LIKE PRODUCES LIKE: Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.-Galatians 6: 7.

OSCAR B. COLQUITT AND HIS FEDERAL PLUM

Oscar B. Colquitt in other years held a large place in the political picture of his commonwealth. He was the publisher of an important weekly newspaper. He was sent to the state senate by the Kaufman district. He was a state tax commissioner. In his youth and through the years he followed the flag of Charles A. Culberson. In his youth he was a dry. He became a local option democrat. He was elected railroad commissioner. He defied Joseph Weldon Bailey. I. Bailey backed John W. Hornsby for the place. Colquitt defeated Bailey's opposition in Bailey's home county of Cook. He made the commissioner a stepping stone to the office of governor. Bailey backed Campbell. Campbell won.

Colquitt rested on his oars four years. He continued to hold the office of rail commissioner. He came back as a candidate for governor in 1910. He whipped the field and won the nomination. In 1912 "The 40 Immortals" came back from the Baltimore convention. Their leaders claimed that they had forced the nomination of Woodrow Wilson as President of the United States. They declared war, on Colquitt. They denied him a right to a second term. They nmed a high court judge, William F. Ramsey, as their primary candidate. Colquitt sent Ramsey to his political grave. He offered for United States senator after serving his second term as governor. All the pros and many who were not pros gave him his second Waterloo in Texas politics. In the campaign of 1928 he became a pro again. He bolted the nomination of Alfred E. Smith. He joined hands with Thomas B. Love and Texas landed in the republican column of states. Herbert Hoover was elected President.

Pat Morris Neff was holding a temporary appointment as a member of the United States board of mediation. Neff failed of confirmation. Love backed Colquitt for the job. Love won. Colquitt was appointed a member of the board. His term expires Dec. 31. Love is his backer.

Now Washington says that Judge Grover Sellers of Texarkana "is being given increasing consideratios for appointment to the board in the event Colouitt of Texas is not reappointed." Politics is a fascinating game. Politics is a brutal game. Politics is a disappointing game. Oscar B. Colquitt has played the game all his life. His father was a Confederate soldier. His uncle was a distinguished United States senator from Georgia "in the old days." Colquitt's lifelong ambition was to represent Texas in the senate. He deserted the party of his youth and family tradition when he gave his support to Hoover and Curtis. Now he is fighting to retain his grip on a federal job that carries a salary of $12,000 a year and a daily expense allowance of $20 when he is on the road attending to official business. Now which way will the political cat jump Dec. 31 Morris Sheppard is a regular. Always a regular. He backed Smith to a finish in 1928. Sellars is an East Texan. Texarkana is the home of Sheppard. Connally is a regular. He stocks: never deserts the democratic wigwam. Connally will be a Am Car candidate for re-election next year. Sheppard will be a candidate for re-election in 1936. There are warm times a-coming in the political arena blazed in the long ago by Am Smelt 39% the founders of the Texas republic and later the commonwealth of the Lone Star.

Often you find a few merchants who assume that the people of their community know that they are in business and will patronize them.

Live merchants of the home city take nothing for granted. They have a quick turnover of stock and keep their stocks up-to-date and moving rapidly with the aid of newspaper advertising.

Business concerns of the home city are working to give you definite, dependable service. You should spend your money where you get your money's worth-and that is in" your own home town!
