PERILS OF CONSCRIPTION. The dangerous violence now under way in China puts a new emphasis on the old question of the limitation of armaments.

Japan, throwing a highly-trained and exceedingly capable conscript army into the fray, proves once more that treaties to avert war are not of much use as long as no limits are put on the size of the armies which the signatory nations can maintain.

Furthermore, the chief villain in the piece seems to be conscription—compulsory military service for all young men. The device that the French invented after the fall of the Bastille, when the "levy en masse" appeared the only possible way of preserving the revolution from the armies of jealous European monarchs, has got entirely out of hand.

There is the situation that is made to order for the militarist. No sabre-rattling government will be ready to listen to reason as long as it possesses a large trained army reserve ready for instant service.

Bi-metalism, now being widely advocated after a long period in which it dropped from sight, is certainly not a principle to be adopted blindly. But it does seem worthy of intelligent analysis.

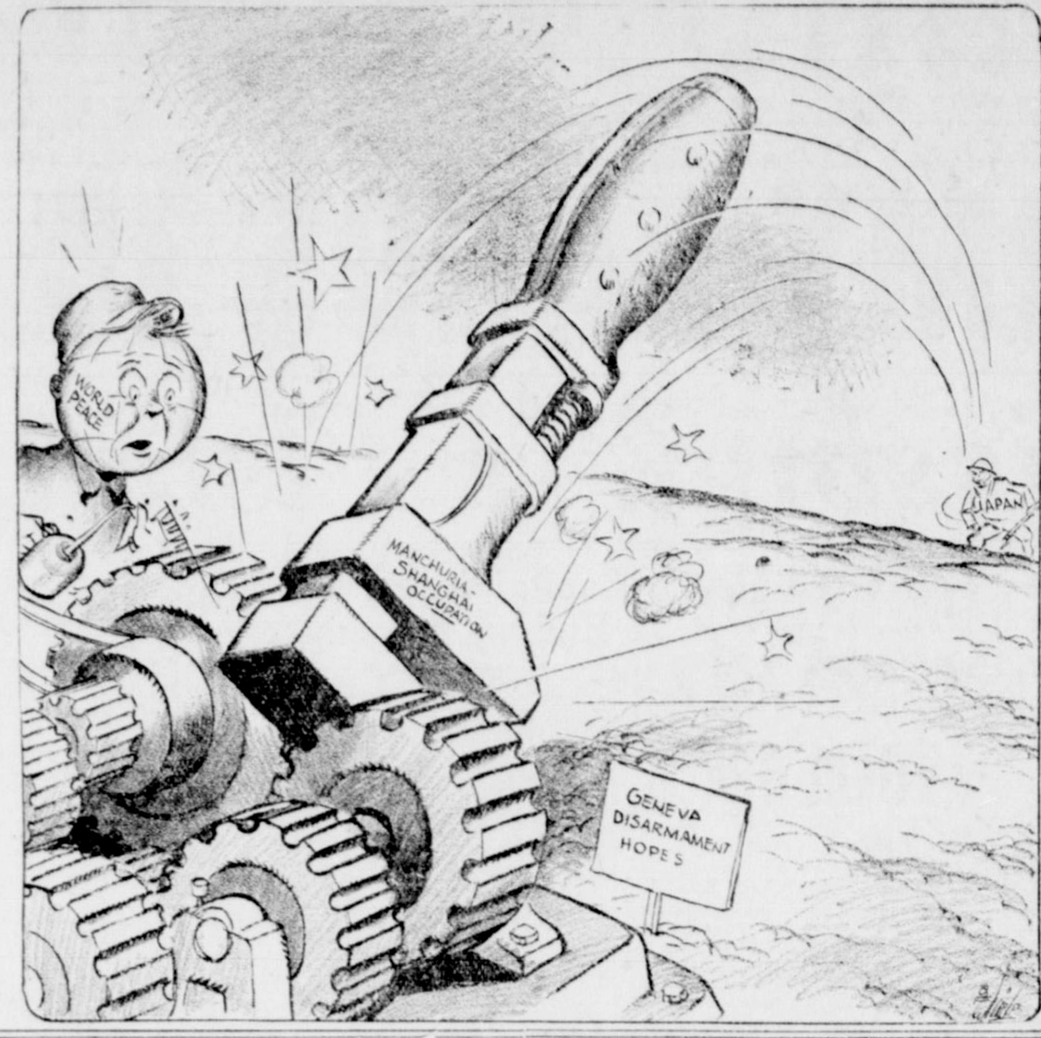

Writing in The Mining Journal, J. D. Fisher, an engineer of Colorado, advocates a silver and gold ratio of 20 to 1, and says that "no other single corrective step could be taken which could be as universally beneficial."

It is generally agreed that the depressed price of silver has been a vital factor in prolonging and intensifying, on an international scale, the general industrial depression.

Metal mining means so much to many of our states that legitimate and practical encouragement of it affects the very stability of our nation.

Two main events—one in wrestling and one in boxing—will feature the Elks athletic show on Monday night, Feb. 8, to be held at the Elks' gymnasium on Main street.

BANQUET FOR LEGION POST IS PLANNED

At the regular meeting of the Carl Barnes post of the American Legion, held at Legion hall Thursday night, plans for the annual American Legion-George Washington banquet were discussed.

V. Earl Esp, state commander, will be one of the principal speakers at the banquet and has accepted the invitation to be present and deliver an address.

M. J. Benefield, executive committee member on the seventeenth district, will be on the program, also, and will deliver an address.

Robert O. Whitaker, department adjutant for the state of Texas, has been wired an invitation to be present at the banquet.

Bronze Statue of Common Man Offered to Abbey

WILKES-BARRE, Pa.—John J. (Butch) McDevitt, the "millionaire for a day," plans to take a bronze statue of the common man, the fellow who has failed to reach the peak, to England for presentation to Westminster Abbey.

McDevitt proposed that the statue be placed side by side with the sculptured representations of "other great men."

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

Yesterday we got a hair cut. Not that it means anything, but while we were in the barber chair Coach Eck Curtis walked in and sat down in the shine chair.

"That's nice. How are the boys looking by now?" we parried. "Fine. But that new uniform is a honey. All maroon. Even the pants. You ought to see them. They are just what I have been wanting ever since I've been here."

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON—It usually turns out to be something of a mistake when you tread on the toes of Senator Carter Glass of Virginia.

Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde may have better luck than others before he and Glass finish their exchanges of hard words about each other and the post-war government loans to Europe when Glass was secretary of the treasury.

SENATOR GLASS closed the argument, insofar as he was concerned, with certain quotations from Henry Arthur Jones which could not be interpreted as meaning anything except that Mr. Hyde's head was only a turnip.

But Glass, a fiery little fighting cock at the age of 74, not only hurls all the harpoons of oratory. He tosses on facts, figures and photostatic copies to make them stick.

McDevitt originally offered the statue to the directors of the Congressional Museum at Washington, but it was refused. It met like rejection elsewhere.

From the Office of the County Agent and Home Demonstration Agent

During the early part of this month, Irish potatoes, spinach, lettuce, onion sets, turnip, English peas, cabbage, bush beans, beets and radishes may be planted.

Some have trouble with potato Scab. This may be controlled by dipping your seed potatoes before they are cut in a solution of 1 part formalin (40 per cent formaldehyde) to 20 gallons of water, for two hours.

When spinach becomes stony and tough, you have planted too much seed and allowed the plants to remain too thick on the ground.

Onion seed are slow in developing into plants and if the growing season is unfavorable the onions will be small.

Bush beans should be planted thick and not thinned. Leave the plants 18 inches apart in rows eighteen inches apart.

It has been developed that the dry atmosphere which exists here in the winter gives us under natural conditions just what the curing plant is designed to produce in humid climates.
