Lake Bernie Dam Cutting Is Scheduled For Sunday

Everyone Invited To Watch Event
A contractor will complete the job of cutting the dam at Lake Bernie, three miles north of Cisco, this Sunday afternoon to drain the lake and make way for a cleanup operation, according to Mayor John H. Webb. Plans to cut the dam last Sunday were abandoned after rain made the dam area too slippery for heavy machinery. Fishermen from throughout the region — an estimated 500 — visited the lake last Sunday to be on hand for possible trapping big fish as the water receded. They were invited back this Sunday. With water starting to flow around noon, it will be low enough for fish trapping, Mr. Webb said. The lake will be allowed to dry out and then machinery will move in to clear it of cat-tails and silt. A huge gate will be installed in the cut to permit periodic draining of the lake which has been an alternate water supply for many years. When the cleaning operation is finished the lake will be stocked with bass, crappie and catfish. They will be flushed down a two-mile creek annually to Lake Cisco. Mayor Webb expected to see huge catfish and other varieties as the water goes down. The 75-acre lake has never been dry and it is over 50 years old. Huge bass have been frequently taken there.

Scranton Woman's Son Alive After Being Crushed By Car

By FAYE JOHNSON
In a day when the miracles of the space age continue to astound and the accomplishments of man appear unlimited, Mrs. Boyd James of Scranton tells of a miracle so intricate and delicate that no man would take credit for its performance. On Saturday, May 23, in Imperial, Calif., Tex James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd James, was working on his Oldsmobile in front of his home at 115 W. 5th St., Mrs. Boyd reported. The car fell off the jack and pinned his head on the tool box, against which he had rested his head as he worked. His wife, Edythe, realizing that she could not help, started to the house to telephone for help, and as she glanced back she saw a clean but shabbily dressed man by the car. He wore a cap and his hair was grey at the temples. "Help me, please. My husband is dying," the woman implored, but the man disappeared without answering, she said later. She ran into the house and summoned the police and fire departments, and when she went outside again her husband was crawling on the lawn. Later, Mrs. James recounted, her son's wife told him she had seen a man by the car and it must have been a guardian angel who helped him. Tex James, with skull crushed and jaw bones broken, told of seeing the same man, and "it was Jesus," he said, "standing in front of the car. He told me to place my hands with palms up against the car, and when I did, the car raised up, and I crawled out from under it."

Closing cuts on Tex's face with 28 stitches, the doctors gave his wife no hope that he would live. It was a miracle, they said, that he had not already died. X-rays showed at least nine head fractures, and his jaw bones were broken in several places. A specialist called in from New York decided to wire the jaw bones together, but to his astonishment he found that they had already begun to knit. Instead of the nine pieces shown in the X-ray, Mrs. James said, the specialist found his skull splintered in "a thousand pieces." However, it appeared that a surgeon had been there before him, as the pieces were in place and had also begun to knit back together. On Wednesday after the accident, Tex James, who had been blind in one eye before the accident, lost the sight of his other eye. But in a letter received by his mother from his wife this week, following her return from California, she was told that he was beginning to see in his eye that had been blind originally.

Lonnie Joe Basham on leave

Lonnie Joe Basham Home On Leave

Lonnie Joe Basham, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Basham of Eastland, was met at Love Field, Dallas, Friday morning by his parents. He is on leave from Marine Basic training.

Basham received Boot Camp training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, California for 12 weeks and ITR training at Camp Pendleton for eight weeks before receiving leave.

The Marine recruit training cycle is divided into three phases, initial training at the Depot, rifle range at Camp Matthews for thorough training in marksmanship and familiarization with basic weapons. In this training four platoons take part together and is known as a Series.

Basham won second place in the Series of four platoons at rifle range with his rifle average 222. He received the highest medal "Rifle Expert."

After four weeks of individual combat training at Camp Pendleton is completed, they are transferred to short stations to Fleet Marine Force units and to schools for special training.

The depot also offers facilities in general education courses of study leading to procurement of high school diplomas, correspondence courses and professional training and also includes University extension courses.

Basham will return to Camp Pendleton for a year with the First Marine Division in Motor Transport Fleet.

INDUSTRIAL

There was originally $14,050 in certificates issued. Five major companies had already donated their certificates to the chamber, totaling $1,600. This amount has been passed on to the foundation by the chamber and represents some $2,400 in reduction of the certificate liability for the foundation. This leaves some $18,000 in certificate liability (1/2 per times the remaining $12,450 in certificates). Members of the foundation are presently contacting certificate holders and requesting contributions for the foundation. A final tabulation of the amounts donated so far hasn't been made, but it is guessed that some $10,000 will probably be given.

The chamber's donation of its industrial fund and the five certificate contributions amounts to over $5,000 to be subtracted from the foundation's total obligation.

Additional certificate donations and new contributors to the foundation in the form of shares, will further lower the liability. Revenue from the lease of the building will of course help meet the foundation's obligations too.

In essence the foundation bought the building for about $60,000, whereas it is estimated that the same purchase would cost an individual at least $75,000, considering taxes on the lease money and other costs.

Members of the foundation are agreed that the purchase and the arrangements being made are the best possible, and that in time the foundation will be able, through its assets, to contribute to the industrialization of the city and the area.

(Following articles will cover other aspects of foundation.)

MRS. STEPHEN

In a letter to parents, Mrs. Stephens said in part:

"I want to express my appreciation for all things you have done in the way of co-operating with me, so that I have been able to get the most from your child. I only hope that I have given them something tangible to remember me by."

Her pupils will remember a little pledge from Mrs. Stephens' classes too.

It goes like this and many know it by heart:

"I pledge to respect my parents and teachers so as to bring them honor. To be loyal to my school for it gives me the tools to think and work by. To keep out of trouble and to help others stay on the right track. To serve God and be a credit to my country, my town and my school."

Pretty good words to go to school by, most agree, and Mrs. Bernice Stephens will be missed in the Eastland school system.

TIDBITS . . .

Lone Star's Dallas headquarters office also will speak at the meeting.

An estimated 250 Lone Star people, employed in the company's production, transmission and distribution divisions, will attend the meeting from the Eastland, Ranger, Cisco, Breckenridge, Caddo and Gordon areas.

A drive out to Eastland Lake late Thursday proved that the bridge there is still a favorite fishing spot. Didn't see any big ones come out though. . . . Rain Thursday night amounted to only .28 of an inch. Weather Watcher James Smith reports. We heard two different accounts of what appeared to be funnel clouds in the northwest. Checked with Fireman Jack Woods just to be sure and he reminded us that the tornado signal, which you'll want to remember, is one three-minute blast on the siren, followed by repeated, long blasts in threes.

In this age of ready-to-eat T.V. dinners and brown and serve bread, it's refreshing to find a "home-made" anything—particularly a town. And that's the way Eastland operates. It has a first-rate home made hospital, a home-made lake and its people stage home-made health programs like polio immunizations and glaucoma screenings. Wouldn't it be nice if we could come up with some home-made jobs for our young people, and unemployed.
