CHAIRMAN FLETCHER CALLS FOR NEW DEAL PROPOSALS

Col. Henry P. Fletcher is the national chairman of the republican committee. He visited Chicago and set up a brain trust of his own. This is what he said as to the new program of legislation: "I know our program must be progressive. We can't campaign on negatives but we must work within the framework of the constitution." Col. Theodore Roosevelt, not the great Teddy but the son, advised that the republican party take a stand for social insurance, old age pensions and unemployment benefits. Chairman Fletcher seconded the Roosevelt move. He has purloined from the liberals of the period social insurance for all, old age pensions for all and unemployment benefits for all "within the framework of the constitution."

There are many brainy men in the republican organization. There are many rich men. There are many wise men. There are many crafty men. They know how to get the campaign money and they know how to build a nationwide organization or machine in all the 48 states. They predict they will capture 67 congressional seats in November but they will be satisfied with 35. There is to be a long period given over "to watchful waiting" on the part of those who are interested in governmental affairs and the elections of the future.

RESERVE BANK FIGURES SHOW 30 PER CENT UPTURN

Place this in the record for the information as well as the education of all the people. Federal reserve board figures indicated July 17 that member banks June 30 had nearly one-third more assets in securities than at the peak of the 1929 boom. Then place this in the record: "With the shrinkage of loans and investments from $35,711,000,000 to around $26,000,000,000 the proportion of security holdings to the total nearly doubled." Bonds of all classes, plus loans secured by stocks and bonds, amounted to about three-fourths of total loans and investments. Whereas, in 1929 these items slightly exceeded 55 per cent.

All the wealth of America remains in America. All the lands of America remain in America. All the public improvements of America are intact. Why the throwing of monkey wrenches into the machinery of the national recovery confidence building structure? This old world for millions of years and the place for those who are battlers at all times is ever in the middle of the road marching onward and not in the seats of the bleachers on the roadside. Man was originally intended to battle every inch of the way in the highway of life, and when he does not battle, when he loses hope and his backbone turns from steel to jelly, he falls by the wayside and that is his finish.

Some motorists seem to think that trees along the highways are there to play with at obstacle races.

Negroes Denied Primary Votes By Supreme Court

By United Press
AUSTIN. — Although voluntary associations arising from the exercise of free will and liberty of the citizens, political parties are the effective instrumentalities by which the will of the people may be made vocal, and the enactment of laws in accordance with it.

No candidate, but the Supreme Court of the State of Texas spoke thus one hot summer afternoon last week to any who chose to listen.

The words were those of Chief Justice C. M. Cureton, writing the court's opinion that the democratic party of Texas may and has legally barred negroes from voting in party primaries.

The opinion was counter to a five to four decision by the Supreme Court of the United States that there could be no discrimination between the white and negro races in fixing the membership of the democratic party in Texas.

The 40th Texas legislature, anxious to make doubly sure there would be no black ballots in Democratic election boxes, enacted a law reading in part: "Every political party in this state, through its state executive, committee, shall have the power to prescribe the qualifications of its own members. . . ."

The enactment, Justice Cardozo of the U. S. Supreme Court held, made the state executive committee an agency of the state government, and as such it could not discriminate between whites and blacks.

"With this construction of this Texas statute we cannot agree," wrote Justice Cureton. He held, first, the act did not mean to preempt the party's power to limit its membership; second, "if it be said that the purpose of the legislature was to take from the party and its state convention the power of determining who should be members of the party, the act is plainly void."

Approximately 800,000 negroes, otherwise qualified to vote, were barred from next Saturday's election by the court's opinion.

Lon Smith Sure He Will Win In The July Primary

DALLAS, July 27. — Looking over the field three days before the election, Railroad Commissioner Lon A. Smith is confident he will win in the Saturday primary. He feels he is sure to get more votes in Dallas county than his three opponents who reside there, and he will carry Harris county three to one over his resident opponent there.

"Out of a total vote of 27,222 in Dallas county in my last race, this county gave me 22,010 votes, more than a five to one lead," he said. "Harris county gave me a majority in each of her 142 precincts with a total of 18,743 votes out of a total of 22,495 votes, more than a six to one lead. I received a majority in 254 counties. I refer to Dallas and Harris counties since my opponents hail from these counties. Prospects are fine from border counties and from the hill country and agricultural districts.

"Permit me, through the columns of your paper, to thank every one who in any manner has assisted in my campaign—from the fine little boys and beautiful girls who have distributed cards at public gatherings, to the men and

WALLACE BEERY AS PANCHO VILLA, MAN OF A MILLION VIVID NEWSPAPER HEADS

Nearly a million newspaper headlines have told the story that appears on the screen of the Lyric Theatre.

It is the fictional story of Panchito Villa, who swept through Mexico like an avenging angel twenty years ago, overthrowing the opulent Diaz regime and setting Madero on the Presidential throne as the first of a series of ill-starred rulers.

It is called "Viva Villa!" and gets its title from the prize-winning novel by Edgcomb Pinchon.

Automobile Deaths Showing an Increase

By United Press

AUSTIN. — Eighty-eight large cities in the United States reported a total of 607 deaths from automobile accidents during the four weeks ending July 7, 1934, the Bureau of Census announced today.

The total compares with 570 deaths during the four weeks ending July 8, 1933.

The bureau estimated an automobile death rate of 23.3 per 100,000 population, compared to an earlier rate of 20.9, or an increase of 12 per cent in automobile deaths during the year.

DINNER: Steamed haddock, shoestring potatoes, creamed broccoli, stuffed pear salad, blackberry sherbet, milk, coffee.

Bake Like Apples

Baked pears may be prepared like baked apples and are especially good for breakfast with bacon and eggs. If wanted for dessert, they can be pared and cored, sprinkled with sugar and baked, covered, in a moderate oven for an hour. A little ground ginger mixed with the sugar improves the flavor for many persons. Served with whipped cream and ginger cookies, they make an inviting last course for an August dinner. Two tablespoons sugar for each pear makes the fruit pleasantly sweet for the average taste.

Stuffed pear salad always is popular. Cream cheese mixed with minced preserved ginger and finely chopped nuts is a zestful combination. Peanut butter and cream cheese makes another good Statisticians have figured that Villa, during the dozen years of his reign in Mexico, rated more individual newspaper headlines than any other one man of his time. In the period from 1910 to 1923 he was seldom out of the news, always in bold-faced type.

Wallace Beery, remembered for his successes in "Min and Bill," "Fighting Annie," "The Champ" and countless other hits, portrays Villa on the screen.

With him is Fay Wray, who scored in "King Kong" and "The Most Dangerous Game."

Stuart Erwin, slow-talking funny man, is another of the featured players, as is Leo Carillo of stage and screen fame.

Others of the cast include George E. Stone, remembered for his outstanding work in "Cimarron," Joseph Schildkraut, star of "Lilium," Donald Cook, Katherine De Mille, Phillip Cooper, Frank Puglia, Henry B. Walthall and others of note. Jack Conway directed for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. "Viva Villa!" is a fictional story of the life and loves of the great revolutionary general. Filmed largely in the interior of Mexico, in locations that Villa put into the headlines, it uses 6,000 natives in some of its spectacular battle scenes.

Americans are said to consume 20 per cent more stuff today than they used to years ago. From the odor of some pipes, that's a conservative estimate.

Mrs. John C. Spradley and two sons of Longview came Friday and visited until Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover. She was accompanied home by Miss Margaret Jones, who had been visiting her the past month.

Mrs. O. A. Young and daughter of Fort Worth, came Sunday to spend a week with her sister, Mrs. W. E. Barron, and her mother, Mrs. R. K. Glanton.

Mrs. M. R. Turner of Fort Worth arrived Saturday and is visiting her brother, John O'Rear, and her sisters, Miss Mollie O'Rear and Mrs. Annie Daniel. Mrs. Turner was reared here and her many friends are delighted to see her again.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dawley and little daughter of Caddo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Henslee, Sunday.

Mrs. Eula Jones returned Sunday from a week's visit with her daughter at Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Acree and son, Rollie Acree, drove down to Fort Worth Sunday to meet Mrs. K. J. Matthews of Bowie, mother of Mr. Acree, who came home with them and spent that night here. On Monday Mr. Acree took her to Gatesville, near which her winter lives and where she will spend the summer.

Misses Dorace and Berniece Roe returned to Abilene Monday after having spent a few days here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Roe.

Rev. Gray Carter of Shawnee, Okla., arrived on Tuesday of last week and that night began a revival meeting for the Church of Christ. Services morning and night, are being held under the tabernacle. This is the fifth year that Rev. Carter has conducted the revival meeting here and he has always been very successful. Good crowds are attending and much good is being done by the revival meeting.

Mrs. Z. L. Howell returned Saturday from Eddy where she had visited her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Wooten, for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Style McEntire and baby, James Edward, and their mother, Mrs. J. E. Derrick, drove down to Comanche Sunday afternoon and visited his parents.

J. E. Spencer, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Cisco, was here on business Thursday.

Mrs. May Harrison, County Treasurer, who is seeking re-election, was here Monday, meeting old friends and making new ones who will help her in her race for re-election.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parks and daughter Gaynell, are visiting relatives in several places in Oklahoma.

The large living room at the home of Mrs. S. E. Snodgrass was decorated with bouquets of cut flowers when she entertained very delightfully Monday afternoon, with a social for the Methodist Missionary Society. A short business session was held during which Mr. Ell, representing the Waterless Aluminum Ware, explained his method of selling the ware. The society voted to sponsor the five demonstrations to be given at five homes on August 6 and lasting through the 10th. The society will receive a nice cash donation for simply furnishing the hostesses who will each invite five other couples to a dinner and health lecture given by the salesman. After the business session Mrs. Snodgrass passed around pictures—kodaks, photos and tin types of those present, each one taking a picture and trying to guess the original. Those of the older ones, Mrs. Glanton, Mrs. Snodgrass and Mrs. Bedford were rather amusing to the younger ones when the identifications had been made. Each one took her picture and told something about it, as to when and where it was taken and as to the dress and hat worn or interesting incidents about it. Delicious ice cream, topped with cherries, and layer cake, iced in green, were served by Mrs. J. E. Heeter, daughter of Mrs. Snodgrass, assisted by Misses Ruth and Boyd Crenshaw. Those present were: Mmes. G. S. Bruce, W. E. Barron, W. C. Bedford, Gifford Acree, W. H. Davis, Chas. Lee, A. B. Henslee, Z. L. Howell, R. K. Glanton, I. N. Williams, Miss Mollie O'Rear, the hostess, Mrs. Snodgrass and two guests from Fort Worth, Mrs. O. A. Young and Mrs. M. Turner.

Ed Parks and family left Saturday for Lubbock where they will spend their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hoover and son, Calvin, left Thursday for Alpine, where Mrs. Hoover will take some special courses at Sul Ross College. Mr. Hoover was to go from there to Hobbs, N. M., where he works for the Humble Company.

Judge Carl Hamlin of Breckenridge was here Monday and spoke on the street in the interest of his campaign for congressman from the 17th district. There had been a misunderstanding as to the date he was to be here but within a short time a large crowd had gathered and gave him an attentive hearing and generous applause at the close of his speech. He was accompanied to our town by his secretary, Paul Paige, who is a nephew of our townsman, J. E. Heeter. Both Mr. Paige and

MICAHIAH SPEAKS THE TRUTH

I Kings 22:1-14

Jehoshaphat, the good king of Judah, no doubt hearing rumors of war visited Ahab, the wicked king of Israel. The families were related by marriage; Jehoshaphat's son having married Ahab's daughter, Athaliah, who was an idol-worshiper like her cruel mother, Jezebel.

Ahab entertained Jehoshaphat and his company royally, killing many cattle for meat. Then he requested Jehoshaphat to join his larger army with his smaller one in taking Ramoth-Gilead. Jehoshaphat gave a very courteous assent but requested, "I pray thee, for the word of Jehovah."

His answer was, "As Jehovah liveth, what Jehovah saith unto me, that will I speak."

As Jehovah liveth was the most solemn and impressive oath the prophet could use.

But Micahiah broke out into bitter irony and told Ahab to follow the advice of his prophets. But Ahab spoke sternly commanding the truth of him.

Then Micahiah had a great vision telling of the battle and the death of Ahab.

Ahab refused to heed the advice of the true prophet and thought to outwit the prophecy by changing clothes with Jehoshaphat. "But a certain man of the Syrian host drew his bow at a venture and wounded the wicked king." He had his chariot driven quietly out of the battle that his soldiers might not be frightened. He died at sundown and was taken to Samaria for burial.

The blood-stained chariot was taken to the pool to be washed and the dogs "were seen lapping there." Elijah's prophecy concerning Ahab was fulfilled.

How masterful is the picture of Micahiah, a poorly dressed man, standing before the king and the prophets telling Ahab of his doom. He did not flinch or draw back when Zedekiah slapped him and showed him the horns of iron, which he claimed were signals that Ahab should overthrow Syria. But told Zedekiah that he himself should be in hiding soon.

The strength and attitude of Micahiah in this story has a greatly needed lesson for our times. Pastors and their flocks should take a bold stand for the cause of truth and righteousness. Strong drink is in our midst, business is full of fraud, society is vulgar and you might say vicious in worldly circles. Nations are suspicious of each other. Strikes and crimes fill our daily papers. Christians should band together in millions to oppose the evil.

When one becomes confused and asks how he can overcome the evil around him daily, he can ask with the psalmist:

Wherewith shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed thereto according to thy word.—Psalm 119:9.

Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.—Psalm 57:5.

ALTHOUGH our moon is a conspicuous object in the sky, it is not of great importance in the solar system, being but one of 27 moons which are distributed among the various planets. It is only one-eighth the size of the earth, and has a diameter of 2160 miles. Jupiter and Saturn have moons 3500 miles in diameter.

OLDEN

Carl Hamlin, District Judge of Stephens county, spoke here Friday afternoon in the interest of his candidacy for congressman. Judge Hamlin made a good talk and was well received.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Koester of Mineral Wells visited the L. V. Ford family here last week. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Koester were returning from Cisco, where they had been called because of the death of Mr. John Shertzer there. The Fords, Koesters and Shertzers are friends of long standing, having for years been fellow townsmen in Dewey, Okla.

Miss Hazel Woods has returned from an extended visit near Stamford.

The Magnolia soft ball team defeated the TP team in Ranger Monday evening in a close game, during which a stolen base by Dick, and a home run each by Suede Anderson and Lois Groves furnished the main thrills for the Olden fans.

Emmett Rice, who recently underwent an operation in a Ranger hospital is now at home in Olden and reported resting well.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Canafax and children, Nanell and Manion, of Millsap, visited friends here Monday. They were enroute to Cisco where they will be located while Mr. Canafax is relief operator there for the railway company.

Revival services, being held by the Church of Christ in their tabernacle here are being well attended and greatly appreciated. Rev. Lynn of California is in charge of these services.

Rain which fell here Sunday was very beneficial to this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stephens visited in Stephenville Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Maxwell were Stephenville visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Frye and daughters, Carroll Lynn and Mary Margaret and niece, Martha Jane Hodgins, visited friends here Sunday. They were returning to their home in Dallas from a trip to Moran and Albany.

All eligible voters are urged to go to the polls Saturday and vote for the candidates of their preference. Olden has 149 paid poll taxes and between 25 and 30 exemptions this year. Voting will be held in the Methodist church.

not be done. He brought out that the gymnasium now being built in Ranger was the result of efforts of men who said that it could be done and were doing the job.

He promised the voters that if he was selected as their representative that he would be at Austin fighting for the needs of all the county and not for any pet measure or favored few. Mr. Ringold told of his efforts in helping get relief money for the needy of the community and said that it was his duty to do that and that he was proud to have a part in being of service to his fellowman. A large crowd of laboring men were present and gave Ringold a splendid hand at the close of his speech.

E. M. Threat was the next speaker and it was during his remarks that a bit of heckling was noticed. Mr. Threat discussed the various issues as he has done throughout the county. He was a candidate two years ago and was defeated.

Ed T. Cox was the last speaker of the representatives and his speech was broken into by the fire alarm that sounded just as he was getting started. Mr. Cox made a splendid address and told the people that he had served one term as representative from Eastland county and had held other offices in the county. Had lived in the county for 50 years and if elected would carry the banner of good government to Austin and bring it back unscathed at the close of his term.

Most of the county candidates for representatives brought out in their platform they were in favor of some reductions in the automobile licenses. That they favored old age pensions in one form or another. Others thought that all taxes should be taken off home-steads and various other measures that would lighten the present tax burdens.

At this time Mr. Dean introduced Donald Kinniard of Eastland and present mayor of that city who spoke in the interest of his candidacy for floratorial representative consisting of Eastland and Callahan counties.

Mr. Kinniard was well received and discussed at some length the record made by the present incumbent, Mr. Lotief of Cross Plains. He said that all that he could find that Lotief had done while in Austin two years was that he was responsible for one resolution.

Mr. Kinniard promised the voters that if they would send him to Austin as their representative that he believed he could fill the job. That when he was elected mayor of Eastland the expenses of the city were too high and that a lot of people said they could not be reduced and at this point he brought out that they were cut and measures on several different propositions were taken that did better things especially living conditions in Eastland.

Mr. Kinniard is no stranger in Ranger and his remarks were listened to by the crowd with a great deal of interest.

E. Curry was the next speaker for floratorial representative—his home is at Pioneer and he said he was an independent oil man and had engaged in most every kind of business one could think of over the past several years. Mr. Curry told of the efforts he had put forth to get a measure through the House that would keep utilities from charging one rate in one town and another rate in the adjoining town.

He told the crowd that he believed that he could render some real and constructive work if they saw fit to send him to Austin.

The last and final speaker of the evening was Cecil A. Lotief, present representative. Mr. Lotief was given a glad hand when he stepped upon the platform and remarked that the mike was not too high for him to speak over but that he was not tall enough.

He immediately launched into a discussion of his record during the past 18 months and explained his vote on numerous bills that had been passed. Mr. Lotief told of the five committees that he served on when his opponents said he served on only one.

He said that he was for the common people and that if sent back he was still going to vote for the measures that would help them. Mr. Lotief is well known in Ranger and has made one of the most strenuous campaigns of any in the race.

He said that his opponents had accused him of being a foreigner—that is true he said, "but why hold that against me, I came to this country 30 years ago and my home is here, my wife is here, my children are here, all that I have is here." At the close of his speech

"WHAT WILL WE HAVE TO GO WITH IT?"

IT'S comparatively simple to choose the meat dish for a meal. Roast beef, baked ham, chops, or chicken are always welcome. But what should be served with the meat to prevent monotony—that's the question.

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY
"STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANE FERRY comes to New York determined to show her home town, Danbury, and especially AMY JACKSON, that she can make a success of her life. Amy has been her best friend since HOWARD JACKSON broke the engagement Jane had forced upon him and married Amy.

In New York Jane obtains a position as a real estate office and soon is making a large income. She has an affair with BOBBER FRIDLEY, married but free of him when he offers to bear the expense of their child. She conceals this child and marries a rich man who is expecting a child of her own.

Howard comes home for the Christmas holidays.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXII

THEY talked Mary Jackson declared every minute but never seemed to be tired. If Amy was in the kitchen Howard was watching her when he was not allowed to help, and this last did not happen often. He was no house-husband skilful with dish and egg-beater.

"I don't know why you should be trusted with an airplane," said Amy. "I always understood they were fragile. You're the perfect zoologist with his hammer when you get into the kitchen."

"It's your distrust in my ability that cramps my style. You think I'm going to break something, so of course I do. Power of suggestion."

"Ah yes—the greater intellect controls the lesser."

"Not at all. It's sheer brute force acting on extreme sensitivity."

He would follow her, laughing, through the rest of the house, insisting that the dust could wait that books need to be put back on the shelves, that neatness was a vice of deadly grip and fatal results. Mary Jackson, busy, too listened and smiled and sometimes joined in the argument, always complaining. "Howard, taking Amy's part. "This houseful of tidy women!" he lamented "what can one poor man do against them? Even Nancy puts her toys away."

This nonsense banter went on so long as there was anybody within earshot. Alone, they were serious enough, and silent, too holding to each other as if to fend off the coming separation.

THEY did not have a great deal of time alone for from that first night on every soul in Danbury seemed to want to see Howard, especially the college students and the younger men of the town. All the faculty wanted him for dinners or luncheons.

But he refused every invitation possible for him to refuse and when he had to accept he would come rushing home to Amy, angry at the wasted time. They were sure of only one hour together each day, and that they kept jealously no matter how much ne was pressed to give it elsewhere, the hour when she was accustomed to take her twilight walk. Now he walked with her slowly. She held his arm. They wrap themselves in isolation. Sometimes they forgot even to speak to people they knew who passed on the path, but no one was offended. A glance at them excluded them. As the end of Howard's leave drew near they stopped discussing the remote region of after the war, became practical. Amy promised to give up her music classes, to rest more, to take what she called an "surgical cure of herself even when she consented to it. "And don't try to save any script too hard on money." Howard ordered "There's enough even if we're no millionaires. And there's—" he stopped.

"There's what?"

"There's no need of you plucking pennies. It worries me." he ended lamely. He had meant to say, "There's my insurance," but stopped in time.

"And you promise me to take care of yourself—teaching all those crazy youngsters to fly. Any one of them might put you in frightful danger. It's always in my mind."

"It needn't be. Believe me, I watch them. Oh Lord, if I only hadn't to be away from you again. But I've decided something. Amy, I'm coming home—at the time, it's only for a day. I've got to be with you then. A woman goes through too much—"

SHE remembered Jane when Nancy was born. "It's not too much. It's a normal happening you know. We all arrive by the same route. And afterward, it's so grand."

"But you want me to come don't you?"

"Of course I do, more than anything in the world. It makes the time nearer when I see you again—only till March."

"It seems as if I'd been here hardly a minute! Oh Amy, I'm no real soldier. A real soldier neither thinks nor feels. Some of the men love it. They eat up the drill and discipline. It's a welcome escape for them from their civilian life. They talk of wanting to go into the regular army when the war's over, and I listen to them and can't understand it. Maybe they'll change their minds when they get into actual fighting, but I don't know."

She pressed close to him. She did not want to talk about those other men. "I love you so, Howard," she said. "You're not sorry we're to have this child, now, are you?"

"Oh, no, no! It makes me happy beyond anything I ever imagined. If I could only be with you and watch out for you! You will be very careful, won't you, love? Have all the doctors and nurses and everything. It makes me feel helpless to be so far away. I worry so much about you."

"I worry about you, too—but that can't be helped. But there's one thing that troubles me, Howard—about Nancy I don't know—it seems very unlikely, but—" what if Jane should want to take her again, when she knows we have a child of our own?"

"What made you think of that? Why should she want Nancy more than she did before?"

"Jane has queer ideas, she's not like anyone else."

"I DON'T believe she's queer enough to want to take on the responsibility of a youngster Nancy's age. And she couldn't do it without giving a reason. She'd know it would make people suspect that she's Nancy's real mother and she'd avoid that at any cost. She certainly hasn't shown any affection for Nancy, nor any interest either, since that first time. How did you get such a notion?"

"I don't know. There's no special reason for it. I've been hoping that she'd come on to see Miss Rosa before you left, and maybe we'd be able to find out, together, if she should take it into her head to do anything. She was to come sometime during the holidays, but she's not arrived so far or Mary would have spoken about it. Mary goes to Miss Rosa's every day or two, for meetings and things, and they're friendly, you know."

"Well, don't worry about it any more, darling. We'll ask Mother if Jane's coming, and if she is we'll see her and get a line on her. I'll deal with Miss Jane if she starts any funny business."

"It makes me more easy just to have talked about it. Honestly I don't know why I thought about it at all except that somehow a child really your own seems—vitally important, terribly precious. And whenever I look at Nancy I begin wondering again if Jane could do without her. Whether she mightn't think this was a good time to get her back, that we wouldn't protest."

"But you wouldn't give Nancy back to her, would you?"

"I don't know. She is Nancy's mother, and if I believed she could feel about Nancy as I do toward our son—no, I don't know."

"It would be a pretty poor lookout for Nancy to be handed over to that neurotic egotist. I'd never consent to it. I can tell you that. Throwing her to the wolves, it seems to me." He was thoughtful at all except that somehow a child really your own seems—vitally important, terribly precious. And whenever I look at Nancy I begin wondering again if Jane could do without her. Whether she mightn't think this was a good time to get her back, that we wouldn't protest."

"You needn't be so defiant. I wouldn't give Nancy up to Jane unless I was sure that Jane would love her really, love her—"

"Then Nancy's ours forever. Jane never loved anyone but herself and never will."

"Jane loved you," sprang into Amy's thoughts, but she did not utter it.

LONE CEDAR

Everybody is rejoicing over the good rain which fell Sunday morning.

The tanks were filled. It was also a great help to the crops. The farmers are planning on planting fall gardens and feed.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are the proud parents of a twelve pound boy.

Frank Casey, Mr. and Mrs. Lenard Worlds have gone to LeRay for a week's visit with relatives.

The surprise party which was given by Mrs. Kenneth Falls for her husband, in honor of his birthday, was enjoyed by a number of friends. Games and the refreshments of ice cream and cake were enjoyed.

We are sorry to hear of Mr. Sneed of Ranger being seriously sick. He is remembered as "Uncle Billy" by this community, since he was one of the early settlers.

Jim Coon is digging a water well.

Waldine Griffin was the Saturday afternoon guest of Viola and Vida Parker.

Are YOU HAPPY After Meals

Or Do Gas on Stomach and Sour Stomach make you Miserable?

Too much food, or the wrong kind of food, too much smoking, too much beer, make your body over-acid. Then you have distress after eating, gas on stomach, heartburn, sour stomach.

ALKA-SELTZER relieves these troubles promptly, effectively, harmlessly. Use Alka-Seltzer for Headache, Colds, Fatigue, "Morning After Feeling," Muscular, Spastic and Rheumatic Pains.

Alka-Seltzer makes a sparkling alkaline drink. As it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of everyday ailments and then by restoring the alkaline balance corrects the cause when due to excess acid.

Alka-Seltzer tastes like carbonated mineral spring water—works like magic. Contains no dangerous drugs... does not depress the heart... is not laxative.

Get a drink at your Drug Store Soda Fountain. Keep a package in your home medicine cabinet.

Why Not A Spring Vacation?

Are you one whose vitality is always lowest in the spring? Do you have what you term "a snappy case of spring fever"? You're probably just run-down and worn-out after a hard winter. What you'd better do is stop right now, rest awhile, and get in trim to carry on for another year.

A cordial invitation is extended to all interested to attend.

Rebekah Lodge
The regular session of the Rebekah lodge was held Wednesday night, with Mr. D. R. Pate, noble grand, presiding.

Routine business was transacted, but no special committee announced at this time, for the Eastland County association of Rebekahs and Odd Fellows which convenes here in the fall.

Y. W. A. Prayer Meeting Services

The Young Womens association of the Baptist church, put on the program for the prayer meeting service, held in the church Wednesday night, with Mrs. L. J. Lambert, presiding.

The mission topic for discussion, "Footsteps in Japan," was illustrated by a map of Japan, with footsteps of christianity outlined in a trek from mission station to station of that country.

This work was done by Mrs. Lambert. The program opened with hymn "Footsteps of Jesus," prayer by F. V. Williams, and devotion by the leader, "Ye should follow his steps," and scripture readings, from Chapter 2 of First Peter.

Topic prayer for "Courage to Follow Him," was given by Miss Allene Williams.

Talk, "Getting Our Footing," the leader.

Footing in 44 years, Miss Allene Williams.

Sent the light hymn, prefaced the talk, "Foot Falls that Pressure Great Events," by Miss Irene Williams.

Footprints on the sand of time, Miss Geraldine Terrell.

Turning Shoes Around, Miss Della Webb.

The programs were written on Jap clogs in folder form. The program closed with prayer, Mrs.

F. V. Williams led the singing and Miss Geraldine Terrell, was pianist. There were 40 in attendance.

League Party Tonight
The Senior Epworth League will stage a social meeting tonight in the assembly room of the Methodist church, and the director, Mrs. Ed F. Willman, asks each one coming to be provided with a dime.

An enjoyable program has been prepared.

Visit: Cisco Dam

Mrs. Byron Meredith is entertaining Davy Joy Pena of Tyler, here for a two weeks visit with her children, Sara and Paula; with Katherine Blair of Ranger, who spent Wednesday night with them, and Maurice Bledoe of Big Spring, guest of Mrs. W. C. Campbell.

The little party after their supper at the Meredith home Wednesday night visited the Cisco Dam, to show it to the visitors.

Blue Bonnet Club

The Bluebonnet Club enjoyed a delightful bridge breakfast Wednesday at the home of the hostess, Mrs. James Watson.

Several small tables were centered with garden flowers for the breakfast menu of prunes, creamed chip beef on toast, hot biscuits and strawberry preserves with coffee.

In the bridge game that followed Mrs. Harkrider was awarded high score, a placid luncheon cloth, and Mrs. Howard second high, a what-not shelf.

Similar shelves were awarded Mrs. Kraemer in cut-for-all, and Mrs. Beale for consolation.

Martha Dorcas Picnic Supper

A wonderful time was had by the Martha Dorcas class and their guests, the husbands and children of the families at their picnic supper Wednesday evening, about one long table in City Park.

Mrs. W. C. Matlow, chairman of several hostesses, presides, and invocation was offered by R. E. Sikes.

The table was laden with fried chicken, salads, meat loaf, and all other kinds of tempting foods, from basket suppers provided by each family. The last course of ice cream and many delicious cakes was provided by the hostesses, previously listed in the Eastland Telegram.

Dismissal prayer was given by their pastor, Rev. E. R. Stanford. The group include Messrs. and Mmes. W. C. Marlow, W. B. Harris, R. E. Sikes, W. A. Martin, D. J. Jobe, W. L. Van Geem, Mack O'Neal, W. L. Godfrey, C. O. Fredregill, Fred Michael, W. E. Coleman, Ed T. Cox, Jr., and Rev. I. R. Stanford; Mmes. Ora B. Jones, W. A. Hart, J. Atchley, Howard Brock and son, and guests: Mrs. R. T. Young, Jr., and children of Abilene; Misses Mabel Hart, Elizabeth Ann Sikes, Gwen-

Mass on Sunday will be at 7 a. m. by Rev. J. Fernandez.

Sunday will be the tenth Sunday after Pentecost. The epistle read on that day is taken from the First Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians 12-2-11; and the Gospel is from St. Luke 18:9-14. This Gospel tells about the publican and the Pharisee who went into the temple to pray. The Pharisee represented the law and boasted about his good works even to God and he condemned the publican, who was a

SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS
County of Eastland.
By virtue of a certain alias execution issued out of the Honorable Justice Court of Harris County, on the 28th day of June, 1934, by Campbell R. Overstreet, justice of the peace of said court, upon a judgment in favor of Gulf Refining Company for the sum of One Hundred Sixty and 31-100 ($160.31) Dollars and cost of suit, in cause No. 62798 in said court, styled Gulf Refining Company versus Oakland Gasoline Production Company, a corporation, and placed in my hands for service, I, Virge Foster, as sheriff of Eastland county, Texas, did on the 12th day of July, 1934, levy on certain real estate situated in Eastland county, described as follows, to-wit:

Being a part of the southwest quarter (SW 1/4) of Section Twelve (12), S. A. & M. G. Ry. survey, Eastland county, Texas, more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at the southwest corner of Section 12, a stone for a corner; thence north 89 degrees 30 minutes at 15 vrs. cross the west line of the W. F. R. & Ft. W. Ry. right of way at 95 vrs. to the east line of the right of way in all 263 vrs. to southwest corner this tract on the south line of the original survey; thence north 0 degrees 45 minutes 239 vrs. for northeast corner; thence 89 degrees 30 minutes west 263 vrs. to the west line of the original survey, stake for corner; thence south 0 degrees 45 minutes east at 142 vrs. cross east side of railroad right of way in all 239 vrs. to the place of beginning, containing 11.1 acres or land less .05 acres included in the railroad right of way, and being the land conveyed to the Oakland Gasoline Production Company by deed recorded in Vol. 236 at page 609 of the deed records of Eastland county, Texas, out of the L. Davis survey, Abs. 1510.

Together with all buildings, structures, machinery, equipment and property of every kind and character thereon located, and levied upon as the property of said Oakland Gasoline Production Company, a corporation, and on Tuesday, the 7th day of August, 1934, at the court house door of Eastland county, in the city of Eastland, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., I will sell said real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said Oakland Gasoline Production Company, a corporation, by virtue of said levy and said alias execution.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale in the Eastland Telegram, a newspaper published in Eastland county.

Witness my hand, this 12th day of July, A. D., 1934.

tax collector. The publican was humble and admitted to God that he was a sinner. He went out freed from his sins, while the Pharisee went out worse than when he entered. We need humility, "the highest virtue, mother of them all."

That Reminds Me

carry out the ideals of good government.

County candidates wind up their final speaking arrangements tonight in Eastland. Large crowds are expected to be on hand to hear them in their final plea for votes. Let's all go out and give them a big crowd to talk to, not only out of respect to them but for the standpoint of finding out for ourselves just what they have in mind to do for us if elected. That's a good way to make up ones mind as to who to vote for.

Once again we make a plea to the citizens of this community to do all their buying from their own home merchants. It pays the biggest dividends of all. It keeps home money at home and every time the cash register rings in a home merchant's store, part of it is for taxes, part for insurance, part for the churches, part for the interests of the community and only a small part is left to continue doing business on. Just remember that next time things are needed. The greatest asset we have is the home merchants. He knows his neighbors troubles, he knows his communities' greatest needs, and he will always be ready to go more than half way when he knows that his home folks are loyal to him. Its your town and our town. Nothing should keep us from giving everything we've got, morning, night and noon.

Negro Hospital At El Paso May Be Constructed

EL PASO.—The proposed Fred Douglas national tubercular hospital for negroes, to be built near El Paso at a cost of $2,500,000, if a PWA loan is granted, promises to be one of the most useful and sizeable projects of its kind ever sponsored by negroes.

A group of prominent negroes, headed by Dr. L. A. Nixon, who became known through the country through two appeals to the United States supreme court in an effort to establish the right of negroes to vote in a Texas Democratic primary, is seeking the loan. The proposed hospital would have a capacity of 1157 beds—more than are now devoted to that purpose in the United States—with provisions for the future for 600 more beds.

The site of the sanatorium is on the east slope of Mt. Franklin, about eight miles north of El Paso.

Spanish architecture with a Moorish influence will be the theme running throughout the whole plan of structure, and when completed the place will resemble an old Spanish feudal estate. There is provision for 27 units.

A beautiful auditorium and a library modeled after the Taj Mahal in Agra, India, are planned. Buildings will be fireproof, of reinforced concrete. Equipment to be installed in the hospital will be the most modern in the world.

The Fred Douglas Tubercular Hospital association, which is sponsoring the project, was organized last year.

Aiding Dr. Nixon are Directors William Piekens and George S. Schuyler, New York; E. D. Williams, Las Cruces, N. M.; Dr. A. Q. Shirley, San Angelo; Henry Mason, Marshall; and L. W. Washington, El Paso.

BUS WRINGS MOP FOR HIM

KANSAS CITY, Ohio.—A negro janitor here is so lazy he let a bus wring out his mop for him. Working on schedule, he nearly always has his mop ready when the bus stops in front of his place of employment. He moves to the curb, places the dripping mop beneath a wheel and as the bus pulls away the mop is pressed dry.

G-3 Users Report 43% is Too Modest—They're Getting More Extra Non-Skid Mileage Than That—But We Prefer to Be Conservative

Yes, there's quite an uproar over our G-3 advertising. People who got the first G-3's put out—months before the public announcement—say "you're pulling your punch"—cite mileage records to prove 43% more non-skid life is an under-statement. Very likely it is low—very likely the G-3 does do better—but, by speeding up to 50, jamming on brakes, every few miles day and night, in harder driving than most people do, the Goodyear test fleet established the average of 43% greater non-skid wear—and we'll stick to that figure because: That much extra safety at no extra cost is plenty to offer! If you have yet to see this amazing new Goodyear All-Weather, don't wait longer—come in right away!
