Connally Prepares New Oil Control Measure

BILL CONTAINS MANY CHANGES FROM OTHERS

Is Now Ready For Introduction Connally Says In Phone Talk.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—A new and perfected bill to provide for regulation of interstate shipment of petroleum, designed to meet objections of the supreme court to NRA oil provisions was introduced in the senate today by Senator Tom Connally, democrat, Texas.

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—"Hot oil" produced in Texas will be confiscated for the benefit of the state permanent school funds under a bill being prepared today.

LONGVIEW, Tex., Jan. 10.—Carl Estes, Longview publisher, announced today he had learned a new "foolproof" oil bill would be introduced by Senator Tom Connally of Washington.

The bill, Connally told Estes in a long distance telephone talk, was ready for introduction. It contains numerous changes from the one declared invalid by the Supreme Court, the senator said.

The changes were suggested in conferences between oil attorneys at Fort Worth and by solicitors of the department of the interior, Estes said he learned.

Estes denied Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes' charge that 75 cases of illegal oil and refined products were moved from East Texas yesterday.

Sales Tax Fight Is Started Today

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—The sales tax fight was on today in the Texas legislature.

Former Gov. James Ferguson urged it unsuccessfully before the 43rd legislature. Gov.-elect James V. Allred said in his campaign he would veto a sales tax.

Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, yesterday offered a constitutional amendment to impose a sales tax. A governor cannot veto a constitutional amendment.

Holbrook's tax would go to pay off an estimated $800,000,000 in outstanding public bonds.

LONG BOOSTS BUT REVOLTS HAS STARTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Senator Huey Long, democrat, Louisiana, definitely severed his allegiance to the Roosevelt administration today and appealed for nationwide support of his "share our wealth" plan.

He lashed the administration's recovery program and made an attack on the president in a fiery radio address last night. He followed it with an announcement he would have none of the present policies.

The "Kingfish," fresh from new political conquests in his home state, offered a plan which he said would make "every man a king" in 60 days, spend the wealth and make 100,000 new millionaires.

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 10.—Revolt against Huey Long's dictatorship gained momentum today as leading citizens scattered to their homes throughout the state to call mass meetings designed to force a special session of the legislature.

They assembled here last night at a meeting sponsored by the newly-born and violently anti-Long organization, If Gov. O. K. Allen, subordinate to Long in the Long political machine, refused to issue the call the legislators will be forced to convene themselves, speakers promised.

LINDBERGH AND HAUPTMANN IN CROWDED COURTROOM

WOMAN TO BE SURPRISE IN KIDNAP CASE

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 10. Bruno Hauptmann's defense today introduced a "woman in a green dress" as a mystery "exhibit" to refute Dr. John Condon's tale of the Lindbergh ransom negotiations.

The woman, whose name was given simply as "Mrs. Koeran," has been at Jafsie's house and according to the defense had been given two letters which were not yet in evidence when the noon recess was ordered.

Attorney General David Wilentz demanded that the two letters be submitted at once to the court. After a wrangle it was determined that they would not go into evidence until the defense opens its case.

Condon admitted knowing the woman. He was not sure he had given her any letters, he said. The appearance of the woman, who stood in front of Jafsie while he looked her over and decided he knew her, came as the first big defense surprise.

Previously the garrulous old gentleman known as Jafsie admitted he had told all manner of fantastic tales regarding the Lindbergh case to "outsiders."

Under the roaring cross-examination of Edward J. Reilly, chief defender of Hauptmann, he declared he could not recall having said "he knew" the baby's body was "brought back" to the spot where it was found 73 days after the kidnaping.

But he admitted he "might have."

The picture the astute defense were trying to give the jury were that of a talkative man who told many contradictory stories to all who would listen.

Lie Is Whopper; He's U. S. Champ

He leaped off a 1000-foot cliff on his trained mule, in chasing a jackrabbit, shouted "Whoa," and the mule stopped just before hitting the ground, letting him drop gently to continue the pursuit, Vern Osborn, above, of Centralia, Wash., told the Burlington, Wis., Liars club. So naturally the judges named him national champion liar for 1935.

But the picture the astute defense were trying to give the jury were that of a talkative man who told many contradictory stories to all who would listen.

Prospective players on the to-be organized Eastland all-stars basketball team were called to meet tonight at 6 p. m., in the high school gymnasium by Terrell Coleman.

The group if organized will endeavor to match games with out-of-town aggregations of this section. A captain will probably be elected tonight, Coleman said.

Candidates for the team are Lloyd Pope, Royce Pope, Marshall Watson, Ray Morris, Terrell Coleman, Karl Tanner, Howard Miller, Raymond Overby, Charles Lafoon and Marshall Coleman.

Eastland High school will need a new coach and it should not be delayed. Coach S. J. Petty has made us a good coach and during the less than two year season he has been here he has made many friends. He recently was appointed coach of the Mineral Wells High school and they are to be congratulated on acquiring his services. He is a man of unusual ability and of high moral character.

Just the kind of coach that the school age boys and girls need in their midst. Hate to lose him but when opportunity comes along it is he fitting that it should be taken advantage of.

In the instance of the Eastland schools which naturally means that they must carry on in the world of sport, Eastland has a young man in its midst that has made lots of friends with whom he came in contact. He also has the good will and respect of the school boys. He knows the principles of sports and we have had many suggestions made that he would make Eastland a real coach. He is "Buddy" Brothers. We don't know who the school board has in mind but since the fans in general feel that he is worth the consideration, that is something to think about.

Tied at the half, Eastland Mavericks quintet accelerated after the game division mark to win over Eliasville by one point, 23-22. The game marked the second win in the Oil Belt cage season for the Eastland five, they having won over Breckenridge 17-13 Friday.

The game between Eastland and Mineral Wells originally scheduled to be played in the latter city Friday, has been transferred to Eastland.

The game Tuesday was the best seen on the Eastland court to date. Tully of Eastland, with 10 points, was high scorer.

S. D. Phillips refereed, Marshall Coleman kept time and Bailey Hinton kept score.

Funeral Is Held Wednesday For a Thurber Pioneer

Mrs. Sallie Jane Wilson, wife of the late Dr. T. M. Wilson, passed away at the family residence, 409 South Daugherty street, Eastland, at 2:10 p. m., January 9, 1935, after an illness of several months.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church Thursday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. O. B. Darby, and the Rev. George W. Shearer, pastor of the First Methodist church, Arlington, a former neighbor and close friend.

She was born in Rockingham, North Carolina, October 8, 1862, the daughter of Tilman Jackson and Elizabeth Moore Stubblefield.

The family later moved to Kentucky, and after a short residence there came to Texas while Mrs. Wilson was yet a young child and settled near Bremond, Robertson county. She attended the public schools of that section, graduating from a college in Bremond. As a young lady she taught school in that part of Texas, often riding horseback to and from the school room. She never lost interest in higher education, and always took a great delight in all school activities, including athletic sports. Not long before her death she listened attentively to the returns of a college football game.

Mrs. Wilson was married to Dr. Wilson May 3, 1883, and resided with him at Kossow and Thornton, Texas, and in 1908 they moved to Eastland, where on December 14, 1909, Dr. Wilson passed away. She was a true helpmate to her physician-husband, and was intensely interested in medical science.

Mrs. Wilson united with the Methodist church as a young girl.

RIOTS BREAK OUT IN SAAR OVER VOTING

SAARBRUCKEN, Saar, Jan. 10. Serious rioting broke out today with the arrival of 58 South American Saarlanders to vote in the Jan. 15 plebiscite.

The Nazi German front had its usual cordon around the station when the train pulled in. Attempts of opposition elements to break through started the riots.

The Saar cavalry and mounted police fought the massed ranks of Nazi sympathizers who retreated in formation.

They attempted another demonstration and began to erect barricades.

The cavalry rapidly controlled the mob without the help of the international army of the League of Nations, which has been patrolling the streets without arms.

After the rioting heavy patrols of foreign troops were sent into the streets. Three Nazis were injured. None of the visitors was hurt.

Convict Is Wanted For Questioning In A Bank Robbery

HOUSTON, Jan. 10.—W. S. Scrivner, convict serving 10 years for bank robbery, will be questioned in the holdup of the Milan hotel in which loot valued at $13,900 was taken, Police Captain Banyan Payne said today.

Scrivner, freed from Harlem prison farm several weeks ago on furlough, was due back at midnight. Captain Payne said he would be there to meet him. The prisoner's name was brought into the case because of his connection with the old "Keggy" Jones gang, whose breakup ended in several murders.

Senate Will Ask Ickes to Explain Article Approval

The article was written by Owen White, published last week.

Texas senators resolved the article brands a majority of the senate of Texas as bribe takers, accusing Vice President John Garner "with the low art of double-crossing" and brands a United States senator from Texas with "political chicanery."

We May Have to Shift Our Ways of Living

The outstanding feature of present-day America seems to be the earnest effort that people are making to understand the society in which they are living.

Because the last few years taught us so forcibly that the present is the child of the past, we are also beginning to discover that the future will be the child of today.

Dr. O. E. Baker, senior economist of the Department of Agriculture, pointed out recently that we are about to undergo very profound changes in the matter of population growth.

For about 25 years to come, he says, we will live in a kind of national middle age; then our population will begin to decline, the decline will be progressive—and we shall suddenly find ourselves an old nation, facing all the problems which old age brings to any living organism.

Now all this seems to be mixed up, in a very peculiar fashion, with our habits of life. For some reason, the birth rate in the cities is lower than the birth rate in rural areas.

The implication, as Dr. Baker points out, is that a civilization based primarily on an industrial and commercial system in which the individual is the economic unit is very likely to develop a declining population.

To be permanent, it must be based on agriculture, or on some other system in which the family is the economic unit.

This is very puzzling, and we probably shall need to know a great deal more than we know now about a great deal more than we know now about the laws of heredity, and of human fertility generally, before we can fully understand it.

But it is a hint that our primary concern, in the long run, must be not simply to devise a smoothly working economic system, but to fashion a way of life that will bring a broader and fuller life to the masses of people.

When we crowd ourselves into cities and compel millions of people to live cramped and narrow lives, we in-

... but after her marriage joined the Baptist church with her husband, and remained a faithful member of that denomination. She was a member of the Royal Neighbors of America, and many persons in Eastland owe their insurance in that organization to her untiring efforts.

Mrs. Wilson was a woman of the highest Christian ideals and virtues, and was the inspiration of many to carry on under heavy burdens. She never faltered in her duty, as evidenced by the fine family of sons and daughters whom she reared and educated largely after the passing of her husband. She was constant and abiding in her love for her family and friends, but hated sham in any form, and was frank to express her opinion regarding same. She took a keen interest in all public issues and read the best of literature. She was fond of music and flowers, and her old-fashioned flower garden was a silent tribute to her constant love and care.

Nine children were born to the union of Dr. and Mrs. Wilson, three of whom died in infancy. She leaves to mourn her passing the following children: Miss Belle Wilson, Eastland; R. A. Wilson, Oklahoma City; Mrs. Frank H. Weaver, Kilgore; T. D. Wilson, Zavalla; Mrs. E. R. Willett of Fort Worth; a sister, Mrs. Pattie Towler, Big Spring; six grandchildren, and numerous nieces and nephews, among the latter being Tilman Stubblefield, son of the late J. R. Stubblefield, who has been a member of her household since a very small boy.

The active pallbearers were: W. H. McDonald, L. A. Hightower, Joe Weaver, Cyrus B. Frost, P. B. Bittle, Clyde L. Garrett, W. P. Palm and T. E. Richardson. The honorary pallbearers included all the close personal friends of the family, both men and women.

The large and beautiful floral offering attested the high esteem in which Mrs. Wilson was held, and the sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved in their great loss.

Appointees Will Be Named Soon

AUSTIN, Tex.—With the election of a Speaker accomplished, early announcement of Governor-elect Allred's long-delayed appointments is expected. Until they are made some of the departments will be unable to get down to satisfactory work routine. Recently Ranger circles have been disturbed by reports that the old force that dropped out when Mrs. Ferguson became Governor may go back. Some members of the old force have been visiting the capitol. Some may be again on the force; others will not.

Former Adjutant General (Ranger Bill) Sterling is now busy with oil wells in Bastrop county. Former Ranger Captain Frank Hamer, trailer of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, is "out" so far as Allred's ranger plans are concerned. Former Ranger Captain Tom Hickman of Fort Worth has a good berth with the state comptroller's department.

Ranger Captain D. E. Hamer, brother of Frank, may possibly remain at the head of the organization. He has done some valuable investigating for Allred. He doesn't seek "glory arrests" for himself or his rangers. To them his orders are to keep the outlaws on the jump.

"Keep them moving; don't let them settle down in a safe hide-out. If they are on the jump someone will get them. If we get them, fine. If we run them onto someone else, that's fine too. The main thing is to get them, no matter who gets the credit."

Ranger Joe Osoba, another of the modern rangers who has made quite a reputation, probably will go. Osoba is outspoken. His remarks about a member of the Attorney General's department seem to bar him from any chance of remaining under Allred. That will be particularly true if Former Assistant Attorney General Richard Waters of Texas should be made adjutant general instead of insurance commissioner.

Roller Coaster Road Straightened

ODESSA, Tex.—Texas' famed "roller coaster" highway, whose dips and turns in following the natural contours of the sand dunes are so steep that they never fail to give motorists a thrill, will soon be a thing of the past. Contract for rebuilding the stretch, which extends for seven miles in Ward county, has been let by the State Highway department. The roadway is to be turned into a level stretch of highway.

It will be made into a level stretch of highway, that is, if the elements permit. For the sand hills through which the road passes are constantly shifting with every change of the prevailing winds.

When the "roller coaster" road was built in 1917, the first road through that section, natives were skeptical. The first wind storm, they said, would bury the highway under feet of sand.

The engineer on the job replied that by building the highway to follow the natural contours of the dunes, the wind could be made to sweep it clean rather than cover it up.

The first sandstorm that came proved that the engineer was right. When the air cleared after several days, the highway was clean, and polished smooth as marble.

Now the highway commission is building a new road, straight and level, utterly disregarding the century old threat of the dunes that have buried Indian camps, fences and everything else that got in their way.

Will the dunes at last submit? Old timers shake their heads. The highway department, they say, will have to hire a crew of sand shovellers to keep the new roadway clear.

The world, says a scientist, is slowly being depleted of its oxygen, but can't we stave off disaster by muzzling some of our political windjammers?

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 79,200 Feet of Kidney Tubes
Your bowels contain only 27 feet of intestine, yet the kidneys contain nearly 10 million tiny tubes or filters which would measure 79,200 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch the kidneys as the bowels. Kidneys are working all the time and are Nature's chief way of taking the acids and poisons out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass 8 pints a day thru the bladder which contains nearly 4 pints of waste matter. If you pass less than this amount, your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes may be clogged with poisonous waste. This is the danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pain, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, hiccups, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and discharges.

Kidneys should be watched closely and need cleaning out the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs and so-called "kidney cures" which claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS, the old reliable relief that comes in 15 minutes or less. Write for a free booklet "DOAN'S PILLS" at your druggist.

'Dusting the Covers of Texas History' for The Texas Centennial Celebrations of 1936

Father Manuel Garza stood in the doorway of his small wooden house near Rosaio, and saw coming from beyond the hill messengers from the Viceroy. He watched them anxiously as they came closer. Were they bringing permission to build a mission? Or had his plans been defeated? It was December 31, 1791—over a month since the men had left with his letters to the Viceroy.

The messengers bowed to Father Garza, and gave praises with him when he read of his permission to build a church. Already a site had been selected, and as soon as possible, a suitable place of worship and home for the Indians would be built. The juncture of the San Antonio River and the Guadalupe River had been selected as a tentative location as early as May, 1791.

Nothing could have pleased Father Garza more than for the chiefs to request him to go with them to invite their kinsmen to become members of the mission at Rosaio. Those who asked him were deserters of the church, true, but nothing could daunt the enthusiastic priest. Accompanied by a special escort from Gov. Munez Garcia, he went to the rancheria of the kinsmen at San Xavier. His heart was full of joy that the governor was in sympathy with his plans.

As the leaves began to turn in the early autumn, Father Garza made another trip, this time along the coast. "Build a mission at the mouth of the Guadalupe River," the chiefs said, "and the whole coast is yours." The encouragement received was all that Father Garza needed. He wrote letters a once to the Viceroy, and received his reply that last day of December.

A lack of sufficient, necessary supplies delayed the building of the church for more than a year. Beginnings had been made, however, and the Spanish mission was to be the home of the Karankawas, Orkiskias, Tawakanas, Towshas and Comanches. Mission Nuestra Senora del Refugio—Our Lady of Refuge—was to be built, monument to one who believed in conversion of friends or foes, in spite of obstacles.

It was well that Marques de Rubi in 1767 made his recommendation that the Apache Indians be trusted no longer, and that the missions built for them be given up. Attempts to make good friends and good Christians out of the Apaches had ended in the massacre at Mission San Luis on the San Saba River. Still, the priests had persisted in their work, and would have been faithful to their task throughout many years to come, had not Marques de Rubi urged them to use their efforts elsewhere. The few ornaments and valuable records that were saved from the plunder of the Indians during the massacre were moved to Coahuila in 1722, and San Luis existed no more.

The Spanish had progressed rapidly in their new province, but in 1722, the frontier of actual occupation had receded as far south as Bexar and La Bahia. If it had been for those loyal men and women who followed Antonio Gil y Barbo back to their old homes in East Texas, it is entirely probable that Spanish ownership would have been weakened and practically broken. A settlement on the Trinity River, called Bucarelli, was the home of the new settlers until they moved, five or six years later to the old mission of Guadalupe, founded by Ramon in 1718. There they remained, perfect evidence of Spanish authority to the Province of Texas.

Before the order for secularization of all missions was passed in 1794, one last mission was founded. It was Mission Nuestra Senora del Refugio. The story of its founding is as fascinating and eventful as the story of the first mission in Texas. Refugio will not be forgotten in 1936 when Centennial celebrations will honor those fathers who spent their lives making their visions come true.

Allred and Chevigny Not In "Who's Who"

AUSTIN—Gov. Elect James V. Allred and Football Coach Jack Chevigny, the state capital's most talked about young men, do not appear in the Austin list of youths "Who's Who."

The omissions are emphasized because young men closely associated in their work as aides have been listed. Major Paul Wakefield, responsible for effective Allred campaign publicity, is named. Freshman Coach William Nelson James of the University of Texas got the nod while the famous Chevigny was left on the bench.

Cactus Beetle Not To Aid Wasteland

BROWNSVILLE.—The Rio Grande's huge cactus beetle has lost the honor of helping to destroy Australia's 50,000,000-acre wasteland.

R. R. Taylor of the Australian Department of Agriculture spent nearly a year studying the mimorista flavidissima moth, the larvae of which attack and feed on cactus.

The mimorista, however, also enjoys a diet of tomatoes and beans, so Taylor was forced to seek elsewhere for a beetle. The scientist later reported he found an insect in Mexico he believed would do the work.

a native of Australia, but was taken to the continent as food for some cochineal then used to make dye for military uniforms. The cochineal died, but the cactus has lived and overran the country.

Australia had little success in combatting the plant until the cactoblastis insect was selected. Taylor said, however, that the cactoblastis feeds only on large patches of cactus and another beetle was needed to eat the smaller patches as well.

Never mind the weather—baseball teams are getting ready for spring training.

The republican party has outlined a 20-point program for recovery, the main point being the recovery of the republican party.

In this estimate of the number of people still unemployed, President Roosevelt included General Johnson?

Innocent Exchange Of Cars Righted By Eastland Policeman

Nightwatchman Robert Ball called up Rev. E. R. Stanford of Eastland late one night recently to inquire about a missing car. It happened this way— Rev. and Mrs. Stanford went to an Eastland theatre. After seeing the show, when upon the sidewalk they noticed their car wasn't in the original location.

Car Thefts Reach Larger Proportions

DALLAS, Jan. 9.—Automobile thefts in Dallas have reached alarming proportions, according to T. R. Garretson, head of the police records bureau.

Automobile thefts for December 1934 showed an increase of 129 percent over December, 1933. Last month 229 machines were stolen in comparison with 100 the year before, Capt. Garretson said.

For the same period burglaries and thefts showed large increases while murders and robberies stayed about the same. There was a marked decrease in drunkenness.
