Eye Protection In Class Rooms Is Being Urged

HOUSTON—What may be the first step toward a Texas law to require safety eye protection in school laboratories was taken Friday at a meeting in Houston of the executive committee of the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

The group unanimously passed a resolution that the State Legislature should enact a law to "require eye protection for teachers and students in all public school classes in industries and chemical-physical laboratories."

The Society has asked State Senator Criss Cole, general chairman of the Texas SPB, to introduce such a bill when the legislature convenes in January next year.

Roman Boerger, Dallas, president of the Texas SPB, said that mishaps in school labs and shops ruin many young eyes every year.

"Just as with a worker in an industrial laboratory," Mr. Boerger said, "the difference between blindness and sight for a youth can simply mean the wearing of safety goggles or glasses made with safety lenses in the school lab or workshop."

The proposed bill would be patterned after one recently passed by the state of Ohio, Sen. Cole said.

Support for the bill also will be enlisted from other groups such as the American Legion, Texas Safety Assn., and the Gulf Coast Chapter of American Safety Engineers, Mr. Boerger said.

Big Water Well Drilled on King Land at Sabanno

A water well, believed to be one of the strongest ever drilled in this region, was completed by Horace King at his 427-acre place, 12 miles south of Cisco recently.

Three days of checking revealed the well to have a potential of between 300 and 400 gallons per minute. It is bottomed at 39 feet.

Mr. King has two other wells near by, capable of yielding a total of 150 gallons per minute. Irrigation equipment was being installed Monday morning to water Costal Bermuda, planted earlier this year.

Oscar Schaefer was completing Monday another well, just south of King's place, which promised to be exceptionally strong. It was said to be slightly deeper and will be utilized for irrigation.

C. W. Richter, whose land joins the Schaefer tract on the southeast, plans to test the water strata at his place with the thought of possibly putting in irrigation.

The recent water strikes are just north of the Cowan Hutson farm, much of which has been under irrigation several years.

King land is that which was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. W. T. (Dub) McClure about 12 years ago. The Kings are presently making their home at the old Jess Moore place west of Cross Plains, however, they plan to move to the acreage a mile and one-half east of Sabanno, later this year.

VISITS SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lusk had as their guest Saturday his sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Murphy of Spur and their daughter, Mrs. Wally Scheliter and sons, Bob and Brent of Denver, Colorado.

They all visited in Gorman Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Lee Underwood, a sister.

Shrimp spawn offshore and the young ones must find their way into the sheltered, less salty bay waters or they perish.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hargus of Port Arthur, former residents of Eastland, visited his sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hardeman, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boles and his brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hargus, over the weekend.

A Look at Tasmania

By JOSEPH PERKINS

Tasmania is the large island state of Australia and lies off the southeast coast. To get here we left Melbourne on the ship "Princess of Tasmania" at 7:30 p.m. and arrived at Devonport on Tasmania's north shore at 10 a.m. the next day. The trip across the Bass Strait was smooth and the ship is only five years old and is an excellent one. Although she is one fifth the size of the Matson Lines Monterey she carries about the same number of passengers and also some autos and trucks. She is known by the Tasmanian folks as the "roll, on, roll off".

An hour after we docked we boarded the narrow-gauge train "Tasman Limited" for Launceston. The ticket agent at Devonport is a sixteen year old boy, and we noticed that many of the railroad station employees were very youthful. The trip on the "Tasman Limited" was very slow but comfortable with tea and scones served by a uniformed hostess. We found Tasmania to be a tranquil country of green hills and valleys well stocked with sheep and cattle. In one pasture sheep had congregated in a corner and were so close together that I am tempted to say that several acres were paved with sheep. We saw many comfortable looking farmhouses, and many of the farmers have improved their pastures by seeding with grass. These were easily identified as they were a bright green in color. Land clearing in Tasmania is a lot more difficult than in Texas as most of the uncleared areas are heavily forested with trees up to two feet in diameter. Farm houses and homes in villages and small towns have many fireplaces which burn wood.

AIRMEN VISIT

A2-c Don T. Wilson and a friend, A2-c Jim Drummond flew from Hill AFB, Utah to have Father's Day dinner with Don's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wilson, 606 S. Dixie St. They returned to Utah Monday morning.

Mrs. Mae Green of Carbon was also a guest in the Wilson home.

FROM RISING STAR

Mr. and Mrs. George Prestridge had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Carroll of Rising Star.

This morning's paper said that near the coast of Tasmania twenty-three whaling ships of the Russian Whaling Fleet are catching whales. Two of the ships are large "mother ships" which cook and process the captured whales. The rest are small "chasers" that kill the whales and tow them to the "mother ships".

From time to time we have seen some unusually big crows and we have been told that there is a bounty of one shilling paid on their heads. They molest young lambs, and they also pick up golf balls on golf courses and fly a way with them. They are quite unpopular!

Arriving at Hobart, the capital city of Tasmania state, we found a fine modern hotel overlooking the harbor, and were lodged in a comfortable room with a fine view of the water. This is the apple season in Tasmania and throughout the day and night truckloads of apples in bushel boxes arrive at Hobart's docks where they are hoisted into the many ships that will carry them to England and the Continent. We drove out into apple orchard country and instead of tall trees that we find in America the trees here are all so low that the entire crop of apples can be picked from the ground! The trees bear heavily and low branches are propped up with poles.

The apple crop this year Tasmania is estimated to be seven million bushels, most of which will be exported.

Standing Experts Appear on Program Sheep & Goat Event

The second annual action-packed Ranger Rodeo will be unreeled here in the Jaycees' arena, U. S. Highway 80 west, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 9-10-11.

Ranger Rodeo Set to Go, Jaycees Say; It'll Be Action, Thrills Aplenty

Arrangements for the stellar three-day thriller have been completed, Doyle Gertry, president of the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced Friday night. Advance ticket sales, he said, indicate that attendance is likely to top the record-setting 1963 rodeo, the first staged here since 1955.

competition opens with a gala parade in downtown Ranger Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Hundreds of visitors are expected to swarm into the city to watch the procession which will feature several sheriffs' posses, riding club groups, and commercial floats and displays.

special acts in today's increasingly popular rodeo sport will be a highlight of the three nightly performances. It'll be a pair of fabulous, mirth-provoking monkeys aboard sheep dogs — rounding up goats. The monkeys, natively attired in genuine cowboy regalia, ride the dogs in miniature saddles just like a horse.

ling, bronc riding, bull riding, team roping and cowgirls' barrel races. And, of course, there'll be added hilarity and excitement from the antics of rodeo clowns. A boys' calf scramble is another popular feature of the 1964 show.

Some of the toughest, wildest rodeo stock in the Southwest will challenge the talents and skills of plucky cowboy contestants, and the Jaycee arena spectators will see plenty of dust as the turf gets scarred by flashing hooves. Owner of the string is Lloyd Woodley, producer, who has been providing action and thrills for avid rodeo fans for 15 years.

MOTORISTS ARE ASKED FOR HELP IN HOLIDAY TRAFFIC

MIDLAND — Major Leo E. Gossett, commander of the 49 county, Midland region of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has asked each individual motorist for their sincere help to save their own life as well as the lives of the "other fellow" this July 4th weekend.

"Operation Motorcade" will begin at 12:01 a.m. Friday, July 3, and end at 11:59 p.m. Sunday, July 5. It has been estimated that during this three day period 32 persons will lose their lives in traffic accidents in Texas. "This is only an estimate," explained Major Gossett, "and with the aid of every person that drives, or walks, we can come well under this estimate."

"Our accident statistics in region 4, as well as statewide show that over 50% of the fatal accidents are one vehicle accidents. Our records also show that in almost every fatal accident, there was one or more violations of the law. The leading violations were: Speed to fast for conditions, driving while drinking and wrong side of the road. Fatigue also is a big contributing factor to our accident picture," stated Major Gossett. The Highway Patrol Service will be strengthened by the License & Weight Service and the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service in an effort to keep the estimated deaths from occurring.

In 1963, there were 2,729 people killed in Texas traffic accidents; this was the worst year ever recorded in Texas traffic history. Compared with the same period in 1963, we have a 15% increase in deaths and we will probably have over 3,000 persons killed in Texas by the end of the year if we do not turn the trend downward.

Major Gossett stated, "If each individual would make his or her driving a personal responsibility we could reduce the estimated deaths for this period and save many lives throughout the year."

Ranger Oil Boom Museum Due Widespread Support

(Editor's Note — Ranger's proposed oil museum was acclaimed in an editorial which appeared in the Thursday morning edition of The Abilene Reporter-News. The editorial, prominently displayed, is a big boost for this civic project which is receiving publicity all over the Southwest. The complete text is reprinted below.)

Ranger is more than an historic city. It also embraces some bold ambition, as demonstrated by its latest project.

The Ranger people have set out to establish an oil museum.

Ranger citizens and their Chamber of Commerce hope eventually to reconstruct the Ranger of boom days.

W. T. Eaton, Chamber of Commerce president, has issued an appeal for donations of any kind to start an oil museum in Ranger.

The Ranger people seek any relics or pictures of the Ranger oil boom days, oil field relics, oil field equipment of every description, regardless of size or location.

This is a most appropriate project for Ranger, and it might be added, a very large order. But if the goals are realized, the results will be amply worth the efforts.

This is more than a commendable project calling for the backing of Ranger's own people, which it doubtless will have.

It also deserves widespread support throughout this area, from the surviving old timers of the Ranger boom days, and from the oil industry at large.

Ranger produced one of the epochal oil booms of all times in Texas, exceeded in significance only by the discovery of Spindletop field which launched Texas as an oil state, and possibly by the vast East Texas boom of 1931-32.

Oil was discovered at Ranger in 1917. The result was immediate, dramatic and wild beyond belief. To read of it now would seem to the present generation to be unreal fiction.

The oil museum idea deserves support because it has the possibility of creating a magnificent tourist attraction for this area and for Texas.

But more importantly, the museum would preserve a priceless chapter of oil industry history.

We only hope that the thought and the effort are not one or two decades too late. Perhaps they are not. There are still some living who participated in the boom as drillers, roughnecks, operators, lease holders, royalty owners, and just as spectator residents of Ranger and the area. Their first generation descendants are still here in bountiful number.

And there are many memorabilia in the hands of these and other people.

Interested individuals and towns throughout this area should join wholehearted support with Ranger in creating this museum, and helping to do it right.

McCREIGHT WELL SETS PIPE AS GOOD GASSER PROSPECT

Pipe was cemented Sunday in the E. V. McCright No. 1 R. S. Lee et al, a wildcat oil test three miles east of Cisco, with prospects good for completion as a substantial gas well, according to reports today.

The hole was carried to 4,006 through the Mississippian into the Ellenberger formations. Reports said there was no show in testing below the big gas show in the Ranger sand at 3,620 feet. The gas test had surface gas in less than a minute with flow estimated at some ten million cubic feet per day.

McCright, a Dallas operator, has several hundred acres under lease in the area of the well and observers believed that further development was a good possibility.

Location as in Section 63, Block 4, H&TC Survey.
