FERGUSON IS SELECTED AS COMMITTEEMAN

By United Press
HOUSTON, March 24.—James E. Ferguson, Texas political power for the past 20 years, appealed for "unity in our ranks" as he was given a seat on the national democratic committee here today by the state executive committee.
Loud cheers and prolonged handclapping followed his elevation to the national position to succeed Jed Adams.
Ferguson was the only one nominated and the chairman announced that he was elected by acclamation, but a check showed two votes. They were W. R. Hooks of Tassas and Summers Norman of Jacksonville.
Ed Hussion of Houston, secretary of the committee, was elected vice chairman of the committee. Miss Bertha Kunz of Houston was named secretary.
J. K. Brim of Sulphur Springs was elected chairman to succeed Maury Hughes of Dallas.
The Ferguson-controlled state committee named Brim its chairman and by a vote of 19 to 11 tabled a resolution ordering a repeal referendum at the state primary election in July.
From the opening discussion on the resolution to the final election of the national committeeman there was never a doubt as to Ferguson's supremacy. His machine clicked perfectly.

RUSSIA WANTS INTO LEAGUE ON NATIONS

By United Press
PARIS, France, March 24.—Authoritative sources asserted today Soviet Russia, fearful of a collapse of armament efforts, was eager to lead a movement of world powers for revival of the prestige of the League of Nations and was negotiating with the United States to that end.
It was asserted that American Ambassador William Bullitt, at Moscow, and the Russian ambassador at Washington were conducting negotiations in behalf of their governments.
The informant said Russia was hopeful of reviving the moral and political authority of the league, and, if terms could be arranged, to announce her own entry after her many years of absence, at the annual league assembly in September.
Russia's fears were based on withdrawal of her two great neighbors, Germany and Japan, from the league and the danger that armament race and war might follow collapse of disarmament.

Officers Seeking Hilton Bybee After His Daring Escape

By United Press
FORT WORTH, March 24.—North Texas and Panhandle officers today kept a lookout for Hilton Bybee, fugitive life term, who escaped Friday from the Houston county jail after overpowering a deputy sheriff.
Bybee abandoned the deputy's car, which he had taken in his escape, several miles northwest of here last night after robbing A. P. Ward of Dublin of $20 and his automobile.
Officers believed Bybee might still be hiding in North Texas or that he and the companion who escaped with him from the Crockett jail might have fled into Oklahoma.

AUTO STRIKE SETTLEMENT UP TO BOARD

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Automobile manufacturers announced today they had agreed on establishment of an impartial board to review cases of alleged discrimination against union members in the motor industry.
The statement indicated, however, that the manufacturers had reached no agreement on procedure for workers' elections, one of the key issues of the threatened strike.
It was believed that a compromise settlement to end the strike crisis was imminent.
President Roosevelt held himself in readiness for further conferences looking toward a definite agreement.
William Collins, American Federation of Labor automobile union organizer, said a settlement was "pretty likely."

France Demanding Protection From Other Countries

By United Press
LONDON, March 24.—A somewhat funereal note from France on disarmament left Great Britain willing to seek further for a solution of the problem.
As the note was published, the French war ministry announced that beginning April 6 it would accept 18 months enlistments from men who had fulfilled their compulsory military training of one year.
League of Nations headquarters announced 4,000,000 men were under arms in Europe and 32,000,000 could be mobilized ready for war.
The French note demanded, in brief, that if Germany were permitted to re-arm, Britain and other nations must guarantee French security. It was specified, "consultation" would not be enough—there must be certainty of prompt penalties against any nation, meaning Germany, which proved aggressive.

CURRENT YEAR MAY SURPASS YEAR OF 1931

Charts indicate 98 per cent of normal business by June, 1935.
By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 24.—America's business recovery is proceeding faster than President Roosevelt's fiscal advisors thought likely several months ago and activity for the current fiscal year may exceed the fair business year of 1931.
Treasury department charts estimate industrial activity for the fiscal year which ends June 30 at 81 per cent of the 1923-25 average. This was the average level for the calendar year 1931.
This estimate has been exceeded in the first eight months of the current fiscal year, even without the full effects of the usual rise in business activity. Activity in the eight months ending Feb. 28 has exceeded 82 per cent of the 1923-25 average.
Current activity has made further gains since February and the average rate for the fiscal year may be raised close to 85 per cent by June.
The treasury department fiscal experts have plotted the business curve two years in the future to aid invigorating prospective government tax revenue.
In the 12 months ending June 30, 1935, activity is estimated at 98 per cent or in excess of 1930.

STERLING P. STRONG AND HIS PIPELINE BILL

Cong. Sterling P. Strong of Dallas has introduced a bill to divorce oil pipelines from companies engaged in any other branch of the industry and to prohibit ownership of pipeline securities by any person owning securities in any other branch of the business.

Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson signed all three oil bills enacted by the special session lawmakers. Now it is said that these measures are to be enforced to the letter by the state railway commission if it requires 40,000 additional men to cover all the fields and enforce all provisions of the act.

The men who express doubt about the future of your home city are not usually those who are best able to gauge its future.

Garden and Yard Hints From Club Women of County

Head Lettuce Mrs. W. A. Justice, farm food supply demonstrator for the Flatwood home demonstration club gives the following information on growing lettuce in the county to produce good heads: Lettuce is a cool season vegetable. If warm weather prevails before the plants head, seed producing tissue is developed and later a seed stem appears. Such plants never head. If the weather is cool enough during the entire growing season to prevent seed producing tissue developing in the plant, then there is no reason why the plants should not produce heads. Fall planted lettuce is more apt to develop into good heads than spring lettuce, for the reason that I have just given. To make lettuce head, start the plants in a box or plant bed in later September or October, when cool days begin. When the second set of true leaves have developed transplant the plants to the garden rows and allow 8-10 inches for each plant in the row. Protect Strawberries from Dirt Mrs. J. E. Holding, farm food supply demonstrator of the North Star home demonstration club, gives the following information on protecting strawberries from getting gritty or lirty: Mulch the berry rows at blooming time three inches deep with oat, wheat straw or peanut hulls, or cotton gin "holly-burr" refuse may be used. After the berry crop is harvested, gradually work this material into the soil in cultivating. "Strawberries have to have much moisture in this section and should be sub-irrigated, using either hollow cement tile or iron pipe for this purpose." Cold Frame for Tomato Plants When it is yet too cold to plant tomato plants in the garden or field, and they are beginning to crowd and becoming spindly, the following method has been suggested by Mrs. Lillian Neal Eastland, farm food supply coordinator of the Ranger Co-Workers Club. "You can make a temporary cold frame by forking up the soil and boxing in a small area on the south side of one of the buildings in the yard. If some glass window sash is not available, you can dip light muslin into hot linsed oil and use it to cover the top of the frame. The muslin should be tacked on one side of the frame and attached to the other so that it can be easily rolled up each morning to ventilate the bed. Where there is a limited area to be planted, the plants may be transplanted in tin cans, one plant to each can. These can be moved in and out of the house each day. Cut the cans down the side, then fasten together with wire and, when ready to transplant into the garden, the wire is removed and lets the cans drop off and the roots of the plant are not disturbed."

Pretty Easter Party
For Little Daughters
 Mrs. Earl Bender entertained with an egg rolling and pretty Easter party, on Thursday afternoon for her attractive little daughters, Annette and Billye Sue Bender, the children gathering at four o'clock in the spacious home for an hour's play, and then enjoying the egg hunt, in the woods nearby, discovering a hundred and fifty treasures, colored in all tints of the rainbow.

Back to the home the merry group adjourned and had their real "party hour," about the colorful table, laid in shining damask, and centered with the green nests, heaped with candy eggs.

The room was darkened and lighted through rose colored shades.
