PROBLEMS FACING DEBT CONFERENCE

Beer for Revenue Bill Is Predicted by Garner

SAYS IT MAY STOP FURTHER TAX MEASURES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Speaker John N. Garner today predicted passage of a beer-for-revenue measure by the house of representatives in the coming short session of congress.

The vice president-elect added that passage of a beer bill, coupled with extensive economy in governmental expenditures, might include the necessity for increasing taxation.

Today is Garner's 64th birthday and he told friends he intended to celebrate it by "getting back into harness."

Garner declined to discuss his forthcoming conference with Roosevelt on foreign debt revision. "I have well-defined opinions," he said, "but I will state them at the white house and not before."

Reverting to his prohibition modification statement, Garner made what he termed, "a horridly black estimate that such a bill would produce revenue of from $250,000,000 to $900,000,000."

He said his estimate was extremely rough but was based on the number of states whose laws now permit sale of beer or who are expected to revise their state constitutions.

Roosevelt's Aid At Debt Parley

Professor Raymond Moley, above, selected by President-elect Roosevelt as his aide at the war debt conference with President Hoover, is a keen student of political affairs and believes "we would be better government if fewer people voted."

PLANE CRASH CLAIMS SECOND VICTIM TODAY

By United Press.
WHARTON, Tex., Nov. 22.—W. G. Gallagher, geologist of Beeville, Texas, died at a hospital at Houston today, bringing to a total of two a toll of an airplane crash on this cities unlighted airport last night.

The other man killed was E. C. Templeton, Los Angeles geologist.

The third member of the ill-fated party, C. F. Lienech of Los Angeles, was near death in a hospital here. All three were on an expedition for the Union Oil company of California.

The crash occurred when the three returned from an afternoon pleasure flight and attempted to land after nightfall. The plane struck a tree at the field's edge and hurtled to the ground.

Oil Heiress Away on Honeymoon

Bound for a tropical honeymoon are Mr. and Mrs. James Goodwin Hall (above), married recently in New York. They sailed for Hawaii and may take an aerial cruise in the Caribbean area. He is a well known pilot and she is the former Anne Balliant Burnett, daughter of the late Burke Burnett of Texas, who left the bulk of his $15,000,000 oil fortune to her.

WORK IS NOW NEEDED FOR UNEMPLOYED

At a meeting of the Ranger committee which is handling the Reconstruction Finance Corporation unemployment relief for Ranger and the vicinity, held in the office of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce Monday night, plans for working out projects were discussed.

It was planned to start men to work as soon as possible, possibly Wednesday morning, on cleaning out the drainage ditch from Mirror Lake preparatory to draining the lake. It is expected that from 30 to 40 men would be used on this work.

Other projects included rebuilding the shoulder on the pavement up Eastland hill to the city limits, working over the street to the City-County hospital, where it was washed out and become rough, doing some minor repairs on Lillard field stadium and clearing the old Ranger cemetery and doing repair work there.

The cooperation of the public has been urged in finding work for the men to do, keeping in mind the fact that all money spent must be for labor and that no money can be spent for materials, or for tools. Approximately 100 men can be worked each day from now until Jan. 1, if enough projects can be found on which they can be worked where materials will not be needed.

Several items have been tentatively accepted and will be worked out if it is found possible to do so, but the public has been urged to make suggestions to the chamber of commerce in order that work might be secured for as many men as possible.

Registrations for the work were being received in the office of the chamber of commerce today and it was stated that the work would be allotted by the committee in a manner that was thought to be as fair as possible to all. It was pointed out that the number of dependents would be taken into consideration. For example a man with a wife and one child would not be able to receive quite as much work as a man with a wife and several children, though both would be given as much work as possible.

Approximately 100 men had been registered at noon today and it was expected that fully 300 would be listed before the registration closed.

The secretary-treasurer has been placed under $15,000 bond and all money expended must be carefully checked and a detailed statement made to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in order that the corporation might be assured that the money was being expended as advantageously as possible.

Each employe, hired under the provisions of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation must furnish his own tools, it was pointed out by the committee, as no provision has been made for the purchase of tools. However, it was also pointed out, if a man was assured of several weeks of work, he could afford to buy a few tools if it would assure him the work.

The members of the committee are W. D. Conway, chairman; W. J. Hiley, secretary; treasurer; A. J. Kattiff, director; Roy Gilbreath, director; and L. R. Pierson, director. Any suggestions as to work that can be done in and around the city can be called to the attention of any of these men and they will see that it is taken up before the committee.

Expected Here As Debt Envoy

Neville Chamberlain, above, Britain's chancellor of the exchequer, veteran statesman, is regarded as the likely choice to negotiate for Britain when war debts parleys are opened in Washington.

HOOVER AND ROOSEVELT TO MEET TODAY

Nation of World Await the Outcome of White House Meeting.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Two distinct problems arising from notes written to the state department by four European powers confront President Hoover and Governor Roosevelt late today as they faced each other at the White House.

They are:

1.—Shall Mr. Hoover recommend to congress that Europe be allowed to delay payment on about $124,000,000 due on war debts on Dec. 15.

2.—Shall the president ask Congress to reconsider debt agreements, calling for payment by Europe of $11,000,000,000 in principle, and about the same amount in interest over a period of 62 years.

Affirmative answers to both questions were asked by Great Britain, France, Belgium and Poland.

The question of relief from the December payment appears to be one which Mr. Hoover must finally decide alone. The second question Governor Roosevelt may have to deal with at first hand.

As President Hoover made last-minute preparations for the conference, United Press dispatches arrived from abroad, indicating Great Britain and France had agreed to pay their Dec. 15 debt installment if postponement is not granted.

Warren D. Robbins, cousin of the president-elect, was selected to meet Governor Roosevelt. A White House limousine and ten motorcycle police were to rush him from the train to the White House when he arrives at 3:30 p. m.

Car of Food Is Being Prepared For Orphan Home

The car, which is being filled with food for the children of Buckner Orphan home was in Ranger today, where it was being held while the Baptists of Ranger and the community completed the task of filling it with canned goods and other good things to eat.

The car started at Cisco, where the first installments of the food were put aboard, went from there to Eastland and Olden and was finally brought to Ranger, where it will be sealed and shipped to Dallas.

The car is being shipped through the co-operation of the Baptist churches of this section and the Texas & Pacific railroad, which is hauling the car to Dallas without charge.

This was one of the major projects of the recent workers' conference of the Cisco district, which was held at the Central Baptist church of Ranger recently.

MAVERICKS AND LIONS WILL PLAY MORNING GAME AT THE MAVERICK FIELD THURSDAY

Joe Gibson, coach of the Eastland Mavericks, announced today that the Eastland-Brownwood game would be played Thursday morning at 10 o'clock so it would not interfere with the Ranger-Breckenridge game. He issued a special invitation to the people of Ranger to attend the game, saying that the fans from Eastland Thursday morning, and a Brownwood fan at the game, there will be plenty of seats for the Ranger fans on the Brownwood side and lots of seating room on the Eastland side to take care of the Eastland fans.

Those who want to obtain good seats for the game should be on hand early at the Eastland-Brownwood game, as the forecast is that it will draw the largest attendance of any game played at Maverick field this season.

until late, go to the game, eat his turkey dinner and then move over to Ranger for the Bulldog-Buckaroo conflict, which is holding the center of interest over the entire Oil Belt as it will either decide the championship or determine which teams will play again for the title.

Plenty of seats are available for the Brownwood-Eastland game on Thursday morning, and a Brownwood fan at the game, there will be plenty of seats for the Ranger fans on the Brownwood side and lots of seating room on the Eastland side to take care of the Eastland fans.

Paper To Be Out Thursday, But No Issue Wednesday

No issue of this paper will be published on Wednesday afternoon, but an early morning edition will be printed Thursday and distributed in order that the employes may have a day of for Thanksgiving.

This has been the policy of this paper for a number of years, which is followed on each important holiday. Those who do not receive a copy of their local paper Wednesday afternoon should remember that they will get a copy early the following morning, just as they do on Sunday.

All the stores in town will be closed all day and those who contemplate eating their Thanksgiving dinner at home should remember to make their purchases tomorrow.

RANGERS WILL PLAY TERRILL ON WEDNESDAY

The Ranger Junior College Texas Rangers, accompanied by a number of Ranger fans, will leave Wednesday morning at 6:45 for Dallas, where they will play Terrill Prep at Fair Park stadium at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

H. S. Von Roeder announced this morning that he was still about two cars short of having enough to take all the players and requested that anyone who could make the trip and take one or more of the team to get in touch with him tonight so that arrangements could be made.

Gasoline and a detailed statement made to anyone who makes the trip and takes any of the players, he stated.

Terrill Prep has one of the strong junior college teams in the state, having won from Amarillo Junior college, considered the best in the state until they played Terrill, by a score of 7 to 6.

The school also defeated the Cisco Lobos this year by a score of 18 to 6.

This will be the last game of the season for the Texas Rangers, who have had a very successful season for a new team, only one touchdown being scored against them to date and that by the John Tarleton Plowboys, who defeated the Rangers by a score of 6 to 0.

Eastland Rotary Hears New Cisco Presiding Elder

The Rotary club had their usual Monday session presided over by Sid Pitzer, first vice president, in the absence of James Horton.

Eighteen Rotarians responded to roll call. Ranger Rotarians attending were Odell Bailey and Frank Yonkers.

The program chairman, W. P. Palm and Sam Gamble, presented Miss Mary Frances Hunter in a reading and Rev. C. Q. Smith, the presiding elder of the Cisco district of the Methodist Church, who gave a pleasing address.

The club was visited by Mrs. Scott W. Key and Mrs. Phillip G. Russell in the interest of the American Red Cross. The Rotary went on record as signing up 100 per cent.

Tickets Nearly All Sold For the Buckaroo Game

Reports from Breckenridge today said that the ticket sale for the Thanksgiving day game in Ranger was one of the best in the history of the Buckaroo team and that shortly after noon yesterday all the center sections of the Breckenridge side had been sold and that the only tickets left were beyond the 15-yard line.

In Ranger the same condition prevailed, with only a few reserved seat tickets left and these down along the five-yard line.

A telephone call from Eastland Monday afternoon brought the information that there was a demand for tickets there for the Breckenridge-Ranger game and that quite a number could be sold. It was impossible to send any over, according to O. G. Lanier, because of the demand in Ranger, which had snapped up all available tickets.

An order was turned in for 1,000 additional tickets, which will be good for the two end zones behind the goal posts, and it was expected that these would be sold by game time.

With the Eastland-Brownwood game at Eastland moved up to 10 in the morning, it was thought that quite a number of fans from that city would be on hand to witness the game that might decide the champions of the district. The indications are that a larger crowd will be on hand than has been present at any Oil Belt conference game in several years and arrangements have been made in Ranger to handle the crowd as quickly as possible.

COL. ROBINS GETS MEMORY BACK TODAY

By United Press.
ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 22.—Col. Raymond Robins, prohibition leader, was kept in seclusion today by doctors, although it was announced he had "regained his memory."

A doctor's statement related that Colonel Robins, holding hands with his wife, called her "Margaret" and then turned to the doctor and acknowledged that he was Colonel Robins.

The theory that Robins was a victim of the "terrible strain" he underwent in Russia during and shortly after the World War, was advanced today by his wife.

Special Venire Is Called For Trial Of Murder Case

DALHART, Tex.—A special venire of 108 men will be summoned for the C. C. Tunnell murder trial here Nov. 30. The case, transferred from Chaning, grew out of the shooting of M. A. Edgerly, 30, at the Tunnell home west of Dalhart last May 30.

It promises to furnish the sensation of the criminal docket. The fatal affray is alleged to have resulted from contentions said to have been paid Mrs. Tunnell by Edgerly, but another account is that an argument over some corn started the trouble.

Tunnell, it is claimed, made ostensible plans the night before the shooting to come to Dalhart, but apparently never left the farm. Mrs. Tunnell is said to have been the only eye-witness to the tragedy.

Hit-Run Driver Sought By Police

HOUSTON, Nov. 22.—The hit-run driver of a gray car with a "green windshield" was sought in connection with the death of a child and Police Commissioner William Quartz of Goose Creek.

1909 Grocery Bill Reveals Old Costs

WAUKESHA, Wis.—A statement of a grocery account for August, 1909, found in a store here throws light on what the average family paid for necessities nearly a quarter of a century ago.

The bill included:

One pound of butter, .30; one pound of lard, .15; two pounds of green beans, .10; box of matches, .5; four ears of sweet corn, .06; half dozen oranges, .15; package of tobacco, .01; one gallon of oil, .12; one pound of tomatoes, .08; one-half peck of potatoes, .13; one mop stick, .10.

Posse Seeks Boy Bandits Who Got Only 75-Cent Loot

FORT WORTH, Nov. 22.—A posse of police and citizens today searched fields and woods near Smithfield, 12 miles northeast of here, for four young bandits who robbed the general store at Smithfield of only 75 cents.

The bandits fled, abandoning two automobiles when F. K. Kirk, who lives nearby, opened fire with a shotgun. Their 75-cent loot, in pennies, was taken from a cash drawer in the combination post office and general store.

The post office safe, which contained records, but no money, was missing.

Ranger Lions Not To Meet This Week

Roy W. Gilbreath, president of the Ranger Lions club, announced today that no meeting of the club would be held Thursday at noon, which is the regular meeting date of the club.

The club will dispense with its program because of the fact that the meeting date falls on Thanksgiving day, but will meet on Thursday, Dec. 1, at the regular hour.

LARGE CROWD IS EXPECTED FOR BULLDOG-BUCKAROO GAME IN RANGER ON THANKSGIVING

The interest of the entire Oil Belt will be on the Breckenridge-Ranger game to be played at Lillard field on Thanksgiving Day, as it will decide who is to be the title holder in the Oil Belt this season or it will determine who will have to play for the championship, depending on the outcome of the game.

As has been repeatedly pointed out since the tie with Brownwood last week, after the game is over the Bulldogs will either be champions of the Oil Belt for 1932, or they will be definitely eliminated for the year or they will be in a tie with Abilene and will have to meet the Eagles in another game, probably on the Abilene gridiron. Should Ranger lose the championship will rest with the winner of the playoff between Abilene and Breckenridge.

The standing of three teams will be determined by the outcome of the game, so the fans of these three teams will be vitally interested in the outcome of the game and the Eastland fans will probably be interested because they would like to see the championship remain in the county again.

The Eastland Mavericks will attend the game, no doubt, since it has been announced that the Brownwood-Eastland game will be played at 10 o'clock in the morning in order that any fans from Ranger who would like to see the game may do so and so the Eastland fans might be on hand for the Breckenridge-Ranger conflict later in the day.

Breckenridge has a strong team that will outweigh the Bulldogs and they have been working hard toward this one game, and they will rest their hopes of a chance at the title for the year. The Buckaroos have adopted a slogan "We can beat Ranger" and will endeavor to do just that thing in the game Thursday.

Buckaroo scouts have been on hand for practically every game the Bulldogs have played this season, so the Bulldogs have nothing to fear from the scouts and they have been practicing against the type of play the Bulldogs will be expected to put out.

Though the Buckaroos have been scouted some by Ranger fans, there is considerable doubt that as much is known about the Buckaroos as the Breckenridge players know about the Ranger team.

Tickets went on sale in Breckenridge and Ranger for the Turkey Day game. The Ranger tickets were not put on sale until rather late Saturday night and before the drug stores closed a large percent of them had already been sold or served. The advance sale indicates that the game will draw by far the largest crowd that will attend a conference game in the Oil Belt and it has been estimated that between 4,000 and 5,000 people will witness the contest.

Breckenridge has sent word to Ranger that fully 2,000 people would make the trip and it is thought that more than that money from Ranger would be on hand when the opening whistle blows.

Eastland Red Cross Does Well

The American Red Cross call will be actively conducted through tomorrow, the general chairman for Eastland, Mrs. Milburn McCarty states.

About $110 in memberships was turned in from the residence drive on Monday.

GOV. ROLPH READY TO PARDON DRY VIOLATORS

Gov. James Rolph, Jr., of California will issue pardons to a thousand persons held in California prisons and jails on charges of violating the state prohibition law. California had a drastic pro enforcement law known as the Wright act. It was repealed by a vote of 2 to 1 Nov. 8. Now the taxpayers of the gold commonwealths will not be compelled to pay out their good money for food and shelter for those who have been convicted of violation of the act. It is said that in the grape growing sections of California the voters abandoned their dry stand of years and plumped wet or repeal ballots for a change or repeal of all laws. Michigan had one of the most drastic laws of all the American states. Michigan voters cast ballots for its repeal, and the repealers won by a large majority. Now Governor-elect Comstock, a democrat, will walk in the footsteps of the California governor and liberate all the violators of the act repealed now held in the jails or prisons of Michigan. Governor Paul McNutt of Indiana, another democrat, has announced that after he has taken the oath of office he will turn the violators loose to hustle for their own food and sheltering place. Another version of Finnegan's famous wire to Flennegan: "Off agin; on agin; gone agin."

FEDERAL JOWER COMMISSION CURBS STOCK ISSUES

In advance of the coming of President-Elect Roosevelt and a democratic congress the federal power commission has adopted a resolution providing that no licensee which is a public service corporation SHALL ISSUE ANY SECURITIES WHOSE MATURITY DATE IS MORE THAN ONE YEAR WITHOUT FIRST RECEIVING APPROVAL OF THE COMMISSION. Furthermore, the resolution introduced by Commissioner McNinch provided that the company submit to the commission satisfactory evidence in support of such securities issued. Notice of the proposed issue must be given the commission at least 30 days beforehand. Are the people the masters at the ballot box? For 11 years the federal power commission has been in existence. Nov. 8 the nation thundered its verdict. In the wake of that verdict the federal power commission resolved itself into a regulator of holding companies and securities they issue. Public opinion behind a nation-wide mandate makes office holders as well as lawmakers come out of a trance and do quick thinking.

GOV. BILL MURRAY SHOWS HIS HAND

Governor William H. Murray is insistent that no more oil wells be dug within the Oklahoma City limits. According to an Oklahoma news story the governor was unaware of the city council action in blocking the move to extend the drilling zone to the very heart of the downtown district. Then it was the famous Alfalfa statesman declared he would renew a military order if new wells increased the peril for business homes and inhabitants. This native son of Texas and adopted son of Oklahoma is one of the best political showmen in the nation, as well as one of the best copy makers for the correspondents and magazine writers.

NEW JERSEY GRAND JURY HAS WHIPPING POST

Little Delaware has the whipping post punishment for incorrigible law violators. Now a grand jury in New Jersey has recommended that the New Jersey legislature adopt a law permitting the establishment of whipping posts as the method of punishment. All this for the sake of economy and to create a respect for "organized society and family relations." New Jersey is one of the original 13 colonies. Delaware is another. Why not firing squads for incorrigible law breakers? It is more humane and finishes the job.

The methods used by the various political parties in appealing for the support of the public were most interesting. Besides the use of airplanes by candidates and their workers, enabling personal touch with a great deal more of the electorate, the use of radio broadcasting was a great factor. Obviously, the great advantages of broadcasting for propaganda purposes are those of the accessibility of the public and freedom from interruption, although in all matters it is found that the public reads its newspapers no less diligently, for, after all, it is the printed words that form the final and comparatively incontrovertible record.

The real money in business is in getting volume sales, and the only way to produce profitable volume is by continuous newspaper advertising.

In times of depression is not the time to worry so much about balancing budgets. It should be done in good times when there is little chance of sinking the ship.

EARLY WRITERS often mentioned the migrations of gray squirrels, during which times enormous hordes of the animals swarmed cross-country, ruining farm crops as they went. Even the Niagara, the Hudson and Ohio rivers were crossed, though many squirrels drowned in the attempt. BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON
WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Governor Roosevelt is quite right in warning his people not to pay any attention to what they read in the newspapers about the possible makeup of his cabinet.

Speculation is speculation and it is very much in order at this time, insofar as the next cabinet is concerned. But everyone who writes about it is just guessing and hardly any of the guesses are better than the others. The guessing will become gradually more accurate, of course, as March approaches.

One reason the president-elect is so completely justified in warning the public not to take any stock in the cabinet speculation is that no one knows whether Roosevelt wants a strong cabinet or a weak cabinet.

NEARLY all the current speculation has been based on the theory that he will be wanting a strong cabinet. That's why you find the correspondents picking posts for such folks as Newton D. Baker, Owen D. Young, Albert C. Ritchie, John W. Davis, James M. Cox, Al Smith, Carter Glass, Bernard Baruch, Melvin M. Traylor, William G. McAdoo, Frances Perkins and Thomas J. Walsh.

Obviously, if Roosevelt were to pick a cabinet out of that group he would have a cabinet of such heft that he would be in great danger of merely being considered as among those present. That is one of the best reasons for supposing not many of those persons will be on the list, if one must so suppose.

A strong president can afford to have a weak cabinet, whereas a weak president ought to have a strong cabinet, according to the orthodox theory here.

Mr. Harding, who was rather a weak president and doubtless anticipated it, picked a strong cabinet—it is still regarded as strong on account of Hughes, Hoover and Mellon, even if some of the boys did go wrong on him.

Mr. Hoover, who was expected to be a strong president and who himself hardly expected anything else but who—according to a large popular majority—was a flop, had a cabinet for whom no one had much respect. The only members who are still held in any esteem are Secretary of State Stimson and Attorney General Mitchell, two able and very loyal men who have had to put up with so much that their friends are quite sorry for them.

ALL of which doesn't help us to pick Roosevelt's cabinet before he picks it himself. The governor presumably feels that he will be a strong president although that's a point of excited debate in Washington, but there is no very good way of telling whether his cabinet will be considered good, bad, awful or terrible.

At this stage of the cabinet-picking process, however, it may be considered a fortunate thing for the country that Governor Roosevelt is an expert politician and apparently knows all the tricks of the business.

It doesn't pay to break promises. Some people break promises as easily as pie crusts. A promise made should be kept. No one should make a promise to do a thing with a silent reservation in their minds to do it—maybe.

Turkey Day Will Be Homecoming Day For A. C. C.

ABILENE, Nov. 22.—Homecoming Day for Abilene Christian College when hundreds of the schools alumni and exes will return to the campus to spend Thanksgiving will be climaxed by the 12th football meeting between the A. C. C. Wildcats and the Daniel Baker Hill Billies.

Four times in the past A. C. C. elevens have won, Daniel Baker has taken the decision six times and there has been one tie. The record of games won and lost, since the first two clashes, points to a hard fought, close contest. Back in 1920 an undefeated A. C. C. team ran up a score of 81 to 0 against the Billies, who retaliated the next year with a victory of 55 to 0. Since that time, however, the widest margin for a victory has been 14 points. Twice field goals have decided the outcome, and two years ago an extra point after touchdown was the margin of triumph for Daniel Baker.

The current season closely parallels, to date, that of 1924 for the Wildcats. That year, as this, the team failed to win a conference game before Thanksgiving, but its finishing touch was good, as Daniel Baker was beaten 3 to 0, a field goal by Ecker Curtis, present coach at Ranger High school, providing the only score of the game.

Chesterfields Taste Better

As smokers become more experienced, they demand milder cigarettes. Chesterfields are milder. Their mildness is just as much a feature as the beauty of their package.

The tobaccos are mild to begin with. Patient ageing and curing make them milder still. And Chesterfields contain just the right amount of Turkish—not too much—carefully blended and cross-blended with ripe, sweet Domestic tobaccos.

Chesterfields are milder. They taste better. That's why "They Satisfy."

HERE AND THERE

By ELVIE B. JACKSON

Thanksgiving Day, a purely human institution, has to a great extent lost its spiritual meaning for the masses and the classes. The days of yore when Thanksgiving was spent on bended knees in the dim church during the early morning and late evening hours, has been forgotten. For several years the football field has rung with voices of competing forces and vibrated to the applause of spectators. Once and not so very many years ago, a big mass of people gathered in the open with their Bibles, and their Bibles, and lifted their voices in praise to the Almighty for His goodness and mercy forever.

And yet that spirit of thankfulness, as sincere in the American heart today as in those Psalm singing days, when active thanks were offered through purely social amenities, and religious gatherings dignified with worship.

Today, sheltered women leave their homes, and face cold winds and discomfort in their work over these United States of seeking alms for the unfortunate at this thanksgiving time, and money through the agency of the American Red Cross.

Women are meeting with church societies, to pack great hampers of food and clothing to be sent their denominational institutions. Other agencies are giving of their time and strength toward the handling, storing and dispensing of Red Cross materials for clothing for the indigent; other women have

WEEK-END MURDER

By GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

BEGIN HERE TODAY

AMOS PLEADY, elderly cousin of LINDA AVERILL, falls to his death from the second-floor balcony of a cup of coffee when he came up. Linda reaches him just before he dies, in time to hear him say "The pushed me!"

There are four guests in the house and all become suspects of the murder. All are strong physically, have violent tempers and all have quarreled with Cousin Amos. The four are: MR. STANLEY, middlewestern manager of the firm of L. S. LITTLE, formerly; MARY PRATT, former wife of a handsome Belgian representing a European perfume manufacturer; and SHAGHNESSY, Irish writer and lecturer.

Linda, realizing her cousin had tried to tell her he was murdered, rushes up the stairs to the balcony. Someone steps behind her, tries to strangle her and she falls in a faint.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XII

A DOOR closed, very softly and gently. To Linda, lying white and motionless in the big bed, the sound came faint but unmistakable, piercing the nothingness in which she seemed fathoms deep. A door . . . there was something . . . she must tell someone . . . about a door—

Of course not being able to open her eyes made it hard, if she could do that she could speak—things would be all right. Another interval of nothingness, not unpleasant . . . but the impulse returned more strongly.

Suddenly she was looking up at the ceiling and its whiteness hurt her. She made a little fretting noise and shifted her head on the pillow. The sound brought instant action. With a troubled, affectionate look, someone was bending over her. Linda's still slightly dazed regard traveled over the surprisingly young face up to the smoothly waved gray hair and down again.

"Hello!" she observed weakly. "Hello, Lindy!" Tom's mother was nice—she took things so for granted.

"How long have I been here?"

"Oh, ever since Tom telephoned me." Mrs. Averill divided the matter of exact time airily but Linda was rapidly becoming her normal—and persistent—self.

"Tom—where is Tom? Why, he was swimming—Oh! The moment her mother-in-law had divided the matter of exact time airily but Linda was rapidly becoming her normal—and persistent—self.

"You remember we were going swimming together—"

"Well, I went ahead of me."

"Well, I was just climbing up on the raft—looking toward the house—when you came out on the balcony."

"You could see me clearly?"

"Why, yes, you waved—"

"You saw me wave?"

HE could not understand her tenor. "It was all over so quickly. You stood for a moment like—a like a scarlet exclamation point against the white of the house. And then your arm went up and just as I was waving back

"He'll hurry back to you as fast as he can. I made him eat first and told him I'd be coming up. So he'll be back very soon."

LINDA yielded. After all, perhaps she really wanted a few minutes to collect her thoughts. It was in fact but a scant 10 minutes before quick steps in the hall brought a flush to her cheeks and Mrs. Averill, rising with a resigned little sigh, met her son at the door and slipped out as he came in.

"Linda darling!" All the anxiety of the morning was in his exclamation. "You poor baby—you poor kid!"

"There, Tommy—I'm all right now."

"You're not to talk. The doctor's been here and—"

"And the police?" inquired Linda in a small scared voice. He looked at her in utter astonishment.

"Linda, what on earth? The police don't come for—"

"We telephoned Parsons, of course, and he got here just as quickly as he could. There was nothing he could do for—that is, he attended to you first. He did try to reach Pat Boyle—he's the county medical examiner—to report the matter. But Boyle's away. Parsons is the one who takes the responsibility of certifying that it was an accident."

"Was what?" asked Linda, suddenly very tense.

"An accident, dearest—you know—I thought you remembered—Cousin Amos—"

"I know what happened to Cousin Amos." Her tone made him look at her sharply.

"He fell from the balcony," said Tom quietly. Since she would discuss it, better to be to the point and steady about it.

"Yes?" Again he was puzzled by her tone. "Well—suppose, Tom, she's relaxed suddenly leaning against the pillow, 'suppose you tell me just exactly what did happen—as far as you know. Go back to the very beginning."

"You remember we were going swimming together—"

"Well, I went ahead of me."

"Well, I was just climbing up on the raft—looking toward the house—when you came out on the balcony."

"You could see me clearly?"

"Why, yes, you waved—"

"You saw me wave?"

HE could not understand her tenor. "It was all over so quickly. You stood for a moment like—a like a scarlet exclamation point against the white of the house. And then your arm went up and just as I was waving back

"And telephoned for your mother. That was nice of you, Tom."

"I thought you should have someone beside the girls."

"Then what?"

"Well, first we called Dr. Parsons. Of course the poor fellow wasn't up but he got here in half or three-quarters of an hour. To tell you the truth, I had him look at you first. He said you would come around if you were kept quiet. Then he went out on the terrace."

"Go on, Tom. I'm quite all right. Really, I'd rather have you tell me everything."

"WELL, he made an examination. Looked at the place and the body. He was a bit upset as to what was best to do because technically any case of sudden death like that has to be certified as an accident by the medical examiner. You're not supposed to move the body till he has seen it and said you could. Parsons isn't any too friendly with this man Boyle. He's that roughneck, old-time pill peddler—one of the county political gang, you know. Half drunk most of the time, they say. Ran some kind of an advertising medical office in Brooklyn before he came out here. Anyhow the office is a nice little bit of graft and he's never around on the rare occasions when he really is needed. This time he's on a fishing trip with some of his cronies down at the end of the island. So Parsons had to act on his own."

"So that's the story!" Linda drew a long breath.

"That's what happened—from our end anyhow. You can fill in the gaps."

"Our guests—are they all still here?"

"Honey, don't worry about them." He patted her hand reassuringly. "Of course they're here now but they're going as quickly as they can get off. You needn't see one of them again if you don't want to."

"No," said Linda.

"I told them the train service into town on Saturday morning was rotten and naturally I didn't want to hurry them too much. Especially DeVos and Statlander—rather rough on them, an accident like this after the various upssets we've had."

"Valeska, you mean. It is bad, that way." Linda spoke abstractedly, her mind racing ahead to meet this new complication.

"They were very decent, though. Blinks. After all, such an unusual accident—no one would expect a hostess—"

"Tom—listen! Someone's coming!"

Supt. R. F. Holloway Addresses Merriman P. T. A.

At the last meeting of the Merriman P. T. A. an Armistice Day program was given by the pupils of the school. The feature of the program was a group of popular "war time" songs.

Mr. R. F. Holloway, superintendent of the Ranger schools, gave a short and interesting talk to the pupils, after which he delivered a most inspiring and helpful address to the parents and teachers on "Spiritual Training."

First National Institute of Violin Students Receive Certificates

A most delightful program was rendered Monday evening at the Christian church by students completing their first term course in the F. N. I. V. classes of which Miss Gillian Buchanan is instructor.

It was very spectacular to hear children of all ages play the ensemble numbers.

For only one year's study their bowing, intonation and rhythm were unusually good. Mr. R. F. Holloway presented certificates of perfect attendance and high averages to the following: Billie Clyde Davis, James Shackelford, Billie Ross Hodges, Walter Lee Jackson, Gloria Virginia Williams, Douglas Downing, James Ervin White, Billie Bordeaux, Raymond Lantrop, James Bronson, Doris Beach, Norma Mills, Fern Allen Maroney, Mary Weaver, Johnnie Young, Wallace Arent, Robert Herring, Foy Sanders, Ernest Green, Roy Gray.

The students of the above who made an average of "B" or more will receive as a prize a ten dollar violin bow.

Frances Harrell, a piano student of Miss Buchanan, rendered two beautiful piano solos: "Dark Eyes," and "Valse."

An added attraction to the program was a reading by Miss Gladys Brown, a new expression teacher in our schools.

A chorus of girls who sang a Thanksgiving song as the first number was composed of: Madeline Howell, Gene Henry, Lila Howell, Eloise Packwood, Leona Harrell, Eloise Beach, Norma Mills, Mary Weaver, Johnnie Young, Frances Harrell, Fern Allen Maroney.

Misses Juliann Connally and Mattie Berye Montgomery, accompanied this song on their violins.

As a very fitting climax to this program the P. G. Club of the Ranger Junior College presented a pantomime in the form of Thanksgiving pictures. The first picture of a Puritan holding his gun and Bible going to church, was posed by Miss Nell Caton. The second picture of the Puritan girl was posed by Miss Dorothy Powers. The next was effectively posed by Miss Mary Jane Driehof; the fourth picture showed the Indian ready to kill the Puritan girl, and next was the showing of the Indian killed by the Puritan. The final picture was "The Perfect Day," as posed by the Puritan girl and boy. Appropriate music for these scenes, was played by Miss Buchanan on the piano and Crystell Head on the violin, and sung by Pauline Head. Mrs. Tricky Ward is sponsor of this club.

The finale to the program was the playing by the boys and singing by the girls of "America the Beautiful."

Royal Service Lesson is Rendered

A very unique and effective Royal Service program was rendered at the home of Mrs. E. S. Brink Monday afternoon, when members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Central Baptist church presented the lesson in the form of a radio broadcast feature.

The audience composed of a group of interested and active members listened in for an instructive program given in a clear and forceful manner.

"Around the World With Our Prayers and Our Money," opened the splendid program, wholeheartedly received throughout the hour.

Mrs. F. D. Hicks added to the hour by giving as her subject, "Prayer." Mrs. Dupree and Miss Williams rendered a pretty violin duet, "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

The hostess, who acted as leader, offered the introductory talk, "Around the World," broadcasted "Our Prayers."

A pleasant interruption to the papers given came when Mrs. Mitchell sang "Praying For You," followed with a paper by Mrs. Org. "Prayer That God May Rightly Use The Work of Our Missionaries Around The World." Mrs. Arney gave another interesting paper, choosing as her topic, "Broadcasting Our Money Which Is Followed by Prayer, That Our Gifts May Go Around The World."

The program was brought to a close with a prayer, said by Mrs. L. L. Bruce, that the 1932 Lottie Moon Christmas offering might be larger than any previous offering.

The radio audience expressed in well chosen words their real appreciation for the rendition of this effective program which is quite outstanding from every summarized point of view.

A short business and social was an added feature of the hour.

Shower Names Mrs. Doolen Yellow chrysanthemums together with massive clusters of rosebuds embedded in fern sprays, combined a pretty and soft color note in the room decorations, Monday afternoon, when Mrs. D. W. Gordon, entertained with a miscellaneous shower, naming Mrs. Albert Bacon, honoree of the pleasant occasion.

A happy hour was spent at which time the hostess presented the guest of honor with a choice selection of neatly wrapped gifts.

A plate of fruit, jello, apple sauce cake, and coffee was served to the honoree and Mrs. J. E. Sewell, Homer Hodges, Regal, Rawley Merton, Jabe Morton, Doolen, of Eastland, Bill Parrish of Cisco, Carl Dobbs, Joe Gowen, McKonney, A. Jones and Marine Dunkey.

Elks To Celebrate Thanksgiving With Dance. Dancing will again be the mode of entertainment at the Ranger Elks' Club Thursday evening, with the South's Best Seven-piece orchestra furnishing the music.

This entertainment will draw to a close a festive holiday, one of the most looked-forward-to of the red letter days listed in the year's calendar.

Captain McDonald Speaks At W. M. S. Hour. Captain McDonald, former missionary and interesting Bible student, who has traveled extensively and who is a popular Ranger visitor, occupied the Woman's Missionary society hour at the First Baptist church Monday afternoon, giving a well rounded out and extremely interesting lecture.

The meeting was attended by a large group of the organization's members.

Mrs. Tunnell and Mrs. Harwell Give Combined Program At Woman's Missionary Society. One of the most complete programs of the season was heard by fifteen members, Monday afternoon when the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist church, met for the lesson rendition given by Mrs. B. A. Tunnell and Mrs. Walter Harwell, presenting topics from a combined lesson, taken from the Missionary bulletin and Council chapter.

The hour opened with the singing of "Footsteps of Jesus," followed with the reading of the devotional by Mrs. Leslie Hagaman.

Mrs. Gid J. Bryan offered the opening prayer, lending a touching mark to the words so in keeping with the lesson.

Points rounding out a perfect period of study and a most inspiring one, were presented in turn by the co-leaders.

The council topic emphasizing the minor features was pleasingly given by Mrs. Harry Bishop.

It was during this particular time, Mrs. Bryan, graciously and fluently expressed her sincere appreciation for the beautiful pointing complimenting she and her family and the Thanksgiving day basket given them which is taken care of through this W. M. S.

Mrs. Herbert R. Stafford, offered a summarized report of the family and the basket given them which is taken care of through this W. M. S.

Ranger will act as host to the district zone meeting which is to convene December 2nd. A cordial invitation has been extended to visiting divisions through the members and leader, Mrs. I. N. Griffin.

Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, brought the hour to a close saying prayer, lending a soft and impressive thought to the touching lesson.

Eastern Star to Distribute Thanksgiving Baskets. At an important meeting of the Ranger Eastern Star chapter last evening it was decided this chapter would distribute Thanksgiving day baskets to Ranger's needy families.

All members having donations for these baskets are asked to bring same to Bill's Dry Cleaning plant, Wednesday afternoon, not later than 3 o'clock. This commendable work is being done in co-operation and admiration of work having been completed by the Child Welfare club, association.

Members are urged to keep this suggestion in mind, states Mrs. W. R. (Bill) Clardy, active member.

American Prince Is Hurt in Fall

day afternoon, when Mrs. D. W. Gordon, entertained with a miscellaneous shower, naming Mrs. Albert Bacon, honoree of the pleasant occasion.

A happy hour was spent at which time the hostess presented the guest of honor with a choice selection of neatly wrapped gifts.

This entertainment will draw to a close a festive holiday, one of the most looked-forward-to of the red letter days listed in the year's calendar.

Captain McDonald Speaks At W. M. S. Hour. Captain McDonald, former missionary and interesting Bible student, who has traveled extensively and who is a popular Ranger visitor, occupied the Woman's Missionary society hour at the First Baptist church Monday afternoon, giving a well rounded out and extremely interesting lecture.

The meeting was attended by a large group of the organization's members.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

Let's see. Yesterday we wrote something or other about the Breckenridge backfield and promised that we would have something to say about the line today. But we are not so sure that we know much about it, that, but maybe we do know as much about it as we do about the backfield.

Anyway, if the printers do not cross us up today, you will find the pictures of four of the husky backfield aces somewhere in this issue of the paper.

The Breckenridge line is a little heavier than the Bulldogs' line, and is reported to be one of the best lines in the Oil Belt, possibly the best. That remains to be seen what it looks like when it is up against the Bulldogs.

The line is lead by Captain Leo Martin, who is rated as one of the best guards in the Oil Belt. He is reported to be the hardest against the South's Best Barber of Abilene has played, according to Pete, and he has been up against practically every guard in the district.

Next to Martin is Price at center. Price, according to Presky Anderson, is only a notch in the district who has made a better showing this season than Stanley Smith, all state center last season. Bray outplayed Smith in the Abilene game, but since then he has been reported as showing up much better. Price is accorded the distinction of also outplaying Smith and is a whale of a defensive man.

Teddle is the mainstay of the wing position on the Buckaroo, if our information is correct, being by far the best pass receiver of a flock of good ball snatchers on the Buckaroo roster. Teddie is a defensive end as well as a pass catcher and is a good blocker.

Corley, who plays the other end position a good part of the time, is reported to be just about as good as Teddie on the defense though probably not quite as good on the offense, if a difference could be detected in this department. Both Teddie and Corley are good at working out interference and breaking it up on end runs.

Taylor who plays at left guard, is not so good a guard as Martin, but can take care of his assignments in a most satisfactory way. He has been playing Russell also plays at guard and is considered by many as a better man at the position than Taylor, as he has had more experience.

O'Dell at right tackle and Brantley at the same spot on the left side of the line are both reported to be good. O'Dell played this position last season and is said to be better this year than last, as well as having more experience.

The Breckenridge linemen will have an advantage in weight, ranging from 165 to 195 pounds, while the Bulldogs range from 150 to 184.

The advantage in weight, however, is about made up for by the fact that the Bulldog line has shown in most of the games this season, so the two teams should be about even in this respect when they meet Thursday.

Tiger The Villain Of 'Bring 'Em Back Alive' Frank Buck, author, adventurer and wild animal maestro whose camera record of his own book, "Bring 'Em Back Alive," is the latest screen sensation, claims that the man-eating tiger who is the villain of his jungle drama will make all the hard-working badmen of the movies green with envy when they see him fight his way through the RKO-Radio picture made by the Van Beuren expedition.

This ferocious jungle beast whose sole concern is today's dinner, acts and fights with rare unpublicity men, no assistants and no doubts. He wrote the piece, plays the star part, and directs himself. All his lines are impromptu, with no regard for the cameraman's feelings. During the course of the picture he lists among his adversaries a giant crusher python, a 20-foot crocodile, a nest but not gaudy black panther and a bull water buffalo.

Before he was run down and brought to book by Buck and his assistants he had attempted homicide four times, suicide twice and murder, mayhem and highway robbery too many times to try to keep track of.

"Bring 'Em Back Alive," directed by Clyde E. Elliott, comes to the Lyric theatre, Eastland, on Thursday.

Switzerland Also Has Budget Deficit By United Press. BERNE.—A budgetary deficit of $13,800,000 has been reported to the Swiss Federal Council by the Federal department of Finance and Customs.

The deficit, which, it is stated, wholly is due to the world crisis, shows a decrease of $6,500,000 in customs receipts, and $2,500,000 less on post office receipts, compared with 1931 figures, making a total decrease of $9,000,000. Unforeseen expenses this year reach $7,000,000 more than in 1931, unemployment accounting for $6,000,000; hotel industry, $700,000;

Announces New System of Motor Car Lubrication

Every automobile owner is interested in saving money, yet the average owner spends over $50 per year in needless and preventable repairs. This burden is due to the fact that with motor horsepower more than doubled in the past few years, quick acceleration, speed and hill climbing ability, the various car units have not been properly and regularly cared for.

Free wheel units, improved rear axles, universal joints and 29 more devices, under more severe strains, need to be properly and regularly cared for by modern specialized lubricants which have been especially developed for these units during the past few years.

Just as regular cleaning of the teeth saves teeth, and paint saves what's underneath, so proper lubricants, properly and regularly applied will save that $80, and it will cost far less than $80 a year to completely lubricate the car and change oil at regular intervals.

There is only one right way to lubricate cars and that is the way the car manufacturer directs. Complete manufacturer's instructions for all cars are now available and have stood the test of three years' use throughout the country.

This is the check-chart system of lubrication, which eliminates guesswork in car lubrication, has been announced by C. G. Lucas of the Lucas Service Station in Eastland, agent for Humble Oil & Refining company.

"Nothing is more important in passenger car lubrication than every single lubrication point should receive the proper kind and amount of lubricant at regular intervals," says Mr. Lucas. "Naturally, every attempt is made to see that no lubrication points are overlooked while a car is on the lift or pit. But the number and variety of cars on the road today make it almost impossible to prevent a certain amount of guesswork. Unless a man knows every detail of every car, it is difficult to make sure that nothing has been overlooked—that every fitting and bearing has had attention."

The new system we have just adopted is known as 'Check-Chart'—the Automotive Lubrication Encyclopedia. It practically puts a factory-trained lubrication engineer at the elbow of the man who is going over your car. It points out to him all lubrication points and the kind of lubrication for each one and leaves no room for his possibly making a mistake.

"When your car goes on the lift or pit the operator turns to the chart and checks it with the serial number of the car to insure absolute identification. Then starting with Point No. 1—usually the right front spring bolt—he works right around the car, treating each point in order and missing none."

The charts show the capacities of crankcase, transmission and differential. Even tire inflation pressure and the capacity of the cooling system are plainly indicated on them. Not a single important factor has been overlooked in their preparation."

PARIS STYLES

PARIS.—Dressmakers in this feminine paradise have the agility of the acrobatic chauchon. Overnight they can change not only their colors, but also their sales chatter.

Until recently the couturier's creations were a distinct "de luxe" trade. Only vulgar clients inquired prices, or confessed they knew economy was more than a word of four syllables.

Thus, many women have been urged to buy simple chiffon dinner gowns, with sleeves, a thing unthinkable a year ago. But the couturiers see that the world is, necessarily, in a mood for thrifty simplicity.

The decorations of even the autumn's showings are likely to be conspicuously absent at the mid-winter exhibitions. Plain velvets, even jersey weaves, are now being shown for evening wear.
