TREE BELT CHIEFS TO OPEN OFFICES FOR BUSINESS

President Roosevelt, years before he became President or governor of New York, "viewed the desert belt of Texas from a Pullman car window." It must have been in the drouth season of the year as the heat was intense and the dust was intolerable. Now the forest service of the federal government has announced the administrative office for its 1000-mile tree shelter belt across the plains states will be located at Lincoln, Neb. State divisional offices will be established in the capitals of North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas—the states to be traversed by the shelter belt. Technical phases of the projects will be under control of Dr. Raphael Zon, director of the Lake States Forest Experiment station. Land for the planting of the trees will be acquired by long time lease, out-right purchase or by co-operative agreements with the owners. Active work will start as soon as the necessary organization is completed. According to Washington advices forest service officials are taking into consideration the emergency employment relief situation in the selection of men for the job and "qualified men are being assigned from the relief rolls." It is important that Uncle Sam should be the chief water boy for the trees to be planted.

Three planting is an easy job in the drouth infested plains section reaching all the way from the Canadian border line to the Rio Grande. Watering the trees daily when old Sol is a sure enough scorcher in summertime will be the real job if the millions of trees are to survive the planting. Just now all these desert plains or scorched areas need water and the trees will need it all the time after the planting in the summer season of the year.

about a job on the staff of "Womanhood." "I'll find something to do in the city. I must find a job," she told herself, trembling with excitement. People promised all sorts of things and promptly forgot all about them. Denis Fenway, only this morning had made a half-hearted promise to look up something for her. But he had probably already forgotten that she existed.

BEGINS HERE TODAY BOOTS RAEBURN is the prettiest girl in Larchmont, fashionable New York suburb, but her father's financial reverses make it hard for her to keep up with her crowd. Wealthy SYLVIA RIVKES schemes to force Boots to resign from the Juniors. Deeply hurt, Boots accepts the attentions of RUSSELL LUND, one swimming instructor. She realizes she is in love with Russ when he tells her he is going away. He wants her to elope with him but Boots asks for time to think it over. She dreads the time when her mother will hear about her withdrawal from the club. Unhappy and restless, Boots goes to a swimming walk and meets DENIS FENWAY, young author. They have a long talk and Boots is moved by his obvious unselfishness. He wonders what is troubling her.

CHAPTER XVII MRS. RAEBURN came into the living room with a puzzled expression on her thin, lined face. "That was Alice Fernell," she said. "I wonder what on earth she wanted. She sounded rather queer..."

Boots looked up, her eyes clouding. Her heart had begun to beat irregularly. "What did she say?" "Only that she wanted specially to see me. She'll be over at three. Now, what in the world," worried Mrs. Raeburn, plumping a cushion. "What do you suppose it's about?"

Boots shook her head. It was coming—the moment she had dreaded, the moment which had been artificially postponed by her mother's visit to Aunt Nedda's. Alice Fernell with her steam-roller tactics, her tact that was worse than bluntness, her veiled accusations...

Boots went out into the garden blindly. The heat of noonday poured down upon her. "What am I going to do?" she asked herself. "Mother won't understand. Jane Fernell was starting at me yesterday when I talked to Russ at the beach. And about the Juniors..."

"I think I'll go to the city after lunch," she said, coming into the kitchen where her mother was shelling peas. "Here, let me do that." She took the wooden bowl from the thin, nervous hands. Anything, anything for an outlet...

"Why, dear, I don't think I'd do that if I were you," her mother said quickly and vaguely. "It's so hot..." "I've saved up my allowance for three weeks," Boots told her. "I want a big hat. I'll go down to one of those Fourteenth Street places..."

"Well..." Mrs. Raeburn's objection was silenced. "It would be nice," she flattered a little later. "If you could drive in with some body. It's simply stifling on the train..."

BOOTS agreed. She had no conscious, no real idea of doing anything desperate or final. Her one idea, for the moment, was to leave the village and its problems behind her. It was cowardly of her to run off and leave her mother to face Mrs. Fernell. But what else could she do? Perhaps she would have time to run in and see Mrs. George before train time, and here you caught a glimpse of shabby houses with sagging back...

Peanut Growers To Get Benefit Payments on Crops

WASHINGTON.—Acting secretary of Agriculture Resford G. Tugwell today proclaimed that rental and benefit payments will be made on peanuts, designated by the last Congress as a basic agricultural commodity under the Agricultural Adjustment Act. The payments will be derived from a processing tax, the rate and scope of which will be considered at a public hearing to be held August 21, in Room 1, Board of Tax Appeals, Internal Revenue Building, Washington, D. C., it was announced by Chester C. Davis, administrator of the Act.

J. B. Hutson, chief of the tobacco section, has been designated to work out the peanut adjustment program. The plan provides for diverting a portion of the 1933 and 1934 crop from the shelling to the oil trade and for adjusting the plantings in 1935.

Under this proposal, benefit payments would be made this season on that portion of the crop diverted to oil, which would bring the returns to growers for such peanuts used for oil to approximately the level prevailing for shelled goods. The contracts would have flexible provisions under which the individual grower could divert a small or large portion of his crop to oil depending on the prices paid for shelling goods. In addition he would receive rental payments in order to make the adjustment to the desirable production next year. It is expected that the details of the plan will be completed and contracts available to growers before October 1.

Consideration also is being given to a marketing agreement which would supplement the production adjustment program. A conference will be held in Washington on August 30 for the purpose of determining whether shellers and millers desire to enter into a marketing agreement for the coming season.

The average price paid farmers for peanuts during the last marketing season was 2.9 cents a pound as compared with 1.6 cents a pound in 1932.

Peanuts the grown commercially in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas. Approximately 200,000 growers produce around one billion pounds of peanuts annually.

Employers Plan Drive to Restrict The Labor Unions

WASHINGTON.—Organized employers are planning a drive at the next session of Congress to place legal restrictions on the activities of labor unions.

There is on the other hand agitation from the rank and file of labor for direct action to bring a clearer cut definition of the collectivist bargaining power recognized in the National Industrial Recovery Act, and for definite steps by the government to make this guarantee effective and binding.

The American Federation of Labor is under fire from both directions. It is being attacked by employers as too grasping and criticized by some of its membership as not sufficiently aggressive. The National Association of Manufacturers has distributed copies of the British Trade Disputes Act of 1927 and apparently will sponsor some such law in the United States.

The British act made strikes illegal under certain conditions, prohibited sympathetic or general strikes, limited picketing and in general controlled local employment relations.

"We will fight strenuously against any such plan," said William Green, president of the A. F. of L.

"In addition, we are taking an active part in the campaigns this Fall. We are going into the labor record of every candidate for office and will support only the worthy ones. We don't stand for any weakening of our rights under the Recovery Act."

Another type of labor union control, advocated by some employers, is illustrated in the last mid-monthly review of the National Association of Credit Men. Harry H. Heimann, executive manager, proposed a three-point labor program to provide more able labor leaders, control through a national body and fair practice codes for labor unionism comparable to the NRA codes for industry.

The Recovery Act, while specifying what industry may or may not do, leaves labor without restrictions.

This plan, which in similar form has been discussed in Washington, is intended to meet the argument of many employers that, while not opposed to the principle of collective bargaining they do not want to deal with the type of men now being put forward by organized labor.

Another approach to this problem is the announced intention of the Federation to war on Communist groups in the labor movement. Some labor liberals see in that a threat that more progressive ideas, or anything not sponsored by the conservative leadership, will be given a Communist tag and forthwith condemned on that score.

The secession movement in the automobile industry unions is not taken seriously by Grene, he said. "We feel that this will only strengthen our organization," he said. "We feel that there is undoubtedly some influence being exerted by the employers to stir up trouble and dissatisfaction."

While the New Utility Cooker brings to you the possibilities of enjoying old-fashioned meals in addition, it permits you to prepare foods by the newer methods of cooking without water.

Science has discovered that there is so much natural moisture in all meats, vegetables and fruits that it is entirely feasible to cook them with little or no water.

About the only reason why we have cooked with water was to avoid burning. Water distributes the heat evenly, conducting it away from the point nearest the fire.

However, after we have cooked our foods we have poured off the excess water and with it we have poured the bone-forming, teeth-building minerals; the iron, calcium and phosphorus that constitute the essential elements which the human system must have. With the new perfected Utility Cooker you can prepare foods deliciously tender and full of these health-building elements. The Utility Cooker is ideal for the housewife who wishes to practice this modern, more healthful and more economical way of cooking.

Peanut Growers To Get Benefit Payments on Crops

WASHINGTON.—Acting secretary of Agriculture Resford G. Tugwell today proclaimed that rental and benefit payments will be made on peanuts, designated by the last Congress as a basic agricultural commodity under the Agricultural Adjustment Act. The payments will be derived from a processing tax, the rate and scope of which will be considered at a public hearing to be held August 21, in Room 1, Board of Tax Appeals, Internal Revenue Building, Washington, D. C., it was announced by Chester C. Davis, administrator of the act.

J. B. Hutson, chief of the tobacco section, has been designated to work out the peanut adjustment program. The plan provides for diverting a portion of the 1933 and 1934 crop from the shelling to the oil trade and for adjusting the plantings in 1935.

Under this proposal, benefit payments would be made this season on that portion of the crop diverted to oil, which would bring the returns to growers for such peanuts used for oil to approximately the level prevailing for shelled goods. The contracts would have flexible provisions under which the individual grower could divert a small or large portion of his crop to oil depending on the prices paid for shelling goods. In addition he would receive rental payments in order to make the adjustment to the desirable production next year. It is expected that the details of the plan will be completed and contracts available to growers before October 1.

Consideration also is being given to a marketing agreement which would supplement the production adjustment program. A conference will be held in Washington on August 30 for the pur-

Employers Plan Drive to Restrict The Labor Unions

WASHINGTON.—Organized employers are planning a drive at the next session of Congress to place legal restrictions on the activities of labor unions.

There is on the other hand agitation from the rank and file of labor for direct action to bring a clearer cut definition of the collective bargaining power recognized in the National Industrial Recovery Act, and for definite steps by the government to make this guarantee effective and binding.

The American Federation of Labor is under fire from both directions. It is being attacked by employers as too grasping and criticized by some of its membership as not sufficiently aggressive. The National Association of Manufacturers has distributed copies of the British Trade Disputes Act of 1927 and apparently will sponsor some such law in the United States.

The British act made strikes illegal under certain conditions, prohibited sympathetic or general strikes, limited picketing and in general controlled local employment relations.

"We will fight strenuously against any such plan," said William Green, president of the A. F. of L.

"In addition, we are taking an active part in the campaigns this fall. We are going into the labor record of every candidate for office and will support only the worthy ones. We don't stand for any weakening of our rights under the Recovery Act."

Another type of labor union control, advocated by some employers, is illustrated in the last mid-monthly review of the National Association of Credit Men. Harry H. Heimann, executive manager, proposed a three-point labor program to provide more able labor leaders, control through a national body and fair practice codes for labor-unionism comparable to the NRA codes for industry.

The Recovery Act, while specifying what industry may or may not do, leaves labor without restrictions.

This plan, which in similar form has been discussed in Washington, is intended to meet the argument of many employers that, while not opposed to the principle of collective bargaining they do not want to deal with the type of men now being put forward by organized labor.

Another approach to this problem is the announced intention of the Federation to war on Com-unist groups in the labor movement. Some labor liberals see in that a threat that more progressive ideas, or anything not sponsored by the conservative leadership, will be given a Communist tag and forthwith condemned on that score.

The secession movement in the automobile industry unions is not taken seriously by Grene, he said. "We feel that this will only strengthen our organization," he said. "We feel that there is undoubtedly some influence being exerted by the employers to stir up trouble and dissatisfaction."

The New WATERLESS WAY

While the New Utility Cooker brings to you the possibilities of enjoying old-fashioned meals in addition, it permits you to prepare foods by the newer methods of cooking without water.

Science has discovered that there is so much natural moisture in all meats, vegetables and fruits that it is entirely feasible to cook them with little or no water.

About the only reason why we have cooked with water was to avoid burning. Water distributes the heat evenly, conducting it away from the point nearest the fire.

However, after we have cooked our foods we have poured off the excess water and with it we have poured the bone-forming, teeth-building minerals; the iron, calcium and phosphorus that constitute the essential elements which the human system must have. With the new perfected Utility Cooker you can prepare foods deliciously tender and full of these health-building elements. The Utility Cooker is ideal for the housewife who wishes to practice this modern, more healthful and more economical way of cooking.

Sentence prayers and volunteer quotations on "Love" from Bible texts opened the lesson brought by Mrs. Ray Larner, class teacher, whose subject was "Hosea the Prophet," based on chapters of Hosea 11-14. The speaker gave an interesting review of the life of Hosea, the central theme being God's wonderful love in contrast to the preceding lessons that dealt with the wrath of God. That America was God's country because it was settled by people seeking religious freedom, just as Israel and her people were God's chosen children.

Booster Class
Mrs. E. F. Willman, president of the Booster Bible class of the Methodist church opened the Sunday morning session with an ensemble song service in hymns, "Blessed Assurance" and "Sweet Peace the Gift of God's Love," led by Mrs. E. Everett. Mrs. W. M. Kelly was pianist for the service. Special music brought a violin solo and piano accompaniment by Ruth and Gloria Reed, and a voice solo, "The Ninety and Nine" Mrs. I. N. Griffin with Mrs. W. W. Kelly as accompanist.

The Martha Dorcas class personnel were visitors and the session was closed with the Martha Dorcas prayer.

The speaker said, if one lost one's self in doing kind things for others that it would drive worry away. And that to bring prayer into your daily life and deeds was the great essential of Christian living.
