FOUR ESCAPE FROM JAIL AT GREENVILLE

GREENVILLE, Texas, Oct. 26. Four men escaped from the Hunt county jail today, leaving an injured companion gaged over the night janitor of the courthouse building who was bound and gagged. The escaped men were: Ralph King, 18, inmate of Huntsville penitentiary, who was held here awaiting trial on charges of burglary and robbery. Jack Stewart, 25, Huntsville penitentiary inmate, likewise held awaiting trial here. Bill Ross, held for Delta county authorities, and Frank Donovan, whose trial on charges of forgery was to open in district court Monday. The four prisoners attacked Cloud Dudding, the night janitor, who was unarmed, with steel bars with which they had armed themselves. He was beaten on the head and shoulders. Two lacerations on the head were treated by physicians today. The injured prisoner, who was too badly injured in the fall to attempt to flee, was left as guard over the janitor, who was bound and gagged. Dudding estimated the jailbreak occurred about 1 a. m. Stewart and King were allegedly members of the Dago Seay gang, believed to be the hijacking ring responsible for theft of thousands of dollars of merchandise from Texas truckers and warehousemen.

Ford Loses Big Contract Because Of NRA Policies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Henry Ford today stood to lose valuable government contracts because of his policy of ignoring NRA. War department officials preparing to place orders for $10,000,000 of army motorization equipment disclosed none of the orders go to Ford so long as he does not display the Blue Eagle. Ford officials said their dealers had submitted low bids for a large part of the equipment. The auto code is held by NRA to apply to Ford, even though he did not sign it and officials say he is observing its terms, nevertheless he must sign a certificate of compliance before he can display the Blue Eagle.

Baptist General Convention to Be Held at Dallas

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 26.—The Baptist general convention of Texas which will hold its 85th annual session at Fort Worth beginning Nov. 7, will this year celebrate the 100th anniversary of the beginning of Baptist work in Texas. The convention program will give large space to "Our Century of Progress," and will present the story of the first Baptist organization in Texas. This church was organized in Illinois and moved to Texas as a unit, crossing the Sabine river in November, 1833. Dr. J. Howard Williams, general secretary of the convention, announces that Texas Baptists will celebrate their "Century of Progress" with a great mission offering amounting to $124,000. Some $50,000 of this fund has already been paid in, and Dr. Williams expressed himself as being very hopeful that Texas Baptists would raise the remaining $85,000 within the next two weeks. During this fall Texas Baptists have held 107 associational meetings all over Texas, with record attendance in almost every instance, demonstrating the progress of the past century. When the first organized group of Baptists came into Texas 100 years ago, there were less than 50 Baptists in the state. At this time there are more than 500,000 white Baptists, and a total of more than a million of all races according to Dr. Williams.

Marriage Class Proves Popular

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—A year's experience with a course in marriage led Butler University officials to decide the class into separate sections for men and women. The course is entitled "Preparation for Marriage." It was established because of an unusually high divorce rate in Indianapolis. Subjects embraced in the course include ethics in courtship, cultivating and changing personalities, social diseases, budgeting, home management and parenthood. "We found it advisable to conduct separate sections for men and women," explained Albert E. Bailey, dean of the university's evening and extension division.

PALESTINE, Texas, Oct. 26.—Four heavily armed bandits entered the Robinson State bank here today and escaped with from $2,500 to $3,000 cash after locking three officials in the bank vault. The officials released tear gas in an attempt to repel the bandits. Two of the bandits followed a negro porter into the building at 6:30 a. m., tied him up, and as the three officials entered shortly after 8 a. m., they were herded into the rear of the bank. One official was forced to open the vault in the rear of the bank, another the smaller vault in the front. From the rear vault the bandits took two boxes containing silver amounting to about $200 and from the front vault they obtained about $2,500. After locking the officials in the large vault, the bandits began working on a small vault, attempting to enter the inner safe, which was set to open at 10 a. m. The imprisoned officials pulled a lever inside the vault which released tear gas in the bank proper. The bandits fled in an automobile.

The ground of farmers expressed confidence in the national administration ability to solve farm problems if given time, and charged most of the farm strike pickets were non-farmers and transients.

CHICAGO MURDERERS DIE IN THE CHAIR

Chicago is the second American city in point of population and wealth. Chicago in time bids fair to become the first metropolis of the republic. According to criminal statistics, 186 police officers have been slain in the second American city since the close of the World War. They were slain by outlaws. They were shot down in cold blood while in performance of duty.

Chicago had an awakening long before the coming of the Century of Progress exposition. Law abiding citizens, men both fearless and liberty loving, organized. They determined that crime should cease or be reduced to the minimum and that desperadoes that made Chicago their rendezvous should be exterminated. They voted Big Bill Thompson and his gang out of office. They elected as the chief magistrate of Chicago Anton Cermack, a splendid citizen who was shot to death by an assassin in the city of Miami.

Now ever since his death the courts of Chicago have been grinding. They have put behind the bars of the penitentiary hijackers and kidnapers and assassins of the so-called underworld of America. They have given the world its greatest exposition. They have waged a relentless war on crime and criminals. Now slayers of policemen convicted by juries of their peers are being sent to the electric chair, desperadoes who robbed the defenseless using firearms are not pardoned by the governor of Illinois. They are not furloughed. They are kept where they belong behind the stone walls of the penitentiaries of the commonwealth. Since the coming of October, two slayers of brave officers have paid the penalty. They were electrocuted in the "pan"—otherwise the electric chair. Three are in death cells awaiting the awful penalty.

Atty. Gen. Homer Cummings launched the nationwide crusade against crime and criminals. He named Joseph B. Keenan, a courageous and intelligent prosecutor, to direct the drive and the prosecution with the assistance of state officials everywhere. Well, the recent record made by the federal judge and federal prosecutors tells the story of the war against criminals who defy not only the federal but state authorities and who rob and slay without compunction of conscience. This is as it should be. It is said that to err is human but to forgive divine. It is a beautiful sentiment, but the social order should be safeguarded and the lawabiding men and women of nation and state should be protected at all times—and without counting the cost.

To the Editor of The Eastland Telegram:

I wish to congratulate the City Commissioners—not in their having their books for the city audited, for that is usually done each year—but in having the report published in the press in such plain figures that every newspaper reader can understand the same.

In conversation with one of the City Commissioners several years ago, I urged that the financial affairs of the city should be published in the press. They laughed at me and said, "Who would read them?" I said the women would. They spend the money and are interested in city affairs.

Naturally I am interested in the criticism of the auditor and the figures under the head of the Board of City Development.

If these figures are true it certainly shows a woeful lack of business judgment on the part of the directors to go on year after year overdrawing the account. During the four year period covered by this audit the figures show for the fiscal year April 1, 1929 to March 31, 1930 the account was overdrawn four hundred and some odd dollars. This continued in an increasing amount until the last year mentions an overdrawn account of seven thousand odd dollars.

These figures are not correct. Evidently the auditors as also many citizens may have overlooked the fact that at one of the elections in 1926 the people voted to establish a Board of City Development and to carry out this mandate the Board of City Commissioners adopted an ordinance governing the Board of City Development. This ordinance authorized the City Commissioners to levy a tax of two mills on the dollar valuation of the property of the City of Eastland to support this institution and also provided that the money should be withdrawn from this account by written resolutions of the directors of the Board of City Development. The auditors say according to law these funds should be kept in a separate bank account. Now then at no time since the adoption of this ordinance in 1926 and especially during the four years covered by this audit have the provisions of this ordinance been carried out. Some years one mill was levied and other years of late no levy was made at all, and further, funds were withdrawn from this account without any action authorizing the same by the directors of the Board of City Development. This was done in many instances but the most prominent item was the $18,000.00 per year paid Professor Campbell as band master.

The merchants all wanted a band. The school wanted a band. We all wanted a band and opportunity was presented to get the services of a skillful and successful band master. The City Commission employed him at one hundred and fifty dollars per month. His check was delivered to him by the city clerk. You can imagine my surprise when checking the account over shortly after taking charge as secretary to find $1,800.00 taken out of the account of the Board of City Development. There isn't a scratch of a pen to show that the Board of Directors of the Board of City Development ever authorized this money to be taken from the Board of City Development's account. My predecessor, Professor Colvin, told me that City Manager Tatum told him that when some account was presented that carried with it some publicity features and they didn't know where to charge it, they would charge it to the Board of City Development. This covers the case of the two hundred dollars loss in the Marine Band Concert as well as the expense in connection with Warner Memorial University, and many other smaller amounts. If the City Commissioners during the four years covered by the audit had carried out the provisions of the ordinance governing the Board of City Development the financial statement would show instead of a deficit, or overdrawn account, an account with a large balance in it. During the four years covered by the audit there was assessed by the City the sum of $16,080,069.00 which at two mills would have produced at seventy two per cent actual collection $23,156.00, which this fund should have received. So instead of having some $7,000.00 overdrawn account there should have been a credit balance of some $6,400.00. In my opinion if the present City Commission does not care to carry out the mandate of the people in maintaining the Board of City Development, the proper course would be to repeal the ordinance. In my opinion the Chamber of Commerce should not be financially tied to any City Administration. The ideal Chamber of Commerce is composed of men and women who are willing to contribute some of their time and money to development of civic improvements of any and all nature. In criticizing old records one must always remember that our hindsight is better than our foresight. Dr. H. B. Tanner, Secretary, Eastland Chamber of Commerce. With winter coming on, we shall soon begin seeing women dressed,

That Reminds Me

(Continued from page 1) tis right for from 50 to 1000 people who pay dues for the privilege to go about naked—even though segregated, then there is no reason for the law to discriminate in any place. We are wondering just how far this fad is going to be allowed to go . . . unchallenged.

The New York Sun recently in an editorial had this to say which is given in part. Government competition with private electric plants with its low financing charges, can produce but one result. It will throw thousands of men out of work who are now employed by private utilities. It is the opinion of the Sun that power from Muscle Shoals, however distributed, should be sold at a price commensurate with that which private utilities, operating efficiently under similar conditions can sell it for. Any other course would be government chiseling on a grand scale.

The Sun is right. We do not believe in government ownership of anything. Government control is necessary in many instances. But private interests are the very backbone for the government's existence. Any other plan would defeat the prosperity that this nation can or will enjoy in the future.

There seems to be less popular sentiment for Uncle Sam's recovery act than for Sally Rand's recovery act.

Book Club

Charmingly Entertained Mrs. Walter I. Clark entertained the Book club at her residence on South Seaman street, Thursday in one of the most original and delightful affairs the club has enjoyed this season.

The 1 o'clock luncheon, given in honor of the new members, an annual affair, was a bookish entertainment in both menu and program.

The buffet table, beautiful in its arrangement, centered with a silver bowl filled with small, bright flowers, and flanked by pink candles, in low silver holders, bore the Arnold Bennett salad; squash a la Willie Cather; baked potatoes a la Ludwig; George Sand rolls; and last course of ice cream a la Mencken; cake in G. B. Shaw style, and Sinclair Lewis coffee.

Four tables, flower centered, with places marked with unique cartoons of each member, containing both the printed program and menu, carried out the pink and lavender color motif.

The program was devoted to the reviewing by Mrs. H. B. Howard, of Hervey Allen's "Anthony Adverse," a very fine analysis.

Mrs. Scott W. Key, president of the club, in her graceful fashion, expressed a warm welcome to the new members present, and the guests of the day, Mrs. J. M. Armstrong of Fort Worth, and Mrs.

Mrs. Frances Hunter, entertainment chairman, has a rollicking program outlined and regular Halloween refreshments will be arranged by Miss Carolyn Cox and committee.

There is still another Halloween affair Saturday night, when the seniors and intermediates of the B. Y. P. U. will have a jolly evening, a regular masquerade party, with the senior group as the host.

The crowd will meet in the Baptist church and beyond that no further statement is made.

It is in such legitimate entertainments as this the mischievous pranks are avoided, in the keeping busy of both youngsters and oldsters.

Intermediate R. A. and G. A. Fine Program There was a large attendance registered at the meeting of the Intermediate Royal Ambassadors and Girls Auxiliary held 4:15 p. m., Tuesday in the Baptist church, with Mrs. L. G. Rogers, director as supervisor of program.

Hymns, "Prayer Changes Things," and "He Keeps Me Singing," and prayer offered by Miss Della Webb, formed the devotional.

Minutes, approved, were submitted by secretary, Miss Geraldine Terrell.

Miss Frances Lane was greeted as a new member.

The program, "Following the Sunrise Trail," was led by L. J. Lambert Jr.

The first part of the program, presented a devotional from Luke 1:42-51, by Miss Geraldine Terrell of Group 1, in charge of program.

The second part, "Jesus Going About His Father's Business," was the subject of Curtis Terrell, and third, "Bible Study," given by L. J. Lambert Jr.

"Courage," by Miss Beulah Drake, and subject, "Good Health," by Miss Marzelle Wright, concluded program.

The day of the meetings has been changed to Wednesday.

Those present, Misses Della Webb, Elinor Drinkard, Beulah Drake, Marzelle Wright, Katherine Garrett, Frances Lane, Dora B. Williams, Alice Mae Sue, Annabelle Arterburn, Marie Hilburn, Loraine Chambers, Joy Coplin, Jane Ray, Geraldine Terrell, Katrina Lovelace, Mary Shepherd; L. J. Lambert Jr., Ernest Webb, Curtis Terrell, and Mrs. L. G. Rogers.

South Ward School P-T. A. Concludes Carnival Plans

The Parent-Teacher association of the South Ward school had an attendance of 52 members, at an unprecedented number, at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. L. Y. Morris, president, opened the meeting, and Miss Lillian Smith served as secretary pro tem.

After the routine business the invitation was read received from the Eastland County Council of P-T. A., which convenes in Ranger School Saturday, Oct. 28, 2:30 p. m., in Gholson hotel.

The card was from Mrs. F. E. Jacobs.

A membership drive is on in the school for each room which has been furnished a big blue flower bowl and every blue flower added to the receptacle means a new member in each room.

The room having the most flowers will be the honor room and will be given a party 3:30 p. m., next Monday in school cafeteria.

The P-T. A. voted to put on a stunt for the Thursday afternoon stunt show, and committee to arrange same was named in Mrs. Houle, Mmes. Clifton Horn and Marvin Hood.

Mr. Howard of Abilene gave a fine analytical talk on the construction of the piano.

Plans for the carnival were completed and announcement made that the Stubblefield building on south side of square would house the entertainment.

All committees reported they were at work on the carnival plans.

This was one of the most interesting meetings the association has held in several seasons.

Jorgotten Sweetheart

BEGIN HERE TODAY JOAN WARREN, pretty blonde, girl, and BOB WESTON, son of a New York millionaire, meet in Memphis and fall in love. Through the scheming of BARBARA COURTNEY, who is trying to take Bob away from Joan, they become estranged.

PAT WARREN, Joan's younger sister, is in an automobile accident in which JERRY ROBERTSON, ER, her escort, is killed. Horrified, Pat runs away to New York and Joan follows. In New York, Joan begins a search for her sister and also a search for a job. She is engaged to sing at a night club owned by BARNEY BLAKE, who proves a steadfast friend.

Barney persuades Joan to move into the apartment where his stepmother lives to act as her companion. Joan hears of another southern girl, a model, out of a job, who is ill with pneumonia. Fearing that the girl may be Pat, she rushes to find her.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXV PAT'S illness climaxed two weeks of hunting for a job without encouragement. As the days passed, the loneliness had begun to oppress her, and her appetite failed. Often she had been too tired to prepare food and her evening meal would be only a can of soup.

At the end of each day she was just a little more discouraged than before. "Return the first of next month. Things might open up by then." Other executives were less encouraging. Summer, they said, was a poor time to be job hunting. Everything was slack. And on and on.

"I'll get a job if there's one to be had in New York!" Pat had thought. Her fighting spirit was aroused. She had heard of girls, whipped into accepting defeat, but they had not the same incentive she had.

She couldn't go back to Memphis where everybody stared and whispered. That's the girl who was with Jerry Forrester when he was killed. They'd been at a road house—

Pat's everted lips set in a straight line at the thought, and she drove herself a little harder. She was thinner and she had developed a cold. She had intended to stop at the drug store on the corner and get something for it, but always something too tired, or too engrossed in her thoughts when she passed.

One morning she awakened to the sound of rain. That meant nothing another day. It might mean a job lost. And it meant, too, a whole day to be spent alone.

A day alone would be intolerable. What was a little rain? Pat told herself she could walk close to the side of the subway. And on the way home she would buy a bottle of cough medicine. There had been a dull ache in her chest for two days now.

She almost gave up the idea of going out while she was eating her breakfast. She felt chilled and tired. Her head was aching dreadfully. If there was no advertisement that looked encouraging maybe she would stay at home, after all.

SHE ran downstairs to the apartment occupied by Mrs. Baker, her landlady, who saved the morning newspaper for her. Mrs. Baker had seemed grateful because Pat had paid an entire month's rent in advance.

Back in her room, Pat turned to the "Help Wanted—Female" column. The first advertisement caught her eye: "Wanted, young girl of neat appearance and pleasing personality. Swift typist and accurate in shorthand. Good job for right party."

Pat had been considered a good stenographer and an accurate and rapid typist. "I can't miss that," she decided. "I'll get ready early. The early bird lands the job."

But when Pat, in her damp coat and soaked hat, reached the address, she found the outside half-filled with girls, though a sign had been conspicuously posted on a closed door, "Place has been filled."

A girl with dark, cynical eyes looked hard at Pat and said in an audible voice to another girl, "The depression must be hard on a lot of office wives! Even the prettiest don't get jobs these days."

Pat left, feeling very sick and blue. She caught the surface car home. It was a long, tiring ride and she was shaking when she got off the car.

In her eagerness to reach her room she passed the drug store again without stopping. The shaking had increased and Pat got in bed, pulling all the covers she could find over herself, and adding her winter coat.

She was having a chill. It had been stupid to go out. And there was no medicine. Perhaps she would feel better after a while. Perhaps the rain would stop and she could go to the drug store. Soon she began to feel hot, terribly hot and dizzy. Oh, if only Joan were here! What was the name of the hotel where Joan was stopping? Oh, yes, she remembered—the Breckenridges. When she felt better, she would call Mrs. Baker and ask her to telephone Joan.

BARNEY and Joan entered the bare little room where Pat had been waging her game fight. Now Joan was on her knees, her lips against Pat's cheek, her tears on Pat's white face.

The doctor, a worried, nervous little man, came forward. "She doesn't know any one," he said. "She's been delirious for hours."

"You're the sister?" Mrs. Baker asked. When Joan nodded, the woman continued, "We tried to get you at the hotel. They said you had gone."

Joan felt she was being punished for her carelessness in not leaving a forwarding address—punished more than she could bear.

Barney left the room to find a telephone. He called a hospital. "It's pneumonia. I want the best doctor you can get!" he stated briefly.

Then another call, relief in his tone. "As fast as you can get here, doctor. And bring your best nurse."

By night Pat's room had taken on a different aspect. A uniformed nurse was moving capably about. One of New York's most famous physicians sat close by the bed, watching the still, white face, plac-

EASE PAIN IN FEW MINUTES

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia... the fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered.

These results are due to a scientific discovery by which a Bayer Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. A Bayer Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And that is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, see that you get the Genuine BAYER Aspirin. For Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always say "BAYER Aspirin."
