. The Booster class of the Methodist church enjoyed a delightful social evening at the home of Mrs. J. C. Patterson Christmas day.

The coming Christmas season was evidenced by the timely decorations of mistletoe, that wreathed the chandeliers and mantels, and harmonized with the blue and rose appointments in score pads and tallies to which was attached a sprig of mistletoe, and the rose covers of the seven tables employed in "42," and one for dominoes.

Places were located by names of cities on tallies, found at tables named for foreign countries. The entire home was open to the guests. A delightful feature was the presentation of the handsome gift of china matching those pieces already presented by other church classes to Rev. George W. and Mrs. Shearer, the farewell gift of the Booster class to their beloved pastor and his wife who left for Arlington, their new home, Wednesday.

A lovely crystal vase was presented Mr. and Mrs. Britain, who were members of the class for several years and who left for

Steam Propelled Airplane Engine Is Given Test

By United Press. AKRON, Ohio.—A steam-powered airplane motor, assertedly superior to gasoline motors, has been perfected by Harold C. Johnston, of Akron.

Advantages claimed for the steam airship are: longer life, greater cruising range, greater economy in operation, may be started in a few moments regardless of weather conditions, better radio reception, cannot be detected by a radio finder or from sound of motor, water for steam being replaced by a binary solution hermetically sealed to prevent loss, and steam-heated cabin.

Johnston explains that the power unit is unique in its simplicity, smooth, silent operation, light weight, and has few moving parts. The engine is of two cylinder design, weighing but 62 pounds. It turns a standard OX-5 propeller at 1,250 revolutions per minute seemingly with ease, silence and absence of vibration.

High pressure steam is generated in a coil unit of novel design, heat for evaporation is furnished by a closed type of Bunsen burner. The generator and burner weigh but 84 pounds, according to Johnston.

For fuel, the engine uses a No. 2 grade of furnace oil which costs only six cents a gallon. This grade of fuel eliminates the constantly feared fire hazard, according to the inventor.

The power unit is free from spark plugs, or other electrical equipment, except lighting, which is furnished by a small motorcycle type generator and storage battery. After tests here, Johnston plans a tour of the western, southern, and South American airports with Pilot Eric F. Beckley.

Old Gag Is Still Good For Suckers

By United Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo.—It was before election and a bunch of "the boys" were sitting around a downtown club swapping gusses and making bets.

Every sort of freak bet had been offered and taken, when suddenly one of the circle, a individual, dour-faced, and-looking for the first time, raised his voice for the first time. "It doesn't make much difference who's elected," he said. "I don't see any hope either way."

"In fact, I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll bet you even money that not a bank in the entire country will be open four months from the day the new president is inaugurated whether Hoover or Roosevelt's elected."

There were plenty of takers. Then someone thought a moment and dashed for a calendar. The inaugural day mentioned, it was discovered, was March 4—and four months from March 4 would be July 4.
