COST OF GOVERNMENT IN TEXAS

This is general elections year. There is a state primary coming in July. A governor and all state officers will be nominated. A legislature will be nominated—150 representatives and 16 senators. John T. Smith is a former lawmaker. He served two or three terms as a representative as the choice of the people of Travis county. He is the editor of the Texas Tax Journal. The current number of the Journal carries a biting and convincing article as to the cost of government in Texas. According to Editor Smith the state and its taxing subdivisions collected $190,924,487 for the fiscal year ending July 31. This huge sum is divided as follows:

- State.....$96,894,751
- County.....16,135,716
- Cities and towns.....37,744,905
- Other taxing subdivisions.....5,637,162
- Other taxing subdivisions.....5,637,162

Readers of the magazine are reminded this was the amount collected while the amount delinquent and including 1932 was $120,000,000. This former lawmaker and editor editorially remarked that if the delinquency for 1933 is added to the $120,000,000 the amount will greatly exceed $150,000,000.

A vast number of taxpayers pay. They do not permit their names to go non the delinquent list. And a large number who are able to pay dodge the issue. This is the sweeping condemnation of the latter by the Texas Tax Journal. "The records indicate that within the last five years the penalty placed on those who pay their taxes has increased approximately $10 out of every $100 paid in taxes to approximately $33.50 to every $100 now paid in taxes. This unprecedented increased burden is placed on those who do pay in order that government may carry on."

This tiddit of censure is passed on to lawmakers by the Journal: "The sad part of the whole matter is it does not seem to concern, except in a general way, a majority of the members of the legislature."

This is campaign year. There is a campaign of education—appealing to taxpayers to remove their names from the delinquent list and assist in the support of government and its cost. Timely advice is given to all concerned by the veteran lawmaker and publisher of the periodical devoted to taxes and difference between politics and statesmanship and would exercise the right of suffrage to the extent of electing, in particular, their legislators and commissioners' courts, instead of letting an automatic election machine do the electing the state and the political subdivisions could eventually emerge from this bondage and at least make our children partially free of it."

Really, it is time the people of Texas should do a lot of thinking while the primary campaign is on and vote intelligently in their choice of public servants on the day that the primary ballot is the thing. James E. Ferguson, the publisher and editor of the Ferguson Forum, appears to have caught the drift of things. The current number of his weekly passes this advice on to the reader: "The cost of government is entirely too much and it must come down or our state will come down. Some people think that the government is an apple tree and all they have to do is to pluck off the fruit and that it will always grow back. The result is that the state will look like a picked rooster if this plucking is not kept in proper limits."

Texas is in need of a new deal all along the line. Cost of government should come down. There is a way to go about it. Place lawmakers on the firing line who have the intelligence and the guts to trim to the bone, to cut out extravagance, to make all men and women in the public service do a full day's work for an honest day's pay. There is only one plan to follow. Use the ballot intelligently and place it in the box on primary election day.

Funeral For E. J. Craft to Be Held Tuesday 9:00 A.M.

Funeral services for E. J. Craft, Eastland oil man, who was killed Saturday night when his car overturned on a highway near Coleman, will be conducted from the Catholic church in Eastland Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock by Father Collins of Ranger. Burial will be in the Eastland cemetery. Mr. Craft was found about 9:00 o'clock Saturday night near his wrecked car which had gone off a bridge near the Eastland Oil Company lease north of Coleman. It is understood he had started to Eastland, having been in the territory about Coleman looking after business interests. Charlie Sparr and Gene Andrews, both former Eastland men, are employed in the vicinity where Craft was killed and were the first to learn of his death and telephoned the information to Eastland. A Hamner Undertaking Company ambulance was sent after the body which reached East-

Camden, West Virginia, and Mrs. W. J. Copley of Weston, West Virginia. E. J. Craft was a life member of the B. P. O. Elks No. 1372, and was never known to turn a deaf ear to a plea of distress. He was popular, kind, generous and a real man. Universal regret is expressed over his untimely ending. He was a member of the Catholic church of Eastland. Officers of the Eastland Elks lodge were at Hamner Undertaking parlors Sunday night, keeping guard over their late comrade. He died at 4:30 Sunday morning. E. J. Craft was born in Winston, West Virginia, April 22, 1881. He came to Texas from Kansas in 1919. He had been engaged in the rig contracting business for 30 years. He was married to Miss Winona Mary Burgess in Kansas City, Kansas, who survives him. Other survivors are brothers of the decedent, W. M. Craft, of Buchanan, West Virginia; F. J. Craft of Weston, West Virginia; J. F. Craft, Okmulgee, Oklahoma; M. L. Craft, Tyler, Texas; and sisters, Mrs. T. F. McCadden,

HOW BENNET FILM WAS COMFOUNDED

Like wise apothecaries compounding a prescription with scrupulous care, Jos. M. Schenck and Darryl F. Zanuck assembled the ingredients of "Moulin Rouge." Constance Bennett's first starring vehicle for 20th Century Productions, a United Artists release now being shown at the Lyric Theatre.

For this musical de luxe they ordered the following: A liberal measure of Constance Bennett in a dual role filled with intensely dramatic moments, and as a singer of songs destined to be sung the length and breadth of the land.

Franchot Tone, hailed as the screen's most romantic lover. Tullio Carminati, who stirred Broadway for 76 weeks in "Strictly Dishonorable," and 54 weeks in "Music in the Air." Helen Westley, a founder and director of the Radio City Music Hall, and perhaps the highest paid character actresses of the American stage; Andrew Tombes, Russ Brown, and many other players brought out from New York's world of revues and musical comedies; Russ Columbo and the Boswell Sisters, whose voices have thrilled millions over the radio.

Such songs as "Coffee in the Morning and Kisses at Night," "Song of Surrender" and "Boulevard of Broken Dreams" by Harry Warren and Al Dubin, who wrote the music for "42nd Street," "Gold Diggers of 1933" and "Roman Scandals."

The direction of Sidney Lanfield, whose sympathetic direction of Jimmie Dunn did much to put that young man on the movie map. The prettiest chorines possible, trained in eye-flicking numbers by Russell Markert, creator of the Roxettes at the Radio City Music Hall, and perhaps the highest paid director in America.

Amazing cinema chemists—these two. And you'll be enchanted with their prescription!

Busy Bee Sewing Club

WHEN KING JAMES I, OF ENGLAND, WAS A YOUNG PRINCE, HE HAD A BOY WHO WAS PAID TO TAKE HIS WHIPPINGS FOR HIM!

THE AUSTRALIAN LUNG-FISH HAS HAD NO NEAR RELATIVES FOR SEVERAL MILLION YEARS.

IN PARIS, RARE SPECIES OF BUTTERFLIES WERE MADE FROM PIECES OF COMMON ONES AND SOLD TO UNSUSPECTING COLLECTORS.

KING JAMES was a boy at the time when whipping was considered the proper punishment for all shortcomings in the school recitation, and it did not seem fitting that even a prince should go without his punishment. However, no hand could be laid upon his royal person, so it was necessary to hire a boy to take his whippings for him.

Beaumont to Have Practically New Baseball Club

By United Press — BEAUMONT, Texas. — Beaumont will send a practically new baseball team out in quest of the Texas league pennant this year. Only 12 of last year's Exporters have donned the scarlet shirts this season. Eleven of the 1933 players were sold down the river, one was drafted and two quit the game to enter business.

working since March 12. Infielders and outfielders reported for their first workouts March 19.

Manager Lorber is beginning to shape his team for the league schedule opener with the Houston Buffaloes here April 17. The host of prospective pitchers offers variety—14 right handers and seven southpaws. Only four have had previous experience with the Exporters.

The Exporters' two veteran catchers were sold to Hollywood. They were Joe Sullivan and Dick Schultz. With them went George Susec, catcher. Detroit took Pitcher Elden Auker and Catcher John Pasek. Sandy Herring, right handed pitcher, was drafted by Brooklyn at the close of last season. Claude Passeau, regular right hander last year, was sold to Toronto.

Forber always has himself to fall back on as backstop. Three promising young men are Michael Tresh, Conrad Fisher and Rudolph Johnson, all of them saw some service with the Exporters in 1933. William Thompson, brought from New Orleans, and Louis Casiani, imported from Hanover, Mass., are other aspirants for the masked job.

The infield will be almost entirely new. First Baseman Ignatius (Iggy) Walters, and Third Baseman Chester Morgan are the only ones returning to the red uniforms. A second baseman will be selected from Ben Catchings, formerly with Bartlesville and Hutchinson in the Western association; Reece
