STRIKES SEEM TO BE LOSING OVER NATION

Defections in the ranks of organized labor held a promise today that a breakdown in strikes over the nation was near.

In San Francisco conservation unionists pressed for arbitration and an end of the general strike. The city generally was quiet. Food was more plentiful.

In Minneapolis threats of a general strike in sympathy with truck drivers seemed diminishing.

Portland's situation remained critical, with mediators striving to prevent a general strike.

Seattle labor proceeded cautiously on voting on a general strike.

Alabama's strike was taken up by a labor board.

By United Press
SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—While strike leaders awaited outcome of arbitration, public and private agencies began shaking off the shackles of the general riot.

The result was a definite easing of the food shortage, and signs of improvement of the situation.

By United Press
SEATTLE, July 18.—Police battled 1,000 strikers at Smith's Cove, scene of strikebreaking activities in a renewal of riot action on Seattle's waterfront today. Many strikers were gassed.

Wife in Futile Plea for Poni's Pardon

Hope that he would be saved from deportation to Italy dimmed for Charles Poni, notorious "get-rich-quick" wizard, when Governor Ely of Massachusetts denied him a full pardon after he had served a prison term for his international ruffianism. Here he stands solemnly while his loyal wife makes a tearful but ineffectual plea in his behalf.

GROCERIES IN TEXAS GO UP TO NEW HIGHS

Some items were expected to advance again this week, grocersmen said.

The same situation, grocers said, is generally true over Texas.

Flour has jumped 20 cents a barrel in the last week. A further advance was expected. Bacon has risen four cents a pound in the last month. One vegetable counter manager estimated all fresh vegetables had risen from 5 to 10 per cent during the week.

By United Press
DALLAS, July 18.—Food prices in Dallas, as in other Texas cities, were higher today as a result of the crop devastating drought in Texas and other states.

Lone Star Gas Rate Case to Go To Jury Today

AUSTIN, July 18.—Arguments before a Fifty-third district court jury here on fairness of a rate reduction ordered for the Lone Star Gas company were to be completed today.

Then, for the second time in the history of Texas, a jury in a state court will retire to determine if the railroad commission has allowed a fair return to a utility in fixing its rate.

The only precedent for a jury trial of a rate was the recent Laredo gas case, tried in the same court.

The suit against the Lone Star Gas company was filed by the attorney general's department to compel the utility to abide by a commission order reducing the cost of gas delivered at city gates from 40 to 32 cents a 1,000 cubic feet.

TWO ESCAPE IN CAR BEARING LOCAL LICENSE

Posse Makes Pursuit Northwest Toward Stamford

Sheriff Goodwin of Shackelford county quickly formed a posse and started in pursuit, while the sheriffs of surrounding counties were notified to be on the lookout for the bandits in case they doubled back on their trail.

The two men were described as being about 25 years of age and were driving a Ford V-8 bearing license number 316-019, which was issued in Eastland county. It was thought by officers that the two men who robbed the bank were the same two who held up the night watchman at Strawn the night before and obtained a number of guns and a quantity of ammunition, as the descriptions tallied somewhat with that of the Strawn robbers.

When the bandits entered the bank Joe Clark, cashier; Charlie Cestis, assistant cashier, Mrs. Edith Hunter and another assistant cashier by the name of Dodge were in the bank. None was taken as hostage.

Rotarians Hear J. J. Mickle, Jr.

The Rotary club opened their Monday luncheon with songs led by Julius Krause, accompanied by Miss Clara June Kimble. Program chairman for the day, Earl Bender and John Harrison, presented J. J. Mickle, Jr., who gave an interesting talk on his work as teacher in commercial department, accounting, foreign trade, and business correspondence, in Kwansai Guikie university of Kobe, Japan, where he has been teaching 13 years. This is a mission school supported by Southern Methodist church. With his wife and two children, both born in Japan, Mr. Mickle arrived in Eastland June 12 on furlough, until next March. These vacations are granted at end of each year's mission work.

Other guests were S. L. Odell of Dallas, with Grady Pipkin; Andy Anderson and Odell Bailey of Ranger, Rotarians, and J. P. McAfee, Rotarian, of Cisco.

Bobby Connor Not Kidnaped Is Belief of Officers

KIDNAPING THEORIES IN THE disappearance and reappearance of Bobby Connor were abandoned today, retraced by convictions the 21-month-old baby crawled through brush and undergrowth for five days, subsisting on grass and vegetation his tiny hands crammed into his mouth.

Emaciated, starved, suffering from lack of water and his body covered with scores of scratches and insect bites, Bobby lay in a hospital today with an even chance of recovery.

Scores of federal agents at first scoffed at the possibility he could have lived alone in the woods since Thursday when he wandered away.

A thorough examination and announced their findings, even the most suspicious admitted the boy had not been abducted.

MARTIAL LAW IN FORCE IN NORTH DAKOTA

BISMARCK, N. D., July 18.—Armed soldiers tramped through the corridors of the capitol today enforcing Gov. William Langer's "reign of might" as martial law gripped the entire state.

The governor, facing a prison sentence resulting from his conviction on criminal charges, issued a proclamation of martial law today and 1,200 national guardsmen were called out under orders to suspend civil law.

The governor's action came swiftly upon the heels of a supreme court decision ruling his conviction disqualified him from office.

Lieut. Gov. Olson termed the state's "real governor" by the supreme court, sought to break the martial law rule of Langer.

Langer apparently was sparing for time pending the convening of the special session of the legislature. The session, opening tomorrow, was called by him with instructions to determine his fitness for office. The legislature is overwhelmingly of his action.

Railroad Man To Retire After 41 Years of Service

HOUSTON.—Charles S. Fay, vice president and traffic manager of the Texas and Louisiana lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad, will end 41 years of service as a railroad man when he retires Aug. 1.

Fay began his connection with the railroad in 1887 in New Orleans as a clerk in the auditor's office of Morgan's Louisiana and Texas Railroad and Steamship company. In 1889 he was transferred to the traffic department.

He won steady promotion until, in 1917, he was made general freight agent and traffic manager. He held that position until 1928, when he came to Houston as traffic manager in charge of freight and passenger departments for the Texas and Louisiana lines.

He now is 70 years old.

On Nov. 1, 1929, he was made president and traffic manager.

Fay plans to enjoy his hobbies of golf, hunting and fishing after his retirement.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay have four children, a daughter, Mrs. E. A. Stebbins of Porto Rico; three sons, Dr. Marion Fay, professor at the University of Texas Medical school, and Albert and Ernest Fay, students at Yale and Harvard universities.

Western Duck Sickness Explained In a Bulletin

WASHINGTON.—Unless favorable water conditions can be restored on the marshy areas and shallow lakes, where western sickness has been killing uncounted thousands of wild fowl, this disease will continue to take its devastating toll of birds. Conditions may even grow worse, says a technical bulletin recently issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The publication is entitled "Western Duck Sickness: A Form of Botulism," by E. R. Kalmbach, with bacteriological contributions by Millard F. Gunderson.

Studies by the Bureau of Biological Survey in 1929, 1930, and 1931, showed that western duck sickness is a form of food poisoning. Outbreaks of the disease are caused largely by environmental factors such as inadequate water supplies and fluctuating water levels. These conditions, the bulletin explains, encourage the development causative organism of the disease—a bacterium, Clostridium botulinum, type C. This organism produces a food poison that causes the malady in birds that feed on infected materials.

In the United States this botulinus bacteria is a frequent cause of limberneck in poultry and of forage poisoning in livestock.

The most effective remedial measures, says the bulletin, are those of prevention, brought about by flooding or drying the stagnant water or mud flat areas in which the disease occurred. Some birds have been saved by frightening them from known infected areas, others by rescuing afflicted individuals, which, handled carefully, gained opportunity for recovery.

An 82-page publication, the bulletin lists the species of birds affected, and discusses the susceptibility of birds, other animals affected, human beings and type C botulism, symptomatology, and pathology. The bulletin explains the way in which the Biological Survey investigators demonstrated that botulism is the cause of duck sickness. It describes the factors responsible for duck sickness or influencing its distribution and recommends remedial measures.

Technical Bulletin 411-T, Western Duck Sickness: A form of Botulism, may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., at 10 cents a copy.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 18.—J. Ray O'Donnell, 33, Tulsa, was shot and killed today by a detective seeking Harvey Pugh, an assorted pal of the late Clyde Barrow.

O'Donnell was lying in bed, gripping an automatic pistol and pointing it at the door, detectives said, when they opened the door. He was shot when he failed to drop his gun, they said.

"AND WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW"

Rep. William P. Cole, Jr., is the chairman of the special house oil investigating committee to ask officials of producing oil companies why oil prices failed to drop when congress passed no control legislation, "as it had been predicted they would."

A reminder that the Disney bill was sponsored in the house of representatives by Rep. W. E. Disney of Tulsa, Okla., and in the senate by Sen. Elmer Ehomas of Lawton, Okla. Its enactment would have given virtual control of the oil industry in Texas and elsewhere to the federal government.

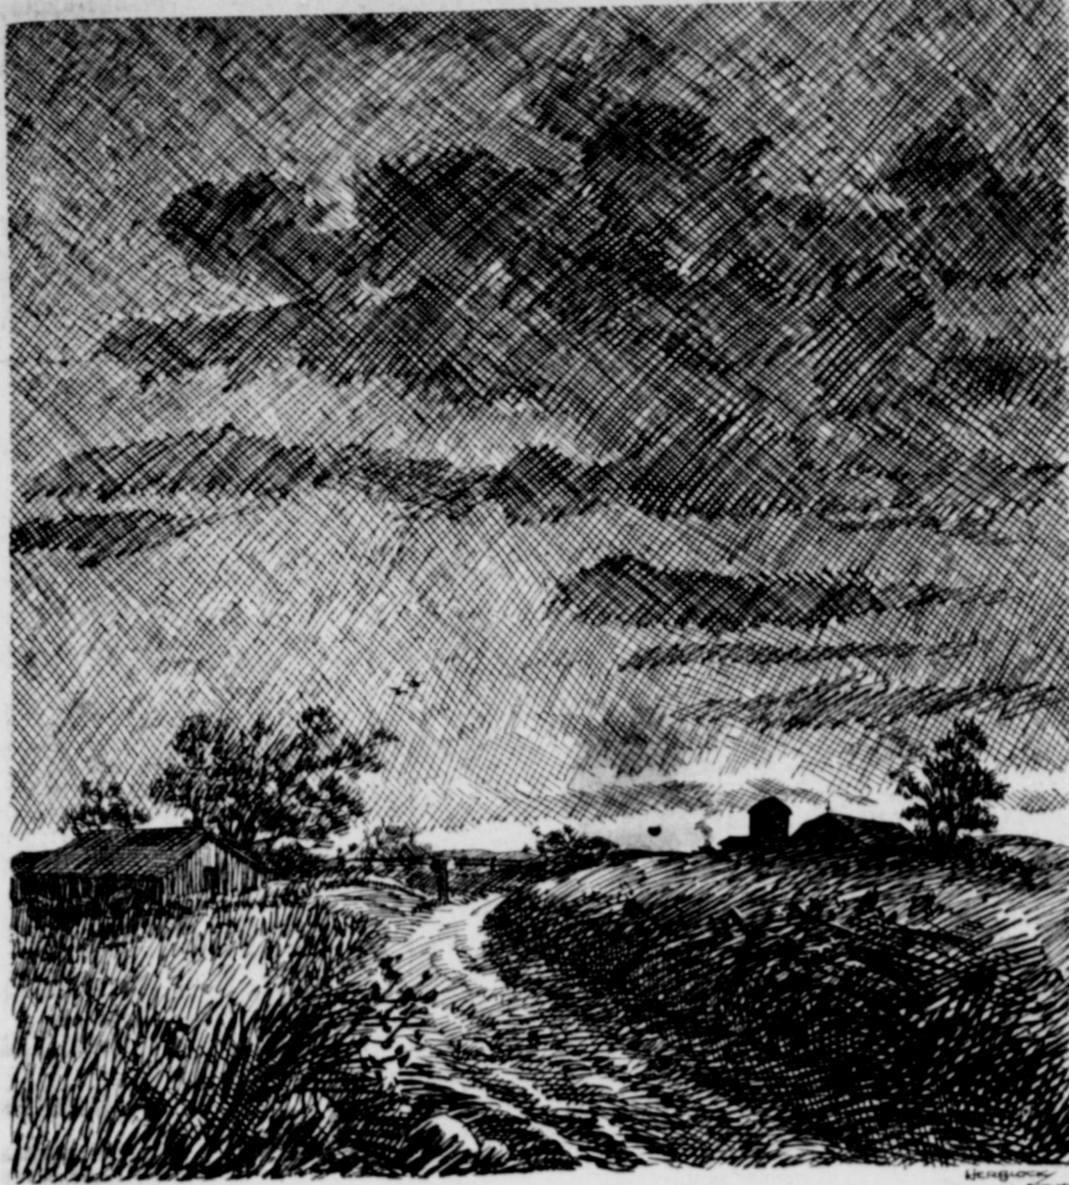

President Roosevelt, when given the actual facts as to the actual conditions, refused to place the Disney measure on his "must" list. It died. But the Cole committee was appointed to make a survey as well as an investigation of conditions in the oil fields and report at the next session of the congress.

Rep. E. W. Marland is the democratic nominee for governor of Oklahoma. He attended the session of the committee held in Tulsa. This new Moses of the Oklahoma democracy also had a control bill which failed of passage.

Rep. Marland for years was one of the outstanding operators in the petroleum industry of Oklahoma. He offered as a candidate for governor promising to do his best to lead the democrats of that state "out of the wilderness" and pledged his best efforts to bring about a restoration of not only progressive development but peace and prosperity to his people.

A cordial welcome to the Cole committee. A cordial welcome to all visitors from afar. Texans only ask for a

DOMESTIC GASOLINE CONSUMPTION HITS NEW HIGH MARK

Abandons Old Lizzie To Board a Freight

EL PASO. — A motorist here recently solved the problem of what to do with Lizzie when she gets too old to sell and too worn out to run satisfactorily. He stopped his car with a flourish near a railroad crossing, jumped out and boarded a passing train. Residents of the neighborhood found the car, hours later, with motor still running. Police have been puzzling over the stranger's odd actions ever since. The car was a 1922 model, topless and in a general weakened condition.

OUT OUR WAY

Texas is Third in The Number of Births in 1933

AUSTIN. — Texas today ranked among the four states of the union with the greatest number of births in 1933, according to a report released by the department of commerce bureau of the census.

Last year New York had 187,139 births; Pennsylvania, 157,046; Texas, 107,924, and Illinois, 106,861. Texas had a birth rate of 17.9 per thousand population, compared to the national birth rate of 16.4. Of the 2,064,944 births in the nation last year, Texas had 5.2 per cent.

established in 1915, when it included only 10 states and the District of Columbia. The area has been gradually extended since then until, with the admission of Texas in 1933, it included for the first time the entire area of continental United States. The bureau of the census did not attempt to explain why the 1933 birth rate was the lowest on record. Whether it was due in part to shrinkage in family budgets necessitated by the depression is a matter for conjecture. States with the highest birth rates per 1,000 population were New Mexico, 26.7, and North Carolina and Utah, 22.9 each. Lowest birth rates were for Oregon, 12.2, and California, 12.4. Infant mortality rates, based on the number of deaths of infants under one year of age per 1,000 live births, were high in New Mexico (134.2), and Arizona (111.4). Both states have large nomadic Indian and Mexican populations. Texas' rate was 17.4. Beaumont, 24.7; Big Spring, 24.7; Corpus Christi, 21.4; Dallas, 4.8; El Paso, 2.504 and 21.1; Galveston, 2.538 and 15; Houston, 17.1; Marshall, 4.51 and 13.7 and 11.9; Port Arthur, 12.8; Sweetwater, 18.1; Temple, 21.9; Wichita Falls, 6.63 and 17.8; Waco, 17.8; and Wichita Falls, 6.63.

Radio Comics in "Strictly Dynamite"

Jimmy Durante's real-life role as a radio broadcasting comic with the fiery Lupe Velez beside the microphone provides the fun in "Strictly Dynamite." Norman Foster, William Gargan, Marian Nixon and the Four Mills Brothers contribute hilarity to this RKO-Radio laugh hit.

DURANTE AND LUPE PROVIDE T. N. T. IN "STRICTLY DYNAMITE"

The love life of a radio broadcasting comedian is said to provide a hilarious package of explosive laughs in "Strictly Dynamite," RKO-Radio comedy sensation starring Jimmy Durante and Lupe Velez.

Durante has a highly appropriate role in "Strictly Dynamite," portraying Moxie Slaight, leading funnyman of the other ways. Answering Moxie's demands for material appealing to the intelligentsia, his agent George supplies Nick Montgomery. Incidentally George is impressed with the pretty Sylvia Montgomery rather than the erstwhile poet's alleged sense of humor.

Propped by old joke books, Nick annexes fame and also Vera, Moxie's microphone partner, George and Sylvia completing the romantic quadrangle.

"Strictly Dynamite" has been previewed as Durante's funniest film. Sung by Durante, Miss Velez and the Mills Brothers are five new tuneful melodies. Norman Foster, Marian Nixon and William Gargan are featured, under Elliott Nugent's direction.

TUNEFUL FILM MARKS DEBUT OF RADIO STAR

An excellent mixture of comedy, melody and beauty, "Melody in Spring" comes to the screen of the Lyric Theatre tomorrow, to present to patrons that reliable team of Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland, a new romantic singing personality, Lanny Ross, and the beautiful Ann Sotner.

Paramount, impressed with the tremendous popularity of Bing Crosby, whom it plucked from the air waves, stepped out a few months ago to take Lanny Ross, going places and doing things worth while. Its your town and great star. Ross is young, handsome, and performs remarkably well for his first screen venture. He is a splendid singer, with a full, rich tenor voice.

Ruggles and Miss Boland, teamed together for the fourth time, provide more laughs than ever, while Miss Sotner is properly decorative.

The story involves Ruggles, a wealthy dog-biscuit manufacturer, who sponsors the nation's biggest radio hour; Miss Boland, his wife; Miss Sotner, his daughter; and Ross, a hopeful tenor, anxious to get on the radio program.

Both men have hobbies, which get them into hilarious difficulties. Ruggles being a collector of antiques and souvenirs, while Ross climbs mountains. Director Norman McLeod keeps the action moving at a swift pace throughout. "Ending with a Kiss," "Melody in Spring," and "The Open Road," the hit songs from the film, were written by Lewis Gensler and Keene Thompson.

That Reminds Me

time that Eastland will be the central headquarters of their activities. Lone Star officials are high in their praise of Eastland both as an excellent place to live as well as the possibilities of its continued business progress.

Those who have houses for rent can well begin figuring on putting them in order to make them comfortable and livable. The very fact that when people come here to seek a location is enough to see that when they look at a home for rent that there will be an added and pleasing attraction. Just a house doesn't mean anything in this day and time. People want a modern equipped home, and usually they will pay a better rental for such a convenience. And besides when the news is spread that Eastland has the best homes for rental purposes its reaction will bring many others here who probably are not satisfied elsewhere. This goes for those that have store buildings for rent also. Now is a good time to think of cleaning out the trash in closed and uncoccupied buildings and be in readiness to remodel according to the desires of a prospective tenant. Uncoccupied store building owners can do well to seek and encourage renters rather than expect them to rush in and ask for a building. Things can be created if enough pride, energy and efforts are put behind them.

This is clearance sale time and most every store in Eastland have unusual bargain waiting for those who really want bargains. Now is the time to buy as there are lots of hot days ahead to come, and merchandise being offered now at reduced prices are truly a wonderful saving feature for individual economy. What more could we ask, low prices on merchandise, 50-cent gas, lower electrical rates, and the best town in this section to live in. We should be grateful whether we are or not. And above all there is no use in any of having a chip on our shoulder when we all have so much work to do to keep moving, going places and doing things worth while. Its your town and our town. It deserves every support and every consideration.

Shakespeare or Mendelssohn?

Her ambition to lead a Shakespearean company has taken second place in the thoughts of Evelyn Venable, winsome film actress, above, and matrimony is the immediate goal, if Hollywood rumor is to be credited. Hal Mohr, cameraman, is reported to be the man who'll march to the altar with the Cincinnati beauty.

Truly the Golden Rule can better be applied now than ever, and keep it applied for all time to come.

Love thy community as thy self. And do it every day. Or else your community might go wrong and drive good will away. So try to lead a simple life, and lead it void of every strife. Love thy community as thy self and leave dull care behind.

Cool Baking In Insulated Oven
Cost LESS Now!

One of the nicest satisfactions in baking comes with a well insulated oven equipped with automatic heat control. Kitchen stays cool, gas is saved, and failures are unknown because the heat control automatically keeps the temperature at the right degree. The modern Garland range pictured here has these features.

Now, with the new lower rates in effect there is another satisfaction in baking. The cost is less because of the remarkably low gas rates now in effect—50c net per 1,000 for the first 30,000 cubic feet.

With a modern range and cheaper rates cooking with gas today in Eastland is easier, faster and very much cheaper. Again we emphasize: Gas is best... cooks better... costs less!
