U. S. Officials Work Quietly On Alternate European Arms Plan

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. military and diplomatic officials are quietly working on alternate European defense plans for possible use if next week's London conference fails to produce an acceptable German rearmament program.
Some authorities estimated that almost as much time has been spent on possible lines of action for the United States in the absence of French agreement to some German arms plan as that devoted to preparations for American participation in the nine-power London meeting.

One reason, informants said, is that State Department officials do not want to get caught again with out substitute plans, as they were when the French Assembly shelved the European Defense Community project.
Work to date has produced a great variety of policy papers which informants said fall into three broad categories:
1. Peripheral defense — This would mean basing U. S. plans for resistance to any Communist aggression on positions in Britain, Spain, Italy and the Middle East. It would have grave political consequences because it would be interpreted by many Western European peoples as meaning U. S. abandonment of them. Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are understood to be fundamentally opposed to this concept, yet it is described as having adherents, particularly in the military establishment, if it proved impossible to rearm West Germany.

2. Direct rearmament of Germany — Under this formula the United States and Britain would go ahead, despite French unwillingness, to form German military forces after giving the West German government sovereignty in their zones. Some officials are convinced France would eventually have to follow suit in its zone. This would almost certainly involve a special treaty relationship among West Germany, Britain and the United States.
3. Interim German armament — The United States and Britain — with the cooperation or assent of France, if possible — would arm the West Germans, after granting sovereignty, but with a clear understanding that a political solution would still be worked out. In effect, the idea would be to say to the French: "We can't wait any longer to get German forces set up in the defense of Western Europe but we are willing to agree that limitations on the ultimate size and control of those forces and on arms production may still be established."
Secretary of State Dulles is scheduled to go to London this weekend to attend the conference which will bring together also the foreign ministers of France, West Germany, Britain, Canada, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.
According to present planning, subject to Dulles' own final approval, the American secretary will not take any U. S. proposal for solving the French-German dilemma.
The present thinking is that the United States will probably go along with any arrangement which can be accepted alike by West German Chancellor Adenauer, Mendes-France and Eden.

IT HAPPENED

Deceiving Appearance

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—John S. Tarr, Denver, left an insurance company through what he thought was a doorway. It turned out to be a spotlessly clean window. Doctors put two stitches in his knee.

Pleasure Fades

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Berlow, who recently moved here from Emerson, N. J., told police she wasn't too impressed with the kind of southern hospitality she encountered yesterday.
A youth offered assistance in backing her car from a parking lot.

Pleased, she slid from under the wheel and the youth glided the car back smoothly, and went on his way.
Several blocks later she noticed her billfold containing $70 was missing from her purse on the front seat.

Needs New Lessons

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Kokendoff bought a parakeet several months ago and went to work teaching it to recognize and answer to its name — "Boy."
They reported yesterday that Boy laid an egg.

Souvenir Is Left

GREENWOOD, S. C. (AP)—When George H. Davis opened his motor company here yesterday he found a $20 bill on the floor, then discovered the place had been broken into during the night.
It apparently was dropped by the intruder who took only a small amount of change from an unlocked safe.

Thanks To Triplets, Woman Wins Race With Stork In Part

LUDINGTON, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Alberta Bidwell won her race with the stork yesterday only because she had triplets.
Two of the three boys — Tom, Dick and Harry — arrived under far from orthodox conditions. Tom was born in an automobile on the way to the hospital. Dick was born in an elevator on the way to the delivery room. Harry was more leisurely. He awaited a clinical reception and came into the world via the hospital delivery room.

Nationalists, Reds In Heavy Exchange In Quemoy Vicinity

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist artillery and Communist big guns on the nearby mainland fired upwards of 2,000 shells last night in a savage hour-long duel, an army spokesman said today.
He described the exchange as the heaviest since the fighting broke out around Quemoy Sept. 3.
Nationalist planes and warships took over at dawn today, bombarding Amoy and other Red bases within artillery range of Quemoy for the 21st straight day, the Defense Ministry announced.
Lt. Gen. Chang Tsiung, army spokesman, said the air force destroyed six Communist gunboats Wednesday.
Communist planes have not challenged Nationalist attackers, but Chang said Red aircraft were sighted Tuesday and Wednesday near the Tachen Islands, 350 miles north of Quemoy.

Northern Baptists May Unite Missions

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of America's oldest Baptist mission agencies—the 122-year-old Home Mission Society and the 77-year-old Woman's Home Mission Society—are merging.
Plans call for a single missions agency to eliminate duplication and overlapping of activities and personnel.
The plan must be approved by the American Baptist Convention next May.
The two agencies employ more than 1,000 missionaries in the United States, Alaska, Cuba, Haiti, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Nicaragua and El Salvador.

BIG-HEARTED VILLAGE Nigerian Native To Get Southern Town's Help

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—To understand why Geoffrey B. Onuoha is en route from Nigeria to Tennessee, you need to know the Cherokee community—a tiny place, with a big heart and a will to do things.
The farm community, northwest of here in neighboring Grainger County, won the state community improvement contest in 1951; the rural church of the year award for Tennessee in 1952. It is a Protestant community, with no Negroes.
When the Department of State and the Tennessee Valley Authority distributed international publicity—in seven languages—a few years ago, a few words were devoted to Cherokee, on the banks of Cherokee Lake.
Here's the rest of the story, told today by Vic Weals, columnist for the Knoxville Journal:
In Lagos, Nigeria, in British West Africa, a Negro youth — Onuoha—read one of the publicity booklets. He began writing to citizens of Cherokee. They replied and soon felt as if they knew him.
"Tennessee is my favorite foreign country," wrote Onuoha. "My favorite song is 'Tennessee Blues' (waltz). I received my education in a Catholic mission school, which I believe would compare with your secondary schools."
"My father and mother and brothers and sisters have not had the opportunity to get an education. They live in a native village. My greatest ambition is to come to America and continue my education. I desire an education so I can help my people."
"I would be willing to work as a servant, and make any bond required, to repay anyone who would help me get an education in America."
Cherokee, a community used to doing things, decided to take Onuoha under its wing, raised $1,000 to post with the U. S. Immigration Service for his entrance and return passage.
It found that nearby Morristown College for Negroes would admit Onuoha, help him obtain a passport and arrange for him to earn $100 of his yearly expenses of $450.
Cherokee thinks, somehow, it can manage the rest.
Onuoha is to arrive at the Knoxville Airport Saturday.
He will be met by his friends in Cherokee, a Southern community with no Catholics and Negroes, helping a Negro Catholic. It has never seen to realize his greatest ambition.

GOP Makes Error With Nomination

ANSONIA, Conn. (AP)—Stephen Zuraw says he can't accept the Republican nomination he won Monday to run for alderman.
His reasons: He isn't a registered Republican, and besides he is supporting the Democratic candidate for mayor.

HOW TO BUY STOCKS ON THE "PAY-AS-YOU-GO" PLAN

You've probably heard something about it already—the brand new plan by which you can become an investor for as little as $40 every three months.
But so many people have been asking us for more details about this easy, new way to invest that we decided to hold a short course on the plan and tell you all about it.
So, if you'd like to come, you're invited to be with us
Thursday Afternoon or Evening
October 7th, at 2:00 P. M. or 7:30 P. M.
Ballroom of Sattles Hotel
The program begins with a fast-moving 20-minute movie that tells you why and how one average couple decided to invest.
Then we'll take up the Monthly Investment Plan and tell you just how that works.
We'll cover the stocks you can buy—and the kind we think you should . . .
We'll explain the results we think you can expect, the commissions you pay, how you can always resign from the plan without penalty of any kind.
You can be out in an hour, but you're welcome to stay and ask any questions you like.
You'll have an opportunity to sit down with one of our experienced men and go over your own investment situation—in confidence, of course.
There's no charge, but just so we'll know how many to prepare for, please mail us the coupon below—or call and tell us when you'll be there.

Yes, I'll be there at I should like to bring others with me.
 Sorry I can't make it, but please mail me full details about your "pay-as-you-go" plan.

Eisenhower To Be Chef Next Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower, an amateur chef of some note, will personally dish up beef stew to a roomful of luncheon diners in Denver next Monday.
Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson said yesterday at a meeting of the American Meat Institute and United Fruit and Vegetable Assn. that the President will turn chef to promote sale of meat and vegetables.
Benson said the President also will make an important announcement at the Denver luncheon at the Cherry Hills Country Club, but "there will be no political flavor to it, whatever."

Italian Communists Demand Tough Anti-Red Scelba Quit

ROME (AP)—Italian Communists stepped up their demands for anti-Red Premier Mario Scelba's resignation today as he promised to answer Red charges that his government is tarred by the sensational Wilma Montesi scandal.
Police throughout Italy maintained a state of alert in case the Communists try to exert further pressure by stirring up demonstrations or disorders.
Communist Senate leader Umberto Terracini accused Scelba yesterday of "being responsible for the Montesi affair." Speaking from the Senate floor, he declared: "We cannot tolerate being governed by anybody under any kind of suspicion."
Scelba announced he would take the floor today to answer the charges. He has been a chief target of the Reds since the tough riot police he organized while interior minister under Premier Alcide De Gasperi in 1948 broke the back of the Communists' campaigns of riots and violence.
The government has faced a serious crisis since Piero Piccioni, 32-year-old son of former Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni, was arrested Tuesday and charged with manuslaughter in the 1953 seashore death of the Montesi girl.

The nearly nude body of the beautiful 21-year-old party girl was found on a beach at Ostia, near Rome. There were reports that her death was connected with wild sex and drug parties allegedly involving ranking Italian political and social figures.

Optimist Credited In Halting Suicide

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—David Berliner is credited with stopping a 49-year-old woman from jumping to her death from a hotel window ledge yesterday.
"I went to the window and started talking to her," he said. "I talked about everything in general. It was just a conversation about anything so I could win her confidence."
In five minutes, Berliner got close enough to pull the woman to safety.
He is vice president of the Bridgeport Optimists Club.
