A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

MAGNIFY THE LORD: Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: let such as love thy salvation say continually, Thy Lord be magnified.—Psalm 40: 16.

HOUSE INCOME TAX BILL CONFISCATORY

It is for the senate to pass on the state income tax bill enacted by the house and the legislature. As has been stated, there sent across the hall by the other branch of a federal income tax law. It covers all the ground. It touches all industries and all individuals, employers of labor so to speak and it touches their pockets regardless of what may be said by those who have a war cry at all times, "Sock it to the rich."

Of course, the federal income tax law is here to stay. It will go on forever, in the light of the huge war indebtedness and the war loans made to the allies of the republic in the European conflict of the sword. A state income tax will be a heavy handicap to those who are battling for the comeback in Texas. Its provisions are confiscatory. There is no corporation employing labor at living wages able to meet the exacting duty to be imposed, should the bill become a law. Indeed, its enactment would force thousands out of the state or out of business and prevent the coming of additional thousands from their states to this fast growing empire commonwealth.

Employees, the wage earners of the commonwealths, are vitally concerned. Where there are no employers there are no employees and hundreds and thousands wander in the highways and byways, seeking employment. Corporations, industries, individuals, who are employers of labor have been battling heroically during the years of depression to carry on their payrolls their employes at wages which will maintain fair standards of living conditions, hopeful of the day to come when a fair share of prosperity will return and the purchasing power of the growers of things would be restored and employers of labor as well as their workers would have fear driven from their hearts with hewed courage go forward with increased business and increased revenues as they did before the coming of the economic bolt in 1929.

Yes, it is a confiscatory bill. It is double taxation of the individual and of industry. It should not be enacted in this commonwealth which should welcome all comers who desire to make their home in Texas and keep those who have been builders in the years gone by and who have maintained high wage rates as well as high standards of living for all concerned.

THE ROT OF ONE APPLE SPREADS THROUGH THE WHOLE BASKET

Will Rogers says that each one of us have to live by a "racket" of some kind, and none of us must be too critical of the other fellow's "racket." There is too much truth in this statement. Too many are depending on their wits to bring in the cash and in all such cases their gain is some other fellow's loss. Nothing is produced in such enterprises and such activities place a double burden on the ones who are the real producers. And this idea that none of us should be too critical of the other fellow's "racket" seems to be gaining in prestige. We are inclined to consider that as long as the evil does not affect us directly we can close our eyes to its portent. But the rot of one apple spreads through the whole basket; therefore, in putting through the "new deal," some of the old should be brought back to the extent that full confidence in business and government would be restored.

A new era of development is dawning for the city of ambition.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma THAT cooperation means success for a city. All cities should look to the future with courage. They must have faith—faith in themselves, their neighbors and their city. If they don't have faith, they will be out of tune and the home city will suffer. The future is before your city. What are YOU going to do about it? Will you wait for somebody to bring prosperity to you or go out with real cooperation and create your own prosperity? With easy-going methods your city won't get far. You have your future before you. The only way you can succeed is to work unselfishly and earnestly to put your city on the map as a city of commercial and industrial importance. Activity and cooperation go hand in hand. All should help to foster and develop a spirit of cooperation. Rightfully directed cooperation is the only way to make a city grow.

Pre-school Child Roundup to Be Sponsored Again

AUSTIN.—The Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations and the Texas state department of health are sponsoring the ninth annual summer round-up of pre-school children. The purpose of this campaign is to send to the entering grade of school or kindergarten a class of children as free as possible from remedial physical and mental defects. The ultimate goal is to educate parents to the need for early periodic examination of their children by the family physician or dentist in order to insure correction of hampering defects which might not otherwise be discovered until the child enters school.

Coaching School Expects Big Crowd

LUBBOCK.—The depression isn't going to curtail attractions, or attendance, at the annual summer coaching school at Texas Technological college here, according to Pete Cawthorn, head football coach of Tech. The school will be held from July 31 to Aug. 12 and Cawthorn hopes to surpass the attendance of last year which totaled 473. The list of sports notables already signed to instruct includes Harry Kipke, all-American halfback on the 1922 Michigan university eleven and Andy Kerr of Colgate. Bernie Bierman, who gained fame and was known throughout the country as coach of the mighty Tulane university teams, will stress defensive play in his teachings.

From the middle west also will come Noble Kizer, head coach at Purdue university, as will Ray Morrison, head football tutor at Southern Methodist university.

Morton Valley

MORTON VALLEY, May 4.—Several from this community attended the trades day rodeo at Eastland Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stoker had as their Sunday guests, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stoker, and their son, Frank, and Miss Neil Teague of Eastland. Mrs. Marvin Henderson and Mrs. Bernice Tankersley visited in the Spencer home at Desdemona, Friday. They were accompanied on their return trip by Miss Maydelle Spencer.

STAFF NEWS

STAFF, May 4.—Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hazard were Ranger visitors Sunday afternoon, visiting in the homes of Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Weir and Rev. and Mrs. K. C. Edmonds.

The program and graduation exercises given by the Union school on last Thursday night was a grand success. Everyone on program played their part well. All the pupils were under fourteen years of age. We must say that we never attended a better rendered program. Prof. Carl Elliott and his wife deserve much credit for the way they had trained these pupils. These excellent teachers have just closed a very successful school term. The school closed last Friday with a basket picnic. There was plenty of good eats, and all report a good time. We are very glad indeed to know that Mr. and Mrs. Elliott will teach in the school again next term. They are moving back to their home at Carbon this week, but will return next fall when school opens. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Williamson of San Angelo were guests of Eddie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Williamson, Sunday.

There will be a play given at the Staff Methodist church next Friday night by home talent. The following are the characters in the play: Carolina, Mrs. S. E. Hazard, Gailya, Miss Elowese Lawrence; Reeta, Miss Macky Alford; Burt Wade, O. B. Crosby; Mrs. Barry, Mrs. O. L. Pollard; Lora, Mrs. Johnnie Falls, Clark, Joe Seay; Roidal Manton, (Tom Hughes); Jim Rankins, O. L. Pollard. The play will be free and the public is cordially invited to attend. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White motored to Anson last week-end to visit relatives. Buster Hazard and family of Albany were in the community last week visiting.

Young Legislator Is Finished Orator

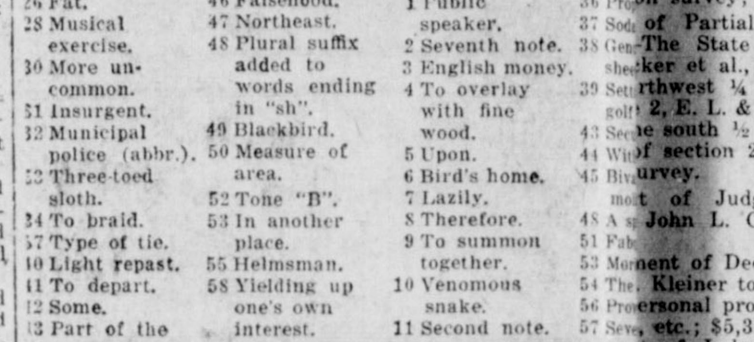

AUSTIN.—Rep. Robert W. Calvert, 27, member of the legislature, will probably stand out as giving the four star performance of the 43rd legislature. His speech in reply to Rep. T. H. McGregor on the proposed new state highway commission, has been the outstanding one of the session. Calvert, whose home is in Hillsboro, worked his way through the University of Texas. Part of the time he operated an elevator in the state capitol. When there were no elevator runs, he pored over his lawbooks, which he kept in the elevator with him. He is a law partner of Senator Will Martin of Hillsboro. Report has it he will be drafted for district attorney when his legislature term ends.

Loser of Bet Had To Crawl Nine Miles

MT. CALM, Texas.—Dolph Blackburn Jr. was so convinced Edward Leathers would not succeed in winning the hand of a certain Mt. Calm maiden that he offered to crawl on his hands and knees from Mt. Calm to Hubbard, a distance of nine miles, if Leathers succeeded. Leathers did. Accordingly Blackburn carried out his part of the bargain, despite warnings of fellow townspeople. Leaving here at 2 a. m., he reached Hubbard at 8 p. m., that night—exhausted and suffering from exposure. Blackburn is not making any more offers.

Prohibition Stump Speakers of Old Will Be Missing

AUSTIN.—Former-Gov. James E. Ferguson will make no stump speeches during the impending state prohibition campaign. "I'm getting too old for stumping," he said the other day. The campaign this time will miss many of the old leaders who spoke on either side. Cone Johnson of Tyler, one time anti-leader and later a leading pro, died recently.

Tom Ball, prohibition courier campaigns, was injured in an automobile accident and is not likely to stump.

DARLING FOOL

By MABEL McLELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 MONNIE O'HARE who loves DAN CARDIGAN, rich and handsome, discovers her friend, SANDRA LAWRENCE, is trying to win him from her. CHARLES ESTACE, a newspaper in town, pays a good deal of attention to Monnie, and helps her when her brother, BILL, gets into difficulties. BILL plans to marry ANGIE GILLEN, who works in a candy shop, as soon as she gets her divorce.
 HETTY, housemaid at the Lawrence home, dislikes her mistress, suspecting her of "swooning" the handsome chauffeur, JAMES. Monnie starts out with Charles to Bad KAY, her younger sister, who has gone away with CHESLER HIGGLOW, traveling salesman. Kay, frightened, wants to turn back from the adventure before it is too late. Monnie and Charles had Kay and bring her home again.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XV.
 SANDRA LAWRENCE was giving a party. Not the ordinary sort of Belvedere party but a very special one, with caterers from the city, flowers from the same place and an orchestra reputed to have come all the way from Chicago! Mrs. Peterman, grumbling below stairs about the "goings-on," was nevertheless enjoying herself hugely, bumping into the caterer's men with their trestle tables and their white coats, bullying Hetty.
 "Why'n't she have her parties at the club? That's what I want to know!" Hetty complained, polishing silver. "Forty people to supper—it's scarce, that's what it is." The cook immediately took up the cudgels for her employer.
 "Hasn't the young lady a right to do as she pleases in her own house? What's it to you, anyway? You'll have your afternoon off, same as always. You've got no kick coming."
 "Me answering the bell in that gray outfit and tending to the ladies' things," whined Hetty, "when I oughta be off having a good time for myself. She's just a pain—that's what she is, giving herself airs like nobody in town."
 "You get along upstairs in plenty of time to make yourself neat, miss," warned Mrs. Peterman, inflamed by the reference to the new uniform of taffeta with a musical comedy apron and frilled cap.
 "Who's all coming?" Hetty wanted to know, interrupting.
 "The cream of the place," said the older woman with relish. "Judge Martindale's two, and the Blairs, the Simmonses and Watermans and Olivers—and the Cardigans, of course. And 10 young folks from the city, coming by the 6 o'clock. James'd better not forget to meet them."
 "Mister Cardigan, I'll bet, is invited," Hetty opined, giving a vicious rub to a fruit bowl encrusted with ornamentation.
 "Of course. And his sister, Miss Geraldine. That new Mr. Eustace—"
 "You saw the list," Hetty broke in, eyes glittering with a true gossip's relish. "How about that pretty O'Dare girl?"
MRS. PETERMAN shook her head. "Not her. This is for real swells, didn't I tell you? The O'Dares are nice enough, but poor as church mice."
 "Her ladyship had her 'round the house plenty all last winter," Hetty said coldly. "If you ask me, she's better than the lot of them. She knows a person when you meet her on the street. She ain't afraid to say 'good morning' like a Christian when you see her."
 Mrs. Peterman's manner became slightly unctuous. On all matters of social precedence in Belvedere she, having been general of the Lawrence household affairs for many years, felt herself eminently qualified to speak.
 "Nice enough, as I said, but her station in life is quite different from the rest of these people. My mother always said to me, 'Nannie,' she said, 'always keep to your own station in life. And I did, it's better so.'"
 Hetty sniffed. "This is a free country," she contributed negligently. Then she wheeled, flushing deeply, as a masculine voice called her name.
 "Jimmy, I didn't expect you back so soon!"
 The big, grinning young man in the chauffeur's uniform lounged in the doorway.
 "Thought I'd keep my eye on you, girl, so's you wouldn't get into mischief. How's things going?"
 Hetty said virtuously. "We've been working like slaves all day. Be glad when this is over."
 "Gonna be swell music," the young chauffeur said, jerking his head in the direction of the sun porch, whither the grand piano had already been conveyed. This room, too, was banked with all manner of flowering trees, roses in tubs, and the like. The drawing room and the library beyond had been cleared for action. Rugs had been rolled up, highly polished floors given an extra gleam, furniture pushed back. In the dining room which had an oval glassed-in breakfast room beyond, the caterer's men were madly busy. A hum of activity, tangible as the whir of bees, pervaded everything.
 Sandra Lawrence, fresh and trim in white linen riding things, now came briskly down the stairs, surveying the scene.
 "Everything's going well," she said, with a nod to her retinue. "James, you'll bring those people up from the 6 o'clock. Then, Mrs. Peterman, they'll change—the rooms look very nice—and see 'em on the club for dinner. We'll be back by 9:30. I don't expect anyone until 10, really, for the dancing, but it's just as well to be safe. I've borrowed Mr. Eustace's man, Kong, to do the cocktails. Show him where everything is. He'll be here before 7—"
AND she was gone, leaving behind her a faint, delicate scent. Everything Sandra did was well done. She was cool, competent, correct. At 22, she had the poise of a matron twice her age. She loved this sort of thing—the whirl and scurry of a big party. It was the very breath of life to her. Ever since her return from Europe the last time, she had complained bitterly to her father of the dullness—in fact the lack of social life—in Belvedere. Now, in mid-July, she prepared to bring a little gaiety to the somnolent town. She would give "a smart" party, the sort of affair a Gotham debutante might give at the Ritz. Everything would be perfect—cold food, drinks, things in aspic, music—everything!
 As she went out the side door into the terraced and landscaped garden with the special pool her father had been goded into having built for her the year before, her eye took in the scene ap-

Delightful Affair
Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Kimbrell entertained for their house guest, Mrs. Horace Oldham of Gorman, with an informal dinner and bridge afterwards at their attractive home on South Seaman street, at 7 o'clock Wednesday night.

The dinner table, laid in madra, was centered with roses. The place cards for eight covers indicated Mr. and Mrs. Joe Coffman, Mrs. J. N. Jarrell, Miss Nina Whitfield, Mrs. Steve Gilbert, the honoree Mrs. Oldham, and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Kimbrell.

Visiting Relatives
Mrs. E. A. Hill, widow of the late Judge Hill, is being welcomed by relatives and friends upon her return to Texas, following a several months stay with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Beard, in Miami, Ariz., and is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. H. P. Brelsford Sr.

Friends of her daughter will be interested in knowing that Mr. and Mrs. Beard have four children, three of whom are in school.

Mr. Beard is with the Inspiration Mine company, with whom he has been associated for some years, since their Eastland residence.

Mr. Hill leaves Sunday for Fort Worth to visit Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brelsford, and will then be with friends in Dallas, before returning to Eastland for a short stay, prior to leaving for El Paso, where she will locate permanently with a friend of many years, a former college mate.

Informal Bridge
Afternoon
Mrs. E. Roy Townsend was at home to a few friends informally Wednesday afternoon, when the gray day was forgotten in the pleasure of the hostesses hospitality, in two tables arranged for contract, with appointments in springtime designs, in keeping with the lovely bouquets of roses used in decoration.

At close of game, a dainty plate was served of moulded fruit salad on lettuce, cheese straws, olives, small cakes, and frosted punch, to Mmes. George L. Davemport, John W. Turner, Ben E. Hamner, B. M. Collier, Horace Conley, Mmes. Butler Sr., Joe Bladworth of New Orleans, and Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, awarded favor for high score, a lovely hand-made kerchief.

Boys and Girls
World Club
Despite the cloudy day, and also the fact that many members of the Boys and Girls World club are at their homes suffering from the prevalent measles, there was an attendance of ten or twelve children at the club meeting Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Mrs. Fred W. Drago, in the Booster classroom of Methodist church.

Mrs. Drago was assisted by Mrs. Earl Bender, in the story hour, and by the talented young pianist Jane Ferguson, for the song rehearsal.

The children were taught the new songs, "Our Heavenly Father," "Jesus Friend of Little Children," and the official club song, "If All the Boys and Girls in the World Joined Hands."

These songs are described by the leader, and the meaning taught the children.
