

ROOSEVELT GIVES HIS VIEWS ON WAR DEBTS

That reminds me...

Saw a little quip the other day it said "If you see a friend slipping away from you... drop everything and hurry after him and bring him back... they are too precious to lose..."

A friend is one who abides by the law... who looks on humanity with charity... who never expects anything nor asks for anything...

Which all brings to mind the true necessity of full cooperation of the people of a community for its best interest.

Continued interest prevails in the question of a new bank for Eastland. Depositors are showing every consideration and cooperation with the plan now being proposed...

There is only one way to place the proportionate dividend money in question of the Texas State bank into circulation and into the hands of depositors at this time.

It is gratifying to note that in almost every instance many depositors have already expressed their willingness to cooperate by signing the agreement giving the committee power of attorney.

SAYS DEBTORS OWE MILLIONS TO CITIZENS

Nations To Be Judged On Way They Spend Their Resources.

LONDON, June 1.—President Roosevelt's war debt message to congress aroused violent indignation among high government officials today, and the United Press learned the cabinet had decided not to make even a token payment on June 15 unless such payment physically exonerate Britain from the stigma of default.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—A warning to debtors that the United States would be swayed in judging war debt problems by the extent to which debtors diverted their national resources to expenditures on armament and other unproductive purposes was uttered today by President Roosevelt in a message to Congress.

The message went to capitol hill as 13 foreign debtors prepared to pay or default an installment of $174,647,439 due June 15.

Mr. Roosevelt said the United States would continue to expect debtors to "show full understanding of the American attitude on this debt question."

"The people of the debtor nations will also bear in mind," the message continued, "the fact the American people are certain to be swayed by the use which debtor countries make of their available resources—whether such resources would be applied for the purpose of recovery as well as for the reasonable payment of the debts owed to the citizens of the United States, or for purposes of unproductive nationalistic expenditure or like purposes.

"The American people would not be disposed to place an impossible burden on their debtors, but are nevertheless, in a just position to ask that substantial sacrifice be made to meet these debts."

"It is for these reasons," the message continued, "that the American people have felt their debtors were called upon to make a determined effort to discharge these obligations."

Eleven Seek Office Of Chief Executive

AUSTIN.—Eleven men are running for governor—an office which some believe the state could abolish with little embarrassment.

Extradition matters could, more appropriately, be handled by the court of criminal appeals; the secretary of state prepares many, and might as well issue most of the proclamations.

A statute provides a way to put issues on primary election ballots. If adopted, they become party pledges. It seldom is used. An effort to use this method of passing on repeal of state prohibition was defeated at the last meeting of the state democratic executive committee. The committee makes up the ballot June 11. A push effort for a referendum may be made then.

MRS. HELEN B. MOORE READY TO SCORE A COMEBACK

Mrs. Helen B. Moore of Texas City served two terms as a state representative from her district. She made a remarkable record for a beginner in the halls of legislation under the Texas dome.

She served in the 41st and 42nd legislatures. She did not return to the 43rd for the reason that she was defeated after making no campaign for the post on account of illness. Now if she scores a comeback, it is predicted she will be one of the very few women in the 44th legislature and "possibly the only one."

Her husband, Col. H. B. Moore, one of the builders of Texas City and a noted engineer, saw service in France in the very dark and very gruesome and vast costly days of the World War.

A native of Tennessee, he has been an adopted son of Texas for more than 40 years, and he is widely known in the haunts of builders and financiers and orchardists the country over. Rep. Sarah H. Hughes of Dallas county, who has two terms of brilliant achievement to her credit, is a candidate for a third term. Political leaders of Dallas county predict that she will make a successful landing in the August run-off.

New Buses To Go Into Service Through Here On 15th of June

Fifteen new ultra-modern buses will be placed in service over the Southwestern Greyhound Lines by June 15, Paul W. Tibbetts, president of the company, announced today.

The new buses will operate through this city and will provide transportation from St. Louis to El Paso via Tulsa and Dallas without changing buses. Only one change is necessary between St. Louis and Los Angeles.

Although the buses have been ordered for several months, the great demand for this improved type of coach by Greyhound companies throughout the nation has made it impossible for the Southwestern Greyhound Lines buses to be delivered before about June 15. Normal capacity of the buses will be 33 passengers, with folding aisle seats providing for a total capacity of 40 persons in addition to the driver.

The new coaches are being built according to the specifications of the Greyhound company. They will embody the latest principles of streamlined bodies and all the latest improvements of motor coach engineering.

Increased leg room for passengers; even more comfortable, individual deep-cushioned reclining chairs, and a new ventilating system affording optional control at each window will be popular features of the new coaches. Riding comfort will be further increased through the use of special long-length, tempered springs, Gruss shock-absorbers, and over-size balloon tires. Tropic-Aire heaters,

Tires Bear Brunt Of 500 Mile Race Says Roy Speed

The story of how tires made possible new speeds and eliminated pit stops in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes at Indianapolis May 30 was told today by Roy Speed, Firestone dealer in this city.

"At such speeds one would expect the tires to be almost entirely worn away. But inspection of a Firestone tire after it had gone the full 500 miles showed the amazing fact that there was very little sign of wear.

"But even more important is an engineering feature embodied within the tire. It is the patented gum-dipping process by which the high stretch cords are soaked in liquid rubber, protecting them against internal friction which would cause destructive heat and deterioration.

She was red-headed. En route they stopped at a cafe. It emptied quickly. When they emerged, officers with drawn rifles awaited them. It was only after the patrolman's credentials were verified by telephone that the officers were convinced they did not have Clyde and red-haired Bonnie.

maintained. The scum which soon forms on the surface and which consists usually of wild yeasts, but often contains molds and bacteria, should be skimmed off.

After active fermentation has stopped, it is necessary to protect the pickles against spoilage. This may be done in one of two ways: 1. Cover with a layer of paraffin. This should be poured while hot over the surface of the brine or as much of it as is exposed around the edges of the board cover. When cooled this forms a solid coating which effectually seals the pickles. 2. Seal the pickles in glass jars or cans. As soon as they are sufficiently cured, which may be determined by their agreeable flavor and dark green color, transfer them to glass jars, and fill either with their own brine or with a fresh brine made as directed. Add a small quantity of dill and spice. Bring the brine to a boil, and, after cooling to about 160 degrees F., pour it over the pickles, filling the jars full. Seal the jars tight and store in a cool place.

I prefer sealing in the small jars because I can open the small container without disturbing the others and when all are in a large container it means sealing again.

Dill can be grown in the gardens and each person should have some dill growing each year.

Vacation Training School
The training school now in progress in Methodist church, which opened a two weeks session last Tuesday morning, will continue the course through next week, beginning Monday at usual hour and closing at 11:00 a. m.

Great interest has been taken in the course, which offers several features of unusual value.

The registration is splendid, and probabilities indicate will be increased the second week.

Mrs. J. U. Johnson is general director of school.

Spectacular Pantomime Presented
The assemblyroom of the Methodist church was the scene of a very striking Pantomime in the presentation of "Rock of Ages," by a dozen or more colored women of the African Methodist church, which, shortly before time of presentation substituted the Pantomime for the announced Pageant, which it is claimed they had not sufficient time to prepare.

The verses of the hymn, "Rock of Ages," were given by a soloist, amongst the group presenting the pantomime and the action followed closely the words of the hymn.

The setting was impressive in its huge cross, sunk in a rough rock base.

Preceding the pantomime, a group of twenty-four colored women sang a number of Spirituals, the high lights bringing "My Lord I'm Waiting All the Time," "Ride On Oh King," "Great Day Coming," and "Oh Mary Don't Weep."

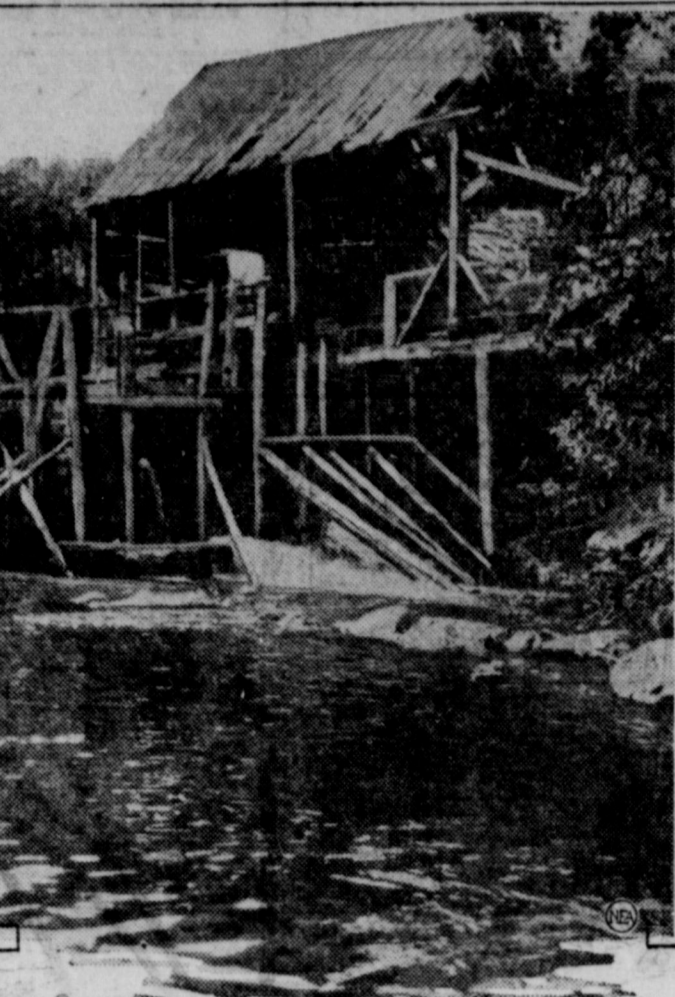

Male colored quartet sang, "These Bones Is Goin' to Rise Again," "I Got a Mother," and a voice solo, was given by the reader, singer of the pantomime, "My Hope Is Built," preceding the action.

The program was introduced by the chairman of christian social relations of Methodist church, Mrs. Milton Newman, and closed with hymn, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," sung by the colored people and the audience, dismissed with prayer by Rev. E. R. Stanford, the pastor.

The attendance was small but interested, and the program was very fine. Proceeds will be used toward defraying expense of a chosen colored woman for a training course in Tyler to fit her for religious instruction among her people.
