CONVICTS ARE NOW IN THREE ROVING BANDS

By United Press
MIAMI, Okla., June 1.—The 11 convicts who broke from the Kansas state penitentiary during a Memorial Day mutiny, have separated into at least three roving bands, officers searching for the desperadoes believed today.
Three clues as to the whereabouts of the desperadoes were received. Two hitch-hikers, identified as convicts, held up a youth and his girl companion on the highway near Seneca, Mo., last night, took their car and sped eastward into Missouri.
Three men escaped after a gun battle at Siloam Springs, Ark. They left their automobile, a car stolen from Leavenworth, Kan., and stole another machine for their getaway.
Officers at Ponca City hurriedly loaded machine guns after receiving a tip that a band of six escaped convicts were headed for the Maggie Grammar ranch, 12 miles east of there. The Grammar ranch is operated by the widow of Henry Grammar, notorious outlaw who was killed, apparently in an automobile accident, 10 years ago.

Gold Standard For World Is Aim Of Conference

By STEWART BROWN
GENEVA.—The world economic conference, opening in London June 12, will attempt to restore gold as a "free international monetary standard."
A general return to a workable international gold standard is considered indispensable to world recovery. On this experts are agreed. But they cannot agree under what conditions a return should be made.
Since the beginning of the world trade crises more than half the nations have knocked their currencies off the gold pedestal. The United States, Britain and Japan have abandoned it as a base for their currencies. France and Switzerland have remained faithful.
The chaos resulting from depreciated and fluctuating currencies will be one of the chief problems of the meetings. Attempts to raise prices, promote free movement of capital and remove trade barriers will come to nothing unless currencies are stabilized, experts declare.
A joint return to gold by the United States and Britain would be a prelude to a general return. But economists fear the British and Americans might jeopardize any general return by quarreling over the rate at which the pound sterling and dollar should be stabilized.

London Conference To Keep Currencies On An Even Keel

By W. G. QUINN-BERRY
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON.—Keeping the world's currencies on an even keel will be the most gigantic task facing the statesmen and economists who assembled here June 12.
Currencies suddenly have become the strongest weapons in international financial diplomacy. Powerful as they are, tariffs, boycotts and other restrictions can avail a nation little these days if its rival wields an international influence over the fate of the dollar, the franc, the yen and the pound.
For almost a year Great Britain tried to dominate the world's foreign exchange with a fund of 150,000,000 pounds, operating it with strictest secrecy. Although the fund stands today at 150,000,000 pounds, it can no longer serve its purpose. The fear and uncertainty that overhang the world's great money centers are factors too strong.
When currencies once more have become stable, however, and their relative values agreed upon, the nations are likely to consider the establishment of an enormous stabilization fund, modeled after that of Great Britain. Eminent economists have suggested that a world equalization fund, subscribed by the leading powers and operated by an impartial agency like the Bank for International Settlements, might be a good form of "currency insurance."
Great Britain succeeded highly with the idea until the United States went off the gold standard and left Europe's remaining gold nations fearful for their own currencies. Given a reasonable measure of stability in the money centers, an equalization fund can be successful in discouraging speculators from raiding a country's currency. An international fund even might successfully combat the influence of rumor and fear, powerful swayers of foreign exchange dealings.

ROOSEVELT TO FAVOR AN OIL CONTROL BILL

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Secretary of Interior Ickes today informed the house ways and means committee that President Roosevelt, himself, would urge a federal oil control amendment to the industrial recovery bill.
Ickes said he was "authorized on behalf of the president" to make the statement.
The proposed administration amendment would be a substitute for the much-attacked Marland-Capper petroleum control measure.
The text of the administration's proposal follows:
"For the oil industry, in addition to the powers granted the president concerning codes of fair competition, agreements and licenses, he is authorized to prescribe regulations to supplement state conservation legislation, regulating the production of petroleum, to allocate the national market demand for petroleum in all oil producing states and to prohibit the transportation in interstate commerce petroleum or the products thereof produced or withdrawn from storage in violation of any state or federal law."

Former Grid Stars Will Go On Trial

EDINBURG, Texas.—District Attorney Sid Hardin has announced he will seek an early trial for Lewis Lawrence and Don Schuepbach, former football stars of Harlingen high school, who are charged by indictment with robbery.
The youths were indicted in September, 1932, after the slugging of A. Boyd, Mission ranchman, in the corridor of a Westaco hotel, and the theft of $200 and $300 from Boyd.
A negro porter testified at the preliminary hearing for the two youths that they had been in the hotel "looking for a dice game" and that they went away for awhile and returned armed with a rifle.

County Agent Patterson Urges Budget For Rehabilitation Of Eastland County Farm Homes

By J. C. PATTERSON,
County Demonstration Agent
A derelict boat is not only valueless in itself but is a menace to commerce, a constant source of danger to vessels with competent captains and well trained crews where every man knows his job and is trained for it and the captain knows where he is going and is familiar with every detail of his vessel and of the waters he is to traverse.
We have many derelict farms, eyes in Eastland county. Farms whose skippers have no definite destination, whose farms are not ship-shape; skippers who are unfamiliar with the sod they have trod for many years. The skipper who puts out to sea knowing that his vessel is not seaworthy is subject to court martial. But the land owner whose land has been impoverished and the buildings and fences dilapidated has only his own conscience to reckon with, he conducts his own court martial either here or hereafter. The tenant who has aided in thus seducing the soil has nothing to be proud of.
The upward trend of farm prices indicates that the New Deal for agriculture is bringing results. Every one is hopeful that a new day is dawning and that farm products will again bring fair re-

TO LEAVE AT 7:30 P. M. FROM COURTHOUSE

Will Go Via Cisco; Band Will Be Taken; Good Program Arranged.

Eastland merchants will make the second of a series of good will tours recently planned for the rural districts tonight when they go to Pleasant Hill where a program will be rendered. The first program of this series was rendered last Tuesday night at Flatwood when more than 100 Eastland citizens, in 30 cars, and accompanied by Caro Hill's High School band, the 249 Bible class and Herring's string band, journeyed to Flatwood where they were met and welcomed by a still larger number of Flatwood citizens.
The party tonight will leave from the east side of the courthouse square promptly at 7:30 o'clock as it will take longer to drive to Pleasant Hill than it did to make the drive to Flatwood. Also it has been pointed out that the entire program must be put through on the dot and if the start is not made on time this cannot be done.
The High School Band, Herring's Band and virtually the same list of entertainers that went to Flatwood will go to Pleasant Hill, it is stated. H. C. Davis has charge of arrangement for the program and the trip.
The route to Pleasant Hill, it has been decided, will be to Cisco; from Cisco 8-12 miles south over the Rising Star-Cisco highway to a Sinclair filling station. Here a turn is made to the east a distance of 1-2 miles, then north one mile to the Pleasant Hill school house, making a total of approximately 20 miles. The distance via dirt road is only approximately 17 miles, but those acquainted with the two routes say that the longer route can be made quicker and in more comfort.

CLAIMS BILL AGREED UPON IN LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, June 1.—The house and senate of the Texas legislature today agreed on a claims appropriation of $333,000.
The agreement cleared a deadlock and made it apparent that adjournment would come during the early afternoon.
The senate began turning back its clock at 11:30. By the house doing the same the session can run on for hours and still, formally, adjourn at noon, which is the official time set for quitting.
The claims agreement cut out appropriations previously made by the house of $500,000 for pink boll worm expenses in West Texas and $122,000 for claims arising out of the 1925 hoof and mouth disease epidemic.
At the end of the session's 120 days, during which members drew $10 a day it had been figured the session cost $10.36 a minute. For the past 23 days members have been drawing only half salaries.

Hamilton Case Ready For Jury

HILLSBORO, Texas, June 1.—The case of Raymond Hamilton, Dallas desperado, accused of murdering John Bucher, Hillsboro merchant, was ready for submission to a district court jury here today.
Both state and defense completed their testimony.
Witnesses for the state were the widow of the murdered man, who positively identified Hamilton as the man who shot her husband to death, and Martin Kitchen, victim of two ruffians, who kidnaped and mistreated him in an effort to prevent his testifying in the case. Kitchen identified Hamilton as a man he saw about the building before the killing.

Legislators Urge Signing Measure

AUSTIN, June 1.—A petition, signed by 28 senators and 114 representatives, was sent to the governor today requesting immediate signature of a corrective measure to a law enacted this session making violation of oil production orders punishable in criminal courts.
Signature of the bill will prevent the act to become effective immediately.

GOVERNOR HAS NO MORE WORK THIS SESSION

Legislature Will Be Known For Beer, Boxing and Horse Race Bills.
AUSTIN, June 1.—Shortly after noon today the house of the Texas legislature notified the governor and the senate it had completed its work and was ready to adjourn.
The governor replied she had nothing further to submit.
The session, which started Jan. 10, ran 143 days, setting a new record for length.

AUSTIN.—The 43rd Texas legislature will probably live in history as the one that brought back beer, horserace betting and prize-fighting to Texas.
Legislation of that nature caught the popular fancy.
It will also be remembered as the one that ended a quarter century of increasing state government costs and put them back to three-fourths of what they have been for the past two years.
In a welter of more than 1,500 bills, few major ones, went thru to become law.
Oil troubled rather than smoothed the waters throughout the more than four months of the session. Both majors and independents maintained big lobbies.
Victory went to the little fellows.
Starting out with demand for a new commission to prorate oil production the oil interests ended up with the old commission and an estimated $12,000,000 annual tax on the industry.
Once the majors seemed on the verge of victory. The House had passed a new oil commission bill. This bill authorized Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson to appoint a new body which could set aside the 750,000 barrels a day production, the old commission had authorized against strong objections.
Midnight saw the oil forces still jubilant over an apparent victory. A group was in the lobby of the Stephen F. Austin hotel. Rep. Gordon Burns of Huntsville, vigorous opponent of the new oil commission and bitter denouncer of oil tactics came into the hotel. Soon there was a blundering mass of men, kicking, flouting, gouging and striking. Burns was sent to a hospital. Roeser emerged with a fatal blackening eye.
The house representatives ordered an investigation and reprimanded Roeser. W. C. Stroube of Corsicana and Bryan W. Payne of Tyler. A few days later the senate killed the oil commission bill.
Later the house adopted a two-cents-a-barrel oil tax proposed by Burns' house senate and roommate, Rep. Alfred Daniel of Crockett. The senate passed it and added an intangible asset tax on oil pipe lines. The house then taxed gas lines.
Other lobbies were more successful. A sales tax, advocated by the governor and pushed by the administration with all its force, failed before the protest of merchants and organizations warning the legislature of its effects. A state income tax passed the house. A senate committee killed it.
Lobbies got more prominence than usual. Rep. George Winningham of Mexia, secured enforcement of the rule barring lobbyists and others from the floor during sessions. He secured a resolution for registration of lobbyists. A few of the minor ones put down their names. There was an unofficial registry, however. It was compiled by Roscoe Fleming, Fort Worth newspaper man.
There were distinct eras in the session.
First came the emergency era. Banks and then insurance companies got moratoriums. "First

Chicago Special Is Filling Up Rapidly

ABILENE, June 1.—First come first served is the rule for the West Texas section of the special train to be run June 11 to the World's Fair, Chicago. As a result the number of lower berths available is dwindling rapidly.

West Texans planning to make the trip and desiring lower berths face the prospect of not obtaining the accommodation, according to G. B. Sandefer, manager of the Simmons University Cowboy band, who is in charge of arrangements for the section. Most of the reservations, rapidly approaching 50 in number, have been for lower berths. Accommodations are assigned in the order of receipt and only upper berths will be allotted when the supply of lowers is exhausted.

Reservations which began trickling in Thursday of last week have increased in number daily. More than a dozen came in yesterday, indicating that by Saturday, the date when the Pullman company must know the amount of equipment needed, the second will be filled.

The West Texas section will leave Abilene as part of the Sunshine Special at 9:40 a. m., Sunday, June 11, uniting at Fort Worth with the other section of the train. Chicago will be reached Monday afternoon at 3:20. Four days and nights are to be spent in Chicago. All members of the party will be permitted to go as they choose while in Chicago, either attending the fair or joining one of the several motor tours of the city that will be available. The low fare on the special train includes sleeper to and from Chicago and while there.

Virtually every town along the T. & P. west from Ranger to Pecos is represented in the reservation list to date. Reservations likewise have been received from nearly a dozen other points.

LAMB HAS BUT ONE EYE

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz.—Dean Eldredge, taxidermist, added a cyclopean-eye lamb to his collection of freak animals—a three-year-old live three-legged duck, and two two-headed calves are included—when Arthur Young, Coconino National Forest road supervisor, contributed the animal. The lamb died three days after birth, because it had only one jaw and was unable to take nourishment, Young said.

Magnolia Makes A New Gasoline

DALLAS, June 1.—Responding to public demand for an improved automotive fuel with higher antiknock rating to sell at standard prices, "Silent Mobilgas" is announced by the Magnolia Petroleum company. The new Mobilgas, colored a distinctive shade of purple, has been placed on sale at no premium by over 11,000 Magnolia stations and dealers serving the southwest.

"Developed in the Magnolia laboratories to meet every requirement of high compression motors, the Mobilgas was introduced only after rigid testing under actual driving conditions by Magnolia test cars," E. P. Angus, vice president and manager of sales, said. "It has been found that under conditions that cause ordinary gasoline to knock, silent Mobilgas will give quicker starting, instant pick-up and split-second getaway. Tested for thousands of miles under varying highway conditions—in heat and cold—this new fuel not only gave knockless performance, but proved conclusively to be a longer mileage gasoline.

"While a material increase in the anti-knock rating is the most noteworthy improvement in the new Mobilgas, its distinctive qualities of 'climatic control' have been increased," Mr. Angus said. "Through the preadjustment of manufacturing specifications Magnolia produces in Mobilgas a fuel best adapted to the climatic and operating conditions of the locality in which it is used. This quality of Mobilgas is called 'climatic control'.

In the introduction of the improved Mobilgas, Magnolia has adopted as its slogan, "Full Speed Ahead," and is providing automobile owners with attractive windshield stickers carrying that phrase. The stickers, picturing Uncle Sam piloting an automobile to prosperity, are a part of Magnolia's contribution toward business recovery.

Moderator of Presbyterians

Dr. John McDowell of New York, above, is the new moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, chosen in the convention at Columbus, O.

With Chicago calming down and forgetting gunplay long enough to welcome the world to her tea party, New York is crashing the front pages with gang shootings.

Chicago is tired . . . or afraid. Tired of the inconsistency of killers . . . or afraid of the mighty man who walked into the late Cerma's shoes, and walked the gunman out of town.

And now we hear a cry for a return of the gold standard. From Vienna where the Congress of the International Chamber of Commerce is holding its seventh session, comes the proposal.

Every country is afraid to turn back to gold for fear some other nation will grab advantages for itself. We're a suspicious lot . . . are we really joined?

Now and then, looking through the day's news we come across a fight here and there for the continuation of prohibition. It seems that the so-called drys go on confidently hoping to keep the local state free from beer . . . legal beer.

There was a time when we could "elude" defenders of various issues. Nineteen thirty-three has slipped under from under such a responsibility. You don't know who's dry and who's wet . . . and if you do know, you're not right sure they know themselves.

Water no longer seeks its level and crowds mix themselves up and go on being friends with the 3.2 ratio brewing between.

But America is to be congratulated. Just when we thought we were all turning yellow with the age of arguments, we suddenly find ourselves standing by our own convictions.

A large per cent of those who really think on the subject cannot be shaken in their beliefs. If you are a prohibitionist you're "set" on your ways. And if you want the liquor back, there's no use trying to convince you otherwise.

The beer doctor has discovered that America has a backbone.

ONCE . . . EACH DAY

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

It took the Japanese world-economic-conference head to say in so many words that all this ballyhoo about a war between the United States and his own country is "absurd."

In fact, he declares that intelligent people should easily see that such a war would be "ruinous to both." To him America salamas as befits one of his nationality.

The man is wrong. Intelligent people wouldn't even consider such a foolish thing long enough to figure the ruinous results. And Americans are intelligent . . . we think. And they haven't given the matter a moment's serious consideration . . . we know . . . we think.

For when people think, it takes a lot of hard self-control to forget the thought.

With Indian and forts and forests and log cabins behind us, those states now united have learned to direct their thoughts. We have learned that the negative is even greater than the positive. It took no laboratory to teach us these things.

29-Foot Cylinder Wins Attention At World's Fair

One of the world's largest automobile cylinders is displayed at the Century of Progress in Chicago, Ill. Measuring 29 feet in height, this huge moving exhibit represents one of the many features of the Gulf Refining company's display. In the cylinder a large piston operates, showing, with the aid of lights, intake and exhaust and emphasizing the fact that "fresh gas packs power."

Made of aluminum alloy, the Gulf cylinder is an exact copy of the modern cylinder. At the base of this display three shelves rotate. The shelves hold interesting miniature models of an airplane, a racing car, and a motor boat. Other eye-catchers of this particular section of the Gulf exhibit include a cut-away Chrysler marine engine, an Evinruid outboard motor which established a world's record, a Westinghouse farm lighting engine, and a Cummings Diesel engine.
