

NABORS ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

If you grow dizzy in the tummy you may be suffering from having eaten impure milk or meat or from eating at a restaurant or soda fountain not properly maintained or manned by persons carrying disease. Of course it may not be that, but take it from some of the physicians of the city, it is quite possible such things may be causing your illness.

One physician tells of discovering meat impregnated with tapeworm cysts being sold commercially. Called to the attention of the seller, it was fed to other hospital patients continuing the life cycle of the tapeworms, which very likely were eaten by some one.

Men who know declare the milk and meat supply for domestic use in Big Spring is not what it should be. Some meat dealers and some dairymen are trying to maintain sanitary conditions around their places. But, they are being penalized for doing so for those who do not try to produce pure milk and meat can obtain just as high prices as they.

Public cooperation, in the final analysis, is the one thing that can make possible efficient enforcement of standard milk ordinance and other statutes designed to protect the health of the people.

Physicians declare the most effective method of handling the local situation created, as have been most all our community problems, by our rapid growth is to retain a public health physician and a sanitary inspector, the former to be a doctor of medicine but not dependent upon private practice for a livelihood.

Aggressive efforts by all Parent-Teacher units, service clubs and other organizations will create proper sanitation and protect the food supply. After a health officer and inspector are hired they will be unable to handle the situation properly unless the public cooperates.

Cooperation may be shown by the general public by demanding that all the milk and meat they consume must have been produced under proper conditions.

THIS GAME OF GOLF

By O. B. Keller

I had a small battle with Bobby Jones on the eve of sailing for Britain, my side of the argument being supported more or less ably by one Joel Hurt of Atlanta.

The battle was about the stymie. Bobby, a conscientious and consistent member of the executive committee of the United States Golf Association, was standing solidly on his substantial feet and the doctrine that the stymie was an integral and proper part of match play, in golf.

There was a war in progress in Britain on the subject. The super-conservative Royal and Ancient, even, was considering the stymie, and by no means favorably. Having sanctioned steel shafts, the R. and A. appeared to be in a great humor for further innovation.

I cross-examined Mr. Jones rather closely.

"No," said he, "it may be because I never have been soaked by a stymie in an important match, or it may be because I can play the darned thing fairly well. But I think it belongs. There is only one stymie which cannot be played—the opponent's ball on the lip of the cup, and your ball as much as a yard away, so that to chip over the intervening ball your shot must go beyond the hole. It's a part of the match. The competitor who is playing best up to the green—who is inside with his approach—the one who lays the stymie, nine times out of ten. He puts after the other fellow, you see. And so he gets a sort of reward for his previous good play."

Studies Marriage

The Rev. Ralph Marshall Davis, Erie, Pa., heads Presbyterian church committee studying problem of marriage and divorce.

any way influence your own play—that is, in the medal competition by which the biggest championships are settled.

But in match golf, the stymie constitutes an unpredictable hazard. I saw Alex Stirling at White Sulphur in 1922, winning the fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth holes in birdie to square her match with Mrs. Gavin, absolutely shut off at the final green by a stone-dead stymie, to lose the match. I saw Jesse Speiser in one of the greatest battles the United States amateur championship ever produced, lose to Max Morrison on the 28th green at Flossmoor in 1923 with a dead stymie, right on the button.

SAYS AMERICANS ARE MOST UNHAPPY RACE

BOSTON.—(INS).—Americans are the unhappiest persons in the world and Bostonians the unhappiest in America.

"Americans are unhappy," he declared, "because they have before them the wrong purpose of life—to make good. Wherever you go in America you hear the cry echoed and re-echoed. 'Make good.'"

The Englishman, the Chinaman and the African negro alone have the real purpose of life, he said, adding that this consists of "happiness in the thrills, the ecstatic moments in life that come from the simple primitive things, and contemplation, not action."

The cry, "Make good," Powys said, is "hurled out into the world with its brother stupid, tricky, invidious label, 'Service,' by Rotarians and Elks, Moose and Lions and similar organizations."

TIGERS PREPARE FOR INTERNATIONAL MEET

PRINCETON, N. J. (IS)—With success in the international meet as their goal, Princeton's track and field athletes have left the winter board tracks and are now working out daily on the field surrounding Palmer Stadium.

The combined Princeton-Cornell contingent is expected to sail late in June for its meeting with the Oxford-Cambridge team.

The Tigers are confident of continuing their success of last year when they scored five of the first places in the American's 9 to 4 victory over the British hero.

Three of the four men who accounted for points last year are eligible to compete this spring. Captain Ken Hodges who won the high jump and high hurdles has fully recovered from an attack of grip. Hollis Hand, sprinter, who won the 400-yd at Travers Island last year and Johnny Lincoln, victor in the 220-yard low hurdles, have been displaying good form.

TODAY'S GAME

Although the Bankers have been trailing the league, new material has been added and approved, and they may spring an upset this afternoon. Incidentally, Richeo has been on a losing streak, having dropped to second place in the league standing.

MICHIGAN MAN HERE

Rudolph Loomis, Lansing, Mich., was a visitor in Big Spring today, attending the morning session of district court.

Loomis has been court reporter of a Lansing circuit court for 40 years. He is visiting in Big Spring, accompanied by his family.

At the same time, I cannot forget the definition of laying a stymie, pronounced a decade ago by Ellsworth Giles, I think.

"Laying a stymie," said Mr. Giles, "is the undeserved reward of missing a putt. If you hole the putt, you do not lay the stymie."

And one other comment, which always has stuck in my mind.

"The stymie, said this commentator, 'compels a competitor to negotiate a hazard which was not on the course, when the match started.'"

That is something to think about. The game of golf, perhaps beyond every other competitive sport except shooting, contemplates a test between players who have nothing to do with interference.

In tennis, the play of an adversary may make your own shots impossible—he is placing the ball out of your reach.

In golf, your opponent cannot in

"Hopeful As The Hen Sitting On A China Doorknob"

An egg is just an egg to most of us—at any rate a doorknob is not an egg—to you, or me. But to a hen, whom you might expect to be an expert on eggs, an old white doorknob, or an egg-shell filled with plaster of Paris, is apparently an egg. At least, if a hen is not fooled by the contrivance, none of us will ever know the difference. Behavioristic psychology would seem to indicate she does think a doorknob, or a china egg, or a plaster-filled shell is an egg, for it has long been the practice of poultry-raisers to place these substitutes in the nests in the belief that the hen would be moved by them to incubation.

It is also thought a slightly modern hen can be induced to believe herself really a patient "home body," by the deceitful expedient of filling her nest full of false eggs, thus playing upon her "inherent mothering instincts."

Scientific poultry raisers and modern instructors in poultry raising no longer favor this practice of placing imitation eggs in the nests to induce a hen to lay there or to set. In fact they discourage it. But there are others who will tell you the road to success in poultry raising is paved with deception in the shape of eggs of "stone."

Miss Brenner and Bill Vanatta Lead Cast Of "The Brat," Annual Stage Appearance Of Seniors

With poise and stage personality unusual for amateur productions, Bill Vanatta, as Stephen, the misunderstood younger brother of the family genius, took the honors at the annual senior play, "The Brat," given at the high school last evening.

Probably because of the excellency of casting Vanatta in this part he was able to portray a character more alive than any other on the stage, unless it was that of Mrs. Forrester, played by Johnnie McElhannon. But then, the character of Mrs. Forrester was also well cast.

Clara Brenner
Clara Brenner as "The Brat" gave an excellent performance in this most difficult role. The brogue of Bowery slums and the accent of Middle West Texas are hard to mix successfully, but Miss Brenner did it to the satisfaction of the audience.

Young Vanatta, however, distinguished himself because of his ease and self assurance. There was no strain on the part of the audience when he came into the scene. In fact all of the other actors seemed to relax when engaged in dialog with him. The scene with his mother in the first act was well felt and put thoroughly across to the audience. The parting scene with The Brat was also fine. There was a tenseness of things unsaid between the two, and an undercurrent of feeling evident even to the restless, noisy audience. The young people lived their parts at that moment.

Burma Barley
MacMillan Forrester, egotistical young author, played by Burma Barley, was a more or less negative character to the audience. Just why the two young women were fighting for his favors when the romantic Stephen lurked in the offing was a mystery, but it's all in the play! This young man had a difficult part unsuited to his temperament and he carried it off quite well.

The Bishop Ware, played by James Rippa, offered comic relief to the production. His propensity for light alcoholic beverages met with sympathetic enjoyment on the part of the audience. A character part, also foreign to the temperament of the player, he portrayed it well.

"Dorothy"
Dorothy, the small daughter of the kindly Mrs. Ware, played by Maxine Thomas, seemed to enjoy the whole thing, was entirely at ease and rose to her occasions nobly. Mrs. Ware, played by Mildred Patterson, furnished a good contrast to the amusing Bishop.

Jane Depew, (noted "spinster" on the program), was played by Marie Vick, and very well too. Angela Smythe, (noted "debutante" on the program), played by Margaret Bettie, was well cast. Miss Bettie played the part of the pampered, determined "get your man" type to the entire satisfaction of the audience, who hated her quite thoroughly.

Timson, the Butler, typical of stage butlers with a fondness for the misunderstood younger son of his old master, was also well received. Hugh Sweet in this part was a favorite with the audience. Just why the nasal whine and the lapses in grammar should go with the character of an old family servant is a question, but as stated before, it's all in the play!

Margot, the housekeeper, was a good character in uniform. Perhaps the uniform helped her keep in character, but her scuttling about in a subservient way was most amusing.

Good Directing
The entire play showed plainly that it had been well directed and heartbreakingly worked over by its sponsors. Mrs. Frank Etter, its director, deserves much more praise than she will ever get. Afternoon after afternoon, evening after evening, she coaxied and bullied and directed—and her work showed plainly.

Between The Acts
Between the acts the Girls Glee club and the Choral club gave several numbers.

ORIOLES COP BATTLE 9 TO 7

The Orioles won their fifth consecutive victory while downing the Roosters in the opening game of the series 9 to 7. Schwarzenbach went the route for the losers and had been accorded the same support that was given Morgan he might have won the contest. It was the third straight defeat for the Roosters. The victory enabled the Orioles to regain first place in the league standing.

Hutchins, Frank Martin, and Blevins featured both hitting and fielding for the Orioles with Smith clouting out a home run. Little and Cook were brilliant performers for the Roosters.

MEXICAN TIGERS BEAT RAILROAD

Erratic fielding cost the T. and P. team, city league entry, a decision to Juan Garcia's Mexican Tigers in a closely played game on the Tigers park Tuesday afternoon. Both Silva and Cunningham suffered from the lack of good support.

Crus, Tiger shortstop, was both the fielding and batting star of the contest, though a sensational catch by Driver, T. and P. left fielder, featured the seventh inning. Crus slammed out a double, a home run, and a single in four trips to the plate and performed brilliantly around the short field. Hidalgo at second and Fiera at first were other fielding stars. B. Garcia hit a home run in the sixth while Valdes clouted out a triple.

Woods, T. and P. centerfielder, enjoyed a perfect day at the bat with three hits in the same number of appearances. Gilmer hit three out of four. In the sixth the railroadmen made a great bid for victory. Wilson was safe on a bunt error and scored when Roberts' double went for a triple due to a wild throw from the outfield. Woods hit a home run in deep center scoring Billington, who had scored Roberts with a single to right to climax the rally.

What Does This Prove?

If you are a merchant, go back over your books for ten years or twenty years or as long as you have been in business.

You will find that your biggest sales year was the year you did the most advertising in The Herald and that your poorest sales year was the year you did the least advertising in The Herald.

What does this prove? Simply that volume produces volume and that anyone can determine which store is doing the largest business in town by picking out the store that is doing the best job of advertising in The Herald.

Goods that are right in quality, bought right and priced right can always be sold profitably through Herald advertising. There are no exceptions.

PRESIDENT'S PARDON FREES RUM LAW FELON

TACOMA, Wash. (INS)—Arvid C. Johnson, 50, was a free man today due to the pardoning powers vested in President Hoover.

The Puyallup Valley rancher was released from prison, where he was serving a sentence for violation of federal liquor laws, when approaching blindness threatened to end his sight in jail.

Johnson's release was recommended by United States Attorney Anthony Savage, of Seattle, who wrote to Washington:

"Applicant was a hard-working man prior to a dynamite explosion which seriously injured his eyes. The crime was committed during enforced idleness of applicant following the injury.

"It now appears from a letter of Dr. R. A. Morse, government doctor, that an operation on the applicant's eye will be necessary shortly. The United States marshal and the doctor, therefore, desire that the applicant be released in order to avoid impending expense of his treatment."

ROYAL COUNT TO WED SWEETHEART OF YOUTH

FLORENCE, Italy.—(INS).—A charming royal love romance is shortly to reach its happy conclusion here, according to trustworthy reports current in Society quarters. A cousin of the king, the Count of Turin, who is a dashing cavalry officer and now a general and an inspector for the Italian cavalry, has reached sixty years unscathed by the marriage tangle. But yet he has loved: only the girl he loved he could not marry. She had been engaged and then became the wife of a noted Italian diplomatist and scholar, Count Bosdari. Countess Bosdari was well known in London, when her husband was Counselor of the Italian embassy there for years and in Berlin where he was ambassador.

Now a widow for several years she lives quietly in Florence where also the Count of Turin has his residence. Every evening one can see the aged hero of her youthful love dream walk to her hotel; he is the most devoted of her admirers and rumors say that soon they are to be married. Thirty-five years he has patiently waited for wedding bells to peal.

FARMERS IGNORE COTTON WARNING

LAMESA, Texas (INS).—In spite of a federal warning that cotton acreage should be reduced, farmers in ten counties in this lower plains area will increase their acreage this season, a survey has revealed.

The counties included in the survey, which was conducted by the agriculture department of the chamber of commerce here, were Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum and Andrews.

"We see no inducement," William A. Wilson, manager of the chamber of commerce, said after the survey, "for reducing cotton acreage after looking at government figures which prove cotton can be grown in this section cheaper than in any other part of the cotton producing world."

Much new and heretofore uncultivated soil will be planted in cotton this year. The farmers did not indicate whether or not they would reduce their feed crops.

state rangers and held for investigation today. Four brothers and two brother-in-laws from Dorchester, who had been docketed, were told to go home after military authorities were convinced they had nothing to do with the mob violence. A few others of the 33 charged by military officers have been released subject to call.

Col. Davidson said more militiamen would be permitted to go home today.

AUSTIN, May 14 (AP)—"Any time you feel lucky, come on; but when you start up the stairway once more, there is going to be many funerals in Sherman." This, according to Ranger Captain Frank Hamer, was the message that greeted the rioters at Sherman last Friday when the mob first began its attempts to wrest George Hughes, negro, from the Texas rangers after he had been placed on trial for criminally attacking a white woman.

Commenting on the report that he had received orders from Governor Dan Moody to protect the negro but not to shoot anybody, Captain Hamer stated he had never received any message of this nature.

He asserted that on the second rush of the crowd toward the courtroom he fired a shotgun loaded with buckshot into the crowd, wounding two men.

Hamer stated that work of the rangers was seriously hampered by the women and children in the mob.

The ranger captain reported that he and his men did not cease guarding the negro in the courthouse until after the building had been set afire and the flames had risen to the second floor. He said the flames cut off from the vault in which the negro had been placed and that it was impossible to get into the vault to release the prisoner. In addition to this, none of the rangers had the combination to the vault, he said.

Captain Hamer and the other three rangers barely escaped with their lives in the fire, he reported.

Hamer stated that he had instructed his men not to shoot until he gave them the order and that this was the only order issued relative to shooting during the early stages of the riot.

Prices advanced at the London wool sale.

Withdrawals amounted to only 2 or 3 per cent. Grassy Merinos sold at ten per cent above the close of the previous sale of April 9 and remained unchanged.

NAVY'S PREMIER FLIER, ABOUT TO LEAVE SERVICE, DISPLAYS NEW 'INVERTED FALLING LEAF'

By OSCAR LEIDING Associated Press Aviation Editor WASHINGTON, May 14. (AP)—Lieutenant Alford J. Williams, noted naval aviator, has said this farewell to the service with a new maneuver—the lone remaining feat, he says, not previously accomplished by aviation. It is called an "inverted falling leaf."

Two days before his resignation from the Navy goes into effect, spectators were privileged yesterday to witness a flight which the aviator demonstrated.

Performing high in the air, Williams flutted towards the earth, the landing gear of the plane on top and himself hanging downward with only his safety belt holding him to the craft.

He tipped the plane from side to side, checking it just short of the point at which it would fall in a deadly spin and zig-zagged downward like a playing card dropped from a sky-scaper.

The maneuver, he explained, has no military use but is of value to aviators in inverted flight to teach them when and how to avoid spinning if their craft begins tipping from side to side.

Williams worked out the method at home with small models, studying the characteristics of the miniature planes in the novel maneuver and calculating how he could manipulate the controls.

In the actual flying demonstration he used a Curtiss Hawk, a single seat biplane with special equipment in the gasoline and oil tanks to permit inverted flight. The greater part of the 45 minutes he was in the air, he flew upside down. At one time he twice encircled the naval air station, Anacostia, and adjacent Bolling Field in the inverted position.

The maneuver brought to conclusion a series of inverted flight tests in which the aviator determined for the Navy the proper handling of controls to avoid spins and stem a mounting loss of life. Newer performances of aircraft, he said, can only follow when airplanes have more power.

By aid of recording instruments in a standard fighting plane, he observed the aeronautical world the first definite load factors for all forms of inverted flights, including the outside loop, inverted loop, inverted tail spin, vertical figures "3-2" and their application to single seat combat tactics.

His services were volunteered for the hazardous tests and in recognition of his feats he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. The Navy after 13 years of service fective Thursday, when he leaves. His resignation will become effective to sponsor a speed program that will bring back to the United States the world's airplane speed record.

Colliers Finishes Defense For Libel

COURTHOUSE, BROWNSVILLE, Tex., May 14 (AP)—Colliers Weekly today tested its long defense in the $500,000 libel suit brought against it by R. B. Creeger, national Republican committee for Texas, after it reiterated that the decision of the court limited finally the extent to which its testimony need go.

The magazine's counsel asked again to be permitted to prove the truth of charges made in "High Handed and Hell Bent," the article in controversy, against the Baker Democratic Hidalgo county administration, but federal Judge W. Lee Estes held again that the effort was not necessary.

PASTOR PREACHES 206-YEAR-OLD SERMON

WALTHAM, Mass. (INS)—A sermon 206 years old was read at the First Parish Church here on Founder's Day. Originally delivered in 1722 the oration had for its text the 31st verse of the 10th chapter of Hebrew—"It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God."

To carry out as full as possible a reproduction of services as they were held in the church of that day, the minister, Rev. Kenneth Cheney Gesner, arranged a program of colonial psalm singing. No hymnals or musical accompaniments were used. The pitch was given by the presiding elder through the medium of a tuning fork. Montana's prison population has passed the 700 mark, the largest it has been since the world war.

There will be an international golf tournament and feature entertainment for the lady visitors. All sessions of the convention will be held in the mammoth auditorium which has won renown throughout the world. 65 CAR DRIVERS LOSE LICENSES IN WEEK

HARRISBURG (INS)—In the week ending March 13, 65 drivers of automobiles in Pennsylvania had their operator's card revoked, while 42 were suspended and 66 restored.

The "dead bent is not the only one responsible for losses, Mr. Baldwin declared before a group of Boston University students. Many losses are traced to unforeseen circumstances, such as unemployment, illness and similar other causes, he said.

CONOCO'S CHALLENGE CONFIRMED!

on America's Greatest Motor Proving Ground

PIKE'S PEAK!

Now it can be told... the true story of motor oil merit! For this was a test of America's representative motor oils in competition! A daring thing for CONOCO to do, done in confidence. Confidence based on the now-proven advantages of Germ-Processed oils... These tests brought out facts about motor oils which should affect the pocket-book of every motorist... Facts which we believe should force a swinging to Germ-Processed Motor Oils by every reader of our message.

Three Other Popular Oils Were Tried... Side By Side With CONOCO Germ-Processed

Other oils often have been "tuned" on speedways, in cross-country dashes, and over the ocean. But they were "tuned" only against operating conditions! CONOCO'S Germ-Processed oil was proven against operating conditions, and in comparison with other oils as well!

The CONOCO Germ-Processed oil proved its superiority in the Pike's Peak Tests and with such finality, that now all motorists will know the facts... know how the wearing grinds up to the top of Pike's Peak and down again, up and down again, and again, showed each oil in its true colors... and how the Germ-Processed film so defied the clawing talons of friction that test thermometers showed lessened water and oil temperatures, to the amazement of disinterested engineers!

Motor Parts Were Measured After Each Oil Was Tried

Cylinders were measured with a micrometer, at top and bottom, pistons likewise, and the cylinder taper accurately recorded, after each oil was tested. These measurements were accurate to one ten-thousandths of an inch. This is what the reports of the test developed. Comparing the wear with the use of CONOCO Germ-Processed... oils against average wear with the other oil... showed a decrease in wear in favor of CONOCO Germ-Processed oils of 76.4%.

Pike's Peak Tests Conducted Under AAA Supervision

American Automobile Association observers purchased all oils used in the open market, placed them in separate containers, marked them with a code letter, and locked them up. All crankcase fillings were made by AAA observers who then sealed the inlets and outlets of each motor. All gasoline allotments, every temperature reading, every micrometer measurement, every test was checked by an AAA observer. During every moment of the test, an AAA observer was riding in each car. The records of this test were installed by an AAA observer as each entry of fact was made, and will be shown to any person on request to the company.

CONOCO'S Superiority Was Proven Under AAA Supervision

Lubricity means slipperiness, smoothness, and lower co-efficient of friction, as compared to another oil. The Extra Lubricity of CONOCO'S Germ-Processed oils is due to its amazing ability to penetrate metal surfaces! Thus, we believe Germ-Processed oil brings a lubricity, a minimum of friction to your motor because it becomes a part of the motor metal.

CONOCO gives you facts... The Pike's Peak Tests reveal that your automobile motor can last longer... that your operating expenses can be lowered!

Will you drive in today, at the Sign of the Red Triangle?

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH

TOE IN OR OUT?

A leading New York physician offers as a popular slogan the motto: "Feeble feet make futile people." Drawing on experience, he observes that persons with disabled lower extremities suffer a severe and immediate loss of their sweet dispositions. "Ask anyone," he says, "who has ever disputed with a fat and angry cook, or a peevish traffic policeman."

The weakening of the foot, he observes, is accompanied by a slow and usually unremarked change in the sufferer's habits. Where once he ran, he now walks. Where he once walked, he now takes a car. Where he stood he sits. Where he smiled he snaps.

The persons suffering from weak feet may also suffer a sense of general fatigue, disinclination to effort and unwillingness to move from place to place. There may be pain in the calves of the legs, and continuous aching in the arch of the foot, usually made worse by standing. Pain in the "small" of the back is not uncommon. A weakened foot needs careful handling but a poor foot properly used may still prove serviceable. The proper use of the feet calls for toing in. The whole foot should be placed upon the ground lightly and softly, one in front of the other, as if walking a tight rope. The steps should be shorter and if necessary the knees may be slightly bent.

"The Big Party" Opens At Ritz

While Holland is known chiefly for its canals and its cheese, it also holds the further distinction of giving America one of her best screen comedians. Charles Judels, whose antics have furnished many a laugh to "Jim Jans in 'Hot For Paris,' 'Frozen Justice,' 'Let's Go Places' and other Fox Movietone productions, was born in Amsterdam, of a theatrical family. Coming to this country when only nine years old, Judels was almost brought up in the theatre, his father being the stage director at the Metropolitan Opera House for some 35 years. Young Judels went on the stage at the age of ten and has been connected with it ever since, having produced nearly 90 plays himself and acting in hundreds of various offerings.

His individual and vivid type of comedy is particularly effective on the speaking screen, especially in "The Big Party," in which he plays the role of Walter Catlett's excitable French partner. "The Big Party," which is opening a two-day showing at the Ritz Theatre today, is a delightful and melodious Fox Movietone picture of New York's high and low life, directed by John Stymont.

The principal parts are enacted by Sue Carol, Dixie Lee and Walter Catlett, while Frank Albertson, "Whispering" Jack Smith and Richard Keene head the supporting cast.

LOOSE PLAY FEATURES BATTLE

Payne Nicked For 10 Hits; Higginbotham To Dug Out

Not only was that a four ball game—but we like to have frozen death and we got back to town just in time to be too late once more for the hot-biscuits! We're batting a thousand percent in this too-late-for-the-first-table league. Besides that we didn't make any money yesterday on account of the crowd being elsewhere than the Dusty Diamond. We went out with our sleeves up above our elbows, expecting to be kept warm watching a 1 and 0 fray. And we came away with half a case of pneumonia, a basket of chills, and a book full of hits, runs and errors.

We notice the Breckenridge Buckaroos are playing a practice game this week for the benefit of charity. We hope the Buckies have that same charitable feeling next fall when the Steers and the green and white gridsters clash. We also notice that down in the heart of the belt the Ranger Bulldogs and the Big Dan Lobos had a little melée just for target practice. Wasn't any game to it. Just tossed the squads on the field and let 'em go to it. Which reminds us that none other than Boyce House, the generalissimo of the Ranger Times has started making predictions. He picked the four best ones right off the fire like he was grabbing chestnuts in December off the hearth floor:

Mr. House, the third best picker in this great stretch of sod known as the geography lesson as West Texas, declares openly and with all strings severed that Cisco, Breckenridge, Abilene and Ranger are the most dangerous. Then Mr. House, being somewhat of an equine lover, picks Eastland and San Angelo as the dark horses. One thing about the Ranger scribe that we've always admired. He's consistent, compatible and constant. For five years now, he has picked Eastland as the dark horse. Brownwood, Big Spring, Mineral Wells and Sweetwater won't do anything next season but spring an upset or so—says Mr. House. Brownwood threw one of its "upsets" on Ranger last year. Mineral Wells almost did the same, and Sweetwater had Ranger whining they hadn't played that day.

One line in Mr. House's dissertation interests us extremely. To-wit: "Ranger also has veterans and attractive new players." Pipe the last three words. Personally, we always thought Chuck Bird was a right nice looking kid ourself. Bird, which maybe you know and perhaps you don't, left the city of hills and mineral water, and went to Ranger after agreeing to some kind of terms. At the present time, or the last time we passed through the city of flowing gold, Bird was going strong at the Ranger fire station, getting two dollars for every "wet" fire. Yep, Ranger has one "attractive new player" that we know of. Best full-back in the district today. It's going to be rather hard next year, however, for scribes to say in their stories, "Chuck Bird of Mineral Wells, smashing through for four yards for Ranger."

The Laundry is topping the city league today with 750 after their successful mixup with the Barbers yesterday afternoon. Richeo is holding down second place, and Couden third, the Barbers having shaved down to fourth with 500. Within another week the percentage column will begin to take a definite shape. Should Couden keep on playing baseball like it did Sunday, and the Barbers like they did yesterday, Couden is going up and the Barbers are going for a fast toboggan ride. Errors hurt, and there is no known cure for them. And the Barbers made six glaring ones.

This Man-Mountain Burnes, who plays center field for Couden Oil and Mr. Samuel M. Sain, generally referred to as Sammy Sain the umpire, by the players and "Bill Tom" by the fans, met face to face at the park yesterday. That is they would have been face to face if Sain had been standing on a soap box. Burnes ran for Gould in the Richeo game Sunday. In fact Burnes ran either too far or too fast, or else he couldn't go as swiftly in reverse as he could in high. He got caught off third and on a close decision Sain called him out, with both thumbs and a bark.

"Sainny," piped Burnes, "you got me wrong Sunday. You called me out. I slid under him."

"Yeah," says Sain, "you slid under him. You couldn't slide under the Gregg Street viaduct."

Burnes is so big he should have signed two contracts.

The Bass-Young combination didn't get to working very favorably Tuesday. We haven't seen all of the teams in action enough to judge, but basing our assertion on what we've seen, the Bass to Young play is going to be hard to beat. Bass handles second usually without a bobble. Young covers his first sack well. And the two of them together make a fast pair. Hoehn of Richeo bids fair to be the best first sacker in the loop. Tuesday, however, Bass was off. He had one error chalked against him. However, he was hit on the right elbow joint by a hard driven ball before the game started. That might have accounted for the error.

Richeo has a change to advance on the Laundry this afternoon. They meet the Barbers, and the Barbers haven't been doing so well. How-

JELLIES BEAT ROOSTERS, TIE FOR TOP MARK

In a duel of sensational fielders the Jellies defeated the Roosters 4 to 1 to go into a tie for first place with the Orioles. It was the second straight victory of the series.

Bishop allowed eight hits but brilliant fielding and the inability of the Rooster hitters to deliver in the pinches prevented further scoring. The Jellies made six hits, but Maxwell's triple and Rogers' home run came with men on base. Wolcott, Quist, and Morgan of the Roosters and Jordan, Hammond, and Rogers of the Jellies flashed in the field.

Conway buried nice ball for the losers, but hard hits with men on the paths spelled his defeat. It was the first loss of the season for the Rooster ace as compared with his three victories. The game was played in one hour and five minutes, a record time.

RAIN AGAIN HALTS 2 FRAYS

Texas League Teams Rest For Second Day In Row

(By The Associated Press) For the second day in a row, first division teams of the Texas league took it on the chin from the weather man who continued to bat 1,000 against them in the weather league.

Wichita Falls at Beaumont and Shreveport at Houston were rained out again yesterday as they had been the day before.

The luckless Dallas Steers, pushing San Antonio hard for last place in the league, were unable to gain on the Indians who dropped a game to the Fort Worth Panthers after winning two in a row. Waco took the Steers into camp 13 to 7, and the Cats clawed the Indians 7 scratches to 5.

The Dallas News this morning carried a headline "Wanted, Pitchers" over the box score of the Dallas-Waco game of yesterday. It was the second day the Steers used four hurlers in one game in a futile effort to halt the Cubs.

The news of the day included a Dallas announcement that Larry Creson, young right handed hurler obtained from Louisville of the American Association, would be returned.

The San Antonio Indians, not to be outdone in any way by the Steers, shoed Oddie Strain, outfielder, down to the Augusta club of the Sally League.

Fort Worth was outthit by the Indians in their tangle at Tamaleville yesterday, but the Redskins were unable to connect when hits meant something worth while chalked up in the official scorer's "R" column.

UNCLE SAM'S FAMILY HAS HEAVY WASHING

PEORIA, Ill. (INS).—Almost 200,000 tons of family clothes are cleaned each week in the United States' 7,000,000 electric washers. In a year the total reaches the staggering sum of almost 10,000,000 tons.

"In these homes the weekly washing averages fifty pounds in weight, says the household research bureau. "Every Monday, then, 250,000,000 pounds of mass kitchen aprons, spa socks, Ednas pinafores and Juniors rompers are tumbled into tubs. In all, 175,000 tons of soiled clothing go into the hot water each week. In the course of the year the total becomes 9,100,000 tons.

side chance of upsetting Scott's record.

Larry Lou, since he broke in with the Yankees as a regular in 1923, has run up over 700 consecutive games—744 at the start of the 1930 campaign. It would take his full playing time for the next four years in a row to dislodge Scott's mark but Gehrig is only 27 years old this year and rugged enough to keep up the pace.

Eric Pedley, one of California's candidates for this year's polo big four, has a younger brother Lionel, who may be heard from in a few seasons as a star of the riding game. Perhaps the reason Seattle is deeply imbedded in the Pacific Coast League's second division is because Manager Ernie Johnson shoulders too many responsibilities.

When discovered paying the hotel bill by a friend, Ernie remarked: "I'm leadoff man, secretary, assistant manager, coach and disbursing agent for this outfit."

A drive for $18,000 has been conducted to pay the expense of sending three University of Washington crews to Seattle this June.

American engineers have been invited to participate in the international congress of General Mechanics to be held at Liege, Belgium, August 30.

More than 400 rose plants from Europe and the orient have been imported for planting in South Dakota this year.

Everett Scott, who finally was benched by Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees to end the shortstop's record-breaking streak, said afterward:

"I know now that I was foolish in persisting after that consecutive game record. It got to be a form of collecting mania with me. I felt a lot of times that I would be better for a rest and a layoff. I was run down physically but I hated to quit. I might have stayed up a couple of years more in the big show if I had taken it easier."

Lou Gehrig, the burly Yankee first baseman, now appears to be the only player with even an outside chance of upsetting Scott's record.

CLOSE RACE IS PREDICTED FOR NATIONAL

Six Clubs In Striking Distance Of New York Giants

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League apparently is headed for one of the closest races in its long history, if the results of the first month of play can be taken as an indication of what will happen during the next four.

The New York Giants still hold the lead with an average of 636 although they were defeated yesterday by the St. Louis Cardinals, but the Chicago Cubs are close behind and five other clubs are within striking distance of them. Pittsburgh, the seventh team in today's standing, has an average of 500, the same mark as held by the New York Yankees, who are fourth in the American league.

While the Giants were losing a tough struggle to St. Louis yesterday by a 6 to 4 score, the Cubs lasted through a big rally to beat out the Boston Braves, 9 to 8. Similar results today would leave Chicago only two points behind. The Brooklyn Robins and Cincinnati Reds, kept idle by rain, remained tied for third place with 12 victories and eleven defeats apiece and led the Phillies and St. Louis only a few percentage points.

Philadelphia pushed Pittsburgh's Pirates down into the second division with a steady hitting attack that brought a 14 to 5 victory. The Pirates did not get started until the ninth, when they scored four runs.

Cleveland and Washington furnished the fireworks in the American League as the Indians opened a drive to take second place. The first three innings saw all the scoring as Cleveland won, 11 to 6. The Indians made five runs in the first and six in the third while Washington scored five times in the third before relief pitchers, Harder and Moore, stopped the slugging.

The Philadelphia Athletics strengthened their grip on first place by outslugging the Chicago White Sox, 14 to 7. This game also produced two big innings, the A's scoring six runs in the sixth to have Chicago come back with four in the seventh.

The New York Yankees reached the 500 mark for the first time this year and fashioned their longest winning streak by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1, behind the pitching of Waite Hoyt. Art Herring of Detroit and Jack Russell of Boston hurled another close game as Herring kept the Red Sox hits spread over nine innings while the Tigers bunched theirs for a 4 to 1 victory.

SAYS INVENTION IS GROWTH, NOT CREATION

CHICAGO (INS).—If Edison had been a caveman 50,000 years ago, would he have invented the telegraph and the incandescent lamp?

This question is answered with a flat negative by Waldemar Kaempffert, author of "Invention and Society," the latest booklet in the Reading With a Purpose series, issued by the American Library Association.

Mr. Kaempffert, director of the Rosenwald Museum of Science and Industry, established in Chicago, is prominent in bringing scientific inventions before a wide public. In his new booklet, Kaempffert points out that invention is a growth, not a creation.

"Watt, Morse, Bell, Edison and Marconi," he writes, "must be regarded as fuses that blow and that enable society to short circuit itself by following the lines of least resistance."

Cracks In the Dome

By The Political Analyst
AUSTIN, May 14.—Earle B. Mayfield, in opening his campaign for governor, concentrated his fire on the prospect of Gov. Moody's being in the race.

It is probable others will do the same, making a Moody-vs.-the-field fight of it. Which is probably what Gov. Moody would have wanted.

Sen. Mayfield had intended to "major" his anti-chain-store issue, but Gov. Moody's definite entry into the race was his cue to make a slashing attack on prison administration and losses, and on Gov. Moody's anti-lobbyist plank.

Mr. Mayfield proved to his own satisfaction that one can get applause from an audience of his supporters on the prison question.

A man now a member of the state senate, won his election on the slogan, widely circulated in his district: "There's nothing against me except that he's poor." He was running against, and he beat, a wealthy opponent.

Texas for years has been trying to get away from the black record of mob violence, and in several years has kept the state clean. This year the Sherman outbreak has been chalked up and the chance of keeping this year's record clear already has been destroyed.

The madness of a mob gone wild is a phenomenon hard to comprehend. The fact that it should be made up largely of a bunch of 17 and 18-year-old schoolboys is hard to understand. Enough old-fashioned fathers and three-foot hickory switches would have corrected the outbreak, so far as the boys in it were concerned, quicker than rangers and six-shooters and soldiers and bayonets and bombs.

East Texas reports that George R. Terrell, who is this year retiring voluntarily from the office of state agricultural commissioner, was indicated his purpose of being a candidate to return to the legislature where he served for many years. His Cherokee friends are at work for his nomination to the house.

Efforts of two years ago to move or abolish the Alpine State Teachers College that had even the support of the college regents, have been abandoned, and the western school will be carried forward by normal growth and a reasonable building program to broader and fuller usefulness.

Maj. Gen. John A. Hulen, commander of the Texas National Guard, has given his vigorous approval and support to a plan of creating a military branch of the University of Texas.

The proposed military college would be located at Camp Mabry, Austin, where a large tract of state land has been improved by the war department with barracks, headquarter buildings, supply depots and an arsenal. The land originally was donated by the people of Austin for use as the National Guard encampment site. Gen. Hulen believes the war department can be persuaded to cooperate in such a school and to provide the staff of instructors in military subjects, supplementing the regular university faculty members expected to teach the other subjects.

BELIEVES COLUMBUS CAME FROM CORSICA

MARSEILLES (INS).—Christopher Columbus came from Corsica, according to Canon Castaing of this city, who recently made a statement to this effect. After long study, he has found that historians of the period write: "Calvi natus Columbus which evidently refers to Calvi, Corsica, as the birthplace of the great discoverer. Calvi, he explains, at this particular time, really made one city with Genoa, and the inhabitants of this city called him, among other unfavorable epithets, "the Corsican."

Canon Castaing believes that he was the son of a wool-carder and studied at the convent of the Observantines.

BEEBLE QUARANTINE AFFECTS 16 COUNTIES

BALTIMORE (INS).—Sixteen counties in Maryland have been affected by the extension of the quarantine on the Japanese beetle, according to an announcement made by the Secretary of Agriculture.
