NEGRO SLAYER CAPTURED AFTER GUN BATTLE

That reminds me...

CWA WORKERS IN COUNTRY TO LOSE JOBS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Industrial cities will escape effects of the civil works demobilization program until the end of March, Federal Administrator Harry Hopkins said today.

He said 400,000 persons employed on CWA projects in rural areas would be discharged as of Feb. 23 in preparation to bring the CWA to a close by May 1.

Selection of CWA workers in rural areas to be discharged will be left to state CWA authorities and will be based on needs, Hopkins said.

Those who are in dire necessity, the administrator said, will not be discharged summarily in the first steps. Others who are discharged and are later found in need, it was indicated, will be transferred to relief rolls.

Employment gains ranging from 12 to 100 per cent over a year ago were reported today in a United Press survey of industrial centers throughout the United States.

The labor department also estimated that since March 1, 1933 employment in manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries has increased by 2,387,000 workers with more than $60,000,000 added to the weekly payroll.

Austria Heading Toward Fascist Statehood Today

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 16.—Blood-bathed and revolution-torn Austria headed again toward fascist statehood today under the absolute dictatorship of Chancellor Dollfuss and Prince Von Starhemberg.

The first of two epical political fights had been won with the crushing of socialists after four days of fighting. The second impeded, Austrian Nazis hoping to seize power, waited to strike.

Rep. O. F. Chastain Sponsors Natural Gas Resolution

By the terms of a resolution passed in the Texas house Tuesday, Texas congressmen will be asked to oppose a federal tax on natural gas.

Representative O. F. Chastain of Eastland, who sponsored the resolution, declared that congress has under consideration a bill to place a tax of five cents per thousand cubic feet on all natural gas.

He said that the tax was not a revenue measure, but would be enacted to enable coal to compete with natural gas in northern industrial centers.

"Texas consumers will have to pay this tax," Chastain said. "Why put a burden on our gas companies in order to help the industries of the north and east?"

"If there is going to be any revenue from natural gas produced in Texas, the state should get it, and not the federal government. They have taken away most of our rights." It was presumed he was speaking of federal government.

"Johnson (General Hugh Johnson) had an understanding with the coal companies that he would put this tax on natural gas to enable them to compete," Chastain wandered on at length, becoming more and more confused as questions poured in from all sides.

"Of course I am not standing up for the gas companies," he replied to a question. The house roared with laughter.

"I am opposed to this resolution," declared Representative Lotief of Cross Plains, "we don't try to dictate to congress. They were elected to know what to do." Mr. Chastain is running for congress. He voted against my gas tax bill last night in committee. I vote against his now. Lotief has repeatedly introduced bills to place higher taxes on natural gas.

AS AUSTRIAN TROOPS RUSHED INTO ACTION

Vienna's gay streets resounded with the grim rumbles of army trucks when, as shown in this radio-photo, heavily armed Heimwehr troops rushed to suppress the Socialist uprising. This picture, taken as civil war gripped the Austrian capital, was flown to London and then transmitted by radio to NEA Service.

RANGER MAN KILLED BY A TRAIN TODAY

Kenneth Callahan, 58, of Ranger, was instantly killed shortly after midnight at Strawn when he was struck by a west-bound Texas & Pacific passenger train. The decedent had been working at Strawn drilling gas wells for several months prior to the accident early Friday morning.

No particulars concerning the accident could be obtained other than that the accident victim was struck by the train and instantly killed. The remains were taken to a Strawn undertaking parlor and will be brought to Ranger late today. Funeral arrangements were not completed, pending arrival of relatives.

The decedent was born in Parkersburg, W. Va., in 1875, and had been a resident of Ranger for a number of years and had lived in Strawn for some time prior to coming to Ranger. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Kenneth Callahan, of Ranger, three sisters and two brothers who live in West Virginia and California, and three step-children, among whom are Mrs. J. A. Sloan of Ranger.

Life Sentence of Texas Woman Is Upheld Today

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 16.—The life sentence Jean Collins, former Texas school teacher, received on conviction of murder here in the chair killing of Bert Allen, was upheld in the criminal court of appeals.

Allen, a war veteran, was beaten to death in rooms the couple occupied here Feb. 13, 1933. Witnesses testified at the trial that they looked through a window and saw the woman leaning over Allen's body, beating him with a chair.

Mrs. Collins was from Marialne, Texas, and claimed she had taught school in Fisher and Nolan counties in Texas.

Two Children Killed By Train; Teacher Injured

FORT WORTH, Feb. 16.—Earl Adolph, Fort Worth dancing teacher, told police two men tied him up with wire and robbed him of $1,000 this morning shortly after he opened his studio for business. One of the bandits was 45 and the other about 25, Adolph said.

The elder man, he said, had called at his studio two days ago and, posing as an Eastland, Texas, oil man, pretended to make arrangements for a daughter to take dancing lessons.

As Adolph closed the door on entering today, the elder man drew a pistol and ordered the other to tie Adolph, then fled.

Scientist Tells of Horrors Future Wars Might Hold With New Discoveries Now Being Developed

Editor's Note: Scientific horrors of the next war are almost beyond comprehension, in the view of a leading scientist and one of the discoverers of radium, who pleads in the following article for direction of the new and imminent discoveries toward development of a modern Utopia.

Already an oscillating tube, comparable to the first radio tubes, has been invented to tap this source of energy. It must be merely a matter of time until the whole source is under disposal.

One of the cosmic rays, the Grentz ray, capable of destroying any disease germ in 30 seconds, is already a part of medical science. Radium might supply the actual power for the new world which we now envision. The element's tremendous energy—60,000 horsepower in every pound of the radon gas which is constantly being emitted from radium—would be released by breaking down the radium atom with the cosmic ray.

The radium atom could also be broken down with billion-volt charges of electric and the possibility of such electrical power is not remote. Science has already created and used five million volts. Science has also got far enough toward its dream to produce 33 horsepower without using a generator—enough to power an automobile.

A deposit of ramin ore has been discovered at Great Bear lake, under the Arctic circle, which might supply enough radium to meet every human need.

Four Escaped Prisoners Sought In North Texas

DECATUR, Texas, Feb. 16.—Fort Worth and North Texas officers engaged in a desperate search today for four prisoners who last night overpowered the Wise county sheriff and escaped from jail at Decatur.

Sheriff J. T. Faith is painfully beaten by one of the quartet who then released the other three. J. O. Russell, 34, serving a bank robbery sentence, overpowered the sheriff. Holding the other at bay with the sheriff's gun released Will Mershon, 26; Leonard Kimberly, 20, and Roy Bran, 35. Russell, Mershon and Bran had been in jail only a few hours.

Man Posing As Eastland Citizen Robs Instructor

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The senate air mail investigation committee prepared today to question former Postmaster General F. Brown for examination in connection with his resignation.

It had his assurance he would waive immunity and would say with the understanding that anything I say may be used against me in any court in the land."

Chairman Hugo Black, of the mail committee, has agreed to the former postoffice executive, 10 a. m., next Monday.

SPEEDY TRIAL FOR OIL CODE IS BLOCKED

TYLER, Feb. 16.—Plans of the federal government to obtain a speedy United States supreme court hearing involving the constitutionality of the federal oil code were blocked temporarily here today.

Contrary to expectations to government council, eight defendants charged with code violations, indicated through their attorney that they will not file a demurrer to the charges, to which they will plead not guilty.

The attorney declared that though Charles L. Francis, special U. S. Attorney General might desire that he file demurrers so the cases would go directly to the supreme court his clients do not desire to be "freed on a technicality but choose rather to face a jury in order to clear their names."

Another Myth of Texas History Now Exploded

HOUSTON, —Historians, note! Another historical "fairly tale" was exploded here by Mrs. E. H. Vasmer when she told a gaping Texas that Santa Anna, Mexican general, was not kept chained during the Texas revolution.

Santa Anna was "kept at his grandfather's home in Brazoria county after the triumphant Texans had slaughtered the Mexican general's men and captured him in the historic battle of San Jacinto. He was well guarded at all times, Mrs. Vasmer said, but never chained.

Santa Anna became fond of his grandfather, Dr. James E. Phelps, while a prisoner at the latter's home, Mrs. James recalled.

Sometime later a band of Mexicans invaded the Phelps plantation during the family's absence and took, among other things, the family Bible with prized genealogical information.

When Santa Anna heard of the pillaging he sent his men after the plunderers. A few days later the general's men appeared with the Bible and apologized for the action against the old friend of Santa Anna.

Officer Believes Marksmen Made And Not Born

HOUSTON, Tex. —Marksmen are made, not born, in the opinion of the man who trained 1400 snipers for the United States during the World War.

Capt. Gray I. Morris, now a business man here, was the only man, as far as he knows, detailed to develop snipers.

Two things are essential for marksmanship, Capt. Morris said. They are good eyes and a quiet nervous system. With those qualifications practice will make the marksman, he asserted.

The best sniper, Capt. Morris developed was a "trick shot artist" from the stage. The man was unusually accurate at distances of 800 yards or more, the captain recalled.

Capt. Morris, an expert marksman himself, keeps in practice shooting at public galleries and hunting. Once he killed five flying partridges with eight shots from a 25-20 rifle. Just before the last hunting season closed he killed a flying Brand with a single shot from a 25-20 rifle he carries in his automobile.

He became expert with firearms when a boy in Montzero county, hunting deer, birds and squirrel.

Injunction Denied On Air Contracts

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—In the first test of a legal battle against the government's sweeping cancellation of air mail contracts, federal Judge John Knox today denied an injunction suit filed by Transcontinental and Western against Postmaster General Farley.

Judge Knox dismissed the action and held the court had no jurisdiction in such a case and the company's only relief would be only through a United States court of Claims.

WAS WOUNDED BY GUNFIRE FROM POSSE

Deputy Sheriff Takes Him to Oklahoma Border After His Capture.

CLARKSVILLE, Feb. 16.—Frank Clark, negro double slayer, was captured two miles northwest of here shortly before noon today after a gun battle with officers in which he was wounded twice.

No officers were wounded. After being wounded, the negro threw his rifle away and surrendered, but it was reported the negro killed two bloodhounds belonging to the sheriff of Bowie county.

The negro was wounded by special officer J. N. Geer of Red River county.

The negro received a load of buckshot in the left leg and a second charge, deflected by his rifle, wounded him slightly in the forehead.

Deputy Geer started to Paris with the prisoner and then secretly returned to Clarksville. When he saw a mob of 300 or more at the jail he circled the city and started on toward the Red River ferry northeast of here where he surrendered the negro to Oklahoma authorities.

The crowd at Clarksville dispersed as soon as it was learned the negro was on his way to Idabel, Okla., where he was wanted for murder of a farm couple.

Buck Denies the Young Democrats Favoring Hughes

FORT WORTH, Feb. 16.—Raymond Buck, president of the Fort Worth club of Young Democrats, today denounced a rumor that the North Texas organization at its convention here tomorrow will endorse Maury Hughes of Dallas for governor.

Buck pointed out that the organization was not bound to support any candidate for state office and branded as false any intimation such action would be attempted. Buck is chairman of the arrangements committee.

The rumor arose after Hughes was announced as principal speaker for the convention. Hughes was invited to speak, Buck said, before he announced for governor.

PIGGLY WIGGLY promotes

FROM the land of bigger and better families . . . we call attention to those hearty, appetizing, satisfying foods that feed so many mouths and cost so little—Spaghetti, Macaroni and Cheese! Include them in your menus this week.

Canned Spaghetti saves a lot of time and work . . . and it's good.

Spaghetti Italiane: Simmer a large can of tomatoes to a thick sauce, cooking with it—1 minced onion—pepper—1 tbs. salt—1 tbs. sugar—1/4 cup of olive oil—touch of garlic and a bay leaf if you like 'em. Try your own variations, using tomato paste or puree of tomato to speed the preparation.

For a meat sauce, fry ground beef and add grease and all to the above. Serve with grated Parmesan cheese.

Macaroni: Bake it with cheese and milk. And remember—macaroni can be used in place of spaghetti in any dish . . . and both are excellent in soups.

Noodles: Try frying them along with pork chops! It's a fine combination. Almost as good as noodles and steved chicken!

Cheese: A grand mixer! Cook it with Spaghetti, Macaroni or Noodles . . . as a Welsh Rarebit for Sunday suppers . . . on rye bread for sandwiches. There are many kinds of cheese . . . and all are good! Our advice—try them all!

Sunday School Lesson

JESUS' POWER TO HELP

Text: Matt. 8:1-9:34
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 18

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

In this lesson Jesus appears in two distinctive phases of his personality and influence. We see him in the presence of the sick and needy, ministering comfort and healing with his comfort, bringing healing of body and soul; and we see him also in the alluring power of his personality, drawing men to him and into the inner circle of devotion and discipleship.

No man, however, no matter how fine his character or how beautiful his deeds, is free from the criticism of those whose religion moves in the realm of form and prejudice.

In proportion as the religion of men is loveless, they are bitter against those who dare to speak of religion in terms of reality and love. Jesus, in healing the man sick of the palsy, assured the unfortunate man of good cheer, because his sins were forgiven.

The idea that any man could forgive sins roused the conventionally religious to wrath. If Jesus had no power to forgive sins they might at least have let the matter pass without great ado, but that is not the way of the narrow and the bigoted.

To them a matter of that sort was much more important than the healing of a fellow mortal from a dread disease, and when Jesus manifested his power in the healing of the man it made no difference to them. Their hearts still were full of bigotry, and they hated and persecuted Jesus.

How different was the reaction of the multitude, many of whom, no doubt, made no great profession of religion! When they saw that the man was healed, they marvelled, and they glorified God because he had given much power to heal.

Following this incident, we have recorded the call of Matthew, who, we are told, was sitting at the receipt of customs. A teacher of religion, who could lure a man away from a government job to accept all the uncertainties and perils of allegiance to a prophet proclaiming what seemed to be a new sort of religious teaching, indeed must have been great.

The incident was all the more remarkable, inasmuch as the friends of Matthew apparently were not those who were recognized as particularly religious.

We do not know just where Jesus went when Matthew arose and followed him, but we have the description of his being entertained in a house where many who were not among the conventionally religious and who were described as publicans and sinners sat down. The chances are that some of these had witnessed the miracle and had heard the words of Jesus and were drawn either by curiosity or by some inner response to a greatness they perceived in Jesus himself.

Such a sight was too much for the proud people who had faith in their own righteousness and who looked down upon those who were not as good as themselves. They could not withhold their indignation, but asked the disciples why Jesus should eat in that way with publicans and sinners.

With what plain effective words Jesus answered them: "They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick."

The man whose goodness takes him away from his fellow men and leads him to distrust or despise others well may doubt the genuineness of his own goodness.

The greatest souls in history have been large and tolerant in their human contacts. They have felt their kinship with the sinful and with the poor and the needy, and even at the height of their religious experience, when they have viewed the high standard of Christ, they have cried with real sincerity: "God be merciful to me, a sinner."

DESDEMONA

A. C. Robert returned Thursday night from Frio, where he had gone with a truck load of household goods and tailor shop equipment for Obed Henslee who had been working there for some time but had not moved his furniture and shop until now. Mr. and Mrs. Henslee and daughter, Barbara, will be greatly missed from our town by their many friends.

Mrs. J. H. Rushing, Sr., and son, Weldon, were shopping in De Leon Saturday.

We are glad to report that Joe

Gibson, Sr., is improving after having been seriously hurt in a car wreck Thursday morning. He was with Mitch Bailey going to Eastland the dirt road when the heavy rain, wind and fog obscured the road and they had a head-on collision with a mail carrier from Eastland. Both cars were almost total wrecks but Mr. Gibson was the only one hurt seriously. His head went through the windshield and his neck was cut so that 18 stitches had to be taken in it besides other minor cuts. They were carried into Eastland in the cars of M. R. Nicholson and Jake Smith.

J. E. Heeter, who is drilling an old well near Graham came home and visited his wife and mother-in-law Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Ralph Ludwick and Mrs. W. H. Davis were hostesses Wednesday afternoon at a delightful party at the clubhouse of the "21" and Study club, with Mrs. Don Campbell, a recent bride, as the honoree. Mrs. Campbell was before her marriage, Miss Nora Robert, who has lived here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Robert, since childhood. After a nicely arranged and interesting program of music and readings and games, a miscellaneous shower of pretty useful gifts was presented the honoree in an attractive way. Delicious refreshments were served to the large crowd of friends who had gathered to honor this popular bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Alford Kover of Breckenridge are new comers in our town. Mr. Kover is with the J. E. Lucas Casing Pulling company.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wood and son spent the week-end with relatives at Caddo.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dawley and baby of Caddo spent Sunday here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Henslee.

The quarterly conference for the Desdemona-Olden charge of the Methodist church was held here Sunday. Rev. C. Q. Smith of Cisco who is presiding elder, preached at the morning service to a congregation that was much interested in his splendid sermon. About 5 from Olden were present and at noon the Desdemona people served a bountiful dinner to all. In the afternoon the conference was held and good reports were given of the Sunday schools, missionary societies, young people and children's organizations and general work of the churches not only in Olden and Desdemona but Victor, Salem and Owen's chapel where the pastor, Rev. Z. L. Howell, has been preaching and keeping up a good interest in church activities. Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Keep soap suds HOT and save your elbows

It's certainly no fun to rub and scrub through a spring house-cleaning campaign. But this business of prying dirt loose from tile and wood surfaces can be made easier simply by using plenty of hot water.

Actual tests show that hot water cleans faster than luke-warm or cold water. So to speed-up house-cleaning tasks see that soap suds are kept at all times.

The automatic GAS water heater offers the one dependable way of having hot water for every household need at the turn of the faucet and without attention. It heats 20 gallons of water for an operating cost of only one cent. Let us install one for small down payment with balance monthly. There's a discount for cash and a trade-in allowance on your old heater. Investigate!
