ZANGARA IS CHARGED IN ASSAULT CASE

MIAMI, Feb. 16.—Complaints charging assault and attempt to commit murder on four counts...

Mr. Roosevelt's last act before leaving was to visit the hospital and comfort Cermak and four other victims of last night's attempted assassination.

Mr. Roosevelt arrived here aboard a yacht at 7 p. m., yesterday, after a 10-day cruise of southern waters.

As he concluded and the crowd broke into cheers, Mr. Roosevelt leaned over and shook hands with Mayor Cermak who was standing on the running board of the car.

Somehow near his screams, Mrs. M. J. Cross of Miami, standing beside him, saw the gun and tried to grasp it. Zangara stood upon a chair. Mrs. Cross leaped for his gun hand. Zangara fired.

Boy Scout Drive Planned In Ranger The executive board of Boy Scouts for Ranger met in the office of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce Wednesday to discuss plans for the coming year.

Texas Gulf Sulphur Declares Dividend NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The Texas Gulf Sulphur company today declared a dividend of 25 cents a share, payable March 15, to stockholders on record March 1. Previously a 50-cent quarterly dividend was paid.

Fighting to the last, Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight, died quietly following an operation on his brain to remove a blood clot after his recent battle with Primo Carnera in New York.

CIGARET TAX PLAN WOULD MEAN A LOSS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—More than $50,000,000 of Uncle Sam's annual revenue will go up in smoke if congress adopts the suggestion of J. C. Williams of Winston-Salem, N. C., that the federal government turn over to the states one-sixth of the money it collects in cigarette taxes.

With the problem facing them of finding enough revenue to balance the federal budget, congress generally fails to regard with enthusiasm any proposal that would reduce the national income.

Due to the fact that cigarette taxes are based on the number produced and not on their sales price, this source of revenue has not been seriously affected by the depression.

Mayor Cermak Is Still Critical MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 16.—A bulletin this afternoon on the condition of Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago said: "Mayor Cermak's condition is unchanged. He is still critical. No unfavorable developments have arisen at the present time."

ELKS CLUB TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, exalted ruler of the Ranger Elks, announced today that the 65th anniversary of the founding of the order would be celebrated at the regular meeting Friday night.

A short history of the anniversary will be combined with a past exalted ruler's night, at which time past exalted rulers will fill the chairs at the meeting.

Past exalted rulers of the Ranger lodge are C. J. Deitrick, now of New Orleans; A. M. Jameson, now of Oklahoma City; J. B. Heister, of Ranger; Dr. A. N. Harkrider, now of Kilgore; Edwin R. Maher, now of Dallas; Howard Gholson, now of Lubbock; Earl Swoveland of Ranger, and Dr. Harry A. Logsdon of Ranger, who has been elected to the post again.

Child Welfare Conference to Be At Mineral Wells MINERAL WELLS, Feb. 17 and 18, it was announced here today.

Eleven southern states and Porto Rico are expected to have representatives for the conference. Special invitations have been extended state official, physicians and all others in Texas interested in child welfare work.

SWAGER SHERLEY AND HIS CAREER

Swager Sherley of Louisville and Washington is in the picture. He has been selected by President-elect Roosevelt to wield the ax in cutting out useless bureaus and getting rid of employes not vital to the conduct of the government.

Sherley is an intellectual of first grade. He is a lawyer and an income tax expert. He served several terms as congressional representative of the Louisville district.

We C. Barrickman of Austin writes The Austin American that he is a kinsman of the Kentucky lawyer and statesman. Indeed, Sherley and Barrickman are lineal descendants of James Shirley of Virginia, who for services in the revolution was granted large tracts of land in Kentucky, then a part of Virginia.

Now, according to Carter Fields, the Kentuckian has been selected by his old time friend, Franklin D., to wield the broad ax in cutting out useless bureaus and abolishing jobs "in the reorganization of the government so as to save the taxpayers' money."

UNUSED OPPORTUNITY

Farmers in the last legislature provided a way for the purchase of long-staple fine-grade cotton seed from the prison system at no greater cost than ordinary seed.

Their farm constituency failed to take advantage of the law, and the high-quality cottonseed of the prison system was ground for oil and meal, except what was kept for replanting prison farms.

County officials, farm leaders or business men interested in advancing a county's welfare, just as well as farmers, could have sponsored the buying of carload quantities of prison farm cotton seed under the Giles-Tarwater law.

UNFAIR TO THE TAXPAYERS

Texas has many counties and areas in which the state taxes are collected from citizens but turned over to the county to pay off bonds for reconstruction work, flood control and the like.

The homestead exemption amendment requires taxpayers in such areas to keep on paying taxes until the exemption period ends. In most cases that will be a long time.

Rep. McKee of Jefferson county has offered a new amendment to extend equal benefits to taxpayers of the coastal and other exempted areas. If it is just to the taxpayers of one county to exempt them from taxes, it cannot be just to deny those of another section, just because the governmental agencies have been able to get the tax proceeds.

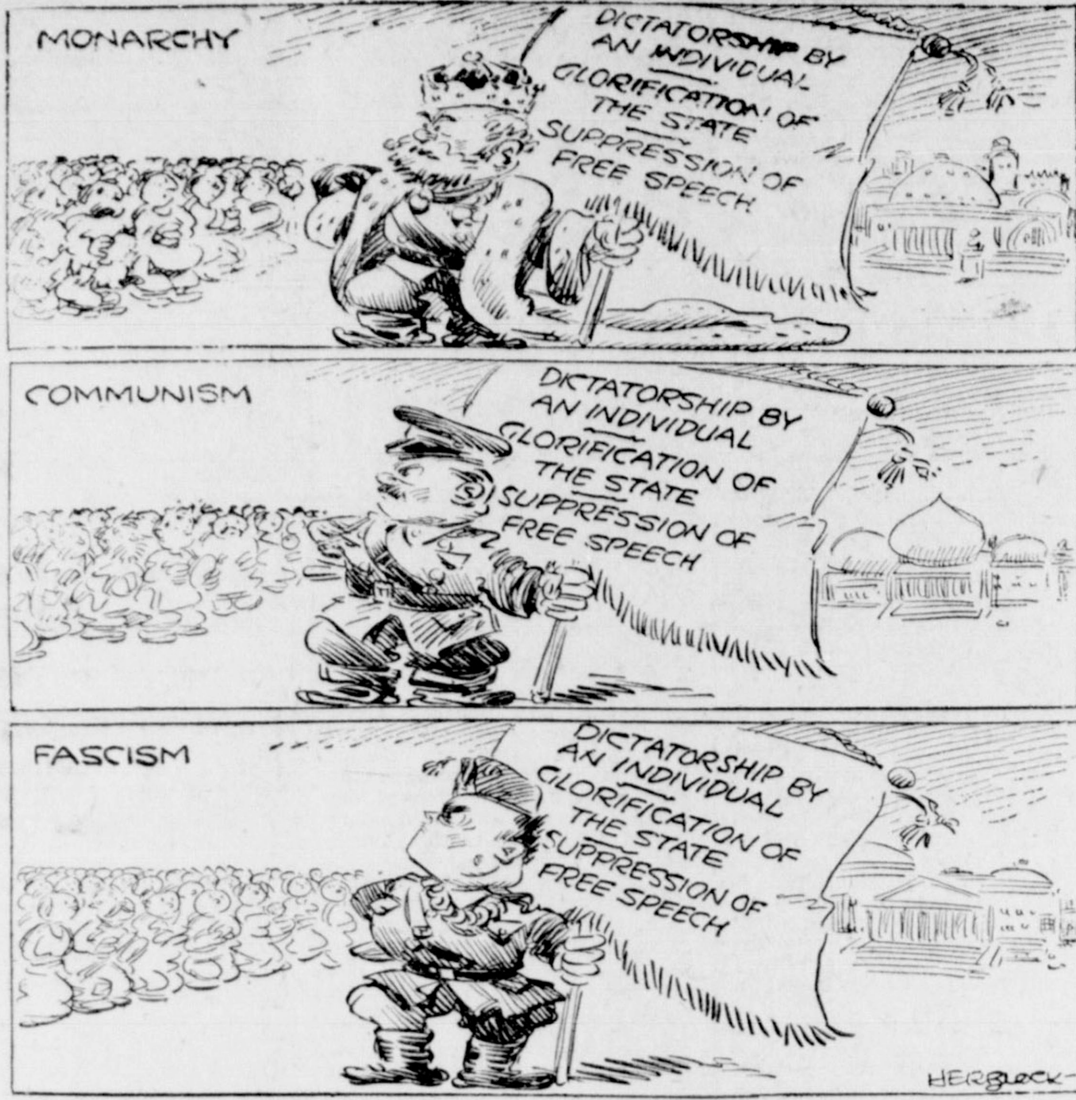

THERE MUST BE ROOM AT THE TOP

J. J. Bernet of Cleveland, Ohio, started out to be a blacksmith. On the eve of his 65th birthday he was elected president of three important rail lines. This important personage who started out to be a blacksmith did not subscribe to the theory that "the world owes every man a living."

He hoed his own row and created his own opportunities. He has been the right hand man of the Van Swearingen brothers since they began to build their railroad empire in 1916. Now the axes of railroad circles predict that Bernet will become head of all the Van Swearingens' eastern lines when the four line system is worked out.

Newspaper advertising lights the pathway to better business.

Why All the Argument in Europe?

DERRICK SHADOWS

The high point of the death game is the place when everybody signs off and gets out of the mess we call life, and that ends the matter. But the dancers go endlessly on stepping over each other and taking turns sleeping on the other fellow's feet.

There were two little boys prowling about the garbage can and poking among the tin cans and bottles this afternoon. I almost gave them the yuletide relics — they look so pathetic and cold and pitiful. But they were so enthralled with a post card they'd found I didn't dare disturb them with a minor amusement like fire-crackers.

Poor little dirty boys gazing with wide, hungry eyes at a bit of scenery on a card; making wise suggestions about the place, absurd bets, wondering, "I'll bet there's a million fish in that lake," said one. "I'll bet I could catch 'em," dared the other. No chance, no hope, no future . . . prowling in your back yard; tomorrow's citizens.

Kirby Page tells us about Albert Schweitzer who might have been enthroned in the hearts of musical Europe had he not preferred to give surgical love to stricken Africa rather than present Bach to an enthralled audience.

We of the white man's world, is it not a tragedy that we cannot follow his example? . . . For year I have been preaching about Christianity. But inwardly I was longing to be practicing Christianity silently.

So back to the forests he has gone . . . to live, to work, to love, to finally die. Away from admiration and to mere appreciation. He left those who wanted him for those who needed him.

Reviewing John McCormick's life, we find another proof that man doesn't always turn out to be what he intended to be before he outgrew his early aspirations.

It's hard to tell which faction makes the bigger commotion — those who shout for technocracy or those who are "tech" knock-crazy.

WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON. — Budget balancing, temporarily, seems to be just a form of monkey business. Those of us who predicted that this session of Congress would come nowhere near balancing the budget may have hoped to be disappointed when Mr. Roosevelt called his impressive New York conference with Democratic congressional leaders.

THE declaration in New York for an income tax boost which would also lower exemptions so as to take in a couple of millions of persons in the small-income class was accompanied by differing estimates of the return and was followed by so much disagreement in individual statements that no one can be quite sure whether the Democrats really meant it or were only fooling.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

WILLIAM SOUTHERN, JR., Publisher of the Independence (Mo.) Examiner, says: "If you for any reason suddenly found your community without a newspaper there would be a big mass meeting sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, methods would be adopted to induce somebody to start a paper, probably a bonus would be offered and advertising contracts promised.

"Did you ever stop to think that every dollar you spend on hand bills, which are of no value as advertising and which are deemed a nuisance by the housewives, you take away from the legitimate newspaper and make it harder for that paper to be of its finest service? Did you ever think that the advertising money given to free papers and hand bills, which are of no value to your community, weakens your home paper just that much and is a knock on your town?"

"The better a community supports its newspaper, the better able is that paper to support the community."

Whatever the real situation or whatever the possibilities may be, there is no question but that the Economy propaganda as set before us by organized minorities has brought on such a state of nervousness among the people that it has effected business in a bad way.

superintendent of the general supply committee, wants the civil service commission to pay the $1,500 bill that arose when congress transferred the personnel classification board to the commission without covering the right to the furniture which the supply committee had lent previously to the board.

It's such a tricky question, and so complicated that nobody but LeFevre seems to know exactly what it's about. Commission Secretary E. C. Habcock complicates the matter still further by announcing that the commission can't pay for the furniture, even if the commission must, simply because congress cut its funds so drastically it cannot pay.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

To break up a cold overnight and relieve the congestion that makes you cough, thousands of physicians are now recommending Calotabs, the nauseous calome compound tablets that give you the effects of calome and salts without the unpleasant effects of either. One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. Next morning your cold has vanished your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger. HERE--- AND THERE

By ELVIE H. JACKSON

The would-be traveling salesman have been told that one of the most important things in their code for sales success is: "I will not sell goods about which I cannot tell the truth. I want my customer to be glad to see me coming after the second order. I know that it means my success."

There is more back of that than reads to the mere eye. This creed of code applies to the woman, in church, and club work, in all her business adventures and especially in her personal conduct toward her friends, her foes, and her relatives.

In other words, let your people know who you are, what you are, what you are doing, and usually why, if not too personal a situation; and be thoroughly open and honest in your mental, moral, and physical attitude toward those whom you have dealings with, or with whom you come in contact.

Your "goods" are your habit of integrity, your personal honor, your poise, your self culture, and your pleasing personality. If, as man or woman, you miss out on the sterling ring of these essentials as the social, society, club or business "salesman," then your usefulness is null and your efforts will never prove very successful.

As long as you can tell the truth about what you are able to do, even though it may sound like boasting to some, you will never be shamed by the results for your customers will probably in due time come back for their second order or rather to ask you to do those things you have declared yourself able to do.

In this way, they know, as well as you yourself, that you are a success. There is an old saying, "just as the tree is bent so will it live," that is true sometimes, and sometimes not. For there have been known countless examples of trees which have been bent by the winds of adversity, but have been straightened by some kindly hand, blocked up, fastened to a support, and left for nature with her kindly gifts to aid her, to grow into a straight useful and shade giving tree.

Just so with many people. Something may have started the morale of character in a warped direction. Some kind person comes along and with influence and contact, companionship and cheer, straightens the crooks in the bent fiber, helps to support it against adverse criticism and ultimately dares to

Why did you buy this NEWSPAPER? Supposing that, beginning tomorrow, all the newspapers are discontinued. What a furore the public would make. "News! News! We must have news or we will be no better off than the ancients." All right, suppose we give them news but cut out the advertisements. Then you would discover that politics, the doings of society, notices of fires, accidents, deaths, scandals, sports, the activities of the police and criminals add little or nothing to the real comfort and happiness of this greatest age in the world's history. Advertising is the NEWS of all the looms, of all the world, and all working for you. Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once cost a king's ransom are yours at little prices. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, producer against producer, for your benefit, forcing out the best there is in everything and telling the world about it. Read advertising. Keep abreast of today. Advertising furnishes you with facts and opportunities that otherwise you would never know.

Martha Dorcas Class Enjoys Party The members of the Martha Dorcas class entertained delightfully, their husbands and friends, through assigned hostesses, who arranged a charming eight-table "42" game, at the home of the house hostess, Mrs. M. B. Griffin, on Tuesday night.

Valentine decorations were prettily employed and novel effects obtained with slender pointed fins, covered with fluttering red hearts, and advantageously placed about in their frilly red jardiniere.

The "42" table numbers and tables carried out the heart design and were provided by the table hostesses, responsible for foursome guests and whose name is mentioned first in the following groups:

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Jobe; Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Stover; Mrs. Jack London and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fields, Mrs. S. G. Thompson;

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Marlow, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harris; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Robey, Mrs. Annie T. Stewart, Mrs. May Harrison;

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Roberson and Mr. and Mrs. Myers; Mr. and Mrs. Dee High and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wahl;

Mrs. W. E. Coleman, president of the class, her son Reagan, and guests Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Sparks.

Comic Valentines were given as high score table favors, and at close of evening the hostesses served a dainty refreshment of pimento heart-shaped sandwiches, with decorative topping, Valentine cakes and coffee.

The attendance was somewhat affected among the members by sickness.

Book Club Interesting Study The Book club of Eastland enjoyed a very delightful resume of Desmond McCarthy's study, "Portraits," a series of thumb-nail one-overs, of noted people, and ably presented by Mrs. Harry Porter, at the meeting of the club held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Freyschlag.

The session was opened by Mrs. Oscar Hudson, the president. Announcement was made that the club will meet with Mrs. Hudson in two weeks as she had exchanged places with the present hostess.

Those present, Mmes. J. M. Armstrong, Walter I. Clark, W. E. Chaney, Theodore Ferguson, Curtis Hertig, James A. Jarboe, M. McCarty, Oscar Hudson, Virgil T.

Reading, Lucile Johnson. Piano solo, Clara June Kimbler; reading, Lucy Mae Cottingham; reading, Kathleen Cottingham; reading, Mary Frances Hunter.

The program concluded with an inspirational talk, "George Washington the Christian," given by Miss Belle Wilson, member of the high school faculty.

Principal Palm took the association on a personally conducted tour through the building, visiting the library, seeing all the students at work in the study hall; watching clever fingers and awkward ones thumping over the typewriters in the business classroom; witnessed the struggle with bookkeeping, hard and garbled sounds in the Spanish room, saw the mysterious fittings in the science room, proved more familiar with the home economics department, and even inspected the boiler, and basement, and discovered rooms they never

Weds Donnelly

Miss Virginia George, above, an actress, is the bride of Paul F. Donnelly whose divorced wife, Mrs. Nell Q. Donnelly, millionaire Kansas City business woman, was a kidnaping victim two years ago.

Seaberry, Harry Porter, John W. Turner, E. E. Freyschlag, P. G. Russell, Scott W. Key, and Mrs. L. E. Edwards, secretary, who presented the minutes, approved.

Annual Election High School P. T. A. The High School Parent-Teacher association session Wednesday afternoon was marked for its entertainment feature, followed by the responsible business of holding their annual election.

Members assembled at the cafeteria, promptly at hour designated and were received by Mrs. C. C. Ligon, high school cafeteria hostess, who seated the guests throughout the long dining hall, so to bring them in association with students.

A diversified menu was offered of meat loaf, sweet potatoes, creamed Irish potatoes, green beans, carrots, navy beans, English peas, lima beans, sandwiches, pumpkin pie, chocolate and coconut jello, jello with cream, coffee, milk, and bottled soda drinks.

After the delectable luncheon the party gathered about one table, and the regular P. T. A. business session opened and conducted by their president, Mrs. J. M. Perkins, with the minutes by their secretary, Mrs. J. Leroy Arnold, accepted and approved.

The open house to be held under chairmanship of Mrs. Glen S. Stire, in March, or near April 1, had plans approved as submitted by chairman.

The election resulted: Mrs. A. J. Campbell, president; Mrs. W. P. Palm, first vice president; Mrs. J. A. Stover, second vice president;

Mrs. L. C. Brown, third vice president; Mrs. J. Frank Sparks, secretary;

Mrs. D. L. Childress, treasurer. The several appointive offices will be named later by the incoming president who with the board take their places and responsibility at opening of the school in September.

Adjournment was taken to the auditorium to attend a special chapel period at 1 p. m., moved up this day in compliment to the P. T. A., with program presided over by Principal W. P. Palm, and opening with singing of "America" and "America the Beautiful" in ensemble; followed by the chorus, "Smile," with a whistling chorus by the audience.

Co-Workers Meet

Some 20 members of the Co-Workers Home Demonstration club met Wednesday, Feb. 15 with Mrs. R. E. Barker at her home on Ranger Heights. Two new members were welcomed into the club, Mrs. J. L. Hamilton and Mrs. J. R. Rutherford. After the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Eastland, the president, and necessary business was attended to by Miss Ruth Ramey took charge of the program. A nice showing of hand hooked rugs was brought by the club members and Miss Ramey commented on each one as to color combinations, and appropriateness of materials used in hooking. Suggestions were offered as to the most effective hook to use, to the advantages of the different materials which may be used for the foundation of the rug, and the easiest way to transfer the lines of the design to the foundation material. Much enthusiasm has been shown in this phase of the club work.

During the next hour members gave exhibition of their skill in quite a different sort of activity, that of weaving spades, hoes, rakes, et when they joined Miss Ramey outside in making a sub-irrigated cutting bed for the purpose of rooting cuttings of roses, vines, shrubs, hedges, and trees. Miss Ramey had brought along concrete tiles which had been made by the boys in Mr. Whitehouse's agriculture class. These tiles, about 1 1/2 feet in length, were laid end to end in rows about two feet apart. At one end of each row one piece of the tile was stood upright and cemented in place. This was to extend above the level of the surface of the bed several inches and serve as a water carrier. Small squares of paper roofing were placed over the cracks where the pieces came together. This kept the dirt from filling in, yet did not keep the water from seeping through. When this was done the dirt was filled to a depth of about six inches, rows were laid out, and some cuttings were planted in the bed for rooting.

Wednesday Evening Dance Is Pleasing Affair Dance guests gathered at the American Legion clubrooms Wednesday evening and spent a most pleasing dance hour with music played by Rupert Murphy and his eight-piece orchestra.

This entertainment came under the arrangement of the ladies of St. Rita's Altar society of the Catholic church. Although all members were not represented in this particular entertainment, the event was made a success through the splendid efforts of many.

Conley Families Return From Brilliant Wedding Affair Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Conley and parents of Mr. Conley have just returned home from a visit to Wichita Falls, where they were special guests at the brilliant wedding of Miss Mary Delaney, cousin of Mr. Conley.

The wedding which comes as one of the most beautiful and elaborate events to be listed in Wichita Falls social happenings was performed at the Wichita Falls Catholic church.

Founders' Day Is Observed At Tuesday's P. T. A. Program Thirty-sixth birthday anniversary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers was given recognition in an annual February "Founders' Day" program given at Hodges Oak Parents Teachers association Tuesday afternoon.

The program was opened with the repeating of the Lord's prayer which prefaced the singing of "America, the Beautiful." Miss Connellee, teacher of this ward school presented Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, principal speaker for the afternoon who interestingly discussed P. T. A. work and its importance. The impressive candle-lighting ceremony was also conducted by this director who has aided largely in developing P. T. A. movement in so commendable a manner.

Mrs. Jewelle Woodhouse, who is soon to open a studio of music in Ranger was graciously introduced and offered a pleasing talk. Plans were given discussion for the district conference which is to be held here in April. The latter period of the hour was turned over to the Singers Mothers, who entertained the assembly of over 40 members with songs. Refreshments were served by room mothers whose children are students of Miss Connellee who so capably led the program, which comes as one of the most inspirational of the year.

LYRIC EASTLAND NOW PLAYING A MAGIC NAME BLAZES AHEAD! STANWYCK "LADIES THEY TALK ABOUT" M. L. S. Club Still a Mystery The M. L. S. club simply will not let go the meaning behind those mysterious letters, but it is certainly an entertaining one as this intimate little group of friends, much under a dozen, have an enjoyable hour at the home of one or the other, in an afternoon each week when needlework, darning (and actually so) and other handwork occupy the busy workers. Mrs. Artie Liles was hostess to this group Wednesday afternoon, an off day, and chosen to accommodate the Home Makers party, dated for the M. L. S. club after-noon. Mrs. Liles had timely reminders of our patriotic George Washington, in the decorations of flags, and in the cherries served with the banana-nut cake and coffee with plate favors and real little hatted ties with the national color ribbons. The club will meet with Mrs. Wortham Seale, on Friday, Feb. 24. Those present, Mrs. R. L. Slaughter, Mrs. W. T. Moran, Mrs. Wortham Seale, Mrs. William Shirriffs, and Mrs. Artie Liles.
