Nations Have Come to Accept a Colony's Right to Freedom

Senator Antonio R. Barcelo of Puerto Rico returns to San Juan from a meeting with President Roosevelt and announces that Washington intends to treat the Puerto Ricans just as it has treated the Filipinos—make them ready for self-support and self-government and then, if the islanders wish it, give them independence.

No announcement to this effect has yet come from Washington, and it is of course possible that the senator misinterpreted the president's remarks. But the mere fact that he could make such a statement without creating a perfect furore at Washington shows how greatly the world's viewpoint toward the possession of overseas colonies has changed in the last few generations.

Originally a colony was looked upon as the unqualified possession of the home government. It existed only for the sake of the homeland; it was to be exploited as the homeland wished, and it could not conceivably have any voice in the matter.

It was because this notion was accepted as a matter of course that the action of the American colonists in 1775, in taking up arms for a decent portion of self-government, seemed such a wicked and unnatural thing to King George III and his council.

Even after the Americans had made their protest good and established their independence, the old idea was slow to change. The thought that distant colonists had rights of their own, and that whether they should remain colonies or become independent states must depend, in the long run, on their own wishes, was one which the rulers of the world resisted stoutly.

But it made progress, nevertheless. Today Uncle Sam stands committed to set the Philippines free in the near future. Proud England offers a new measure of self-government to India. And now it is hinted that Puerto Rico may follow the Filipinos out from under the American flag, if her people wish it.

And whether this latest prediction be substantiated or not, it at least is a significant highlight of a new mental attitude.

The right of any people to complete freedom, in other words, is now taken for granted. And since the tide has set so strongly in that direction, can the freedom-denying dictators of Europe be anything but temporary vexations? In the long run, will not the spirit of the times be too much for them?

Lovable

ANN HOLLISTER, pretty and 20, breaks her engagement to TONY MICKLE, commercial artist, because of his drinking and general irresponsibility. The same day PETER KENDALL, wealthy and prominent, learns how VALERIA BENNETT, his fiancée, has deceived him and tells her everything is over between them.

ANN heard the kitchen door close, heard ice rattling about in a pan. Just a minute more and Tony would be coming in with the cocktail.

She lifted her coat from a chair and walked out of Tony's living room. The door, closing behind her, brought him but she was in the car when he came tearing down the walk.

"After all, I'm to celebrate your birthday alone," he mocked, "while you rush home to play the dutiful wife to a wandering husband."

"No, thanks," Peter said shortly. "Gracious, no. I'm not quite that low. It's this way, Aunt Louise didn't tell me until I came home that there were some heavy obligations she must meet this month. The truth is, Peter, it would be so much more convenient to pay you next month."

"Why in the world didn't you say so? You know you could pay me whenever you please."

"That's terribly sweet of you, but the check has gone through now," Valeria reminded him.

PETER frowned. So it had. "Well, that's easily remedied," he said after a moment. He took his check book and fountain pen from his pocket, made out a check and handed it to her.

Valeria smiled. "Thank you worlds. This will ease Aunt Louise's mind. I'll send a new check next month."

"Any time that it's convenient for you."

She followed him to the door. "Must you go, Peter? I really get horribly lonely these days." Her voice was wistful. "It's only natural that I should miss you, isn't it?"

How Texas Cities Got Their Names

By United Press Houston, largest South Texas city, was named in honor of Texas' revolutionary leader and first president, Gen. Sam Houston. General Houston came to Texas in 1832 after having been governor of Tennessee. On San Jacinto field, near the present site of Houston, he led Texas army in final fight of the war.

Texas' first governor, J. Pinckney Henderson, gave name to the great East Texas oil town. Henderson was prominent in political circles throughout his life. Under President Sam Houston he was secretary of state. Later he was Texas ambassador to the courts of England and France. Henderson was elected to the United States Senate but died before taking office.

Austin, progressive East Texas city, has as namesake a president whose administration was as busy as any of peacetime history. John Tyler, president at the death of William Henry Harrison, led the American government during the turbulent days preceding the admission of the state to the Union in 1845.

Austin, capital city of Texas, named in honor of Stephen F. Austin, "Father of Texas." The city was laid out in 1839 by James H. Waller under mandate of the Texas republic. In fall of 1839, the Texas convention convened here for the first time. The name "Austin" was given in honor of the Texas patriot whose name is now honored in the state history. The land on which Austin was situated was once owned by a man under an 1827 colonial grant from the Mexican government.

United States army general named to Fort Worth, live-stock and trading center for West Texas. Fort Worth became one of the great cities in 1845, General Sam W. Worth was put in command of the Garrison at Fort Worth. In 1848 the village was named in his name. Tarrant county, of which Fort Worth is county seat, was named in honor of H. Tarrant, a revolutionary war hero, Texas ranger, and state legislator.

Letters For Santa Claus

Dear Santa: I am a little boy nine years old. Please bring me a typewriter, bag of marbles, and a train. My little sister, five years old, wants you to bring her a large baby doll that will open and close her eyes, and a tricycle. My little sister, four years old, wants the same thing, and don't forget to bring us lots of candy, fruits, nuts and fireworks. And don't forget our two grandmothers, and other little children. Lots of love, S. G. Munn, Desdemona, Texas.

Dear Santa Claus: There are three of us boys. We are Elwood and Dorwood, twins, six years old, and Bobbie Jack, 3. We live west of Desdemona. We, Elwood and Dorwood, want an electric truck each, a big toy car, and some candy, fruit and nuts. Bobbie Jack wants an airplane, little truck and candy, fruit and nuts. Please don't forget the other children, especially the poor ones and the orphans. Your friends, Elwood and Dorwood and Bobbie Jack Ragland, Desdemona, Texas. P. S.—And please don't forget our friend, Obie, up on the hill.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl 11 years old. I go to Cooper school. I am in the fifth grade. I help my mother very much. I was in the fourth grade but I made a straight A card and they put me in the fifth grade. So bring me a pair of beads, a pair of gloves, a fountain pen, some note-book paper, and a note-book. Don't forget my little sister. Bring her a rubber, a rubber telephone, and a rattler. Santa, please don't forget my candy, nuts and fruit. Your little pal, Lucille Brown. P. S.—I hope you get to visit all the little children this Christmas, dear Santa, so bye-bye.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy eight years old. I want a football and a motor boat, and some candy and some apples and some nice socks and a pretty tie. I would like to have some storybooks too. Your friend, Pete Koch.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy, nine years old. I go to Cooper school. I am a very good boy at times, so please bring me a football and a sweater and scooter, and a pistol and lots of caps, some candy, nuts and fruits. Don't forget my little friends, also my two little brothers and two sisters. Your little friend, Avon Brown, 518 South Oak street, Ranger, Texas.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy three years old. I have been a good little boy. So please bring me a little red wagon with a bumper, a cap pistol and a little car, a French harp, some candy, nuts and fruit. Please remember all of my little friends. With love, your little friend, Donald Gene Brown, 518 South Oak street, Ranger, Texas.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a good little boy five years old. I help my mama, so please bring me a little wagon, a gun and scabbard, a harp and a little racer. Remember all the children. Your little friend, Bobbie Lee Brown. P. S.—Santa, I sure would like some candy, nuts and lots of good stuff to eat.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl seven years old. I am going to school in Olden. Please bring me a big ball, a little dining room suite, Shirley Temple book, and a Mickey Mouse wrist watch. Santa I hope haven't asked for too much, because I want the poor children to have something too. Lots of love to Santa, Nita Jean Maxwell. P. S.—Please bring me some fruits and candies.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy 23 months old. I have been a good little boy all my life. Santa, please bring me lots of toys such as a toy fiddle, a tractor, and an airplane, a crazy kat kart and lots of fruit, candy and nuts. Yours truly, Donald Wayne Rodgers.

Dear Santa: Please bring a BB gun, a train and a wagon to me and my little brother. Your friend, Jimmie Nabors.

Dear Santa: I am a little boy three years old and I want you to come to see me. Please bring me a cowboy suit, tricycle, electric train and a football and please remember my Daddy and Mother, also all the other little girls and boys. With love, your little friend, Danny Ray, Crane, Texas.

Dear Santa: I am a little girl four years old. Please, Santa, bring me a sleepy doll, buggy, tea set, washing machine. Please remember my Mother, also all the other little girls and boys. With lots of love, your little friend, Wanda Jean Rodgers, McCamey.

Dear Santa: I am a boy, 7 years old. I go to school and I am on the honor roll, so you see I try to be a good boy. I want you to bring me a knife, a pince box, a gun, and a football, candy, nuts and fruit, also fireworks.—Your friend, James Lawson.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a boy 8 years old. I am in the fourth grade in school and I am anxious for Christmas to come. I want you to bring me a knife, gun, a football and a tie and a fountain pen, candy, nuts and fruit, also fireworks.—Your friend, Jack Lawson.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl; will be 3 years old on Valentine Day in February. For Christmas please bring me a tricycle, a negro doll, a set of dishes, a doll in a swing, a pair of house slippers, and Mickey Mouses in a swing. Just anything else that you can spare me. Please don't forget to come to my little brother, Clinton Delaine. He is 7 months old. Oh Santa! Don't forget to bring both of us some candy, nuts, and fruits.—Your little friend, Arretta Jean Key.

FARM NEWS

Mrs. H. A. Jordan, food supply demonstrator in Mason county, has dried 50 pounds of fruits, mostly peaches, and canned 110 containers of fruits and nuts. She has a family of three may have two servings daily.

B. F. Ray of Killeen made the following observation with reference to the sheep buying program: "I believe that the sheep buying program will show a more pronounced and lasting benefit than any of the other drouth programs. It was a great drouth relief measure for the present, but more lasting benefits will result from the culling. They were culled for age, breeding, individual quality and condition. I believe that it is conservative to say that the quality of breeding base of Bell county sheep is 50 per cent better than it was before the program."

Bread crumbs from stale graham bread as well as from white bread are on the emergency shelf of Mrs. Oscar Linman, food supply demonstrator of the Lakeview Home Demonstration club in Tom Green county, who uses them for making whole wheat pancakes. Mrs. Linman says that one-half graham bread crumbs and one-half white flour makes a better pancake than either whole wheat flour or all white flour.

According to W. M. Forrest of Madison county, the 1933 cotton plow-up increased his yield this year 42 bales. He plowed up 350 acres of cotton last year and this land produced 60 pounds per acre more than did adjoining land. Those 42 bales netted Mr. Forrest around $290. He is working Trinity river bottom land which he did not think needed fertilizer, but is now convinced that some leguminous cover crop turned under on his land would be a profitable investment.

RICHMOND—At the end of her first year's work in yard improvement, Mrs. L. E. Elkins of Fort Bend county has a total of 105 permanent shrubs and trees in her yard, according to Miss Loris J. Welhausen, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Elkins began with an uneven, weed-grown yard containing only one evergreen shrub and three fruit trees.

Cuttings and plants were secured from neighbors and from the woods. As a background for the home, 50 evergreen shrubs were set out. The broad lawn is well sodded, and a cutting bed set out this fall contains enough wax ligustrum, oleander, hibiscus, lantana and rose cuttings to complete the planting of the borders.

COOPER—By more than filling her farm food budget, Mrs. Oz Jeter of Delta county has provided enough canned food for her family for the winter, according to Miss Mary Louise Ramsey, home demonstration agent. She has not canned the meat yet or made her green tomato pickle, but she has 753 quarts of leafy vegetables, starchy vegetables, other vegetables, fruits and fruit juices, tomatoes and tomato juice, preserves and jelly, and pickles and relish. In addition, she has provided 1020 pounds of cured starchy vegetables, 250 pounds of cured meat, three bushels of other vegetables, 10 gallons of lard, six gallons of syrup, and 10 gallons of honey. Mrs. Jeter has assisted five non-club women in canning their farm food supply for the winter.

PERRYTON—Six old chairs which she had discarded have been refinished by Mrs. W. M. Good of the Notia Home Demonstration club in Ochiltree county, by removing the varnish, repairing the chairs, and tanning hides to use for new bottoms on the chairs, according to Miss Marie Ludwick, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Good learned to tan hides and make them into chair bottoms at the rural work center at A. & M. college last summer.

EASTLAND—Terracing and deep plowing gave Homer White of Eastland county a bumper crop of hegari this year where his neighbors who planted hegari or other grain cornhusks on unterraced land and cultivated it in the usual manner made only dwarfed stalks of fodder, according to J. C. Patterson, farm demonstration agent. Mr. White reports that he grew approximately two tons of hegari heads per acre.

Terracing work on this farm was completed last winter and immediately rows were laid off with the contour. The land was plowed as deep as the teams could pull a bull tongue plow. Heavy spring rains soaked the ground thoroughly and a reserve supply of water was held in the deeply plowed land.

AUSTIN—Six hundred and sixty-seven new orchards have been started in Travis county during the past three years as the result of an orchard program carried on by the 4-T club members of the county, according to T. H. Royder, farm demonstration agent. The number of trees in the orchards has been increased from 2,614 to 6,869, showing an increase of 4,255 trees. Of these, 1,384 were donated by a local civic organization while 2,871 were bought by the club members themselves. Twelve different kinds of fruits are grown in the orchard.

GOLIAD—A profit of $630.16 above all feed costs was made on a flock of 383 hens in 1934 by Walter Dietzel of Goliad county, according to K. J. Edwards, farm demonstration agent. Two years ago Mr. Dietzel was making a very low profit and showed a large percentage of culls. At that time, he changed to a breed of white leghorn hens recommended by Edwards and followed methods advocated by the extension service. During the past year his hens laid an average of 185.4 eggs per bird for the year.

TEXAS CENTENNIAL HALF DOLLAR

Now Ready for Distribution at Eastland National Bank

"A Keepsake for Texas' Sake"

YESTERDAY: Men pressed forward in the sun, and shouts arose from the hillside . . . The dead lay covered in dust, and the living gasped chokingly in the heat . . .

YESTERDAY: The blue night settled about the hills, and faint shadows from the moonlight spread around the still, human forms upon the ground . . . The Battle of San Jacinto had been fought—Texans had left their homes, had sacrificed their wives and children, had given their lives—but the Battle of San Jacinto had been won!

TODAY: Texas honors her heroes. Texas treasures freedom. After a hundred years of progress, Texas looks into the Future.

TODAY: Texas Centennial Half-Dollars are on sale at your local bank. TODAY every loyal Texan is asked to buy a keepsake of Texas—his memorial of patriotism, his individual contribution to the building of a Texas State Museum. The Texas Centennial Half-Dollar—a coin of beauty, designed by the famous sculptor, Pompeo Coppini—not only commemorates Texas' hundredth birthday, but is as invaluable as the glorious history it portrays.

TODAY: You can buy a Texas Centennial Half-Dollar, so that TOMORROW you can point with pride to a new victory, a new memorial—

A Texas State Memorial Museum

Texas needs a State museum. Come on Rangers let's do our part. Mayor Harry A. Logsdon will inaugurate the sale of these coins, by auctioning off to the highest bidder the first two coins to arrive in Ranger, at the Arcadia Theatre Friday night, Dec. 21, 1934, 9:00 p. m. Be on hand and ready to bid, you'll want this No. 1 and No. 2 coin. The balance of the centennial coins will be sold for one dollar at the Commercial State Bank, get yours before they are all gone. By so doing you are helping make possible a $750,000.00 museum for Texas, and securing a wonderful keepsake of Texas for yourself.

Friday Sub-Deb club meets 4 p. m., with Miss Catherine Garrett. Christmas tree and gift exchange.

Young Womens Association, candy party, 6:30 p. m., Baptist church.

Community Christmas tree, south side courthouse square. Program opens 6:30 p. m.

Tree for Junior Class This evening the children of the junior class of the Methodist church Sunday school will be entertained with a Christmas tree and gift distribution in the junior room at 7 o'clock, with a program to follow.

The tree and entertainment is under supervision of Meses. W. F. Davenport, A. F. Taylor, H. O. Satterwhite, I. J. Killough, Herman Hague, L. C. Brown, and Ernest H. Jones.

Auxiliary and Firemens Christmas Party The Ladies Auxiliary and the Firemens department combined in entertaining their members, families and children with a Christmas tree Tuesday night in the room set apart for their meeting in the city hall.

Pretty decorations and a brilliantly lighted tree arrayed in red and green baubles and icicles, set on a snow base, held the many gifts for the children.

The entertainment was in charge of Mrs. R. E. Kilborn, chairman of program, and opened with the ensemble singing of "Silent Night," "Jingle Bells," and "The Froreboys Ditty," to the tune of "Home on the Range."

Attractive Christmas readings were given by small children, Betty Glen Cox and Merline Griffin. Several games had awards of an ash tray, and an atomizer, going to W. A. Martin and Waveny Overbey.

George Parvin, the Santa Claus, in fur-trimmed costume, distributed the gifts from the tree, and the sacks of candies for grownups and children.

Home-made candies were the refreshments enjoyed after a jolly and merry evening.

Auxiliary Met Tuesday The Church of God Ladies Auxiliary met at the church Tuesday, Dec. 18, at 3 p. m.

As this was the regular mission study day Mrs. E. W. Barnett had charge. Japan and its different religions were studied.

Meeting opened with song.

AUTO LOANS—Want a loan on your car? Let me make you an offer. Frank Lovett, 208 South Lamar, Eastland, Phone 33.

"Where He Leads Me I Will Follow," followed with prayer by Mrs. W. P. Weatherall of Olden. Those giving talks on these different religions were "First Shintoism, the First Original Belief of Japan," by Mrs. R. K. Williamson.

Mrs. C. F. Ford of Olden read a paper on Confucianism, a later religion of the Japanese, and Mrs. Barnett explained Buddhism.

The ladies have ordered 50 song books for the church and expect to have them for Christmas.

There will be no meeting until Jan. 8, 1935.

South Ward P. T. A. Mrs. J. Frank Sparks, president of the Parent-Teacher association of the South Ward school, opened their session Tuesday afternoon, held in the upstairs assembly-room of school, and presented Mrs. C. A. Horn, program chairman, who conducted the round-table, opened with subject, "Teaching a Child to Help in the Home," by Mrs. Johnny Hart, and "Budgeting the Home," by Mrs. P. L. Crossley.

Mrs. A. F. Taylor and Miss Pannill presented the boys' choral club, in two fine numbers.

Mrs. F. E. Jacobs of Ranger, district president of the P. T. A., who substituted for Mrs. C. E. Maddocks of Ranger, unable at the final moment to attend, gave a most interesting report of the convention of the P. T. A. at Corpus Christi, emphasizing the program and social features, and explaining the integral purpose of a P. T. A.

Mrs. A. C. Simmons, principal of the school, told of the many things the association has done for the South Ward school in the last several years.

Adjournment was taken to the cafeteria for the social period and Christmas tree.

Each member of faculty was presented a gift from the association, a makeup box for those in single blessedness, and table chimes for the married members, by Mrs. Sparks and Mrs. Pitzer.

Jim Carter was presented a cigarette holder; Mr. Herring, the caretaker of building, a box of handkerchiefs, and Mrs. Sparks, president of P. T. A., a handsome clothes brush.

Tables centered with flowers were arranged for refreshments by Mrs. Guy Patterson, chairman. Wee lighted Christmas tapers in candy holders graced each plate of green and red-bread sandwiches, individual date nut pie with whipped cream topping, and coffee.

Mrs. Charles Fagg Hostess The Bridge Luncheon club was entertained by Mrs. Charles Fagg Tuesday at 1 o'clock at her home on South Seaman street.

The rooms were charmingly decorated in Christmas motif, and the dining-room where the three luncheon tables were grouped was illumined by the brilliantly lighted Christmas tree, dressed in the prevailing red and green colors.

Luncheon tables were centered with the Christmas place cards and red and green candles.

The luncheon plate of roasted meat, creamed potatoes in hulls, hot rolls, string beans, had cinnamon-apple salad for second course, and last course of plum pudding with hard sauce, and coffee.

In the bridge game, high score and second high score favors, a half dozen silver hot plate mats, and a blue crystal bowl, were awarded Mrs. S. J. Petty and Mrs. Frank Hightower.

High and low cut-for-all, a pair of linen finger tip towels, and set of cottage napkins, went to Mrs. Carl Hill and Mrs. Hubert Jones.

Other members present were Meses. J. F. Collins, Ben Hamner, Hugh Cockerell, C. W. Geue, Jack Ammer, and Roy Birmingham. Guests were Meses. W. H. McDonald, Frank Hightower, and Mrs. Tom Wynne of Big Spring.

Children in the woods; Sonoma Rudman, Fritz Huffman; Jack Germany and Neal Patterson. "The small boy," Jone McFarland; and Santa, by Pete Pegues.

"Two little girls," were played by Laura Lee Herring, and Ethel Sparr, and "Mother Nature," by Mary Pare. The story was allegorical, and very cleverly done.

Mrs. F. O. Hunter presented the glee club, in an Italian folk song, of Christmas and a carol by Johann Sebastian Bach, from the Christmas oratorio, beautifully sung, with Ruth Meek as pianist for numbers.

In the business session Miss Thonton's room was awarded the $2 prize for best room mother attendance. It was voted to appropriate $7 to be spent during Christmas week for the needy children of the school.

Forty-two members attended. Early adjournment was taken to accept the South Ward P. T. A. invitation to hear Mrs. Jacobs of Ranger, the guest speaker.

Beethoven Junior Music Club Entertained Anna Jane Taylor, president of the Beethoven Junior Music club, was hostess and presiding officer of their session held at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. F. Taylor, Tuesday afternoon. Program opened with Christmas carols, by assembly, and with a piano solo, Joyce Newman; a biography of Handel by Billie Gage; and "Chromatic Folks," piano, Anna Jane Taylor.

The program concluded with the piano solo, "Gondolied," by Gladys Hoffmann.

Eleanor Harper was the leader of the program.

A lovely Christmas tree brilliant in its icicles and lights, held the gift exchange of toys, which, after enjoying, were returned to the tree to be sent as the member's gift to the community Christmas tree.

The diversion, a game, read by Mrs. Taylor, "The Night Before Christmas," was illustrated by the girls with drawings on construction paper, as the story progressed. These clever pencilings were pinned to the wall, and were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Taylor presented each guest a pretty handkerchief, that were hung on the tree. Refreshments of red and green fruit jello, whipped cream topping, Christmas cookies with red and green icing; candies, and tea, were served with dainty appointments to Gladys Hoffmann, Ruby Lee Pritchard, Martin Jean Lister, Joyce Newman, Billie Gage, Josephine Murphy, Betty Jo Newman, Anna Jane Taylor; Mrs. Nath Pirkle and Geraldine Pirkle of Ranger, and Mrs. A. F. Taylor, club director.

"A Visit to Santa" The Sue G. Spencer kindergarten will present the playlet, "A Visit to Santa," at the Christian church, at 7 o'clock tonight, with 16 little people in the cast. The entertainment is open to the public.

Junior Thursday Club Christmas Tree Party The Junior Thursday club held a very delightful Christmas party in the community clubrooms, Tuesday night, with Mrs. Jack Ammer as club hostess in charge of entertainment.

The clubroom was magnificently decorated in silver Christmas trees and branches of silver powdered cedar.

The card tables had red covers with Christmas seals, and Christmas cards for tallies.

The traveling prize, for the 100 honor score, a pretty tea pot, was awarded Mrs. Earl Conner Jr., and contract favor, a hand-made luncheon set, went to Miss Marjorie Spencer.

High score favor in auction, a pair of bisque figurines, was awarded Miss Thelma Harris.

After the Christmas tree gift exchange of clever toys, the presents were packed in a basket to be sent the community Christmas tree.

Refreshments were served of home-baked chocolate cake, Christmas candies, and tea.

Catherine Cornelius Has Birthday Party Mrs. Victor Cornelius opened her home on East Main street to a host of young friends of her daughter Miss Catherine Cornelius, in honor of her eighth birthday.

The house was decorated in Christmas colors. Each one present received a gift off the Christmas tree. Games were played.

The gay group adjourned to the dining room where the table with the birthday cake of green and red was cut by the young hostess. Hot chocolate was served.

Present were Wilma Keith, Julia Brown, Helen Lucas, Sue Bender, Elinor Ruth Gattis, Fay Butler, Dorothy Lou Johnson, Frances Dickerson, Billie Floy Hunt, Harry Charles Lucas Jr., Buddy Dickerson, Norma Nell and Evelyn Blanche of Ranger, J. T. and Billy Falcher of Ranger, Bessie Lou Solita and Sam Cornelius of Abilene. Hostesses were Catherine Cornelius and Mrs. Victor Cornelius.

Miss Bernice Johnson To Spend Holidays Here Miss Bernice Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Johnson, will arrive home Friday for the Christmas holidays. Miss Johnson is a senior in Texas Christian university at Fort Worth.

Miss Johnson is majoring in music. T. C. U., being enrolled this semester in four courses in her major, one in history and one in education.

She is a member of the Women's Athletic association, the Music club, the Glee club, the Amper-sand, Alpha Chi.

ous manner of Mr. Herring and his co-workers the store has enjoyed a large patronage in this community. He is full of energy and likes to do things for his customers as well as for the community in general.

Of course one cannot pass by the offices and sales-room of the Community Natural Gas Company without going in whether the bill is due or not. Everything is so Santa Clausy in there that good cheer just abounds in all the nooks and corners.

Frank Williams, who is the "big cheese" so to speak of the works is always smiling from one end of his ear to the other, and then there is one of Eastland's most popular young matrons, Mrs. Clarence Keen, who bobs around the office here and there and her radiant smile is always handy.

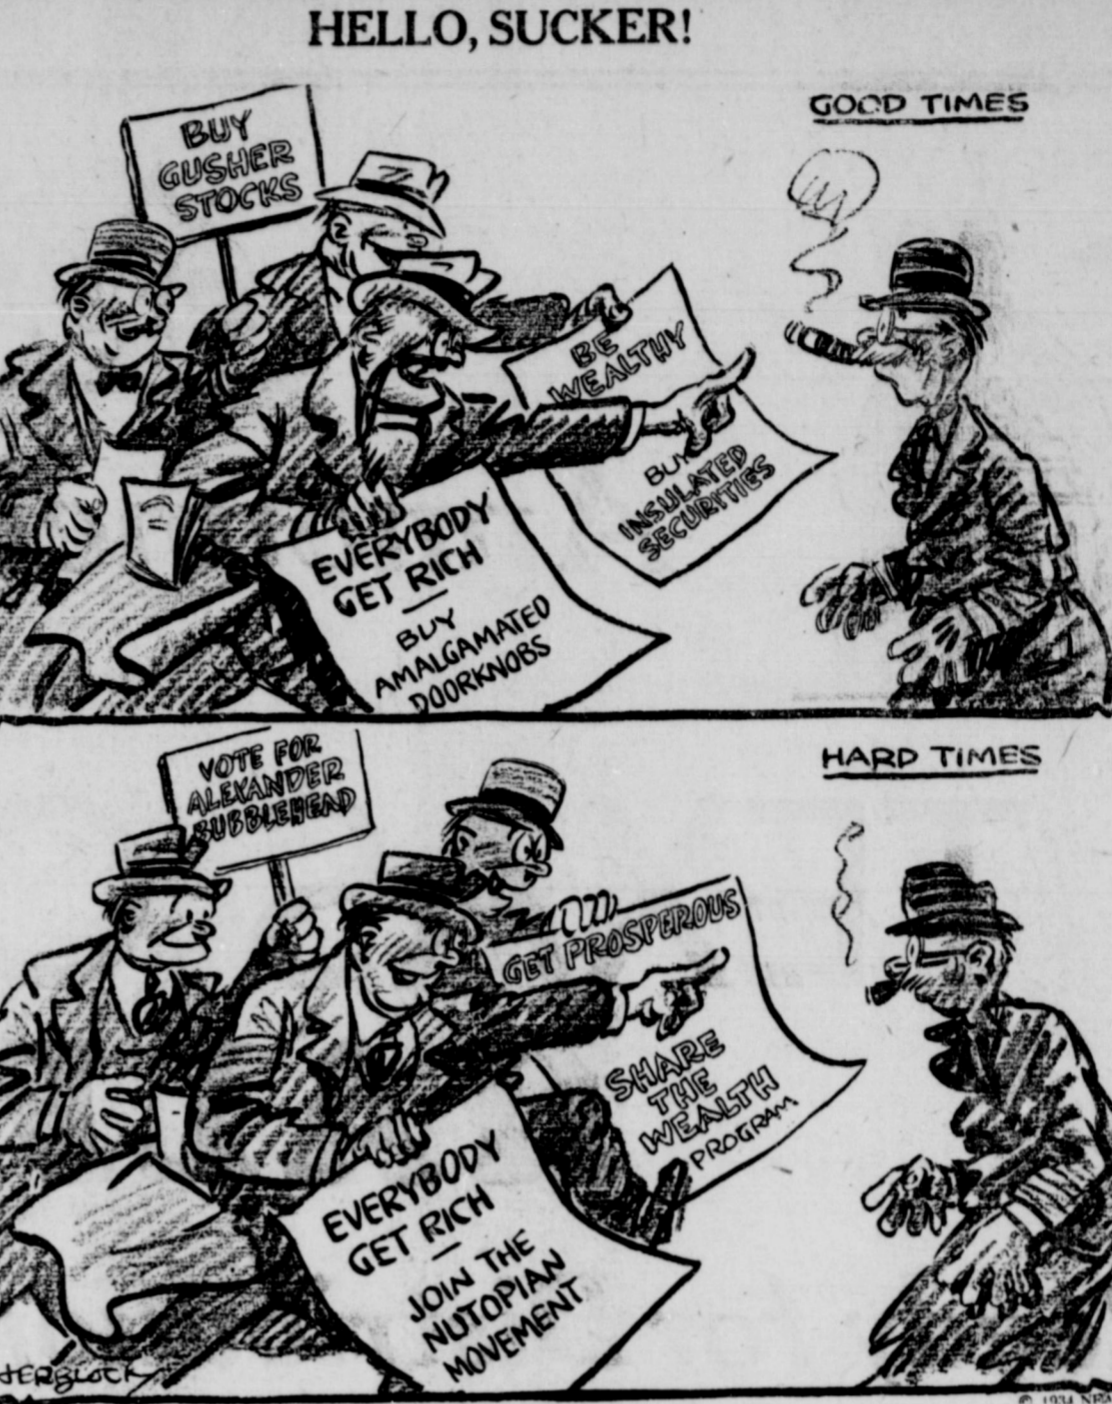

The displays of hot water heaters, beautiful gas ranges attractive heaters and other gas accessories including the newest improvement in gas refrigeration are so neatly arranged that temptation to buy is hard to resist. It is worth commendation to mention the wonderful service this organization is rendering to the citizens of Eastland and naturally when ever anything worth while comes up they are among the first to respond for the best interests of the entire community.

Curtis Kimbrell, who ramrods the Kimbrell Hardware Company is certainly in the official ranking class of goodfellows as well as excellent business courtesy and efficiency. His stocks are always complete in anything in hardware and accessories. International trucks are also a part of the service of this wonderful and attractive store.

Right now the store is full of extra Christmas specials. Naturally Mrs. Kimbrell lends a most charming and inviting atmosphere to the store by her sincere smiles and remarkable personality. The entire force of the Kimbrell Hardware Company make up for what it takes to build a good business and make folks satisfied with their town and community.

Well, well, here we come to George, Earnest and Sam, who operate the Majestic Cafe, one of West Texas' best. Good coffee is the ten o'clock temptation in this instance and where is there a better place to get it than here? For many years these popular cafe operators have been serving thousands of folks with good and palatable eats and they never fail in their responsibility to their fellow man in the manner of civic work. They are kind, charitable and a visit there is always worth while and the food is par-excellent.

And now comes the place that makes any body's mouth water—and the best candy-makers this side of the country. Nick and Jim Pratley who really run the Palace of Sweets, and it certainly is what the name implies. Right now they have a most attractive line of Christmas candies in all kinds of choiceness. Beautiful boxes been rendered, and besides he has two shining inspirations—of the place in the instance—of the sweet children—a fine boy and lovely daughter. They are so justly interested in Santa Claus about this time and don't hesitate to do a lot of talking about it. Mrs. Lucas, while not always on the job around the works, however is always handy to see the things are moving along allright. Her pleasing personality gives one an insight as to why Charlie is one of the best filling station operators and tire dealers in this station.

In making the rounds of country there are so many that even though they were not visited, know that they are of the very best in their respective line, whether big or little. If we have not mentioned them it is not because they are not the best, but because they are better than the best. Folks can always find what they want in Eastland, and the can always find the kind of folks operating the businesses that like to trade with. Now it begins about time to lay away the proverbial pen, or rest the two fingers that peek these lines, were dropping in to the Court. Can operated by "Little Nick" as a good people always call this huling cafe operator and drink a cup of good steaming coffee and indirectly eat a piece of pie, which ways brings a grateful yum yum for having such an opportunity get good eats such as "Nice serves. So now we saved a little more space after visiting the Ly Theatre and seeing a good picture Marlene Dietrich in "The Scarlet Empress." We can't help but give a little injection of good will to everybody's friend, Johnny Bur who manages the thing. With exception of an occasional slip which is rare, Johnny brings Eastland the most outstanding picture plays that are made, and his entire crew know how to operate a theatre in such a manner that folks like to go there. The Scarlet Woman is on again tonight.

A new third party, astrology predict, will take the presidency away from Roosevelt in 1936. The NRA must have neglected the stargazers, too.

es for gift purposes are a most important feature of the Yuletide remembrance portion of sweets for mother, sweetheart or friend. Their fountain service is of the very best and everything is so nice and clean from top to bottom. Cigarettes and smokers needs are here in abundance. Both of the Pratley Brothers are the height of courtesy and their personality always inspires those who go there. Its always a pleasure to patronize this most popular business.

Its about noon time and we're making a dive for the Club Cafe, operated by "Big Nick" the term which he is affectionately known by his hundreds of friends and patrons, for a bowl of soup, and boy can he make it. "Nick" knows his restaurant business and he always serves one with that come back expression in good eats.

Had to drop by Lucas Service station to fill up this time with the good Humble gasoline and oil. Just as soon as one drives into that station Charlie greets the gas hose and begins to fill'er up and hustles windshield wiper, tire filler and all around filling man in these parts begins to do his stuff and before one knows it its all over, clean, up to the minute and well done. Besides operating the only Humble station in Eastland Charlie features Goodrich Tires, and when he gets through telling about them a customer is sold, and he always tells the truth about the service that Goodrich tires renders. He also handles a complete line of accessories and batteries. One never leaves Charlie's place without feeling that a good service has

Give them a Gift with a name they know. When they open those packages Christmas morning, will they all say, "Just what I hoped for! I've heard about it and read about it and wanted one so much"!
