91st Jury Finds Allen Not Guilty

"Not guilty!" So said the jury of Ivan J. Allen, 73, who has been on trial for his life this week in Eastland County.
The three-woman, nine-man 91st District Court jury was handed the Allen murder case at 11 a.m. Thursday and returned with the verdict at 1:45 p.m. Jerry Carter of Eastland was foreman and read the jury's verdict.
The jury came back to the courtroom about ten minutes of 12 noon and asked for some specific information of the court, and went to lunch.
The courtroom was packed with spectators, most of whom remained in their seats, not even leaving for lunch, waiting for the jury's return. They had a relatively short two hour and 45-minute wait.
Testimony in the case was completed Wednesday about 2:30 p.m. when the defense finished its presentation. Presiding Judge J. Frank Sparks called a recess until 9 a.m. Thursday, providing time for the drafting of the charge to the jury.
Final arguments got underway Thursday after the charges were read to the jury. District Attorney Brown recalled the testimony of witnesses in attempting to show "careful aiming" by Mr. Allen of the deer rifle in the shooting of his nephew, Dr. Albert Riedel in November of 1965.
During the defense argument, both Attorney Bill B. Hart and Virgil T. Seaberry Jr. stressed the accidental shooting aspects, repeating that three insurance companies had paid off on policies "following investigations in which they found the death to be accidental." This line was objected to strongly by Brown but Judge Sparks allowed it to stand because it had been brought out in testimony. (The defense had brought the insurance matter in by showing beneficiaries of the late physician.)
Defense included the testimony of close friends as well as the families of Dr Riedel, in showing the affection between Mr. Allen and the young physician.

Quoting the Old Testament, Mr. Brown asked for the death penalty during the state's final rebuttal.
The third-floor courtroom was packed both Wednesday and Thursday, with many standees and some spectators seated in folding lawn chairs which they had brought for themselves.

Able Cabel Gets Micro F.C.C. Okay

The Federal Communications Commission permit for microwave facilities for Southern Television System Corp. has been approved according to word received this week.
Mayor Frank Deaton reports that Glenn Scallorn, Southern TV executive of Del Rio and formerly of Eastland, called Friday morning to report that the official approval for the permit had been received, and that he, Mr. Scallorn, will be in Eastland this coming week with engineers to begin preparations for the installation of the microwave.
Installation of equipment will begin as soon as materials arrive here, Mr. Scallorn said, and the microwave system will be put into use as soon as possible to increase television reception for cable subscribers.
The company's request for microwave service has been on file with the F. C. C. for quite some time, and an earlier application drew protests from Abilene television stations.
Mr. Scallorn appeared before the Eastland commission at the November meeting and explained the procedures for applications, and stated at that time, that the company expected final approval soon because there had not been protests lodged.

In the near future, Tom Staggs and Dick Johnson will arrange a joint meeting of Eastland, Cisco and Ranger Jaycees.

Directors Discuss Trading Stamps, Hiring Manager

Chamber of Commerce directors will meet at 6:55 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 15, at the White Elephant.
The last meeting was held at noon Thursday, Jan. 27, at which time it was announced that the Retail Trades Committee will meet sometime within the next week to set up a trades day project for February.
An idea was introduced to directors by Jay Staggs regarding a trades stamp for Eastland. Promotion of this idea would eliminate all other trading stamps that are being given by Eastland merchants.
It was stressed that for Eastland to successfully promote a trades stamp, which would be redeemable only in this town, all merchants and chain stores would have to be in complete agreement.
Hiring a Chamber of Commerce manager was also discussed. Directors agreed that the Chamber needs a manager and many asked the question, "Can we find a capable, qualified person to accept the job for the salary we can pay?"
Attending the meeting were City Manager Lewis Tiner, Steve Simmons, J. T. Gregory, Marene Johnson, President Jack Arrington, Staggs, Clinton Bray, Don Viergever, Mayor Frank Deaton, Jack Germany, Frank Salyre and Helen Murrell.

The Feb. 4 performance will be "Madame Butterfly" and a Rossini work will be presented on the fifth. Rise Stevens is co-director of the company.
Among Eastlanders attending will be Mrs. Marene Johnson.
The late Mr. Canaris was a longtime Eastland photographer.

Elements Braved By Seniors For TCU Career Day

Despite the nasty weather of rain, snow and sleet the Eastland High School Seniors made the trip home safely from the Texas Christian Career and Citizenship Day held at the TCU campus.
The seniors left in cars from high school at 7 a. m. Friday morning — not anticipating the snow and sleet before they returned home.
The only bad luck the group had was one car sliding in the ditch near Ranger because of the slick conditions of the highways.
At the Career Day assembly, the group had the privilege to hear the Governor of Texas, John Connally, speak. He encouraged all who attended the event to try and get an education that they would benefit from in the future.
After the speech of the governor, the group attended conferences in a field in which they were most interested in.

Monday Is Deadline For Poll Tax Pay

Have you heard or read the news lately? "PAY YOUR POLL TAX."
You haven't, take a look in town and you will see signs around the square on sidewalks painted in big red letters PAY YOUR POLL TAX, or better read your Eastland Telegram and you will run across same reminder.
With the help of the FFA, Jaycees have made these signs and posted them.
The deadline is Monday, January 31, so you only have more opportunity before it is too late. It is necessary that this tax be paid in order that those eligible voters can vote in the upcoming elections.
A total of 1,320 poll taxes have been sold in the Eastland County Courthouse up until yesterday afternoon and they are being sold at a steady pace according to Tax Collector Edgar Altom. The tax sale was open Saturday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and it will be open all day Monday. Mr. Altom also said that they will keep the office open all day Monday as long as people would keep coming in to their tax.
It is also reminded that January 1 is the date to get your automobile license.

Over 500 Learn About Medicare In Talk Series

Over 535 Eastland County residents learned about "Medicare" in a series of talks held in 15 communities in the county, all the Home Demonstration Clubs in the county, and group meetings were sponsored by the County Committee on Aging, H. V. O'Brien, Chairman, and by the Eastland County Home Demonstration Council, Beverly Nicholson, Home Demonstration Agent, J. M. Cooper, County Health Officer, and member of the County Board of Health. The object of the series was to tell everyone in the county about Medicare and the following number of towns in the county: "Tanger, 63; Cisco, 93; Eastland, 61; Carbon, 20; Rising Star, 21; Olden, 53; Nimrod, 10; and Desdemona, 10."

Applications were received at the meeting and the necessary forms were completed and taken to the medical office of Medicare. One of the most profitable results of the series was that all of the applications taken were answered on time and other parts of Medicare.

Each of the meetings in the county, Weatherly explained the main points of Medicare, the one qualification for Medicare for this program is age 65 or older. It is divided into two parts, Hospital Insurance and Medical Insurance.

Hospital benefits are to help pay the bill when a person is hospitalized. When an individual enters the hospital he is liable for the first $40.00, the balance (except for dental and nursing) is paid by the program. All those who qualify for Social Security or Railroad retirement are automatically enrolled for this portion of the program. Everyone else needs to make an application. All those receiving Old Age Assistance are now being enrolled by the Department of Public Welfare; the rest need to contact the Social Security Office in Abilene or the representative when he is in their town. Hospital benefits do not cost the individual anything, but are to be paid from a special trust fund to which a part of current social security taxes are allocated.

Medical insurance helps to pay for the doctor's services and for some other medical items not under hospital benefits. This program pays 80 percent of the doctor bills after they amount to $50.00 in a calendar year. The individual is responsible for the first $50.00 of medical expense each year. This program is optional, so everyone who wishes to be under this part, must enroll for it. Those on Social Security or Railroad Retirement Benefits received a card from Baltimore in October or November, an enrollment card. When this was answered either "yes" or "no," no other action was necessary. If answered wrong, a new one can be obtained from the Social Security Office, Abilene, Texas. Application for medical benefits is made as part of the application for hospital benefits. The deadline for making application for medical benefits for everyone born in 1900 and before is March 31, 1966. This protection costs $3.00 per month, starting July 1, 1966.

Medicare becomes effective July 1, 1966.

The entire program was a series of successes because of the efforts of those on the Committee, who encouraged all interested Eastland County residents to attend the meeting most convenient for them.

The buildings, now being erected, are made of a pre-cast crystal white aggregate stone finished slab manufactured by the McDonald Brothers Cast Stone Co. in Fort Worth. Each individual stage area will be furnished complete with colored lights and a sound system, all being controlled from the underground control center located directly in front of the master stage. The master stage is equipped with a running River of

Winter Makes Another Icy Pass Through Area

This area was hit by another blast from old man winter as the week drew to an end.

Breezing in Friday about noon, the Arctic cold front iced up the landscape with about a half inch of snow and sleet, accompanied by temperatures that dipped as low as five degrees Friday night and early Saturday morning.

Friday morning the 8 a.m. temperature stood at 32, but began falling fast and by noon was at 21 and the moisture that fell, was sleet as it hit.

Sleet and snow continued through the afternoon as the mercury continued to drop. However the sun peeped out a little before 5 p.m. and it appeared to be clearing. No appreciable moisture fell during the night, but that already down, formed a slick glaze Saturday morning, causing hazardous driving and treacherous walking for all.

Some 21 accidents were reported by Highway Patrolmen on the area highways Friday afternoon and their undoubtedly were scores of unreported.

ed "fender benders" here. Saturday the sun began early to clear and melt the ice terrain, but the temperatures remained low. More clearing warmer is the prospect Sunday.

EASTLAND COUNTY TRAPPERS TO MEET TUESDAY NIGHT AT 7:30

There will be a meeting of the Eastland County Trapper's Association Tuesday, February 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the Meeting Room of the Texas Electric Service Company in Eastland. All members and friends are urged to attend this meeting as some important business will be attended to.

Refreshments will be served.

The Eastland County Trapper's Association has found that in many ways the problems of reducing animal damage are far more complex than the relatively straightforward issue of managing wildlife in national parks. A large number of governmental and private organizations are involved in the control program in one way or another, and the area encompassed is enormous.

Here in Eastland County the association has focused their attention to the Predator control of animals, which mainly consist of wolves or coyotes and bobcats.

By predators, it is meant animals that prey or live off of other animals. The coyote or bobcat is an enemy of the goat and sheep and their problem here is to control the enemy. This control is not a easy one, it is a continuous job, for the coyote is constantly raising in the cattle counties directly to the north and west, and is continuously drifting in our direction in order to find his prey, the goat and sheep. Since livestock is one of our best money crops it is a constant job protecting the goat and sheep.

This job calls for co-operation from several organizations in order that a Government trapper can be employed for this work. The Federal and State Government through the Department of Fish and Wildlife and the county with individual contribution all working together employ a full time Government trapper, who in turn works under the direction of the Fish and Wildlife Department.

His job is to fight the Predator, the coyote and bobcat.

Enrollment Cards Should Be Returned

At one fourth of the county social security beneficiaries 65 or older received enrollment cards for medical insurance part icular through the mail not yet returned them, Tuley, Jr., social security district manager in Abilene reported today.

Enrollment card is important. Social security benefits can use it to sign up for medical insurance, which help pay doctors' bills. Medicare becomes effective next July, he continued.

Card should be filled out and returned to social security as soon as possible. If you have lost the enrollment card get another one by writing the field representative who visits here, or by writing the social security office, should do it soon.

Medical security beneficiaries with nearly all other who will be 65 or over in 1966, will have medical insurance when the plan goes into effect only if they sign up by March 31, Tuley said.

Cisco Corporation Seeks Tourist $$ Off Int. 20

Tourism was cited as the second largest industry in the state of Texas during 1965 at the first public meeting of citizens interested in forming the Lake Cisco Recreation Corporation, a non-profit corporation which will direct a $350,000 improvement program at Lake Cisco off Interstate Highway 20 when it bypasses the town.

Some 60 people, including several from Eastland and Moran, gathered at the Cisco High School Auditorium last Thursday night to hear reports from a steering committee appointed by Mayor Roy M. Benton for the purpose of laying the groundwork for the improvement program. Gene Abbott, chairman of the committee, introduced Jim Smothers, Chief Executive Officer and secretary of the committee; Darrell Cooper, representative for the Farm Home Administration in Eastland; and Gene Schrickel, landscape architect from Arlington; as speakers for the evening. Other members of the committee introduced were W. W. Sawyers, Winston Heidenheimer, and J. L. Stafford.

In the opening address of the evening, Mr. Abbott expressed his belief that "a community that plays together, stays together" and included Scramton, Nimrod, Cottonwood, Morton Valley, Sabinno, Carbon, Okra, Pleasant Hill, Dan Horn, Punkin Center, Pueblo, Putnam, Moran, Gunglight, Eastland, Ranger, Gorman, Owens Gin, Long Branch, Romney and others as neighboring communities to be included.

"This recreation improvement project can be the salvation for our community," Mr. Smothers pointed out, "because outdoor living has become the modern way of life in America today."

Naming tourism as the second largest industry during 1965, Mr. Smothers added that in three years it will be the number one industry in the state. In view of this, he said, better recreation facilities are in constant demand.

The proposed $350,000 loan for improvement at Lake Cisco was explained in detail by Mr. Cooper. Improvements included in the plan are:

Landscaping and establishing excellent picnicking and camping facilities; an 18 hole golf course with watered fairways; reconstruction of club house to furnish dining, games, meeting rooms, banquet, conventions, and reunion facilities; modernizing city cabins and church camp and constructing new cabins to provide adequate facilities for guests, vacationers, tourists, and family reunions; development of swimming pool area by construction of a new bath house, concession stand, and new skating rink; establishment of complete dock facilities; construction of new playgrounds with new equipment for all ages.

Contrasting Lake Cisco and Six Flags, architect Gene Schrickel pointed out that all facilities at Six Flags were man-made, while Cisco has a great abundance of natural facilities that merely need developing.

During the discussions and the question and answer period which followed, the following points were established:

It is necessary to form a non-profit corporation with a membership fee of $60 for the first year in order to insure payment on the loan at the end of the year. When the project begins operating and earning revenue, membership fees may be reduced accordingly or possibly done away with altogether.

A membership includes the husband, wife, and minor children living at home, and during the first year the family may use the golf course, swimming pool, and clubhouse free of charge, and other facilities at reduced rates.

Persons from other communities may join the corporation so long as not more than one-third of the members live in towns with populations of more than 5,500.

The goal is for 600 members, although the corporation could be formed with as many as 350. Payment on the loan at the end of the first year will be less than $20,000.

The City of Cisco and Chamber of Commerce will not in any way own or administer the facilities, and no taxpayer will assume any liability for the debt.

Members of the corporation will not be responsible for paying the debt should the project be unprofitable. The Farm Home Association suffers the loss.

Membership will be closed when the project gets underway, and members will elect a board of directors for administration.

No money will be retained by the corporation at any time except for necessary repairs and emergencies.

Mr. Abbott expressed gratitude for the good response

Veniremen Get $5 Now --$4 Later

Special veniremen are getting a raise under the new criminal code — but ones to follow won't get as much as those who served in the trial this past week in 91st District Court.

The new code specifies that such potential jurors for murder trials will be paid "no less than $4 per day and no more than $10 per day," exact amount to be set by the County Commissioners Court.

The amount hadn't been established when the trial got underway Monday morning, so to be safe, the district clerk's office started paying the veniremen $5 each when they appeared and were excused.

The commissioners court met later Monday however, and passed to following resolution which will put the special venire on a $4 per day base.

"After due consideration it was determined by the court that the pay for special veniremen would be set at the sum of $4 per day; the pay for grand jurors at the sum of $6 per day; and the pay for petit jurors at the sum of $5 per day. All commissioners voting "Aye" motion declared passed. It is further ordered that the amount for special veniremen would take affect after the termination of the cause on being heard in the 91st District Court."

and interest shown by those present, and said in closing that any citizen who has faith in his community and has its welfare at heart should be willing to invest $60 in its future.

Mimeographed sheets explaining the basic details of the program and applications for membership were taken by most of those present. There will be other public meetings in the future, Mr. Abbott announced.

Study Club Scheduled To Hear Stephen Foster Music

Mrs. Jack W. Frost will be leader and the day's hymn will be "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

Two Birthdays Celebrated At Kindergarten

Two students at Green Kindergarten celebrated birthdays at the school during Jan. 26.

After all the pupils sang "Happy Birthday" to Don and Jim, miniature chocolate birthday cakes, with icing decorating as snow drifts, and punch were served.

The tots made a hike recently, touring high school hill.

Mrs. Hazel Day, a teacher at junior high school, invited the children to visit her school room and see all the nursery rhymes on display all around the room.

Some junior high students explained the nursery rhymes to the children and explained many things of interest to them. Then each child was presented a gift of small characters by Mrs. Day's group.

Students have made a bird house and hunt it in their kindergarten room from the ceiling.

They were thrilled with their Christmas group picture which appeared in the Telegram; also, they were delighted when Mr. Lloyd Armstrong delivered pictures for them to place in their scrap books.

This month, Mrs. A. E. Cushman, a teacher, and her group made a miniature Kindergarten Theatre. As they tell a story, they act it out with small figures which they made.

Mrs. Steele Hill Hostess Pioneer Club Meeting

Not Many Two-Dollar Bills Seen These Days

By Sandra Coapland
How long has it been since you've seen a two-dollar bill? Today one of the most controversial pieces of legal tender is the two-dollar bill.

Mr. Charles P. Marshall said that he hasn't seen enough of them, but he'd like to. They're still legal tender, but like the five-cent cigar, you don't see too many of them any more.

Some people consider it good luck and save them for their children as keep sakes.

The two-dollar bill was first circulated in 1862. It was printed in silver certificates and the new popular federal reserve notes. A few are still being printed and distributed each year, but the Eastland National Bank, along with most other banks, do not put in orders for them, and turns in such bills when received, to the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas.

Most merchants average receiving only about one $2 bill about every six months, and according to many, that is one too many. Mr. Bill England, a coin collector, says they are too-often mistaken for twenty or five dollar bills, and cause confusion.

Those people who are superstitious about the bills will either get rid of them to escape whatever unknown spell they hold, and some believe that tearing off one of the corners will rid it of its bewitchment.

Local people have this to say about the two dollar bill: "I'd like to have as many as I can carry off", — Harold Dean Hendricks, A&P store manager.

Victor Cornelius comments, "I'm certainly not superstitious about them. In fact I'd be glad to take all that I can get."

Mrs. A. W. Cogburn said that her husband considered them good luck and has given several to their children as keep sakes.
