

EASTLAND TELEGRAM

Published every afternoon (except Saturday and Sunday) and every Sunday morning

Member Advertising Bureau — Texas Daily Press League Member of United Press Association

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC:

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publisher

Obituaries, cards of thanks, notices of lodge meetings, etc., are charged for at regular advertising rates, which will be furnished upon application

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Eastland, Texas, under Act of March, 1879

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

Single copies $.05 One year $5.00 One week $.10 Six months $2.50

ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS PAYABLE IN ADVANCE

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

OMNIPOTENT CARE: The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.—Psalm 121: 8.

MAURY HUGHES LAUNCHES HIS CANDIDACY AND HIS PLATFORM

Maury Hughes of Dallas has thrown his hat in the ring. He is a candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. He has enunciated a platform. He has made the distinct declaration "this is no time for a 'yes' man in the governor's chair." He has made the bold as well as interesting announcement "the bitter political feuds that have existed between those who have heretofore held this high office are of no concern to me."

Maury Hughes has had a colorful career. He is a native Texan. He is a product of its schools and higher educational institutions. He is chairman of the state committee. He was a member of the platform committee of the Chicago convention—the convention that nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt. He is a well known member of the Dallas bar. He held the office of prosecuting attorney for Dallas county for one term. He was defeated by Shelby M. Cox, later a powerful leader in the higher councils of the Ku Klux Klan. Hughes is a regular. He is said to have built up a powerful organization of regulars in the city and the county of Dallas. He is going to make a speaking campaign. His "pay-as-you-go" plank was a plank in the platform that assisted in the making of Charles A. Culberson governor of Texas and later United States senator.

A TEXAS BUILDER, WILLIAM OTIS CONNOR, JOINS THE MAJORITY

William Otis Connor, 84, is dead at his home in Dallas. He was a remarkable man. His passing should call for more than local mention. There are reasons why. He was born in Tennessee. He was brought to Texas in his infancy. He was one of the pioneer builders of Dallas. For years and years he was the credit man of the house of Sanger, when the house of Sanger was the most powerful mercantile institution either west or south of the Ohio river, with the sole exception of Marshall Fields at Chicago. He must have been a wizard on credits. For years and years his salary was $25,000 a year—this in days when $25,000 was the highest figure under the skies of the Southwest for a salaried man. He was identified with every civic movement. He was identified with every building movement.

UNCLE SAM THE POSSESSOR OF BILLIONS OF GOLD

Place it in the record that on Feb. 6 total gold resources of the United States reached another high record at $7,029,569,227.70, based on the revalued price of the American dollar. Place it in the record that France is on the verge of another blow-up; that the government may be compelled to desert the gold standard or choose between a restoration of the monarchy or the coming of a dictatorship. Rally, the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund established by the New Deal President appears to have upset the French and their leaders who were responsible for the repudiation of the American war loan. Uncle Sam has bowed his neck. He is for fair play the world over but he appears to be determined that the protection of Americans and America should be the main question or issue at all times.

All the natural advantages imaginable cannot make a city great unless that city has men big enough to use them. If your city has such men, no lack of natural advantages can long retard its growth, for they themselves will supply whatever is required.

One Place Where There's Room for Improvement

Married Flirts

by MABEL McELLIOTT

"Something wrong?" She lifted her eyebrows delicately. "Gypsy's father," he explained. "Auto accident. He's in a bad way."

"Oh, too bad!" She was reddening her lips now. The tone was perfunctory. "I'm all cut up about it," Tom stated with finality. "Very fond of Mr. Morell. He's one grand guy. And of course Gypsy's frightfully upset."

"Mmm . . . I can imagine." She stood irresolute in the doorway and he made no move to detain her. "Well, I'll be seeing you."

"I didn't know you were back," Tom said. "Cigarette?" She accepted one and lit it gracefully. Everything this girl did was studied.

"You should have had that account, Tommy!" Her voice took on warmer notes and she laid a hand on his sleeve. "Oh, rot, it's your business! Glad to see a young girl get along." He grinned at her.

"I'll be in at three," and tripped after Tom. "Going up now?" He grinned at her. She was as tall as he. "Far as Seventy-second street."

THEY had to walk two blocks to the hooded subway entrance, dodging people as they went and dodging taxis at the intersections. The ride uptown, with the swaying cars hurtling themselves forward at breakneck speed through the tunnels, made conversation impossible. Just before the Times Square station was reached the girl touched his arm lightly and said, "Get out here with me, Tommy, and have a chocolate malted. It will only take a sec. I particularly want to ask you something."

"What I want to know," Vera demanded gaily after a white-cold youth had taken their order, "that I want to know is what have I done to make you mad at me? Why don't you like me any more?"

"Her eyes were dewy. 'Sure, Tommy!' 'Absolutely!' 'I'm so terribly glad,' she whispered softly. 'Because you know what it's always meant to me, having you about, don't you, Tommy?' 'The man's heart sank. What was he letting himself in for now? (To Be Continued)

Buried Treasure—

(Continued from page 1)

shells had been fired into it. But as far as I know," he continued, "all these diggers ever found on the ranch were red bugs and seed ticks."

After obtaining permission to dig for the gold, probably encouraged by the recent rise in the price for the metal and the anti-hardening campaign that has given a new impetus to search for the low metal, one of the men asked before leaving, "If we send for you to come out to the ranch to see what we have found will you come out?"

Candidates—

(Continued from page 1)

ing in Hill county, McDonald drove through a hard rain in a horse and buggy. He wore a seersucker suit. He arrived late and stepped on the platform with sleeves and pants legs shrunk to half their normal length.

While superintendent of the Kemp school in Kaufman county, McDonald on the first Monday in September when he was 22 years of age met his future wife. They became engaged on Thanksgiving and were married Dec. 21, 1891. McDonald is named Eugenia Folsom, after President Cleveland's wife, and McDonald's middle name is for Cleveland himself.

McDonald completed his teacher career as superintendent of Athens High School and then studied law in the office of Jed Adams and Jim Young in Dallas. He was appointed secretary of State by Governor Colquhoun and served in that capacity in 1911 and 1912. During that period he was admitted to the bar.

During 1913 and 1914 McDonald was law partner of Claude Hudspeeth and then served as assistant attorney general by appointment of Governor Ferguson during 1915 and 1916. Two years later he moved to Wichita Falls since that time, maintaining a branch office at Longview in recent years. He was state representative in 1933.

McDonald is the only grandfather in the trio. His only daughter, Marguerite, who married Ray Morgan, local cotton buyer, has one daughter, Gene Morgan, who is two years and six months of age.

Tom F. Hunter, fiery champion of the common people, was born on a Wise county farm in 1890, and is of English, Scotch and German ancestry. He helped support his mother from the age of six until he was 15, when his mother remarried and the little lad left home. He did farm labor, worked with a telephone construction gang and then settled down as a youthful puncher on the O Bar O ranch in Kent county. He was earning $25 a month and his washing, providing he had time to do it himself.

Songstress

Answer to Previous Puzzle

A crossword puzzle grid with some words filled in. The grid is 10 columns wide and 10 rows high. The words filled in include: HORIZONTAL: 2 Who was the grand opera singer in the picture? (LILY PONS); 13 Preparation (MAYONNAISE); 14 Thin (DIET); 15 On the lee (DOWN); 16 Within (IN); 17 Born (NATIVE); 19 To disqualify (DISQUALIFY); 21 Witticism (WIT); 22 Small aperture (PINPOINT); 24 The populace (THE PEOPLE); 25 Craft in magic (TRICK); 26 Flat fish (SOLE); 28 Beverage (COFFEE); 29 Excavated (DUG); 30 Negative (NO); 32 Flying mammal (BAT); 34 Intention (GOAL); 35 Upon (ON); 36 Label (TAG); 38 She was a dramatic (ACTRESS); 39 Constellation (STAR); 40 Eminent (FAMOUS); 42 Gem weight (CARAT); 44 Silk worm (MOTH); 45 Tree, genus (PINE); 46 Team (abbr.). (PAIR); 48 Half an em. (QUART); 49 Southeast (SOUTHWEST); 50 Therefore (CONSEQUENTLY); 51 Duet (DUO); 52 Tumor (SWELLING); 53 Otherwise (OTHERWISE); 54 Boundary (LIMIT); 57 Northeast (NORTHEAST); 59 Morinda dye (INDIGO); 1 She sang in (CONCERT); 3 Delity (DELICIOUS); 4 Guided (GUIDED); 5 Deposited (DEPOSIT); 6 Insertion (INSERTION); 7 Hardwood tree and measures of cloth (OAK); 8 Measures of cloth (YARDS); 9 Sheltered place (SHADE); 10 To exist (EXIST); 11 Her fame was (KNOWN); 12 (Empty); 13 (Empty); 14 (Empty); 15 (Empty); 16 (Empty); 17 (Empty); 18 (Empty); 19 (Empty); 20 (Empty); 21 (Empty); 22 (Empty); 23 (Empty); 24 (Empty); 25 (Empty); 26 (Empty); 27 (Empty); 28 (Empty); 29 (Empty); 30 (Empty); 31 (Empty); 32 (Empty); 33 (Empty); 34 (Empty); 35 (Empty); 36 (Empty); 37 (Empty); 38 (Empty); 39 (Empty); 40 (Empty); 41 (Empty); 42 (Empty); 43 (Empty); 44 (Empty); 45 (Empty); 46 (Empty); 47 (Empty); 48 (Empty); 49 (Empty); 50 (Empty); 51 (Empty); 52 (Empty); 53 (Empty); 54 (Empty); 55 (Empty); 56 (Empty); 57 (Empty); 58 (Empty); 59 (Empty); 60 (Empty).

A portrait of a man, likely related to the 'Candidates' section. The portrait is a black and white photograph of a man with dark hair, wearing a suit and tie. He is looking slightly to the right of the camera.

ing April was made assistant district attorney. Dec. 2, 1923, he was appointed district attorney by Governor Pat Neff to fill a vacancy. In the primary election in 1920, he carried counties with a vote total of 334,124, out of 596,277 votes, receiving a majority of 545,668 out of 1,197,106 votes, receiving a majority of 45.6 per cent. In his race for Railroad Commissioner in 1924, he carried counties with a vote total of 647,586 votes, his opponent receiving 304,986 votes, receiving a majority of 250 counties.

Lon A. Smith a Popular Candidate The growing popularity of Lon A. Smith as a public official has been marked by an ever increasing.

Tom F. Hunter, fiery champion of the common people, was born on a Wise county farm in 1890, and is of English, Scotch and German ancestry.

He helped support his mother from the age of six until he was 15, when his mother remarried and the little lad left home. He did farm labor, worked with a telephone construction gang and then settled down as a youthful puncher on the O Bar O ranch in Kent county. He was earning $25 a month and his washing, providing he had time to do it himself.

When 14 Hunter entered a Kent county school and finished eight grades in eight months. He had had no previous schooling. Later he took two bachelors degrees, in literature and philosophy and still later studied law while teaching school for three years. He was admitted to the Texas bar at the age of 22.

CRAZY WATER HOTEL HOME OF CRAZY WATER Mineral Wells, Texas

Various small advertisements and notices on the far right edge of the page, including 'Face Broken Resin', 'COME AND REST', and 'CRAZY WATER HOTEL'.

OUT OUR WAY

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.

Private Lives of Mosquitoes Studied

By United Press
HOUSTON, Tex.—The private life of Mr. and Mrs. Anopheles Quadraculatus isn't a secret any more.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS—By Blosser

LEGAL RECORDS

Marriage License
Ben Davis McGee and Jeanette Meroney, Ranger.
Instruments
Abstract of Judgment: Archbold Automobile Supply Co. vs. J. H. Martin, $13.89.

dividual costumes worn by the revelers.
The Rex and Comus balls tomorrow night conclude the carnival festivities which started with the Twelfth Night ball shortly after Christmas.

Newfangles (Mom 'n' Pop)

By Cowen

Lied to Join Army But Got Citizenship

By United Press
AKRON, O.—A white lie that German-born Emil William Kramer told about his birthplace in 1917 when he enlisted in the army, dogged him until he was almost afraid to ask Uncle Sam to make him a citizen.

Rabbit Breeders to Have Spring Show

By United Press
CISCO, Texas.—Bre'r Rabbit will have his inning over the big bad wolf here Feb. 28 when the Eastland County Rabbit Breeders association will hold its second annual spring show.

MOTORS REPLACE HORSES
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—More than 350 horses will be replaced by motor equipment in the 19th Field Artillery at Fort Benjamin Harrison, training camp here.

Revelry Started In New Orleans For Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS.—Fun-mad crowds, masked and wearing grotesque costumes of medieval ages, today will turn out by the thousand to welcome King Rex and his royal entourage when they arrive for the 108th celebration of the Mardi Gras.

Black Bean Plan Used By CWA

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Tex.—The famous method employed by the renowned Mexican General, Santa Anna, in drawing lots for execution—the use of black and white beans—has found a modern usage to determine whether Civil Works Administration employes here will or will not work.

Business Is Better

By United Press
ANTON, Texas.—If marriages in index, business has gone a way on the upgrade here.

S. R.—This village has a new hero, Alesha Markov, a "young pioneer," who recently was awarded 100 rubles by the Soviet government for preventing a train wreck.

DRUNKARDS LAW REVIVED
BOSTON—Under a recently revived Massachusetts statute, dispensers are prohibited from selling liquor to anyone who is drunk, or is known to have been drunk within six months, or is receiving welfare aid.

NEW SHIPPING LINE
GENOA.—A new shipping line between Genoa, Marseilles and Batum has been inaugurated by the Lloyd Triestino Steamship Company.

LEY OOP

By HAMLIN

Advertisement for Chesterfield cigarettes. It features a woman and a man in a social setting, with a pack of Chesterfield cigarettes in the foreground. The text says 'They Satisfy... people know it!' and 'Same thing with a good cigarette or a good wood-fire. All you need is a light. And all you want is a cigarette that keeps tasting right whether you smoke one or a dozen. That's what people like about Chesterfields. You can count on them. They're milder—and they taste better. In two words, they satisfy. That says it. Chesterfield the cigarette that's MILDER • the cigarette that TASTES BETTER'

