

100 Heart Fund Volunteers to March in County March 1

The fight against heart and vessel disease, Number 1 killer of our time, will be carried to every home in Eastland County Sunday, March 1, by more than 100 volunteers...

Volunteers will each call upon between 15 and 25 neighbors in observance of Heart Monday, March 1. Serving as Eastland County Heart Fund Chairman is Mrs. Reita Bond Choate, Village Hotel, Eastland. She pointed out that the Heart Fund volunteers not only will receive Heart Fund gifts but will also distribute heart-saving information. "The Heart volunteer will leave behind an envelope at homes where door bells go unanswered," she explained. "These should be used to mail in Heart Fund contributions."

Mrs. Choate pointed out that last year in Texas over 40,000 persons died of a heart disease and in Eastland County 161 died while over 1,138 were afflicted with a heart disease. Heart Fund Dollars fight a vast complex of disease — heart attack, stroke, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, rheumatic fever, inborn heart defects and many others. They are responsible for about 54 percent of all deaths in the nation. Over $100 was raised in Eastland Saturday in the Heart Fund balloon sale, she said.

Officers Named By CB Club; To Meet In Ranger

Bill Pester of Breckenridge was elected president of the Citizen Band Club at its meeting recently held in the Texas Electric building in Eastland.

Other officers were elected as follows: Bob Coody of Cadogan, vice president; Jessie True of Eastland, secretary; Mrs. O. E. Rose of Ranger, treasurer; Bill Tyler of Strawn, master-at-arms; and Marvin Socol of Breckenridge, club reporter.

The motto of the club is "Service on Standby," and the organization has pledged itself to support laws and regulations of the FCC, according to Mr. Pester. The next scheduled meeting of the club will be in the Ranger Junior College Cafeteria Monday, Feb. 22, and all members and interested parties have been urged to attend.

DAR Plans Meeting In Eastland Monday

Charles Crawford Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Monday, Feb. 22, at 3 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins in Eastland.

Officials Are Named For Livestock Show

Various ranchers and livestock men have been named to head up the various sections of the annual Eastland County Livestock Show on March 11-13, according to Robert Kincaid, Morton Valley rancher, who will again serve as general superintendent of the show.

Buck Wheat, Morton Valley, will serve as the assistant general superintendent. He served in the same capacity at the 1964 show.

Ross Wilson, Gorman, and Raymond Beck, Eastland, prominent Hereford breeders, will be superintendents of the beef cattle division while Ben McKinnis, Eastland, will have charge of the fat steer division.

Norman Richardson, Ranger dairyman, will be in charge of the dairy cattle section.

The Angora goat division will be headed by W. O. Cantwell, Bullock. Cantwell has one of the few flocks of registered Angora goats in the county.

The breeding classes of beef cattle and goats will be open both to the junior as well as to adult exhibitors. Other divisions of the show are open only to the FFA and 4-H Club boys and girls, it was explained.

Bill Claborn, Eastland, and Gaston Boyd, Cisco, will superintend the fat lamb division. Jimmy Horn and M. L. Terrell, Eastland, will have charge of the breeding classes of sheep.

Park Plambeck, Pleasant Hill, will have charge of the breeding classes of swine. Hoot Ferguson, Cisco, and Jack Therwanger, Eastland, are superintendents of the fat pig classes.

Ring officials include James Wright, Eastland, announcer; Glyn Gilliam, Ranger banker, who will award the ribbons, and C. M. McCain, Eastland, who will award the cash to the winning exhibitors.

Historical Committee To Meet In Gorman

The Eastland County Historical Survey Committee will meet Tuesday, Feb. 23, 5:30 p. m. at the Brown Jug Cafe in Gorman, it has been announced.

Gene Baker is arranging for the meeting, which is open to the public.

John Paul Jones Commemorated By National DAR

The Charles Crawford Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, joining with the National Society during American History Month in calling attention to American patriots in the nation's history, points today to John Paul Jones, according to Mrs. Joe Clements, Regent.

Jones was in command of an old, leaky ship, the Bonhomme Richard, when he met a convoy of 40 British ships headed by the Serapis. The Bonhomme Richard, a 12-pounder, engaged the Serapis, an 18-pounder.

After a fierce fight, the BR began to sink, and the captain of the British ship signaled: "Have you struck?" To which John Paul Jones made his immortal reply, "I've just begun to fight."

Lashing his ship to the Serapis, he forced the Serapis to surrender after three hours of hand-to-hand fighting.

Jones and other patriots are being commemorated during the month of February, Mrs. Clements announced.

Altitudes in Eastland County range from 1,200 to 1,800 feet.

Eastland County Ropers Win Prizes In Rodeo

Bobby McCulloch of Scranon first place and Benny Gary of Cisco was seventh winner in the calf roping at the 1965 San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo Sunday.

Eastland County furnished 10 winners out of 20 contestants under the banner. Bobby Williams was third place.

Prizes ranged from $50 first place, to $40 for third place and $20 for seventh. The certificates are used to raise livestock for feeding.

Boys in the scramble for the county were Eddie Kincaid of Morton Valley and Tommie Lee of Cisco. Each roped a calf but couldn't tie, and other youngsters waiting to catch anything were free. Ten calves weighing 150-200 pounds were loose in the arena with 20 hopeful young 4-H'ers and FFA boys waiting to tackle, halter, and drag them across the finish line.

Also attending from Eastland County with the boys were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams and Barbara of Gorman, Jimmy Lee of Cisco, and Assistant County Agent, Bill McCutcheon.

INDUSTRIAL

Clark said, "but because there are so many qualified, professional people at work in our state." That's the basis on which the commission works, he said, coordinating the efforts of the some 1,000 professional and literally tens of thousands of volunteers in the state.

Clark, who told the Eastland Countians that plans are shaping up well for the March Gorman meeting, outlined the five-point program which is being tested in the pilot Eastland County project. And as is his forte, "inspiration" was the highlight of his talk, as he introduced the brand-new Bob Hope-narrated Texas film which was shown for the first time, and which will go into international distribution soon by a commercial film firm. Still lacking editing, the film attempts to depict Texas and Texans in their true light, to dispell pre-conceived conceptions of out-of-staters, and it does a strong selling job.

Industrial developers should draw a bead on more than 30,000 corporations in the nation, capable of moving or expanding their operations, Winthrop Rockefeller of Winthrop Farms, Ark., told the delegation in his noon lunch-Add Industrialization story.

Rockefeller, scion of the famous capitalist family, served for eight years as chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission and warned that industrial development can not be confined to city, county or even state limits. Every state in the union is out to grab new industry and careful planning and research is the key to success, he said. Industrial prospects should be treated in a friendly, helpful manner and not be burdened with "snow jobs." He urged a sound, continuing educational program be geared to industrial development.

Success stories included a report on Omaha by M. L. Woodburn, executive director of that Nebraska city's non-profit industrial foundation, who told how a consulting firm had suggested that such a foundation be established separate from the chamber of commerce, and that an industrial tract be completely developed. He explained how a 320-acre tract (that had partially supported four farm families prior to 1954) is now completely sold to 45 firms, providing jobs for more than 3,000 persons. A second tract is nearing completion there, he said.

Success via a different route was explained by Paul Strausbaugh, manager, industrial division, Oklahoma City chamber of commerce, who pointed out that their industrialization has been "through" their chamber, and "through" a profit-seeking industrial foundation. Results have been spectacular, he showed.

Atlanta set a goal of 10,000 new jobs a year and has added 70,000 jobs in the past three, he said. The organization recently raised $1.65 million for continuing the program for three years.

Eastland Extends 'Open-Door Policy' For Industrialization

Recreation and pleasant surroundings are great for vacationing, and still greater for day-to-day good living. It's fun living in Eastland and it's one of the big reasons industry succeeds here. One firm that has found a happy home in Eastland is Hollywood-Vassarette, a division of the giant, national Munsingwear Corp., manufacturer of quality wearing apparel.

March 1 is completion date for a large expansion of the local plant which will increase the plant by a third. Plumbing and electric wiring contractors are presently working on the addition, which is attached to the original plant, expanding north, to include a new entrance, and expanded parking area. Abbott and Co. of San Angelo was general contractor and the structural building has been virtually completed.

The plant presently employs approximately 200 persons and after the expansion, this force is expected to be increased by about 100, it is reported, by Plant Manager Don Viergever.

Owners of the plant facilities, Eastland Industrial Foundation Inc. are handling the expansion. Banker H. T. Wilson is president of the foundation.

The industrial advantages in Eastland are many and the concern considering a new location finds a friendly, helping hand from the Foundation, the local chamber of commerce, and local residents.

The Foundation, which is chartered with the State of Texas as a civic non-profit corporation recently purchased the Hollywood-Vassarette plant and site as assets for further industrialization of the city and area.

In Eastland, industrial and commercial enterprises find an exceptionally favorable tax picture and an all-around satisfactory business climate. They find outstanding transportation services; a proven labor supply — loyal, resourceful and hard-working; and a hearty welcome and friendly cooperation from all.

Extending cooperation and participating in the present EC-65 program are Eastland business and professional people who hosted the January seminar, one of the five to be held in the county, in Eastland, when "research" was the topic.

Mayor Frank Deaton, Foundation President Wilson, chamber President Viergever, and many others are participating in the program, in cooperation with the State Industrial Commission which is conducting the seminars as an industry-seeking experiment as part of Gov. John Connally's project to make Eastland County the pilot site for his state-wide industrialization program.

Individuals and firms who want to know more about the Eastland industrial climate and advantages, are welcome to contact the chamber of commerce office, or either of these men.

Mangum WMU Has Meeting

Mangum W.M.U. met last Monday with ten members present to hear Mrs. Rachel Clower and Mrs. Mattie Donelson give lessons on the third, fourth and fifth chapters of the "Home Mission Book." The three chapters were entitled "The Wind of Change" and were wonderfully presented.

Rev. A. J. Thomas closed the meeting with prayer, which was followed by a fellowship meeting with cup-cakes and coffee, served by Mrs. Donelson and Mrs. Wood.

Those present were Mmes. Donelson, Clower, Ann Tucker, Lee May, Billie Wood, Stella McBee, Becky Murphy, Correyne Wood; and Rev. and Mrs. Thomas.

The next meeting, "Royal Service" program, will be held Monday, Feb. 22.

'OUR CHILDREN AND THEIRS' TO BE WSCS TOPIC THURSDAY

Members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church will meet next Tuesday in their respective circles. The Barcus Circle will meet with Mrs. J. Lester Davenport; the Deaton Circle, with Mrs. Ed Willman; and the Davenport Circle, with Mrs. O. O. Mickle. The subject for the lesson will be "Our Children and Theirs."

It has been announced that the morning of Friday, March 5, all fifteen churches of Eastland will observe the "World Day of Prayer," according to Mrs. Carl Elliott, WSCS reporter. The First Methodist Church will host the event and it is sincerely hoped that everyone who possibly can, will attend. Representatives from different churches will serve as leader for part of the program, which has as World Theme, "What Doth the Lord Require."

Members of the WSCS who braved the weather for last Tuesday's meeting were well-rewarded for their efforts, said Mrs. Elliott. An inspirational devotion was given by Mrs. L. C. Brown and the lesson was presented by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, who is personally acquainted with Vera Micheles Dean, author of the text of the study, "United States Responsibility in a World of New Nations."

Mrs. Perkins gave to the group not only interesting factual material from the text-book, but also many engaging and disturbing accounts of her personal observations of many foreign countries in which she has traveled. When the lesson ended, no one could help concluding that the new nations do have many problems, and that the United States does have a responsibility toward them.

The third lesson of this study will be given March 9 in the church parlor.

Mrs. Williams reminded the group that next Sunday evening the all-church mission study will be concluded. An all-church, covered dish supper will be served at 5 p. m., with those attending bringing an ample covered dish and place settings for each family member attending. At 6 p. m. the last lesson on "Spanish Doorways" will be given by Dr. Bob Alexander. Mrs. J. Lester Davenport will present the devotion.

Those present last Tuesday were Mmes. Davenport, Willman, Brown, Perkins, Kinnaid, Charles Harris, H. J. Bulgerin, James Horton, B. O. Harrell, Turner Collier, Elliott, Charles Lovelace, R. P. Haun, Jr., E. S. Perdue, M. L. Forgy and Tom Haley.

R. E. Sikes Appointed Area Manager

R. E. (Bob) Sikes, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sikes of Eastland, has been appointed area manager-sales for the National Supply Division, Armo Steel Corp., for the company's Northern Area headquartered in Tulsa, Okla.

A native of Eastland and an Eastland High School and Texas Christian University graduate, Sikes joined National Supply in 1943 as a store clerk at La Ward. In 1944 he became store manager at Falfurrias; in 1947, was appointed sales representative at Dallas; and transferred to San Antonio in 1961 in the same capacity.

The following year he was named district sales representative — tubular at San Antonio and in 1963 was promoted to district manager of sales at Tulsa. He held that position until his present promotion to area manager — sales.

Local Churches Unite For Prayer Observance

Churches of Eastland will unite Friday, March 5, at 9:30 a. m. to observe the World Day of Prayer. Pastors and laymen of various churches will lead different parts of the program, according to First Methodist Church, Woman's Society of Christian Service Reporter Mrs. Carl Elliott.

The First Methodist Church will host and it's pastor, Rev. Lester Davenport, and members extend a most cordial welcome to all members of all churches to come and participate in this united effort in prayer for a strife-torn world, Mrs. Elliott said.

Following the prelude, Rev. Eugene Surface, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will give the call to prayer and invocation, and a representative of the First Baptist Church, Negro, will lead the congregation in the Responsive Sentences.

The "Meaning of the Day" will be given by someone from the Episcopal Church; followed by a member of the Church of God leading the congregation in scriptural responses entitled "Word of God for Today."

"Responsive Prayers of Confession and Supplication" will be directed by a leader from the Little Flock Baptist Church and the "Prayers of Petition" will be under leadership of a Presbyterian representative. Someone from the Methodist Church, Negro, will give the "Prayers of Intercession."

Those participating will receive encouragement by "Words of Assurance," led by a member of the First Christian Church and co-pastor of the Church of the Nazarene.

A solo, "He's Got the Whole World in His Hand," will bring another note of encouragement and hope in song. A brief message on the theme "What Doth the Lord Require," will be given by the host pastor, Rev. Davenport.

Worship in action typified by the "Offering" will be concluded by a leader from the Assembly of God Church.

Following the Doxology, a member of the First Methodist Church will lead the congregation in the "Prayer of Dedication."

The day's program will be concluded with the benediction by Rev. Davenport.

Ranger Lions Present Magician

"The Great Merlin," one of the country's outstanding performers, will appear in person Monday and Tuesday nights in a sensational comedy show in the Ranger High School auditorium.

Performances, held nightly at 8 p. m., are sponsored by the Ranger Lions Club.

Advance sale of tickets now is underway. The adult tickets, available from members of the Lions Club, are priced at only $1.00. If purchased at the door they will be $1.25. Admission for children under 12 is 50 cents, and students will be admitted for 75 cents.

The performances are two hours of hilarious fun and mystery.

Chevrolet

"walks" right over bumps and trouble

Independent front suspension takes the "truck" out of truck ride. It smooths rough roads, protects truck, driver and cargo from excessive jolting. And on Chevrolet pickups it's a proved system with millions of miles of user experience behind it. Try it out on one of Chevrolet's great Fleetside or Stepside pickups. It's one of the big reasons that Chevrolet is first choice with pickup users from coast to coast.
