KEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

With BILL MAYES

It had so much trouble arranging the dates of the junior scholastic meet at Olden that I feel some hesitancy in announcing dates for the county meet and the district meet. However, we asked Coach Eckman and very carefully copied the details he gave us and they are right. The story sent over from Olden by special correspondent, had dates of the junior meet right in setting the heading for the story a typographical error, or something, was made. A typographical error is an editor's false alibi as it sounds like the mistake has been made by the printer even though it might be the fault of the editor in the first place. Anyway, the meet was to be held Saturday, March 18, and was given in the story that date was given in the head it had Friday. When we tried to correct it, a mistake crept in, probably from the department, and we had it changed to Friday, March 18. There was no date this year. Someone left a note on our copy saying that it had been postponed until Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25. We checked the dates on the calendar and found that Saturday would be the day and being a trusting soul, I was another correction. We find that someone was wrong. We have our own idea of who it was but are afraid to make rash statements about it, we will take the blame, if any, for the county track meet, for class B schools will be held in Olden on Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25. And although we was steadfastly refused to let the outcome of elections or small games and have never been in for forecasting earthquakes or weather conditions, we go so far as to say that at a distance it looks like the high school is in a fair way of winning. They have all a complete track team of 10th year athletes, if we remember right, so they should go places with things at Olden next Saturday, when the finals are run off. On April 14 and 15, the district track meet will be held in Olden. This meet includes schools from Eastland, Stephens, Erath, Fritzi, Hood and Somersville. Another prediction could be made with comparative safety in connection with the district meet. If the wind isn't blowing a gale and the sward drifts it can drift in western Texas then there will be at least one small feature of the district meet. Remember very distinctly in a roadster and helping G. Lanier try to hold down a piece of cardboard about the size of a table top, while he wrote in scores brought to him by the winners of the various events, while the wind whipped sand here and there near the grounds, filling our ears and mouth, not to mention our clothes, with sand. The track was in good condition, but the wind was so strong the runners when they faced it, found the going pretty slow.

Fritzi Scheff, Broke, Finds Friends Loyal

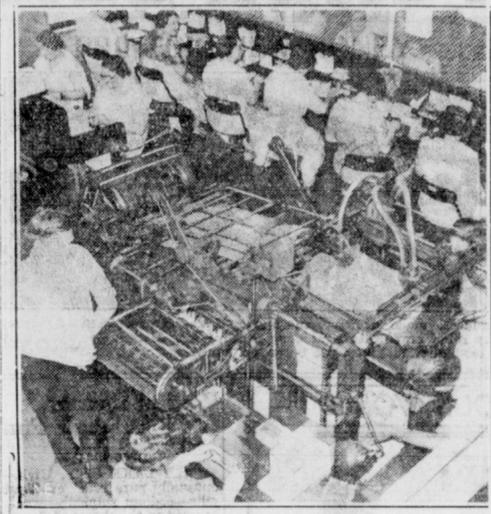

Returning broke and almost homeless to Broadway where she once was the toast of the town, Fritzi Scheff (above), Viennese prima donna, found that her New York friends hadn't forgotten her. Earning she was threatened with the loss of her Connecticut cottage through mortgage foreclosures, they planned to offer her a loan. It was the "Kiss Me Again" aria from Victor Herbert's "Mlle. Modiste" that made Fritzi Scheff a household name a generation ago.

TIMES COOKING SCHOOL HAS A LARGE CROWD

A large crowd of interested women greeted Mrs. Martha McDonald as she made her lecture opening the Ranger Times Free Cooking School today. The school, a semi-annual affair of the Times, is held on the first floor of the Masonic temple, where a "Happy Kitchen" is arranged on a stage. Besides the perfect as well as beautiful kitchen equipment, many interesting displays are arranged around the hall, consisting of groceries, shoes, washing machines, dishes, a radio, and other things interesting to women who wish to make their homes beautiful as well as useful. Mrs. McDonald is a noted lecturer and food expert and brings new ideas and practical suggestions in her lectures. She has lived in Dallas for 25 years and this is her first trip to Ranger. She is well pleased with the town and people. She says her purpose during this series of lectures is to help the housewives make a practical and happy kitchen; happy because they are practical. She is also going to stress that the ladies go to the store and do their own marketing and getting acquainted with their groceryman. Everybody in Ranger and surrounding communities are urged to attend and get these helpful lectures free of charge as a courtesy of the Ranger Times. Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. W. A. McMillian, Olden. Mrs. J. V. McKinley, Olden. Mrs. Carl Jones, Olden. Mrs. H. H. Russell, Olden. Mrs. Jewel Reeves, Olden. Mrs. Ed Graham, Eastland. Mrs. C. W. Hoffman, Eastland. ### ROOSEVELT IS READY FOR HIS RELIEF WORK

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A "direct attack" on the unemployment problem was proposed by President Roosevelt in a special message to congress today. Congressional machinery immediately went into speedy action on the president's proposals. He estimated 250,000 men would be put to work by early summer if his program for reforestation and flood control is accepted. Mr. Roosevelt proposed procedure along three lines: 1—Enrollment of workers for quick public employment. 2—Grants to states for relief work. 3—Creation of a broad, public works labor program. The president asked further appropriations to the states for relief work, declaring the remainder of last year's appropriation would last only until May. Establishment of a relief administration "whose duty it will be to scan requests for grants and to check the efficiency and wisdom of their use." Mr. Roosevelt said, would provide a "simple administrative machinery" for relief administration. Mr. Roosevelt said the type of work he proposed "is of definite practical value, not only through the prevention of great financial loss, but also as a means of creating future national wealth."

Speaker of the House Rainey and Vice President Garner must sign as a matter of formality. The measure will then be sent to the White House, probably tomorrow, where President Roosevelt will sign his name and the beer bill included in the statutes of the United States. A federal tax of $5 per barrel would be levied together with a manufacture permit for each brewery. Estimates of increased revenue run from $125,000,000 in the first year of operation to $15,000,000. In conjunction with the economy and reorganization program the administration hopes to use the beer taxes to balance the national budget.

Rev. W. H. Joyner Fills Pulpit At Eastland Revival

Rev. William H. Joyner arrived in Eastland from San Antonio yesterday in time for the night service of the Baptist revival, which opened in that church with Sunday morning sermon by Rev. O. E. Darby. The speaker addressed a packed house on the subject, "What Men Need Most," taken from First John, fifth verse, "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." Supplemented by Hebrews 11:1, "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." The speaker declared the great need of the world today was faith, put into practice, and that we need the faith in ourselves, and here, quoted a poem by Edgar Guest, relative to invincible faith. He stated that all great things that had been accomplished, resulted from self-faith, that propelling faith that forces us to do things, and cited the illustrious Lindbergh. The second point made by Rev. Joyner, we need faith in others, especially at this time, and a glorious revival of faith and confidence in our fellowmen is needed. How many tragedies, how many suicides, in late months have been caused by loss of faith in others, declared the speaker. Third, we need faith in God, he said, and that this is exactly the time to have that faith, the time when all our plans have failed. That we Christians need a conquering faith, and sinners need a saving faith, and that we must believe that God is with us. The speaker emphasized, he doesn't bring his revival in his vest pocket, but that God brought the revival as a result of prayer and work; that we needed more kneeling than theology. Rev. Joyner is a forceful speaker with a resonant, kindly voice that carries conviction back of his Congressional oratorical training. Services will be conducted each morning at 10 o'clock, and each evening at 7:30 by Rev. Joyner. The public is invited to attend.

THIS has been one of the best financial years in the history of hockey along the northern borders of the United States. In Detroit new records in attendance were written. Standing room was sold liberally in New York, Boston and other cities of the hockey major leagues.

Indoor Track Draws

NEW YORK'S indoor track shows did not suffer because of banking holidays. More than 12,000 people saw Cunningham defeat Venke in their duel for mile supremacy and saw Keith Brown, the young Yale pole vaulter, soar above the 14 unattainable feet of a few years ago.

Fighters Get It

THERE are not enough good fighters around to make it interesting, but when a good fight comes along it brings out the musty greenbacks. The Fields-Corbett welterweight championship battle at San Francisco which drew $50,000 goes to show that the fans will buy it when they think it's going to be the McCoy.

Nuisance May Be Source of Industry

By United Press
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—The aspen growth of the northwest, hitherto regarded as a nuisance by farmers, may become the source of a new industry and give Minnesota a new source of income.

Experiments conducted at the University of Minnesota under the auspices of Ralph E. Montanna, associate professor of chemistry, show that a high grade of alpha cellulose can be made from the aspen. Alpha cellulose is used in the manufacture of cellophane and rayon fabric.

The research was conducted as part of the rehabilitation program instituted last summer by Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota.

unselfish work will continue the usefulness of this organization, one of the finest with which America has been blessed.

THE KID . . . . . By Laufer

A lot of people think Joe Cronin, new leader of the Washington Senators, and youngest mentor in the big leagues, has a tough row to hoe in his first year as manager. But the fact is that Joe has probably the best all-round organization in the American League with which to make his debut.

Headed by Crowder and Weaver, and with good support from Stewart, Russell, Whitehill and Thomas, Joe has one of the best pitching staffs in baseball. Manush, Goslin, Myer and himself, with frequent punch from Blucge, Schulte, Kuhel and Sewell, make the hitting all he could ask for.

Joe's big problem is to play his position at short and handle the team at the same time without allowing either activity to interfere with the other. And then, too, he may have some trouble making some of the veterans mind him.

SPEAKING of SPORTS

By DON CHAMBERLAIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

PEKIN, Ill.—One of the most unusual questions of eligibility of athletes is going to arise here this spring.

Jim Bluejacket, Indian athlete, son of the great Jim Bluejacket, hurler of I. M. League baseball fame, who now is a student at Pekin high school, is 19 years old and will observe his 20th birthday the day of the state interscholastic track meet in Champaign in May.

State high school eligibility rules require that students upon reaching their 20th milestone drop from competition.

Young Bluejacket, although handling the javelin for the first time last year, won the event in the district high school meet and unless some "dark horse" steps into the picture should duplicate his achievement this spring.

Now, winning the district automatically qualifies an athlete for the state meet and Bluejacket still will be within the age limit the Friday afternoon when the state preliminaries are held, but will be ineligible to compete in the finals the following morning.

In field events, preliminary distances are considered in the final placings.

In other words, according to the literal interpretation of the eligibility rules, Bluejacket must win his event in the state meet in the preliminaries.

Pekin fans, however, are wondering if a liberal interpretation of the rules might not make Bluejacket eligible for the finals inasmuch as he will qualify at the start of the meet.

Crisis Brought Out Old Coins

By United Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo.—The banking crisis caused a wholesale search in old trunks, bureau drawers and flower vases in quest of change.

It was the cause of Charles W. Porter rediscovering some ancient coins that had been in his family many years. One of the coins bore particular significance in connection with banking difficulties.

It was coined in 1883, when the United States was undergoing a money stringency. It is a Columbia half dollar coined as a souvenir of the World's Fair of 1893; it happens that the World's Fair of 1933 will be held this year in Chicago.

A more ancient coin Porter found was a half dollar issued in 1825. It is somewhat larger than the present half dollar. On one side is a likeness of the Goddess of Liberty, with 13 stars. On the other is the American eagle and the familiar "E Pluribus Unum."

Exporters Will Have New Team In Texas League

Editor's Note: Herewith is the fifth of the series telling of Texas League baseball teams.

By United Press

BEAUMONT, Texas.— Tradition prescribes that the Beaumont Exporters be a new machine each year and that is being carried out to even greater extent this year.

Absent from the roll of players which carried the Exporters to the Texas League championship last year are such men as Hank Greenberg, Art Herrings, Schoolboy Rowe, Izzy Goldstein, Pete Fox, Luke Hamlin, Buck Morrow and Frank Reiber.

Some of the players will be returned to the Exporters if they fail to make the grade with the Detroit Tigers, father of the Beaumont chain club. But notwithstanding this depletion of ranks Business Manager Bobby Stow looks to his Exporters to repeat this year last season's performance.

Stow's forecast came without consideration that some of the 1932 Exporters would be returned here. Stow, however, does take into consideration the fact that the Tigers may ship other men here who heretofore have not worn the Beaumont uniform.

Tradition of team changes is carried out this year in one more particular. Manager Del Baker of the 1932 Exporters has gone to the Tigers as team coach. Bob Coleman, veteran catcher once with the Pittsburgh Pirates, is filling Baker's shoes. He here had previous experience in the Texas League. He had a three year tenure as manager of the San Antonio Indians beginning in 1925.

The outfield of the Exporters lacks but one old face from last year's team. Pete Fox, champion league batter last year, is not on this year's club. Pound 'Em Paul Easterling again will be stationed in left field. Fred Tandy returns to fight against rookies and recruits for center field.

The outfield material on hand include Tommy Hughes, who was with Toronto, San Antonio and Beaumont, last year; Hugh Shelton, who was with the San Antonio Wilbanks and Hubert Bates, both from Moline.

Ray Fritz, a turn-around hitter who ended the season with Beaumont last year, is rated as the best candidate to fill Greenberg's place at first base. Two other tryouts are Ignatius Walters from the Moline and Decatur farms of the Tigers system, and Clarence Phillips.

A shift of Herman Clifton from short to second makes room for Lamar Newsome, utility man last year, in the infield. He will play short with Hal Patchett the best bet for third base. Patchett played with Moline last year, leading the Mississippi Valley league for stolen bases with 35 and was rated as the best infielder of the circuit.

Coleman is flush with infield material. The list includes Ben Catchings, Chester Morgan, Franklin Marshall and others from Moline and Decatur clubs.

Two regular catchers from 1932's team, Frank Reiber and John Pasek, leave a hole in Coleman's infield hard to fill. He has several recruits on hand to select for the post.

The biggest hole in the Beaumont lineup now appears to be in the pitching staff. Four flingers of the championship crew have graduated—Herring, Rowe, Goldstein and Hamlin. In their places are recruits from the lesser important Tiger farms. Richard Schultz, a righthander who won 13 while losing 5 games last year, returns as does Southpaw Joe Sullivan who won 3 and lost four.

Of the Tiger's farm-crop here there is Joseph Hare who turned in 14 victories and 12 defeats last season, Harley Hagen, a righthander with 10 winning games and seven losses and Elden Auker, whose 1932 record was six and six.

WILLS CARRY SAME NAMES
VAN BUREN, Ark.—Both the first and last will on record in Crawford county carry the signature of the late W. H. H. Shibley. Shibley witnessed the first in 1874 and his was recorded after his death last month.

Many Poll Taxes Expected in 1934

MAUSTIN, March 21.—The biggest poll tax-paying boom in Texas history was assured by the legislature for next January. The Hughes bill to submit the ratification of the 18th amendment's repeal to a statewide referendum in 1934, agreed upon by both dries and wets, will cause it. Intense activity by both factions to line up the greatest possible vote will not wait for the election time, but will be brought forward to a time when the voters may qualify. Representative George Moffett, dry, predicted an increase of $500,000 in poll tax payments; Representative T. H. McGregor, "wet as the sea," predicted over $1,000,000 increase. Texas has close to 2,000,000 persons of voting age, qualified to vote. This year, not over about 900,000 to 700,000 paid poll taxes. The record year was about 900,000 poll taxes, plus 200,000 persons qualified by over and under exemptions to vote. Apparently the state in 1934 will cross the 1,000,000 mark of poll tax payments for the first time. West coast woman horse-whipped an editor for printing an article about her. We don't care a tick about the editor. What we want to know is, where in the world did she find a horsewhip?

Majority of Population Can Get Brew Thru State Action Farms Offered to Homesteaders at A Cost of Only $10

States shown in white on the above map are ready to receive legal beer as soon as Congress permits. Action by other states which will put them in this position is pending and may come at any time, notably in Ohio, Indiana, Wyoming and West Virginia. Varying programs of state modification are under way in many other states shown above in black.

By RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, March 20.—A large majority of American citizens will be eligible for the new 4 per cent beer right at the outset. That's what it is—4 per cent beer. It may be called 3.2 per cent in the legislation passed by Congress, which is true when the percentage is expressed in terms of weight. But it has always been the custom of beer drinkers themselves to calculate percentage by volume and so the consumer will think and drink in terms of 4 per cent beer. The limit of 3.2 per cent by weight, however, will be the standard under which the government will prosecute brewers or dealers who exceed it. The Volstead Act is still in effect for such violators and the provisions of the old Webb-Kenyon Act will be used against those who take the legal beer into states whose laws continue to prohibit it. Under the internal revenue laws, federal agents may still raid any brewery which attempts to evade the $5 a barrel tax and under the Volstead Act they may proceed against anyone who makes beer without a permit or in violation of a permit. Where? When? How? State legislators have acted so rapidly and are now so busy falling all over each other in the attempt to get set for the sale of beer that no exact list of states already so prepared is possible. But the most populous of them are either all ready or all ready except for beer regulation provisions. Among states which are certain or likely to be in legal shape to accept the 4 per cent beer on the first day are New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Missouri, California, Maryland, Wisconsin, Michigan, Louisiana, Montana, Nevada, Arizona, Colorado, North Dakota, Oregon, Washington, Wyoming and West Virginia. All but Ohio, West Virginia, Wyoming and Indiana already have done away with their state dry laws, while such action is expected in the others. Congress doesn't restrict the sale of the beer in such states, although the beer act forbids issuance of permits in states which want to remain bone dry. States are making their own regulations as to places and conditions of sale. Shipments Legalized The old Webb-Kenyon Act is declared still operative, and the prohibition agents of the Department of Justice will undertake to enforce it. This act, passed in 1913, prohibited any shipment of intoxicating liquor into any state in violation of that state's law. But the drastic "bone dry amendment" of 1917 which penalized any advertisement or order for liquor in a dry state is ruled out. The Volstead Act will still apply to beer which isn't sealed and labeled according to regulations to be prescribed. The principle of national prohibition and the protection of bone dry states remains until repeal of the 18th amendment is ratified, although manufacture, sale and shipment of 4 per cent beer is now legalized. The maximum penalty for violations of permits under the beer act is six months' imprisonment and $1000 fine. The old tax laws remain in effect and the government will exert the strictest supervision over breweries to see that none evade the $5 a barrel tax. Three or four cross-checks, such as those on incoming grain and outgoing barrels, are to be used. Each barrel must bear its revenue stamp. Even the construction of breweries is regulated by the internal revenue laws. The tax on beer piped into bottles is computed through a meter. Federal inspectors are assigned to regular duty at the larger breweries, and the smaller establishments notify them whenever they are going to bottle, so that an inspector may be present. There are provisions for what are known as "government tanks." The inpector locks the top and unlocks the bottom of the tank when the beer is in and ready to be piped out, and he locks the bottom and unlocks the top when the tank is to be filled again. A Nickel a Glass The Food and Drug Act, with its provisions for labeling and against adulteration, will apply to beer as to other beverages and foods. It may be said on good authority that President Roosevelt expects a federal tax return of about $135,000,000 from the first year's sale of beer—a tidy little aid toward balancing the budget. Some of the beer will sell for a nickel a glass, according to the brewers, or at 10 cents a bottle. It all depends on the tax rates which states and municipalities impose on the beverage, and the volume of sale and federal revenue may also depend on that factor. The brewers claim to anticipate that in most states the tax will be low enough to permit the nickel glass. Is this 4 per cent beer intoxicating? Apparently you must find that out for yourself. It has been legalized on the theory that it is nonintoxicating and bitterly protested by the die-hard dries on the ground that the drinking classes will be getting drunk on it. The administration theory is that the supreme court will keep hands off and that the beer act can't be declared unconstitutional. There doesn't seem to be any way anyone can take any criminal action against any brewer or vendor who operates under proper permits, since there is no longer any federal penalty for beer of less than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight.

for that will mean better times for everybody—we will have to advance our prices. However, we have promised the public that there will be no such increase for the next 40 days no matter what happens to material costs," Mr. Mason said.
"In any event, there will be no cheapening of our products in any way. There will be no compromise with quality. The lowest-cost refrigerator in our line is not a built-to-a-price model. It is a standard 1933 Kelvinator with more than four cubic feet of food capacity and it carries all our standard guarantees."
Mr. Mason explained that the new low prices have been made possible not only because of the prevailing costs in the raw materials market but also by virtue of the widely spread buying tendency that began with the passing of the banking crisis.
"There is hardly room for doubt that the predicted upturn in retail sales already has started," he said, "The volume resulting from this direct expression of public confidence in the nation's business future at this particular time enables us to offer this new price range even though it be temporary."
"At the end of the 40-day period we are hopeful of finding that the buying movement, now so evident, will have extended into the materials field to such an extent that its prices will have advanced appreciably. Toward such a condition we are looking forward with anticipation, for a period of increasing prices will mean better times for the entire country."

BEGIN HERE TODAY
When JANET HILL learns that HOLLY CARVILLE has been breaking engagements with her to meet BETTY KENDALL, a society girl, she tells him their marriage is off. Janet is 22, pretty and secretary to BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine.
"She still loves Holly and, though she tries to forget him, succeeds only in being miserable and lonely. She meets JEFF GRANT, young engineer who has moved to the rooming house where she lives.
Then one night Janet finds a little girl crying on the street. She learns the little girl is ROSIE SHAVAN and that she has been trying to sell candy and lost her money. Janet starts to take Rosie home. A holdup man grabs Janet's purse but Jeff Grant appears and the man runs. Janet takes Rosie and Rosie to the little girl's home. They find the family almost destitute, send them food and clothing and later father, JIM SHAVAN, the father of Janet and Jeff become close friends. He asks her to help him select a gift for a girl and they buy a purse. Later at lunch Janet sees in newspaper headlines that Rosie has eloped with Betty Kendall.
She tells Jeff about her broken engagement with Holly and that she will never care for anyone else. Later Janet gives the purse which had been for Rosie to a stenographer, DOLORES CALA-
Janet goes on a picnic with Jeff and the Shavan children. The next morning Hamilton, her employer, says, "Janet, I have news for you."
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIII

MR. HAMILTON went on without waiting for a reply. He did not seem to notice that he had called Janet by her first name. "I'm leaving the magazine," he said. "It's all happened rather suddenly."
"Why, Mr. Hamilton?"
The man smiled. "Surprise you? Well, it's still something of a surprise to me, too. I'm going with Colman's group. It's well, frankly, quite a promotion. More money and I'll have a chance to try some things we couldn't do here. Chambers has been very decent about it—very considerate. I'm going to Philadelphia. Leaving in just a few days. There are some things I'll have to attend to first."
There was real regret in Janet's voice. She said, "Oh, but I'm sorry, Mr. Hamilton! I mean—of course it's fine for you but we'll miss you so. The office won't be the same without you!"
Hamilton's smile was almost boyish. "No? Well, that'll be a good thing. I guess I've been a pretty hard taskmaster. Cross and irritable—"
"Oh, but you haven't! Why, you haven't at all!"
Hamilton nodded. "I have," he said, "—but I really didn't mean to be. You've spoiled me, Janet. Completely spoiled me. Night after night you've stayed here after your day's work was supposed to be through. You do more work than any secretary I've ever had and you know how to go ahead without asking questions. Maybe you didn't think I've noticed how much overtime you've been putting in the last few months but I have!"
"But I didn't mind," Janet assured him.
"I know you didn't. That's just the point! You've let me impose upon you. Never complained! If you'd only reminded me that you were supposed to stop at five o'clock I'd have let you go then."
JANET was embarrassed. She said, "But I don't see what the magazine will do without you, Mr. Hamilton! Who's going to do your work? Who'll take charge of the advertising department?"

'Ug' Moore Takes Two Straight Over The Cherokee Kid

"Ug" Moore ran his string of wins up to three straight at Ranger last night at the Elks club arena. Moore took the first fall with his favorite hold, a rocking-chair split. The second fall came in short time when "Ug" put a flying jenny on "Cherokee Kid."
Sammy McLaren and Bill Angus had a very fast match that kept the crowd on its feet all the way through. McLaren took the match with a flying mare. Angus shows promise of developing into one of the best matmen to be seen in the Ranger ring.
Matchmaker Benny Wilson stopped the bout between Leon Pafford, Eastland strong boy, and Hans Slaughter of Germany. The bout was very slow. Bouts of this sort will be stopped in the Elk ring and called "no contest" if the boys can't get in there and wrestle, Wilson said. The club is going to give the public the best wrestling and any wrestler who stops in the ring will have to give all he has.
The six-round fight was very fast and an exceptionally good one. Cliff Wickham, Strawn, won a technical knockout over Jack Porter of Ranger.
The belt held by Bennie Bartay, junior middleweight champion of the world, was on display at the ring last night. Bartay will be here April 10 to defend his title.

WITHOUT doubt spinach deserves the good reputation it enjoys in spite of the fact that it's the butt of jokes in the funny papers. The large amount of iron and vitamins present in its leaves makes it one of the best bargains in foods that the homemaker can buy.

When you go to market and shop for spinach, look for plants with plenty of good healthy leaves. This vegetable is an edible foliage so the condition of the leaves is of prime importance. Medium-sized plants of good dark green color, leaves fresh and crisp, free from sand or dirt, are desirable and mean that the vegetable will be tender and an attractive vivid green when cooked and dressed for use.

Of course, spinach is prone to imperfections even as all other life of the vegetable kingdom. The most common of these being weeds, plant insects, sandiness, yellow or wilted leaves and woodiness.

If the leaves are light colored and of a yellowish tinge and tightly curled, plant insects are usually present. If this condition prevails, that particular lot of spinach should not be purchased for it will have an unpleasant flavor when cooked. A few plants with a yellowed leaf do not mean an inferior quality of spinach. The center of the plants often contains the tender yellow baby leaves which are delicate and desirable.

The washing of spinach is perfectly simple but of utmost importance. Always lift the leaves from one water bath to the other. In this way the hand which settles to the bottom of the pan is not

A farewell souvenir booklet, hand-decorated, with inscribed friendship messages from members was presented Mrs. Robert Herron, who is leaving for her new home in Georgia. The auxiliary will meet at 3 p. m., with Mrs. James Horton, next Monday. Present, Mmes. Ross Moorhead, James Horton, M. C. Hayes, Jack Meredith, Hickman Hankins, E. A. J. F. Whitefield was elected class representative for class day at a senior meeting Monday. Plans for "kid day" were discussed.

Mr. Maddox is holding out on us. He didn't tell us until today that his birthday was yesterday.

Elizabeth Turner would like for some eligible young band member to ask her to attend the banquet Thursday night.

Speaking of the banquet reminds me, Glenn Cox has asked the charming Ruth Smith to accompany him. We thought something was going to happen when he came to school this morning with his hair combed.

Why does R. V. Robinson always keep a bottle of that sweet smelling hair oil in his locker. I wonder if he is thinking of other things beside his school work.

The match king's career is the story of a man who was as ruthless in love as in finance and who learned, to his sorrow that a reckoning was inevitable in either.

"The Match King" is perhaps the most important picture of the present season. The story of the rise and fall of Paul Kroll, the man who dealt in billions and whose word swayed national decisions, holds the fascination of being so near to the truth that it hurts.

Match King
The match king's career is the story of a man who was as ruthless in love as in finance and who learned, to his sorrow that a reckoning was inevitable in either.

"The Match King" is perhaps the most important picture of the present season. The story of the rise and fall of Paul Kroll, the man who dealt in billions and whose word swayed national decisions, holds the fascination of being so near to the truth that it hurts.

"The Match King" opens Wednesday at the Lyric theatre in Eastland.

Eastland Personals
Mrs. A. J. Campbell is entertaining her sister, Mrs. King of Temple, who arrived Monday for a four-day visit. Mrs. King is a prominent musician, a coltura soprano, who has had training of a high order and is one of the leading soloists of her city. Those who attended chapel services at high school Monday were charmed with her voice solo, on the program.

D. L. Childress Jr., student of Oklahoma A. & M., was the guest from Sunday to Monday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Childress.
