Ranger Cattleman
Is Contest Judge

Sig Faircloth, a partner
in the Ranger Livestock Auction Co., has had more than a quarter of a century experience in cattle auction business in Eastland County.
An expert in cutting horse contests, he is frequently called upon to serve as judge of these events.
He says that when he first started serving in this capacity, he spent a lot of time worrying as to whether or not he had made the right decisions.
"I was satisfied in my own mind that I was right, but owners of horses that failed to win did not always share my opinion, and often I would take my 'worries' to bed with me."

"Then, one day I heard a disgruntled horseowner complaining to a friend of mine who had just finished judging a horse show. The horse owner was not at all happy with the way his horse had been placed."

My friend looked the horse owner straight in the eye and remarked: "I did not place the horse to satisfy you, I put the horse where I thought he belonged, and, in so doing, satisfy myself."

"I have tried to live with myself, my friend continued, but I don't have to live with you."
"That is the policy I have adopted in judging cutting horses," Faircloth concluded.

CARD OF THANKS

We will never be able to express our gratitude for the many wonderful things you have done for us; the financial aid, food, flowers, words of condolence, flowers, and your many prayers in our behalf — for all of these we are humbly grateful.

Mushrooms, once used mainly in gourmet cooking,
are being used for a wide variety of purposes. Mushrooms can be broiled, sauteed, simmered, marinated, and served raw in salads. They complement meat, poultry, fish, eggs and other vegetables, mushrooms are low in calories and rich in iron.
Fresh mushrooms should feel dry and firm. Small brown spots on the crown
mean the mushroom is ripe, not spoiled. The size of a mushroom is not related to its age and does not have any particular effect on quality or taste.
If not used immediately,
mushrooms should be refrigerated in a shallow tray covered by a soft, moist towel.
Moisten the towel each day to keep the mushrooms fresh!
When ready to use, run cold water over the mushrooms and wipe dry with a paper towel. Do not soak them. If you like, snap off the stems
but do not peel the crowns.
Much of mushroom's nourishment and flavor is in the peel.
Never cook mushrooms more than ten minutes or they lose their natural moisture.

Vets' Q&A

Q — My father received a small pension from the Veterans Administration until his death four years ago. My sister, through an accident that occurred when she was a child, is unable to earn a living. I would like to know if she is entitled to a pension as she has never worked and will never be able to do so?

A — The VA considers a "helpless child" as one who became permanently incapable of self-support prior to age 18. If this is your sister's case, you should submit medical evidence to the VA to support this claim. If the claim is upheld, she may be able to receive pension payments.

Q — If a veteran accepts a nonservice-connected disability pension while trying to prove that this disability was a service-connected disability, will the VA deduct the monies that he has received from the nonservice-connected pension?

A — The fact that a veteran accepts a nonservice-connected disability pension while trying to prove that the disability is service-connected will in no way interfere with the proceedings of his claim. If the veteran should be granted service connection, the VA will make the adjustment to make sure the veteran receives the greater benefits.

Q — I have a relative in a Veterans Administration Hospital. When I visit him, am I permitted to bring him food?

A — If you do, be certain to stop by the nursing station and let her check to see if it violates the patient's diet orders.

Q — I am severely disabled and in a VA Hospital. I will be hospitalized about 2 months, then will require nursing home care as my wife will be unable to care for me. Shall I wait until I am discharged from the hospital to file claim for increased pension?

A — You should file your claim for increased pension now, as "housebound benefits" of $35 per month may be payable while you are hospitalized.

Q — I had active duty in the Army from January 1956 to December 1965. I spent more than two years of this time in Viet Nam. I was in an automobile accident in February 1966 which rendered me permanently and totally disabled. May I receive pension for these disabilities since I am a veteran of the Viet Nam war?

A — No. Pension is payable to veterans of World War I, World War II and the Korean Conflict discharged under other than dishonorable conditions after 90 days or more active duty, or because of a service-connected disability from reasons not traceable to their service.

Q — What period of service is required for entitlement under the new GI Bill?

A — Six months (181 days) of continuous active service since February 1, 1955 or discharged for service incurred disability. Full time duty in Armed Forces shall include authorized travel to or from active duty.

Recent guests in the home of Rev. and Mrs. T. N. McEach have been Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Huggins of Dallas and Mrs. Ben Crawford and grandson of Littlefield, Rev. and Mrs. Joe Downs and daughter of Clovis, N.M., formerly of Eastland, and Rev. and Mrs. Bill Sanders and children of Lubbock.

What will the others be worth a year from now?

The Cadillac car holds its value far beyond any other automobile at or near its price. Let your Cadillac dealer explain today why now, more than ever, it's great . . . going Cadillac!

There is one simple way to measure the worth of any other luxury car: compare it to the way a Cadillac keeps its value. For Cadillac is the grand champion in this most telling of all motor car tests—and at resale returns a higher percentage of its original cost than any other car built in the land. There are many reasons. The first is Cadillac quality—recognized wherever automobiles are known. Then there is Cadillac beauty and luxury—so advanced that the car retains its desirability long after others have lost their appeal. And there is Cadillac safety, performance, dependability and operating economy. What will your car be worth a year—or even three years—from now? If it's a Cadillac, the answer is predictably pleasant. Get the facts today from your authorized dealer. He's an expert in serving the world's most demanding motorists—and his interest in your complete satisfaction will continue throughout your ownership. Isn't it time you put a Cadillac in your life?

Vinford O. Hogan, commanding officer of the county and his men made plans for the summer camp at their weekend drill at the Cisco Armory last Saturday and Sunday.

Major General Luther E. Orrick, Wichita Falls, the 49th's commanding officer has outlined a round-the-clock schedule. Somewhere of training will be going on every hour of the day and night.

The top half features a close-up of a man's face (James Stewart) looking upwards with a concerned expression, holding a double-barreled shotgun. To his right is a smaller image of a woman (Shirley Jones) in a period dress. Below the man's face, the text 'Russ Tamblyn' is printed. The bottom section of the poster has a black background with white text: 'GOLDWYN-MAYER presents a LESTER WELCH Production' and the title 'GUNFIGHT AT THE O.K. CORRAL' in large, bold, serif letters. Below the title, it says 'in CINEMASCOPE® and METROCOLOR®'.

Lieutenant Colonel James McKnight, Fort Worth, the divisions training officer, said night training exercises will be emphasized.

Veteran members of the 49th will devote their time to combat exercises. The tankers and infantrymen will combine into task forces for realistic live-fire training tests.

Colonel McKnight said two of the division's three brigades, five artillery battalions and the engineer battalion will move from home stations directly to the rough, hilly terrain that makes up Fort Hood's famous armored maneuver grounds. The units will return to the cantonment area near Gatesville only for the annual division parade on July 23.

The second half of the 49th's mission will be to complete boot training for division's 2,300 recruits. Colonel Louis Neumeyer, Liberty will head the special training brigade. The men are the new enlistees who get their first taste of Army Camp life this month. They are eventually destined for six months of active Army training. Their entry on active duty was delayed because Viet Nam-committed basic trainees overcrowded Army facilities normally assigned to new Guard members.

Some units will be missing. Temple's Third Tank Battalion with units at Cameron, Taylor, and Belton along with infantry companies from Bonham, Cooper, Alington and Waxahachie already have their summer field training under their belts. They served in June as aggressor forces for training the 36th Brigade—the selected reserve force designated as first-line reserve.

Company B of the 386th Engineer Battalion at Brenham will spend its two weeks at Camp Mabry in Austin. It will do on-site construction work at the Guard facilities in Austin.

Other highlights will be the ferrying of large groups of Guardsmen aboard hastily made rafts across streams. This is to practice for the time when the 49th's men might be called on to make river crossings under combat conditions. Tanks will fire on special ranges at night using searchlights to pinpoint targets.

Recruits will go through the familiar toughening-up program that calls for close combat, infiltration courses and long foot marches. There will be rifle firing, too.

Movement of the 49th to Fort Hood from 70 Texas cities will be completed by mid-afternoon Sunday. Units from Rio Grande Valley cities will spend the better part of two days on the road to get to Fort Hood.

MANY PATTERNS

Washington

"As It
Looks
From Here"

OMAR BURLISON
Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Section IV of the Civil Rights Bill of 1966 provides in substance that the owner of property for sale, rent or lease may not decline to sell, rent or lease to any person because of his race, creed or color.

Other provisions of the measure make radical changes in an effort to confer "rights."

In 1789 the people of America were fearful that government might restrict their freedoms. The First Congress of the United States in that year proposed the Bill of Rights.

The Bill of Rights essentially tells the Government what it can't do and comprises the first ten Amendments to the United States Constitution. Many countries have an abundance of natural resources, vast lands and climate as good as ours, but 40 million immigrants came to this land seeking something called freedom.

They came here with the hope of security and the promise of the precious right to live as free men with equal opportunity for all.

In July 1966 a new guarantee of freedom was ratified. Its purpose was to guard against human slavery. Its guarantees were for the future equal protection of all. It is the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, and it reads in part as follows: "No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Laws enacted during the past three or four years, and the proposal now before the Congress, erode the rights and freedoms of every American property owner.

If anything more is needed to guarantee individual rights, let it be that the individual American property owner, regardless of race, color or creed, should be allowed, under Law, to retain:

1. The right of privacy.
2. The right to choose his own friends.
3. The right to own and enjoy property according to his own dictates.
4. The right to occupy and dispose of property without Governmental interference in accordance with his own judgment.
5. The right of all, equally, to enjoy property without interference by Laws giving special privilege to others.
6. The right to maintain what, in his opinion, are desired surroundings for tenants.
7. The right to contract with a real estate agent or other representative of his choice and to authorize him to act for him according to his instructions.
8. The right to determine the acceptability and desirability of any prospective buyer or tenant of his property.
9. The right of every American to choose whomever, in his opinion, are congenial tenants in any property he owns and to maintain the stability and security of his income.
10. The right to enjoy the freedom to accept, reject, negotiate or not to negotiate with anyone.

The prohibition against the individual to do with his property what he wishes, so long as he does not infringe upon his neighbor, is the denial of the third element of fundamental rights guaranteed under the Constitution.

der the Constitution.

When Government attempts to confer privilege by legislation upon some, and by so doing takes away the rights of others, it does grave violence to the Constitution. Loss of these rights diminishes personal freedom and creates a springboard for the future erosion of our liberties.

Unemployment Is At Low Mark In Texas For Year

AUSTIN — State insured unemployment dipped to 23,737 claimants at mid-May to reach its lowest level since September of 1957, the Texas Employment Commission's monthly Texas Labor Market Report revealed this week.

Representing 1.1 per cent of the approximately 2.1 million Texas workers now covered by unemployment insurance program, it is the lowest rate since October of 1956 when it was also 1.1 per cent of an insured labor force of 1.7 million.

In May of 1965, the number of insured unemployed stood at 36,799, or 39 per cent higher than the corresponding 1966 mid-May total. A statewide total of $2.5 million in unemployment insurance benefits was paid out in May compared to $4 million in May of 1965.

At mid-May, claimants filing claims for 15 weeks or more represented 17 per cent of all claimants compared to 19 per cent at mid-May of 1965, while 39 per cent fell in the less than 5 week group compared to 35 per cent at mid-May of 1965. This indicates that claimants are finding work earlier than they were able to find it last year.

Neither House of Congress can adjourn during a session for more than three days without the consent of the other.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Editor:

Why are we going back to the old "money panic" cycle—what is the significance there of — and what can be done about it — are questions that are likely to shake the present democratic administration to its very foundation.

The basis of the entire subject has to go back to the 8 years of economic sterility (called stability) that we experienced under Eisenhower where G.N.P. barely kept up with population growth. The Eisenhower administration turned the monetary policy over totally to the five New York banks whose subsidiaries had been the principal traders in government bonds. These five banks set the Federal Reserve policy for the entire nation.

The determinate deal to the whole present chaotic circumstance was that the Treasury Department would no longer support the market for federal securities. Since government bonds and their yield as risk-free securities is the basic foundation of all interest rates in the USA — in 12 years while cost of federal borrowing has skyrocketed for the taxpayer (some 400 per cent on Treasury bills) — we have a domestic economic crisis at hand.

Eliot Janeway, New York economist, says that "it is unprecedented in American history when the best borrowers cannot satisfy their credit needs from the best financial institutions" — and "Lyndon Johnson is receiving very, very, very bad advice". Nor is the public being told the truth. They are told that money supply has increased 20 per cent in last 3 years — but they are not told that 40 to 50 per cent of all trade settlements between all the people on the surface of this earth are determined to be paid in dollars. The USA monetary supply is just not now (nor can ever be) adequate to serve such an explosive worldwide trade expansion as almost the sole international currency.

In other words, the 1 per cent of the banks which control 94 per cent of all bank resources represent those 120 corporations which control over 55 per cent of American G.N.P. These same few banks and favored foreign trading customers are draining the domestic money supply in favor of expanding their giant corporate business interests overseas. The result is tending toward serious economic trouble on the domestic scene (outside of New York) where struggle for money between financial institutions is threatening to destroy the very basis of our credit system. The non-bank financial institutions (whose percentage of total credit has grown from 20 per cent to 80 per cent of all credit outstanding during the 52 years since Federal Reserve started) have so far kept us from economic collapse — yet now they more and more are motivated to buy depreciated high yield bonds for possible capital gain income to the total detriment of small business credit needs.

The problem of permanent solution is basically simple — but not for a non-creative political circumstance where the Johnson administration insists on the "great consensus". What is needed will never be agreed to by the Republican monetary interests headed by James Rockefeller, (First National City) David Rockefeller (Chase - Manhattan) and their propaganda mouthpiece, Henry R. Luce (Life-Time-Fortune), or their executionary hired hand, Wm. McChesney Martin (Federal Reserve).

We could forever relieve the economic problem of inflation — solve the international trade settlement problem — and put money to work as a creative (rather than negative) circumstance in our economy by seven steps:

1. Let the Treasury Department go back to making its own market for its risk-free obligations as a basis of national credit policy.

2. Remove the guaranteed price on gold and computer evaluate (compare) all foreign exchange against a fixed program considering G.N.P., population, debt, trade balance, currency, etc.

3. Make membership in the Federal Reserve voluntary — so it will have to be a positive discounting force like the Japanese central bank.

4. In any war (declared or not) regulate prices and wages for the duration.

5. Keep money at a fixed 50 per cent of G.N.P. and deduct Eurodollars (those in overseas use) when figuring domestic supply.

6. Continually adopt an aggressive Federal fiscal policy to economic projections by taxing more or less — and by spending more or less.

7. Abandon forever nationalistic militarism as a basis of foreign policy and reduce military influence and spending to a minimum by unification of military into one service with one school and by reduction of military spending to a basic 5% of G.N.P.

Everything is changed since 1914 — and is further in an evolutionary explosion since 1945 — yet banks and bankers and their political cohorts no doubt will continue to hold fearfully to the status quo. It is tragic beyond analysis!
