TEXAS OPPORTUNITIES

Two public works plans promise much relief employment in Texas for their launching, and much continued work toward rehabilitation in their fulfillment.

The national government is now studying the establishment of something like 100,000 men in the forest camps in southern states during the winter. This will mean moving some of the camps and their enlisted personnel, and the recruiting of a new series of camp corps.

This work will, in theory, turn the interests of thousands of young men to outdoor work, and afford training to permit these men to find future work.

The other step is the well-defnied plan of the federal and state governments to establish not less than 12 farm colonies in Texas as the first step of returning misfit, jobless, marginal industrial workers back to the land.

This colonization would set from 1800 to 3000 families whose jobless heads have no prospect of work in skilled labor classifications, upon small farm tracts, furnish them with homes, implements, farm animals, and furnish community facilities and equipment to make life in the colonies attractive. Land rent would be out of produce only; tenure would be as long as the family would live on prac- training call Sept. 11, face one of tically free land.

In numbers initially, the colonization plan would not greatly reduce the huge throng of unemployed in the cities tlefield and towns; but over a longer period, it permanently would take out of the relief rolls many of the most hopeless misfits in industry, and set up dependent families upon a permanent independent basis.

Austin, Palacios, the lower Rio Grande Valley and other sections are planning toward the acquisition of these farm colonies, as part of the rehabilitation work possible to the state out of its relief and rehabilitation money, and definitely a part of federal government planning.

The forest camps have proved their merit. Many hundreds of youths who got training in the first group are finding private employment. Others will attend a second begin their stampede for Southcamp, and new recruits will be added. That the camps can be operated through the winter in Texas and the South is important, in promising to ease over the unemployment games follow on succeeding weeksituation; and is more promising in finding adequate occupation, and suitable training to youths, who otherwise idle and a problem for the communities, will find the salutary training comes to them just at the most important time of their lives.

Taxpayers in counties who want to acquire as soon as in the university's trophy cabinet they can the economy efficiency and beneftis of county home rule, should make clear the separate stages of the procedure. "Dear Sirs: I was so crippled with neuritis all down left side of my head that I could hardly get up and down. At times my feet pained so badly I though my toes would break off. I tried everything. The doctor told me I would be no better while I lived here but I stopped in a drug store in Brooklyn, N. Y one day last November and the man in charge told me to take Kruschen for 3 weeks steady and would get relief which I did. Never felt better and along with it, have lost weight. I weighed 210 then. Now I weigh 154 and while I'm over 50 yrs. old I feel 30. I took it for one thing-got two so I now have 6 others here taking it." Mrs. A. V. Carr, Ft. Tilden, N

BEGIN HERE TODAY

EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries DICK RADER, a construction superintendent temporarily working in Lake City. Dick wants Eve to give up working but she refuses.

SAM HOLERIDGE, an advertising man eraployred by another store, becomes infatuated with ARLENE MITH, stenographer at Bixby's, but she fancies herself in love with GEORGE BLISS. Hands ome THERON REECE has been forcing unwelcome attention, on Eve.

Vanknown to Dick, Eve has been playing the stock market on ranner before her worker, MONA ALLEN, copy writer, distilkes Eve and tries to make trouble for her. When an error, costing the store $2,000, appears in an advertisement Mona is really responsible but the blame falls on Eve.

Eve sells her stock market holdings at a gain. Elated, she arrives home to hear the telephone ringing. She answers and recognized Mona Allen's voice. Mona says, "They must have given me the wrong number" and the connection is broken. Eve wonders if Mona has been calling up Dick.

Here is a sample of the molass s candy he has been peddling: During the period of unsatisfacory business conditions, broadcasters suffered financially, but, generally speaking, a very shigh standard of programs has been maintained," And then he tosses this beautiful bonbon: "From my personal observations and con tacts with listeners, I believe that the public generally greatly appreciated this fact." Brother La fount is believed to have made those "personal observations' either in the radio control rooms or through a periscope from a submarine somewhere in the Pacific Come, on F.
