WILL PROVIDE ALL WITH JOBS AND SECURITY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—President Roosevelt charted today before a joint session of congress, the outlines of a new American economic order, to make individuals and families in this country secure.

He revealed the New Deal's second phase. Major factors of the program which he asked congress to enact:

- 1—Provide every able-bodied individual with a job. 2—Abandon the dole system of relief. 3—Transfer relief of unemployed to local authorities. 4—Old age and unemployment insurance, plus a start toward benefits for children, mothers and others handicapped by dependency or illness. 5—Unification of all emergency public works in a new and greatly enlarged plan. 6—Orderly displacement of the federal emergency relief administration by the new emergency works agency.

He assured congress his program would "be within the sound credit of the government." Mr. Roosevelt spoke in the hall of the House of Representatives. Senators and representatives jammed the floor, visitors galleries overflowed.

Mr. Roosevelt said the outlines of the new economic order had become apparent. He laid down a new policy of living for the American people. In past years, he said, reform had become confused and frustrated because it was attempted in piecemeal fashion.

"As a result," he continued, "evils overlap. We lose sight from time to time of our ultimate human objectives." "In spite of our efforts and in spite of our talk, we have not weeded out the over-privileged and we have not effectively lifted up the under-privileged."

But the President said the New Deal had a clear mandate from the American people that excessive profits and undue private and public affairs as well, must be fore-sworn. He said he did not seek to "divide our wealth into equal shares on stated occasions."

PONTIAC ANNOUNCES 14

A new low-priced six now joins an improved straight eight to form the 19-model line of cars presented by the Pontiac Motor company for 1935. Closely approaching the lowest price field for the first time Pontiac's two new cars should reap an increase of the total of the industry's business. The new six will be available both in standard and deluxe models.

The wheelbase of the six is 112 inches as compared with 117 inches for the eight. In appearance, it duplicates closely the modern streamlining of the eight.

Both Pontiac chassis have ample power for the modern mode of high speed travel. The six-cylinder engine develops 81 horsepower at 65 miles an hour, while the straight eight delivers 84 horsepower at 70 miles an hour.

A comparison of the straight eight with that of last year, reveals many improvements and refinements that also are included in the new six.

Briefly, they are: A marked change in appearance; new Fisher solid-steel "turret-top" bodies; built-in luggage space; concealed spare tires; "V" type windshield; greater width in both front and rear seats; divided a holding back front seats in two-door sedans; new instrument panel; packages; hydraulic brakes with double and triple sealed drums; new action clutch; automatic choke in the eight; air cool generator with voltage regulator; interchangeable main and connecting rod bearings; silver alloy connecting rod bearings; steel spoked wheels; increased steering gear ratio; knee-action units (except on standard six) mounted on rigid tubular cross member, and new radiator and hood grilles.

"THE BARRETTS OF WIMPOLE STREET," STIRRING ROMANCE PORTRAYED TO PERFECTION

In Norma Shearer's new picture, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," now playing at the Lyric theatre, we have the pleasure of seeing three winners of the annual Motion Picture Academy Award appear together.

They are Miss Shearer, who stars as Elizabeth in the famous tale of poetic love; Frederic March, who plays opposite as the ardent Robert Browning, and Charles Laughton, most recent winner of the award, who shines as the diabolical father.

First 1935 Baby's Birth Is Reported

Dr. F. T. Isbell has reported the birth of the first 1935 baby which automatically qualifies it as the one to receive awards offered by Eastland merchants.

Dr. Isbell reported the birth of Baby Pounds, born to Mr. and Mrs. Hubert C. Pounds of Route 2, Eastland, at 8:30 p. m., Wednesday.

According to the birth certificate accompanying the announcement, the girl weighed 10 pounds. Both mother and daughter are reported "doing fine." The parents and baby will receive awards from the following Eastland merchants: Modern Dry Cleaners and Dyers, City Market & Grocery, The Men's Shop, Kenny's Corner Drug Store, Harvey Chevrolet Company, Texas Electric Service Company, Eastland National Bank, Toombs & Richardson Drug Store, Beskow Jewelry & Optical Company, The Fashion, J. C. Penney company, L. C. Burr Store.

SWEETHEARTS OF SONG

Bing Crosby and Kittle Carlisle, the singing sweethearts of "She Loves Me Not," join hands and voices again in the leading roles of Paramount's "Here Is My Heart," at the Lyric Theatre Monday and Tuesday. Three new songs were composed especially for them by Robin and Rainger, authors of "Love in Bloom." The new songs are "June in January," "With Every Breath I Take" and "Love Is Just Around the Corner."

That Reminds Me

"hunch" from the basement up will come away from there feeling that they have been places and met the finest citizenship that any community can "brag" about. It was not our first and it won't be our last.

We are in receipt this morning of a certificate from Dr. William P. Lee of Cisco who reported the birth of James Ray Stewart, born to Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Stewart of 608 West 12th street, Cisco, born at 10:20 a. m., Wednesday, Jan. 2. As the contest was advertised to be closed by 12 noon Thursday and Dr. T. F. Isbell made the report of Baby Pounds within the time the awarding of the prizes went to Baby Pounds. We regret that the information came too late. However we know that every body in Eastland wishes every thing good for little James Ray Stewart and his fortunate parents.

We're paging the "Terrible Tempered Mr. Bang" all for the reason that something in town and we get complaints from all sides, is throwing monkey wrench interference into radio reception these days. . . and if the thing can't be remedied then what's the use to have a radio. . . Most any program. . . particularly the good ones are all spoiled by the constant buzzing of whatever the interference is. . . We don't know whether it can be fixed or not. . . but if it can it should be done.

REMINDS ME—ADD

Again just before closing this column Dr. T. G. Jackson gives us the information that a fine boy James Bryant, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dock Martin of Carbon January 31 at 1:30 p. m. Unfortunately this information was not furnished in line with the time limit of closing the contest and the winner had already been announced in the columns of the Chronicle Friday morning. Again all and every body wishes for the little fellow and his parents the best of every thing in the future years to come.

And by the way. . . it didn't slip our mind. . . but our good friend Marion Seaberry, hustling and extra fine Constable with offices in the J. P. Department didn't happen to be in and the fact that he is a good official for the best interests of the people in his work makes it doubly necessary that we give him honorable mention in these columns.

There is one retiring official who we cannot overlook from the fact that he conscientiously and ably represented the people of this legislative district and that is Hon. Oscar Chastain. He was diligent and faithful in the performance of handling the legislative affairs of the state and was regarded by his colleagues as a man of unusual ability. Mr. Chastain was a candidate for Congress during the past election and did not offer re-election for the legislature. He conducted his campaign in an honorable manner and confined his remarks to the issues involved as he saw them and was one candidate who did not throw "unscrupulous bricks" at the heads of his opponents. He is a man of pleasing personality and has lots of friends.

Cereal Concern Increases Wages

BATTLE CREEK Mich., Jan. 3.—During the present economic upset volume and wage scales have been increased by the Kellogg Company, world's largest manufacturer of ready-to-eat cereals, while employment during 1934 was nearly 20 per cent greater than in 1929. Advertising and sales promotion will be at a high watermark for the company during 1935.

"Throughout the major part of the past few years our plants have operated on a 24-hour-a-day schedule, with the 6-hour day working shift and the highest wage scale ever paid our employees.

"The Kellogg Company has employed many advertising media in helping to gain these objectives. Each has performed a valuable function but since the earliest days of the Kellogg Company, newspaper advertising has been the backbone of our effort.

"Cooperation of the newspapers and the flexibility of this type of advertising have enabled us to concentrate our efforts where they are most needed, with a minimum of delay, and have proved to us over and over again the outstanding value of newspaper advertising. "We face 1935 with even greater confidence born of our experience during the past three years."

CROSBY ENACTS LIGHT COMEDY ROLE IN PICTURE

Bing Crosby's new Paramount picture, "Here Is My Heart," coming Monday to the Lyric theatre presents America's favorite radio singer with another opportunity to display his comedy talent as well as his singing ability.

Adapted from a play by Alfred Savoir, "Here Is My Heart," is a bright and frivolous little comedy written about a millionaire crooner's heroic courtship of a haughty princess.

Kitty Carlisle is cast as the princess, opposite Crosby, and Alison Skipworth, Donald Young and Reginald Owen are prominent in the supporting cast.

That panhandler makes the best living whose story is the most touching.

PETER'S CONVERSION AND CALL
John 1:35-42; Mark 1:14-18

In the spring of 27 A. D., John had been preaching at Bethany and had gone out on the lower Jordan with two disciples, Andrew and another looking upon Jesus as he said, "Behold the Lamb of God!"

Andrew had already identified Jesus in his preaching as the Lamb of God, and the disciples followed him to find his place of abode.

In answer to their question Jesus said to them to come with him and they spent the day with him.

No greater picture could be painted: Christ, the river Jordan, the earnest disciples, one of whom was bringing Peter to face the Christ.

One look at the divine compassion shining from the eyes of Christ was enough for the impetuous Peter. He believed Christ was the Messiah.

Christ with his divine comprehension saw Peter in his strength and in his weakness and said, "Thou art Simon the son of Jonah; thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone."

Christ saw Peter not only as a fisherman but as a man who could and would grow in faith and knowledge. Some day he would be called a stone and his faith be of such faith upon which Christ could build his church. Such faith was not accomplished in a day but by a slow and painful process of growth as he stumbled along often doubting and denying but always coming back to the divine experience of grace in his heart when he met Jesus face to face.

A year later, John was in prison when "Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of God," telling people to repent and warning them that the time of the gospel was at hand.

The Sea of Galilee is a beautiful lake or body of water, 13 miles long and seven and a half miles wide. It is 682 feet below the level of the Mediterranean sea and its blue waters are fresh, clear and many fish are found in its depths.

When Jesus was passing along by the Sea of Galilee, "He saw Simon and Andrew, the brother of Simon, casting a net in the sea; for they were fishers."

Simon and Andrew had been converted the year before but were still following their trade with new eagerness and happiness because of the hope in their hearts.

Jesus saw and understood their faith and character.

"And Jesus said unto them, 'Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. And

Texas Lame Ducks

Study now being made for Governor-elect James V. Allred of the expiration dates of all state terms of office may lead to a lame duck statute making the dates uniform. County offices have been standardized, terms running to the beginning of a calendar year.

The same study should likely lead to a lot of other confusion over dates affecting the state. The state's fiscal year ends Aug. 31, as compared with the federal year ending June 30. No revenue bills, except by remote chance, ever become effective at the beginning of either a calendar or a state fiscal year. Always there remains at least half a year of budget appropriations from a previous legislature before the current body can revise the scope or rates of state expenditure, except by special enactment on individual items.

Legislative sessions start on the second Tuesdays of odd years, and the governor is inaugurated the third Tuesday of such year.

Some past governors have urged the fiscal year be made to conform to the calendar year. In comparison with the "lame duck" congressional act, a new system of inaugurating all state officers, and starting the legislature on Jan. 1 of alternate years, and opening up a new leaf in the state's business and accounts, would give the state government even greater convenience than attained in the national policy.

Texas schools suffered the financial pinch as keenly as any other public service. That, despite the shifting of certain state taxes temporarily to their benefit. But the shifting of these taxes ran the state's general fund deficit up about $3,000,000 or its present nine-million total. Except for this emergency aid, the general fund would be in considerably better position than it was two years ago.

Substantial delinquent tax payments during 1934 contributed to the result of holding the deficit down.

Sponsors of every chief new tax bill propose to wipe out all the state deficit within a two-year or some similar period. But the deficit is recurrent from year to year. The treasury has never operated more than four years without a deficit, even though technically it has been kept on cash-basis regulations for longer periods, so far as ability of warrant holders to cash their warrants was concerned.

the Tennessee Valley program, have come to think of the T. V. A. as the biggest thing of its kind in existence.

Yet this week they saw a report of the Mississippi valley committee of the public works administration, outlining projects of flood control, navigation, power development, irrigation, community building, soil protection and afforestation, and social balance program for the peoples of the vast territory that far outranks in scope of activity and in the volume of money concerned, the entire TVA undertaking.

A dozen major rivers, including the Red River which touch Texas are within the Mississippi basin. A completely-organized outline of projects has been worked out, in one of the most imposing units of the government's program of making over the country in the service of mankind.

The greatest need of any city is for its citizens to get together, think together and work together to make a better, busier city.

Too many motorists seem to think that if they have the right of way they can proceed regardless. That is a great mistake.

Did you ever notice . . . in a roomful of people . . . the difference between one cigarette and another . . . and wonder why Chesterfields have such a pleasing aroma

Many things have to do with the aroma of a cigarette . . . the kind of tobaccos they are made of . . . the way the tobaccos are blended . . . the quality of the cigarette paper.

IT takes good things to make good things. Someone said that to get the right aroma in a cigarette, you must have the right quantity of Turkish tobacco—and that's right. But it is also true that you get a pleasing aroma from the home-grown tobaccos . . . tobaccos filled with Southern Sunshine, sweet and ripe.

When these tobaccos are all blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way, balanced one against the other, you get a flavor and fragrance that's different from other cigarettes.

Eastland Man an Arkansas Girl Wed

Mrs. Edwina Raines announces the marriage of her son, Weldon Raines, to Miss Lona Wilson of Fort Smith, Ark., on Monday, Dec. 24, at 4 p. m., at home of the bride's mother, in that city.

The ring ceremony was used by the officiating clergyman of the Baptist church. The bride was robed in a midnight blue going-away suit.

The young couple left immediately after the ceremony in company with the groom's mother, Mrs. Raines, to visit her in this city until Thursday.

The former Miss Wilson was stenographer for an insurance company of Fort Smith, where her family were pioneers.

Mr. Raines is employed by the Cornish and Baker Studio company of Kansas City, Mo., and the young couple will make that city their home, where Mr. Raines has resided since last summer.

Book Club Meeting

Mrs. Walter I. Clark was hostess at her home on South Seaman street, Wednesday afternoon, to the Book club, which opened its usual routine under direction of their president, Mrs. Curtis A. Hertig, with minutes read by the secretary, Mrs. Virgil T. Seaberry.

The report of the Book club Christmas week dance was made, and showed a large sum cleared. Of this, the club will make a gift of $25 to the library for the purchase of books.

The president appointed the committees for the spring program of study, of whom two each month will plan the book reviews, and secure the readers.

Mrs. Wesley Hall was announced as the next book review reader, on Jan. 16, at 3 p. m., in community clubhouse.

The book will be Edna St. Vincent-Del Millias' "Wine From These Grapes," a poetical work.

The next meeting at residence will be held 3:30 p. m., the first Wednesday in February at home of Mrs. W. E. Chaney.

Mrs. W. B. Collie and Mrs. H. M. Condley Honored

The home of Mrs. B. M. Collie was opened to friends with a morning coffee, Wednesday, honoring Mrs. W. B. Collie and Mrs. Horace M. Condley, who are leaving to make their respective homes elsewhere.

Mrs. Collie will be for several months with Mr. Collie in Austin, and Mrs. Condley leaves in a few days with Mr. Condley for Cisco.

The hostesses were Mrs. T. J.

The Texas Centennial Celebrations of 1936

Early one morning the residents of presidio of Mission San Luis de las Amarillas gathered at the gate to bid farewell to one of their priests, Father Verela. He was going back to the Queretaro school in Mexico; the first to leave the new presidio. Discouraged over the lack of Indians to convert, and positive that no good would ever come of the mission on the San Saba River, he felt it his duty to leave. A short time later, two other priests left. Don Pedro de Terreros, chief Padre, tried to spend as much time as he could with his people, lest they become aware that he felt keenly his responsibility to them. Only three priests were with him at San Luis, and it would be defeat indeed if they were to leave.

The little post in the wilderness continued to exist, though the days were chiefly monotonous succession of hours. The Apaches came often, but only for presents or buffalo meat. Each time, they thanked the fathers for the invitation to come live in the mission but they insisted that their enemies, the Comanches, were on the warpath, and they did not wish to be discovered and attacked.

From afar off the 237 residents (200 of whom were men) could hear the rumble of the stage coach wheels over the hard earth. Days when the supply train came in from San Antonio de Valero were the bright ones in the lives of those pioneers, shut off almost entirely from civilization. Letters from home, fresh food, news of other missions and presidios, and needed supplies were seized with the joy and anticipation of long weeks of patient waiting. When the supply train returned to San Antonio, it took news of the common, every-day tasks of the people: changing the watch, guarding the cattle and horses, bringing in firewood, and giving of presents to Apaches.

March 1758 brought a change—and with it disaster. The arrival of the long-heralded Comanches changed the life at the presidio as well as the feelings of the Spaniards toward them and the Apaches.

NEVADA ELK TO TRAVEL

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—Elk from Yellowstone National Park are expected to be transported to Charleston Park, near here, during the early part of 1935. The herd of approximately 40 elk will be for "show purposes only." O. W. Yates local official in charge of the shipment, said. Hunters will not be allowed to shoot the animals.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER CHURCH Sunday will be the Feast of the Epiphany. It is also known as Little Christmas. Epiphany means manifesting or showing and it is believed that it was on this day that the Wise Men came and Christ showed himself to them, representing the Gentiles. For many centuries the anniversary of Christ's birth was celebrated on Jan. 6, and some Christians still celebrate Christ's birth on that day. About 800 A. D. the Pope requested all Christian people to observe the celebration of Christ's birth on Dec. 25.

The Epistle read on the Feast of the Epiphany is taken from Isaiah 60:1-6; the Gospel is from St. Matthew 2:1-12. On this Sunday there will be Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament beginning with high mass at 10 a. m. and closing with devotions at 4 p. m. On Monday there will be mass at 7:30 a. m.

NEW DRAMA SHOWS THE "OTHER SIDE" OF FRANCHOT TONE

Franchot Tone has come to the decisive turning point in his career as a motion picture actor. Heretofore, Tone has been seen chiefly in roles of millionaire playboys, always in up-to-the-minute evening clothes and speaking flawless English. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer recently decided to toughen him—and he now plays the hard-boiled, cynical ex-convict, Benn Horowitz, in "Straight Is the Way," dramatic picture of a New York east-side family, opening Sunday at the Lyric theatre.

Tone believes the new characterization, heavily dramatic, will mark a turning point in his career.

To a great many children whose parents frequent the five-and-tens, Santa Claus must have been Japanese.

Japan's renunciation of the Washington naval treaty shouldn't worry us, if Japan builds warships
