FRIDAY DAY FOR PLAN TO BE STARTED

To Be Issued Against Sound Assets of Bonds and Clearing Houses.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Orders authorizing the issue of scrip by clearing houses throughout the country, beginning Friday, were issued today.

Some localities may be allowed to start issuing scrip earlier, but only by special direct authorization from the secretary of the treasury.

Bank holiday restrictions also were relaxed to permit limited action to meet payrolls.

Orders by Secretary of the Treasury Woodin provided:

Scrip may be issued by clearing houses and other authorized associations, against the sound assets of banking institutions.

Scrip may be delivered by each institution to its creditors and depositors on a pro rata basis.

This was understood to mean that depositors probably would be given a percentage of scrip against their deposits rather than the full amount depending upon the judgment of clearing house authorities in each instance.

Acting under authority granted in the presidential proclamation, Woodin also issued orders today that, subject to certain restrictions, any bank can resume usual functioning to meet the absolute needs of its communities with respect to food, medicine, payment of wages and salaries, relief of distress, for maintaining employment and other necessities of life.

But in no case may gold or gold certificates be paid out.

Secretary Woodin laid the following protective restrictions around the foregoing exceptions:

1. Every precaution must be taken to prevent hoarding or unnecessary withdrawal of currency.

2. No bank shall engage in any transaction in connection with the foregoing which would violate state laws.

Mexicans Going Back to Mexico

FORT WORTH.—The depression is driving the Mexican population of Texas back into Mexico, believes Rev. G. A. Walls, director of the Mexican Presbyterian Mission here.

Two years ago a survey of Fort Worth showed 5,000 residents were Mexicans. Today the number has decreased to approximately 2,000.

The situation is an indication that the days of the "vanishing Mexican" are here, said Rev. Walls. "There are a number of reasons for Mexican inhabitants of the United States to return to Mexico. The first is that their language and nationality prevent many of them from securing jobs during these times."

In four weeks here recently nearly 30 Mexicans were reported for illegal entrance to the United States. Of four taken into custody during last week, two had served in the United States army, Rev. Walls said.

Despite this fact they must now return to their fatherland because of a technical error in their entry more than 15 years ago.

Parole Granted To West Texas Man

AUSTIN, March 7.—A general parole was granted today by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson to O. B. Tanner of Taylor and Nolan counties, convicted of making a false entry.

LONG LOST BROTHER

MAYOR CERMAK LEGISLATURE FUNERAL TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY

CHICAGO, March 7.—Mayor Anton J. Cermak's funeral will be held Friday morning in the Chicago stadium, scene of one of his most outstanding successes.

It was in the stadium that Mayor Cermak, as "boss" of the Illinois delegation to the democratic national convention, swung support to nominate Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidency.

Cermak's body, speeding northward from Miami, where he died yesterday morning, will arrive Wednesday. Thursday morning the casket will be taken to the city hall to lie in state. Friday at 10 a. m., non-sectarian rites will be held at the stadium with burial following in the Bohemian national cemetery.

Their mayor's office today was a center of the city's grief in the passing of the man who was to have been its "world's fair mayor."

Eastland Rotary Presents Awards In Essay Contest

The Eastland Rotary club enjoyed the presence of the four young people in the recent Rotary essay contest among the students of the Eastland high school.

President James Horton in an appreciative talk, gave the smiling young people their awards, Jack Meek, $5; Gates Brelsford, $3; Eleanor Ferguson, $2 and Marie Sheeman, $1.

Frank W. Williams was appointed to represent the Rotary club in the administration of the charity fund, and B. H. Colie, named as program chairman for next week's meeting.

A classification talk was presented by Ben E. Hammer, that brought the lilies to the deserving in his illustrated remarks.

Rotary songs were led by Julius Krause, with Miss Clara June Kimble at the piano.

Guests were Rotarians, H. B. Johnson and Odell Bailey of Ranger; C. Q. Smith of Cisco; the four successful essay contestants; Bill Campbell and F. O. Hunter.

Guard Army To Be Inventoried

Captain Paul W. Taylor of the adjutant's department, is in Ranger today to take a complete inventory of the national guard army supplies and equipment. The inventory will not be a paper inventory, as has been taken in most instances in the past, but will be an actual count of all items in the armory.

All guardsmen are required to be present, in full uniform, in order that a complete check can be made of uniforms and equipment that has been issued.

Oil Companies Enrich Residents

AUSTIN, March 7.—District Judge J. D. Moore of 98th district court here today postponed until after the present session of the Texas legislature the suit against major oil companies for $17,500,000 penalties and charter forfeiture, for alleged violation of the Texas anti-trust laws.

Hoover Keeps in Touch With Bank Situation in U. S.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Former President Hoover kept in close touch with the national banking situation today through a number of callers who saw him in his hotel suite here. Among these who talked with him was Former Secretary of War Patrick Hurley.

Mr. Hoover expects to remain in New York for several days.

Eastland County Red Cross Elects

Representatives of local chapters of the Red Cross met in Cisco Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year.

J. E. Spencer of Cisco was re-elected county chairman with Frank Robinson of Rising Star elected as vice chairman. W. C. Hickey of Ranger was elected as disaster chairman, who will act in case of disasters in the county.

Charlie Moore and H. C. "Andy" Anderson of Ranger were elected as executive committeemen for Ranger for the year.

Reports on the work done over the nation were made by Mrs. Shuman, national representative, and by J. E. Spencer on work done in Eastland county during the past year.

About 40 representatives of the towns over the county were present at the meeting.

Zangara to Be Arraigned Mar. 9

MIAMI, Fla., March 7.—Arraignment of Giuseppe Zangara, slayer of Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago, in a bungled attempt to assassinate Franklin D. Roosevelt, Feb. 15, was postponed to March 9 on the motion of defense counsel.

Zangara was led from the courtroom, still maintaining his air of disdain of a possible penalty of death in the electric chair.

District Agent Of Sinclair Appointed

L. E. Darrah of Denton has been appointed district agent of the Sinclair Oil & Refining company for the Ranger district, to replace W. W. Ince of Dallas, who has been in charge of this district.

Darrah has moved to Ranger with his family and will make his home in the city. At present they are staying at the Gholson hotel until they can find a residence.

Confidence Man Dressed His Part

PUEBLO, Colo.—A confidence man "made up" to play his part in a skin-game here that netted him $12.50.

The man, his hand bandaged and in a sling, appeared at a local shoe company, and presented a check drawn on "The Citizen's State Bank," of Denver. No such bank exists. The check was signed by a casualty company, also non-existent. Across the face was written "for hand injury." The storekeeper, who washed the check after a look at the bandage is virtually certain that the injury also was non-existent.

Word Received Of Death of Daughter Of Former Rangerites

Word was received by Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Larson this morning of the passing away of 9-year-old Laurette Remonte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Remonte, formerly of Ranger, who are at present located in Corpus Christi.

Services were conducted this morning at 10:30 in Corsicana. The large number of friends here extend sincere sympathy to the Remontes in this sad hour of bereavement.

Food Inspector Visits In Ranger

A. F. Kelley, state food and drug inspector, was a visitor in Ranger Monday, inspecting the drug stores, cafes and other places where food and drugs are sold.

He stated that Ranger showed up remarkably well, considering the unsettled conditions and that he was sure that a little more easiness over other worries and more attention would be paid to local sanitary conditions, which would be in keeping with the changes in condition.

The inspector said that Wade Swift, sanitary officer, had a big job in keeping up with the sanitary conditions of the town without his night duties as patrolman.

Texas Scrip Bill Said Not Favored

AUSTIN, March 7.—The senate scrip bill, completely altered to allow issuance of scrip only on bank deposits, was given an unfavorable report today by the senate banking committee.

Previously the committee had favorably reported the measure but reversed its action after Senator T. J. Holbrook had amended the bill to put the issuance of scrip under supervision of the banking commissioner and to allow banks to issue scrip against a firm's deposits.

The vote was 20 for and eight against. A motion to reconsider the vote in the hope of getting the necessary two-thirds majority was made but not acted upon.

Moore Wins Over O'Shea at Ranger Elks Athletic Show

Moore outwrestled Eddie O'Shea in the first main event of wrestling at the Elks club arena in Ranger last night. Moore took the last two falls of the very hard match in short time. He took the second fall in 14 minutes with a body pin. The third and deciding fall was won by "Lig" with a very tight rooking chair split in seven minutes. This event stole the show from start to finish.

Sammy McLaren took two straight falls from Bulldog Roberts after being warned many times by the referee that if they did not stay in the ring he would disqualify both of them. Later in the match Matchmaker Benny Wilson warned both that their purses would be held up if they did not abide by the rules and stay in the ring and wrestle.

The six-round boxing match was won by "Popeye" Cole in 20 seconds of the first round when he took a fast cut at Chuck Woods and Woods slipped through the ropes out of the ring on his head, coming up from the floor a few seconds later looking for the fight.

The club wants to thank the people of Ranger and surrounding communities for the support they have given the wrestling cards and pledge to give you cards that you will enjoy and deserve.

Insurance Bill Passed by Senate

AUSTIN, March 7.—The Texas senate today passed the emergency insurance regulation bill, companion measure to the emergency banking act, but lacked one vote of getting the necessary two-thirds majority to make it effective immediately.

The vote was 20 for and eight against. A motion to reconsider the vote in the hope of getting the necessary two-thirds majority was made but not acted upon.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A LOVE FEAST: Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith.—Proverbs 15: 17.

ENLARGING UNUSED PLANTS

Dr. R. H. Montgomery, professor in economics at the University of Texas, gave the house revenue and taxation committee something to think about on the sales tax bill, which he opposed. He said the sales tax plan takes much-needed dollars out of the consumer's market. He said taxes must come from one of two sources: Consumer market or capital investment.

"Why not take it out of capital investment, which only can go to the expansion of plant, while thousands of hungry jobless men stand in the shadow of idle factories?" he asked. He pointed out the "plant" of the modern organization is over-built. He advocated that for a period of at least a few years, the necessary revenues be taken out of capital investment, and not out of the current dollars that people would otherwise spend for food and clothes—spend "to make the wheels go round."

To economists his theory was not new; to legislators it was startling.

RELIEF BILL PENDING IN MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE

Among the relief bills which were submitted to the Michigan legislature Monday was one to make legal the proclamation by which Gov. William A. Somstock, last week, ordered a banking holiday. Another bill introduced would extend the power of the state banking commissioner to permit him to limit withdrawals after the holiday is ended, while a third bill would invest the governor to deal with the banking situation in the city of Detroit and, if necessary, the entire commonwealth. Republicans were ousted in Michigan from top to bottom in November of last year. Democratic winners came in and now they have the load as well as the responsibility. Is the donkey a beast of burden? He is.

Many people by deep reasoning, and others more or less by instinct, feel that now is the time to pay more attention to business, and less to politics.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

ERIC OSWALD, accountant, auditor and economist on the staff of the Port Hope (Ontario) Evening Guide, says:

"The root idea of capitalism is prospectiveness—looking forward. Prospectiveness implies saving, which means sacrificing present for future needs. This highly commendable virtue, saving, has been extolled from time immemorial. If it were not for saving, civilization would have to live from hand to mouth. A hand-to-mouth existence means a reversion to barbarism.

"This root idea—prospectiveness or looking to the future—is seen everywhere in nature, particularly in regions where extremes of heat and cold have to be foreseen and provided for. Thus mankind, in his fight for existence, is born a capitalist and as a capitalist he goes to his grave.

"Interference with any natural instinct of mankind, or of the lower animals, can have one result only, the ultimate extermination of the species. It is strange that the initiative in propounding schemes to hasten its own end should have been taken by the 'thinking' animal.

"Self-government—excellent in its pure state—becomes self extermination in the corrupt form that has developed through governments, not content with governing, passing legislation, interfering with the natural laws that would be followed by mankind if he were left free to exercise his own free-will and enterprise in looking after his needs.

"People must work for one another; no one can supply all his own needs by his own efforts, and the same law applies to nations.

"One of the greatest abuses of the Capitalistic system is governmental interference with the natural right of mankind to work for one another as economically as possible. One of the most dangerous weapons by which Capitalism has been abused and by which wealth has been unequally distributed is concealed under the cloak of 'Protection'; when exposed it is recognized as the 'Tariff'—a nasty instrument put into the hands of a few to exploit the lives and liberty of many, which in the long run destroys those who may have benefited temporarily.

"It is not the Capitalistic system that must be condemned. It is rather the abuse of the system that is responsible for the evils attributed to it, in error, by people who do not stop to think; by people who, unfortunately, have not sufficient power to analyze the many complex problems that are the outcome of the activities of a progressive civilization."

With BILL MAYES (Continued from page 1) Dad decreed that a new money should be issued, bearing his likeness. The old money lost value and was soon out of circulation, except in the Azores. When one of us would go into a store to make a small purchase we would offer United States money. The storekeeper, not knowing the exact value of the dollar or the correct exchange rate, would give us a double handful of change, some in reis, some in English money, some in old Portuguese money and some in the new Portuguese money. We never knew how much change we got. So the next purchase we would make we would pick out the article we wanted and lay our double handful of assorted change on the counter and would expect the merchant to take his change. We were left with a regular row until we found a day for a buy. We never wrote Albur didn't know when Monmouth were short-changed. The merchant had much he was getting. LABOR SAVING TOOLS By Cowen

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS—By Blosser

One I Love by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANET HILL and ROSE CARLYLE have engaged almost a year. They have put off their marriage because Janet insists they must have $500 in a savings account first. Janet is secretary to BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine, and Rose is employed in an advertising office.

Janet, deeply in love, is not suspicious when Rose begins to make excuses for not coming to see her. One night she breaks an engagement with her and MOL-LIE LAMBERT, who lives across the hall, tells Janet she has seen him with another girl. When Janet asks about this Rose becomes angry, declares their engagement is meaningless and that if Janet really wanted to marry him she would have done so long ago. The quarrel and Janet is miserable.

She learns that the girl Mollie saw with Rose is BETTY KENDALL, niece of a member of the firm for which she works. Betty has taken a job in her uncle's office.

Janet meets Rose on the street and she says she is sorry they quarreled. Janet, thinking he is apologetic, says it was a mistake to put off their marriage and that she is ready to marry him immediately.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XI

It was not feminine intuition that told Janet Hill something was wrong. Anyone could have read the warning in the face of the young man beside her. Janet said, "Oh—!" and stopped, and for an instant her eyes clung to Rose's, questioning. "I—I guess I've made a mistake, she said slowly. "You don't want to get married. Not to me, anyhow. That's what you mean, isn't it?"

"Now please, Janet," said Rose, her voice that had been wistful, frightened was suddenly flat. "That's what you mean," she repeated. "All that you said about me putting off our wedding—about caring more for my job than for you—was just talk. You were trying to put the blame on me! You made it look as though it was my fault but you didn't care. You never could have cared—really!"

The young man interrupted. "I don't know why you have to take it this way!" he protested.

"What other way is there to take it?"

Carlyle frowned. "Oh, what's the use, Janet? Do we have to row about it? Seems to me we had enough of that the other night. Why can't you be sensible?"

"Sensible?" The last syllable rose almost to hysteria. "So that's what I'm to be! You want me to be sensible!"

She had thought he was apologizing, that he was telling her the misery of the past weeks had all been a hideous dream. For one mad, ecstatic moment she had imagined that misunderstandings had been swept away and that Rose still loved her.

"I don't see any reason why we can't still be friends," he went on clumsily. "That's what I was trying to tell you. You know as well as I do it's foolish to talk about getting married."

JANET'S cheeks smarted. A moment before she had told Rose she would marry him any time—this very day. But that wasn't what he wanted. He didn't want to marry her at all. She had practically thrown herself at him and he was asking her to be sensible!

"All right," Janet said. "I'll show you how sensible I can be. The whole thing is easy enough to understand. Anybody could see it! You don't want to be engaged to me now and it's because of this other girl, Betty Kendall—"

"Leave her out of this!" Rose cut in angrily.

HOURS later, sitting in her own room, Janet heard a knock at the door. She did not answer. It might have been Josie or Mrs. Snyder or someone else to say there was a message or a telephone call. Janet sat quite still, curled up in the one big comfortable chair, until whoever had knocked went away.

She looked small, almost childish, with the pink bathrobe wrapped about her, her hair pushed back in careless disarray. The light from the table lamp across the room was subdued. Janet sat in the shadows and tried to tell herself she should be glad things had happened as they had.

"Why should I? Just because they print her picture in the newspapers? Because she's Dwight Kendall's niece and goes to lots of parties and she's rich? Those reasons aren't good enough for me! Oh, I realize they mean a lot to you. Well, you can go ahead and take Miss Kendall to all the theaters and lunches and everything else you want to! Go ahead and marry her, why don't you? That wouldn't be so foolish! Oh, no—it wouldn't be foolish to marry a girl with all the money she has!"

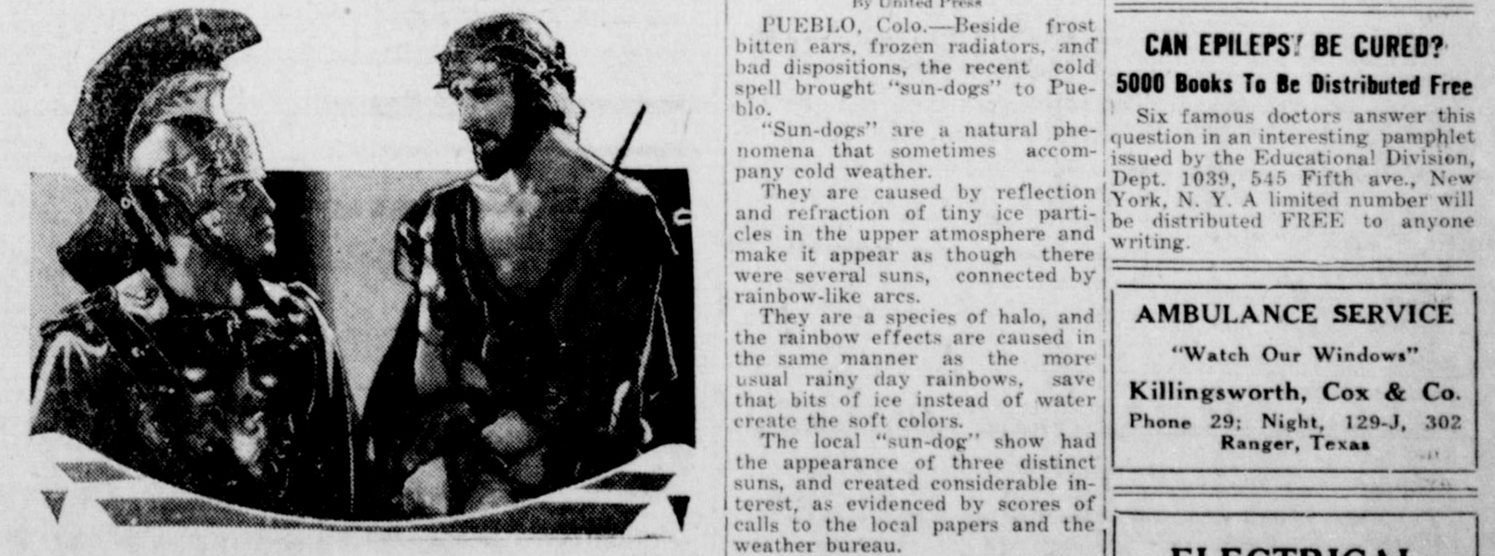

"Janet, for Lord's sake—"

"There's just one thing I want to tell you," the girl went on as though she had not been interrupted. "The other night when I told you I didn't ever want to see you again I didn't mean it. I was sorry afterwards. I didn't mean the other things I said then but I mean them now! It's funny to think I've known you all this time and yet never really understood you. I—I didn't know you were just a fortune hunter!"

Whirling, half-blinded by tears, she turned and almost ran down the street. At the intersection she hailed a taxi, gave the address and sank back gratefully into the sheltering darkness of the cab. The sobs would stay back no longer and Janet let them come.

But all the while she was arguing against a losing cause. Deep in the farthest corner of her heart Janet knew that it was not finished. She could never stop loving Rose. Knowing his faults, recognizing his weaknesses, he was still the man she loved and Janet could not help herself.

Cold Weather Brings "Sun Dogs"

By United Press

PUEBLO, Colo.—Beside frost bitten ears, frozen radiators, and bad dispositions, the recent cold spell brought "sun-dogs" to Pueblo.

"Sun-dogs" are a natural phenomena that sometimes accompany cold weather.

They are caused by reflection and refraction of tiny ice particles in the upper atmosphere and make it appear as though there were several suns, connected by rainbow-like arcs.

They are a species of halo, and the rainbow effects are caused in the same manner as the more usual rainy day rainbows, save that bits of ice instead of water create the soft colors.

The local "sun-dog" show had the appearance of three distinct suns, and created considerable interest, as evidenced by scores of calls to the local papers and the weather bureau.

Women pilots will be flying combat planes in the next war, predicts Amelia Earhart Putnam. Well, if woman flyers like she drives a car, her maneuvers ought to battle the enemy.
