A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE ROAD TO WANT: He that oppreseth the the poor to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich, shall surely come to want.—Proverbs 22: 16.

THOMAS H. McDONALD TAKEN TO TASK

In an editorial in its current issue, The Railway Age challenges the statement of Thomas H. McDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads of the department of agriculture that, "it is absolutely necessary that we build highways for trucks as well as for automobiles," and asserts that the policy of building highway for trucks "as dictated to the state by the bureau of public roads by the use of federal highway aid appropriations as a club, IS ECONOMICALLY UNSOUND FROM EVERY STANDPOINT AND THAT THEREFORE THE CLUB SHOULD BE WITHDRAWN BY THE DISCONTINUANCE OF FEDERAL HIGHWAY APPROPRIATION."

The Railway Age publishes data showing that highways built for heavy trucks are costing $5000 to $10,000 a mile more than highways built for automobiles and light trucks and this is resulting "in excess highway investment and maintenance for truck transportation so great that the taxpayer whose money is being invested can never possibly get a return upon it." Then The Age asks this question: "The public already has piled upon its own back a load of taxes to provide highways for trucks which it cannot afford to bear. A continuance of the highway policy dictated by the bureau of public roads would simply be a continuance of one of those policies of wildly extravagant government expenditures for which there never was and never can be any economic justification and which are largely responsible for the economic plight in which the American people now find themselves."

Thomas H. McDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture, has the floor. He is a very ready debater as well as a very fascinating writer and bears the reputation of having never dodged an issue concerning highways or their cost.

WYOMING LAWMAKERS DECLARE FOR STATE REPEAL

Wyoming in territorial days gave the ballot to women. Wyoming has a drastic state enforcement act. Wyoming changed front last November. A sweeping majority over the republicans was returned to the democratic nominees from president all down the line. Now the Wyoming senate concurred in a house amendment to a bill legalizing 4 per cent beer and repealing the dry enforcement act of the commonwealth. By the way, three of the 18 Texas representatives in congress made a last ditch fight against the repeal movement. Reps. Blanton, Sanders and Patman voted against it.

Permission to the trio to do this was granted the Texans by action of the democratic caucus. Senator Sheppard went down with colors flying when the vote was taken for submission of the repeal amendment. Senator Connally voted for submission. Senator Sheppard is the author of the 18th amendment. He declined to disfigure his own banking. Regardless of this, Sheppard is a regular and goes all the way. Connally is a regular and ever on the firing line for all legislation which he believes to be best for the American people and for the relief of those who are clamoring for low taxes and foreign markets for the surplus staples of farm and factory and mill and mines.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

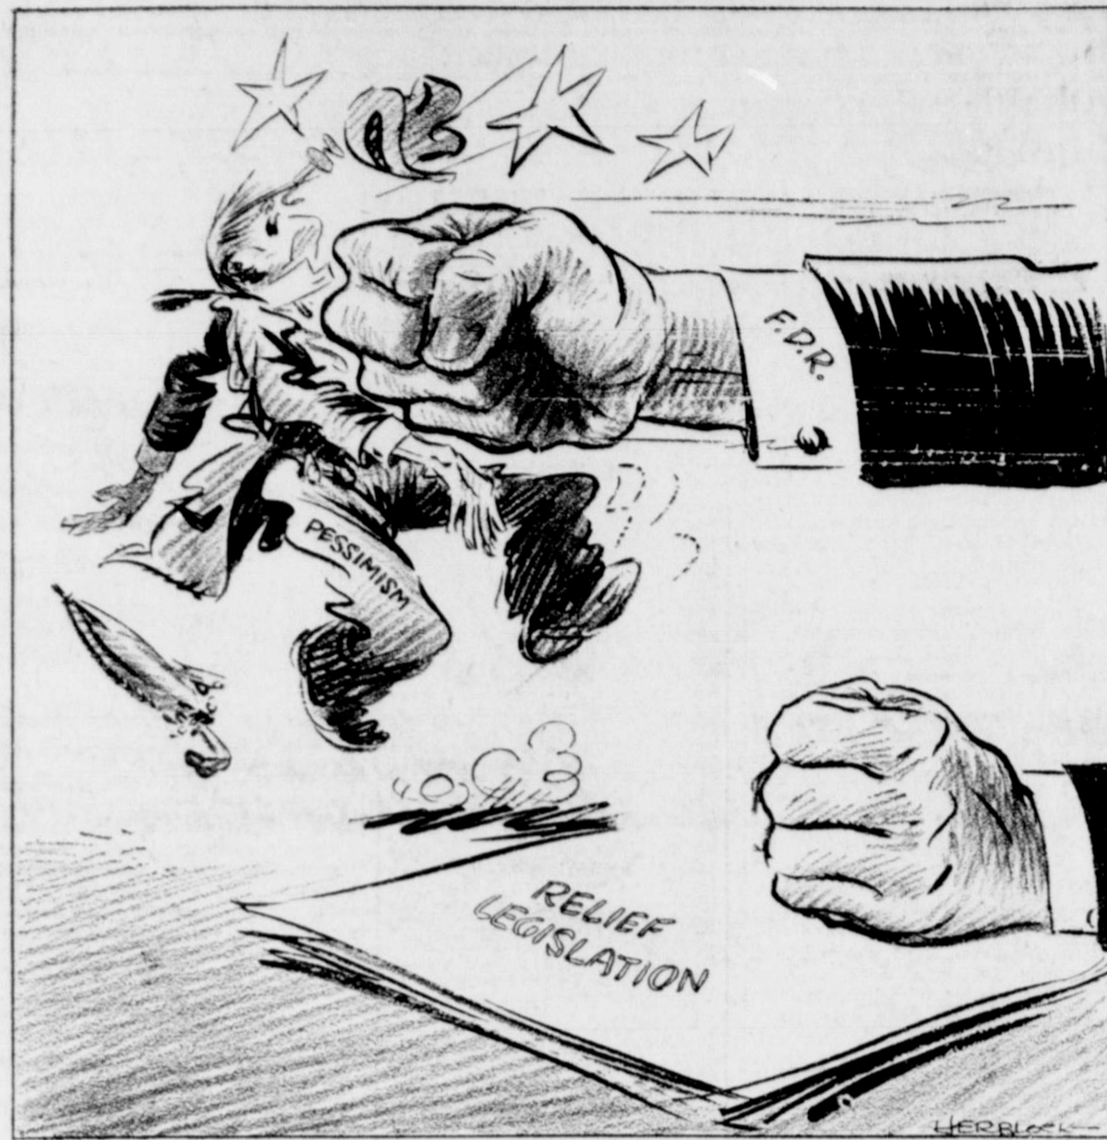

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT Alaska has plenty of coal veins 40 feet thick distributed over thousands of square miles, produces as good berries as California, as good potatoes as Michigan, as fine wheat as Minnesota, and as gorgeous flowers as Florida, yet Alaska has not been advertised and, therefore, nobody knows of its wonderful resources. Consequently, so far as the vast proportion of our people is concerned, Alaska, the wonderful, might as well not possess these advantages.

It is so in business. You may sell better groceries, make better shoes, or compound better soap than your competitor—you know this, but the world does not. They read your competitor's ad and buy his wares, and you wonder why you don't get the business. Why? Just because you do not tell your story to the world through advertising. Printers' ink is the best lubricant to make the wheels of business run smoothly and constantly. Don't let the machine stall and wear out the bearings through lack of printers' oils.

Do people read advertising? Try it out by placing before anybody a score of the common ads that have made fortunes for their owners. Every one of these ads will be immediately recognized.

Dealing With Both Hands

Banks of Section

M. E. Daniel, president of the First National bank, said that $5,000 was deposited in the First National bank Wednesday morning before a penny was withdrawn.

"Close check has been kept and we are sure that only money necessary for payrolls and living expenses, was taken from the bank today," said Mr. Daniel.

Apparently not pessimistic over the long banking holiday, those who crowded the bank transacted business as usual and expressed satisfaction on reopening of the banks.

ABILENE BANK HEADS DELIGHTED WITH BUSINESS

ABILENE, March 16.—Reopening of Abilene banks, at 9 o'clock yesterday, was "just another day." Although they had been officially closed since the night of March 1—Texas Independence day, March 2, followed by the banking holiday—customers were on hand in only normal numbers.

The day passed without a single unusual incident, and no abnormal cash withdrawals. Presidents of both banks were delighted. They made these statements: George L. Paxton Sr., Citizens National—"The situation is completely normal. Cash withdrawals this morning were negligible in comparison to deposits. Although we looked for brisk withdrawals from savings accounts, from depositors whose cash ran out during the holiday, we have not had one complete withdrawal, and only a few partial withdrawals where money was transferred from savings to checking account."

Henry James, Farmers & Merchants National—"The whole situation has improved immeasurably since the holiday went on. Our deposits this morning have been large; withdrawals, next to nothing in comparison. These have been entirely normal. We have not had to question a single withdrawal."

An inquiring reporter with a passion for statistics posted himself Wednesday morning in the Citizens bank lobby, from 9 to 9:15 a. m. and in the F. & M. lobby from 9:30 to 9:45. Keeping cases on two teller windows in each institution, the following went into his notebook: Of the first 20 customers at the four windows, 14 made deposits of checks with no withdrawals; five made both deposits and withdrawals, and one made a withdrawal only. That was a crisp $10 bill. It was impossible to estimate total amount of deposits from the 20 customers, but the reporter estimated that more than 500 checks went through the windows for deposits. Most of the five withdrawals were in one-dollar bills.

The reporter is willing to gamble that the ratio of deposits against withdrawals was at least 10 to 1.

The fact that the rent is due again, the income tax blank is waiting, and the coal pile is dwindling may be the reason for that far-away look in dad's eyes as he drops crumbs to the gold-fish.

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

In the stillness of the night a girl laughed, a boy called out in intoxicated enthusiasm, a bottle crashed to the street . . . and they were gone, around a quick corner. That's what it's all about.

That's why some of us want repeat . . . why some of us do not. It depends on how you look at it. The question includes all sorts of things . . . the budget, the bottle, the breath. It's up to the people.

Comes the news: olive oil produced in Greece this year will weigh more than 100 tons. It sounds bad for the youngsters, doesn't it? But such an appropriate, Greece-y product.

Fort Worth is excited over young Roosevelt's brief visit. Sons of famous men usually create talk and interest. It's good publicity for dad. After all the craning of necks and reading of papers, some bright soul always remembers who the father is.

They tell us about the days when it was quite fashionable to gather around the family organ for a medley of hymns each night. Those were the days of lamp chimneys, celluloid collars and family circles.

They used to pull candy, too, and sister's beau wore red socks and spats . . . and the curfew rang with a decisive note. And everyone was dissatisfied with life and went about discovering and inventing things. We settle back now and blow smoke-rings and sigh contentedly . . . self-satisfaction.

And that, gentle reader, is why we've settled into the beer and bank rut. We're letting the politicians and bankers do the work . . . we can't get it. When they figure conditions out, we'll find something to do.

Mr. Brisbane seems to think the rapid and progressive growth of Southern California has created jealousy elsewhere. For that reason, he writes, the recent shake-up on the coast will probably be greatly exaggerated in other parts of the country.

He has, no doubt, forgotten the death and injured lists. Even pride and love for a state doesn't make one wish to become a target for falling bricks . . . the victim of upsetting tremors. No, Mr. Brisbane, it isn't jealousy that makes us thankful we're Texans.

One I Love by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY JANET BILL breaks her engagement...

Janet is still much in love with Rolf and, though she tries, can not forget him...

They are on a dark street when a man catches Janet's arm and demands her purse...

On the way home Janet and Jeffrey decide to 'adopt' the Silvanis...

Coming home he says to Janet, 'I wonder if you would do something for me...'...

JEFFREY GRANT heard all this enthusiastically. 'Why, sure!' he exclaimed...

He talked about other things until they reached the rooming house...

She tossed aside her hat and coat and sank into a chair...

Whatever her worries may have been about Jeffrey Grant...

Presently Janet arose and began to prepare the meal...

It was Jeffrey's idea but Janet instantly fell in with it...

She telephoned his office Wednesday morning and when Grant's low-pitched voice came to her...

HERE AND THERE

HERE AND THERE On Friday, March 17, thoughts will turn to that famous monk...

Of all the rich and almost unbelievable history of Ireland it seems strange that the character of St. Patrick should remain unperpetuated in the minds of generations...

The early history of Ireland is enveloped in fable. The Celt attained possession in a prehistoric period and the island has remained chiefly Celtic ever since.

St. Patrick converted the people from heathenism to Christianity though the majority of the people and the natives were little better than savages for centuries.

The mission of St. Patrick is supposed to have begun in 432, and all through there is much obscurity and confusion in the acts of St. Patrick...

He founded churches and schools, and educated a priesthood, and was a great missionary and guided by much good sense.

From the beginning, the church of St. Patrick was monastic. A tradition exists that at the instance of St. Patrick the laws were purified by a commission of which he was a member...

St. Patrick's real name was Patrick and he came from near the site of Kiltpatrick, Scotland. His zeal prompted him to cross the channel...

High School P.-T. A.
Interesting Meeting

The Parent-Teacher association of Eastland high school held their regular once-a-month meeting in the school auditorium, Wednesday afternoon, with session opened by their president, Mrs. J. M. Perkins, and then put in charge of Mrs. W. P. Palm, program chairman, who presented the junior high school choral club, a group of 30 girls, and who entertained with several smart selections, directed by Mrs. Joe A. Gibson, with Mrs. F. O. Hunter as accompanist.

The songs were those to be used at the interscholastic meet by this club. The Camp Fire Girls, Chant group put on a clever program exemplifying their slogan, "Making the Most of Me," in a talk by Jane Johnson, followed by a small skit acted by Carolyn Doss, Clara June Kimple, Eleanor Ruth Ferguson and Edith Meek.

Mrs. J. Leroy Arnold was timely in a short address, "Can Texas afford to invest $7.50 annually in the Education Per Capita of Her Children?" The speaker pointed out that the per capita had been reduced each year instead of being increased and that Texas should expend more on the education of coming citizens.

The usual business routine was then assumed and announcements made of the first district convention P.-T. A., in Ranger, March 30-April 1, and delegates representing Eastland High School P.-T. A. elected, in Mrs. J. M. Perkins, their president, and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, incoming president; alternates, Mrs. J. Leroy Arnold, secretary, and Mrs. W. P. Palm, program chairman.

The Eastland County Council P.-T. A. was announced for Saturday, March 25, in Eastland high school auditorium. All P.-T. A.'s are invited.

The loan art exhibit which opens Monday in the domestic science suite of Eastland high school, will be on view to and through Friday, with the literary society of 35 girls as hostesses under chairmanship of the president of the society, L. G. Tucker, assisted by Betty Perkins, vice president, and Lurline Bravner, secretary.

At conclusion of session, Mrs. L. C. Brown, hostess for the P.-T. A. served refreshments of cake and hot tea in the cafeteria to the 20 or more who attended the session.

Little Card Club
Mrs. James H. Cheatham Jr. was hostess to the Little Card club Tuesday afternoon, when the two tables for contract were occupied by members, Mmes. Carl Angstadt, Curtis A. Hertz, Alex Clarke, Theodore Ferguson, James H. Cheatham Jr. and Mrs. McMurray of Cisco, and guests, substitutes for absent members, Mrs. Lonnie King and Mrs. Ross Bell of Thurber.

At the tea hour the hostess served a pretty plate of sandwiches.

You Can Have a Lovely Skin
New, wonderful MELLO-GLO face powder stays on longer, hides tiny lines and wrinkles, prevents large pores. Banishes ugly shine, none of that drawn, "pasty" look. Eastland County Federation Meets Saturday
All clubs are reminded of the Eastland County Federation meeting to be held in Gorman Saturday of this week at 2:30 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. William Reagan of Cisco, chairman of program for this meeting will feature a parliamentary drill, and Mrs. W. E. Shafter, sixth district chairman American Homes, T. F. W. C., will sponsor an exhibition of hooked rugs, preliminary showing to their entrance in the sixth district convention to be held in April.

Martha Dorcas Class Party Tomorrow Night
Friday night the Martha Dorcas Bible class of the Methodist Sunday school will hold their usual class meeting instead of in the afternoon as customary and will have as guests their husbands and other friends for this entertainment of a St. Patrick nature, when a program in keeping with the day will be featured.

Each one attending is requested to bring a "white elephant," or something that hangs heavy on their hands, which will be disposed of for the benefit of the class treasury.

A unique entertainment is promised by the class for the occasion, Mmes. George Brodson, W. R. Durr, L. B. Lippard, W. H. Wahl, J. W. Atchely, J. B. Johnson, and Charles C. Robey.

Mrs. Blankenship Hostess To Club
Mrs. J. D. Blankenship entertained the K. K. Klub in a most delightful fashion at her home Wednesday afternoon, when flowers used in decoration, the bridge tables for the game and the tallies and score books were carried out in the green and white color motif with artistic use of the shamrock in recognition of St. Patrick's day.

Bride covers of white cloth had decorations of shamrocks, and Irish boy and girl were the novel score books.

Prize for high score in game, a hand-made linen luncheon set of cloth and four napkins, was awarded Mrs. D. E. Carter; and second high score favor in game, a pair of silhouettes, framed, went to Mrs. Charles T. Lucas.

At 5 o'clock the green crystal tea plate with white lace doily had refreshment of cream-frosted bread sandwiches, molded cheese salad on lettuce, potato flakes, pickles, and pumpkin pie with green-tinted whipped cream topping, and leaf tea. Places at tea table were indicated by "nut cups" filled with green and white candies.

Members present were: Mmes. Claud Maynard, Morgan Myers, D. S. Eubanks, C. T. Lucas, D. E. Carter, J. D. Blankenship, and guests, Mrs. W. E. Brasher and Miss Lavelle Hendrick.

Mrs. Wood Butler was elected a new member at this meeting, adjourned to two weeks hence, with Mrs. J. A. Stover as hostess.

with combination vegetable salad, and coffee.

Book Club Enjoys Study
Mrs. James A. Jarboe was hostess to the Book Club of Eastland Wednesday afternoon at her home. Following the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Lloyd E. Edwards, the book discussion of George Elliott and her works, was interestingly brought by Mrs. Virgil T. Seabery.

The clubs will meet for 1 o'clock luncheon with book session following on March 29 with Mrs. W. E. Chaney.

Those present, Mmes. Walter I. Clark, Neal Day, L. E. Edwards, John W. Turner, Harry Porter, Virgil T. Seabery, Milburn McCarty, James A. Jarboe, W. E. Chaney, and Theodore Ferguson.

Mrs. William Shirriffs Hostess
The M. L. S. club enjoyed an afternoon of sewing and chatting at the home of Mrs. William Shirriffs Wednesday.

Plans for the play program for the coming social of the Home Makers class were outlined by Mrs. Artie Liles, social chairman for this organization.

All members of the M. L. S. club are active members of the class mentioned. Mrs. W. T. Morgan, club member was reported ill at her home.

The hostess served an attractive salad on lettuce, with wafers, iced tea, and cake with white and green cocanut topping from the tea wagon laid in madeira and with St. Patrick's day decorations.

The club will meet next week with Mrs. Liles.

Mrs. Corzelius in Town
Mrs. Curtis F. Corzelius, a former resident of Eastland, and very popular, arrived from Fort Worth Wednesday for a four days visit to be spent between the homes of Mrs. Earl Conner and guest, her daughter, Mrs. Beth Reineman; Mrs. P. G. Russell, and Mrs. McMurray, at her home in Cisco.

Knights of Pythias Bestow Rank
The Knights of Pythias held their recent meeting with 20 members in attendance and Mrs. Pulley of Gorman, a visitor.

The first rank was conferred on P. L. Crossley, with H. C. Davis acting chancellor commander, and Ira L. Hanna, acting prelate officiating with degree work under the supervision of Karl K. White.

Several talks for the good of the order were made by members.

At close of session refreshments of cake and hot chocolate were served.

Mrs. Corzelius Entertained
Mrs. Gilbert Reinsman of Gladewater entertained at the home of her mother, Mrs. Earl Conner, with an informal 1 o'clock luncheon yesterday, honoring Mrs. Curtis F. Corzelius of Fort Worth, the guest of Mmes. Conner and Reineman for the day.

The luncheon table laid in hand-made madeira was centered with a crystal vase of sweetpeas and ferns with the color motif of green and white and pastel shades carried out in all details, and in the place cards of shamrocks, indicating the St. Patrick motif of appointments.

The menu of grapefruit cocktail, had salad plate, with chicken croquettes, new potatoes, hot rolls, and last course of fruit frappe, green tinted whipped cream topping, and coffee.

Guests for this attractive affair were Mmes. Lloyd E. Edwards, Carl Angstadt, Austin H. Furse, J. H. Cheatham Jr., McMurray of Cisco, Miss Merle Ticer, Mrs. Reinsman of Gladewater, and Mrs. Corzelius of Fort Worth, the honoree.

Nephew of Mrs. Kuykendall Is Wed to Kansas City Girl
Everett Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bryant of Cross Plains, was married to Miss Anna Vernon Meredith of Kansas City, yesterday at high noon in Fort Worth, with the Dr. James K. Thompson of the Presbyterian church reading the pretty rite ceremony.

The bride, beautifully attired in a model of shell pink, wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias and lilies of the valley, offsetting her bridal costume in a colorful fashion.

Wedding party personnel included the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant, and house guest, Mrs. Charles Findley of Oklahoma City, Dr. and Mrs. Kuykendall and daughter, Alla Rae, and niece, Miss Virginia Acree.

A very personal and interesting connection is that the favored Dr. Thompson also read the service uniting in marriage Dr. and Mrs. Kuykendall and is a valued friend of long standing.

The young couple have the sincere good wishes of many Ranger people since the bridegroom has visited in the Kuykendall home frequently and has acquired a large number of friends and pleasing acquaintances.

Following several days visit to interesting Texas cities, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant will be at home temporarily in Cross Plains.

Ranger College Will Present a Style Show
The members of the first year class of the Junior College of Ranger will present their annual style show Wednesday afternoon, March 22, at 2 o'clock in the high school auditorium. They promise some of the latest new creations from New York and Paris. See them and select your new Easter frock or that new evening gown that you are going to buy. The leading dry goods stores of Ranger will be represented and you will have the opportunity of seeing the latest in style in the revue.

Methers Singers Meeting This Evening at 7:30
Every member of the Methers Singers club is strongly requested to be present for rehearsal this evening at the Methodist church at 7:30. The practice will be opened sharply at the appointed hour and the director, Mrs. C. E. May, asks a 100 attendance.

Program Enjoyed By Class
A very interesting program was enjoyed by the members of Central Baptist Church last evening. The service was conducted by Norman Wagner, with Clyde Pursuer as song leader, and Mrs. Frank Hicklin at the piano. Misses Myrtle Stiles and Opal Carter sang two beautiful numbers. The young men's quartette composed of Ray Taylor, Arnold and Clyde Pursuer and Bobbie Powell favored the audience with a well chosen number. The study was the life of Paul with Mrs. F. D. Hicks speaking of Paul, his home life and education. Mrs. Frank Hicklin brought a resume of his missionary tours and Mrs. Alice D. True finished the discussion with the subject, "Paul's sermon to the unknown God." This unusually inspiring evening was closed in prayer by Morris Jeffries.

Dance Guests Eager For Arrival of Baker Blue Boys
As the clock indicates another hour has faded and drawing the time closer when the Baker Blue Boys from Baker hotel at Mineral Wells will arrive to play for the dance to be given at the Ranger Country club, tomorrow evening, each guest grows a bit more impatient to witness the appearance which the club is going to present for the St. Patrick Day occasion. Mildly is lingering over which dance frock will prove the most becoming and is carefully choosing her complete accessories. Yes! another successful dance shall be enjoyed at the club Friday evening by a select group of dance lovers.

Ruth Chatterton In Most Dramatic Film
One of the most dramatic court scenes ever showed upon the screen takes place in the First National picture, "Frisco Jenny," which is now showing at the Arcadia Theatre.

Here is that Ruth Chatterton, as "Frisco Jenny," is pilloried on the stand by her own son, who is ignorant of the fact that she is his mother. She sits silent as he accuses her of being the evil genius of the Barbary Coast, notorious for its evil dives and its illicit traffic in women. Nor does she open her lips when she is convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged, for, paragon of evil that she is, mother love withholds her from making known the facts she knows will destroy him.

Ruth Chatterton's role in "Frisco Jenny," is by far the most emotional one she has had since "Madame X." The picture affords her a rare opportunity to display that great histrionic ability which has elevated her to her present high estate.

This is a stirring tale of San Francisco's water front along the Embarcadero in the days when temples of pleasure and gambling dens flourished unmolested in all their gilded evil.

EASTLAND PERSONAL
Mr. and Mrs. Dave Carter, Mrs. Jim Deck, Mr. Sherrell and L. Beeson are visitors in Fort Worth today.

Al Mayfield, Misses Thelma and Viola Harris were in Fort Worth Wednesday visitors at the Fat Stock Show.

Mrs. Margaret Hassley returned Tuesday from Arizona where she has been visiting the past few days.

Miss Geanne V. Kurtz of California is visiting friends in Eastland.

Mr. Martin Talks to Home Economics Club
E. L. Martin, head of the shoe department at Joseph Dry Goods company, spoke to members of the Home Economics club Wednesday, on "The Kind and Style of Shoes," Mr. Martin particularly stressed the importance of the low-heeled shoe.

The club enjoyed the talk very much and would like to have Mr. Martin with them again soon.
