WORKERS AND THEIR CONVENTIONS

Texas is the greatest of all agricultural states. Texas is the greatest producer of farm staples as well as the greatest producer of wool and mohair. A reminder that the seventh annual meeting of the Texas Agricultural Workers association is to be held at Lubbock Jan. 4 and 5, according to Jack Shelton, manager of the Luling Foundation Farm and president of the organization. Agricultural problems of current interest will be discussed by speakers of state and national importance, including Dr. R. H. Montgomery of Austin, Judge Otis Miller of Anson, V. V. Parr of Spur and Mildred Horton of College Station. Reports of the two working committees of the association of two years standing on land tenure and taxation will be made. Cong. Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the agricultural committee of the house of representatives, and C. A. Cobb, cotton administrator, have been invited to address the meeting.

Yes, the agricultural public is urged to attend the Lubbock gathering. "The big thing that a person ought to get from the program as planned for the meeting to be held at Lubbock is that a spirited discussion will be held regardquestions of vital interest to agriculture at this time," says President Jack Shelton. "Leaders in the field of agriculture and economics will meet practical workers who are dealing with problems on the farms and ranches of Texas. Phose attending the meeting will have the opportunity to visit the agricultural experiment state at Lubbock and at Spur and the Texas Technology school."

Kate Adelle Hill, secretary of the association and district home demonstration agent, College Station, in speakng of the work, says this is the seventh meeting of the association and it has constantly grown in membership and accomplishment. Jack Shelton, the president of the organtration, in cooperation with Mrs. Ben Anthony, president the Texas Home Demonstration association, led the delegation of 2000 citizens who met the legislature at the state expitol on April 18 in the interests of the maintenance of the extension appropriation to an adequate extent. Notice was given that a series of interviews from the directory, and the people who will appear on the Lubbock program will come out from time to time. If civilization "begins and ends with the plow," then all Texans are interested In the onward march of the farmer on his farm and a return of purchasing power to the tillers of the soil-to all those who furnish the foodstuffs and the meatstuffs for the mouths of the people of the world.

Bagdad, the city of the Caliphs, seems to be having troubles of its own. The minister of education has recently issued an order prohibiting the use of face powder and lipstciks by women teachers. It seems that the local critics of this new order think that the genie and sorcerers and the fairy princesses we read about in fairy tales cannot exist in such an atmosphere of moral uplift. But maybe their passing is just the price of progress.

As I strolled into the lobby of an Oklahoma City hotel, the managing director of the hotel, met me with one of his usual pleasant smiles and a few welcoming words.
