Teen Scene Set To 'Go-Go' in Eastland Saturday For High School Students

ROBERT DAVIS
... Attorney General's Youth Commission Director

All Eastland County High Schoolers will be on the "go-go" Saturday for "The Teen Scene" to be held in Eastland at the Elementary School — a special day of activities just for them.

Final plans have been completed and all is ready for a full program of activities for them, and it has been announced that even those who have not pre-registered, are welcomed and invited to make the scene.

NOTE TO PARENTS: Because of the overall importance of the presentation, you've been invited to one session — that at 4 p. m., when Robert T. "Sonny" Davis, director of the Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime in Austin, will be the speaker.

Mr. Davis will speak about youth, emphasizing the organization, work, and importance of the Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime.

"The Teen Scene" was planned by the Family Living Committee of the County Program Building Committee of the Extension Department. There are 13 persons with interests in all areas of home who make up the committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arlin Birt of Cisco. Mrs. Beverly Nicholson, county home demonstration agent, and Assistant Wanda Watson, work as advisors to the group.

Plans for the big event Saturday began in the summer of 1965, and final results is for the county's high school students with this goal in mind — for teenagers (15-18) to realize the responsibilities of marriage, job and adulthood.

The day's schedule is as follows:
8:30-9 a. m. — Students register and get name tags. The Cisco Jr. College "Combo" will provide entertainment during registration.

9-9:15 — Auditorium — Welcome by Emcee.
9:20-10:20 — Miss Martha Minter, Home Economist, West Texas Utilities Co., Abilene will work with the girls on grooming, make up for their age and color.

Medicare Sign-Up Deadline.

Medicare sign-up deadline, for all persons age 65 or older, is Thursday, March 31. The program will become effective July 1, 1966.

Divided into two parts, Medicare consists of Hospital Insurance plan and a Medical Insurance plan.

Hospital benefits help defray the cost of hospital bills when a person is hospitalized. Medical insurance helps pay for doctor's services and for other items not listed under hospital benefits.

This protection, Medicare, costs only $3 per month.

Auto Tags Due On By Friday

All automobiles in the county must bear the 1966 license plates after Friday, April 1, according to Tax Collector Edgar Altom.

Deadline to purchase the new plates is Thursday, March 31 (today). Besides the Courthouse in Eastland, license plates may be purchased at sub-stations throughout the county.

In Cisco, the sub-station is located at the Chamber of Commerce; Ranger, L&J Supply; Rising Star, Jenkin's Insurance Agency; and Gorman, Todd's Variety Store.

In order to obtain these plates, the car title and last year's license receipt must be presented, Altom said.

Thursday Is Deadline Receptacle Lid Contest In League's Clean-Up

Pick up! Clean up! Pretty up! That's what Eastland is doing for Easter and for civic pride.

Just drive around town and see for yourself what is being done to make Eastland a lovelier place in which to live. If you find an "eye-sore" please report it to the president of the Civic League, Mrs. Ben Lancaster, who will see to it that something is done to alleviate the unsightly places.

A prize will be given to the person who offers the best suggestion for an economical and efficient cover for oil barrels and other cans. Entries should be mailed to Mayor Frank Deaton before 5 p. m. Thursday, March 31.

Jaycees are doing their part down town and the city and Civic League and Garden Club are taking care of residential sections.

Debris, if in boxes or containers, will be hauled off by the city beginning Friday, April 1. Remember the Civic League slogan, "A lid for every receptacle."

Eastland is traditionally a clean, nice place in which to live. Why not keep that reputation, the league asks.

Communist Threat Is Vividly Outlined By Euleless Speaker

"World domination is the Communist goal — and they are making progress," Bill White of Euleless, dynamically pointed out to members of the Eastland Rotary and Lions Club in a joint meeting at the White Elephant Restaurant Monday.

A close observer of Communist tactics, he (Mr. White) spent several years in Venezuela with an oil company) said that country may be saved from the threat, "But the United States may not be."

Pointing out that both systems "get things done," White compared the Commandments of God and the commandments of Lenin — which are:

1. Domination of the world;
2. don't trust anyone;
3. the truth doesn't count;
4. take a child for 48 months and with careful Communist training, that child will become a Communist for life; and
5. religion is the opium of the people.

"If belief in Christ and in His teaching is an addiction then I think the world needs more of the 'Christian needle,'" he said.

What are the dangers that face America right now? White answered: "Danger of big government (the federal handout); 'Believing that God wouldn't let Communism take over a 'Christian' nation; and 'Believing that Communism is softening.'"

The Communists are ruthless in their attack, he said, making "black look white" and "the gospel of Jesus

The Farm Bureau Insurance Co. has protection for just about every eventuality.

But Eastland County FB Agent Gayle Baucum Tuesday had an experience, probably uncoverable by any insurance firm.

He was abducted at gun-point, forced to take his abductor to Fort Worth and robbed before being released unharmed.

The chain of events began in Ranger about 9:30 a. m. when Baucum returned to his car, parked on Rusk St., from a Main St. routine call, to find a man sitting in the back seat.

"I have a gun," the man said, and Baucum had no reason to doubt it even though the "clean-cut" and neat appearing man had his hand and arm covered with a coat. "I heard the hammer click," Baucum said.

The FB agent was ordered to drive the man to Fort Worth, and the trip began. Unfortunately, Baucum didn't see a patrol car between Ranger and Fort Worth, but did attempt at one time to "get stopped" by speeding excessively in a low-speed area. The man ordered him to slow down, as he explained that he was on his way to Hot Springs, Ark., to "kill his wife."

Just before reaching Fort Worth an oncoming truck driver waved and Baucum returned the gesture, hoping that maybe, some signal could pass that would warn the driver of his predicament. No luck, but the abductor did begin to get nervous, Baucum said, and at the first red light on the west side of Fort Worth, asked if the agent had any money.

Baucum gave him the small amount he had on his person, and at the next red light, the man jumped out of the car.

The agent then stopped and called the Fort Worth police. Telling his story to J. R. Brizendine, criminal investigator for Homicide and Robbery, Baucum was instructed to return to Ranger and give the story to Police Chief Bill Ogden, which he did.

Chief Ogden reported Wednesday morning that as far as is known here the man had not been captured. He presumably will face kidnaping and robbery charges in this county.

Two persons who had been booked earlier for drinking, were released from the Ranger Jail Monday morning, but according to Chief Ogden, no information exists as to where the abductor came from or what he was doing in Ranger.

Baucum and his family came to Eastland County only about three months ago after he was named County Farm Bureau Agent here. They live between Eastland and Cisco on U. S. Highway 80.

Mrs. Baucum said Wednesday morning that the first she knew of her husband's unusual experience was when he called her from Fort Worth to tell her what had happened and that he was alright.

She expressed gratitude that the incident had not proven any more serious. The couple have a new baby about six weeks old. Mr. Baucum was in Anson Wednesday where he has ranching interests.

150 Attend QB Club's 1st Basketball Banquet

By HOMER TERRY
Some 150 basketball players and fans attended the first Basketball Banquet at the Eastland Elementary Cafeteria Monday night, March 28. The banquet was sponsored by the Eastland Quarterback Club honoring the 1965-66 basketball teams of Eastland High School.

The persons attending enjoyed a meal of hamburgers, potato chips, Cokes and ice cream.

The president of the club, Robert Lawson, delivered the welcome to everyone and extended thanks to all those who attended the first banquet of its kind to be at Eastland.

Milton Underwood, member of the club gave the invocation.

Miss Pat Steward, the coach for the girls during the 1965-66 season, introduced her A and B teams. She recognized the B team girls and praised them for their tireless efforts during the season. She then recognized the girls who earned a letter during the season and presented them with the "E" Association certificate.

Coach Shirley Frazier then commented on the boys' basketball season and then introduced the A and B teams.

Both teams were given certificates for participating in the basketball sport. Earning letters this past season were seniors Larry Wilson, Homer Terry, and Johnny Moylan.

Juniors who earned their letter E were James Whitehead, Jim Herridge, and Bruce Humphrey. Sophomores who lettered were Steve Lund, Rusty Herridge, Edward Ivory. The only freshman letterman was Bill Hoffman.

Coach Frazier stressed the hopes that the basketball banquet will begin to be an annual affair sponsored by the quarterback club.

The program for the evening was the showing of the films of the Comanche-Eastland Mavericks basketball season early in the 1965 season by their coach, Miss Steward.

Big Crowd Pays Tribute To Omar Burleson At Appreciation Dinner

Approximately 600 Eastland County people plus guests from most cities of this region paid tribute to Omar Burleson, veteran of 20 years in the U. S. House of Representatives, at an Appreciation Banquet in Eastland's new elementary school gym - cafeteria last Saturday night.

The program featured an address by a former house associate and three present fellow house members who joined the large audience in urging the re-election of Congressman Burleson. Joe Kilgore of Austin, a former four-term house member, was the principal speaker, with assists from Congressmen W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco, O. C. Fisher of San Angelo and J. J. Pickle of Austin.

Ross Wilson of Gorman served as master of ceremonies, and Maurice Brooks of Abilene introduced Mr. Kilgore. The invocation was given by Dr. S. W. Reynolds, superintendent of the Cisco district of the Methodist church, and musical entertainment was provided by Larry LaSagna of Abilene.

Mr. Kilgore, who grew up near Rising Star, told the gathering that "Omar Burleson commands the deep respect of his fellow congressmen because he has earned a reputation for voting his convictions." He described the West Texan as a man whose advice is considered valuable in Washington because it is based on the strength of character and wisdom gained through a life devoted largely to public service.

The Austin attorney pointed out that Mr. Burleson works quietly without publicity and fanfare. "Six of the 12 bills he introduced in the last congress are public law — an unproctored reservoir, and 24 watershed conservation projects as some of the projects Mr. Burleson has obtained for his district.

"An Omar Burleson amendment to the foreign aid bill saved the taxpayers $263,000,000 last year," Mr. Kilgore said, "Omar Burleson is our kind of man, a real Texan, a loyal American and an outstanding Congressman," Mr. Kilgore concluded.

Mr. Poage, whose wife is a native of Eastland, praised Mr. Burleson for his work in Washington. He said that Mr. Burleson "is everything you can expect in a congressman — honesty, intelligence, courage and a man who knows local problems."

"Omar Burleson is the only man who has the seniority that is so vital in Washington that you can send back there," Mr. Poage said. He cited the Burleson committee assignments including the No. 3 place on the foreign affairs usually high batting average," Mr. Kilgore said. He added that the bill to limit foreign oil imports was written by Mr. Burleson. He cited Fort Wolters, Dyess AFB,

Upper Leon Soil District Applies for Additional Federal Funds

Eastland County, along with Comanche, Somervell and Palo Pinto Counties, has applied for Federal assistance in preparing a plan for a Resource Conservation and Development Project, according to E. E. McAlister, Soil Conservation office manager for Eastland County.

The number of project problems for this area, which includes some 2,963,120 acres, are reported by Mr. McAlister as follows:

Some 34,000 acres, which is suited for cultivation and is being cropped, should be republished to grass to stabilize the farm unit and reduce erosion losses due to frequent runoff and the farming of low, rocky and eroded areas on the steeper slopes.

About 163,000 acres, currently being cropped, should be taken from active crop production to help stabilize the farm unit and help the operator to better manage his existing resources for increased efficiency.

Improvements of existing pastures and rangeland should be made during the seven-year drought of the mid 1950's, some 1,160,000 acres were severely overgrazed and the land has not recovered, McAlister said.

Re-seeding will be necessary to return ranges to original condition, range improvement will be necessary to re-establish range grasses and renovation and fertilization will be needed to improve pastures.

There is much need for control of woody and noxious plants including cedar, mesquite, oaks, pricklypear and related species. Brush infestation is a major problem on 261,200 acres, a moderate problem on 108,800 acres and a minor problem that is increasing on 34,300 acres.

Assistance will be needed for the expensive chemical and mechanical methods of control which many operations do not have funds to carry out.

Severely eroded with still active gullies are some 45,500 acres of sandy soils. Shaping and establishment to grass, will be expensive, will eliminate downstream sediment deposits, beautify the country and produce needed for range.

Deep, sandy soils, with a moderate to high susceptibility to wind erosion limits the production of some 286,000 acres of land for row crop production. Erosion from surface and groundwater supplies undeveloped in this area.

Of this water would stabilize farm income and help the good management of lands during dry spells.

The underdevelopment of life opportunities is another problem in this area. Deer, and quail are on the increase; however, many small ranchers and ranchers need to organize clubs to realize income from this resource.

Underdeveloped facilities and major reservoirs of the Upper Leon, Proctor, Cisco and Whitney are found in the area.

In the next five to six years, some 83 floodwater retention structures are planned to be built.

Additional financing is needed to assist farmers and ranchers in developing wildlife and recreational possibilities, land use conversions, irrigation systems and conservation plans.

The common problem of the area lends itself to a better coordination of efforts to better advertise and project the facilities available within the area. A Resource and Conservation Development Project offers the best method by which the problems and benefits could be explored and solutions worked out for the best advantage to those concerned, McAlister said.

Sen. John Tower is encouraging the project according to a copy of a letter received here, which he sent Donald A. Williams, administrator, Soil Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C.

"Dear Mr. Williams: It has come to my attention that the Soil Conservation Districts of Bosque, Palo Pinto and Upper Leon have made application for assistance under the Resource Conservation and Development Program.

"The project plan covers the counties of Bosque, Comanche, Eastland, Erath and Somervell, Texas.

"After reviewing the proposal, I am of the opinion that the project is most worthwhile and will be of great value to the people of Central Texas. I therefore urge you to give this proposal your serious consideration in the light of the arguments very ably presented by the local sponsoring organizations.

"Thank you for your attention to this request and for your many past courtesies to my office and to the people of Texas.

Sincerely yours,
John G. Tower

ASCS Office Issues Data For Farm Producers

The following important announcements have been made by Jesse Meredith, office manager, of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service:

Final date to file intentions to participate in the 1966 cotton, wheat and/or feed grain program is Friday, April 1. Producers must divert the minimum required under the program benefits.

Cotton farmers are reminded that they must participate in order to be eligible for price support and diversion payments.

Producers signing intention to participate in the 1966 wheat program will receive a notice of acreage within the next few days.

Any over-planting acreage will cause a drastic reduction in payments. Farmers who do not participate will also receive an inquiry about planted wheat acreage which will be used for history credit purposes. The inquiry should be returned to the office.

Producers interested in the measurement service may pay $10 per farm, plus $4 for each plot over one and receive this service. Applications must be made no later than Sunday, May 1.

Deadline to release peanuts or file application for additional acreage is Monday, April 4. It is very important that every acre be released that will not be planted.

A skip row planting pattern for idle rows has been announced as follows, applicable to all crops planted within 22 to 42 inch rows:

Two rows planted, one row idle, 86.7 per cent to crop and 13.3 per cent idle; four rows planted, one row idle, 92 per cent, crop, 8 per cent idle; eight rows planted, one row idle, 95.6 per cent, crop, and 4.4 per cent, idle; 12 rows planted, one row idle, 96.9 per cent, crop, and 3.1 per cent, idle; two rows planted, two rows idle, 65 per cent, crop, and 35 per cent idle; four rows planted, two rows idle, 76.7 per cent, crop, and 23.3 per cent, idle; eight rows planted, two rows idle, 86 per cent, crop, and 14 per cent, idle; and 12 rows planted, two rows idle, 90 per cent, crop, and ten per cent idle.
