WASHINGTON BY IRA BENNETT

There's an undercurrent of confidence in federal circles that an early settlement of the San Francisco strike will make it unnecessary to use the strong arm of Uncle Sam. Federal power will be used if necessary to move interstate commerce and the mails. The Federal Emergency Relief Administration can feed women and children against any strike resistance. This hitherto unusual power has been quietly explored and confirmed by the government's legal counsel.

Secretary Perkins is in close telephone communication with Assistant Secretary McGrady at San Francisco. The very completeness of the walkout will intensify the public pressure for a quick settlement. Few if any fundamental questions are involved.

The labor board of which Archbishop Hanna is chairman and Assistant Secretary McGrady a member is rated sufficient representation for all federal purposes at San Francisco. Questions of public order are under state and local jurisdiction and federal intervention will not occur unless state power is unable to cope with the situation.

Web—While President Roosevelt sets up another planning agency—the National Power Policy Committee—the Pugh Bah of Planners, Donald Rieberg, goes into deep contemplation with himself, like the timeless Buddha of the East who sits cross-legged through the centuries in spellbound contemplation of his own navel. Instead of a study temple Rieberg chooses the solitude of the Atlantic City boardwalk for his reveries.

The Rieberg broodings are expected to issue in an all-embracing plan in time to enable American voters to pass intelligently upon the newest New Deal that is to become law next year. Out of his inexhaustible inner supply Planner Rieberg must spin out a web that will connect up all the loose ends of all parts of the present tangled skein—a web that will fit the nation like a glove and hold all its parts together in smoothly working union.

Empire—Many heretics are plotting against the forthcoming National Economic Plan. Rugged individualists and smooth industrial combinations are preparing for a deathgrapple with the forces that are shaping up the new NRA. The American Bar Association joins industrial leaders in objecting to executive powers which lawyers say are usurping judicial functions.

Industrial leaders count on growing opposition to government regulation of business and individual enterprise. They believe that by next winter this opposition will be very strong. Congress will then allow industry to administer its own code with Uncle Sam sitting as umpire only, and not as general manager.

The unregenerate do not figure that NRA is being reshaped from within to attain exactly that goal.

Exempt—Utility magnates just knew what would happen—they've been dreading it all the time. They see in the new National Power Policy Committee another sledgehammer forged by FDR to shatter the privately owned utility concern.

"The hammering is on the wall," said a big utility manager. "Government competition means the death of private utility corporations. Some little concerns will survive, but capital will no longer invest in great enterprises. We thought a public reaction would oppose the socialism that underlies the TVA. But the public does not put a stop to the march of socialism in the power field. With huge federal power plants under construction and more coming there's only one alternative for capital—it must get out of utilities."

Scrip—The District of Columbia is the seed-bed for a new experiment in unemployment relief. A cooperative rehabilitation corporation will draw funds from the Federal Reserve.

President May Plea For Peace

Russell Quits Expression Of Governor Race Good Neighbor Idea Expected

Annona Candidate Withdraws; Favors No Other Candidate For Office

By CHARLES E. SIMONS Associated Press Writer

Withdrawal of Edward K. Russell of Annona as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor and an effort on the part of two Jefferson county negroes to obtain a supreme court order to force party officials to permit them to participate in the primary elections were developments Thursday in Texas' political campaign.

Russell, who had stumped a large part of the state, withdrew because of the shortness of time remaining in the first campaign which will end July 28. He said it would be impossible for him to present his cause to all the people and did not want them to pass judgment on him until they had seen him and heard his platform.

In leaving the race Russell emphasized he was not withdrawing in favor of any candidate and warned the electorate to pass carefully and deliberate judgment in selecting a nominee.

Russell had based his campaign on retention of state prohibition in its existing form, on repeal of the law legalizing wagering on horse races and had attacked the attitude of his opponents on relief and economic questions.

Hawaii Would Be Used As Forum For Peace Doctrine In Pacific

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt is believed to be contemplating using Hawaii as a forum to enunciate the doctrine of peace and neighborliness in the Pacific. The president, now heading for Hawaii, will deliver a radio address in Honolulu July 28.

Washington hears he might take opportunity for a friendly, general expression of his views on world problems and of his eagerness to extend the "good neighbor" policy throughout Pacific region.

Automobile bearings are being developed to withstand many times more wear than present bearings.

State Treasurer Candidate Given Old Name Again

Dallas, (AP)—Judge Tom Work Friday revoked in its entirety a previous court order given Jefferson T. Baker, candidate for state treasurer under the name of "George B. Terrell," the right to use the name of Terrell.

The decision followed testimony in behalf of congressman George B. Terrell, Alto, who filed suit last week asking the order by which Baker changed his name to Terrell be annulled.

McEntires Hunt Wolves In Plane

Wolf hunting by airplane is the method used by George McEntire, Jr., of Sterling City and R. B. McEntire of this city. The two men took off from the American Airlines station Friday morning in the former's plane for the Bill Neal ranch southwest of Marietta to hunt the wolves from the air. They reported no luck Friday morning, but expected to be more successful Friday afternoon when they planned to renew their hunting expedition. Young George acts as pilot while R. B. is "chief gunner." The latter stands in the door of the cabin plane with a shot-gun in hand, ready to open fire on the fast-moving animal, as George Jr. maneuvers the ship into shooting position.

Incalculable Loss Results In Frisco

Two Thousand Longshoremen Routed In Oregon; California Strike Ended

SEATTLE, (AP.)—Mayor Charles Smith's 300 strike police, with floods of tear gas, swinging clubs, and charging horses, routed 2,000 striking longshore pickets from the waterfront Friday in a spectacular fight.

Score were hurt; none believed seriously. The strikers hurled rocks, caught gas canisters before they exploded, throwing them back at the police.

Virtually all 2,300 combatants were affected some extent by the gas.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Costs of the San Francisco and Alameda county general strike reached incalculable heights when mass walkouts were called off. There can be no accurate estimates of millions of dollars loss through paralyzation virtually of all business for three days in San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, and Berkeley.

Transportation remained the principal unsolved problem as San Francisco emerged from the strike. While most strikers walked out in sympathy with maritime workers, platform workers of the Market Street Railway company represented grievances of their own. The street railway announced service would be resumed.

Official and unofficial raids against radical groups continued Thursday night in all airports. There were prospects of further raids Friday.

So far this year upward of 30,000 visitors have passed through the park—which compares with fewer than 7,000 for the same period last year. Toll believes that forty 200,000 persons will visit the park before 1934 is over and he also believes there is a chance that the all-time record of 260,000 visitors—made in the boom year of 1929—may be broken.

All this, it seems to us is a pretty good indication of returning of prosperity. Yellowstone Park, after all, is quite a distance from the great centers of population.

If tourists are going there in record-breaking numbers, there must have been a pretty substantial improvement in the financial status of a lot of people.

A NAZI SEES PEACE

It is as surprising as it is comforting to find a Nazi cabinet minister making a strong plea for international peace, saying kind words about the French and calling for amicable settlement of international disputes.

The recent speech of Rudolph Hess, therefore must be classed as one of the most unexpected and valuable of the developments following Hitler's suppression of the "second revolution."

To be sure, Herr Hess clanked the saber suggestively, with one hand, even while he was extending the olive branch with the other. But that, after all, is not hard to understand, everything considered; nor need it be considered so very important.

The big thing is that the Nazi government, through this minister, is at last showing a keen realization of the horrors that a new war would bring to a long-suffering Europe. Through him, it asks, "Can we not, by mutual good will, spare humanity another war?" This new attitude is exceedingly welcome.

ON TO BETTER DAYS

Temporary headquarters for the executives who have the new housing program under their wings has been opened in Washington and Administrator James A. Moffett has begun to assemble a staff for a high-speed campaign.

No one who hopes to see recovery accelerated can fail to wish Mr. Moffett and his co-workers the best of luck in their plan to get at least a half-billion dollars' worth of housing construction and modernization projects under way by fall.

The great construction industry is one of the key pieces in the national economy. For several years it has been languishing badly; and until it recovers, national recovery as a whole can not make decent speed.

The more success attends this housing program, the better off all of us will be.

DECLINING BIRTHS

If the American birth rate continues to decline in the next 50 years at the rate recorded in the last decade the country is in, for some very difficult times.

This is the warning of Dr. Oliver M. Baker, senior economist of the department of agriculture, in a speech in Cleveland recently.

We have almost reached a stationary population, and Dr. Baker remarks that this may be a very good thing—if it only remains stationary. But a continued fall in the birth rate would eventually bring us to a declining population; and under such conditions, he says, economic reactions would be severe.

The demand for farm and industrial products would progressively dwindle; rents and interest returns would slide steadily downward, with catastrophic effect on the whole spirit of private enterprise.

It is a gloomy picture. But it is possible to wonder if the declining birth rate recently has not been, at least in part, a reflection of the confused condition of society as a whole. Let that confusion be straightened out, and it is possible that the birth rate would begin to rise once more.

AN ALIBI EXPLODED

Blaming a foreign foe for internal troubles is an old and frequently effective dodge for a harassed ruler. It is hardly surprising that Herr Hitler is explaining to his countrymen that French participation in a great anti-Nazi plot was really the underlying cause for the recent bloody flare-up in Germany.

But this kind of stunt can be pretty dangerous. The French government is not taking kindly to the explanation. The relationship between the two nations already painfully strained, has grown even tenser as a result. Suspicion and dislike have been accentuated on both sides.

That Hitler has strengthened his position—for the moment, at least—by the prompt way in which he stamped out revolt seems undeniable. But his story of a "French plot" may be storing up a lot of future trouble for him.

TO BE EXPECTED

Long ago, when the French Revolution had brought forth its reign of terror, and revolutionary leaders themselves began going to the scaffold, someone remarked that the revolution always devours its own children.

A survey of the recent bloody events in Germany simply confirms this dictum.

Seizing power by violence almost invariably breeds still more violence. Disagreements among men who govern a country are inevitable under any kind of regime; and where these disagreements cannot be decided at the polls, in a peaceful manner, they eventually must get settled in a violent manner—with the firing squad or the guillotine for the losers.

The German Fascist revolution is simply following the formula.

With only 19 "authorized" restaurants open in San Francisco when the general strike brought commerce to a standstill, there were "soup lines" extending far along the street. This picture shows a crowd in line waiting for food. (Associated Press Photo).

SAN FRANCISCANS WAIT IN LINE FOR FOOD

SPORT SLANTS
 By ALAN GOULD

By way of carrying the track record controversy a step farther, W. L. (Fox) Stanton, veteran and successful mentor of California Institute of Technology, rises to suggest that all marks be thrown out. He would take the human element entirely from foot racing.

Stanton, whose coaching career started in the east and brought him west, sagely suggests that the name of great runners no longer are based on their times but on their victories, since all the old timers' marks long since have been junked.

"The fallibility of times," Stanton told our Paul Zimmerman, "has long been suspected, but never have they been caught in the act until detected by a mechanical timer. Other human beings involved in the detection as accessories to the act are the judges. Judges are very, very human!"

"The only safe race in which to use a human judge would be where he would be required not to use his eyes but only his ears in detecting the sound of feet as they cross the finish line."

Obviously Coach Stanton treats hand timing and human judging of a finish as a laughing matter.

A "NEW DEAL" FOR TRACKSTERS

"Greece held foot races, but who remembers the records? What has become of the records made by Bernie Wefers, Charles Paddock, Waldo, Throp and Fred Kelly? Records are very uncertain things so long as human beings have anything to do with the making of them."

"With doubt now injected into all past records, why not include track meets in the New Deal, proclaiming the victory, not the record, as the important thing?"

Obviously Stanton was handling the situation without gloves.

"The Timers and judges may now have to buy tickets," he continued, "and take their places in the stands with the rest of hot polio, 'Curses on Science!'"

ELECTRICAL CAMERA IS ANSWER

The Kirby electrically operated timing-camera is a bit expensive to operate, but it is the real answer to the problem of what to do about foot-racing records. It has now passed beyond the experimental stage and is being used at most outstanding national track meets to detect errors by the human eye in "calling" the order of finish.

"Comparison of the camera-clock with hand-timing so far has not established any conclusive margin of error. That is to say, the two have varied consistently but sometimes the hand-timing has been slower than the automatic device and at others it has been faster. It is well known, of course, that in the big events of consensus of at least five watches is taken to arrive at the official time. The theory is that this average compensates for manual error, but it is only a theory that happens to be reasonably fair and acceptable. It doesn't prove anything except that hands that hold the stopwatch—and even the watches, for that matter—vary.

It has only been within the past half dozen years that the International A. A. F. has approved the use of stop-watches split to the tenth of second. Up to 1928 only fifth-second watches were regarded as accurate enough to time a world record run.

Cotton Farms Are Being Checked For Current Contracts

Measuring of cotton farms under contract to the government is now under way in Howard county.

Following a school of instruction Tuesday, community committees began measuring Wednesday.

Fields will be measured to ascertain compliance with the current government cotton acreage reduction control campaign.

Additional information on the number of third and fourth tenants and half and half tenants will also be collected in the survey.

County Agent O. P. Griffin said that enough land measuring blanks have been received to handle the farms under contract. It will require about a month to complete the work.

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (UP)—The Old Colony Club of Plymouth, where the Pilgrims landed, is believed to be the oldest men's club in the United States. It was established in 1769 by a group of prominent townsmen and has been in existence ever since. Numbered among the charter members was Governor Edward Winslow of the Plymouth Colony.

Errors Cost Cosden Game

Ford Team Cracks Out 8 To 3 Decision Over Pipeliners

Numerous errors cost the Cosden Pipeliners a game with the Ford team Thursday night. The Ford team, bolstered by players from other clubs, won the contests 8 to 3.

Waincott talked for the Pipeliners in the second inning, but the Fordmen swept across seven runs in the third frame.

The Cosdenites did their last scoring in the third when they put across two runs. Jackson tacked up the eighth run for the motor team in the fourth.

Texans Face Oil Problem

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Oil men have taken this puzzle to court here.

Adeltech Oil company drilled a well at the edge of the Conroe oil field in Montgomery county. The oil bearing sand slopes off very rapidly at the field edge. If the well went down straight it would strike the oil sand below the level at which salt water stands, the geologists said. That would make the well useless.

Well owners remembered that H. John Eastman had come from California with a method for controlling the direction of well drilling. They made a deal with him and the well was drilled, deviating a little more than four and a half degrees from vertical. Drilled this way it struck oil before water. The deviated drilling made the bottom of the well 115 feet from where it would have been if the well had been absolutely straight.

State drilling rules permit five degree variation from vertical, almost impossible to drill a well straight. Adeltech officials point out that the well bottom could be 42 feet farther toward the oil bearing part of the area and still be within five degrees.

One of the state commissioners agreed with them. Two said the five degree variation was only for unintentional deviation. They, as a majority, ordered the well plugged and re-drilled straight.

ST. ALBANS, Vt. (UP)—Aviation has been given a bovine motif in Vermont. Pilots on the Boston-Montreal airway can tell when they've strayed from their course by watching cows in the pastures below. Cows along the regular route have become accustomed to the roar of the motors. When a pilot sees cows becoming panicky, he knows he's off his course.

Petting Vets' Dog Didn't Pay

DALLAS, (UP)—Petting a voter's dog may be as good political tactics as kissing strange babies, but Ralph Estep, Oak Cliff candidate for constable, has had enough of it. He went to a hospital to have a gash knee sewed up recently when he sought to flatter a voter by petting his dog. The dog, apparently, preferred a rival candidate.

2 BIG SPRING MEN ELECTED OFFICERS IN RIG BUILDERS ASSOCIATION AT MIDLAND

MIDLAND—Rig building contractors of West Texas formed a permanent association to be known as the West Texas Rig Builders Association, at their meeting Tuesday night in the Midland chamber of commerce office.

Arch W. Thomas, Midland, was elected president. Other officers chosen were: Joe Benbourn, Odessa, vice-president; E. F. Robbins, Big Spring, secretary-treasurer.

Directors named were: Joe Stubbfield, Breckenridge; Roy Simmons, Hobbs; F. G. Stockel, Pecos; Jim Boykin, Big Spring; C. J. O'Quinn, Odessa; J. G. Gossett, Midland; C. B. Steele, Wink; and Frank Hathaway, Abilene.

The association elected Paul O. Hill and Benbourn delegates to the code meeting of the National Rig Building Employers Association at Hotel Tulsa in Tulsa July 20. The secretary of the Midland chamber of commerce acted as temporary secretary in the absence of Robbins.

The rig builders declared that a code with teeth in it is necessary to prevent bankruptcy to their business. They say that prices for rig building are now lower than ever in the history of the oil industry in West Texas.

Despite the fact there is about 75 per cent more work in West Texas, particularly the Permian basin, this year than in 1931, '32 and '33, rig contractors are operating at a loss, delegates agreed. They attributed this to increased wages, restricted hours of employment and increased costs of materials.

The rig builders are worried over the changed practices of oil companies regarding rig contracting. Until the petroleum code went into effect, most companies let their rig contractors regularly to the same contractors at usually a fixed price. Now, they charge the contractors, oil companies demand competitive bids, and this new method is causing practically all contractors to operate at a loss, employers say.

The West Texas delegates to Tulsa are hopeful that an enforceable code will be worked out which will insure them a "reasonable profit."

O'Doul's Doings In The Clutches Earn Him Praise

NEW YORK, (UP)—Frank Joseph "Lefty" O'Doul hasn't much chance of winning this year, the "most valuable player" award for which he was twice runner-up in his more active days, but as far as the pace-setting Giants are concerned he's still one of the handiest fellows a team can have hanging around.

The colorful, popular "man in the green suit" has been gradually edging into a place as a regular outfielder on the strength of his timely hitting, and Polo Grounds fans are convinced he "belongs in there." O'Doul, now 37 years old, got his chance at regular duty when Left Fielder Jo-Jo Moore was temporarily disabled and forthwith began getting his bingles so consistently that upon Moore's return the latter took over center field, where George Watkins had been patrolling, and Lefty remained in the left pasture.

Lefty has plenty of claims to fame. A pitcher for the first seven years of his varied 17-year baseball career, he had the distinction of leading the Pacific Coast league in both pitching (with San Francisco in 1921) and batting (Salt Lake City in 1921).

He has led National league batters twice, in 1929 with the Phillies and in 1932 with Brooklyn, and in those same years was runner-up to Rogers Hornsby and Chuck Klein for the valuable player honors.

In 1925, with Salt Lake City, he got 31 successive base hits, then stretched the string out to 19 hits in '31 times at bat for a world record.

He did his bit heroically in the 1923 series with a pinch-hit single that drove in the tying and winning runs in the second game.

with trees and flowers began at an inopportune time. Drought may nullify much of the work. Water is being hauled in trucks to save the 30,000 trees and plants set out along Highway Two north of Austin. Continued dry weather is threatening the planting along other highways. The department's only consolation is that, if plants survive this drought, they will be hardy.

Ray McLean, University of Texas instructor, offers a problem for Jack Bischo's checker players who belittle bridge players. McLean is not only a sometime state checker champion, but he plays a mean game of bridge. He also coaches at the University of Texas and is good at all three.

The state capitol lacks outstanding checker players but it has other experts. Lloyd Davidson, state's attorney in the Court of Criminal Appeals, is peer of the officials on the golf links. A. B. Curtis, assistant secretary of state, can meet all comers at dominoes.

The Texas Relief administration has become the biggest "cattle man" in a state noted for cattle. Between its canning activities and drought relief, it is handling as many head of cattle as any 10 cowmen, Director Adam Johnson estimated.

Railroad records accumulated by the state commission during its more than 40 years have at last become so cumbersome that adequate space was lacking in the commission offices for the workers. Railroad rate offices have been moved to an upper floor of the capitol, where the employees will again have elbow room.

Cotton pads now are being used by the state highway department for curing concrete roads. The wetted pads are laid over the new concrete, allowing it to ripen gradually. The results are said to be better than those when dirt is thrown over the concrete. The pads require less rewetting. Their use also offers a new outlet for surplus cotton.

Queer phraseology of the act creating the office of state auditor and efficiency expert delayed issuance of the auditor's report on the state treasury. State Auditor George Simpson finished his report last Thursday. He found, however, that the law says audits are to be "concluded" as directed by the Governor. He therefore had to submit the work to the Governor before he could say it was finished.

A governor desiring to prevent issuance of an audit could not do so indefinitely. The act has a saving clause requiring reports to be filed not less than 30 days before the opening of each regular session of the state legislature. Infantry brigades of the Texas National Guard may fight over some of the historic ground of Texas and way for independence. Problem plans call for a simulated invasion in which the defending militiamen, stationed at Palacios, will "contact" the enemy around Goliad. The Infantry camp still promises to be "dry." Maj. Gen. John A. Hulen has not rescinded his order that there be no beer at the cañon. The cavalry brigade had beer at its recent encampment at Camp Walters, near Mineral Wells.

Under The Dome At Austin

By GORDON K. SHEPHERD

AUSTIN (UP)—How many employees of a private institution could survive an incident that occurred last week in a state department is doubtful.

The department head received a long distance telephone call collect from a traveling representative of the department. When he answered, accepting the charges, the employe at Fort Worth said his pay check had not been received and further, that he had not received a reply to an inquiry about beginning his vacation.

"Is that all you put in a long distance call for?" asked the department head, disgustedly. "Your check was mailed last night. Your vacation does not start for four days, so what's the rush?"

Cool Suggestions for WARM WEATHER MEALS

Menus Of The Day

Vary your vegetable! Don't "string-bean" or "potato" your family into a state of utter boredom. Don't let their professed fondness for a particular vegetable keep you from investigating the goodness of others. You have the whole market to choose from, a whole summer gardenful of selections, so let your fancy roam.

Some adventurous souls refrain from serving the vegetable of their own individual choice because some member of the family snubs it. Others have a preconceived antipathy to certain legumes. To overcome these objections, practice a little deceit and prepare the despised vegetable in a new way. The famished family will be fooled, but finicky no longer!

Spinach Again?
Spinach is a sticking point in some families. The traditional hard-cooked egg halves and segments of canned snapfruit give it new flavor. Newest perhaps, is spinach salad, disguised with a cheese and egg dressing. To make it (you can use left over spinach if you like) use a cup of cooked spinach. Marinate it well in a mixture of vinegar, mayonnaise, salt and pepper. Sift the yolks of four hard cooked eggs and grate Neufchatel cheese. Drain the spinach, mix with the cheese and sprinkle the egg yolk on top. Serve as salad.

A New Kind-of Vegetable
A new vegetable that is not a vegetable at all but a fruit is our old friend, the banana! This good food is delicious baked, fried, broiled, or glazed, and will accompany the meat or serve as an entree in fine style. To broil bananas, simply peel and place them under the broiler for the last few minutes while the meat is cooking. To fry them, peel the bananas, cut in halves crosswise or in quarters. Then fry in very deep mazola (heated to 350 F.) 4 to 6 minutes or until light brown. Or dip bananas in egg white, roll in sifted dry bread crumbs or in rolled corn flake crumbs and fry. If you prefer, simply saute them (plain or dipped in butter) in a pan, on both sides.

Fortify with Fruit
When the thermometer soars upward higher than any angle (even a blue one) and rushes appetites downward—turn to fruit. The less heat-producing food we eat the cooler we keep physically, and the less we worry over what to prepare, the cooler we keep mentally.

Of course, we have to eat some energy foods to provide the "pep" necessary for going places and doing things; and vitamins we must have always with us. Which brings us to the conclusion that if we rely on fruit we must choose the fruits which supply us with the necessary energy as well as vitamins.

Fruits are abundant now, with every succeeding week bringing newcomers to the market. To supplement these fleeting seasonal joys, we have the reliable standbys of citrus and canned fruits, the reliable banana, and that year 'round favorite, dates. These two are the "fortifier" fruits, which supply energy in a quick and digestible—and cool—form, and these are the vitamin-rich fruits which we rely on to turn the delicate fruit cup salad and fruit dessert into a real meal. So, enjoy each, new variety of fruit, but combine it with a fortifier, if you would keep well.

Hints on Buying Fruit
In buying seasonal fruits, be sure to keep in close touch with the market to make sure of getting each new special. But don't let a "bargain" tempt you, if it is not a worthwhile one. Most fruits are kept in the refrigerator but not directly in contact with the ice. Berries must be clean and dry; don't wash them and store damp, as it causes mold. Dates are an exception to the ice-box rule; be sure to buy the clean pasteurized variety, and leave them right in their own package on the pantry shelf. Bananas, too, are not stored in the refrigerator unless they are thickly with butter and dark karo (half cup karo to one tablespoon of butter is enough for six large slices). Bake until tender, broasting often. Add water if syrup gets too thick.

Cauliflower and Eggplant
Cauliflower is much more popular when it's scalloped. Cook the flowerettes in salted boiling water until tender and drain. Then oil a baking dish and put a layer of cauliflower in it, then a layer of sliced hard-cooked eggs. Then a layer of white sauce. Top with crumbs and bake in a hot oven until brown. Use cheese instead of egg-slices if you wish.

The royal purple eggplant is ambrosia to some, but to encourage those lukewarm on the subject try it this way:

Stuffed Eggplant
Cook egg plant fifteen minutes in boiling water to cover. Cut slice from the top and broil bananas. Remove the pulp. Chop pulp and add one cup of soft stale bread crumbs. In a pan heat some mazola and cook in it a tablespoon of finely chopped onion for two minutes. Add the eggplant pulp, season with salt and pepper and moisten with a little water if necessary. Fill eggplant with this mixture, and cover with browned crumbs. Bake twenty-five minutes in a hot oven, 350 F. 6 portions.

A Versatile Vegetable Plate
A whole-meal-in-one is the vegetable plate, but it has to be different to tempt the finicky. Here's a combination that is new and delightful: Poach an egg and serve it on toast. With it serve buttered bean and string beans. As a crowning touch, serve one broiled banana, to "top it off" and make it new. To broil bananas, peel, brush with butter and broil on rack or in pan until tender and brown.

fully ripe, but are allowed to ripen at room temperature. It is a good plan to buy bananas by "the hand" or cluster and have some ripening in the fruit basket. Lemons and oranges should be left in their paper wrappers until used. Of course, for fruit juices you will find the canned grapefruit and orange juice a real boon.

Power company attorneys and lobbyists openly fought the Colorado river authority bill last year, to make the river's power, flood control and irrigation development a governmental, non-private profit undertaking. They whispered insinuations into ears of lawmakers until some members who would never fight the battles of utility companies were confused.

Now the issue is stated so that no lawmaker can be misled. Cong. J. P. Buchanan, who secured a $4,500,000 PWA loan for the completion of the old Hamilton dam—since renamed by citizens of the Colorado Valley area for Buchanan—old 304 Texans that Pres. Roosevelt wants and has caused to be written into the loan contract, provision for Texas to create a governmental agency to have charge of the Colorado river development program, including this dam and other dams the government will assist, if it is to be a Texas TVA type of undertaking.

Cong. Buchanan asked that the legislature create such a governmental agency that will keep the Colorado river out of power company hands henceforth and whose control of the river will further federal government cooperation to building not merely one but all the dams that can serve a public good in the Colorado.

Austin and other cities have had links built or put under contract recently of state highways within their limits that have been badly-needed but one out of the reach of city financing.

A four-block section of Highway 20 — Fredericksburg-Austin-Houston highway in Austin, will be paved by the state at a cost of $25,000. Every motorist has had the experience of leaving fine pavement in the country to strike rough, dusty streets in towns and cities. The federal-state program of paving these worst gaps in the cities has served the needs of the general highway motorist as well as of people in the cities. It has eliminated some of the worst hazards of travel.

Education that in future may be nearer the core of the American system than the highly-conventionalized college, is now being carried forward by Educational Director Leon W. Rogers in the civilian conservation corps camps of the Eighth Corps area.

Ten thousands enrollees are going to school in the camps of the seven or eight states under Mr. Rogers' jurisdiction. Work, all the way from the first grade to the fourth-year senior college courses, is being given.

The cost per unit of instruction from bottom to top, is but a fraction of that in the mass-production of education factories.

The application is far more direct, in that it takes a group of people in need of general and specialized education, and reaches those not privileged to enjoy the social life and the campus atmosphere of the typical college.

It contains also the needs of remedy from another breakdown of the present educational system.

Director Rogers, hunting 200 directors of camp education work, found college graduates galore, scores with either their Ph. D. degree or in the final stages of securing the doctorate, wholly out of work and no chance to get into the field of teaching for one. They had secured professional—and costly—training at public expense. Most of his camp directors are men of exceptionally high professional training. Many of them had been without work from the time they had received their degrees.

Instead of the public paying from tax sources, for the professional training of those who are to engage in certain lines of work or the craftsmanship training to enable others to follow such occupations as are within the school's approved list, education as carried to the CCC camps is specifically designed for the general improvement of all those who take it, and is equally attentive to the needs of a man who plans to work in other crafts, trades or professions than those the present college system his underwritten for free training.

Two of the least spectacular of all state political races involve offices of extreme importance. These are the official places to which Compt. George H. Sheppard and Land Commr. J. H. Walker are asking re-election.

The offices are administrative, calling for specialized training and skill. In governmental organizations better set up than Texas' they usually are not in politics at all, in the sense of depending upon a statewide election by voters only a fraction of whom can possibly know the candidates or the qualifications required by the offices.

Both the present incumbents came into office by appointment, having been chosen, in case of Mr. Sheppard by his outstanding record in fiscal matters as president of the State Tax Assessors association and of Mr. Walker by his long service in the land office.

If these administrative offices are to be filled by election, it would seem good policy to make the terms long, so there could be fewer chances of political turn-over and the training of men in the offices conserved and utilized by the state.

Incidentally, salary of each of the offices is limited by the constitution to $2500 a year. Any sort of a state political campaign costs the salary of the term.

Aides In Welcome For Trippers Are Extended Thanks

Thanks to all who had a part in any way in welcoming the Know Mississippi Train here Wednesday evening were expressed Thursday by Manager C. T. Watson of the chamber of commerce.

He expressed special thanks to Johnny Lochaby and his orchestra, the Women's Trio composed of Misses Travis Reed, R. E. Blount, Miss Ruby Bell and accompanied by Mrs. Hicks, and to the women who made and served punch for the occasion.

Dennis Murphee, lieutenant governor of Mississippi, paid a tribute to Big Spring in saying this city had furnished the most auspicious welcome the trippers had received. The city auditorium, he said, was the best they had seen in ten years of annual touring.

Miss Pat Davis left Thursday morning for El Paso to visit with friends and relatives after a short sojourn here.

Cosdenites Shut-Out Robinson Team 9-0

Spike Hurls No-Hit Game

Henninger To Take Team To Midland For Game Tonight

The Robinson soft ball team took the most severe licking of the season Thursday night when Spike Henninger led his Cosden team in a rough-shod fracas over the Groceriesmen, winning 9 to 0.

Henninger hurled a no-hit game. Only four Robinsonites managed to get on base, and those were on errors. Three players reached first and one second, all because of the Refinery infield dropping pop-ups. Smith, Weaver, Moxley and Henninger erred.

The Cosdenites scored two runs in the first inning, six in the second and one in the third. They secured seven clean hits. Pepper Martin pounded out one for the Refiners that went clear over the ears in left field and was good for three bases.

Walks in Run In the second inning, with one on base, the Grocery pitcher issued three passes in a row, walking one run in. Then Martin went to bat and drove out his long triple.

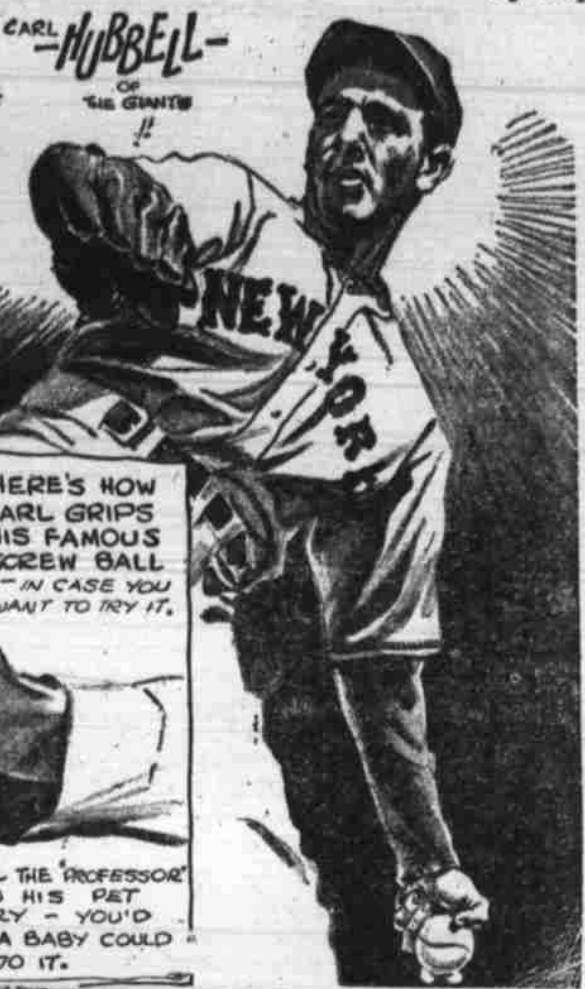

The Cosdenites played a jam-up game in every respect.

Henninger takes his team to Midland tonight for a game with the highly touted Hokus Pokus ten.

Scores Win In Ninth Frame

Count Knotted 4-4 At End Of Seventh—No Runs In Eighth

FORSAN (Spl.) — Schermerhorn took the Shell soft ball team nine innings here Thursday afternoon before the Shell boys broke the tie to win 6 to 5.

The count was 4-4 at the end of regular playing time, and neither team scratched in the eighth.

Schermerhorn ran in one in the first part of the ninth, but the Shell team rallied in the same inning to push two across and win the game.

Batteries: Schermerhorn—Alexander and Bradham; Snell—Pryor and Adams.

MOODY RALLIES IN 11TH TO DEFEAT HUMBLE 3-2

FORSAN—Moody made a strong seventh inning rally Thursday afternoon to edge out the Humble team, 3 to 2.

Humble led until the latter part of the game when Moody put one across in the sixth to trail only one run behind the Humble aggregation.

The game was tied in the seventh when Soudy scored on a hit by Graves, who stole second and sprinted home on a bingle by Ward.

Batteries: Humble—Wilson and Hobbs; Moody—Payne and Wilson.

White Sox Consolation Foes Have To Work Long

CHICAGO, (AP)—White Sox fans are wondering if their team didn't set a record for overtime ball games when they went extra innings four times in five days, losing each time.

After dropping an 11-inning game to the Yankees, 5 to 7, the Pale Hose lost the next day to Detroit by the same count in 10 innings, and on the day after that lost to Cleveland, 5 to 2, in 11 frames.

After winning a game on a ninth-inning homer by Catcher Madjeski—a game which also would have gone over-time but for that clutch—the Sox lapped into their overtime habit again the next day, losing a 4-3 decision to the Indians in 11 innings.

BUCS 7, TULSA 5

TULSA—The Galveston Buccaneers fought off rallies in three of the last four innings and won the third and deciding encounter of the three game series, 7 to 5, playing without their manager, Billy Webb, who was entangled with Tulsa police.

Later Webb was released on his own recognizance after B. A. Bridgewater, sports editor of the Tulsa World, promised officers he would appear in court tomorrow. Webb remained in town, but the team went on to Fort Worth, where it plays Friday.

Gibbs had no visible marks on him when asked about the fight after the game and said he was "more scared than hurt."

STEEERS 9, BUFFS 2

DALLAS—Led by Stanley Schino, recently purchased from Chattanooga, the Dallas Steers defeated Houston Thursday night, 9 to 2. Schino, who played first base last night but was shifted to regular outfield duty, got two home runs and three singles in five times at bat. He knotted in five runs.

OKLAHOMA CITY—Without the aid of a base hit, the San Antonio Missions pushed a runner around the paths in the first half of the fourteenth inning and eked out a 5 to 4 decision over the Oklahoma City Indians Thursday night in the longest game of the season here.

Herald Type Lice Nab Tilt

Drub Flew's Team 7 To 0 In Practice Game Thursday

The Herald Type Lice shut-out Flew's soft ball team 7 to 0 in a practice game at 17th and Runnels Thursday afternoon.

The refiners managed only three hits. Waincott got one in the third and one in the sixth and Martin slapped out a clean hit in the last inning.

Flew's team threatened in the third and filled the sacks in the last inning, but jam-up field work kept runners from crossing home plate.

The Newsies scored in only two innings. They put across two runs in the second inning and five in the big fourth frame. Savage, Wilson, Burleson and Glenn crossed the plate in the fifth and Beasley scored Arnold with a hard smack into left field but was out when he loafed trying to stretch the hit into a three bagger.

NEGLECT OF COMMON CONSTIPATION IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Prevent This Condition with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The first question your doctor asks is whether you are constipated or not. He knows that this condition may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. It is often the starting point of serious illness.

You can prevent and relieve common constipation so easily. Just eat a delicious cereal once a day. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this "cereal way" safer and far more pleasant than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If seriously ill, see your doctor—ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

CAN PEACHES NOW! WITH Sparkling IMPERIAL Pure Cane SUGAR. RECIPE FOR SWEET PICKLED PEACHES—3-DAY METHOD. Select firm free-stone peaches, more under-ripe than over-ripe. Peel and drop into a syrup which is made by boiling together the sugar and water, and boil for 15 minutes. Remove from fire and allow to cool for 2 or 3 hours. Drain off the syrup, add vinegar and spices and boil for 15 minutes, then add the peaches and cook together 30 minutes. Let stand overnight. Next morning drain off the syrup, boil 20 minutes, add the peaches and continue cooking for 15 minutes longer. Cool again and let stand over night, then boil all together until peaches are clear and tender. Pack into sterilized jars, garnish with strips of stick cinnamon and whole cloves, and cover with strained syrup. Can be cooked all at one time—but flavor is better developed by three-day method.

Whirligig (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 11) Ref Administration. Farm colonies will be established in nearby Maryland and Virginia, manned by district unemployed. They are to raise food for the 80,000 unemployed of the district. Non-profit factories are to be set up in which others now unemployed will make bedding, clothing, furniture, etc. Chain stores will be installed. Workers on these farms and factories will be paid in scrip which they can exchange at the relief stores for grub or what have you. The unemployed will get scrip until they can be absorbed in self-sustaining rehabilitation work. So it is planned that the unemployed shall work for themselves and earn scrip for their own living. Eventually it is hoped that only the sick and disabled will be on the free scrip list. If the scheme works in the district it is planned to extend it over the country.

Notes— In President Green's absence no action has been taken to name a successor to the late Hugh Prager, A. F. of L. representative in New York. It's a hard place to fill. Several states are installing meat canneries to be managed by unemployed and financed by the Federal Relief Administration, meat to be distributed by relief agencies. Canned fruit, vegetables and fish will come next. U. S. chamber of commerce takes a hand at figuring amount of spending money granted to FDR and makes it $11,000,000,000. Indefinite amounts available for buying preferred stock of banks and for federal housing make it more. FDR has had to intervene several times to prevent an open scrap between Attorney General Cummings and Public Works Director Ickes.

NEW YORK BY JAMES McMULLIN

Pit— New York conservatives privately compare the San Francisco general strike to a dose of castor oil—canister in the end, but good medicine in the end.

Keynote— Creating new playgrounds has become one of New York City's chief industries. Mayor LaGuardia dedicated one of the newest one this morning. The city used to be too busy building buildings to bother about such trifles but not any more.

The informed interpret this as a sign of waning life for the metropolis—the beginning of a reversion which will leave New York just another large city instead of the nation's off-shoot capital. Demolition has replaced construction as the city's keynote.

Diligence— Stock Exchange authorities are keeping a weather eye on stock deals originating abroad. An Exchange governor who is close to Richard Whitney is now in Europe for the purpose. Insiders understand he's supposed to notify New York promptly at the faintest sign of funny business. It isn't clear just what the Exchange would do then but the inference is it would find some way to head off manipulation.

Wall Street is amused by this sudden diligence. For years the Exchange maintained that market abuses were all due to non-member operators over whom it had no possible control. Now it will have an earnest stab at something it said it couldn't do. Critics comment it's odd what a difference government regulation makes.

Peat— As predicted here recently the move to nominate a liberal Republican for Governor of New York is getting into stride. The current excitement about Samuel Seabury's candidacy is part of the plot. Seabury has as much chance to get the Republican nomination as Jim Farley but he's a wonderful stork in the Republican's eye.

Republican conservatives know they're on the spot but there isn't much they can do about it. Chairman Macy is strong enough to block any hand-picked choice of theirs. If the Seabury boom stirs popular enthusiasm they'll have to grin and bear a liberal—or face an awful licking in November.

Macy is a pet to the conservatives but they admit he knows his political spinach.

Blow— Another group has found RFC isn't the plum tree they thought. Operators of airports and flying services whooped last winter at reports eight million dollars had been set aside for them to borrow. So far seven applicants have reached for the plums—and they're still reaching. It's a sad blow to find that collateral which isn't good enough for RFC either.

Sidelights— Italy's Conte de Savola—only ocean liner stabilized against rolling by gyroscope—broke all records for passengers carried in its first 14 months of service. The New York utility investigation will hit 200 accountants, 50 of them will be for one company.

Reform— The Catholic boycott of unsavory movies is hitting the producers in the pocketbook. Insiders learn that nationwide movie attendance dropped by 12% in June. In France and Italy the decline was something like 30%. No wonder the boys have decided to behave.

Comedy— The howl between New York City and its bankers about the terms of the city's new securities will be settled as soon as a satisfactory way of saving both sides' faces can be devised. If either banks or city should give in to the other's ideas directly it would amount to an admission of being wrong in the first place—which would never do.

The city's gesture of getting the money from the RFC wasn't even a good bluff. All concerned knew that it couldn't be done legally. Probably the answer will be a decision by the city that it only needs 35 or 40 million dollars now instead of the 72 million originally offered. The smaller amount would give the bankers an excuse to make a better bid without seeming to retreat. That would give everyone a graceful out from what the informed describe as a comedy of errors.

A New York movie official wails that loss of attendance isn't the worst financial wallop. The cost to his company of purifying several pictures already completed runs to as much as 40% of the original outlay. Reform comes high.

Lining— The campaign to boost silver has been peaches and cream for Anaconda Copper. This concern's properties were originally silver mines—the copper was thrown away as junk. Then when the widening use of electricity created a demand for copper the situation was reversed and the silver was regarded as almost a nuisance. In recent years Anaconda has been noted as one of the highest cost producers in the business—to its sorrow.

Now that silver has returned to its own the high silver content in the company's ore is a blessing. By sharing the overhead it cuts copper costs and enables Anaconda to compete on even terms with South African copper in London.

The Anaconda Copper people know what a silver lining means.

Absentee voting increased steadily Friday toward a new record with 171 votes cast at 11 a. m.

Meanwhile work progressed rapidly on the construction of a mess hall in preparation for the arrival of the company here Wednesday or Thursday.

Two hundred and thirty men will be stationed at the camp which is to be located on a rise just off the road leading to the summit of the mountain. Initial plans call for a construction program involving a $15,000 expenditure.

Hot Summer Needs Cool Laxative

In this hot weather, take this cool laxative that actually refreshes and never upsets. It's Fena-min, the delicious mint chewing gum laxative. All you taste is its delightful mint flavor, and all you swallow is the soothing laxative ingredient that doctors regularly prescribe. And because you chew Fena-min, the flow of beneficial saliva juices is stimulated, and the laxative is distributed uniformly throughout the intestines to give natural, gentle but thorough action. Delay is dangerous, so today get back on schedule and stay there, with non-habit forming Fena-min.

BABES IN THE WOODS

WE NEVER grow so old that we do not recall our childhood concern as we thought of what might have happened to the two story-book children who wandered aimlessly into the forest and became lost.

We never grow so wise that we can walk blindly into the marts of trade and straightway find the shoes, car, ham, cleaner, rug, antiseptic or what-not that best fits our individual need, fancy or pocketbook.

Without a dependable buying guide we are all Babes in the Woods lost when it comes to judging qualities, values or styles. "Know the reputation of the store," is one rule. "Know the reputation of the product and its manufacturer," is another. The two together make wise selection doubly certain.

You can form a very reliable estimate of the stores which advertise consistently. So also of manufacturers.

Only sound merchandise, attractively priced, can continue to repay the retailer or the manufacturer for his advertising outlay. If he can risk the money it costs him to tell you about his goods, you can be reasonably sure that your path through the woods will lead to the best values for your buying dollars.

TEXAS CANNING PLANT PLANS STUDIED BY OTHER STATES

COLLEGE STATION—Sixteen states have sent delegations to Texas to study the meat canning carried on by the Texas Extension Service and the Texas Relief Commission. Cooperation between these two agencies for emergency meat canning was perfected last winter in a program which netted the relief forces 3,625,432 cans of beef for the hungry, furnished employment for 9,439 workers taken off relief rolls, and gave a market to 21,320 cows off Texas farms.

The plans and the product worked out in Texas were so satisfactory that the Federal Emergency Relief Administration called Miss Mildred Horton, state home demonstration agent, to Washington to adapt the Texas plan to be nationally used in the drought relief work. Re-

Forecast Heavy Vote
In Harris County

HOUSTON, (UP)—Southeast Texas, which contains the sizeable cities of Houston, Galveston, Beaumont, and Port Arthur, is a "no man's land" in the gubernatorial and United States senate campaigns. All of the candidates are making a determined effort to attract a large following to reinforce the strength they expect to show in their home districts.

No candidate can expect to lead in this sector by virtue of his residence, since none lives south of Marlin. As a result, there is a scramble for votes in the closing weeks of the fight, with each aspirant laying claim to a considerable following.

The counties of Harris, Jefferson and Galveston alone probably will cast 80,000 votes or more.

Claims Heavy Vote
Attorney General James V. Alford received approximately 30,000 votes in Harris county in his race in 1932, and he expresses the opinion that a majority of those who supported him for attorney general will be for him for governor.

By somewhat similar reasoning, C. C. McDonald, the Ferguson-endorsed candidate, can lay claim to almost as many votes. In the first primary two years ago Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson was given more than 22,000 votes and McDonald voices the belief that the greater part of those will turn to him.

Followers of Tom F. Hunter point out that he received 870 votes in Harris county two years ago, notwithstanding that a Houston resident, R. S. Sterling, was in the governor's race. They assert that his vote here this year should be large.

The last time Edgar E. V. came before the voters of this county in a contested race he was accorded a handsome majority. That was in the run-off primary for lieutenant governor four years ago, when Witt led Sterling P. Strong in Harris county almost 2 to 1.

Counts on "Wet" Vote
Well informed observers of political trends say that Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo will get considerably more support in Harris county July 28 than he received four years ago, when he ran third over the state in the governor's race. In 1930 he was given only 246 votes in this county. His backers insist he will be among the leaders here this year.

Turtle Carved in 1855
KINGSTON, Mass. (UP)—A turtle, on whose shell was the inscription "S. H. 1855," was found by workmen clearing a piece of land at Silver Lake, near the old Forge pond. The initials are believed to be those of Samuel Holmes, who formerly owned the education in Omaha, Neb. He started practicing law in 1917. He is a member of the city, state and American Bar associations, and his record includes five years as Judge of the Omaha Municipal Court and two years in the Nebraska Legislature. For the past several years he has been in charge of the legal affairs of the Standard Oil company of Nebraska.

The Grand Rapids convention was the most successful gathering of the association on record. It climaxed a year during which the financial position of the association showed great improvement. Large net increases were registered in both the number of clubs and the number of members. The membership figure of the association now stands at 80,000 and the number of clubs at 2,680. The highlights of the sessions were clearly the reports of President Biddow and Secretary General Jones in which they paid tribute to the spirit of harmony and cooperation within the association which enabled it to hang up the finest record of progress, both from a service and a material point of view, in the history of the association. In relinquishing the presidency to Vincent Hascall, Mr. Biddow expressed the high personal regard in which he held Mr. Hascall, and pledged him wholehearted support during the 1934-35 year.

Consumers Share
Processing Tax
Proportionately

That processing taxes on farm products included in the Agricultural Adjustment program are collected at the point of processing does not mean that the tax falls disproportionately on states where manufacturing plants are concentrated. Tax collections are heaviest in the large processing centers but the tax is spread out as a part of the price of the product paid by consumers regardless of the location of the plant where the tax is collected.

About 19 per cent of the total wheat processing tax has been collected in Minnesota but Minnesota consumers pay no more than their share of the processing tax. Minneapolis is an important milling center and a large share of the tax, eventually shared by bread buyers throughout the country, is collected at that point.

Similarly, Chicago is a processing center for hogs. Up to June 1 of this year, nearly 22 million dollars in processing taxes were collected in Illinois out of a total of 47 million dollars in hog taxes collected. North Carolina is a processing center for textiles and tobacco, so more than 19 million of the total processing tax of 123 million dollars on cotton and nearly four million—a total of 14 million dollars collected in tobacco processing taxes were collected in that state.

Processing taxes, shared proportionately by consumers over the entire country, add but a small fraction to the retail price, but bring a large percentage increase to the farmer. For instance the increase in the price of a loaf of bread that is attributable to the processing tax is only half a cent but the price for wheat including rental payments that is received by wheat farmers who signed contracts has tripled. The cotton tax raises the price of a shirt only a nickel but, as a result of the tax, the price received by the cooperating cotton farmer has more than doubled.

turning from Washington last week Miss Horton stated that the chief points in the national plan were that the AAA buys the cows in the drought stricken area; they are assigned the surplus commodity corporation which has them slaughtered, chilled, boned, and cut up in plants suitable for that purpose; the meat is delivered to the emergency canning plants which have been equipped by the relief administration, where they are canned under the technical supervision of the extension service using labor employed by the local relief administration from relief rolls for all except the administrative and supervisory positions; the canned meat becomes the property of the state relief commission for use in relief work.

Supplementing the plans 15 states have sent delegations to the Amarillo emergency meat canning plant for observation and training. The delegations were composed of relief officials and extension service agents. They viewed the plans on the ground, checked them with the plant itself and then put on the regulation white caps and smocks and went regularly to work in the plant, taking actual part in every phase of the canning process. States sending delegations were Florida, North Carolina, West Virginia, Georgia, Tennessee, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, Mississippi, Alabama and South Carolina.
