Danger Man Burned When Home is Destroyed

WAS TREATED FOR HIS BURNS AT HOSPITAL

Home Partly Destroyed By Flames Which Broke Out Today.

W. F. Dennis of Ranger was severely burned about the head and shoulders early Friday morning when his home on Mesquite street was partly destroyed by fire.

The fire, which was discovered in rear of the home at 2:55 Friday morning, partly destroyed the house and its contents, but the fire department, by quick action, was able to keep it from spreading over the entire building. The front of the home had at one time been remodeled into a neighborhood grocery, which was operated by the fire victim, but which had been used as living quarters for some time.

Mr. Dennis, after discovering the fire, re-entered the burning frame building to try to save some of the furnishings and was trapped by the flames and was badly burned about the forehead, head and one shoulder.

He was removed from the burning building as firemen played a stream of water on the blazing structure, and was rushed to the City-County hospital, where it was at first thought that he was in a serious condition. His burns proved, however, to be less severe than was at first thought, and after remaining in the hospital overnight he was able to return to the arms of his home this morning.

It was estimated today that about half of the contents of the home and the structure itself was damaged, though the fire was restricted to the rear of the house to a great extent and two rooms were not badly damaged.

At noon today it was reported that Mr. Dennis was resting well though his burns were painful and no serious results were anticipated.

Thomas L. Blanton to Speak In Ranger Tonight at 8:30 in His Campaign for Congress

Speaks Tonight

Thomas L. Blanton, congressman from the 17th district, who will speak tonight in Ranger in the interest of his candidacy for re-election.

Thomas L. Blanton, congressman from the 17th district of Texas, and who is a candidate for re-election, will speak in Ranger tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The speaking will be on Rusk street, between Main and Walnut and the street will be roped off and arrangements made to accommodate a large crowd.

Before arriving in Ranger late in the afternoon Judge Blanton had put in a busy day campaigning. He opened his day's activities at Lingleville, Erath county, at 11 o'clock in the morning, where he spoke before a good crowd. His next engagement was at Desdemona at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, where another good attendance was noted and at 4 p. m. he was to speak in Olden. From Olden he was scheduled to go to Ranger, where he was to have but a short time to greet his many friends before the speaking hour.

Judge W. S. Adamson has been selected to preside at the meeting tonight which is to start promptly at 8:30. After a few short remarks Judge Adamson will introduce Dr. H. A. Logsdon, who will introduce the candidate.

Judge Blanton, in his speaking tour which he started after the recent session of congress adjourned, has spoken on an average of four or five times daily and at each of his speaking engagements it has become more and more evident, according to reports, that he will be re-elected to the position he has so ably held for a number of years.

A Blanton-for-congress club has been formed in Eastland county with precinct chairman in every section of the county, and the club, through its headquarters in Eastland, has been actively working in behalf of the candidate, promoting his candidacy in every way possible throughout the county.

It was announced today that Judge Blanton would have his own public address system with him and that the voters would be able to hear regardless of the size of the crowd that attends the speaking tonight.

Seats have also been arranged, and will be in place on Rusk street before the hour for the speaking to begin, so that all may listen in comfort.

MINNEAPOLIS, Ind., July 13.—Six thousand truck drivers and their fighting women prepared today for the warfare of a strike undeterred by threats of martial law and the denunciation of their own union officials.

CLEVELAND, O.—A man and woman were killed and a policeman and two other men wounded when 300 demonstrators stormed a Cuyahoga county relief office today.

EMBATTLED LABOR STILL IS IN STRIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The siege of San Francisco by its embattled labor group, grew tighter today.

Pickets on highways at the end of 24 hours of operations had cut off effectively entry of produce, food and freight into the city by motor truck. Distribution of goods already inside the city was entirely paralyzed.

Water transportation has been blockaded since May 9, when maritime unions struck and finally precipitated the present situation. Street cars were running but taxis disappeared soon after 3 a. m. when gasoline supplies were cut off followed by a decision by the chauffeur's union to strike.

Street car operators were preparing to take a strike vote. The cities of Alameda and Contra Costa counties, across San Francisco Bay were becoming as seriously affected.

Violence, still isolated, disturbed the situation. Police had many calls reporting many men beaten, delivery cars stopped and merchants intimidated.

Many messages have been received by hotels and business places warning light, heat and power would be interrupted. Thus far such utilities have not been affected.

In Oakland a band of 250 men visited cafes and night clubs during the early morning and forced them to close.

America Saw First Elephant In 1796

WORCESTER, Mass.—The first elephant to come to America arrived in 1796.

It had been bought by Captain Jacob Crowninshield of Salem in Bengal for $450 and was sold in New York for $10,000.

"In size he surpasses all other terrestrial creatures, and by his intelligence, he makes as near an approach to man, as matter can approach spirit," said posters of the period, advertising the strange visitor.

This data was unearthed by Robert W. G. Vail, librarian of the American Antiquarian society, who has been doing research into the first circuses given in this country.

He learned also that the first giraffes brought to the United States was shown on Worcester common in 1839.

CATTLE WILL BE BOUGHT IN DROUTH AREA

FORT WORTH, July 13.—A meeting of relief administrators from 12 counties was called today for next Monday to pave the way for the government purchase of drouth-stricken cattle on a wider scale.

State Surplus Commodities Director Braun, Austin, today asked County Relief Administrator Flicker to arrange the meeting.

Administrators will attend from Dallas, Johnson, Parker, Hood, Ellis, Erath, Hill, McLennan, Somervell, Nolan and Runnels counties.

Braun requested administrators in the counties to gather data on the central shipping points in each county, the capacity of livestock pens and other matters.

Part of the cattle purchased in the 12-county area is expected to come to the large federal cannery plant here, which was scheduled to begin operations tonight.

Blanton Speaks Here Saturday Night At 8:30

Climaxing a week's speaking tour of Eastland, Comanche, Hamilton, Erath and Palo Pinto counties on which he will have made 25 speeches, Congressman Thomas L. Blanton will address Eastland county voters here Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock from the North side of the courthouse lawn.

Frank Sparks, Eastland attorney, who has charge of the speaking arrangements, stated this morning that plenty of seats would be provided and that East Commerce street on the south side of the courthouse lawn would be roped off in order to assure people having plenty of room.

Mr. Sparks states that he has assurances from members of the Blanton-for-congress club, a county-wide organization, that delegations from virtually every town and community in the county will be present at the Eastland meeting.

The speaker will have his own sound amplifying equipment which will assure everyone having an opportunity to distinctly hear the entire speech.

Women's Clubs Meet Saturday In Dress Contest

Eastland county women's home demonstration clubs will have a dress contest and cake contest Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the 91st district courtroom. Mrs. J. E. Hickman of Eastland will have charge of the program. The public is invited.

The cakes to be exhibited are those made by club members in their cake-baking contest and were the winners in those contests. They will now be judged as to which cake is the best of the lot.

After the contest the cakes will be offered for sale, the proceeds to go to the county court's fund for expenses to the annual short course at A. & M. College July 30 through Aug. 3.

COURT RECESSES

The 11th court of civil appeals will tomorrow recess until Sept. 10.

What Reminds me...

Terrible sacrifices have been made during the depression years, none can compare with the quantity of sacrifices made by the young middle-aged womanhood of Eastland according to reports of public and private investigators.

It has been revealed. In every city and town they have been stripped of their moral modesty just the privilege of eating. In Eastland recently an Episcopal church sounded an alarm regarding the condition that existed by hundreds of young girls submitting themselves to the sordid excesses of contact with men for "a piece" of something to eat.

Such a thing upon being questioned they invariably gave the same answer: "I was not for the normal sensation of pleasure but to eat." The girls were urging the citizens to send these girls in schools and teaching them business courses to them for work. In this hour, the Bishop is not remedying the situation. Hundreds of these girls have had business courses have been thrown out of school. It is not business courses needed now. It is business education and the only way they can get it by being put to work.

Work at hand to furnish food to eat, most ambitious girls will study at home, or go to school, if necessary. But the only background that will stop the wave of girls tramping the streets seeking to sell their bodies for something to eat. In reconstruction in direct relief in all forms of charity the most needed is business education. The worst neglectable. The worst neglectable is that the thing has become so common that it isn't even mentioned in the gossip of the streets.

The above statement does not mean that girls are worse today than they were in the old days. In fact they are better, but circumstances have forced them to an issue that stands between starvation and death. Man has demonstrated his weakness in that he has lost the art and determination to keep women on the pedestal of respectability and decency.

Women are not to be condemned for the conditions. Neither can they be censured. Women do not stand equal with men in the business world... they ask for a share deal in their capacities on a clean and upright basis. As far as we know in this civilized state first kept his woman at home, in the protective arms of morality and watched her with almost an iron will.

When he was gold of it, and when the condition as it was, then began to place his responsibility was more or less on the woman. Today man has degraded women in business relations of the kind, and they have been thrown out of work by thousands, and as a rule the women that work have been on the verge that no man would want in the box to draw what was there left to do?

Recently hundreds of women have thrown themselves above the fighting their soul, even for a piece of bread to eat... they have borne the cross of a world that is suffering on in the hearts and minds of these women God only knows not knowledge that thousands of girls are seeking have no means of making a livelihood but work. Man has degraded them for the business world now man has left them to fight up to man either to get out of business and put in the home and fit in with the virtuous and decent mode of living by taking care of them, or to let them to work and let them take their own problems and manage their own life. Women, bearing a total majority, will clean and decent if given proper environment.

Responsible, he created the conditions demanding her to be today man is sitting idly by watching the womanhood of Eastland roam the streets for

Smithsonian Expert Seeking Specimens

HAGERMAN, Idaho.—Hoping to unearth specimens that will supply the missing link in the fossil history of horses, a research expedition headed by Dr. C. L. Gazin, assistant curator of vertebrate paleontology of the Smithsonian Institution, has established camp on the Snake river near here.

Previous expeditions, headed by the late Dr. J. W. Gidley, found valuable bone species in the same region during the summers of 1928 to 1931. Bones of prehistoric horses were found which were declared to be different from any found elsewhere.

Dr. Gazin is accompanied by G. F. Sternberg, field vertebrate paleontologist of the Fort Hayes State college of Kansas, and G. B. Pearce, Sternberg's assistant.

BELTON, Mont.—Not to be outdone by another Glacier Park CCC camp which boasts of mascot here has a big horned owl for its pet. The owl's name is "Reputiful" and has accompanied the corps on its travels in Utah, California and Montana.

Foundation Pattern Much Help When Rubbing To Go On Vacation Trip.

My foundation pattern (individually fitted pattern) made it possible for me to be ready for an early vacation trip this summer. The time coming earlier than I expected, made it look impossible for me to go, but with the pattern the neighbors came in and made the dresses while I did the canning and preserving and other odd jobs always on hand. The pattern a perfect fit, made it possible for the women to cut and make the garments without fitting. This is what Mrs. R. L. Eckleberry, clothing co-operator of the Ranger Co-Workers club states. She also says she could not do without her foundation pattern.

Seattle Hooverville Has Own College

By United Press
SEATTLE, Wash.—Hooverville, a small village of shacks built by unemployed men near the railroad tracks in South Seattle, will have an Alma Mater.
The Hooverville Workers college, established by Stephen A. Eringis, who claims several degrees, is free to all unemployed and workers.
The college opened July 2. The curriculum includes social science, economics, government legislation, labor movement, current industrial situation, international affairs, social psychology and English classes.
Mayor Charles Smith endorsed the plan. There are four buildings, including a library and teachers' building. The Seattle Tent & Awning company donated one tent, and Camp Lewis Tent & Awning company two.

Eight teachers consented to work gratis for the first three months or more.
Eringis expects "students" from other communities below the tracks. Approximately 1,800 can be taken care of.

CORRECTION

The advertisement of the J. C. Penney Company, the Weekly Chronicle, the price of silk hose as stated should have been 45c per pair instead of 59c. The price of Duro Sheets should have been 59c instead of 45c. This was a typographical error in the composing room of The Telegram and this correction is made in fairness to the J. C. Penney company who sell at advertised prices.
