Kiwanis To Sell Popcorn For Hospital

The Muleshoe Kiwanis Club Board of Directors had their regular monthly business meeting Thursday evening, at the XIT Steak House with President Norman Head presiding. After a discussion of regular business it was decided that the Kiwanis Club, as well as all people of this community, are interested in the upcoming hospital.

After the last July Fourth Kiwanis Fireworks sales, the Kiwanis Club gave the Hospital Action Fund $700.00. The Kiwanis have pledged to give $1000.00 the next two years out of the fireworks sales.

Knowing the great need for immediate cash, the Kiwanis have just received a shipment of Kiwanis popcorn. A Kiwanis spokesman said that this is some of the best popcorn you have ever popped. Each box of popcorn contains four packets of corn, oil and salt. Each with school children. Accordingly, USDA will raise the value of the coupon allotment for a four-person household from $154 to $162 and make appropriate adjustments for other household sizes, in line with the Congressional intent expressed in House Report 94-2, purchase requirements will not be changed, except for households in the top monthly net income brackets.

Maximum income eligibility standards starting July 1 are: One-person household - $215, Two-person household - $300, Three-person household - $427, Four-person household - $540, Five-person household - $640, Six-person household - $740, Seven-person household - $833, and Eight-person household - $926.

For each additional household member over eight, add $73 to the eight-person eligibility level.

Wade said Greg Schaffer, a

Beltone-trained hearing aid consultant, will be in charge of the workshop, conduct hearing loss tests and discuss hearing loss problems.

In explaining the importance of the "Better-Hearing" workshop, Wade noted that according to recent statistics from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, hearing loss problems are among our nation's major disabilities.

"Over 14 1/2 million persons in the U.S. suffer from measurable hearing losses and

Food Stamp Levels, Allotments Increase

Food stamp allotments and maximum income eligibility standards will be increased on July 1 by approximately five percent, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). For example, the allotment for a four-person household will be increased from $154 to $162 a month, and the maximum income eligibility level from $513 to $540 per month.

The Food Stamp Act, as amended by the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 (Public Law 93-86), directs that coupon allotments be adjusted semiannually to reflect changes in food prices as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Maximum income eligibility standards are based on allotments and are therefore adjusted at the same time.

Allotment adjustments are based on the cost of USDA's Economy Food Plan as it is computed from Bureau of Labor Statistics food prices. Adjustments are made each July based on the cost of the Economy Food Plan in the preceding February, and in January based on the cost of that plan in the preceding August.

The cost of the Economy Food Plan for February 1975 was $162 for a family of four

Chalk Artist Will Present Program Here

Special guest in the Sunday services of the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe, May 11, will be Doug Wood of Fort Worth, Texas. Wood is a talented chalk artist whose ministry has been utilized in churches, youth camps, children's assemblies and retreats throughout the state to communicate spiritual truths.

The Sunday School of the church will feature Wood in a joint-assembly of its departments at 9:45 a.m. in the church auditorium prior to Bible Study in the classes. During the evening worship services, Wood will communicate the gospel through the medium of art and give his personal testimony.

While attending Hardin-Simmons University, Wood served as staff artist. Presently, he is attending Southwestern Theological Seminary in Ft. Worth.

The pastor of the church, Rev. J.E. Meeks, and the church's Sunday School Director, Clinton Kennedy, extend an invitation to the people of Muleshoe to attend these special services.

Mrs. Harlan Attends Washington Fly-In

Over 100 Farmers Union women from Minnesota, North Dakota, and Texas converged on the nation's capitol to participate in the campaign to obtain a national food policy through the new "Alliance for Food, Employment, and Resource Policy".

Among the women from the Bailey County area was Mrs. Nolan Harlan of Bula.

During their four-day trip, the participants in the "Women's Fly-In" attended an all-day briefing session by the National Farmers Union Staff, visited with Congressman George Mahon in his office; also Congressman Jack Hightower; and with the aides of Senators Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower. Mrs.

Harlan reports that she talked quite awhile with Larry Meyers, former Muleshoe resident who is an assistant of Senator Bentsen.

The full group met with officials at the U.S. Department of Agriculture and also squeezed in time for some sightseeing in and around the nation's capitol.

Milt Hakel, Editor of "Minnesota Agriculture", described the goals of the "Alliance for Food, Employment, and Resource Policy". He said the new farmer-consumer alliance is working to establish a comprehensive farm and food policy, to put America back to work and allocate scarce resources and credit to productive uses.

Wendy Bauman, an Administrative Assistant for the Alliance, said that while the National Farmers Union and the United Auto Workers union originally announced the Alliance at the Farmers Union Convention in Portland, other organizations are now being invited to join in the effort. As an example, Ms. Bauman said, the National Independent Bankers Association and the Minnesota AFL-CIO have joined the Alliance and have passed resolutions calling for a national food policy. She also said the U.S. Conference of Mayors and other national organizations are considering similar resolutions.

In their meeting with Department of Agriculture officials, the women received a rather pessimistic forecast on the agriculture situation for the next few months.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—It's against the law to sell insurance in Texas without a license, but apparently a few people don't know that yet. A small number of unlicensed companies or individuals have been offering what amounts to "insurance coverage" on anything from lost credit cards to extended automobile warranties to breakdowns of major home appliances. They do this even though they do not meet the requirements for insurers set by the State Board of Insurance. Consumers who buy such "insurance" think they will be protected for their loss if, for example, they lose a credit card and someone charges a large amount of merchandise to their account. But lawyers in our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division and Insurance, Banking and Securities Division say often such insurers have no money reserves to pay claims. So, after paying "premiums" regularly, the consumer may not be able to collect if he or she suffers a loss. Most insurance companies and agents are stable and reputable. Those few which are not generally are unable to meet licensing requirements set by the State Board of Insurance, the agency charged with licensing and regulating the insurance industry in Texas. The Attorney General's Office, as legal representative for the Board, files suit to correct fraudulent business practices in the industry when the State Board of Insurance certifies such suits for action. Where the agent or company is not licensed by the Board, our Consumer Protection Division may bring action to collect penalties and to stop violations of the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act. Recently, a few unscrupulous agents have been reported to be zeroing in on old or ill persons to sell "medical insurance." Many purchasers of the policies didn't meet company standards, and would have been unable to collect. Some agents were alleged to have sold such persons a new policy every year, in order to get the agent's commission. And some of the agents were also alleged to have defrauded the companies they represented by concealing or falsifying information about the applicants. Another type of "insurance" sold is an extended automobile warranty, one which covers any car problems after the dealer's warranty runs out. One company involved in this type of insuring implied it was affiliated with major car dealerships in a large city, although none of the dealers confirmed this. In addition, the company had no money in reserve to pay claims. Our Consumer Protection and our Insurance, Banking and Securities attorneys say that if you buy insurance from a third party who is not connected with the manufacturer or dealer of the product you bought, such as a new car, you should be careful to check into the reputation and dependability of the insurer. They recommend that you have answers to these questions before committing yourself.

Keep House Plants Clean

COLLEGE STATION--Clean house plants are more attractive and perform better, according to a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Dust on leaf surfaces reduces the amount of light available to a plant," says Everett Janne. "Thus the plant may not get enough light for photosynthesis. Also, a dusty plant looks drab and uninteresting."

To remove dust, Janne suggests brushing the leaf surface with a soft camel hair brush or damp sponge and polishing with a soft cheese cloth about once a month. Heavily soiled leaves should be washed with a milk soap and warm water solution before polishing. "Care should be used to prevent bruising or kinking the leaf surface while cleaning it," cautions the Texas A&M University System specialist. "You can avoid bruising a leaf by placing one hand on the underside of the leaf as you wipe the surface."

Several commercial leaf polishes are available, adds Janne. If you plan to use a commercial leaf polish, be sure to water plants several hours before treating or foliage burn may occur. Furthermore, don't use any kind of oil on plants.

For plants with hair leaves, Janne suggests syringing the leaf surface with warm water. "Don't use water that is colder than the room temperature where the plants are located as this can cause leaf spotting."

Madeline Murray O'Hara is at it again! Several years ago she succeeded in making it illegal to read the Bible or pray in the public schools. Now she has obtained 27,000 signed letters protesting the decision of the astronauts to read the Bible as a Christmas message to the world from their space craft while orbiting the moon in Dec. 1968. She plans to present these letters to NASA with the demand that the astronauts be censored for their act and a further demand to prohibit any further demonstration of religion by public leaders. If this goes through, it can stop the mention of God and prayer on TV! You can help stop her at this time! An effort is being made now to secure 1,000,000 letters commending the astronauts for their faith in God and show her there are still many Christians alive and well in America. Mrs. O'Hara will succeed if Christians do nothing! Here is what you can do: Sign, detach, and mail the form below now! Be sure it is filled in. Ask five friends to do so, and in the same manner. Mail to: Federal Communications Commission, 1919 (M) Street N. W., Washington, D. C. 20554.

I support the right of any human being to express his faith in God and the Bible without fear of censure, any time or any place.

Legumes As Nitrogen Alternative

COLLEGE STATION -- Legumes offer a good alternative to paying the high price of commercial nitrogen fertilizer, according to research agronomists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. G.W. Evers, with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Station at Angleton, notes that grazing livestock on legume pastures is one way of getting nitrogen back to the soil. Nitrogen is returned to the soil in the form of urine and feces.

Nitrogen is also added through the decomposition of legume roots and nodules in the soil and the decomposition of legume leaves and stems above the soil.

Evers points out that two perennial legumes, alfalfa and white clover, grow successfully in Texas where they are well adapted.

Dr. F.M. Rouquette, at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Overton, advises delaying late summer nitrogen application and removing grass topgrowth, thereby reducing competition from perennial grass to get maximum production from legumes.

When fertilizing legumes, he recommends liming according to a soil test and using low amounts of nitrogen and higher amount of phosphorus and potash.

Dr. R.W. Weaver, in the Department of Soil and Crop Sciences at Texas A&M University, contends that the success of using legumes for nitrogen fertilization depends on the success of the inoculation program.

To fix nitrogen, legumes must be nodulated by effective bacteria, he points out. The type of bacteria used for inoculation varies with the type of legume and the soil type of the pasture.

The Muleshoe Hospital and Nursing Home Auxiliary's annual Installation and Salad Supper was held Thursday night, May 8, in the Community room of the Muleshoe State Bank. The large group in attendance enjoyed a program on "Recreational Therapy" presented by Mrs. Glenda Daughtery from Mental Health Center in Plainview. Mrs. Kenneth McGeehee introduced Mrs. Daughtery and stated that she had raised a family and then returned to college after having been out of school for some 20 years. She graduated from ENMU in 1970 with a degree in Psychology, and is presently working on her master's degree in Family Relations at Texas Tech. She has been employed at the Mental Health Center since 1971, and for the past six months has been Director of Partial Hospital Program.

Mrs. Daughtery told about her work at the center and the many ways a mental patient benefits from recreational therapy. She told of some of the case histories and related some interesting things that have happened at the Center. A question and answer period followed. Mrs. McGeehee presented Mrs. Daughtery with a painting done by Lillian Smith in appreciation for her program.

ROBERT SHAFER

Shafer To Attend Seminar

Robert Shafer has been selected to attend the Farm Bureau High School Student Citizenship Seminar.

It will be held July 14 to July 18, 1975, at Baylor University in Waco, Texas. Eligible students are those who will be entering the 11th or 12th grades in September of 1975, and in the upper thirty percent of their class, scholastically, with good character and leadership ability.

The purpose of the Seminar is to convey to the students a better understanding of our American Heritage and the capitalist private enterprise system that has made ours the greatest of all Nations. They will also be informed about some of the forces, both internal and external, that are eroding our way of life. The ultimate goal, in addition to helping them to be better informed, is to cause them to want to share their information with others. To do this effectively, the student should be able to express himself reasonably well before a group.

The County Farm Bureau will be sponsoring Robert on this trip. He will be traveling with two other students from our county. "Congratulations Robert!"

Mrs. Berry Named TOPS Queen

TOPS Chapter 34 met Thursday evening with Mrs. J.J. McDonald vice-leader, conducting the meeting in the absence of the leader. During the meeting 18 members weighed in.

Weekly Queen was Mrs. Tom Berry. First runner-up was Mrs. Ronnie Garner and second runner-up was Mrs. J.O. Parker.

The can-can could not be received due to a slight gain. Mrs. J.O. Parker received a charm for a 40 pound weight loss. Mrs. J.V. Peeler gave a brief review of the state TOPS meeting held in Abilene last weekend.

Home-making may be a lost art, but there is much to be said for the ancient custom.

ten, Mrs. Arvis Grogan, Mrs. John Gunter, Jr., Mrs. Alden Henderson, Mrs. Robert Hooten, Mrs. E.W. Johnson, Mrs. Tom Jinks, Mrs. Max King, Mrs. Jack Rennels, Mrs. W.O. Rudd, Mrs. Jim Shafer, Mrs. Eric Smith, Mrs. John Watson, Mrs. R.G. Wilson, Mrs. Mabel Wolfe and Mrs. Jim Young.

One member had word from former member, Mrs. Pat Vinson, who has moved to Elkins, Arkansas, near Fayetteville.

The present contest is a quilt contest. The weight gainers must embroidery names of weight losers on a quilt block. Several blocks are still lacking since the quilt requires 108 blocks. The club is inquiring around to find someone to quilt the blocks.

To close the meeting, Mrs. Buria Vinson passed around some sugarless candy for the members to try.

Birch Bayh, Senator (D-Ind): "The ledger of violence confronting our school reads like a casualty list from a war zone or a vice squad annual report."

Tips On Grooming

COLLEGE STATION -- Grooming aids and cosmetics enhance appearance. But when added together, many of these small items total a sizeable sum. Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist, reminded this week.

"Consumers can benefit by considering the following money saving ideas," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said. --Know your skin type. What type of products do you really need? "Many specialized products are more expensive than several multi-purpose items, such as petroleum jelly and baby oil."

--Look for and compare ingredient labeling. Many manufacturers are already complying with a recent Food and Drug Administration ruling requiring listing of ingredients in order of predominance, that will be mandatory by September, 1976, the specialist added. Mrs. Culp suggested consumers might compare product brands from store to store or department to department to see if they vary in expense. --Perfumed and scented products generally cost more. Perhaps a favorite fragrance could be added at home at a savings. --Elaborate containers are expensive -- will they merely be thrown away when empty? --Avoid accumulating a large array of products that are impossible to use before they dry out. Also, bacteria may easily grow after containers are unsealed for use.

"For both health and expense as well as storage, avoid large quantities. Select small container sizes when trying new or limited use products," the specialist suggested.

Very few participants in marriage ceremonies recall the "for poorer" phrase.

MOTHER

It is so important that a child feel secure and loved the first weeks and months of its life. Our foremost authorities say that if a child's spiritual and emotional welfare is neglected in the early weeks of life, there is a great chance of permanent damage to its personality growth.

Therefore, on this day, we honor not only the beloved mothers of our adults and youth, but the very young mother who has both the tremendous responsibility and the precious opportunity to mold the life and character of the very young child. May she seek early God's help, who in the person of the Son, said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long preserve and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

WASHINGTON REPORT BY Lloyd Bentsen, United States Senator

CENTENNIAL TROUBLES PARALLEL CURRENT PROBLEMS

This week in May nearly a century ago, one hundred and fifty thousand people crowded onto the acres of Philadelphia's vast Fairmount Park for the opening of the Centennial Exposition.
They were in search of a reason to celebrate. And despite a vast array of social, political and economic problems confronting the young nation, these Americans celebrated their hundredth anniversary, not with despair, but with hope.

As we now approach our nation's 200th anniversary, we can learn much from their optimism. We can learn much because despite the quagmire our country seems to have sunk into these days -- despite the economic chaos, the corruption, the bitter legacy of the war in Southeast Asia -- a closer look shows that our present crisis is hardly more severe than the one our ancestors met and overcame a hundred years ago.
The parallels, in fact, are remarkably similar.

All the indications are that in 1967, we will be in our second year of deep recession. In 1876, the economy was in its third year of slump, and unemployment was more widespread than it had ever been during our young nation's history. Although no one knew for sure how many people were out looking for jobs in those days, estimates ran as high as three to four million, nearly twice the percentage unemployed during the Great Depression of the 1930's.

Labor unrest was beginning, and throughout that whole year of patriotic fever, sporadic walkouts and strikes were signaling a discontent among America's workers that would swell massively before it would finally ebb.

1876 TIME OF RECESSION, POLITICAL CORRUPTION

And the economic stagnation then was accompanied as it is now with widespread instances of political corruption at every level of government.

Public Notice

CONTRACTORS' NOTICE OF TEXAS HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION
Sealed proposals for constructing 0.864 miles of Recon- str. Curb and Gutter, Gra., Salv. B.S., ASB & ACI from E. 6 Street to W. 8 Street in Muleshoe on Highway No. U.S. 84, covered by RF 503(24) in Bailey County, will be received at the Highway Department, Austin, until 9:00 a.m., May 22, 1975, and then publicly opened and read.

The State Highway Department, in accordance with the provisions of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (78 Stat. 252) and the Regulations of the U.S. Department of Transportation (15 C.F.R., Part 8), issued pursuant to such Act, hereby notifies all bidders that it will affirmatively insure that the contract entered into pursuant to this advertisement will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder without discrimination on the ground of race, color, or national origin, and further that it will affirmatively insure that in any contract entered into pursuant to this advertisement, minority business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response to this invitation and will not be discriminated against on the grounds of race, color, or national origin in consideration for an award.

As an investigation into the Grant Administration was begun by the House of Representatives and the misdeeds and misdoings touched scores of lesser bureaucrats and politicians.

There were other signs of the decay of private and public morality. In San Francisco, groups of teen-agers ran in gangs, committed mayhem and robbery, persecuted the Chinese and adopted their habit of smoking opium. The phenomena spread, and across the nation juvenile delinquents were soon proving so incorrigible that a new word was coined to describe them -- hoodlums.

And as much as we still bear the scars and open wounds of our involvement in Southeast Asia, the memory of Appomattox only eleven springs before the Centennial celebration was still achingly fresh.

The country was still so divided and animosity still ran so high in 1876 that when the Hayes-Tilden election failed to produce a clear victor, underground armies began to organize and there was talk of another civil war.

Clearly, on its one hundredth birthday, our young country faced problems more severe than any it had yet encountered. Anthony Comstock and his Society for the Suppression of Vice were finding obscenities in almost every new book and periodical. Baseball players were being charged with accepting bribes for throwing games.

Irate citizens were demanding an investigation into the Post Office Department for inefficiency and the Treasury Department because of a shortage of coins. Propets of doom predicted imminent fiscal disaster because the public debt had soared past the $2-billion mark.

CENTENNIAL MOOD OPTIMISTIC DESPITE WOES

Yet those who gathered at Fairmount Park in 1876 were an energetic and exuberant people, filled with great expectations and confident that their nation would endure. And the true spirit that prevailed throughout the Centennial was perfectly caught by Walt Whitman when he declared in his "Song of the Exposition": "I raise a voice for far superherb themes, to exalt the present and the real."

Our ancestors faced their crisis in 1876 with confidence. And we need only glance back at the past one hundred years for ample evidence that their optimism was justified. Since then our country has not only survived, but has grown and prospered. We have become a world leader both economically and politically. We have touched the moon.

America can hold its head high because our achievements over the past century cannot help but be a source of pride to each of us. And from this pride we should draw strength, the sort of strength that enabled our ancestors to meet their troubles as a challenge, the sort of strength that comes from unrelenting hope.

There were indeed striking parallels in the problem of a hundred years ago and the problems we face today. And I am convinced there will be other, more pleasing parallels, both in the way we overcome these problems and the future accomplishments in store for us.

Harry F. Byrd, Senator (Ind.- Va.)

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin—A look at the tremendous revenue Texas gets from tobacco taxes might make one think the state smokes like a giant smudge pot.

This current year we will take in more than $250 million in taxes on cigarettes, cigars, pipe tobacco, chewing tobacco and tobacco for roll-your-own.

This revenue ranks tobacco as the state's fifth largest revenue producer, coming behind sales taxes, motor fuels, oil and natural gas.

The historical pattern of our tobacco tax income indicates that smoking Texans apparently haven't been changed by the anti-smoking health campaigns of the past few years. In fact, in several past years Texas smokers have topped the national average of an annual four per cent increase in cigarette consumption.

The great bulk of our tobacco tax money comes from cigarettes. The cigarette tax is 18.5 cents per package and that produces more than $240 million of our tobacco tax income.

Cigarette taxes have increased much faster than most taxes over the years, going from 5-cents a pack in 1955 to 8-cents in 1959, 11-cents in 1965, 15.5-cents in 1969 and on to 18.5-cents in 1971.

The Comptroller's office administers the cigarette tax laws although the distributors make their actual purchase of the cigarette tax stamp for each package from the state treasurer's office. We deal with more than 35,000 cigarette wholesalers, distributors, retailers and vending machine operators.

From these various types of distributors the state also receives about $300,000 a year in permit fees. Everyone handling cigarettes is required to file monthly reports with us and we examine and audit their books once a year—which is certainly one of the most comprehensive audit programs of any state tax.

Besides the cigarette taxes, the state gets just less than $5 million a year from cigar taxes. Cigars are taxed according to size and price. These range from the little cigars which are packaged like cigarettes and taxed one penny for each 10 cigars to the largest and most expensive which are taxed at penny and a half each.

Another $4 million a year tax money comes from all other tobacco products—pipe tobacco, chewing tobacco and roll-your-own tobacco.

The tax for this catchall category is 25 per cent of the manufacturer's list price.

With three small exceptions all cigarette and tobacco tax money goes into the state's general revenue fund.

One penny of the 18.5-cents cigarette tax is dedicated to the state parks fund. In the current year this will be $13.3 million. Another small portion of the tobacco tax income, dictated by a complicated formula written and rewritten many times by the Legislature, will send nearly $10 million to the Available School Fund.

Another small portion is earmarked for our enforcement costs to administer the tax.

The only form of tobacco not taxed by tobacco taxes is snuff. But wouldn't you know that snuff is covered under the sales tax!

TEXAS TALK
by RAY DAVIS

After the Rough Riding was over, Teddy Roosevelt spent a lot of time making what he hoped would be remembered as profound statements. One of those is proving itself more every year... "We cannot afford to lose that preeminent typical American, the farmer who owns his own land." Many theories abound. Robert Aubrey lists it as a manifestation of what he calls the "Territorial Imperative." Others observe simply that a man will work harder for himself than for someone else. Undoubtedly true, but another, immeasurable factor is involved... pride. American farmers are proud to be able to each produce enough for themselves and 50 others. And they're smart. Smart enough to use the right portions of ecology, mechanization, chemical know-how and management to make the same land produce more every year. In 65 years production per acre has increased more than 620 percent. The Rough Rider was right, we can't afford to lose the family farmer.
