Thirty-two American steamship companies are busy these days thinking up good reasons why Uncle Sam should continue to pay them fat subsidies in the form of ocean mail contracts.

On October 1 all 32—holding 44 contracts between them—must appear before a special Post Office Department committee and show cause why these contracts should not be modified or cancelled.

It's a pretty good bet the contracts won't be cancelled. The New Dealers remember the fine dish of hot water they stepped into when the air mail contracts were voided.

Terrific sums of federal money are poured annually into steamship coffers for carrying oceanic mail. At the time Mr. Roosevelt took office the lines controlled by the Franklins, the Dollars and the Roosevelts (no direct relation to the President) had received payments of $81,100,000 in excess of actual postage value.

Such payments are perfectly legal. Congress some years back directed this method of subsidizing the American merchant marine so it could compete with foreign fleets—and also be available for government use in time of war.

Other methods of encouragement included the granting of loans running way into the millions at interest rates as low as 3 or 1 per cent. Then there was the sale of our war-time fleet to private companies at 10 cents on the dollar and less.

Cinch

Three routes held by the United Fruit company—San Francisco to Armaelles, New Orleans to Havana, Cristobal and Cartagena, and New York to Havana and Port Limon—will serve as examples of what the Post Office officials must consider.

The Post Office Department advertised for bids on these routes in 1930, during the Hoover Administration. It was stipulated in the ads that only vessels with refrigeration could qualify. Obviously, it isn't necessary to keep mail on ice but the government anticipated that some day there might be another war and it would need such boats for the transport of food.

A United Fruit vice-president was asked two years later by a Congressional committee whether his boats had refrigeration space. "Yes sir," was the emphatic reply, "and we are the only company in the world that does have refrigeration space."

On the route between San Francisco and Armaelles, the United Fruit carried mail between July 1930 and May 1932 which represented $2,248 in actual postage. The line received payment from the government for that service of $229,860.

This and similar contracts are of ten-year duration. Most of them expire around 1940—unless FDR steps in and trims them down.

Worth

Another angle Jim Farley's boys must probe is the question of what value certain lines would be to the government in time of national emergency.

There has been testimony before Congressional committees which would indicate that certain smart gentlemen with a pull in Washington had bought a few old scows and incorporated themselves as steamship lines for the sole purpose of grabbing off mail subsidies. Passenger and freight receipts are nil. Uncle Sam's doler takes care of "operating expenses" and permits a profit.

In these few instances there may well be outright cancellation.

President Roosevelt already has gone on record for a "bald subsidy" of the merchant marine to replace existing forms of indirect aid which lend themselves to mismanagement and even graft. He will have de-

Efforts Made To Get Charge Of Extortion

NEW YORK, (AP)—$13,750 in ransom money found in the garage at the home of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, alleged receiver of the $200,000 Lindbergh ransom, and ransom notes and other messages of the kidnaper, were taken before the Bronx county grand jury Tuesday.

Jury Adjourns Until Wednesday After Three And Half Hour Session

The evidence was presented in District Attorney Samuel J. Foley's effort to obtain an indictment charging extortion against Hauptmann. The money and notes were taken to the grand jury room while Albert S. Osborn, handwriting expert, and his son, Albert B., were before the jury.

The Bronx county grand jury adjourned until Wednesday after a three and a half hour session. While Osborn and his son were before the jury for an hour, the father, who has said handwriting on the ransom notes was similar to that of Hauptmann's on applications for automobile licenses, was questioned most of the time.

Col. Henry Breckridge, personal counsel for Lindbergh, was before the grand jury for half an hour. Foley said the case against Hauptmann, as receiver of the ransom money, had been "completely broken." Another closest panel in the Hauptmann home, Foley said, bore serial numbers, one of which had been found to be the number of one of the ransom bills. Foley said the boards were proof to him that "Hauptmann is undoubtedly the man who received the $200,000 ransom from Dr. Condon."

R L Warren Is Selected On Eighth Ballot

Committee Acts On List Of Twenty-One Applicants

R. L. Warren, long time resident of Howard county and prominent stock farmer of Vincent, Tuesday morning became the democratic nominee for county clerk.

Mr. Warren was appointed by the Howard county democratic executive committee to succeed the late J. I. Pritchard, who won the nomination for the seventeenth consecutive time in the 1934 Democratic primaries.

The appointment, requiring a simple majority, came about on the eighth ballot by the committee. A full executive committee voted on all ballots. The vacancy, occurring when Mr. Warren, long a member of the committee from Vincent, submitted his resignation Saturday to become an applicant for the appointment, was filled Tuesday morning with Willis Winters casting the Vincent vote.

On the first three ballots no eliminations were effected in the list of more than a score of applicants. With the fourth ballot eliminations were begun. On the seventh ballot T. E. Jordan, runner-up in the first primary, was eliminated. On the eighth and final ballot Mr. Warren won over LeRoy Echols, Coulman, by a 9-6 vote.

At the outset of the meeting, the committee voted to go into executive session at the Crawford hotel. The committee also determined that each member of the committee, one representing each of the 15 voting boxes, would have equal voting strength in naming the appointee.

The committee was in session less than two hours. Mr. Warren has resided in Howard county for more than a quarter of a century and has been active in party affairs.

GRILL SUSPECT IN LINDY BABY KIDNAPING

Following his questioning at the Greenwich police station in New York, Bruno R. Hauptmann (right), German fugitive held as the person who received the $50,000 ransom paid in the kidnaping of the Lindy baby more than two years ago, is shown being transferred to the Bronx county courthouse. and impressive power of preventing any more bond issues except in cases where the state held an actual calamity had occurred.

The sales tax would start at 2 per cent, he said; but ultimately would be to one per cent, then to about one-half of one per cent. It would be retained as a permanent substitute for over half the total taxes Texas citizens are now required to pay.

One of the two controversial Jefferson county bills has been submitted by Governor Ferguson to the legislature—the other withheld by its sponsors temporarily.

Governor Ferguson has sent up the measure which would give the highway department authority to borrow federal money with which to build toll bridges, specifically a high bridge over the Neches ship channel between Orange and Port Arthur. This is being fought by a large Beaumont delegation.

Governor Ferguson said she submitted it "without prejudice to navigation; without prejudice to the right of veto."

The other bill is sought by the Beaumont navigation district, validating revenue bonds to be used for security on a government loan, the $2,500,000 loan to be applied to purchasing barges and other equipment. Port Arthur interests are hostile to this.

AUSTIN—There seems somehow an anomaly in cities the counties ending prosperous, well-paid, tax-supported officials before the legislature to oppose relief of tax penalties upon their citizenship.

Fort Worth sent down R. E. Rouer, city attorney, and Tarrant county sent down George W. Steere, one of its numerous assistant district attorneys, to oppose the tax penalty remission bill.

Other cities and counties also were so represented by officialdom.

As an observation, a destitute citizenship has little to hope for Another bit of red tape that is rendering the home owners' loan relief hard to get, and taking it away from many who looked to it to save their homes, was disclosed in a senate committee hearing by F. L. Henderson, attorney of Bryan.

The loan papers were filed months and months ago, including enough to pay off delinquent taxes. So much delay followed that the tax penalty remission law expired, and now the loans do not include enough to pay the required penalties; and thus the loans are blocked and the home owners loan organization can not break through the red tape to offer any relief—or won't bother to.

Convert—

Raymond Moley—as FDR's unofficial ambassador to New York—recently had a two-hour chat with a man renowned as one of Wall Street's hardest boiled bankers. This banker has been one of the most vigorous private critics of the New Deal in general and the brain trust in particular—and Moley was his pet hate. After the talk he admitted to friends that much to his surprise there did seem to be some sense in what Washington was trying to do after all. He isn't going to hit the trail in public but his conversion has had quite an effect on inside New York.

Republicans—

Second thoughts on the Robert Moses candidacy indicate that the Republican Old Guard—in their eagerness to slaughter Kingsland Macy—have botched their own game as prettily as a ditch-digger trying to fly an airplane.

Update party lieutenants simply will not swallow Moses. They heatedly claim that they didn't give their proxies to choose him and you're likely to see a revolt as a revolt when the State convention meets.

The candidacy of Mayor Roland B. Marvin of Syracuse is a direct protest against the Moses designation. It's significant that the announcement about Marvin was made by Macy—as the two have been sworn enemies for years. Insiders believe there's a deal between them which will keep Macy in his job if Marvin is elected. The Governor has the privilege of naming his own chairman.

Those who know Moses say he would beat the Old Guard organization higher than a kite if he were elected. He is characterized as more radical than either LaGuardia or Seabury and far less willing to play with the boys than the latter.

As matters stand the convention will open with delegates fairly evenly divided between Moses, Marvin and Seabury. Moses will not gain after the first ballot, Macy can swing his Seabury votes to whom-ever he likes. It may be to Marvin or it may be to a dark horse, but betting is currently twenty to one that neither Moses nor Seabury can be nominated.

However it turns out the Old Guard leadership has discredited itself with its own followers and handed Macy a golden chance for a comeback. A Manhattan party leader comments: "If that's apart politics I'm Julius Caesar."

Thriving—

The New York gyp artists who used to make a mint selling phony stocks to suckers over the telephone have mostly emigrated to Toronto to promote gold mines.

It's the happiest hunting-ground they've found yet. The Toronto exchange has made a few feeble efforts to oust them but gets no cooperation from the Canadian or Ontario governments—which blandly ignore them. They advertise freely and even use the mails.

Sidelights—

Toronto and Montreal are having a keen scrap to see which becomes the home of the silver futures market. . . . Figures recently published by Printer's Ink offer no balm to anti-New Dealers.

They show a net earnings improvement for 194 companies in the first half of '34 as against '33 of $151,000,000—which is quite a piece of change.

Detroit Cinches American Pennant

NEW YORK—The Detroit Tigers Monday won the American League pennant for the first time in 25 years without swinging a bat or throwing a ball when the New York Yankees were mathematically counted out of the race as they closed their home season by dropping a 5 to 0 decision to the Boston Red Sox.

With only five games remaining on their schedule, the Yankees dropped six games back to the Tigers. Mickey Cochrane's men can lose all of their remaining five contests and still finish a game to spare, even if the Yankees win all of their games. The Tigers were not scheduled to play Monday.

Johnny Merens, youthful right-hander from Syracuse who joined the Sox at the close of the International League, actually clinched the pennant for the Tigers. He allowed the Yankees only four widely scattered hits, two of them by Lou Gehrig. Only one Yankee got as far as third base and that was Gehrig, who singled in the fourth and advanced on Eddie Morgan's error and an infield out.

Eddie Ruth, making his last appearance of the year at the Stadium and probably his last as a regular, was forced to retire after his first time at bat because of a charley-horse in his left leg.

WHY don't we use a big D for "dollar" and draw two lines through that? Who started the idea of using an S instead?

Well, one explanation links us with old Spanish trading days. Prices were based on pesos, which was abbreviated to read P. Gradually, they say, we came to write the P right on top of the S. But the sign was too hard to read, so we rolled the loop off the P, which left $. And finally, we picked up another stroke and put it through the S, resulting in our present $.

Now reading the dollar-sign is natural to every one. But much more important, we believe, is learning to read dollar-values.

When you hold a newspaper in your hand, the dollar-values are right before your eyes. You find them in nearly every good advertisement. They tell you where to get the most quality at the lowest cost.

It's a good practice to study the dollar-values in your newspaper before you set out to buy. Then the price-tags mean more to you than a group of figures.

Veteran Newspaper Writer, On Visit To Big Spring, Predicts Steady Boom

Editor's Note: The following article is written by Jack Lloyd, 66 years old soldier of fortune, adventurer, globe trotter, boom town publisher and veteran of several wars and revolutions.

Ketchener in the Boer war, in the Russo-Japanese war, Jack was on the staff of the late Count Tolstoi, and he is also of fighting with the late Sandino in the neighboring Latin-American countries.

Oil booms know Jack the way over, for there never has been a large play in any section of the country, that Jack has not been in on the ground floor, and Texas has seen Jack ever since the famous Lucas Gusher blew in almost 25 years ago.

While passing through Big Spring, Jack called on the editor, and consented to write an article, regarding the difference in appearance in Big Spring of today, and how it looked during the first days of the oil boom.

West Texas, the scene of several nice oil plays, has seen Jack in the past 10 years, and it was no other than Jack, that wrote several features for The Herald, when the Crawford Hotel was being completed.

By JACK LLOYD
During the last 8 months, I have traveled from southern Florida to the Canadian border in the New England states, then west to the Washington coast country, and back down south to Texas, during that time, I have seen quite a large section of the country, and it was not until I arrived in the state of New Mexico, that conditions began to take on a more prosperous appearance.

ing stations, mercantile houses and what have you.

One great point of interest to the stranger, is the fact, that there are very few empty business houses. This means, that business must be above the average town that is located in the country hit hardest by the conditions of the day.

With various industries locating in this vicinity, I believe that it will not be long until Big Spring will also enter the manufacturing end of the cities in the west, for, it is located in a typical spot, suitable to become an ideal manufacturing center.

All in all, one can see, written upon the wall, that all of West Texas is staged for a real come back, and that Big Spring, with its location will become one of the great "little cities" to be found out in this western plains country, that only a few decades ago, was a cattle trail, and a haven for the everlasting restless tumble weeds.

OR GOOD LIGHTING

Students have enough problems to overcome during their school careers without the added handicap of eye-strain resulting from inadequate artificial lighting. Modern school buildings usually are well equipped with proper lighting, but what of the home? Most studying is done after dark, and unless there is a good light the result is tired eyes, ruined dispositions and poor grades.

And the remedy is so simple and inexpensive. Here are a few rules for proper lighting: Each member of the family who reads or studies should have a separate reading lamp, properly shaded, so that there will be no glare. The single-socket lamps should contain a 100-watt globe, the two-socket lamps should have two 60-watt globes, and the three-socket lamps should be filled with three 40-watt globes, or better, three 60-watt globes.

The cost of adequate lighting is insignificant when it prevents eye-strain, headaches, and possibly permanent damage to young eyes.
