in the hands of the directors after the new bank has been organized and the directors are elected by the stockholders. There isn't a single selfish motive involved except that of a nature that effects all people alike in the establishment of a bank. It can emphatically be remembered that the committee has had the interests of the depositors in the foreground and are depositors themselves and when the job is completed whether success or failure, simply retire without any compensation or reward for their untiring, unselfish and unceasing work during the past several months. These men have neglected their own business for the interest of their fellow depositors and if there was ever a time that complete confidence in these men could be established it would be during this week by every depositor who has not yet joined the movement to now express themselves as either in favor of the plan or opposed to it. More than 225 depositors have already signed the agreements. To show indifference at this time is simply blocking a movement that means more to Eastland and the depositors of the Texas State Bank than any other opportunity that has pre-sented itself during the past three years. There is a limit to everything and naturally the committee wants to know whether we want a bank or not and whether the depositors want a dividend declared at this time or not, Saturday, June 16, is to be the final check-up and let the chips fall where they may. It is up to the depositors to dispose of it one way or the other. (See Page 4 for Complete Plans)

TEXAS COTTON GROWERS ASKED FOR IT

Rexford G. Tugwell is acting secretary of agriculture. He has stated that an average price of 11.34 cents per pound of lint cotton had been established as the base for determining the tax rate on all cotton under the Bankhead act; that the figure was determined through a study of the price per pound of 7-8 inch staple middling spot cotton on the 10 spot market, and that the tax which is fixed at 50 per cent of this price, will be levied on all cotjon ginned in excess of the total of 10,000,000 bales established in the act. Texas leads all states in the production of cotton. A vast number of Texas growers clamored for the Bankhead act. Well, its restorative side of the act will be given the acid test this year and next year.

Petroleum is the chief money staple of Texas. Cotton held the high position for years and years. All Texans are interested in a fair price for cotton and all Texans within or without the pale of the petroleum industry, are interested in the way the petroleum natural wealth of Texas is to be handled in coming years. Texas was a free republic established by the rifles of pioneers in the long ago. These stocks: pioneers and their sons who cam after them adopted the articles of annexation and the republic became one of the Am & F Pwr sisterhood. All public lands, or rather their ownership and Am Rad & S S. control, were retained by Texas in the transition of a republic to a state of the union. All the handling of treasure A T wealth in these lands retained should be subject to the Anaconda control, or rather conservation, of the Texans of today. speaking through the conservators named by the votes of Barnsdall the people and functioning as rail commissioners assisted Beth Steel by all other officials of the state government.

Land Commr. J. H. Walker told most of the story in his wire to the senators and the representatives elected by the people to be passed on to the federal government set-up where the President and all who are assisting in national recovery were reminded of conditions as they are, and the annexation provisions which were adopted by the champions of statehood for Texans in the long ago.

Most cities are grooming themselves to enter a new era of progress. They will be surprised to see what they can do when they try.
