Use Of Militia Declared Unconstitutional

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

Friday we received a letter signed "Terrell Coleman" in which an all-district team was picked, and because we had nothing of more interest, or humor, on hand, we ran it.

Now we have received a special delivery letter signed by Terrell, and in a different handwriting, in which he says that "while scanning your column Friday afternoon it was quite humorous to note that someone had picked an all-district team for me."

He goes on to explain that he did not see a district game this season, so was not qualified to choose a team, but that he would more have left off several building players and put on a quarterback with a broken leg "at one of the positions in which he had never played a game."

"In order that the readers of your column may not be deceived, according to the dope, Sweetwater defeated Abilene 20 to 0. So did Ranger. Amarillo defeated Ranger 7 to 0 in the bi-district game and defeated Sweetwater by the same score in the quarter-finals. If Ranger had drawn an easier opponent in the bi-district the Bulldogs might have gone farther in the race than they did."

The fans who selected Masonic Home for state champions have no reason to change their minds as yet, though Amarillo is showing up as one of the strongest teams in the state. The Sandies will play the Masons at Fort Worth this week-end and will still be the favorites to win. Several from Ranger have mentioned that they are going to Fort Worth for the game.

Sweetwater, incidentally, had lots of hopes of being state champions, though few outside Sweetwater had picked them as such. Anyways, the Chamber of Commerce sent out mats of the squad and of several of the players to be used when they got into the finals. We saved them, though we had little hopes of using them.

P. T. A.'S PLAN WILL BENEFIT WARD SCHOOLS

Members of the Cooper and Young Parent-Teachers associations of Ranger are working on a plan, suggested by the Ranger school board, of securing funds for finishing the work of painting, varnishing and plastering in the two schools and at the same time aiding the teachers of the schools to secure cash on their pay warrants.

By soliciting the taxpayers in their sections of the city to buy up teachers pay warrants, with which to pay their school taxes, they will provide funds for the teachers to use during the Christmas holidays and the school board has agreed to use part of the money secured through the efforts of the organizations in buying the warrants from the teachers at face value with which to pay their taxes, the warrants being obtainable in any denomination desired from $1 up.

In commenting on the plan, A. E. Ringold, school tax collector, is not in favor of the plan, but he does not want to get into trouble over it, but we might add that this last letter sounds much more like it might have been written by Terrell than the first, though we thought little of it at the time, though we thought Terrell was a better judge of football players than the letter showed. We know he knows his baseball and should know a great deal about football.

We hope this explanation is satisfactory and can assure all readers that no more "all-district selections" received by us will be filed in the waste basket, where even ours probably belonged.

Sweetwater and Ranger seem to be very evenly matched this year, according to the dope. Sweetwater defeated Abilene 20 to 0. So did Ranger. Amarillo defeated Ranger 7 to 0 in the bi-district game and defeated Sweetwater by the same score in the quarter-finals. If Ranger had drawn an easier opponent in the bi-district the Bulldogs might have gone farther in the race than they did."

The fans who selected Masonic Home for state champions have no reason to change their minds as yet, though Amarillo is showing up as one of the strongest teams in the state. The Sandies will play the Masons at Fort Worth this week-end and will still be the favorites to win. Several from Ranger have mentioned that they are going to Fort Worth for the game.

Dynamite Clears Way for Hoover Dam

With a deafening roar, this titanic blast of dynamite ripped the sides of Boulder Canyon, in Colorado, clearing the way for the gigantic Hoover Dam which is to block the canyon and harness the horsepower of the Colorado river. Note the openings of three of the four diversion tunnels which have been drilled through solid rock from a point above the dam to a point below, to carry the waters of the river while the dam is being built in the dried river bed.

WINTER GRIPS ENTIRE STATE IN ITS GRASP

Bitter weather gripped all of Texas today. Amarillo shivered under a cold wave that carried the temperature to two degrees above zero, but there was some comfort in the thought that at North Platte, Neb., the coldest point on the weather map, the temperature was 22 degrees below zero.

The storm brought suffering and want to hundreds. Dr. J. L. Cline said it would be somewhat colder near the coast tonight. The Panhandle will experience chilly weather tonight.

Temperatures in parts of the state for the past 24 hours were: Abilene a low of 16 degrees and a maximum of 30 degrees; Austin, 26 and 50; Dallas, 18 and 36; El Paso, 36 and 54.

Mystery Cloaks Roamer's Death

A mysterious death ended the equally mysterious life of Walter Wanderwell, above, when companions aboard his schooner "Carma" at Long Beach, Calif., found him slumped over a table of South Sea maps, shot dead through the back. A professional wanderer, Wanderwell's name was revealed by Justice department agents as Johannes Pieczanski, once accused of being a German spy.

AUDITOR SAYS STATE FINANCES IN BAD SHAPE

AUSTIN, Dec. 12.—State Auditor Moore Lynn sent to the printer today a woeful story on state finances. Briefly, he finds that the 43rd legislature will have one-third less money to spend for state departments and institutions than the last legislature.

"A situation is presented," he says, "wherein it is necessary to cut expenses sharply during the next three years, to increase revenues or do both. Half-way measures will not suffice. The situation can be remedied only by bold measures."

The report deals with the state general revenue fund. That fund, he says, faces a prospective deficit of $2,854,171 when the fiscal year ends Aug. 31, 1933, if there is not a cent appropriated by the legislature concerning in January to be spent before next September.

INJUNCTION SUIT GOES TO TRIAL TODAY

AUSTIN, Dec. 12.—Waving aside suggestions for delay, a jury was selected to try former Governor James E. Ferguson's injunction suit against the state highway commission before Judge Carl Runge in 98th district court today.

Attorneys for Ferguson and Attorney James V. Allred both announced their readiness but expressed their eagerness for the trial.

Both sides admitted that a jury may never be used and the case may be decided when Judge Runge rules on the pleadings.

Bad weather was given as the reason for only 28 spectators present in court today. Judge Runge outlined court procedure, picturing himself as the umpire and them as the sole deciders of facts, urging them to disclose any reason why they might not be impartial jurors.

Merchants Made Oil Belt Poultry Show Possible

The merchants of Ranger made it possible for the annual Oil Belt Poultry show, which closed Saturday night, to be held this year at a minimum of expense, it was announced today by Ben Whitehouse, manager of the show.

Although the show cost practically nothing this year compared to exhibits of the past, it was almost as many birds were on display and the standard was higher than ever before, showing an increased interest in thoroughbred poultry in this section of the country.

Held as Killer Of His Father

Gilbert Stuart, above, who killed his father with a rifle in the basement of their Detroit home, was accused by playmates of planning to take the family car and drive to Hollywood, holding up gas stations on the way. His mother, Mrs. Harry R. Stuart, characterized Gilbert, 12, as "a good boy," and backed up his story that the father was shot accidentally while they were examining the rifle. The boy is held by police.

CHIEF JUSTICE HUGHES HANDS DOWN DECISION

Suit Was Brought By Operators in East Texas Field.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Gov. Ross S. Sterling's use of the state militia to enforce his orders restricting production of crude oil in Texas fields in the fall of 1931 today was found by the supreme court, to be unconstitutional use of his executive authority.

The courts opinion was delivered by Chief Justice Hughes. He carefully reviewed Sterling's dramatic entry into the East Texas oil situation and his refusal to "brook interference" there.

While granting the governor of a state may have a wide range of discretion in declaring martial law, the court added "it does not necessarily follow that every activity the governor may take is well supported when taken on mere executive faith."

Sterling called out troops when operators in the rich East Texas field failed to restrict production. On Oct. 31, 1931, Sterling instructed the commanding officer to restrict production to 125 barrels and finally to 100 barrels.

A group of producers, headed by E. Constantin, entered a suit in federal court, claiming the military rule tended to deprive them of their property without due process of law.

DALLAS, Dec. 12.—Luther Nichols, attorney for the plaintiffs in the case where the supreme court ruled martial law in the East Texas oil field was unconstitutional, said today he believed the ruling would end troop rule in the field.

"The executive order, now in force in the field, is the same, with modifications, as that we protested and I see no reason why the decision should not apply to it," he said.

Ranger School Head Praises Work Done on Stadium

The following letter has been received by the committee in charge of the work relief program in Ranger, expressing the appreciation of the aid given the schools and pointing out the need for the work that has been done.

"Gentlemen: Your assistance in securing for the Ranger schools labor for the repair of the grandstand for our football field came in a most opportune time, but for which we would have been in a serious situation in the matter of providing seating capacity for our crowds during recent and future contests.

"This stadium was built mostly of second-hand lumber and erected hurriedly with inadequate foundation and the seven years of service had brought it to a point that it was declared unsafe by architects.

"The assistance given us has provided a good stone foundation for all supports, which will afford safety and accommodations for years to come.

"This letter is to assure of the appreciation of school authorities and athletic committee and friends of athletics for the timely assistance in this matter.

"R. F. HOLLOWAY, Superintendent of Schools."

Millsap Banker Dies of Injuries

WEATHERFORD, Dec. 12.—M. D. Plumlee, 70, Millsap banker, died in a hospital here today from injuries sustained when his automobile was struck by a train at a Millsap grade crossing last week.

He retired last year after 30 years of banking in Parker county, when he told his depositors to come and get their money. "But none came. Nearly three months were required to convince his depositors he was in earnest.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Millsap.

Valley Federation To Meet Tuesday

SAN BENITO, Texas, Dec. 12. The Rio Grande Valley Federation of Women's Clubs will meet Tuesday, Dec. 13, in San Benito with 14 clubs located in and near the city as hostesses. The mid-winter meeting will feature home demonstration club work.

Mrs. Maggie W. Barry, member of the Texas A. & M. college extension service, will be the principal speaker. Others include Dr. Alford Vivian of the University of Wisconsin and Dr. E. E. Seale, president of the Texas College of Arts and Industries.

MASONS TO MEET. All Master Masons are invited to be present this evening at 7:30 at the temple in Eastland where a Master's degree will be conferred. Masons of the neighboring towns are anticipating a great time. Tomorrow evening at the same hour a Master's degree will be conferred in Ranger.

Christmas Cheer Committee Will Meet Wednesday

Due to the illness of W. C. Blackmond, chairman of the Community Welfare committee of Ranger, E. C. Swoveland has been appointed as temporary chairman to take his place.

A meeting has been called for Tuesday night in the offices of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, at 7:30, at which the committees from the Rotary, Lions and Elks clubs, Legion Post, Child Welfare club, all lodges, churches and any individuals interested in the Christmas Cheer fund are urged to be present.

Mrs. Saunders Gregg, who is actively engaged in raising the money to furnish baskets for the poor, has estimated that as many baskets will be needed this year as were filled and delivered last Christmas.

Plans call for a charity ball on Dec. 15 with a tag day to be staged sometime during the week.

The people of the town have been urged to put any toys, food, clothing or other gifts in the baskets provided for this purpose in many of the stores of the city. An effort is being made to provide at least 200 dressed dolls for the poor children of this section, according to Mrs. Gregg.

Semi Finals To Be Played Saturday

HOUSTON, Dec. 12.—The John Reagan-Corsicana High school semi-final football game will be played here Saturday, it was announced today.

The winner will meet either Masonic Home of Fort Worth or Amarillo High school for the state title. The Masonic Home-Amarillo game will be played in Fort Worth Saturday.

Ranger Man Tells Of Being Robbed

Henry Pursor of Ranger was hijacked last week, but said nothing about it until today when it came out in a conversation with friends.

According to Pursor's story, he was riding between Lubbock and Lorena when he noticed a car ahead of him that had stopped. He slowed up to pass the car and a man jumped on the running board and ordered him to "Stick 'em up," which he did.

The highwayman relieved him of $168 in cash and ordered his victim on his way.

Broadway America Clubs Are Urged

J. H. Greene, secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, has written to the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, suggesting that W. D. Conway aid in organizing Broadway of America clubs in Cisco, Eastland and Ranger.

Several of these clubs have been formed throughout the state and Mr. Greene has recently completed a trip over the entire length of the highway through Texas establishing these clubs. The letter says that he can be present to perfect the organizations in Eastland county if his services are desired.

Women Protest Legalized Beer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Members of the Women's National Committee for Law-Enforcement raised their voice in the halls of congress today to denounce legalization of beer as a measure which would bring widespread drunkenness in its wake, imperil their children and enrich the brewers at the expense of the nation's moral and economic welfare.

The witnesses, led by Mrs. H. W. Peabody, claimed to represent 10,000,000 organized women.

Fireman Killed In Truck Crash

FORT WORTH, Dec. 12.—Fireman Lee Payne, 36, was fatally injured and Fireman C. T. Hicks, 26, painfully hurt when a fire truck skidded into a telephone pole here today.

Payne died in a hospital. He suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries when he and Hicks were moved from the rear step of the truck as it swung against the pole.

Chains on the rear wheels caught in street car rails at a street intersection and caused the crash, believed W. E. Dinkens, driver of the truck.

BICYCLES BECOME POPULAR

STOCKHOLM, Sweden.—More people rode on bicycles in Stockholm this year and fewer traveled in private automobiles than during the year before, statistics show. It's a sign of the depression, say the city officials.

Wets Considering Texas Liquor Laws At Dallas Meeting

HOUSTON, Dec. 12.—Three proposals aimed at the Texas liquor laws were considered today, at a called meeting of the liquor control plan sub-committee of the Texas Federation of Anti-Prohibition clubs, at Austin.

The meeting was called by Chairman John M. Mathis Sr. The meeting will be held at the Driskill hotel.

The members will consider a bill to amend the Dean law, a proposed amendment to the prohibition section of the state constitution, and a plan whereby beverage alcohol may be manufactured and sold in Texas under strict state regulation.

The sub-committee members who are expected to attend include state Senator W. K. Hopkins of Lavaca and Archie Parr of Lavaca and a number of state representatives.

Turkeys Will Be Given Away By Ranger Merchants

Several of the merchants of Ranger have made it possible for nine or ten families in this section of the country to have turkey for their Christmas dinners, as a number are to be released in Ranger Wednesday afternoon, and those who catch them can be assured of meat on the table Christmas.

Chief of Police Jim Ingram has agreed to cooperate with the merchants in handling the distribution of the turkeys by having his men on duty so that traffic can be handled and the safety of those trying to catch the birds assured.

Fire Chief G. A. Murphy has volunteered his services and will aid in the distribution.

RAILROADS DEMAND TAX RELIEF

There is a lame duck congress grinding out its last session. According to a Washington correspondent a new and shrill voice has been raised against taxes. It comes from the railroads. Indeed, the president of the New York Central has presented figures designed to show that the tax burden was one of the principal troubles now throttling the roads.

One of the most outstanding rail executives declared gross earnings fell off nearly one third but taxes continued at substantially the same level. He submitted figures to show the roads are paying out about 50 cents of every dollar of net operating income in taxes before they begin to pay interest on bonds, or meet other fixed charges.

WHERE JUDGES BANNED FARM FORECLOSURES

Nebraska is the home state of Senator George W. Norris who is responsible for the 20th amendment to the constitution, forever knocking lame duck presidents and lame duck lawmakers out of the picture.

THEODORE H. PRICE AS A PROPHET

Theodore H. Price is well known to the cotton growers of the South. He is internationally known wherever the cotton industry has a toe-hold. This is his latest: "Even the pessimist must admit that civilization is not going to be destroyed and most of the markes show a resiliency which confirms this statement."

The craze for speed seems to have all America in its grip. Many youthful motorists tear along the roads in an effort to pass some car ahead just to feel the thrill of speed in passing.

The Giant Surveys His Work

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

India has developed into banner headlines within the last few years since she has produced something even more exciting than her proverbial riches: namely, the little dark man with the big heart for a struggling nation, Gandhi!

Is it not interesting, then, that today marks the 21st birthday of the capital city of India, Delhi? In 1911 the capital was moved from Calcutta to the city of romance where it now stands.

The Boston Transcript gave to us, many years ago, the clever idea that men are like tea—their real strength isn't drawn out until they get into hot water.

Girls talk about most everything. They dwell at length upon the philosophy of life, the peculiarities of man, the mysteries of death.

Hit Show Scores Written in Houston

HOUSTON.—"Of Thee I Sing," the musical satire on politics, has won a Pulitzer prize but few people know its words and music were written in a Houston hotel room.

The fact has just come to light that the brothers, Gershwin, George and Ira, spent the summer of 1931 here, with their presence known only to three or four people who carefully guarded the secret.

However, even their relatives did not know they were here at that time. Mrs. Harry Greenfield, a distant cousin, recently received a letter from George in which he revealed all and apologized.

And college girls, the same inquiry shows, are heavier than their progenitors. Which may induce the sweet young things of the coming generation to alter their views toward mind and body.

HERE-- AND THERE

Zip: Hurray! A long, steep, listening snow packed hillside, a bob-sled, and a crowd of merry youngsters, red-mitted, wearing mufflers and wool caps, crowded, signing and piling on the long sleds, sitting astride, their heels sticking straight out and their arms around the waist of the boy or girl in front.

When the Icelandic Jokull erupted, no fumes ruined 100 miles away. A custom of plant was as curious as cloak, and on his heels. He always roasts wherever he is, never molting. He died in 1847.

TONNEY DUTCHER machine in the campaign may have changed the situation. It didn't run much better than the state than Philadelphia—a year far better than any other candidate. Poll, incidentally, ania to Hoover, but much more wide.

Iowa's Corn Crop Overflows

Iowa's record corn crop of 540,000,000 bushels has filled all elevator space and immense stocks are being stored in open cribs, great piles held together by wires. Six thousand bushels are piled up on the farm of R. R. Fairchild near Rembrandt, Iowa, as shown here. Many farmers will use corn for fuel in view of the great crop and low prices.

Magnificent Music By Visiting Choir

There was a gratifying attendance at the Sunday evening service of the Methodist Church, presented in musical form by the De Leon Methodist Church choir, in the magnificent cantata wonderfully given in a 50 minute rendition, without break in continuity.

The choir was in vestments and presented a dignified and uniform appearance in keeping with their precision in response to the leaders' baton.

The cantata, "King All Glorious," was thrilling in intensity and the climaxed chorus, a gloriously exciting finale.

A social hour followed the service, and church friends and members met the honor guests in the senior classroom of the Methodist Church, where they were received by Mmes. L. A. Cook, H. O. Satterwhite, May Harrison, W. E. Stalter, F. O. Hunter, E. M. Collie, June Kimble and the president of the hostess choir, Mrs. J. M. Perkins.

Refreshments of coffee, cakes, nuts and mints were served from a tea table, centered with mums and foliage.

Christmas Card Styles Change

By United Press.
NEW YORK.—Shades of Yuletide! What has happened to the Spirit of Christmas?
 Gone are the days when a tasteful spray of holly, or maybe even a daring bits of mistletoe, were considered the seasonal symbols for greeting cards. This year everything from a tea-cup to a cuckoo-clock and from a high hat to a coffee percolator appear with nonchalant assurance of their appropriateness. And of course with sentiments to match. For instance, the aforesaid topper announces: "Here's one that's no slouch—Merry Christmas" and the familiar breakfast utensil insists that it is "Still percolating the same good wishes."

The present vogue of cards to suit the individual recipient largely is responsible. Many of them accordingly reflect young—and older—America's fondness for sport. A pair of gold-hose terefers, presents "A couple of wishes you won't have to change—Merry Christmas, Happy New Year." A football cheer-leader with exaggerated megaphone, a ski-jumper, or a bob-sled team, a yacht skidding before the breeze all present characteristic greetings.

Then, too, various hobbies each have their special cards. A perfect hand for contract bridge explains that its good wishes are "A good deal." Or if you are sending your seasonal message to the sort of person who prefers to suspend his evenings at home by the family radio, there are appropriate cards for that too "with permission of the copyright owner."

The so-called depression is doing things to the 1932 Christmas cards too. A stock-ticker may not be exactly what a lot of people think of as a bearer of good tidings, but it's different when it appears on a Christmas booklet appropriately wreathed in holly and promises that it will "never be caught short on wishing you a Merry Christmas."

Don't be surprised either if you get a few Dec. 25th missives printed on what looks like wrapping paper or wall-paper or even an old paper bag that somebody brought home from the store. Those, my child, are the "make-shift" cards which are articularly smart this season, and along with them go a second group of "depression cards," more elaborate, which appeal to the sense of humor with clever line-drawings and thumb-nail sketches.

spot is that something finally has been and is being done to erase them.

In outline, here is what has happened in Chicago in recent months:

The United States government crushed the power of gangdom with income tax prosecutions, sending Al Capone and many other leaders to prison.

The state's attorney, the police and the "Secret Six" have largely broken the hold of racketeers on labor unions and industry.

The tax strike has begun to collapse and money is going into the city coffers.

Chicago Citizens See Improvement of City Conditions

Sanitary district board officials were convicted of $5,000,000 graft.

Buildings rise at the Century of Progress exposition despite hard times.

Gang killings diminish in number and the machine gun has virtually disappeared as a gangster weapon.

A "new deal" is promised for the whole state by the victorious democrats, with a tax reform administration expected under Judge Henry Horner when he becomes governor.

Brisker retail trade and appropriation by manufacturers in the Chicago area of more than $1,500,000 for new machinery and equipment.

Dawn of a new sense of well-being and security and rebirth of confidence.

Mayor Anton J. Cermak has been in the forefront in bringing these changes to pass. He has found time to campaign for his party, to make numerous trips to Washington urging loans by the reconstruction finance corporation to tide the destitute over until business gets back to normal, to address special sessions of the state legislature on Chicago's needs, to visit New York bankers as a salesman for tax warrants and to work shoulder to shoulder with business leaders in solving the city's problems.

Mayor Cermak also went to Europe for a rest and vacation. He spread the word of the new Chicago in scores of old world cities.

"We have been able to accomplish a lot but there remains much to be done," the mayor said today. "But with the sort of spirit inborn in Chicagoans, we'll make this the finest, safest, biggest and richest city in the world."

Fortune Won and Lost Each Hour At Monte Carlo

By RALPH HEINZEN, United Press Staff Correspondent.
MONTE CARLO.—Every hour of the day and night for the last 60 years since Monte Carlo became popular, a fortune has been made hourly for some lucky gambler and another fortune swept over into the croupiers' laps.

Monte Carlo has made thousands of millionaires, just as it today is blamed for the ruin of thousands. It is an economic fact that for 60 years, Monte Carlo has kept in princely luxury a royal family, a whole army of soldiers and another army of croupiers, secret police and hotel workers.

No phrase in gambling history rings as attractively as the song of the "Man Who Broke the Bank of Monte Carlo," but the historic fact remains that while the bank has been bent on several occasions and croupiers have been obliged to send a hurry call for more funds, Monte Carlo never has been broken.

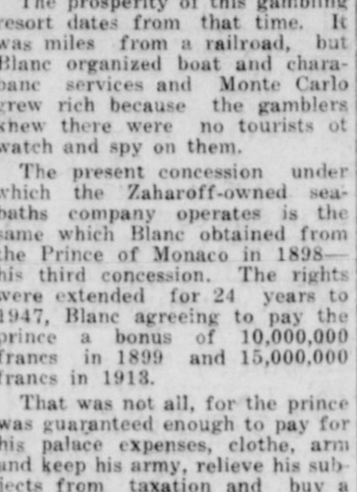

On the contrary, good year and bad year, Monte Carlo's green tables have returned to the directors of the Societe des Bains de Mer de Monte Carlo (Monte Carlo Sea Baths company) yearly profits of from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000. At the present time, the recipient of that flood of gold is Sir Basil Zaharoff, already one of the five richest men in the world.

Sir Basil merely is a profiteer. The real genius of Monte Carlo was a one-time Paris cafe waiter.

Before Francois Blanc, after a short but profitable experience as a gambling house keeper at Homburg, came to Monte Carlo to bring fame and fortune, this rock was barren, not even olive trees would grow there, and the principality of Monaco was feeling the pangs of hard times and an empty treasury.

Monte Carlo then was only the Rock of Spelgues. Five Frenchmen had tried to operate a gambling concession on the rock before Francois Blanc came; the adventurers, Albert and Langlois, Frosard de Jilbourne, a Parisian named Duval and his acquaintance, Lefevre, Blanc, fearing to be driven from Homburg by the approaching Franco-Prussian war, bought the Monte Carlo concession from Lefevre for 1,700,000 francs. That was in 1863.

The prosperity of this gambling resort dates from that time. It was miles from a railroad, but Blanc organized boat and charabanc services and Monte Carlo grew rich because the gamblers knew there were no tourists of watch and spy on them.

The present concession under which the Zaharoff-owned seabaths company operates is the same which Blanc obtained from the Prince of Monaco in 1808—his third concession. The rights were extended for 24 years to 1947, Blanc agreeing to pay the prince a bonus of 10,000,000 francs in 1899 and 15,000,000 francs in 1913.

That was not all, for the prince was guaranteed enough to pay for his palace expenses, clothe, arm and keep his army, relieve his subjects from taxation and buy a yacht. The annual subsidy was raised to 70,000 pounds sterling in 1907; 80,000 pounds in 1917; 90,000 in 1927 and in 1937 it will be raised to 100,000 pounds annually.

There have been black Mondays in the casino's history. One of the most remarkable black days in all gambling history was March 15, 1891. Three Italian noblemen sat down to play "trente-et-quarante" and the losses for the casino that day totaled 1,000,000 francs. The news created a panic, but the bank was not broken. Within a week, the casino had the million and 250,000 francs more back.

It was that same year, three months later, in June, 1891, when the most famous breaking of the bank of Monte Carlo occurred. A lucky little Britisher, Charles Wells, became a hero overnight by the feat and he was the gambler referred to in the song about "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo."

According to all laws of mathematics, Wells should have lost. He did just the contrary; he could do nothing wrong and won every time. When he lost at roulette, he went to the 30-40 tables and won back his stake. In one afternoon he broke the bank 12 times. Breaking the bank consisted of winning all the money the croupier had.

Wells bragged and boasted, his bravado was a rare feat. He announced to all and sundry that he was going to break the bank again the next day within an hour. It took him just a half hour at roulette, for nothing he did could lose. Men and women followed him around and flung fistfuls of money on the tables to cover the same number, or the same color, he chose, so that when he won 100,000 francs his followers won perhaps 20 times that much and the poor croupiers groaned as the bank went broke time after time.

Wells left in 1891 with his pockets and trunks lined with gold. He came back in 1892 with a steam yacht, "Palais Royale," fitted with a golden ballroom and silver bathtub. Five peers and their wives were on board; so were two American millionaires; a dozen French stage beauties.

That was still in the days of the Franco-Zaharoff came along during the war when the Blanc heirs needed money. The casino was closed for a year and a half during the war so Zaharoff had no trouble buying it for a very tiny sum—something like 250,000,000 francs. Today he owns controlling interest.

PARIS STYLES

By United Press.
PARIS.—Princess Murat, the daughter of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, has chosen one of the most charming of the Chanel velvet day models, in beige and bluish gray check simply made with a little turn down collar, high to the throat and a straight skirt with narrow knife pleating giving the necessary fullness at the hem.

The Duckess d'Albe has placed an extensive order with Mademoiselle Chanel including not only dresses and ensembles, but also the little hats and fur toques that are shown with the different models. She has a handsome afternoon coat in black-cloth with a wide lei collar of silver fox and fox edging the wide gantlet cuffs that reach the elbow. She also has an afternoon ensemble in mulberry red trimmed with sable and a brown crepe dress matching the fur.

Mrs. John Marriott, the attractive daughter of Otto Kahn, looked extremely smart when she was wearing an ensemble in brown cloth, with collar cuffs and pocket edges of leopard and wears with it a little leopard toque.

Beware of Colds NOW!

With Flu in the Air Colds are Doubly Dangerous

Colds—always treacherous—are doubly dangerous now, with flu reported in many sections. They lower body strength and pave the way for flu and all its serious complications. Heed even the slightest sniffle as a danger signal. It's no time to take chances.

The safest course to follow is that outlined in Vicks Plan for better Control-of-Colds. In clinical tests last winter, Vicks Plan reduced the number and spread of colds by half!—cut their dangers and costs more than half! Full details of the plan are in each Vicks package. Briefly, it is this:

TO PREVENT MANY COLDS: At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming—use Vicks Nose & Throat Drops, the new aid in preventing colds. Vicks Drops aid Nature in throwing off the infection that threatens. They prevent development of many colds.

TO END A COLD SOONER: If a cold has developed or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. At bedtime, apply Vicks VapoRub. Its direct double action—continuing through the night—brings quicker relief. During the day, use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed. They add to comfort—help shorten the cold.

Follow VICKS PLAN for Better CONTROL of Colds

In order to reduce the meat bill, it is not satisfactory to do entirely without meat, but rather to use it in clever combinations with less expensive foods.

Vegetables will become more palatable and satisfying because they have a meat flavor. Lamb and pea stew with dumplings is an example of an appetizing nourishing dish.

Lamb and Pea Stew
 One pound lamb flank 2 cups dried peas, 1 cup sliced onion, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 8 cups boiling water.

Soak peas in cold water to cover over night. Drain and parboil. Remove excess fat from meat and cut meat in neat pieces suitable for serving. Try out fat in a frying pan and brown meat and onions in fat. Put into kettle with peas and boiling water and simmer for two hours, adding salt and pepper at the end of the first hour. Replenish water as it is needed to keep about two quarts. Fifteen minutes before ready to serve drop dumplings over top, cover closely and steam. Serve at once.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Stewed dried apricots, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Macaroni baked with cheese, whole wheat and raisin rolls, pear salad, coconut cookies, milk, tea.
DINNER: Boned a and stewed breast of veal, baked squashed creamed oyster plant, head lettuce with Roquefort cheese dressing, raisin puffs, milk, coffee.

water. Boil five minutes and drain. When cool enough to handle pull leaves apart and put 1 tablespoon of meat mixture into each leaf. Roll and fasten with a wooden toothpick or tie with a soft cord. Arrange in a buttered baking dish and pour over tomatoes seasoned with 1 teaspoon sugar, salt, pepper and onion finely minced. Bake one hour in a hot oven. Serve from baking dish.

Breast of veal can be boned and stuffed with a well seasoned bread stuffing. The bones should be used to make stock for gravy to serve with the meat and stuffing.
