ABOUT Eastland

By Virgil E. Moore

Like everywhere else you go, you find out quick at Fort Hood that it's a small world.

Capt. Frank Sayre arranged for Moore About and O. H. Dick, publisher of The Telegram, to fly to Fort Hood in a National Guard plane. The pilot who came after us turned out to be a native of Cisco. He is Capt. T. Sherman, now of Dallas. That was surprise enough, but as soon as we reached the Fort we ran into still another Eastland Countian. He was Maj. R. C. Brittan of Midland, whose mother, Mrs. Millie Brittan, still lives here.

Guardsmen at Fort Hood were a tired but apparently happy bunch. Unfortunately, we didn't know what they wanted most, or we could have really gone over big. A man with a gallon of real Eastland water would have been met with open arms. The water situation at Hood is rough. The "brass" keep saying it is drinkable, but they weren't convincing many of the boys.

Skeptics of the National Guard could learn a lot by attending one summer training period. The boys know what they are doing, and they were not making the same mistakes twice. Our public thanks to Frank for arranging such a fine trip.

Ground Observer Posts In County Named By Hyde

Nine Eastland county Ground Observer posts were named Tuesday at an introductory program presented in the Morton Valley Baptist Church for that community.

The posts are to be located in Eastland, Cisco, Pioneer, Rising Star, Ranger, Carbon, Desdemona, Gorman and Morton Valley, with County Judge John Hart as county supervisor. Supervisors for the individual posts will be appointed by Judge Hart.

Staff Sgt. J. R. Hyde, of the Dallas Filter Center, conducted the meeting and showed a film, "Front Lines of Freedom." He will visit each county post in the near future to assist the supervisor in the observation with the organization of their post.

"Six volunteers were obtained at the Morton Valley meeting, but many more are needed," Sgt. Hyde said.

Soil Bank Plan Is Studied By Farm Bureau

Eastland County Farm Bureau directors and visitors at the regular Thursday night meeting in Eastland, heard a detailed letter of information read, pertinent to the recent disclosure of plans to increase the screen size on grading the 1956 peanut crop.

The county Farm Group has gone on record as opposing the increase of screen size of 1-64 inch, but the outcome of action taken has not been determined at the present time.

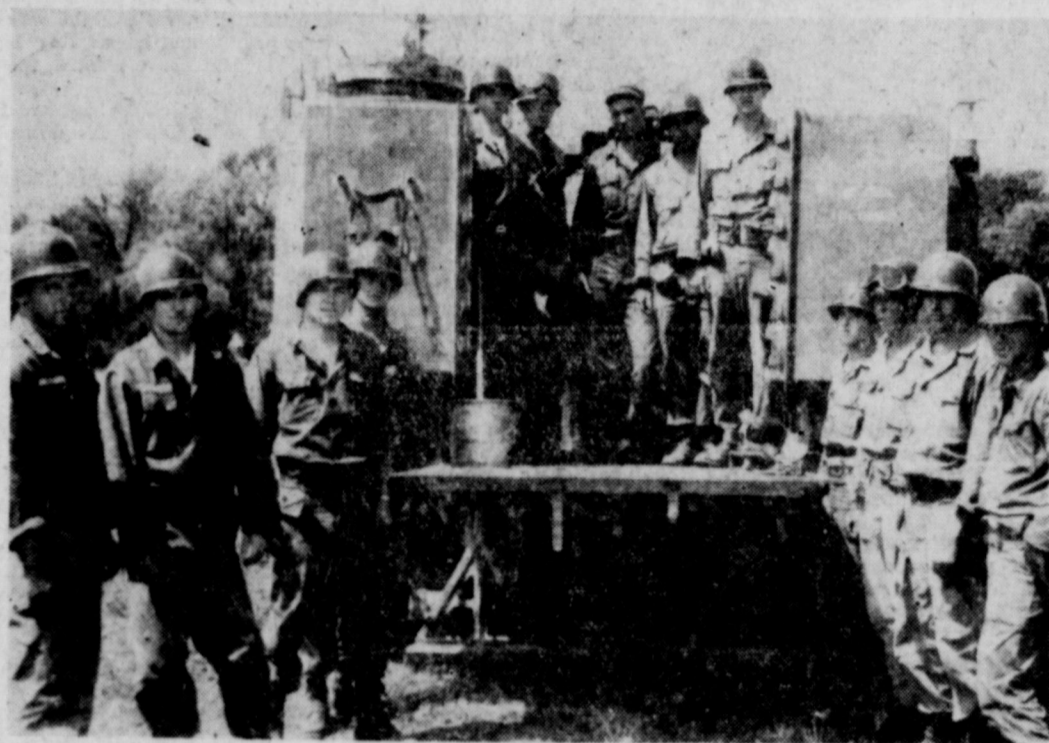

Emmett E. Powell, of the ASC office, defined several phases of the Soil Bank Plan which is a current issue that concerns Eastland county farmers at this time.

Acres yields on major crops and prices on average yields has become the primary problem in arriving at payments to farmers who participate in the soil bank program.

Farmers are urged to come in and sign up before the July 20 deadline, bringing along the farm serial number with them.

Mitchell Campbell, county president, introduced J. D. Jordan, TFB field representative, who talked on "Policy Development" and explained a new discussion group plan at community level as a means of enrolling not only new members, but also getting more participation and information on current problems.

Policies at grass roots level are being encouraged more and more, Jordan said.

AT FORT HOOD

Guardsmen Put Up With Dust, Smoke And Brass

By STAFF WRITER

FORT HOOD — Dust clings to every cedar tree and to men and armored vehicles alike. A range fire burns four miles south over a heavy timbered area and big guns rumble on all sides. This is Fort Hood, where some 150 Eastland County citizen-soldiers are training.

The range fires — started by the 155 and 105 millimeter howitzers of the 49th Armored Division of the Texas National Guard — throw up layers of smoke which cut off the view to the south almost entirely and send black clouds pouring over your head. A big gun just a scant few yards in front of you, manned by Eastland County men, booms, and you hear directions being sent back from the forward observers to correct the aim. Then the Guardsmen have their target and the command comes to "fire for effect."

The Lone Star Division is dug in on the second day of a four day bivouac. This is exercise Clover Leaf 1, and you are surrounded by men that you know as civilians doing war-time jobs.

They are tired men. Many of them having been up since 3 a.m. after an 18 hour day of combat maneuvers the day before. They are men from Eastland, Ranger, Cisco and other towns in Eastland County. They are the members of Battery A and Service Battery of the 648th Armored Field Artillery Battalion.

A dust covered truck rolls to a halt near one of the guns and you move closer to see what's going on. Lt. David Fry of Eastland cautions you to quit smoking, and you soon see why. Members of Ranger's Service Battery are bringing up more ammunition for Cisco's Battery A. The men work quickly, unload the ammo and the truck roars away.

You wander back to a small cedar tree where an even smaller tarpaulin is stretched overhead, giving about three square feet of shade. Capt. Frank Sayre, commander of the Cisco unit, from Eastland, and Lt. Williams of Cisco sit there, both with field telephone in hand. A fire command has just come through, and the two officers are relaying commands to the guns. Then the barrage starts again and about a half

Game Preserve Association Has New President

Ted Underwood of Gorman was elected new president of the Sabanna Valley Game Preserve Association at the regular meeting of the group held recently.

Underwood succeeds Ned Morris of Carbon, who is convalescing from a recent heart attack, and who had requested that he not be re-elected. All other officers of the organization were re-elected.

H. A. Lovell of Carbon is vice president; Berry Greenwood of Carbon is secretary; treasurer; and Jack Anderson of Cisco, John D. Clark of Rising Star, Fred Burfield of Carbon and W. R. Ussery of Carbon are directors.

A unanimous "vote of appreciation" was given Morris "for the many services he has rendered the Association during its first year of existence."

Morris sent word to the group that he is willing to help forward the Association's aims in any way possible as soon as his health will permit.

E. E. McAllister and C. Garner of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation unit presented a film on native grasses for the group.

Friday Last Day To Sign Up For Soil Bank Plan

Friday is the deadline for farmers to sign contracts to participate in the Soil Bank Program, Emmett Powell, ASC office manager, pointed out today.

Powell said some 350 farmers have signed contracts so far, and estimated that some 400 or 500 would be before the deadline. "We need a little more time," Powell explained, "but we just don't have it."

EASTLAND COUNTY FARMERS BORROW $384,830 FROM FHA

Farmers in Eastland County obtained loans totaling $384,830 through the Farmers Home Administration during the year ending June 30, Homer P. Gole the agency's county supervisor, said this week.

Repayments on loans outstanding during the year totaled $298,996.54. The agency has advanced credit to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, equipment, livestock, and other farm operating items needed to place farms on an efficient operating basis and to buy and improve family-type farms. It also advanced funds for soil and water conservation purposes.

The local Farmers Home Administration committee must approve each loan application before funds can be advanced. The committee determines all loan applicant's eligibility and certifies the value of farms to be purchased or improved if those actions are involved. It also makes recommendations on loan approvals and servicing actions.

Applicants are approved as eligible only if other lenders cannot adequately supply their credit needs and only if prospects are favorable for their being able to improve their farming and repay their loans. Families are expected to refinance their loans with other lenders as soon as they are in a position to do so.

150 Eastland County Growers Vote Friday

Eastland County wheat growers will join farmers in 35 other states Friday when they vote in a referendum on rigid government marketing controls for their 1957 crop.

Farmer approval of controls will assure growers in major wheat states a federal price support averaging $2 per bushel on the 1957 crop. If farmers refuse the government-proposed marketing quotas supports will drop to about $1.21 a bushel.

Voting places in Eastland County ty will be at the Cisco Chamber of Commerce building and the Eastland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in the courthouse in Eastland.

A two-third approval margin is necessary to put the quotas into effect.

Eastland County has an estimated 150 eligible voters, according to Emmett Powell, ASC office manager. Some 950,000 wheat growers in the 36 "commercial" growing states are eligible to vote.

The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Wheat marketing quotas were in effect for the 1954, 1955 and 1956 crops. Agriculture Secretary (Continued on Page Two)

If all goes well, Hooper will move next summer to the Gulf Coast to study the risks involved in off-shore drilling operations.

Open Season On Antelope Foreseen For West of Pecos

AUSTIN — Herd counts now underway indicate the antelope population west of the Pecos is sufficient to warrant an open season this fall, according to the director of wildlife restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

P. B. Uzell of Alpine, wildlife biologist in charge of the aerial census scheduled for late June completion, reported to the director that up to 500 buck antelope probably will be available for the proposed October harvest.

Whether the season will include surplus doe antelope will be determined when the commission acts on the fall hunting program at its July meeting.

Last year, hunters took less than one half of the buck and doe antelope declared surplus west of the Pecos, said Uzell. Permits were authorized for 1100 buck antelope and 250 doe antelope. The five hundred ninety persons obtaining the special licenses bagged 558 bucks and only 28 doe antelope.

After the hunting season failed to reduce the herds to the desired number, trapping crews moved in and transplanted approximately 600 head of antelope from the west of Pecos ranches.

Uzell said 200 head were trapped from one ranch alone and that the current herd count showed that this particular ranch still has surplus antelope which will be included in the proposed open season prospectus for this fall.

The director of wildlife restoration said recommendations have not been made yet on the Panhandle where an open season on buck antelope is considered likely.

Antelope license holders generally are determined through a drawing for applicants held in the commission's Austin office. Permit holders are entitled to one antelope.

Eastland-

tary Ezra T. Benson proposed them again for 1957. The law requires him to do so when supplies are more than 20 per cent above normal. Supplies for the marketing year which began July 1 are 71 per cent above normal, the department said.

Here is the choice farmers face in the referendum. If quotas are approved:

All farms with more than 15 acres of wheat in "commercial" wheat states, including Texas, will be subject to marketing quotas.

Growers who comply with quotas will get a national average support price of $2 per bushel in commercial areas.

Farmers who put part of their 1957 wheat allotment into the acreage reserve of the new "soil bank" will get government payments of $1.20 per bushel for each bushel they do not produce next year.

Farmers who overplant their allotments may not sell any of their crop without paying a penalty of about $1.09 per bushel on production from the extra acres. In some cases the penalty can be avoided by putting the excess wheat in storage. Farmers with allotments under 15 acres may market up to 15 acres without penalty.

If quotas are voted down:

There will be no penalties for production above the acreage allotment level.

The price support rate will be cut from $2 per bushel to about $1.21 in commercial areas, even for farmers who comply with allotments.

Soil bank payments for 1957 wheat will be cut to about 73 cents per bushel.

Standing in a single line of march formation, Red Cross volunteers who served during the past year, would form a line 800 miles long, the approximate distance between New York City and Chicago, Illinois.

Karen Gallagher Is Honored With A Play Party

It was play time at 607 South Daugherty the morning of July 10 when Mrs. Eddie Gallagher invited several children over to help her daughter, Karen Elaine, celebrate her fifth birthday.

Karen greeted her guests and their dolls at the door of her playhouse at 9:30 and presented each with a dollie's nursing bottle and bubble gum.

After a mid-morning snack of orange juice and miniature cinnamon squares, the little girls spent a happy time together with their dolls.

The driver of the car was Don Underwood. The accident occurred about 3 p.m. Sunday. He was treated for scratches and bruises and released.

The right front tire of Underwood's car blew out, officers said. He ran about 140 yards on gravel off the highway then down the island between the middle of the highway, they said. He was thrown from the vehicle when it rolled over three times.

1107 Jackson, Dallas. Attending physicians said he was given treatment for cuts and scratches and released. Raymond Freeman, 39, of Brownwood was apparently uninjured.

Investigating officers said Freeman, driving a supply truck for Garrett Barber and Beauty Supply of Brownwood, was going west in the left lane on Highway 80. Klimist, who was driving a 1955 Cadillac, was going east toward Dallas, where he is a furniture wholesaler.

The supply truck turned left into the El Rancho Motel when it was struck on the side near the rear end by the Cadillac. The Klimist vehicle was spun completely around by the impact, officers said, and finally came to a standstill about 120 feet from the point of the crash. The supply truck veered about 20 feet to the left before turning over once.

Damages to the Cadillac were estimated at a total loss. Damages to the Garrett truck and supplies inside were estimated at $2500.

Abolish The Evil Tax Law Now!

Recently I proposed abolition of the progressive income tax. I suggested its replacement with a flat rate tax on income with a top limit of 22%, plus a Federal sales tax. I pointed out that not only would this form of tax encourage greater investment, greater risk, harder work and larger incomes for all—it would also not necessarily reduce the tax collections by the government. The Federal government will even collect more in taxes with lower rates. Figures from the past show why this would probably occur. In the National Review of March 28 there is an article advocating a 25 per cent limit on income taxes. It contains some highly significant figures: They show that in 1925 the maximum income tax rate was 40 per cent and the maximum personal exemption $2,500. Total income tax collections in 1925 were $2,584,140,000. The next year the top tax rate was dropped to 24 per cent and the personal exemption was increased to $3,000. But tax collections increased from $2,584,140,000 to $2,836,000,000. Thus with lower rates for higher income groups and greater exemptions for lower groups the revenue department collected more money. In 1927 the top tax rate remained at 24 per cent but personal exemptions were increased to $3,500 taking more lower income people off the tax rolls. Again the revenue collections increased. They went to $2,865,683,000. Next in 1928 the top tax rate was again dropped to 20 per cent. The exemption remained the same. This further reduction in rates caused only a slight dip in collections amounting to $75,147,000. The next year at those same lowered rates, however, the revenue bureau again gained more revenue. It collected $2,939,054,000. And still at those same lower rates in 1930, the tax take rose to the highest level of all, although at half the rates in 1925. It reached $3,040,146,000. These figures prove conclusively that a drop in tax rates does not automatically mean a drop in revenue. More often than not it means an increase in tax collections. Canada tried this in recent years and it paid off. It pays off because at lower rates people try to earn more so they can keep more. They risk more because if the risk pays off they can profit more. They work harder, spend more, build more and employ more because they don't have to share such a large proportion of the fruits of their labor and investment with the government. But by earning more and profiting more and employing more they pay more taxes even at lower tax rates. In my opinion right now would be a good time to try that kind of tax policy again. Save the working man from becoming an economic slave. $1,500 exemption for each person. A family of four making $6,000 would not pay taxes. The working man and the independent business man deserves a fair deal. God willing, we shall abolish this terrible injustice where the middle and low income tax group is giving its money to the government without any strings attached, and paying most of the bills. Then our politicians turn around and give it to our foreign friends to keep them liking us and from joining the Russians.
